State Banking Department.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

To His Excellency, FRANCIS E. MCGOVERN,
Governor of Wisconsin.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of section 2024—5 of the statutes, I respectfully submit my annual report on banks of Wisconsin.

There is exhibited herein the financial condition of the 623 state banks, 4 mutual savings banks, and 15 trust companies doing business under the laws of this state at the date of the last call for statement, December 1st, 1913. The aggregate amount of capital employed in these 642 financial institutions is $21,163,750.00, a gain of $1,152,100.00 during the past twelve months, and their total resources are now $230,073,789.52, an increase of $21,036,291.00 for that period.

There is included in the report itemized abstracts of the resources and liabilities of each of the three groups of Wisconsin banking institutions; also, that of the national banks in the state.

GENERAL CONDITION.

That the stability of the state banking system has been augmented during the past year is strongly evidenced by the growth in total bank resources. The increase is especially noteworthy in view of the fact that the financial world was subjected to a considerable money tightness during 1913.

The examinations and reports on file in this department show that a strong cash reserve has been maintained by our banking institutions at all periods; moreover, it is encouraging to note that whenever a criticism has emanated from this department regarding the maintenance of cash reserve, the same met with ready response and apparently no serious difficulty was experienced in the matter of securing funds to replenish reserves.

Another important feature of our work has been the efficient efforts of our examiners in fostering a stronger realization of the responsibility incumbent on bank directors. A special meeting of directors is generally called at the time of an examiner's visit, and the affairs of the bank, as seen by the examiner, presented to the board. This policy, I am certain, has materially raised the standard of efficiency in the bank directorate of our state, and the elimination of many unsafe banking practices is the inevitable result. In this connection, we have been successful in securing an average increase in the number of directors on a board, believing that such action is also conducive to better management.

NEW BANKS.

I believe that the 36 new banking institutions which have been authorized during the past year represent a healthy increasing demand for additional banking facilities rather than the tendency toward uneconomic competition which has been previously evidenced in the organization of new banks. It has been the policy of this department thoroughly to investigate the conditions surrounding a charter application. On several occasions I have been convinced from the resulting information that a new bank would serve no public good, and it has been incumbent on me to disapprove the application.

Following is a list of new banks and trust companies chartered from November 26, 1912, to December 1, 1913:

CAPITAL.

To stimulate the public confidence and as an important factor toward security to the depositor, I have recommended increases of bank capitalization wherever the growth of the business warrants the same. My efforts in this direction have generally been met by acquiescence on the part of the bankers of the state, and in several instances increases have been made voluntarily.

The specific instances of capital increase for the past year are as follows:

BANK LIQUIDATION.

The Glidden State Bank filed resolution of liquidation April 22, 1913.

There follows a summary of gain and loss in capital of state banks and trust companies.

Capital, November 26, 1912	$20,011 650 00
Capital, 34 new banks and 2 trust companies.....	662,000 00
Capital, 31 banks increased	495,100 00
Less capital of one bank liquidated.....		$21,168,750 00
		5,000 00
		$21,163,750 00

The total gain in surplus for the year is $726,291.45, and undivided profit account shows an increase of $351,297.68 over the amount returned a year ago. These increases testify well to the growing strength of our state banking institutions and trust companies.

IN THE HANDS OF THE COMMISSIONER.

Bank of Clear Lake.

When the Bank of Clear Lake was closed by my predecessor in office, January 25, 1911, it had deposits of $51,934.41. On August 11, 1911, proved claims had been filed amounting to $47,506.41. One of the stockholders, having confidence in the institution, in his private capacity, has settled with many of the creditors. He has taken assignments of their claims, and the claims so assigned have been surrendered to the department and cancelled.

A cash dividend of ten per cent. has also been paid to creditors, leaving the remaining claims on December 1, 1913, at $33,929.22. As against this amount of liability there are assets amounting to $56,019.85. This figure represents real estate in the amount of $29,480.27, loans and discounts $23,737.86, and miscellaneous assets $2,801.72. Certain worthless assets have been charged off, leaving the remaining assets much nearer par. As has been indicated, a considerable amount of real estate has been taken, a portion by foreclosure, and, in some cases, by deeds from mortgagors to save time and expense. The creditors seem willing to bide their time rather than urge a forced sale of the assets and consequent sacrifices.

Special Deputy Commissioner F. P. Ainsworth continues in charge of the bank, and the cost of the administration is nominal, it being the policy of the department to conserve the property rather than dissipate it in expenses and attorney's fees.

Citizens Savings and Trust Company,

In Liquidation.

In order to protect the interests of depositors, I deemed it expedient on October 2, 1913, to close the doors of the Citizens Savings & Trust Company of Milwaukee.

Soon after I assumed the duties of Commissioner of Banking, our department discovered certain irregularities of management in the affairs of this company, and in March, 1912, I had A. B. Geilfuss, a veteran banker, and at that time bank examiner, elected to the office of vice president. He was my representative in full charge of the affairs of the trust company, and during his incumbency old deals cropped up, revealing false entries, perversion of funds, and so forth, committed by former officials of the institution.

Our aim was to segregate assets for the protection of deposits, and at the present date we have securities in the amount of $433,505.00 segregated for the protection of deposits amounting to $350,945.70.

With due allowance for shrinkage, I believe that the liquidation will result in full payment of all depositors' claims.

The closing of the Citizens Savings and Trust Company at once raised a question of the status of depositors and holders of participating certificates in a trust company. I have maintained that the latter class of clients do not share in common with the depositors in the liquidation of a trust company; that their security must only come from the specific collateral on which their certificates are based.

A test case brought by the holder of a participating certificate sought to enjoin me from acting as trustee for the company. An expression of the desire of those interested in this matter was secured by Judge Eschweiler, and on November 22nd his court decided that I should remain in the capacity of trustee.

Claims are now being filed, and January 26, 1914, is the date set before which all creditors must prove their demands.

LEGISLATION.

The banking legislation of 1913 added several features to our laws which, I am confident, will result in public good, as well as prove desirable to the banking interests of the state.

Section 2024—6 extends the powers of the commissioner of banking in authorizing him to refuse bank charters to undesirable parties, or where the community appears to have adequate banking facilities. I consider this law a valuable asset toward increasing the efficiency of my department, as I am thereby enabled to check needless and unprofitable competition, which experience has shown me to be a menace to the stability of the affected banks.

The provisions in sections 2024—36, which permits state banks to qualify as postal savings depositories, has not brought a large volume of deposits,—$120,745.70 at the last call,—but it is valued by our bankers in that it raises their prestige and inspires confidence, as well as providing a means for retrenchment of deposits in the event of a panic and consequent sudden withdrawal of funds.

We have at times had occasion to disapprove the attempt of a corporation to own bank stock. For the reason of the double liability on the holder of bank stock, it is our policy to require that it be issued to individuals. It would be desirable to have a law covering this point and forbidding banking corporations being formed by other corporations owning the stock in such banks. Such laws have been found efficient in other states.

In section 2024—36 of our banking laws, we have provided that it shall be unlawful for any bank to issue its certificate of deposit for the purpose of borrowing money. The provision is efficacious in enabling this department to eliminate disapproved methods in replenishing cash reserve.

I wish to suggest that we would be further assisted in procuring good banking practice by the enactment of a provision making it unlawful for one bank to loan to another by the certificate of deposit method. Our examinations disclose a tendency among our banks to carry in their loans the certificates of western banks lying outside the territorial limit prescribed by section 2024—35, W. S.; such procedure is censured by this department as being an evasion of the intent of this law. I do not consider these western bank certificates desirable paper by reason of their uncertain security, and the fact that funds which should be loaned for the development of home resources are thereby perverted into foreign channels.

LAND MORTGAGE ASSOCIATIONS.

The incorporation of land mortgage associations, new institutions in Wisconsin, is authorized by chapter 666, adopted by the legislature at its last session. The organization of these associations and their operations are placed under the jurisdiction of this department.

This chapter, known as the "Land Mortgage Association Act," was adopted to meet the demands of agriculture for loans running for a long term of years and payable on the installment or amortization plan. The act is designed especially to assist those desiring to acquire farms, and those desiring permanently to improve or to equip farms already owned. The long-term loan feature is made workable by provision for bond issues, the bonds to act as intermediaries between the lender and borrower. The law requires that the borrower pay off at least one per cent of the principal each year.

Under the plan outlined in the act, fifteen or more persons, adult resident freeholders of Wisconsin, may incorporate with a capital stock of not less than $10,000 for the purpose of making loans secured by first mortgages on Wisconsin real estate. The mortgages thus obtained may be deposited with the state treasurer, and the association may then issue bonds up to the amount of the mortgages so deposited. The bonds issued are the direct obligations of the association, and shall at no time exceed the amount of the securities on deposit with the state treasurer.

Each association, the act provides, shall be managed by a board of trustees, and shall have a committee on loans and an auditing committee. The duties and functions of the different officers, boards, and committees are so planned that each acts as a check upon the other.

The granting of loans is safeguarded, first, by a provision imposing a double liability upon stockholders for the obligations of the association, which includes the bonds; secondly, by a requirement that the assessor of incomes shall certify that the value placed upon any property for the purpose of a loan does not exceed its market value; thirdly, by a provision that no loan shall be made unless the committee on loans shall first be satisfied that a loan for the purpose specified by the applicant promises to benefit him, and by other provisions for soil conservation, the payment of taxes, insurance, special assessments, and so forth.

Most of the laws applicable to state banks and their supervision by this department are made applicable to these land mortgage associations. Their articles of incorporation and constitution and by-laws are subject to my approval; they are subject to periodic examination, as are state banks, and are required to report to this department at stated intervals and upon demand.

A uniform constitution and by-laws and a uniform system of accounts for the associations to be formed have been prepared under my supervision. The form of mortgages and bonds to be used by the associations and the deed of trust for transferring the mortgages to the state treasurer are subject to the joint approval of the attorney-general and the commissioner of banking.

Several applications for charters under this act have already been filed in this office. Two associations will open for business some time shortly after the beginning of the year 1914. One of these associations will be located at Eau Claire; the other at Marinette.

The significance of the above abstract is the representation it gives of the total banking power of Wisconsin. A year ago the totals were $403,689,620.91 and the increase for the year is $23,793,852.31.

Through the courtesy of the national banks of this state in complying with my request for their statements of October 21, 1913, I am enabled to present such herein, thus making the volume a complete directory of all banks located in Wisconsin.

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT.

Record of the activities and expense covering the period of eleven years, from 1903 to 1913, inclusive:

SCHEDULE

showing the number of banks, and the aggregate assets of banks, under the supervision of the state banking department, year by year.

	No. of banks.	Total asse's.
1903	347	$90,164,209 11
1904	372	90,459,983 31
1905	390	99,629,048 29
1906	406	114,308,381 52
1907	429	124,323,751 84
1908	450	124,843,425 46
1909	473	140,155,455 87
1910	510	162,125,649 30
1911	573	186,003,546 94
1912	607	209,037,438 52
1913	642	230,073,789 52

The assets of building and loan associations, which are also under the supervision of this department, have grown from $3,819,768.55 in 1903 to over $10,000,000.00 in 1913, and the number of associations has increased from 53 in 1903 to 65 in 1913.

The foregoing figures demonstrate the large growth, both in numbers and in the volume of business, of institutions under the supervision of this department, entailing a corresponding increase of the work and the activities of the department. The work, both in field and in office, is incessant and strenuous the year round.

From 1903 to 1911 banks were examined not less than once in each year, and the department roster comprised the commissioner, deputy, three examiners, a chief clerk, and one clerk. In 1905 a building and loan examiner was added. From June 1, 1911, not less than two examinations of each bank in each year were made, the legislature having augmented, for that purpose, the departmental staff, which now consists of the commissioner, a deputy, seven bank examiners, one building and loan examiner, a chief clerk, and three clerks. In addition, an extra clerk has been employed under authority of the board constituted under section 169b of the statutes. Building and loan associations continue to be examined at least once a year.

The number of examinations made in one year has grown from 404 in 1903 to 1455 in 1913. Owing to the growth of banks, examinations that could be made in from six to eight hours ten years ago, now require two full days of work.

The intense character of supervision is best evidenced by the fact that since 1904 not a dollar has been lost to depositors in banks operating under state laws, nor has there been a failure of a building and loan association in fifteen years.

The cost of maintenance of the state banking department is largely borne by banks through annual examination fees, filing fees, and so forth.

In 1913 the total operating expense of the department amounted to $41,677.82. Of this amount $28,531.22 has been covered by the receipts from the above sources, and only $13,146.60 was paid from the general fund of the state.

During the eleven-year period, from January 1, 1903, to December 31, 1913, the disbursements of the state banking department for salaries, transportation, printing, postage, stationery, etc., amounted, in the aggregate, to $269,896.88. During the same period, the receipts from examination fees, filing fees, forfeitures, etc., were $140,810.12, the difference of $129,086.76 being paid out of the general fund of the state treasury, and showing that the average annual cost of maintaining this department during the eleven years was $11,735.16.

Number of Examinations made by the State Banking Department during the eleven-year period from January 1, 1903, to December 31, 1913.

Year.	No. of banks.	No. of building and loan associations.	No. of examinations.
1903	347	53	404
1904	372	55	460
1905	390	54	477
1906	406	54	496
1907	419	52	540
1908	450	50	614
1909	473	53	645
1910	510	60	660
1911	573	57	986
1912	607	61	1,398
1913	642	65	1,455
Total number of examinations			8,135

Note: Beginning with June, 1911, semi-annual examinations of banks have been made.

Under the general appropriation act of 1913, there were no changes made in the number of employes, and their compensation remained about the same.

The names and compensation of all employes of this department from January 1, 1913, to December 31, 1913, are as follows:
