Series J Savings Bonds Not Exchangeable for Series H Savings Bonds
After October 31, 1969

To Paying Agents for Savings Bonds
in the Second Federal Reserve District:

The Treasury Department has asked us to advise you that after October 31, 1969, Series J savings bonds will no longer be eligible for exchange for Series H savings bonds under the provisions of Treasury Department Circular No. 1036 and, therefore, you should not accept Series J bonds submitted with the exchange subscription form for Series H bonds (Form PD 3253) dated after October 31, 1969.

A revised exchange subscription form for Series H bonds will be available to all paying agents in December.

Additional copies of this letter will be furnished upon request.
