[ Circular No. 4693 ]
January 22, 1959 ]

TREASURY'S CURRENT CASH OFFERING OF BONDS

Subscriptions and Allotments

To All Banking Institutions, and Others Concerned, in the Second Federal Reserve District:

The following statement was made public today:

The Treasury Department today announced the subscription and allotment figures with respect to the cash offering of $750 million, or thereabouts, of 4 percent Treasury Bonds of 1980, to be dated January 23, 1959, and to mature February 15, 1980. Subscriptions from savings-type investors were allotted 70 percent, subscriptions from commercial banks for their own account were allotted 35 percent, and all other subscriptions were allotted 15 percent. In accordance with the offering announcement, all subscriptions up to a maximum of $25,000 were allotted in full where accompanied by 100 percent payment at the time of entering the subscriptions. All other subscriptions for $5,000 were allotted in full. Subscriptions for more than $5,000 were allotted not less than $5,000. In addition, $50 million were allotted to Government Investment Accounts.

Subscriptions and allotments were divided among the several Federal Reserve Districts and the Treasury as follows:
