   c. Freight-car loadings: peak - Jan. 1944, 144; latest, 127
B. Monetary factors

1. General objective: to assure adequate funds with minimum of disturbance - that is, minimum borrowing from banks

2. December 8, 1941 statement of Board of Governors:

"The financial and banking mechanism of the country is today in a stronger position to meet any emergency than ever before. The existing supply of funds and of bank reserves is fully adequate to meet all present and prospective needs of the Government and of private activity. The Federal Reserve System has powers to add to these resources to whatever extent may be required in the future. The System is prepared to use its powers to assure that an ample supply of funds is available at all times for financing the war effort and to exert its influence toward maintaining conditions in the United States Government security market that are satisfactory from the standpoint of the Government's requirements."
