REVIEW OF MAY—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

There were again quite a number of important developments, domestic and foreign, during the month of May. Perhaps the most important domestic event, judged by its far-reaching consequences and its many ramifications, economic, political and social, was the complete collapse in the market price of wheat, accompanied also by big declines in corn, oats and other grains. The May option for wheat in Chicago on May 27 sold below a dollar a bushel, for the first time in nearly 14 years. Nor did the decline stop at that figure. On May 31 the price tumbled to 93¼c., a subsequent upward reaction leaving the close on that day 94⅝c. This was a decline for the month of May alone of about 20c. a bushel, the May option on the first of May having sold at $1.14½. This new and further drop came after very extensive declines in previous months. As compared with the corresponding month in the previous year, the loss in price was between 50 and 60c. a bushel, wheat having suffered a severe break in that month of 1928, too, and for much the same reason as during the current year, namely favorable crop prospects both in the United States and Canada, but the start in May 1928 having been from $1.70¾ on May 2, and the price having then dropped to $1.41 on May 31. These remarkable price contrasts served to portray anew the unfortunate situation in which the Western farming community is finding itself at the present time, and this, too, at a time when Congress is engaged in considering measures of farm relief. The acuteness of the distress impressed upon Congressional leaders the necessity of hastening these proposed relief measures, though no settlement of the differences between the conferees of the two Houses of Congress was reached until after the close of the month.

The decline in the later options for wheat was quite as serious as that in the May option, indicating that in the view of the market the depression was not looked upon as being merely temporary and perhaps also indicating little faith in the probable success of legislative action in correcting the prevailing state of things. Thus the July option for wheat in Chicago sold down from $1.19⅝ May 1 to 96c. May 31, the September option from $1.23⅛ May 1 to $1.00¼ on May 31, and the December option from $1.27⅝ May 1 to $1.05 May 31, showing a pretty uniform decline of about 22c. a bushel during the month. The crop report of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, issued May 9, presented about as satisfactory an outlook for the growing Winter wheat in the United States as could well be wished. Winter killing of the growing plants covered an aggregate of only 2,758,000 acres. This was the smallest area which suffered Winter killing in any of the years back to 1920, with the exceptions of 1921 and 1926. In the previous season, Winter killing took a toll of 11,986,000 acres. The area remaining for harvest the present year was placed by the Department at 40,467,000 acres. This compares with 36,179,000 acres harvested in 1928 and is in excess of the area harvested in any year back to 1922. The May 1 condition was put at 83.6% of normal, as against 82.7% for April 1 and comparing with 74.9% on May 1 the previous year. Based on these figures the Department estimated the probable crop at 595,345,000 bushels, as against 578,964,000 bushels in 1928 and 552,384,000 bushels in 1927. At the same time, planting of the Spring wheat crop in the Northwest was proceeding under satisfactory conditions, though of course it is much too early to judge of the probabilities of that crop. In the United States the Spring wheat production is a far smaller crop than the Winter wheat production. In Canada, on the other hand, the production is almost entirely the result of Spring wheat planting. All this is important to bear in mind, as unfavorable meteorological conditions might seriously impair Spring wheat prospects in both the United States and the Dominion, modifying very greatly the state of depression and the course of market values between now and harvest time for Spring wheat areas.

In addition to the favorable prospects for the new crop, a long overhanging element existed in the large surplus remaining from the old crops. As one evidence of this, the visible supply of wheat on the North American continent alone, comprising the stocks in granary at principal points of accumulation at lake and seaboard ports in the United States and in Canada, aggregated at the beginning of May (May 4) 188,180,000 bushels against 128,449,000 bushels at the corresponding date in 1928 and 70,035,000 bushels at the same date in 1927. In an estimate of the Department of Agriculture for March 1 1929 the total of wheat on farms and in country mills and elevators together with the visible supply in the United States was put at 355,563,000 bushels, or the largest amount of wheat to be disposed of by the United States on any corresponding date since 1919. This compared with 284,280,000 bushels March 1 1928; 277,408,000 bushels March 1 1927, and 224,105,000 bushels on March 1 1926. Besides, the consuming countries of the world were getting increased amounts of wheat from Australia and Argentina as well as from North America. According to the compilations of the New York Produce Exchange the world's shipment of wheat for the period of eleven months from July 1 to May 31 from the North American continent were 495,113,000 bushels the current season against 438,945,000 bushels in the same period of the preceding season, but the shipments from Australia were 103,857,000 bushels against 67,639,000 bushels, and the shipments from Argentina 187,675,000 bushels against 155,969,000 bushels. From the Black Sea the shipments were only 7,600,000 bushels against 9,512,000 bushels, and from India 1,112,000 bushels against 8,848,000 bushels. But from other producing countries they were 41,164,000 bushels against 29,352,000 bushels. Altogether the world shipments from all producing countries have aggregated 831,521,000 bushels for the 11 months of the current season as against 710,265,000 bushels in the 11 months of the previous season, showing plainly that the trouble has not arisen from any lack of takings of wheat, but from superabundant supplies, which situation would quickly change should the new crop of Spring wheat in the United States and Canada suffer material damage. To be sure the outside world has been of late taking wheat much more freely from Canada than from the United States. As a matter of fact, the exports of wheat from the United States (including flour at its equivalent in wheat) for the 10 months from July 1 1928 to April 30 1929 were only 136,621,000 bushels as against 187,358,000 bushels in the corresponding period of the previous year.

The collapse in the wheat market during May also carried down, as already stated, prices of corn and oats in hardly less spectacular fashion. Thus the May option for corn in Chicago as against 90½c. May 1 sold down to 77⅞c. on May 31; the July option as against 94⅝c. May 1 sold at 79⅜c. May 31, and the September option as against 96½c. May 1 touched 80¾c. May 31. May oats sold down from 49⅞c. May 1 to 38¼c. May 31; July oats from 47⅛c. to 39¼c., and September oats from 45¼c. to 40⅛c.

The foregoing shows that the Western farmer has been hard hit all around, and the misfortune comes to him on the very eve of the marketing of the new Winter wheat crop. Relief is being planned for him from two directions. First, in a reduction of the transportation charges for carrying wheat from the interior of the country to the Eastern seaboard, and secondly, through Congressional action in the creation of a Federal Farm Board with a large revolving fund to aid in the more orderly distribution of the crop, so that the farmer may market his surplus gradually instead of flooding the country with the greater part of it soon after the crops are harvested. The steps for lowering transportation charges, it is well enough to note, were taken well in advance of the great price collapse in May, and they had no effect in preventing such collapse. In response to suggestions from President Hoover executives of the railroads in Eastern territory agreed on May 2 to put into effect reduced rates on grain for export, the lower tariffs to continue in force until the end of September. A statement on May 2 by Robert N. Collier, Chairman of the Tariff Executive Association, Eastern Territory, said that "the Eastern railroads have taken this action with the hope that the owners of the grain, the United States Shipping Board, and steamships serving United States ports, as well as other agencies involved in the handling of export grain, will co-operate and do their part toward relieving the serious condition that is confronting the farmers of the United States."

On the day of the issuance of Mr. Collyer's statement railroad Presidents met in Washington and newspaper accounts stated that the executives had assembled in conference at the request of the Administration and that the wheat surplus problem had been the subject of extended conferences among Government officials. It was pointed out that the heavy surplus awaiting shipment, with no adequate foreign market, had been caused, in part at least, by the big crop harvested and marketed by Canada and by increased overseas production. No formal statement was issued at the White House, but late in the day an announcement was made by the Department of Agriculture as representing the Department's position as follows:

"At a meeting of the presidents of Eastern railroads, held in Washington this morning, it was decided to put into effect a reduction of the freight rate on wheat for export.

"These reductions will approximate 2c. per bushel on wheat moving from Buffalo, 4c. from Chicago, and 5c. from St. Louis. The reductions will be temporary and will expire on Sept. 30 1929.

"These reductions were made in response to suggestions from President Hoover, in which Secretary Lamont and Secretary Hyde concurred. The reductions are hailed as a practical demonstration of co-operation between the administration and the railroads in aid of the farmer and the orderly marketing of the coming crop.

"Similar action is expected from Western railroads."

Among the railroad executives in conference were President Crowley of the New York Central, Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, Atterbury of the Pennsylvania, Dice of the Philadelphia & Reading and Loomis of the Lehigh Valley.

Following the foregoing action of the Eastern railroads, executives of the Western trunk lines, after a meeting at Chicago, May 7, announced that, subject to the approval of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, temporary reductions in rates on wheat and flour would also be made in their territory on shipments of wheat and flour destined for export. The cuts ranged from 5½c. to 11½c. per 100 lbs., the latter amount being confined to shipments from the Missouri Valley to the Gulf. The Eastern executives in their original action did not include flour exports along with wheat exports in the lower freight schedules, but following a conference in New York on May 9 at the Pennsylvania RR. Station a proportionate cut was made in the rate on flour inasmuch as both the Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Department of Agriculture were of the opinion that this should be done. Associated Press advices from Washington May 11 stated that the Inter-State Commerce Commission had on that day sanctioned the reductions thus voluntarily made by both Eastern and Western railroads. The carriers in their formal petitions to the Commission requested permission to make the lower rates effective on one day's notice, thus waiving the usual requirement of 30 days' advance notice of a change in rate schedules. It was also announced on May 11 that the Government barge lines on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers would cut water rates on the same products to conform with the new rail schedule.

The Canadian roads were quick to see to it that Dominion wheat raisers should receive similar advantage. Canadian Press advices from Ottawa May 13 stated that the Canadian railways had filed lower schedules of rates on grain carried for export between Georgian Bay ports and Montreal or Quebec, the lower rates being made effective May 13. In face of all this, wheat prices further sharply declined—the May option for wheat at Chicago even on May 15 having still sold as high as $1.06⅝, while on May 31, as already stated, the price touched 93¼c. Thus the farmers were deprived of any advantage from the lower rates and the carriers unfortunately lost a corresponding amount.

With reference to the progress of farm relief measures in Congress, the U. S. Senate on May 14, by a vote of 54 to 33, passed its own Farm Relief Bill, containing the export debenture plan to which President Hoover so strenuously objected and which was absent from the House Bill passed on April 25, as noted in our review for the month of April. Immediately after the Senate had passed its bill, Senator McNary, as Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, obtained consent to have a Conference Committee appointed to meet with a similar committee from the House. As the Senate directed its representatives to insist on the Senate amendments, the conferees of the two Houses had a hard time of it. All the different conferences were without result, and on May 25, after a 30-minute meeting, the House conferees on the bill walked out of the meeting and announced that they saw no reason for further conferences until the Senate was ready to recede from its position in support of the export debenture feature. However, resumption of consideration of the bill by the conferees occurred on May 31, in view of the acute situation created by the further big drop in the price of wheat, and on June 5, by a vote of 8 to 2, they agreed to eliminate the debenture provision and the next day they made their report to that effect. The Tariff Revision Bill, another measure for the enactment of which the extra session of Congress was called, passed the House of Representatives at Washington on May 28, by a vote of 264 to 147, after the Committee on Ways and Means had made quite a number of changes still further increasing duties on various articles and commodities. From the House the measure went immediately to the Senate, where it was known it would undergo drastic changes and receive lengthy consideration.

Among the foreign events of the month of considerable moment and of large consequence were the British Parliamentary elections and the successful conclusion of the labors of the Committee of Experts sitting in Paris for the purpose of evolving a plan for the settlement on a new basis of the matter of German reparations payments with the numerous issues therein involved. The British elections occurred on May 30 and resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the Conservative party, which had held control of the House of Commons under the Premiership of Stanley Baldwin for the five years from 1924 to 1929. It also resulted in a great triumph of the Labor Party under the leadership of J. Ramsay MacDonald. When the old Parliament was dissolved on May 10, the Conservatives had 400 representatives, the Labor Party 162, the Liberals under David Lloyd George 46, and independent groups 7, making a total of 615. In the new Parliament the Labor Party will have a total membership of 288, the Conservatives 258, the Liberals 58, and other parties 7, with 4 missing. The Labor Party thus has a plurality of 30 over the Conservatives, but falls short of having an absolute majority, so that Lloyd George will hold the balance of power. King George asked J. Ramsay MacDonald to form a new Government, which mission he accepted on June 5.

The United States has more than an academic interest in the new Government, as President Hoover is very anxious to bring about an immediate reduction of naval armaments among the leading countries of the world, and it is believed that Mr. MacDonald will be more responsive to such efforts than Premier Baldwin would have been.

The reaching of an agreement by the Committee of Experts on German reparations payments marks a great achievement, credit for which belongs very largely to the American delegates, headed by Owen D. Young, and who comprised, along with Mr. Young (who was at the start named Chairman of the Committee), J. P. Morgan, with Thomas W. Lamont, of the Morgan firm, and Thomas Nelson Perkins as the alternates. Mr. Young appeared to be possessed of infinite patience and was untiring in his efforts to bring about an agreement. The plan as adopted was in its main essentials his own draft, after the experts had about abandoned all hope of ever reaching an agreement, owing to the fact that the Allies and Germany were so wide apart as to the ultimate sum that Germany could and should pay. Even after Mr. Young had submitted his proposals and both Germany and the Allies had accepted them in principle, new difficulties kept constantly cropping up, the main obstacles being the numerous conditions which the German delegates, headed by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, had attached to their acceptance. But through concessions by both sides all the conditions had by the end of May been disposed of to mutual satisfaction, and the only point that remained for adjustment was Belgium's insistence that her claim for reimbursement for worthless German paper marks left in Belgium after the invasion be funded before the conference adjourned. The Belgian delegates at first made their signature of the report dependent upon compliance with this request. The two countries finally agreed to adjust the matter between themselves.

As to the terms of the reparations settlement, it is pointed out by the Associated Press in a Paris cablegram dated June 1 that the present value of the amount Germany agrees to pay to her reparations creditors under the Young plan will be roughly $9,000,000,000, and that this represents a decrease of $116,000,000,000 from the original claims filed by all the creditors with the Versailles Peace Conference of 1919, which was $125,000,000,000. The Peace Conference at that time was unable to come to any agreement concerning these huge figures. The Allies began to study the question more closely, and in 1920 arrived at a total of $67,000,000,000 at the Boulogne Conference, which was reduced later the same year at the Spa Conference to $65,000,000,000 after the Germans had announced that they were unable to pay such an amount, and had offered $7,500,000,000. The Reparations Commission in 1921 fixed the total at $33,000,000,000, at which the German Reparation debt figures remained theoretically after adoption of the Dawes Plan.

There was no change during May in the general trade situation. All the key industries showed an undiminished scale of activitiy. This is particularly true of the automotive industry and the iron and steel trades fed by the same, which have so long been showing an unsurpassed state of activity. For the month of April the production of motor vehicles in the United States, as reported to the Department of Commerce, was 620,256, or the heaviest on record for any month in the automobile trade. In April 1928 the output was only 410,104. This showed an increase of over 50%. For the four months since January 1 an expansion of over 50% also appears, the make of vehicles in the four months of 1929 having been 2,072,941, against only 1,378,942 in the four months of 1928. In the case of the steel trade comment was to the effect that if the rate of steel production had decreased it was only because of the influence of hot weather and the playing out of open hearth furnaces, after four months of exceptionally hard driving. The "Iron Age" in its issue for May 29 remarked that notwithstanding that steel requirements of the auto-motive industry continued to taper, there were no evidences of a general decline in demand, large new demands having arisen in other quarters. Shipments of steel continued at a high rate, it was stated, and ingot production for May would show little if any reduction from that of March or April, completing the third month of virtually capacity operations. The ingot output of the U. S. Steel Corporation subsidiaries the previous week, it was stated, had been nearly 500,000 tons, and had thereby set a new six-day record. This production, it was noted, was at the unprecedented rate of 25,000,000 tons a year, or 800,000 tons in excess of theoretical capacity. The report went on to say: "With open hearth furnaces heavily taxed, some producers have asked customers who had specified the Siemens-Martin product to accept Bessemer steel instead. Certain it is that all available equipment is being used to turn out steel and undoubtedly the wear and tear on open hearth plants has caused all available converters to be rushed into service. Meanwhile mill backlogs are surprisingly well maintained despite the high rate of shipments during the month. At Pittsburgh mill commitments on bars, plates, shapes and sheets will show very little contraction as compared with the end of April and will sustain a high rate of operations until July 1. Construction work shows no decline and may take more, rather than less, steel in the immediate future. A branch of construction activity that is steadily gaining in importance is highway building. Road machinery manufacturers are consuming steel at the limit of their plant capacity." On the other hand, pig iron buyers continued to delay contracting for the third quarter of the year. The "Iron Age" made the composite price of finished steel May 28 at 2.412c. a lb., the same as a month previously, and the composite price of pig iron $18.71 as against $18.58 a month before.

In the case of the non-ferrous metals, copper and lead prices showed notable stability after the sharp decline in April. Lake copper remained unchanged all through the month at 18⅛c., as did electrolytic copper at 17¾c. The price of lead at New York did not deviate from 7c. a lb. Tin at New York, after some recovery the early part of the month, again tended downward the latter part. As against 43⅞c. on May 1 the price May 10 was 44⅝c., from which figure, however, there was a decline to 43⅜c. May 28, with the price May 31 also 43⅜c. In the petroleum trade there was no abatement of the efforts to bring about curtailment of production, though tested by the weekly figures of production no great measure of success was apparent. In the week ending May 11 the daily production of crude oil averaged 2,624,750 barrels; from this there was an increase to 2,643,550 barrels per day in the next week, to 2,690,350 barrels per day in the following week, and to 2,711,650 barrels in the week ending the 1st of June. The California output especially kept steadily rising, and on May 28 advices came from Los Angeles saying that Umpire F. C. Van Deinse had issued a general order, effective June 1, involving curtailment of 199,394 barrels daily crude oil production in California. On May 22 it was made known at the White House in Washington that President Hoover had extended an invitation to the Governors of the oil-producing States in the West and Southwest to participate in a preliminary conference, at Colorado Springs, Colo., on June 10, to consider the possibility of framing an Inter-State compact to co-operate with the Federal Government in furtherance of its aim to ensure the conservation of petroleum. Oil interests were likewise asked to send representatives to the conference. On May 27 a further announcement by the Department of the Interior said that the Federal Oil Conservation Board had received acceptances to attend from seven Governors, those of New Mexico, Kansas, Wyoming, California, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Secretary Wilbur on May 28 sent a telegram to Mark L. Requa in California asking him to be present at and to preside as Chairman of the oil conference. In view of all this, it is not surprising that prices of petroleum and its products in different parts of the country continued to strengthen.

In the textile trades the cold weather and the backwardness of the Spring continued to be a drawback, though partial relief came with the sudden advent of a heat wave in the closing days of the month. The cotton goods trade was perhaps in least satisfactory shape, the reason for this being largely overproduction in certain lines of goods. However, the Tariff Bill also injected an element of uncertainty, as likewise did the condition of the money market, while the decline in grain prices came in as a further drawback as far as the future was concerned, since it seemed likely to curtail the consuming capacity of a large part of the farming population. That cotton consumption was being maintained at a high capacity and leading to overproduction in certain lines appeared from the Census cotton consumtion figures for the month of April. These showed 631,710 bales of lint and 79,008 bales of linters consumed in the United States in April 1929, as compared with only 524,765 bales of lint and 59,930 bales of linters in April 1928. The statistical reports of production, sales and shipments of standard cotton cloth for the month of April and the first four months of the year, made public by the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, showed that shipments during April were 277,098,000 yards, or the equivalent of 97.6% of production, which was 283,878,000 yards. Sales in April, however, amounted to only 202,520,000 yards, or 71.3% of production. Stocks on hand at the end of the month amounted to 352,091,000 yards, an increase of 2.0% as compared with stocks at the beginning of the month. Unfilled orders on April 30 amounted to 430,298,000 yards, or 14.8% less than they were on April 1st. For the four months of the year to April 30 the comparisons were much more favorable. The shipments during this period reached 1,257,203,000 yards. This was equivalent to 103.3% of production, which was 1,217,551,000 yards. Sales during the same period were 1,218,640,000 yards, or 100.1% of production. During the four months stocks decreased 10.1% and unfilled orders decreased 8.2%.

Weather conditions for the planting of the new cotton crop were on the whole fairly favorable, though there was too much rain in many sections. At the same time there were strong indications of an increase in the acreage to be planted. The result was a sharp decline in the price of cotton the latter part of the month. Up to May 23 the price of middling upland spot cotton in New York fluctuated between 19.55 and 19.90c., but thereafter there came a steady decline which carried the price down to 18.50c. May 31. Print cloths at Fall River for 28-in. 64x60 were reduced on May 2 from 5⅝c. a yard to 5½c., and on May 28 were further reduced to 5¼c. Many of the strikes at the Southern mills were terminated during the month. Among these may be mentioned the strike of the 1,250 operatives of the Brandon Mill, largest unit of the Brandon Corporation, at Greenville, S. C., which was initiated by a walkout on March 27 in protest against the stretch-out system. This ended in the afternoon of May 20 when all the operatives returned to work in conformity to an agreement reached between mill officials and operatives. On May 27 mill hands resumed work at the rayon plants at Elizabethton, Tennessee, after a 50-day strike. About 5,500 persons were involved in this strike. The silk market was quiet and the price of raw silks moved lower again. Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted at $4.75@$4.80 May 31 against $5.15@$5.20 April 30; $5@$5.05 March 31, and $5.10@$5.15 February 28. In the 20-22 deniers Japanese crack double extra were $4.75@$4.80 May 31 against $5.15@$5.20 April 30; $5@$5.05 March 31, and $5.15@$5.20 on February 28. Crude rubber enjoyed an upward reaction after the sharp decline the previous month, with sharp fluctuations from day to day, and ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery were quoted in the New York market on May 31 at 21⅛c. bid and 21⅜c. asked, against 19⅝c. bid and 19¾c. asked on April 30; 22⅞c. bid and 23⅛c. asked on March 30; 26¼@26½c. THE STOCK MARKET DURING MAY 1929.

Great depression prevailed upon the Stock Exchange during May. The drift of prices may be said to have been steadily downward except during the first few days of the month. The last half of the month the downward movement assumed large dimensions, and the declines became violent in the extreme, the market having repeated sinking spells during which prices broke badly. All through the month new low records for the year were established over and over again, and the cumulative effect of all this was to pile up losses of great magnitude and such as are never experienced except during periods of general collapse in prices. The tension in the money market was the underlying depressing agency and during the first half of the month call loan rates on the Stock Exchange did mount to high figures, rates of 10 and 11% being encountered at the beginning of the month and as high as 14% having to be paid May 6, 7, 8 and 9, and after a slight relaxation a rate of 15% having been encountered on May 15, and even the renewal charge on May 16 having been as high as 14%. And yet the most violent break occurred during the last 10 days of the month, when the call loan rate was held absolutely stable at 6%, this having been the single and uniform rate for call loan accommodation on the Stock Exchange beginning with May 23 and continuing right up to the close of the month—during which time, also, call loans were obtainable outside the Stock Exchange most of the time at 5½%.

The reason why this easing of the call loan situation the latter part of the month was not reflected in the stock market was that a higher Federal Reserve rediscount rate hung as a threat over the market all the while. No advance in the rediscount rate actually occurred, but the fact became well established that both the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago had made repeated but unsuccessful applications for permission to raise their rate from 5% to 6%, and on May 21 the Federal Advisory Council, then in session in Washington, recommended to the Federal Reserve Board that these applications be granted—but with the same lack of success. Liquidation on a large scale was encountered throughout the month. Some of this was voluntary, due to tired holders selling out in order to avoid further losses, and much of it was forced, the result of exhausted margins or unwillingness of brokers to carry the accounts any longer, both because of the uninterrupted downward course of the market and because of the difficulty of obtaining renewals at the Stock Exchange. In view of the attitude of the Reserve authorities the banks were disinclined to extend their borrowings at the Federal Reserve institutions; indeed, to meet the wishes of the Reserve authorities they may be said to have indulged in strong efforts to curtail loaning on the Stock Exchange so as not to be obliged to apply to the Reserve institutions for additional accommodation. The effect altogether was to induce very extensive selling; and of course operators for a decline added to the selling pressure, which at times became so overwhelming as to be almost irresistible. The tale of what happened is told when the statement is made that brokers' loans for the week ending May 29 showed a contraction of no less than $232,000,000, and, according to our own compilations, no less than 547 stocks touched the lowest figures of the year at one time or another during the month. Trading established a new high record for the month of May, but not a new high record for any month. The transactions aggregated 91,283,550 shares, which compares with 82,398,724 shares in May 1928; 46,597,830 shares in May, 1927, and 23,341,144 shares in May 1926. The high record for all months was reached in November 1928, when the dealings footed up 115,360,075 shares. On the New York Curb Market the sales during May were 35,954,099 shares, which compares with 24,931,700 shares in the previous month, and with 24,346,931 shares in May 1928.

There was only one event of large moment which served to arrest the downward movement of prices, and even this caused merely a temporary interruption, its influence, as far as the general course of the market was concerned, extending over hardly more than an hour. We refer to the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the St. Louis & O'Fallon Ry. rate case, upholding the contention of the railroads that the Inter-State Commerce Commission in fixing the valuation of railroad properties must give due weight to present reproduction costs of the structural properties of the carriers and declaring that the Commission violated the plain mandate of the law when it failed to take this factor into consideration, but insisted, instead, in using the low production costs of 1914. This was a test case, and it had long been recognized that the decision, when it came, would have a wide bearing and be far-reaching in its consequences. The point decided was of importance, not because it afforded assurance of higher transportation rates to the carrier—that appearing to be out of the question, because of economic considerations—but because under the Transportation Act of 1920 the carriers are obliged to turn over to the Commerce Commission one-half of any excess of earnings over 6% on the capital invested in the carrying business, and in the determination of such investment the valuation put upon the properties is of course the primary factor. As a result of the decision many roads which on the low basis of valuation adopted by the Commission would have had excess earnings to turn over, will now have none. The aggregate amounts affected in the case of several of the roads, particularly some of those in the Southwest, were very large, as the excess earnings of the whole of the period from 1921 to 1928 inclusive are involved. The decision came on Monday, May 20, and was recorded on the news tickers about two o'clock in the afternoon. The railroad list made immediate response, and for a short time prices of the railroad shares most immediately concerned mounted up with great rapidity, some of the advances reaching $15 to $20 a share, but these extreme advances were not maintained and the downward sweep of the general market was only momentarily arrested. The next day, indeed, the decline was resumed, and at an accelerating pace, and its progress was not checked in any appreciable degree to the end of the month, though all this time, as already stated, call money on the Stock Exchange ruled at the unchanged figure of 6%. The effect of the decision, however, was to put the railroad share list in a class by itself, these stocks holding up while the general market continued to go lower—not only that, but on subsequent days of the month not a few of these railroad stocks moved independently upward, in a sensational way, too, in several instances, to new high records for the year.

It will be recalled that in April, after more or less weakness most of the month, the market regained tone in the closing days, the recovery being particularly marked on Tuesday, April 30, when the whole share list enjoyed an upward spurt. On Wednesday, May 1, on the other hand, extensive realizing occurred, causing reaction in a part of the list, though the tone remained very confident. Call money ruled at 10@11%. The excellent showing of income made by the U. S. Steel Corporation in its statement for the March quarter, given out the previous evening, had a stimulating effect on all the different steel stocks. On Thursday, May 2, the course of prices was somewhat irregular, but for the great majority of stocks the tendency was still upward and on Friday, May 3, the rise was carried even further, though call money on the Stock Exchange continued to command 10@11%. The further increase in brokers' loans revealed in the Federal Reserve weekly statement, issued the previous evening, appeard to exert no adverse influence, and as a matter of fact its effect was in part offset by the decrease shown in the Stock Exchange statement for the even month. The market now began to sag, though at first in only a slow kind of way. Call loans on the Stock Exchange on Monday, May 6, after renewing at 10%, quickly advanced to 14%, and this high rate of 14% ruled all through Tuesday and Wednesday, and was also the renewal charge on Thursday, May 9, on which latter day, however, quite large outside supplies of funds appeared under the effect of which the call loan rate dropped to 10%. This drop led to a decided rally, but only a rally, in stock prices on that day, and the rally continued on Friday, May 10, when after the renewal rate had been fixed at 10% there was a decline to 6%. The relatively small increase shown in the brokers' loan statement, issued the evening before, also served as a strengthening influence. Altogether the market on that day may be said to have staged a very extensive recovery.

The rest of the month, however, depression was almost continuously in evidence. On Monday, May 13, the market broke badly and there seemed to be no special reason for this particular break, as call loans ruled at 7% through the whole of that day. But the market appeared to be without support and various false rumors gained currency. One of the rumors, and the one perhaps which was the most effective in bringing declines, was that Secretary Mellon either had resigned or contemplated early resignation. Another report was that President Hoover was about to take a stand publicly in support of the action of the Federal Reserve Board in its efforts to prevent the undue absorption of bank credit in the stock market. The third report was to the effect that the Federal Reserve Board was engaged in preparing another statement on the credit situation—all of which was without basis of fact, but effective for the time being in working havoc with stock prices. The leading speculative specialties tumbled all the way from 2 to 10 points, and Case Threshing Machine dropped 28 points and Granby Consolidated Copper 11¼ points. The market regained tone in the morning of the next day, but met with somewhat of a setback again in the afternoon when the rate for call loans on the Stock Exchange advanced to 10%. On Wednesday, May 15, the call loan rate rose to 15%, and on Thursday, May 16, even 14% was charged for renewals. Somewhat of an upward reaction occurred when the call loan rate later on that day dropped to 8%. On Friday, May 17, there was further quite general recovery, but with a downward reaction again in the closing hour on the news that both the Chicago and the New York Reserve Banks had applied for permission to raise their rates.

The general trend of prices thereafter was strongly downward, relieved only in the last hour on Monday, May 20, by the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the O'Fallon rate case, already referred to. The decision had long been looked for Monday after Monday (Monday being the day when the Court hands down its decisions), but in the end it came unexpectedly. It happened to be, too, far more favorable to the views of the carriers than anyone had supposed would be the case. Accordingly, when announcement of the decision appeared on the ticker tape at about two o'clock in the afternoon the effect was, as already stated, to cause a sensational upward spurt in the stocks of the railroads, advances of 15 to 20 points being recorded, while the downward turn in the rest of the list was for the moment halted. The sensational advances in the railroad list were not, however, maintained, or at least not to their full extent, and by the close of the last hour the railroad list suffered a relapse almost as marked as the previous rise, and the general list resumed its downward course.

On Tuesday, May 21, selling pressure was renewed and the bears assaulted the market with great persistency. Late in the afternoon on that day news was received that the Federal Advisory Council had been in session and had recommended to the Federal Reserve Board that it approve applications for permission to raise rediscount rates from 5% to 6% where they might be made by the Reserve institutions. The effect of this news was to cause an exceedingly violent break in prices on Wednesday, May 22, over 300 stock issues recording new low figures for the year. The next day brisk recovery from this tremendous slump occurred when it appeared that the Reserve Board was not inclined to yield compliance with the Council's recommendation. On Friday, May 24, however, the market became unsettled and the course of prices once more irregular. The following Monday, May 27, the market suffered a new sinking spell of great severity and at times appeared on the verge of utter collapse. There seemed to be no other basis for this than a fear that the Federal Reserve rediscount rate might at length be permitted to move up from 5% to 6%. The losses for the day ran all the way from 2 to 17 points, the concurrent drop in the grain market serving to accentuate the weakness. The New York "Times" reported a decline in the averages of 25 industrial stocks of $12.79 which it said was the largest decline on record. In the collapse on May 22 the break in these 25 industrial stocks averaged $12.60. The averages of 25 rail stocks showed a decline of only $2.60 on May 27 as compared with $3.63 on May 22. The combined averages based on 50 stocks showed a net loss of $7.70 compared with $8.12 on May 22. The high priced stocks suffered the biggest losses, Case Threshing Machine showing a net decline of 25 points, General Electric of 13¼ points, Baldwin Locomotive of 10 points, United Aircraft of 15½ points, Johns-Manville of 13 points, Otis Elevator of 17 points, and so on through the list, even the railroads stocks forming no exception to the rule, Atchison dropping 4⅞ points. On May 28 the market recovered tone, under the leadership of the railroad list, Atchison showing a rise for the day of no less than 13½ points. The combined averages of the New York "Times," based on 50 representative issues, made a net gain of $2.38 against the previous day's decline of $7.70. The 25 industrial stocks were up $2.30 as compared with the decline of $12.79 the day before. The 25 railroad stocks made a net gain of $2.45 against the previous day's decline of $2.60. In the morning of May 28 great weakness was still in evidence and many new low records for the year were established, but in the afternoon the market rallied all around, bringing the reaction already noted. On May 29 there was further and quite general recovery, with the railroad list again taking the lead, the "Times" average for industrial stocks declining $2.52, while the railroad averages rose $1.80 and the two together falling $0.36. May 30 was Decoration Day, and a holiday. On May 31 the market took another tumble, during which prices were carried still lower—mainly because of the further decline in the grain markets—but a tardy recovery occurred later in the day under the leadership of the railroad stocks. On account of the Memorial Day holiday, the Federal Reserve weekly statements due on that day (it being Thursday) and showing a further decrease in brokers' loans of $232,000,000, did not appear until after the close of the market on Friday, May 31, and therefore could exercise no influence on the course of values. The New York "Times'" averages for 50 stocks shows that the prices of these declined from $254.01 May 3 to $230.42 May 31, a drop of $23.59.

As indicating some of the wide fluctuations for the month, General Motors sold down from 86 May 1 to 68⅝

May 31; American Tel. & Tel. from 232⅝ May 1 to 205⅛ May 27, with the close May 31 at 206½; International Tel. & Tel. (new stock) from 94⅜ May 7 to 78 May 27, with the close May 31 at 81⅛. Warner Bros. Pictures, after rising from 127⅝ May 1 to 133⅝ May 17, was down to 106¼ May 31, though closing on that day at 110½. Commercial Solvents B, after moving up from 361 May 1 to 370 May 11, tumbled to 322½ May 27, with the close May 31 at 328½. National Cash Register fell from 130 May 3 to 103¾ May 28, with the close May 31 at 107⅜. Kroger Grocery & Baking dropped from 97 May 2 to 75½ May 27, with the close May 31 at 79⅞. Greene-Cananea Copper, after an advance from 165⅜ May 1 to 168½ May 3, got down to 136⅛ May 28, with the close May 31 at 139. Anaconda Copper (new) dropped from 121½ May 1 to 99 May 20, recovering to 102⅞ at the close May 31. Kennecott Copper declined from 96⅞ May 3 to 77⅝ May 27, with the close May 31 at 81¾. Abraham & Straus, after moving up from 118 May 1 to 120 May 14, sold down to 101 May 28, with the close May 31 at 100¼ bid, 105 asked. Montgomery Ward & Co., after rising from 130 May 1 to 132⅞ May 3, reached a low of 99 May 31, with the close the same day at 102⅛. Sears, Roebuck & Co. advanced from 161⅞ May 1 to 170½ May 6, and then dropped to 141¼ May 31, with the close at 144.

National Biscuit dropped from 188⅞ May 3 to 166½ May 28, with the close May 31 at 169. Briggs Manufacturing sold down from 50 May 1 to 30 May 31. Johns-Manville rose from 184¼ May 1 to 194 May 3, and then got as low as 152½ May 31, with the close on the latter day at 162. United States Steel fell from 183⅞ May 1 to 162½ May 31, with the close at 166. Bethlehem Steel fared just as badly, falling from 114½ May 1 to 93 May 31, with the close at 96¼. Houston Oil of Texas, after rising from 97¾ May 1 to 100 May 3, tumbled to 70½ May 31, with the close at 75. Marland Oil fell from 41¼ May 3 to 33⅛ May 31. Pan-American Class B dropped from 66¾ May 6 to 56½ May 31, with the close at 58½. Chrysler Corp. tumbled from 95⅜ May 1 to 66 May 21, with the close at 68¾. Nash Motors sold down from 99¾ May 6 to 81½ May 31, with the close at 83⅛. Hupp Motor fell from 57⅜ May 1 to 39½ May 31. Goodyear Tire & Rubber, after jumping from 129⅝ May 1 to 140⅜ May 15, was down to 112¼ May 29, with the close May 31 at 115. And these illustrations might be extended almost indefinitely. They all go to show how large and widespread the collapse in the market was.

There were, of course, some exceptions to the rule of share properties which either did not break with the rest of the market or else actually moved higher at a time when the general trend was strongly downward. From what has been said above it will be readily understood that the railroads come within this category, the O'Fallon rate case having acted as a strong stimulating agency. Atchison stock benefited beyond all others and, after having declined from 200⅛ May 1 to 197 May 20, jumped to 224½ May 31, establishing, of course, a new high record for the year. Among other railroad stocks that reached top figures for the year may be mentioned N. Y., N. H. & H., Missouri Pacific, Norfolk & Western (this latter advancing from 195¼ May 16 to 213 May 29), and St. Louis-San Francisco. The last mentioned stock, as it happened, touched both its high and its low extremes for the year on May 20, the day of the U. S. Supreme Court decision. After the stock had sold down to 109½ the decision caused a spurt in the afternoon to 125, though this extreme advance did not hold and the stock closed on the same day at 115, and May 31 closed at 115. While the railroad list as a whole, however, sharply improved after the O'Fallon decision, not all railroad stocks by any means closed higher on May 31 than their opening price on May 1. Baltimore & Ohio, for instance, after touching 122 May 20, sold down to 115⅛ May 27 and closed May 31 at 119½, against the opening price of 121⅞ May 1. Rock Island, after touching 128 May 20, declined to 115 May 27 and closed May 31 at 121½, against 123½ the opening on May 1. On the other hand, many standard issues (aside from those already mentioned) enjoyed spectacular advances even though they did not reach new high figures for the year. New York Central is one stock in point. It opened on May 1 at 186¾, sold down to 179¼ May 9, and then jumped to 196 May 31. Some of the public utilities also distinguished themselves by spectacular advances in strong contrast with the collapse in the rest of the market. North American is conspicuous in this respect, selling up from 107 May 2 to 121½ May 31. American Water Works & Electric is another instance. This stock, after declining from 89¾ May 1 to 83 May 13, mounted to 118½ May 31, with the close on the latter day at 115. Columbia Gas & Electric stands out in the same way, having risen from 65 May 3 to 79½ May 24, with the close May 31 at 75¾. Public Service Corp. of N. J. and several other utilities also have large advances to their credit for the month.

As it happens, the bond market was also weak, and in the general downward movement the recovery established in April was lost, in many cases more than lost, not a few bond issues touching the lowest figures in over three years. U. S. Government obligations did not escape but shared in the general decline.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING MAY 1929.

There was no pronounced change in the credit situation during the month of May, as far as it was possible to judge from current indications, and the money market reflected that fact during the first two weeks in the display of renewed tension. But the last half of the month, under the influence of heavy liquidation on the Stock Exchange, with consequent large reduction in brokers' loans, there was some relaxation of the money strain, attended by a decline in the rates for call loans and a lowering also of the rates for time loans on security collateral. On Tuesday, April 30, the renewal charge, it may be recalled, had been fixed at 14% following the previous day's spurt to 15% on new loans but before the close of the day there had been a drop to 10% in the rate for new loans. On Wednesday, May 1, the renewal charge was fixed at 11%, but new loans were negotiated before the end of the day at 10%. On May 2, all loans were at 10%, including renewals. On Friday, May 3, the renewal charge was again 10%, but as the day advanced the rate for new loans rose to 11%. The following Monday, May 6, with the renewal figure left unchanged at 10%, there was a spurt in the rate for new loans to 14%, and on Tuesday, May 7, and Wednesday, May 8, all loans were at 14%, including renewals. The renewal charge on May 9 was also at 14%, but on new loans there was a drop to 10% before the close of that day. On Friday, May 10, the renewal charge was lowered to 10%, while in the afternoon new loans were put through at as low as 6%. The following Monday, May 13, all loans were at 7%, including renewals, and the renewal charge was again 7% on May 14, but the rate for new loans advanced to 10%. On May 15 renewals also were at 10%, while for new loans as high as 15% had to be paid. The mid-month demand for accommodation was held responsible for this new upward spurt. On May 16 the renewal rate was marked up to 14%, but with preparations completed for the May 15 payments the rate on new loans dropped in the afternoon to 8%. On May 17, after the renewal rate had been lowered to 8%, new loans were put through at as low as 6%.

This marked the end of the tension for the month. The following Monday, May 20, and also on Tuesday, May 21, all loans were at 7%, including renewals. On May 22 the renewal charge remained at 7%, but on new loans there was a drop to 6%. Thereafter there was no change from 6%, that having been the only rate quoted for renewals and for new loans alike for each and every day until the close of the month. Outside the Stock Exchange the call loan rate during this period was much of the time only 5½%. This relaxation in the monetary tension was the more noteworthy as during the whole of this time the community was kept in fear of an early advance in the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Banks from 5% to 6%, the stock market tumbling badly as a result of apprehensions on that score, besides which late in the afternoon of May 21 there came news that the Federal Advisory Council had been in session and had recommended to the Federal Reserve Board that it refrain from further refusing permission to such of the Reserve Banks as had petitioned to be allowed to raise their rates to the figure named. It was by this time well established that both the New York and the Chicago Reserve Banks had not only put in such requests, but were renewing them with great persistency. The Reserve Board paid no heed to this recommendation of the Advisory Council, but rumors persisted that the rate would be advanced. The last few days of the month there was much talk both in Stock Exchange circles and in the money market of the possibility of another severe pinch in money rates, incidental to the preparations for the large 1st of June payments, in repetition of the experience of other recent months, but nothing of the kind occurred. Instead, the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange was maintained at the comparatively low figure of 6%. In the meantime, however, these rumors, along with fears of an advance in the Federal Reserve rediscount rates, did effective duty in completely demoralizing the stock market, with the effect of forcing great liquidation in speculative holdings on the Stock Exchange. This liquidation in turn led to a sharp shrinkage in brokers' loans and the statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for the week ending May 29 showed a decrease in the total of those loans of $232,000,000. This followed a decrease of $45,000,000 in the preceding week, making a contraction for the two weeks combined of $277,000,000.

Some easing, too, in the time loan rates on security collateral occurred the last few days in May, though not until after renewed tension in the early days of the month. On Wednesday, May 1, quotations were 8¾% for 30 days, 8½% for 60 and 90 days and 8¼% for 4, 5, and 6 months, these quotations being fractionally lower than those for the closing day of April. These rates ruled until Monday, May 6, when there was a further reduction to 8¼@8½% for 30, 60 and 90 days and for 4 months, and to 8@8¼% for 5 and 6 months. After that, however, time loan rates again stiffened. On May 7 the quotations were 8¾@9% for 30 days, 8½@8¾% for 60 and 90 days, and 8¼@8½ for 4, 5 and 6 months. On May 8 there was a further advance to 9% for 30 and 60 days, to 8¾@9% for 90 days, and to 8½% for 4, 5 and 6 months. On May 9 quotations were 9% for 30, 60 and 90 days, and 8¾% for 4, 5 and 6 months. On Friday, May 10, the rate was 8½@9% for all dates from 30 days to 6 months. The following Monday rates were 9% for 30, 60 and 90 days, and 8¾% for 4, 5 and 6 months. These latter quotations remained unchanged day after day until Tuesday, May 21, when the rate for 30 days was advanced to 9¼%, the rate for 60 and 90 days remaining at 9% and the rate for 4, 5 and 6 months at 8¾%. On May 22 the rate for 30 days moved up still further to 9½%, and the rate for 60 days to 9¼%, there being otherwise no change. On May 23 and May 24 quotations were 9½% for 30 and 60 days, 9¼% for 90 days, and 9% for 4, 5 and 6 months.

This marked the end of the period of advancing rates. The following Monday, May 27, the quotations were 9% for 30, 60 and 90 days, and 8¾% for 4, 5 and 6 months. On May 28 rates were 8¾@9% for 30 days, 9@9¼% for 60 days, and 8¾@9% for 90 days to 6 months. On May 29 there was a further lowering to 8½@8¾% for 30 days, to 8¾@9% for 60 days, and to 8½@8¾% for 90 days to 6 months. After the Memorial Day holiday, on May 30, rates on Friday, May 31, dropped to 8¼% for 30 days, to 8½% for 60 and 90 days, and to 8¼% for 4, 5 and 6 months. It remains to be said that all through the month transactions in time loans were quite limited, there being little inclination to loan out money for fixed periods, when more profitable employment for funds could be found in loaning at the much higher rates obtainable in the call loan branch of the market. This disposition naturally was modified somewhat the latter part of the month, when the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange was held down to the unchanged figure of 6%, day after day, though on the other hand lenders were by no means convinced of the permanence of the lower figure for call loans. The market for commercial paper continued dull in May with nothing doing until the extreme close of the month, when there was a slight improvement in the volume of business done on one or two days, but not enough to relieve the paper market of its intense dullness. Rates May 31 for names of choice character maturing in 4 to 6 months were unchanged at 6%, while names less well-known commanded 6¼%. As previously, these quotations were largely nominal.

The market for banks and bankers' acceptances during May was quite unsatisfactory, and the early part of the month the American Acceptance Council twice advanced its posted rates, ⅛ of 1% in each case—the first time merely for 30-day bills, the second time on bills of all other maturities—in order to make the bills more attractive from an investment standpoint. The Federal Reserve Bank, after having resumed the purchase of acceptances in the open market the last few days of April, during May returned to its policy of letting its maturing acceptances run off without buying new bills to replace the bills that were being paid off. There were reports at times during the month that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was once more making purchases of bills in the open market, but judging by the figures these purchases must have been for their foreign correspondents. It is important to bear in mind that these latter added materially to their holdings during the month, in this way, and to that extent, offsetting the lack of support in purchases by the Reserve Banks themselves. In the four weeks from May 1 to May 29 the acceptance holdings of the 12 Reserve Banks were reduced from $170,421,000 to $117,919,000, being a loss of $52,502,000. During the same four weeks, however, the total of bills purchased for foreign correspondents increased from $349,257,000 to $385,754,000, being an addition of $36,497,000. After the advance in acceptance rates the early part of the month a little more activity was manifest at times in the acceptance market, but the offerings soon again proved in excess of the demand and in the closing days of the month the acceptance market slowed down almost to a standstill. On May 3 the American Acceptance Council marked up its rates for 30-day bills ⅛ of 1% in both the bid and the ask columns, and on May 7 marked up its rates ⅛ of 1% for all maturities except those for 30 days, in both the bid and the asked columns; on the other hand, on May 8 rates for the 150- and 180-day maturities were again reduced ⅛. This left the posted rates of the Acceptance Council May 31, 5⅜% bid and 5½% asked for bills running from 30 to 90 days, and 5¾% bid and 5½% asked for bills running from 120 days to 180 days. The buying rates of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York were 5⅜% for bills running from 1 to 45 days; 5½% for bills running from 46 to 90 days, and 5⅝% for bills running from 91 to 180 days. The monthly survey of the American Acceptance Council showed $1,110,841,482 of acceptances outstanding April 30 1929, as against $1,204,979,653 on March 30 1929; $1,228,027,796 February 28, $1,279,271,163 January 31, and $1,284,485,780 December 31 1928, and comparing with $1,070,712,002 April 30 1928. With reference to the volume of commercial paper outstanding, returns to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York by 23 firms which supply monthly data to it showed a further decline of 9% during April and at $351,000,000 April 30, it is stated, was 38½% smaller than the amount outstanding on April 30 1928. During May it is remarked there was little indication of an increase in the amount of new paper coming into the market. "High borrowing costs to the user of the open market and the difficulty experienced by the dealers in disposing of paper to investors have resulted in a continued curtailment of this form of financing."

In the rediscount rates of the Federal Reserve Banks there were several changes during the month, but only in the case of the Reserve institutions which had not adopted the 5% rate so generally put into effect the previous year, but which now moved up to the same figure. On May 4 it was announced by the Federal Reserve Board at Washington that, effective May 6, the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City would be increased from 4½% to 5%. The 4½% rate had prevailed at the Kansas City Bank since June 7 1928. On May 13 announcement came from the Reserve Board that, effective May 14, the rediscount rate of the Minneapolis Reserve Bank would be raised from 4½%, the figure in effect since April 25 1928, to 5%, and on May 17 it was announced that the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco had been authorized to increase its rate from 4½% to 5%, effective Monday, May 20, the lower figure in this case having prevailed since June 2 of the previous year. This last change brought the rediscount rate of all the 12 Reserve Banks to the uniform level of 5%. As already noted, both the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago made repeated requests for permission to advance their rates from 5% to 6%, but this was refused, notwithstanding that the Federal Advisory Council, in session at Washington on May 21, recommended to the Federal Reserve Board that such permission be granted.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS —BROKERS LOANS.

As a result of the renewed collapse on the Stock Exchange, with the liquidation of speculative holdings which this involved, brokers' loans the latter part of May were at length heavily reduced. It is well enough to recall that the grand total of these loans on securities to brokers and dealers by the reporting member banks in New York City, after having reached the huge total of $5,793,000,000 March 20 1929, and had then been reduced to $5,425,000,000 April 17, began to increase again from that date and by May 1 had got back to $5,532,000,000. From this figure there was a further increase to $5,551,000,000 May 8, and to $5,565,000,000 May 15. All this time apparently the Federal Reserve authorities were very much perturbed because of the failure of their efforts to prevent an undue absorption of bank credit in speculative channels. The break, however, in the stock market which now came changed the situation and the statement for May 22 showed a reduction in the total of these loans by $45,000,000 and the statement for May 29 another reduction, this time in the large sum of $232,000,000, making a contraction for the two weeks combined of $277,000,000. This brought the total down to $5,288,000,000 May 29, against $5,532,000,000 on May 1, and $5,793,000,000 on March 20, when the record high figure was established. As compared with this record total, it will be observed, the contraction exceeded half a billion dollars—in exact figures, $505,000,000.

In one particular, however, there was virtually no improvement in the situation, notwithstanding the shrinkage in the grand total of these brokers' loans. We refer to the fact that the portion of these loans made for individual account, that is for corporations and large capitalists, kept steadily rising until on May 22 it actually went above the three billion dollar mark, reaching $3,042,000,000, a new high record figure in all time. Even on May 29, when such a big contraction occurred all around, these loans for individual lenders (or "for account of others," as they are called in the official statement) fell back only to $2,975,000,000, at which figure they compared with only $1,642,000,000 on May 29 of the previous year. At $2,975,000,000 comparison of the loans in this category was with $2,876,000,000 on May 1, showing a net addition for this four-week period alone of roughly $100,000,000. The addition in this category was naturally at the expense of loaning in the other categories. In the loans made for account of out-of-town banks there was first an increase from $1,676,000,000 May 1 to $1,734,000,000 May 8, and then a decrease by successive steps to $1,540,000,000 May 29, making a net reduction for the four weeks in this category of $136,000,000. The loans made by the reporting member banks for their own account kept steadily declining week by week, and May 29 were down to $773,000,000 (the lowest figure on record since the figures have been given out for publication at the beginning of February 1926), against $979,000,000 on May 1, showing a contraction in their own lending by the reporting banks in amount of $206,000,000 for the four weeks. It should further be pointed out that at $773,000,000 May 29 1929 these loans for own account compare with $1,219,000,000 on May 29 1928.

The comparisons of the monthly compilations of the Stock Exchange are in accord with the weekly returns of Federal Reserve Banks. These Stock Exchange returns do not undertake to separate the figures under the different categories as do the statements of the Reserve Banks, and it may well be doubted whether Stock Exchange members, when borrowing at a bank, know whether the loans they obtain are loans made by the bank for its own account or for account of out-of-town banks or "for account of others." The Stock Exchange figures, however, always deal with much larger totals, being on a much more comprehensive basis. The Stock Exchange figures, too, are always for the even month and, in this case, being for May 31, are two days later than the Reserve figures. The Stock Exchange total reached its maximum (on the monthly basis) at $6,804,457,408 on March 30. From this there was a reduction to $6,774,930,395 on April 30, and there has now been a further reduction to $6,665,137,925 on May 31. It will be observed that for the two months combined the contraction reaches $139,319,483, which is considerably less than the $505,000,000 shrinkage shown between March 30 and May 29 in the weekly returns of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The fact, however, that the Stock Exchange figures are merely for the end of the month and hence do not show either the high or the low extremes for the month naturally tends to level the differences in their case.

The reduction in brokers' loans during the month was not attended by diminished borrowing on the part of the member banks at the Reserve institutions as measured by the discount holdings of the latter. During the first three weeks of the month the discount holdings of the 12 Reserve institutions did fall off, with the result that the amount May 22 was down to $904,426,000 as against $985,829,000 May 1, but in the final week there was at one leap an increase to $988,194,000, more than wiping out the decrease of the three previous weeks. Federal Reserve policy seemed to be directed, as in the months preceding, towards reducing the amount of Reserve credit in use, even though member banks should extend their borrowing, and to accomplish that end by reducing their holdings of acceptances purchased in the open market and likewise by reducing further their holdings of U. S. Government securities. Between May 1 and May 29 the acceptance holdings of the 12 Reserve Banks diminished from $170,421,000 to $117,919,000, and between the same dates their holdings of U. S. Government securities were reduced from $150,730,000 to $144,572,000. Their foreign loans on gold, which on May 1 stood at $14,899,000, completely disappeared, the gold evidently having arrived, and this eliminated Reserve credit to that extent. Altogether the bill and security holdings were reduced during the four weeks from $1,329,245,000 May 1 to $1,258,502,000 May 29, notwithstanding the increased borrowing on the part of the member banks. At $1,258,502,000 May 29 comparison was with $1,468,295,000 on May 29 1928, showing a reduction during the 12 months in the amount of the Reserve credit in actual use of $209,793,000. As already noted elsewhere, while the 12 Reserve Banks cut their own acceptance holdings during the four weeks in amount of $52,502,000, they increased their purchases for foreign correspondents in amount of $36,497,000 by raising the amount of these holdings from $349,257,000 May 1 to $385,754,000 May 29. It deserves also to be pointed out that while the discount holdings, reflecting member bank borrowing, of the whole Federal Reserve System increased $2,365,000, comparing May 29 with May 1, borrowing at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was down to $194,426,000 May 29 as against $247,582,000 May 1, showing that the strain was now at other points rather than at the financial center.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING MAY.

Sterling exchange during May continued to show evidences of pressure and rates were inclined to sag except for a time during the second half of the month, when the money tension here appeared to ease somewhat. The weakness was all the more noteworthy as seasonal influences, and more particularly the tourist demand for exchange, would be supposed to have a strengthening influence upon sterling at this season of the year. As in the months preceding, the dominant factor in sterling exchange, and for that matter in all the European exchanges, was the continued pull exerted by the high money rates at New York. In foreign exchange circles there continued to be wide discussion of the question whether the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York would be raised from 5% to 6%, and of the further question whether the Bank of England might not have to advance its own discount rate still higher, with money rates so high here, even though the Federal Reserve rate should not go above 5%. The one thing that appeared to militate against the necessity of a further advance in the Bank of England rate was the notable way in which the Bank was succeeding in re-enforcing its gold reserves. This plainly showed that the Bank was not so dependent upon New York as had at one time been supposed. In the week ending May 8 the Bank added no less than £2,114,256 to its stock of gold, and this was followed by a further increase of £980,499 in the next week, £886,379 the following week, and £522,643 increase in the week ending May 29, making £4,503,777 increase for the four weeks. There were large arrivals of gold in London and the Bank of England was able to obtain most of this gold against the competition of other bidders by paying higher for it—paying 84s. 11d. Some gold might have been taken for New York except for that. The London rate of exchange on Berlin made it possible to engage gold in London for German account, and the latter part of the month £150,000 of the metal was actually bought in London for Germany, but the Reichsbank looked with disfavor on the importation of gold at this time, as tending to counteract its policy of credit restriction in Germany which it was enforcing, and the gold was resold to the Bank of England. It was claimed that some further arrivals of gold at New York from Argentina served indirectly to relieve the strain on London, the theory being that had the pull of high money rates here been less strong, most of this Argentine gold would have gone to London and that diverting the metal to New York was a factor tending to strengthen sterling rates in New York.

The last ten days of the month when money ruled lower at New York the sterling rate temporarily showed an improving tendency, and some transfers to London in preparation for the month-end settlements had the effect of accentuating this tendency, but on May 31 cable dispatches giving the results of the British elections the day before and showing a signal triumph for the Labor party caused a sharp downward reaction again in the sterling rate, the success of the Labor party being viewed unfavorably in the financial markets. Cable transfers on London as against 4.85⅝ on May 1, were down to 4.84 31/32 on May 17, but a recovery to 4.85 1/16 occurred almost immediately. By May 23 the rate was down to 4.84 27/32. By May 29 it was up again to 4.85 1/16. On May 31, on the news already referred to with reference to the British elections, the rate dropped back to 4.84 27/32. Canadian exchange at New York ruled at a discount all through the month for the same reason as during preceding months, namely the high money rates in New York which attracted Canadian funds hither, and the fact that the Dominion has an unfavorable commercial trade balance with respect to the United States, besides which the unsettled wheat market tended to restrict, for the time being at least, buying of wheat for British account. There were some further importations of gold at New York during the month, but these came mainly from Germany (representing engagements of the metal made when the German mark still ruled low) and from the Argentine Republic. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York puts the aggregate of the gold arrivals at New York during the month from all sources at $20,196,000, of which $15,683,000 came from Germany and $4,000,000 from Argentina. The exports of the metal were inconsequential, being only $201,000. In addition to the imports, $16,127,000 of the metal was released from "earmark" during the month, making a net addition to the gold stock of the country for the month of $36,122,000.

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

In the exchanges on the Continental centers of Europe the most striking feature perhaps was the recovery of the German mark to a point rendering further engagements of gold for the United States at a profit out of the question. The chief factor in the recovery was undoubtedly the steady progress that was being made by the Committee of Experts in reaching an agreement with reference to the German reparations payments. Many obstacles appeared to be in the way of such an agreement, and fears that it might be impossible to remove all of them led to a feeling of more or less uncertainty at times, but by the last day of the month the definite announcement came that the goal had been attained. In the break in mark exchange towards the close of April the mark on April 26 had dropped as low as 23.60. On the recovery which quickly ensued the rate April 30 was back to 23.71½. On May 2 there was another dip to 23.69¼, but by May 4 the rate had recovered to 23.71. Thereafter a steady rise occurred, the rate hovering between 23.70½ and 23.72½ until May 15, when very rapid advances took place and by May 29 the mark was up to 23.88; on May 31, after the Decoration Day holiday on May 30, the range was 23.83⅜@23.85½. The gold parity is 23.82. The Bank of Germany the first week of May showed another very heavy decrease in its gold holdings, the total being reduced no less than 125,956,000 marks, but subsequent losses were slight, the decrease the second week of the month being only 834,000 marks, that for the third week no more than 189,000 marks, while in the final week there was a decrease of but 67,000 marks. Note circulation of the Bank dropped 189,068,000 marks the first week of May, 275,107,000 marks the second week, and 161,123,000 marks the third week, with 600,190,000 marks increase the fourth week. The Bank's reserve in foreign currencies, after having fallen off 45,792,000 marks the first week, increased 3,505,000 marks the second week, 90,370,000 marks the third week, and 152,692,000 marks the fourth week. The Reichsbank continued to restrict the amount of credit extended to borrowers. In this way it evidently hoped to create a scarcity of credit in Germany which would tend to bring the outward movement of funds to a halt.

Most of the other Continental exchanges were weak during May, contrary to the strength shown in April. No change of consequence took place in the rate of the French franc, checks on Paris being quoted at 3.90 9/16@3.90¾ on May 31, or precisely the same as on May 1, with only minor fluctuations between the two dates. Rates continued entirely under the control of the Bank of France, whose policy was dictated by a desire to prevent gold from being withdrawn from Paris for Berlin. The weekly statements of the Bank of France showed constant additions to the Bank's gold holdings—674,000,000 francs in the week ending May 4, 62,970,381 francs in the week ending May 11, 8,980,188 francs in the week ending May 18, 55,865,059 francs in the week ending May 25, and 6,000,000 francs in the week ending June 1. The Italian lira was inclined to weakness at times, but nevertheless showed no great change, checks on Italy being quoted at 5.23⅛@5.23¼ May 31, against 5.23 7/16@5.23¾ May 1. Greek exchange also remained very steady. The Polish zloty declined from 11.24 May 1 to 11.21 May 31. The National Bank of Rumania twice advanced its rate of discount during the month—on May 3 from 6% to 8%, and on May 14 from 8% to 9½%. The stabilization of the leu (which occurred in February) made such action desirable, especially as open market rates had been ruling much higher. The Imperial Bank of India, on the other hand, on May 9 reduced its rate of discount from 7%, the figure in effect since April 11, to 6%.

In the exchanges on the countries neutral during the war the fluctuations were variable, though on the last day of the month pretty general recessions occurred in sympathy with the decline in sterling rates on that day. Dutch guilders, which were especially strong during April owing to heavy payments in Amsterdam for tobacco and other products of the Dutch tropical settlements, ruled easier, these payments being no longer a special feature, and, besides this, Holland funds were being transferred to Berlin, London and other centers offering better opportunities for profit. Checks on Amsterdam on May 31, after a drop of about a point from the rates of the day before, were quoted at 40.15½@40.18 against 40.16½@40.19½ on May 1. Swiss francs were also lower at 19.24@19.24½ May 31, against 19.26@19.26¼ May 1. The Scandinavian exchanges were sharply lower with the exception of the Swedish crown. The Danish crown for checks on May 31 was 26.62½@26.63½, against 26.66@26.66½ May 1, and the Norwegian crown 26.63½@26.64 May 31, against 26.66@26.66½ May 1. The decline here was attributed to sympathetic action with the decline in sterling the greater part of the month. On the other hand, the Swedish crown for checks was 26.72½@26.73 May 31 against 26.71@26.71½ May 1. The improved tone of Swedish exchange was attributed to rumors that the Bank of Sweden rate of rediscount, which at 4½% was somewhat out of line with the higher trend of European rates generally, would be increased in the near future. The Spanish peseta developed further weakness and checks on Spain May 31 were 14.02@14.14 against 14.30@14.44 on May 1. The weakness of pesetas reflected the disturbed position of the country, from every point of view, commercial, financial, political and social. The widespread spirit of commercial nervousness in Spain is accountable in no small part for the weakness and fluctuations in the peseta.

The South American exchanges were dull and Argentine exchange ruled lower notwithstanding the gold exports to the United States. The peso on Argentina for checks was down to 41.90@41.95 May 31, against 42.02@42.08 May 1. Brazilian milreis for checks declined from 11.94@11.96 May 1 to 11.85@11.87 May 18, and were 11.87 May 31. The Far Eastern exchanges ruled easier, in part because of the renewed military operations in China and in part because of the further decline in the price of silver. In addition, the Japanese yen continues to be adversely affected by the unsatisfactory business conditions in Japan and by the constant employment of Japanese funds in sterling and dollar securities for the purpose of more lucrative return. Checks on Yokohama were 44 5/16@44½ May 31 against 44.80@45 1/16 May 1. Dollars on Hong Kong were 48 3/16@48½ May 31 against 48⅝@48 13/16 May 1; the tael on Shanghai was 58¾ May 31 against 60½@60⅝ May 1. Rupees on Bombay were 36⅛@36¼ May 31 against 36.28@36⅜ May 1. Silver in London was 24 9/16d. per oz. May 31 against 25 5/16d. on May 1.

The tables on pages 15 to 36 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during May and the range since January 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

	Page		Page		Page
Steam Railroad Bonds	74	Public Utility Bonds	81	Insurance Stocks and Scrip	116
Steam Railroad Stocks	78	Public Utility Stocks	86	Real Estate Trust and Land Stocks	91
Joint Stock Land Bank Bonds	80	Industrial & Miscellaneous Bonds	89	Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Stocks	91
Joint Stock Land Bank Stocks	80	Industrial & Miscellaneous Stocks	92	United States and Municipal Bonds	97
Federal Land Bank Bonds	99	Exchange Seats	91	Canadian Municipal Bonds	99
Real Estate Bonds	91	Textile Manufacturing Stocks	92	Foreign Government Bonds	98
Investment Trust Stocks and Bonds	79	Mining Stocks	92

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked prices; however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return. Recently however, owing to the tension in the money market, it has happened in not a few instances that the shorter maturities have been yielding the highest rate of return and the longer maturities the lowest rate of return, and where that happens to be the case, the range has been reversed to read, say 4.35% to 4.25%.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

quotations wherever they can be obtained. The custom Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done.

Banks & Trust Companies

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest-weekly statement.
