December 18, 1912.

EXPLANATION OF TABLE OF INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATES.

This table shows the affiliations of 18 selected financial institutions, namely:

- First National Bank, New York.
- Bankers Trust Co., New York.
- National City Bank, New York.
- Hanover National Bank, New York.
- Chase National Bank, New York.
- Continental & Commercial National Bank, Chicago.
- First National Bank, Chicago.
- Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago.

with the greater banks, trust companies and insurance companies, and transportation systems, and producing and trading corporations, and public-utility corporations, through representation upon their boards of directors. These selected institutions and their firm members and directors have similar affiliations with many other enterprises of lesser magnitude which could not be shown in such a table without so extending its dimensions as to make it unserviceable. The selected institutions and their firm members, except those of such firm members and directors who hold no directorships in the other corporations named, appear in the vertical column at the extreme right. The corporations with which they have affiliations are arranged horizontally across the top and are repeated across the bottom. They are separated into four groups: (1) Banks, trust companies and insurance companies; (2) transportation systems; (3) producing and trading companies; (4) public-utility corporations.

The table is ruled into small squares, and where a person listed in the vertical column at the extreme left is a director of any corporation listed in the horizontal zone, this is indicated by an X in the square opposite the name of such person and under the name of such corporation.

In the narrow horizontal columns under each of the 18 financial institutions named in the vertical column at the extreme left are shown the total number of directorships held by such institutions in the various corporations named in the horizontal zone at the top of the table.

In a final horizontal column at the bottom of the table are shown the total number of directorships held by these 18 financial institutions as one group in the various corporations named.

By this arrangement of vertical and horizontal columns it is possible to prove the accuracy of the tabulation by adding the number of directorships both vertically and horizontally and arriving at a common total. The figures in the horizontal column at the bottom of the chart do not, however, represent the sum of all directorships shown above, since there are many duplications of individuals of which account must be taken.

At the bottom of the chart opposite the names of the various corporations are given statistics showing for banks and trust companies the total resources and the total deposits; for insurance companies, total assets; for railroad corporations, total capitalization and total mileage; for all other corporations, total capitalization and gross income. So far as possible the capitalization includes the entire securities of owned and controlled properties. In some cases exact statistics are not available, so that it appears advisable to give the figures only in millions, representing the approximate capitalization and indebtedness of each corporation. Also in a number of cases gross sales or business are not reported. In such cases the space for the gross income is left blank.

In addition to showing directorships, the table shows voting trustees of various corporations, the symbol of which is a red square where the voting trust is still in force and a green square where it has expired. In some cases voting trustees are also directors, in which cases the square is drawn around the "X" mark.

The term "capitalization" as used herein includes capital stock and funded debt.

The firm members and directors whose affiliations are thus shown number 180. In the aggregate they hold 385 directorships in 41 banks and trust companies having total resources of $3,832,000,000 and total deposits of $2,834,000,000; 50 directorships in 11 insurance companies having total assets of $2,646,000,000; 155 directorships in 31 railroad systems having a total capitalization of $12,193,000,000 and a total mileage of 163,200; 6 directorships in 2 express companies and 4 directorships in 1 steamship company with a combined capital of $245,000,000 and gross income of $97,000,000; 98 directorships in 28 producing and trading corporations having a total capitalization of $3,583,000,000 and total gross annual earnings in excess of $1,145,000,000; and 48 directorships in 19 public utility corporations having a total capitalization of $2,826,000,000 and total gross annual earnings in excess of $428,000,000; in all, 746 directorships in 134 corporations having total resources or capitalization of $25,325,000,000.

EXPLANATION OF SUPPLEMENTAL TABLE.

Explanation of table showing affiliations of—
   J. P. Morgan & Co.,
   Guaranty Trust Co.,
   Bankers' Trust Co.,
   First National Bank, and National City Bank

with other corporations through interlocking directorates.

The arrangement of this table is the same as that of the general table of interlocking directorates already explained. In the vertical column at the extreme left are the five institutions whose affiliations, singly and in groups, with other corporations are to be shown. In the horizontal zone at the top are the corporations with which these five are affiliated, divided into the following classes:

1. Banks and trust companies,
2. Insurance companies,
3. Transportation systems,
4. Producing and trading corporations, and
5. Public utility corporations, with statistical information as to each corporation set opposite its name. Such corporations are not the only ones in their respective classes with which the selected five are affiliated, but merely the more important ones.
