Dear Mr. Fitger:

This is to confirm our cable of December 30, 1941, reading as follows:

"Monthly cable discontinued."

We regret very much that war conditions have made this action necessary.

To Mr. Goldenweiser

Subject: Monthly Cable to Mr. Fitger,

From Walter R. Gardner
WRG

Editor of Affarsvarlden, Stockholm

Mr. Thomas and I agree that the monthly cable which we have been sending to Mr. Fitger in Sweden should be discontinued.

The regular statistics given in the cable include merchandise imports and exports, which are now being kept confidential by the Department of Commerce, and the latest production index data, including aircraft output and shipbuilding. It is considered undesirable to have this information either going over the cables where it may be intercepted or given general circulation in Sweden where it can easily be picked up by the Germans.

The question of what to do with the Bulletin itself remains to be settled, but I presume that we will cease sending it to Europe. Even if we continue to send it it would, under present circumstances, arrive months later than cabled information.

I am attaching a proposed cable<sup>12/30/41</sup> and letter to Fitger,<sup>12/42</sup> as well as samples of our previous communications with him.

Attachments 3.
cc Mr. Garfield.

Dear Mr. Fitger:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your cable of June 11, and also to confirm our cable to you, of the same date, reading as follows:

"Production 140, durable 167, ironsteel 160, machinery 192, aircraft 815, shipbuilding 343, automobiles 110, cement 139, nondurable 131, textiles 155, minerals 101, March - sulphate 199, sulphite 153, paper 128, exports imports unavailable."

In past months there has been some delay in the release of the figures for exports and imports. In order that you may receive the available index figures as promptly as possible, we will no longer hold up your cable for the export and import figures, but will include them in the cable for the following month as in the case of sulphate, sulphite, and paper.

Revision and additions to figures previously sent to you are shown below:

April - exports 364, imports 288.
March - machinery 181, shipbuilding 323, nondurable 127, minerals 125, exports 357.
February - sulphate 193, paper 124.

Dear Mr. Fitger:

This is to confirm our cable sent to you under date of September 24, reading as follows:

"New production index see letter July 27; production total 123, manufactures 124, minerals 116, ironsteel 158, automobiles 76, cement 115, textiles 114, leather 93, newsprint 104, employment total 103.5, machinetools 248, radio 146, aircraft 2872, shipbuilding 185."

As stated in my letter of July 27, the Board has made a comprehensive revision of its index of industrial production, and the production figures shown above were prepared on the new basis. Listed below, for your information, are the July figures of the new index:

Production total 121, manufactures 121, minerals 120, ironsteel 156, automobiles 87, cement 110, textiles 111, leather 93, newsprint 102.

July was the last month for which figures comparable to those you have previously received were available. Accordingly, there are shown below the revisions made in the old index figures for July sent you in our August 26 cable:

Production total 116, manufactures 115, minerals 121, automobiles 101, machinetools 238, radio 145, aircraft 2877, shipbuilding 175.

Dear Mr. Fitger:

We have been informed by a Washington representative of RCA that the business indexes which we send you every month will no longer reach you under the present arrangement if they are in code. We assume that the material is not of sufficient importance for you to pay for radiograms in full. In the future, therefore, we shall send you the information in full by letter about the twentieth of each month, unless you no longer wish to receive it. Most of the indexes are now available by that time.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WOODLIEF THOMAS

Mr. Emil Fitger, Editor

Dear Mr. Fitger:

In our cable of September 27 we were unable to include figures for factory employment, employment in the machinery industries, and factory payrolls owing to the fact that these series have been revised. The revisions, which are due to an adjustment of the basic data to the Census of Manufactures for 1937, will be published in the forthcoming Federal Reserve Bulletin. In the future we shall send you figures for the revised series.

We regret that frequently we have been unable to include figures on cement production, but the figures for this series have been released at very irregular intervals in the past few months. We shall, however, include them in our cable whenever they are available.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Emil Fitger, Editor

Stockholm 1, Sweden

Dear Mr. Fitger:

The indexes of factory employment and payrolls without seasonal adjustment, compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the seasonally adjusted index of factory employment, computed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System have recently been revised. The revised seasonal adjustment factors and the revised seasonally adjusted indexes will be published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin for December 1936. The figures for September and October sent to you by cable last week are for the revised series.

We find also that no code letter has been provided for the series of factory employment in the machinery group and consequently we had to use the word "machinery" in sending you revised figures for this series. If you wish to use a code letter for this series, we shall be glad to accept any letter you may suggest -- possibly the letter "P" could be used; otherwise we shall continue to use the word "machinery."

Very truly yours,

Woodlief Thomas

Dear Mr. Fitger:

In response to the request contained in your letter of May 29, we are enclosing a table giving the seasonal adjustment factors used currently in computing the seasonally adjusted indexes of construction contracts awarded, and the average value of contracts awarded during the three base period years, 1923-1925. There has been no change in the seasonal adjustment factors since 1931.

We shall be glad to send you each month the seasonally adjusted index of factory employment for the machinery group, and we shall include it in the cable immediately after the index of factory employment.

As regards the omission of the letter P we believe that this can be done with the understanding that the index numbers for the following series are preliminary at the time the cable is sent.

- Industrial production
- Manufactures
- Minerals
- Textiles
- Leather and products
- Department store sales

We shall therefore discontinue the use of the letter P to signify "preliminary."

Very truly yours,

Woodlief Thomas

Mr. Woodlief Thomas,
Federal Reserve Board of Governors,
Washington.

Dear Sir:

I have in due time received your kind letter of May 4 and I find all your proposals very convenient. The Letter P may, however, be unnecessary, as we always understand that most of the production indexes are preliminary.

I have been examining your statistics carefully during the last week in order to find out desirable additions to the cable. I have found one figure which seems to me very important and that is the adjusted index of factory employment for the Machinery group. I should be very much obliged to you for adding this figure immediately after the total index for factory employment. A special code letter seems to me unnecessary in this case, particularly as all letters are used for other purposes. For december, 1935, there would appear in the cable the letter R and then immediately the code letters for 85.6 and 93.9.

MISS ERNST
Will you add this item to the list of indexes in the position requested?

May I trouble you with another question? We are receiving from the F.W. Dodge Corporation by cable their figures for construction contracts awarded and it would be very valuable if we were possible to calculate ourselves seasonal adjusted indexes of these figures. I dare say that I am rather well acquainted with the methods you use in computing the index figures which are published in your Bulletin but I am afraid it would be rather difficult for us to calculate ourselves the changes in the indexes of seasonal variation from year to year. I cannot find that such indexes of seasonal variation in regard to the value of building contracts awarded are published in your Bulletin later than for the year 1931 (Bulletin July 1931, p.360, second section). Would you mind sending me the indexes of seasonal variations which you are using in computing the adjusted indexes for 1936, and also the base figures, i.e. the average value of contracts awarded in the years 1923-1925?

I am glad to hear that in the future the Bulletin will be released by the fifteenth of each month, and I hope we will receive it before the end of the month. The Bulletin of April, 1936, we didn't get before May 18.

Very truly yours

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WRITING UP CABLE TO AFFARSVARLDEN

Sweden
Affarsvarlden

Watch for preliminary business index release around the 25th of the month. As soon as you have it, enter the various items in the respective columns; compare last month's figures to determine if there are any revisions. Call Miss Taylor for figures on wholesale prices of all commodities and of farm products, check with her last month's figures. Call Miss Vincent for figure on foodproducts and Mr. Bergelin for cement figure. If no cement figure is available, write NO CEMENT as if it were a code word. Enter, where necessary, three figures, even if the one after the decimal point is a zero.

Then make up cable according to code (A-1, B-2, C-3, D-4, E-5, F-6, G-7, H-8, I-9, K-0). After present month is made up, enter revised figures according to their code designation (shown in our letter of May 4, 1936, a copy of which is attached herewith).

When finished, Miss Vincent will check the cable, and then Miss Deeds will send it off. Give one carbon to Miss ~~Ellis~~ Vincent, and keep one for our files. Address cable and sign as follows:

Dear Sir:

For some time we have been including in our regular monthly cable to you the words "revising lumber." The revision of our lumber series has been delayed, and as it probably will not be completed for several months, we shall omit lumber altogether until revised figures are available. A table giving revised figures will be sent to you when the revision is completed, and thereafter lumber figures will again be included in their proper position in the cable.

You may also have noted that frequently some indexes are revised after the cable is sent and that the Federal Reserve Bulletin containing such revisions does not reach you before the next cable. We hope that in the future the Bulletin will be released by the fifteenth of each month, in which case you will receive it in ample time to note any such revisions. A few changes, however, are occasionally made after the Bulletin goes to press, and if it would be of any assistance to you we could include these changes in the next regular cable. This could be accomplished by giving in the cable first all current figures in exactly the same manner as in the past (omitting lumber, however, for the time being), then the revised figures for the preceding month, designating the series for which revisions are made by the appropriate code letters shown in the attached table. For example, if the figures for iron and steel were revised, there would appear in the cable -- following the current figure for wholesale prices of farm products -- the letter O, signifying iron and steel, and then the code letters signifying the revised figures for iron and steel. Other revisions, if any, would be given in a similar fashion. If this plan meets with your approval, we shall be glad to embody it in future cables.

Dear Mr. Fitger:

This will acknowledge your letter of January 19.

In compliance with your request we shall discontinue sending you the regular weekly cable and omit from the monthly cable the figure for excess reserves of member banks.

Very truly yours,

E. A. Goldenweiser
Director of Research and Statistics

Dear Mr. Goldenweiser,

Owing to the necessity of reducing our expenses we must ask to stop sending us the figures in your weekly cables. Of late it has been rather difficult to draw any conclusions from these figures. Even the figure for member banks' excess reserves (prefix w) may be omitted. Should conditions improve we may perhaps be allowed to request you to send us these figures again.

On the other hand we hope you will continue sending us the monthly cable with the production figures &c (prefix p, r, s, t and u). These figures are of the greatest importance for understanding the development in your country and are most useful for us.

Very truly yours
