CIRCULAR NO. 136,
FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
OF NEW YORK

January 10, 1919.

4 1/2%

U. S. TREASURY CERTIFICATES ACCEPTABLE IN PAYMENT OF TAXES

Dear Sirs:

The Treasury Department has announced a new series of Tax Certificates, bearing 4 1/2% interest, dated January 16, 1919, payable June 17, 1919, and acceptable at par with adjustment of accrued interest in payment of income and profits taxes due at the time the certificates mature or not more than 60 days prior to that date.

The certificates will be issued as of January 16th but subscriptions are now being received subject to allotment, and should be entered through your regular banking connections. They are an especially desirable form of investment for temporary funds accumulated in anticipation of tax requirements, not only because of the satisfactory return, but because of the excellence of the security and the fact that the certificates are payable at maturity like any other short paper, if not utilized for the payment of taxes.

Corporations and individuals purchasing these certificates perform an important service to the Government by distributing in advance the strain which would otherwise fall on the banks in meeting the heavy withdrawals at the tax periods.

We enclose a circular herewith which describes the issue in detail.

Very truly yours,

R. H. Treman,
Deputy Governor.
Federal Reserve Bank of New York

Respectfully,

R. H. TREMAN,
