DETAILS

The Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (FFIEC) has added a new Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) rating search function to its Internet site (<http://www.ffiec.gov/cracf/crarating/main.cfm>). This Web site

- Provides electronic access to the latest CRA ratings of financial institutions regulated by the Federal Reserve, the Office of the Comptroller, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Office of Thrift Supervision,
- Allows consumers, researchers, community groups, and others to perform queries against a population of CRA ratings from all four regulatory agencies, and
- Allows the user to search CRA rating, regulatory agency ID number, bank name, regulatory agency, city, state, examination method, examination period, and asset range.

The results of the search can be customized via on-screen selection of fields to display, and by sort order. Links to the individual agency Web sites are also provided.
