FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
OF
ST. LOUIS

April 4, 1933.

To the Licensed Member Banks in District No. 8:
(Also for the information of Unlicensed Member Banks)

A telegram from the Honorable W. H. Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury, is quoted in part as follows:

“Member banks which have been granted Federal licenses to reopen are not permitted to take advantage of any State stabilization act providing for limitation of withdrawals or otherwise to operate on restricted basis.
You are authorized and directed to advise any member bank which has been granted a license to reopen, that unless it reopens to the full extent permitted by such license, it will be necessary for me to revoke its license.”

Will you please advise me if your bank is not operating to the full extent permitted by the license issued to it.

Respectfully,

WM. McC. MARTIN,

Governor.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
OF
ST. LOUIS

March 31, 1933.

To Those Member Banks In District No. 8
Which Have Not Been Licensed To Reopen:

We have received a notice from the Federal Reserve Board which is quoted in part as follows:

“Member banks not licensed to open should, pending the receipt of a license to open, maintain reserves on new deposits and old deposits made available for withdrawal as follows:

“Deposits received in special trust accounts pursuant to provisions of Regulation 7 of the Secretary of the Treasury and deposits received while a bank is in the hands of conservator appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency or in the hands of a State official having similar authority are demand deposits and subject to demand deposit reserve.

“The part of deposits made available for immediate withdrawal on a ratable basis under Regulation 27 of the Secretary of the Treasury should be treated as demand deposits and subject to demand deposit reserve.

“The part of deposits made available for withdrawal on a ratable basis from National banks in hands of conservators as provided in Section 206 of the Bank Conservation Act or under similar conditions from State member banks in hands of conservators or other State officials having similar authority should be considered as demand deposits and subject to demand deposit reserve.”

Will you, therefore, until such time as your bank may receive a license for the resumption of banking functions, submit your regular “Report of Reserve Required Against Net Deposits” in two sections. The first section should relate to deposits, withdrawal of which has been restricted by the President’s proclamation and the second section relating to those deposits which were received pursuant to Regulation 7 or which were made available pursuant to Regulation 27.

Balances on deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis in special account shall be considered as available for reserve against deposits in the second section of the report.

Respectfully,

WM. McC. MARTIN,

Governor.

REGULATION No. 32

To All Banks in District No. 8:

Under authority conferred upon him by President's proclamations of March 6 and of March 9, 1933, declaring and continuing a bank holiday, the Secretary of the Treasury has issued the following regulation:

"Any State bank which is a member of the Federal reserve system, and is not licensed by the Secretary of the Treasury to perform usual banking functions, may permit withdrawals of deposits which are lawfully secured by collateral; provided, that such withdrawals are

- (a) permissible under applicable law
- (b) duly authorized by the board of directors of such bank, upon such terms with respect to the release of collateral as will fully protect all depositors and other creditors against the creation of any preferences, and
- (c) approved by the appropriate State authority having supervision of such bank.

Any such bank is authorized to carry on such usual banking functions as may be essential to allow the withdrawals permitted by this regulation, subject to the provisions and restrictions above set forth and except as otherwise prohibited."

Under authority conferred upon him by President's proclamations of March 6 and of March 9, 1933, declaring and continuing a bank holiday, the Secretary of the Treasury has issued the following regulation:

"Any banking institution which is a member of the Federal reserve system and is not licensed to perform usual banking functions, but which is duly authorized to engage in the business of acting as trustee, executor, administrator, registrar of stocks and bonds, transfer agent, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, committee of estates of lunatics, or in any other fiduciary capacity, may transact such business in the normal and usual manner and may make payments on account of the principal or income of trust or other fiduciary funds to the persons entitled thereto; provided, that, except to the extent permitted by other emergency banking regulations, no such banking institution shall withdraw or pay out any trust or other fiduciary funds on deposit with any other department of such banking institution or make any other payment in connection with any trust or other fiduciary funds which would operate to discharge, as a whole or in part, any indebtedness, as distinguished from any trust or other fiduciary duty, of such banking institution.

OF
ST. LOUIS

March 15, 1933.

STATEMENT TO THE PRESS

To All Banks in District No. 8:

The Secretary of the Treasury has released the following statement to the Press: "Passing upon applications of member banks to reopen for normal banking functions has taxed the personnel of the Treasury and of the office of the Comptroller of the Currency. While every possible effort has been made to act upon all applications, delay in some cases has been found to be inevitable. In some cases, also, steps are being taken which as soon as completed will make it possible for reopening to be licensed. I therefore wish to direct especial attention to the statement of the President in his radio address of last Sunday: 'Let me make it clear to you that if your bank does not open the first day you are by no means justified in believing that it will not open. A bank that opens on one of the subsequent days is in exactly the same status as the bank that opens tomorrow.'

" Additional licenses will be issued from time to time and the public should understand that banks hereafter licensed to be opened for normal functions are to be regarded in the same way as if it had been possible to issue the license by today."

Respectfully,

WM. McC. MARTIN,

Governor.

OF
ST. LOUIS

March 14, 1933.

To All Banks in District No. 8:

The Secretary of the Treasury on March 10 sent the following telegram to State banking authority in each State:

"All banks of the country are now prohibited under the proclamation of March 9 of the President from conducting any banking business, except as specifically authorized by rule, regulation or license of the Secretary of the Treasury issued under that proclamation.

In view of the passage of the emergency bank bill by Congress yesterday, and under the terms of that bill, and Section 5 of the Act of October 6, 1917 as amended by that bill, the Secretary of the Treasury will be authorized to permit any sound bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve System, whether State or National, to reopen for business as promptly as possible. It is the intention of the Secretary of the Treasury, however, to permit no member bank to reopen at any time on a full 100 per cent basis unless or until the Secretary is satisfied that such bank is a sound going institution. Any member bank not clearly within this category will not be opened unless or until further investigation discloses that it is a sound going institution, or unless or until a reorganization of some character will permit the bank to be classified as a sound going institution.

Any member bank not opened 100 per cent under this procedure will be permitted to continue to perform only such specific transactions as are now authorized or may hereafter be authorized by specific regulation on license of the Secretary of the Treasury.

In view of the fact that neither the Treasury nor the Federal Reserve authorities have sufficient information upon which to consider applications for reopening by such State banks as are not members of the Federal Reserve System, the President will by decree authorize the appropriate State authorities in each State to give licenses to banks under their jurisdiction other than members of the Federal Reserve System, to open for the usual normal business, or in their judgment, and under the terms of the Presidential proclamation, to permit of such reopening under such restrictions and limitations as they in their judgment may deem wise. It is to be expected, however, that State superintendents in granting licenses under this authority will take under consideration in determining their own policy the general principle to be adopted by the Treasury as respects member banks that in the interests of the depositors and of the Country as a whole, only sound institutions will be permitted to carry on all of their usual functions to the end that no bank shall be reopened for business on any basis that will run the risk of being forced to close again because of demands which it is not in a position to satisfy."

Respectfully,

WM. McC. MARTIN,

Governor.

OF
ST. LOUIS

March 14, 1933.

To All Banks in District No. 8:

The Secretary of the Treasury on March 11 sent the following telegram to State banking authority in each State:

"As announced by the President this afternoon, a definite program for the reopening of banks throughout the country has been determined by the Secretary of the Treasury. In accordance with this program, the Secretary of the Treasury is prepared upon application through Federal reserve banks to issue to banking institutions which are members of the Federal Reserve System, whether National or State, located in each of the twelve Federal reserve bank cities licenses to open Monday morning.

The Secretary of the Treasury will not issue licenses to any member bank, State or National, located outside those twelve cities to open before Tuesday.

State authorities having supervision over banking institutions located at such cities which are not members of the Federal Reserve System are requested to cooperate by permitting such banking institutions to open for business on Monday morning, in all cases where they find them qualified to do so on the basis indicated in previous telegram of March 10th.

The Secretary of the Treasury will not permit any member bank, State or National, to open in any such Federal reserve city unless opened for normal business on an unrestricted basis, except so far as affected by legal contracts between the banks and depositors with respect to withdrawals or notice of withdrawals.

In accordance with the announcement of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury is prepared upon application through the Federal reserve banks to issue licenses to reopen on Tuesday morning to Federal reserve member banks located in any city having an active and recognized clearing house association, and upon like application licenses to member banks located elsewhere for reopening on Wednesday morning.

As previously stated, however, the Secretary of the Treasury will not permit the reopening of member banks, State or National, on any of these days except on an unrestricted basis, as above indicated.

It must be understood that the restrictions in the President's proclamation against the payment of gold, gold certificates or bullion or the payment of currency for hoarding purposes and foreign exchange transactions will apply to all banking institutions, member and nonmember, State or National, until further notice."

Respectfully,

WM. McC. MARTIN,

REGULATION No. 25

To All Banks in District No. 8:

Under authority conferred upon him by President's proclamations of March 6 and 9, 1933, declaring and continuing bank holiday, the Secretary of the Treasury has issued the following regulation:

"Pending the determination by the Treasury Department of a suitable procedure for licensing the delivery of gold for use in trade, profession or art, Federal reserve banks are hereby authorized to deliver upon request therefor gold in amounts deemed by such bank to be reasonably required for legitimate and customary uses in trade, profession or art, provided such request is accompanied by affidavit of the person requesting such gold, stating the amount of unmanufactured gold on hand and the facts making it necessary to obtain such gold for the purpose of maintaining employment.

All banks licensed to open for usual and normal functions are permitted to carry out any transaction necessary to complete the delivery of any gold authorized by any Federal reserve bank to be delivered in accordance with such request."

The Secretary of the Treasury has also issued a public statement directing that requests for delivery of gold for use in trade, profession or art be submitted to the Federal reserve bank of the district accompanied by affidavit referred to in regulation, and stating that accurate records must be kept of disposition of all gold which may be released.

REGULATION No. 23

To All Banks in District No. 8:

Under authority conferred upon him by President's proclamations of March 6th and 9th and Executive Order of the President of the United States, dated March 10, 1933, Secretary of the Treasury has issued following regulation governing all banking institutions whether or not licensed to carry on usual and normal functions by Secretary of Treasury or appropriate State authority: "No banking institution shall permit any withdrawal by any person when such institution, acting in good faith, shall deem that the withdrawal is intended for hoarding. PRESS STATEMENT

To All Banks in District No. 8:

The following statement by the Secretary of the Treasury was released to the Press this afternoon:

"Under the terms of the Act of March 9, 1933, immediate action has been taken by the President and the Secretary of the Treasury which will make possible the resumption of banking operations in substantial volume at a very early date. Pending such redemption the vital needs of communities must be met. Attention of all banking institutions is called to regulation 10 which is still in force and which as amended provides for cooperation between banks in different communities and reads as follows:

Any National or State banking institution may exercise its usual banking functions to such extent as its situation shall permit and as shall be absolutely necessary to meet the needs of its community for food, medicine, other necessities of life, for the relief of distress, for the payment of usual salaries and wages, for necessary current expenditures for the purpose of maintaining employment, and for other similar essential purposes: Banking institutions may carry out such transactions as may be necessary to aid banking institutions in other communities to meet the necessities set forth above, provided, however, that:

- (1) every precaution shall be taken to prevent hoarding or the unnecessary withdrawal of currency;
- (2) no State banking institution shall engage in any transaction under this regulation which is in violation of State or Federal law or of any regulation issued thereunder;
- (3) no National banking association shall engage in any transaction under this section which is in violation of any Federal law or of any order or regulation issued by the Comptroller of the Currency; and
- (4) no gold or gold certificates shall be paid out.

Each banking institution and its directors and officers will be held strictly accountable for faithful compliance with the spirit and purpose as well as the letter of this regulation.

Federal reserve banks may carry on such functions as may be necessary to facilitate transactions authorized by this regulation.

In order to enable member banks of the Federal Reserve System to meet the needs of their respective communities to the extent authorized by this regulation Federal reserve banks may make advances to such member banks under the conditions set forth in Section 10 (B) of the Federal Reserve Act as amended by the Act of March 9, 1933, and in accordance with authority granted by the Federal Reserve Board.

In addition, in order to enable individuals, partnerships and corporations to meet their immediate payroll requirements, Federal reserve banks may make temporary advances to such individuals, partnerships and corporations on their promissory notes secured by direct obligations of the United States in accordance with authority granted by the Federal Reserve Board."
