Exchange offering

Coupons dated August 15, 1970 on the securities maturing on that date should be detached and cashed when due.

Only banking institutions may submit subscriptions for account of customers. On any subscription for account of an individual of more than $200,000 for a specific security, the customer's name must be furnished. On subscriptions for $200,000 or less for a specific security for account of an individual, banking institutions may consolidate the subscriptions and report the total number and amount. On subscriptions of any amount for account of customers other than individuals, their names and locations must be furnished. On subscriptions for account of customers of correspondent banks, the names of such customers and, if not individuals, their locations must be furnished.

Subscribers are required to certify that at the time the subscription is entered the securities surrendered were owned and delivery was accepted by the subscriber, or that such securities were contracted for purchase for value by the subscriber for delivery to the subscriber prior to the closing of the subscription books.

The subscription books will remain open for three days, August 3 through August 5.

Cash subscriptions will not be received.

Cash offering — 18-month notes

Subscriptions in amounts up to and including \$200,000 will be allotted in full, and subscribers submitting such subscriptions will be sent a Letter of Instructions form, which they should promptly complete and return to this Bank in order that the payment for and delivery of the notes may be effected. Subscriptions over \$200,000 will be allotted on a percentage basis but not less than \$200,000, and subscribers submitting such subscriptions will be sent a Notice of Allotment, together with a Letter of Instructions form which should be promptly completed and returned to this Bank. Payment must be made by August 17, in cash, or in 6 $\frac{3}{8}$  percent Treasury Notes of Series D-1970, or 4 percent Treasury Bonds of 1970. Coupons dated August 15, 1970 on the securities maturing on that date should be detached and cashed when due.

All subscribers are required to agree not to purchase or to sell, or to make any agreements with respect to the purchase or sale or other disposition of, the notes subscribed for at a specific rate or price until after midnight, August 5, 1970.

A commercial bank submitting a subscription direct to the Federal Reserve Bank of its District may, if it is a qualified depository, pay by credit in its Treasury Tax and Loan Account for notes allotted on such subscription up to 50 percent of the purchase price of the notes allotted; however, a commercial bank submitting a subscription through a correspondent bank may not pay by credit in its Tax and Loan Account for notes allotted on the subscription of the correspondent bank.

Subscriptions from commercial banks, for their own account, will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding 50 percent of the combined capital (not including capital notes or debentures), surplus, and undivided profits of the subscribing bank.

Subscriptions from all subscribers, except banking institutions for their own account and others as specified in Section III of the Treasury circular, must be accompanied by payment of 10 percent (in cash or in maturing securities) of the amount of securities applied for. If subscribers required to make deposits desire to deposit the maturing securities but do not have the denominations to meet exactly the minimum deposit requirement, they are urged to leave any excess on deposit to avoid denominational exchanges and unnecessary movement of securities.

Only commercial banks may submit subscriptions for account of customers, provided the names of the customers are set forth in such subscriptions. On subscriptions for account of customers of correspondent banks, the names of such customers, and if not individuals, their locations, must be furnished. Others than commercial banks may submit subscriptions only for their own account. Commercial banks are urged to retain the required deposits (cash or maturing securities) of their customers until after allotment of the new securities; if the maturing securities are retained, the risk and expense involved in forwarding them to this Bank will thus be avoided. Commercial banks are urged to enter subscriptions for their own account, and for account of their customers, with the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch in the District in which they are located.

The subscription books will remain open for one day only, Wednesday, August 5.

Subscriptions for both issues will be received by this Bank as fiscal agent of the United States. Subscriptions should be submitted on official subscription forms, copies of which are enclosed, and should be mailed immediately. If filed by telegram or letter, the subscriptions should be confirmed immediately by mail on the forms provided. Any subscription addressed to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department and placed in the mail before midnight Wednesday, August 5, will be considered timely.
