Explanatory Notes

The tables in this section relate to three distinct series of statistics on issues of securities in the United States: Tables 1 and 2 cover practically all new issues of securities offered for cash sale; Tables 3 to 7 cover issues registered under the Securities Act of 1933; and Tables 8 and 9 cover participations of investment banking firms in underwriting activities. The values of securities in all the tables have been rounded to thousands of dollars and therefore may not add exactly to the totals shown.

Tables 1 and 2

The data on new issues of securities offered for cash sale in the United States cover substantially all such issues offered in amounts of more than $100,000 and with terms to maturity of more than one year. Included in the coverage are issues privately placed as well as those publicly offered, and unregistered issues as well as those registered under the Securities Act of 1933. Excluded are issues sold through continuous offering (typically those of investment companies), inter-corporate transactions, interagency sales of obligations of the Federal Government, and notes sold to commercial banks when such banks were the sole purchasers.

Issues classified as privately placed consist of corporate issues sold to a restricted number of investors without public offering. Data for offerings of state and municipal securities are taken from totals published by The Commercial and Financial Chronicle. Unlike the data in Table 1, they are entered at face amount instead of gross proceeds.

The chief sources of data are the financial press and documents filed with the Commission. All the figures are subject to revision as new data are received.

Tables 3 to 7

Tables 3 to 7 deal with data on registrations under the Securities Act of 1933. The first table in this series gives the value of securities registered for various purposes, including exchange and conversion, and the value of securities registered for the accounts of security holders as well as for the accounts of issuers. The remaining tables deal with the important category of securities registered for the accounts of issuers for cash sale. The data are classified as of the date of effective registration, except for those of issues registered for sale through competitive bidding, which are included as of the date of the post-effective amendment reporting the price and the terms of sale.

Tables 8 and 9

These tables relate to those issues registered under the Securities Act which were underwritten, using the term in the restricted sense of issues purchased by investment bankers for resale as distinct from issues taken by investment bankers for distribution on a "best effort" or agency basis. Table 8 shows the underwriting participations and Table 9 the value of issues managed, by each firm. Since more than one firm may be represented in the underwriting or in the management of the same issue, the figure for "All Firms" at the bottom of the column for "Number of Issues" in both tables is less than the sum of the figures for individual firms in the same column.

Certain minor differences from the preceding tables should be noted. Bonds are valued at face amount, although stock is carried at expected gross proceeds. While the participations are those intended as of the effective date of the registration statements, they are classified according to actual date of offering.

Correction

In the April issue of the Statistical Bulletin there was a printing error in Table 3. The amount registered for the account of others than issuers in 1941 expressed in thousands of dollars should have been 238,608 instead of 38,608.

For earlier data, see Statistical Series Releases and earlier Statistical Bulletins.

Table 1

Each index represents the current market value of shares outstanding as a per cent of the average market value of those shares during January 1939; the base value of each group is adjusted to take account of substitutions in the component issues and of changes in shares outstanding. The industry groups represented in the current series include all industries which in 1942 accounted for at least one per cent of either the volume or value of New York Stock Exchange transactions in common stocks. The composite index is the aggregate current market value of all issues in the component indexes as a per cent of the aggregate base value of these indexes.

Table 2

Sales shown in Table 2 are reported in connection with fees paid under Section 31 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These figures include all sales effected on exchanges. Unlike most series on exchange sales, these data do not omit any categories of sales effected on the exchanges, covering odd-lot as well as round-lot transactions. Most exchanges' reports for a given month cover transactions cleared during the calendar month; clearances occur for the most part on the second day after that on which the trade actually has been effected.

Tables 3, 4, and 5

Total round-lot sales reported in Tables 3 and 4 include all stock sales effected in round lots but exclude transactions in rights and warrants. Round-lot transactions are transactions in the unit of trading or multiples thereof; odd-lot transactions are those involving a number of shares less than the unit of trading. On the New York Stock Exchange, the unit of trading for most stocks is 100 shares; some less active stocks have a 10-share unit. On the New York Curb Exchange, the unit of trading for a given issue may be 100 shares, 50 shares, 25 shares, or 10 shares.

Total round-lot sales effected on the New York Stock Exchange, reported in Table 3, are consistently larger than round-lot volume as reported on the ticker of that exchange since the ticker volume, or "reported volume", fails to include certain types of round-lot transactions ordinarily amounting to from 5 to 10 per cent of round-lot sales on the exchange.

Total round-lot sales on the New York Curb Exchange, reported in Table 4, may differ from round-lot volume on that exchange as reported on the ticker since the latter includes the round-lot volume of sales of rights and warrants and fails to include certain classes of round-lot stock transactions.

Short sales in Tables 3, 4, and 5 include only those short sales which are restricted under the Commission's rules; "exempt" short sales are included with other sales.

As used in these tables, the term "members" includes regular and associate exchange members, their firms, and their partners, including special partners.

In Table 3, the transactions of specialists in stocks in which they are registered include all round-lot transactions in an issue by a member for his own account or for his firm's account while the member was acting as specialist in that issue. Transactions for the odd-lot account are excluded, as are transactions for the member's account in issues other than those in which he was acting as specialist. For specialists who also act as odd-lot dealers in certain issues, round-lot trades for their odd-lot account are included with round-lot trades of odd-lot dealers in the succeeding item.

On the New York Curb Exchange, round-lot transactions of specialists in the stocks in which they are registered are not directly comparable with the round-lot trades of specialists on the New York Stock Exchange, since on the former exchange odd-lot transactions are handled solely by specialists, and the round-lot transactions of specialists resulting from such odd-lot transactions are not segregated from the specialists' other round-lot trades.

A "Special Offering" is the offering for sale on the floor of a national securities exchange of a block of stock under an arrangement whereby the special commissions of the buyers' brokers are paid by the seller of the block. Such offerings are permitted at present on the New York Stock Exchange, the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and the New York Curb Exchange, under plans submitted by those exchanges and declared effective by the Commission.

The "Special Offering Price" is the fixed price at which the offering is made. The "Special Commission" is the commission paid to the buyer's broker by the seller in lieu of the regular commission which would be paid by the buyer; however, no such commission is paid when the buyer is a member purchasing for his own account. The "Vendor" is the apparent owner of the shares to be offered; he may make the offering through a member firm as agent, or may sell to a member firm or group of firms, which then makes the offering as principal. The type of "Vendor" is identified by the following codes: BK — bank or trust company; OR — public corporation; BR — broker or dealer; ER — eleemosynary institution, hospital, church, or school; EST — estate; IW — individual; INS — insurance company; INV — investment company; OFF — officer or director of issuer company; OTH — other. In offerings where two or more vendors are involved, the type of vendor accounting for the largest part of the block is given. Where the vendor is identified as BK or ER, he may be acting as agent for the actual seller of the stock.
