MEMORANDUM of vote received for reserve bank cities after elimination to eighteen. Where the first choice was for an eliminated city the second choice was used, and so on.

The data upon which this memorandum is based was made up at the time the elimination was made, and while a few cards have since come in and have been counted in the memorandum showing the elimination to twelve, it is not believed that the result would be materially affected.

| | Spokane |

NOTE

It has been suggested that all cities in the southeastern states be eliminated with the exception of Atlanta, which city has received the largest vote. Atlanta has received 111 votes, as compared with 51, for Birmingham, the second largest.

St. Paul has been eliminated because of the fact that Minneapolis has received 363 votes as compared with 100 for St. Paul, the votes being about equally distributed for each city between North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota.

No elimination has been made as between Dallas, Houston and Ft. Worth. Dallas has received 208 votes as compared with 55 for Ft. Worth, and 82 for Houston, and it is suggested that the two last mentioned cities might also be eliminated.

Cleveland, Ohio has received but 103 votes in northeastern Ohio, and 3 in Pennsylvania. It is therefore suggested that this city might also be eliminated.

Eliminating Birmingham, Charlotte, Chattanooga, Columbia, Jacksonville and Savannah in the southeastern section of the country, and taking the second choice of the banks voting for the above cities, if not for one of the cities eliminated, in which case the third choice is taken, and the following result is reached.

| Second Choice : | Atlanta ; | Balto : | Richmond : | Wash: | Cincinnati : | New O.: | St.L. : | Phil: |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Alabama | 35 | | | 6 | | 7 | 1 | |
| Florida | 16 | | | | | 1 | | |
| Georgia | 10 | | 1 | | | | | |
| North Carolina | 1 | | 14 | | 1 | | | 1 |
| Mississippi | 1 | | | | | | | |
| South Carolina | | | 25 | | | | | |
| Tennessee | 4 | | | 8 | | | | |

Adding the above vote to that already recorded as first choice leaves the following result as to the cities remaining in the eastern and southeastern section:

ATLANTA

| | |
|---|---|
| Alabama | 42 |
| Florida | 33 |
| Georgia | 89 |
| Mississippi | 1 |
| North Carolina | 1 (Second choice vote. Third choice vote Richmond) |
| Tennessee | 12 |
| Total | 178 |

BALTIMORE

| | |
|---|---|
| Delaware | 1 |
| Maryland | 86 |
| Pennsylvania | 10 |
| So.carolina | 1 |
| Tennessee | 1 |
| Virginia | 11 |
| West Virginia | 20 |
| Total | 130 |

RICHMOND

| | |
|---|---|
| Florida | 1 |
| Georgia | 1 |
| North Carolina | 56 |
| South Carolina | 37 |
| Tennessee | 2 |
| Virginia | 87 |
| West Virginia | 12 |
| Total | 196 |

PHILADELPHIA

| | |
|---|---|
| Delaware | 23 |
| New Jersey | 60 |
| Pennsylvania | 389 |
| Total | 472 |

WASHINGTON

| | |
|---|---|
| District of Columbia | 12 |
| Maryland | 1 |
| North Carolina | 3 |
| South Carolina | 1 |
| Virginia | 7 |
| Total | 24 |

The above analysis would indicate that as between Richmond and Atlanta the division line would be the southern line of South Carolina.

ANSWERED
JAN 21 1914

January 13,1914.

Hon. Charles S. Hamlin,
Treasury Department,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hamlin:-

I am sure that you have a good enough opinion of me and my work to be willing to say a word on my behalf to Secretary McAdoo in connection with the application of my Transportation and Industrial Atlas Unit System to the work of the organization committee under the Federal Reserve Act. I enclose you a clipping from the Transcript which gives a rough idea of my system. I believe that this is specially adapted to facilitate the work of the organization committee and I devoted some time to preparing a series of maps illustrating the application of my system to this work and I placed these before the committee and explained my ideas at their meeting here last Saturday. I believe that I secured their favorable attention and that they will consider the use of my map making system in connection with their work. While I have submitted my system independently of the question of rendering engdneering service, I fully believe that my experience in this special line of work has been such that I could be of much value to the committee within the limited time allowed. I believe that I could render more effective assistance than any one else, and to my mind the proper performance of the work, with intelligent consideration of every factor, requires the employment of the graphic statistical method, based upon block divisions, as their problem is merely a geographical one. The fact that state lines are not to be adhered to makes it essential that some unit of area system should be employed. I hope that from your personal knowledge of me and of my work you will feel able to say a word to Secretary McAdoo as to my qualifications ih this line.

My attention was called to this special field for my geographical system by Mr. Quincy, who had previously looked into it with some care in reference to its use by the Post Office Department. He urged me as soon as the act was passed to make various studies on my system for presentation to the committee,and he has been working more or less with me on this matter and is thoroughly satisfied of its utility for this purpose. In fact, in appearing before the committee himself here, he urged the necessity of employing a unit of area system and of using the graphic statistical method.

He is prepared to help me in any way he can and at my request he is going to drop in to confer with you on his visit to Washington the middle of this week. The map which Mr. Quincy presented to the committee to show the districts, which he himself suggested, was one of my own.

Yours very truly,

Sir:

On behalf of the Organization Committee, I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, enclosing a map illustrating your idea of the regions which would be established by the selection of certain cities as locations for Federal Reserve Banks and to advise that the same will be noted that it may be considered by the Committee when it is about to determine these questions.

Respectfully,

Secretary,
Reserve Bank Organization Committee.

The Reserve Bank Organization Committee,

Treasury Department,

Washington, D.C.

Gentlemen:-

I beg to enclose herewith a map illustrating my idea of the Regions which would be established by the selection of the following cities as locations for regional reserve banks. New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnatti, Chicago St.Louis, Minneapolis, Denver San Francisco, with possibly one later in Portland or Seattle and one in Southwest. But the ten cities which I have named, will result in such a distribution of territory as to make the collection and Domestic Exchange provision of the Federal Reserve Act most useful.

Not being familiar with the local transportation conditions or local preference or predjudice along the borders of these suggested districts, they are, of course, subject to change, but as a general plan it seems to divide the country within the meaning of the Act. If any locality appears too far from its Reserve City, we have but to think how far it would have been from one central bank if that had been established. In the Rocky Mountain District, for instance, it is very hard to outline a certain area excepting arbitrarily.

As an ardent advocate of the measure, I should like to see its foundation laid in such a way as to lead to the greatest success. I further believe that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York should be of such a size that it would not be over-shadowed by any other bank in its region. Still further, all dealings in foreign exchange and gold shipments will be through the New York bank and it seems to me that upon it will rest the ultimate burden of protecting our gold reserve. And we must not forget that a great deal of the capital in New York, Philadelphia and Boston banks has been attracted to the banking business by the present reserve system, and it will undoubtedly be reduced in that region in the near future. One National Bank has already given notice of a reduction in capital. The Philadelphia and Boston Bankers who appeared before the Senate Committee almost to a man advocated a Central Bank with branches, so I do not see how they can object to having a branch of the New York bank in their cities.

Yours very truly,

N. D. Alling

Hon. W. G. McAdoo,

Secretary of the Treasury,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I understand the Committee whose duty it is to organize and locate regional banks, has invited suggestions from bankers and others interested, regarding the location of such banks and the respective territories they are to serve.

I hand you herewith a map of the United States, divided into twelve districts, with the following cities indicated thereon as the most appropriate locations for regional banks, viz.:

To BOSTON, all of New England except Connecticut.

To NEW YORK CITY, the states of Connecticut, New York and New Jersey.

To WASHINGTON, the states of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina.

To ATLANTA, the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

To CINCINNATI, the states of Ohio, Kentucky and Tennesee.

To CHICAGO, the states of Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska.

To KANSAS CITY, the states of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

To NEW ORLEANS, the states of Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

To MINNEAPOLIS, the states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana.

To DENVER, the states of Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

To PORTLAND, the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

To SAN FRANCISCO, the states of Utah, Arizona, Nevada and California.

I believe it would be bad policy to put Boston and Philadelphia in the same distriot with New York City.

I believe it would be good policy to have a Federal Reserve Bank in Washington City.

I prefer Kansas City over St.Louis for the district in which St.Joseph is located. By reference to the map you will see that Railroad lines centering in Kansas City are more numerous, and Kansas City is more accessible to the thickly settled portions of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas than St.Louis.

I could suggest some slight variation from state lines that may be desirable but I do not consider them important.

President Wilson's administration is to be congratulated on the success of your efforts to give the country a banking and currency system, which it has long needed. No more important legislation has been enacted in many years.

Thanking you for your attention, I am

Yours very truly,

D. L. Bartlett
