March 1, 1924

SUBJECT: Governors' Conference.

Dear Sir:

The Federal Reserve Board has designated Monday, May 5, 1924, as the opening date of the next meeting of the Governors of Federal Reserve Banks for conference with the Board and with each other. The meeting will convene at ten A. M. in the Board's Assembly Room in Washington.

The topics which the Board desires to discuss with the Governors will be submitted later and the topics which they may wish to discuss among themselves will be prepared by their own committee.

Very truly yours,

G o v e r n o r .

To all Governors of Federal reserve banks.
