$10,000 Federal Reserve Notes

Paid for Liberty Bonds Reported Stolen

To each Bank, Trust Company and Savings Bank in the Second Federal Reserve District:

We have been informed that twenty $10,000 Federal Reserve notes were given in Memphis, Tennessee, in payment for Liberty Bonds which are reported to have been stolen. The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, the bank issuing the notes, is endeavoring to learn their whereabouts in an effort to trace the circumstances of the alleged theft of the bonds. No doubt these notes if offered to a bank will be susceptible of identification because of their large denomination. Should they be detected, we would be glad to be informed by wire so that we may notify the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis accordingly.

The twenty $10,000 Federal Reserve notes bear the distinctive letter H and serial numbers 8H1A to 8H30A.

Very truly yours,

BENJ. STRONG,
Governor
