Provenance

The papers of Charles Sumner Hamlin (1861-1938), lawyer, politician, assistant secretary of the treasury and governor of the Federal Reserve Board, were given to the Library of Congress by Hamlin and his wife, Huybertie Lansing Pruyn, between 1936 and 1955. Hamlin's diaries had been deposited earlier but were withdrawn before being returned as a gift. Additions were made by gift from others and by transfer from the Federal Reserve Board between 1974 and 1982.

Copyright in the unpublished writings of Charles Hamlin in these papers and in other collections of papers in the custody of the Library of Congress has been dedicated to the public.

Brief descriptions of the Charles Hamlin Papers appear in the Library of Congress Quarterly Journal of Current Acquisitions, May 1949, p. 85, and May 1955, p. 124; and the Library of Congress Information Bulletin, 21 February 1955, 6 September 1955, and 9 April 1956.

The collection was first organized by the Library in 1955, and an unpublished register was prepared at that time. About 1988 the register was revised to include additions to the collection that had been received by the Library in 1974 and 1982. The current register was prepared in May 1994 to reflect a rearrangement of the correspondence and miscellaneous materials and the microfilming of the Charles Hamlin diaries, scrapbooks, and indexes to scrapbooks and the Anna Hamlin scrapbooks.

A microfilm edition of parts of these papers on 224 reels is available from the Library's Photoduplication Service for purchase subject to the Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, U.S.C.). This microfilm edition may also be requested on interlibrary loan through the Library's Loan Division. Ten reels may be requested at a time for a loan period of one month.

Scope and Content Note

The papers of Charles Sumner Hamlin span the years 1869-1968, with the bulk of the items concentrated in the period 1880-1938. These papers primarily concern Hamlin's civic and political affairs and his family's active social life in Washington, D.C., from Grover Cleveland's administration through that of Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are especially valuable in connection with the formation and early history of the Federal Reserve System. Included are diaries, scrapbooks, indexes, incoming and outgoing correspondence, speeches, reports, newspaper clippings, brochures and other printed matter, unpublished writings, photographs, autobiographical notes, genealogical records, and other original and secondary material.

Charles Hamlin's scrapbooks cover the entire period of his adulthood, from law school graduation in 1886 to his death in 1938. Containing mostly newspaper clippings, copies of correspondence, published reports, and other printed matter, the scrapbooks document Hamlin's political interests, law practice, and his public service with the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board. The scrapbooks have been abstracted and indexed, with a special index prepared for those items concerning Woodrow Wilson's presidential administration. Because of their possible confidential character, some items were removed from the scrapbooks by the Federal Reserve Board in the summer of 1941. After they were returned, these materials were filed separately from the scrapbooks and have not been microfilmed. The scrapbooks are available on microfilm only. The original scrapbooks were disposed of after they were filmed in 1993.

Hamlin's diaries are written in his own hand and chronicle his business and political careers as well as his social life. Topics covered parallel and augment those documented in his scrapbooks. The diaries have also been indexed.

The Correspondence series includes about three hundred personal letters exchanged between Hamlin and his wife, Huybertie Lansing Pruyn, during the years 1900-1934, and approximately twelve hundred items of general correspondence from 1869 through 1955. It contains a considerable number of letters from presidents Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, as well as exchanges with other figures, such as Newton Diehl Baker, Frances Folsom Cleveland, Josephus Daniels, Cordell Hull, Robert Lansing, Henry Cabot Lodge, William Gibbs McAdoo, Levi P. Morton, and George Foster Peabody. Most of the letters contain political discussion and comments on Democratic party leaders and policies of the Cleveland, Wilson, and Franklin Roosevelt administrations, and particularly those issues affecting the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve System. A list of major correspondents is included as an appendix to this register.

Anna Hamlin was the only daughter of Charles and Huybertie Pruyn Hamlin. Her scrapbooks and diaries are organized in a separate series and mainly concern social life in Washington, D.C., from about 1915 until her death in 1925. References to Anna in her father's diaries and scrapbooks have also been indexed in a separate volume that is filed in the Indexes to Scrapbooks series. Anna Hamlin's scrapbooks are available on microfilm only. The original scrapbooks were disposed of after they were filmed in 1993.

The Miscellany series contains copies of two unpublished manuscripts by Huybertie Pruyn Hamlin, "Some Memories of Franklin Delano Roosevelt" and "Visit at the White House, November 1941-January 1942." In the first manuscript, Huybertie Hamlin describes the longtime friendship among the Roosevelt, Hamlin, and Pruyn families which began early in her childhood. The latter manuscript is an intimate account of her social visits to the White House during the critical period just before the country's entry into World War II and at a time when Winston Churchill and other prominent leaders were also guests there. She was, for instance, a witness to the signing of the "Declaration by the United Nations" on January 2, 1942. The originals of both of her manuscripts are in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park, N.Y. Another of her autobiographical narratives, "Memories of Washington from the Age of Seven," is an informal and humorous account of social life in Washington, D.C., mainly 1913-36. It was written during the winter of 1924-25 while she resided at Lee House, with additions made in October 1934. Also included is a satiric poem, "As to the British Embassy Garden Party June 1939," probably also written by Mrs. Hamlin.

Charles Hamlin's history of the Federal Reserve Board uses extracts from his diaries and other records from March 1913 to January 1929, but is incomplete and ends abruptly in midsentence. In the folder containing extracts from diary volumes fourteen and fifteen is a March 1968 note to Federal Reserve Board Governor Andrew Felton Brimmer concerning the rate reduction determined by the Board for the Chicago Reserve Bank in 1927.

Autobiographical notes on Charles Hamlin and genealogical information on the Hamlin family are also included in the Miscellany series, as well as correspondence, reports, and drafts of legislation pertaining to the 1913 federal income tax law, statistical materials and pamphlet files of the Federal Reserve System, 1907-17, and speeches given by Hamlin between 1897 and 1937. An unpublished report concerning an investigation of customs laws and refunds of duties at the New York customs house was submitted in 1893 to John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, by Charles S. Fairchild, chairman of the Fairchild Commission on Hat Material Refunds.

The series also contains a studio photograph of Hamlin and an original cartoon drawn by Sebastian T. Robles for the "National Gallery" series in the Washington Post and published on July 12, 1934. The Robles cartoon is an attachment to correspondence from William Haggard, assistant managing editor of the Post.
