

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF NEW YORK

Circular No. 10,074
August 20, 1986

DISCOUNT RATES

*To All Depository Institutions
in the Second Federal Reserve District:*

Effective Thursday, August 21, 1986, the directors of this Bank, with the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, have reduced the Bank's basic discount rate from 6 percent to 5½ percent.

The following statement was issued today by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System regarding the rate change:

The Federal Reserve Board today announced a reduction in the discount rate from 6 percent to 5½ percent, effective on Thursday, August 21, 1986.

In the light of prevailing economic and financial circumstances, the action appears consistent with the objective of sustaining orderly growth within a framework of greater price stability.

In making the change, the Board voted on requests submitted by the boards of directors of the Federal Reserve Banks of Boston, New York, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, and San Francisco. The discount rate is the interest rate that is charged depository institutions when they borrow from their district Federal Reserve Banks.

This Bank's Operating Circular No. 13, regarding discount rates, will be issued shortly.

OF NEW YORK

Operating Circular No. 13
Revised effective August 21, 1986

DISCOUNT RATES

*To All Depository Institutions
in the Second Federal Reserve District:*

1. This Bank has made the following changes in its rate schedule, effective August 21, 1986:

The rate on advances of adjustment and seasonal credit and discounts under sections 13, 13a, and 10(b) of the Federal Reserve Act has been reduced from 6 percent per annum to 5½ percent per annum.

The rate on advances under section 10(b) of the Federal Reserve Act of extended credit (i) to institutions under sustained liquidity pressures, or (ii) for special circumstances, has been reduced from 6 percent per annum to 5½ percent per annum; the rate on such credit outstanding for more than 60, but not more than 150, days has been reduced from 7 percent per annum to 6½ percent per annum; and the rate on such credit outstanding for more than 150 days has been reduced from 8 percent per annum to 7½ percent per annum.

Shown on the reverse side is the schedule of rates now in effect at this Bank on advances and discounts made under the Federal Reserve Act.

2. This circular supersedes our Operating Circular No. 13, revised effective July 11, 1986.

* In the case of adjustment credit loans determined by this Bank to be unusually large and to arise from a major operating problem at the borrowing institution, this Bank, at its discretion, may charge the highest rate it has established for loans to depository institutions.

† In the case of extended credit that is expected to be outstanding for unusually long periods and in relatively large amounts, the time period for each rate in the extended credit rate structure may be shortened at the discretion of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Also, a flexible rate that takes into account rates on market sources of funds may be applied to any extended credit outstanding for prolonged periods.

‡ Under the program, the borrower has the option of borrowing (i) at the basic discount rate in effect during the period the loan is outstanding (if the discount rate changes during this period, the rate charged on the loan changes accordingly), or (ii) at a rate that, during the time the credit is outstanding, will remain fixed at one-half percentage point higher than the basic discount rate in effect at the time of the loan. No credit under this program will mature later than February 28, 1987, nor will such credit be extended subsequent to September 30, 1986.
