REVIEW OF JANUARY—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

Somewhat greater activity developed in most lines of trade during the opening month of the new year, but this was in comparison mainly with the almost complete stoppage which marked the course of business during the month of December, when the customary holiday period was more pronounced and more prolonged than usual. Moreover, the greater activity which now developed appeared to be largely seasonal, it being customary in many branches of industry to start up with new energy with the beginning of the new year (after the taking of the customary inventories at the close of the old year), and on the present occasion it was really a question whether this seasonal increase in activity was on so great a scale as in other years. The disposition certainly was to look upon ultimate recovery with greater confidence, but at the same time to proceed with due caution, since expectations of near recovery had been disappointed so often during the preceding 15 months.

James A. Farrell, President of the United States Steel Corp., had no hesitation, when speaking before a joint session of the National Canners' Association and the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, in convention at Chicago, on Jan. 19, in expressing the opinion that "the low point of the depression was past 30 days ago." And certainly, as far as the steel trade was concerned, this was not a venturesome assertion, inasmuch as steel production in December had dropped to an exceedingly low level. In the week ending Monday, Dec. 29, as stated in our review for that month, the steel mills of the country were engaged to only 24% of capacity. This, to be sure, included the Christmas holiday, but even in the week preceding the mills were operating to only 34% of capacity, and two weeks before were engaged to no higher than 37% of capacity. On the other hand, during January there was a steady increase in operations week by week, and in the week ended Monday, Feb. 2, the average for the whole industry was estimated at around 47% of capacity, with the United States Steel Corp. engaged to about 51% of capacity as against approximately only 30% in the week ended Dec. 29. At the close of January 1930 the steel industry was operating at about 80% of capacity, and at the close of January 1929 the steel mills of the country were engaged to nearly 85% of capacity. Mr. Farrell predicted a steady improvement in conditions from now on, saying that "while certain groups believe that our recovery will be retarded until certain fundamental factors in the world situation are corrected there is a larger element who believe that if we will concentrate our activities on the United States and its problems for the time being that business in the United States, with all of its potential possibilities, will speed recovery and enlarge opportunity for employment." Mr. Farrell condemned in unqualified terms as "futile" and "dangerous" suggestions looking for the improvement of business conditions through wage cuts, reductions of the tariff or remission of foreign debts to the United States. On the wage question, however, prevailing sentiment as to maintaining the existing level of wages unaltered at a time when wholesale and retail commodity prices were sharply declining and the buying power of a given rate of wages was accordingly increasing, with the necessary result of reducing the cost of living, was not entirely in accord with the views expressed by Mr. Farrell. The general opinion among those competent to form a trustworthy judgment, by reason of their knowledge and experience, and who had been making a close study of the subject, was that when stockholders and private proprietors were obliged, owing to the depression and the downward course of prices, to forego the whole or the greater part of their profits, wage earners could not escape making some concessions themselves, and it would not be more than an act of fairness and justice for the laboring classes to agree to make such concessions to the extent, at least, that would serve to put the wheels of industry in motion once more and gradually accelerate the pace until full recovery had again been established. The Steel Corp. itself could hardly be said (as appeared from the corporation's statement for the last quarter of the year 1930, made public after the close of business on Tuesday, Jan. 27) to be faring as well as it should when, notwithstanding its wonderful up-to-date facilities of production at a minimum of cost and its superb and justly esteemed management, it was able to show only 27c. a share earned on its common stock for the December quarter of 1930 as against $4.14 per share earned in the December quarter of 1929.

As it happened, some very prominent executives in the banking and industrial world, noted for their broad consideration of public questions, in discussing the same subject, expressed views sharply in conflict with those of Mr. Farrell. Thus Albert H. Wiggin, the Chairman of the Governing Board of the Chase National Bank of this city, in his report to the shareholders of that institution, in discussing the wage question, along with many other topics of the day, did not hesitate to say: "It is not true that high wages make prosperity. Instead, prosperity makes high wages. When wages are kept higher than the market situation justifies, employment and the buying power of labor fall off. American business has proved its good will in dealing with labor on this point in the past year, and in many industries may reasonably ask labor to accept a moderate reduction of wages designed to reduce costs and to increase both employment and the buying power of labor. Our restricted immigration, coupled with our relative abundance of capital and natural resources, is sufficient safeguard for American wages."

In the same vein, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, who has been so prominently identified with the Bank for International Settlements, in an address delivered at Dallas, Tex., before the Salesmanship Club of Dallas, made some pertinent discussions bearing on the question of wages, though that was not the main theme of his address. The paragraph dealing with the matter deserves to be reproduced, and we quote it herewith:

"If there is one point upon which all agree, it is that the American standard of living must be maintained. However, we must not confuse the standard of living with the cost of living, and we must not confuse an arbitrary fixed wage in dollars and cents with a real wage in its purchasing power. Employers must be as quick to recognize the real wage in a rising market as labor must be to recognize the real wage in a falling market, if there is to be any stability in prosperity and employment hereafter. Business cannot prosper if costs eliminate profit; and labor cannot work as fully as it should if capital is denied a proper return."

Returning to a consideration of the trade currents, a great variety of statistics testify to the fact that if trade activity did increase somewhat in January, this, while satisfactory, as far as it went, was not, after all, much to boast of, since still leaving the volume of trade far below that for the same month in the years immediately preceding. The statistics showing the loading of revenue freight on the railroads of the United States must be accepted as conclusive on that point. From the statistics compiled by the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association it appears that the loading of revenue freight on the railroads of the United States for the four weeks ending Jan. 24 totaled only 2,771,261 cars in 1931 against 3,347,717 cars in the corresponding four weeks of 1930, 3,571,455 cars in the same weeks of 1929, and 3,448,895 cars in the same weeks of 1928. It will be observed that the loss, as compared with two years ago, has been no less than 800,194 cars. However, no one expected anything more than a slow change for the better. The Guaranty Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, may be said to have summed up the situation accurately when, in its issue published Jan. 26, it stated that "the rather encouraging way in which the basic industries have responded to the seasonal influences making for revival has been the outstanding business development during the opening weeks of the new year. From numerous branches of manufacturing and from various sections of the country have come reports of increasing output and rising employment. . . . On the whole, therefore, the situation is unquestionably better than it was a month ago." Nevertheless, the writer of the "Survey" deems it wise to add the following words of caution:

"It would be a mistake, however, to rush to the conclusion that business has definitely 'turned the corner'—that the factors which caused recession to continue unbroken until almost the very end of 1930 have, with the turn of the year, been abruptly transferred into favorable influences. Although it appears, at the moment, that the increase in industrial activity has been greater than is usual at this time of year, it remains true that the expansion is mainly seasonal in its nature.

"As a matter of fact, it is not yet possible to judge whether the upturn has any permanent significance or not. In the absence of more conclusive signs of recovery than have yet appeared, it may be well to recall the false hopes that were engendered by the even sharper upturn a year ago. Business men in general have become aware that recovery must be a slow and gradual process, and that, to the extent that it is slow and gradual, the foundations for future prosperity will be the more securely laid. To abandon this view merely because of the unexpectedly favorable developments of a week or month would be a fundamental error.

"But with full allowance for the fact that a few weeks of rising activity at the beginning of the year do not necessarily spell recovery, it is impossible to escape the feeling that the recent expansion may be a sign of the approach of better times. Business has passed through a long period of readjustment. Both materially and psychologically the deflation seems to have been very thorough. In December and January, two conditions have appeared that throw a favorable light on the position of consumers—namely, the relatively small decrease in holiday buying and the hearty response of the public to the annual automobile shows.

"Whatever encouragement may be derived from these considerations can find some support in the greater stability recently apparent in commodity prices. The monthly index of wholesale prices of the Guaranty Trust Co. for Jan. 15 stands at 55.5, as against 56.6 a month earlier. This slight decline is due mainly to the movement of prices during the last half of December. Since the beginning of January there has been little or no downward trend. As far as its bearing on the probable future course of business is concerned, this strengthening in prices is much more convincing in its favorable implications than is the expansion reported in industrial output during the same period."

A highly disturbing development occurred the latter part of the month, a development calculated, if it should eventuate as feared, seriously to delay, if not absolutely to destroy, the chances of an early recovery in trade. This was the sudden prominence assumed by the proposal which was being given consideration in Congress to redeem in cash at their face value the adjusted service certificates held by the World War veterans and which would involve the issuance of new United States bonds to an aggregate of $3,400,000,000. The proposition had been broached a number of times in the past, but did not then appear to have even a remote chance of meeting with Congressional approval, so chimerical did it seem and so perfectly reckless from every standpoint. Now, however, the proposal began to command growing support and energetic efforts were made to get the measure through Congress. Before the Senate Finance Committee, at Washington, on Jan. 28, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon expressed his opposition to the proposal for the immediate payment of cash to World War veterans on adjusted service certificates. Mr. Mellon stated that the proposed measures now before the Committee would cost approximately $3,400,000,000, and he declared that the Treasury Department could not sell bonds to this amount "at the present time except on terms which it would be very hard to justify and without complete disorganization of the Government and other security markets, with the most serious consequences, not only to the public credit, but to our entire economic structure." Mr. Mellon added that "coming at this time such action would seriously retard a business recovery, and so prolong unemployment." Earlier in the month Secretary Mellon had voiced his objection to the plan of Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic floor leader, for the immediate payment to war veterans of the cash surrender value of their certificates. Mr. Mellon's views at that time were contained in a letter to Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee. In his statement to the Senate Finance Committee, on Jan. 28, Secretary Mellon declared that "serious as would be the direct consequences to the Treasury and to the public credit, the indirect consequences to the country would be even more serious." "The effect of these measures," he said, "will be equivalent to a capital levy on the holders of all United States Government securities." He further said "the marketing of these bonds at the present time would kill the bond market for any other kinds of securities." "Not only," said Mr. Mellon, "would it interfere with the marketing of our surplus products, which under present circumstances depends in large measure on foreign financing in this country, but it would also greatly disturb world trade and world equilibrium." At the hearing before the Senate Finance Committee, Under-Secretary of the Treasury Mills also presented his views in much the same way as Mr. Mellon himself.

The occasion for the sudden projection of the matter into the limelight was the action of the American Legion in changing its attitude on the proposition and the influence that this has had in inducing many members of Congress to flock to its support. At the national convention of the American Legion, held in Boston last year, resolutions favoring the payment in cash of the adjusted service certificates were tabled, but now members of the National Executive Committee of the Legion, meeting in special session at Indianapolis, on Sunday, Jan. 25, gave unqualified support to the proposition by adopting a resolution saying that "the passage of such legislation would benefit immeasurably not only the veterans themselves, but the citizenship of the entire country and would be an appropriate demonstration of the nation to those who carried its arms in 1917-1918."

These adjusted service certificates really do not mature until 1945, and obviously to put out now $3,400,000,000 of new United States bonds would involve a repetition of the conditions prevailing in 1917 and 1918 when the Government was engaged in floating its different issues of Liberty Loan bonds, and the Treasury Department would be confronted by problems in financing only second to those experienced at that time. And this would have to be done in the present instance in a period of intense trade depression, when the national income is at such a low ebb that the yearly savings of the population (out of which the funds for the absorption of the new bonds would have to come) are down to a minimum.

These new United States bonds, moreover, would necessarily displace a corresponding amount of ordinary corporate bond issues, the floating of which is an indispensable prerequisite to providing the new capital which is required from year to year for the development and extension of the country's industries. That is what Mr. Mellon meant when he said, as mentioned above, that "the marketing of these bonds at the present time would kill the bond market for any other kinds of securities." Hence, instead of quickening trade revival, it would really have a deadening effect by the withholding it would cause of the means for raising the new capital which is so essential for the continued growth and progress of the country. The driblets in cash which would come from the spending of the money by the millions of war veterans who would receive the money would hardly be a circumstance alongside the loss of capital involved for the progress of the country. Moreover, the chances are that a very large portion, if not the greater part of the amount involved, would be employed in frivolous expenditures which would benefit no one.

But other ill consequences would follow. These are enumerated at length in the masterful analysis of the measure which Secretary Mellon made in the statement he submitted to the Senate Finance Committee on Jan. 28. In the first place, the United States Treasury is no longer in flush condition. Business depression has left its mark on the Government exchequer just as it has on the family exchequer. Government revenues are suffering a heavy falling off. Mr. Mellon says expenditures are running considerably in excess of receipts. "We will close the year with a deficit which, based on present indications, will not be less than $375,000,000." Moreover, Mr. Mellon noted that "the additional cost due to the conversion of this debt payable 14 years in the future into an interest-bearing obligation as contemplated would be approximately $262,000,000 a year, or an increase of $150,000,000 over the annual appropriation now being made of $112,000,000." Mr. Mellon also found that serious as would be the direct consequences to the Treasury and to the public credit, the indirect consequences to the country would be even more serious. The sale of Government securities in such volume at a much higher interest rate than the present yield, based on the price at which Government bonds are now selling, must immediately depreciate very materially the price of all existing United States bonds. The member banks of the Federal Reserve System—without considering the many State non-member banks—hold $4,000,000,000 of United States securities as a secondary reserve. "They will have to write down the value of these Government securities, which will be particularly serious in the case of many country banks." Obviously insurance companies and other large holders of Government securities will have to do the same thing.

In conclusion, Mr. Mellon summed up the features and results in the following admirable and convincing paragraphs:

"There is no economic merit in the proposal. From the point of view of stimulating business, it is a plan for unmitigated inflation, with the disastrous results of which the world is only too familiar. On the investment side it means the exhaustion of the security markets and the creation of a serious impediment to business recovery both here and abroad. To the unemployed it spells further retardation of the day when normal employment will be available.

"From the point of view of the United States Treasury it represents complete disorganization of an orderly program for the refunding and retirement of our war debt and a tremendous increase in interest charges. To the taxpayer it means the destruction of all hope of the lightening of the load of taxation for years to come and a probable increase in taxes in the very near future.

"How the veterans and their families, who, after all, are an inseparable part of the American people and whose prosperity and welfare are inextricably bound up with the prosperity and welfare of all, can hope to find relief and improvement in their condition from the universal and destructive consequences which these measures would entail is beyond comprehension."

Secretary Mellon had the previous week (Jan. 16) addressed a letter to Chairman Hawley of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives expressing his views on a somewhat similar bill which had been introduced in the House, but which would not involve quite so large an expenditure and which yet would require payments exceeding $2,100,000,000. Mr. Hawley had sent a copy of the bill to Mr. Mellon and had asked Mr. Mellon to comment thereon. Mr. Hawley made Mr. Mellon's letter of reply public soon after 500 war veterans from Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia had marched down Pennsylvania Avenue (in Washington) behind a drum and bugle corps for a demonstration on the steps of the Capitol in support of half a hundred pending bills (so newspaper accounts said, Jan. 21), among them the Garner measure proposing immediate payment of cash to veterans on their adjusted service certificates. The demonstration was attended by 124 members of Congress who had signed a petition to force consideration of the Garner Bill by the House. As such legislation must originate in the House, the question of its initiation was in the hands of the Ways and Means Committee, and the disposition of it rested largely with Chairman Hawley himself.

All these moves indicated what strenuous efforts were being made to push through some measure of this kind. It was not, however, until Mr. Mellon appeared before the Senate Finance Committee on Jan. 28, together with Ogden L. Mills, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, that public interest in the matter was aroused. Immediately now its influence was felt and in a most telling manner. As the inherently dangerous character of legislation of that kind became unfolded in the discussions which it aroused, and the manifold possibilities of ill effects in so many different directions developed, the financial markets were dealt a blow which was as serious as it was unexpected. On Wednesday, Jan. 28, and Thursday, Jan. 29, furious unloading of the different outstanding issues of United States bonds by institutions and individuals occurred, as a result of which all classes of United States obligations suffered a bad break and the decline continued up to the end of the month. Previously the market value of United States obligations had shown sustained strength, even when the general bond market suffered complete collapse, as happened during the closing months of 1930. But now these United States issues suffered a most severe relapse. And the declines were not confined to mere fractions as is ordinarily the case with the course of prices for United States securities. It was immediately recognized that the consequences of the putting out of a new volume of United States bonds of any such magnitude as now threatened would be far-reaching in the extreme. As one illustration of what happened, in the Government bond market, Fourth Liberty Loan 4¼s, which had sold up from 103 19/32 on Jan. 2 to 104 4/32 Jan. 26, touched 102 24/32 Jan. 29, with the close Jan. 31 at 103. The First Liberty 3½s, which had sold up from 101 26/32 Jan. 2 to 102 9/32 Jan. 24, dropped to 100 28/32 on Jan. 31. The Treasury 4¼s, which had advanced from 112 5/32 Jan. 2 to 113 8/32 Jan. 22, dropped to 110 10/32 on Jan. 29, which was also the closing figure Jan. 31. The Treasury 4s, which had risen from 108 6/32 Jan. 2 to 109 2/32 Jan. 20, were down to 106 10/32 on Jan. 31, with the close on that day at 106 12/32. In the following we show in tabular form the depreciation which occurred in a number of the principal issues of United States bonds:

a Jan. 30.

At the same time great weakness developed in the bond market generally for corporate securities of all the various classes—railroads, public utilities and industrials. It needed no argument to prove that if marked depreciation was to take place in United States securities through flooding the country with an immense mass of new obligations, thereby increasing the income to be derived from Government securities, readjustment to a higher income yield would be inevitable in the case of all other classes of bonds. Since the middle of last December, when the collapse on the Stock Exchange reached its culmination, after bond prices had suffered declines almost as severe as stock prices, one of the most reassuring features in the general situation had been the brisk recovery which the bond market had enjoyed and the gradual stability at higher levels which bond prices were assuming. But now the prop was once more completely knocked from under the bond market.

p://fraser.stlouisfed.org/

And this obviously presented a most serious adverse feature, since it is generally acknowledged that enduring recovery in the bond market is an indispensable preliminary to improvement in the general financial situation, thereby bringing the much desired and urgently needed recovery in trade.

A particularly depressing feature was that there appeared little likelihood that Congress would heed the protests of President Hoover and his Administration. As a matter of fact, all through the month Mr. Hoover clashed with Congress on one form of legislative proposal or another. Congress seemed disposed to have its way on all the leading measures that were receiving its consideration, even though the President might deem them unsound or unsafe. This was particularly true in legislation intended to furnish relief in the drouth-stricken sections and in dealing with the unemployment situation. On. Jan. 15 the President signed the resolution appropriating money in aid of the drouth areas. In its final form the resolution for drouth relief legislation provides for an appropriation of $45,000,000 for advances to farmers in the drouth and storm areas for the purchase of seed, fertilizers, &c. The resolution as passed by the House on Jan. 5 carried this appropriation of $45,000,000. On the same day, however, the Senate amended the resolution so as to include an additional $15,000,000 to be used for food loans. Following previous unsuccessful efforts to obtain consent to send the resolution to conference, Chairman Wood of the Appropriations Committee on Jan. 10 made another attempt to obtain unanimous consent to send the House bill with the Senate amendment to conference, but Representative La Guardia (Rep.), of New York, objected, stating again that he proposed to use every parliamentary method at his disposal to prevent action until he had been assured that care would be taken of the unemployed of the cities. However, he was finally outmaneuvered, and on Jan. 13 the House sent the bill to conference by a vote of 353 to 4, defeating by 215 to 134 a motion to concur in the Senate's $15,000,000 proposal. The conferees, however, found themselves unable to agree on the disputed issues, and so reported to the respective houses. Following this, the Senate, on Jan. 14, receded from its two amendments—one to include provision for $15,000,000 additional for food loans and the other which would have restricted the Secretary of Agriculture to designated areas in making loans. With this action by the Senate the resolution was sent to the President who, as already stated, affixed his signature to it on Jan. 15.

Before the final action by the Senate, Senator Robinson of Arkansas on Jan. 14 served notice that rather than suffer defeat on the proposal for food loans, efforts would be made to suspend the Senate rules when the Agricultural Appropriation bill, carrying $214,000,000, came up for consideration in order to offer an amendment to appropriate $25,000,000 for the Red Cross to buy food, this to be in addition to any funds it might collect in its $10,000,000 drive. In its Washington dispatch, Jan. 15, the New York "Times" said that fear of Democratic reprisals which would pigeonhole some of the annual supply bills and perhaps force President Hoover to call the next Congress into extra session, had caused the Republican leadership to withdraw objection to the demand of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader, that he be allowed to offer a provision to appropriate $25,000,000 for furnishing food to drouth sufferers. On Jan. 26 the United States Senate passed a bill authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to use not exceeding $5,000,000 of the $45,000,000 drouth relief for loans to effect the organization of local agricultural credit corporations and livestock loan corporations. On the same day the Senate passed a resolution authorizing the distribution of 20,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Federal Farm Board for relief purposes. On Jan. 21 the Senate, without a record vote, passed the Interior Department appropriation bill carrying the $25,000,000 for relief purposes. The money was "to be expended by the American National Red Cross for the purpose of supplying food medium, medical aid, and other necessities to afford adequate human relief in the present national emergency to persons otherwise unable to procure the same." However, Chairman John Barton Payne, in testifying, on Jan. 29, before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, during hearings on the Senate proposal for the $25,000,000 appropriation, read a resolution adopted by the Red Cross Central Committee saying that it was the sense of the Committee that "the Red Cross is in a position adequately to complete the task it has undertaken in the drouth-stricken areas, and it hereby assumes the responsibility of completing said task without public appropriations, and . . . that it is the sense of the Central Committee that the Red Cross cannot accept the administration of the funds for general relief purposes as provided for under the terms of the bill which has passed the Senate and is now pending in the House of Representatives." Following this announcement by Judge Payne the House Committee on Appropriations on Jan. 29 rejected the Senate amendment by a vote of 18 to 11. According to Associated Press accounts, the House on Jan. 30 rejected in rapid order a series of amendments intended to provide $25,000,000 of Government funds for relief purposes. The Association Press dispatch said:

> The first proposal would have given the fund to the President for distribution. Others would have provided varying means of distributing it to the needy.
> Finally the House rejected the original Robinson proposal to give the fund to the Red Cross for distribution.
> The House, by vote of 217 to 151, rejected the Taylor amendment to turn the $25,000,000 Senate fund over to the President for distribution.
> The McKeown amendment to have the War Department distribute the $25,000,000 fund was defeated, 220 to 91.
> By 255 to 65, the House also rejected the La Guardia amendment to the Interior Department bill under which the $25,000,000 fund would have been distributed by President Hoover to charitable organizations on a basis of matching what funds they could obtain from private sources.
> The Byrns amendment to turn over the fund to the President for distribution through a Governmental agency also was defeated 212 to 149.
> Although several other amendments remained to be voted upon, the strength shown by the Republicans was indicative of the final rejection of the Senate proposal to give the Red Cross $25,000,000.

In a report to the United States Senate, on Jan. 24, Colonel Arthur Woods, Chairman of President Hoover's Emergency Committee on Unemployment, estimated that the number of unemployed in the United States in the first week of December was between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000, or about 10% of the total number of persons with gainful occupations. In testifying before the Senate Appropriations Committee, on Jan. 7, in making a somewhat similar statement, Colonel Woods ventured the opinion that the various construction programs throughout the country the present year, involving expenditures of $2,500,000,000, were adequate to handle the existing situation. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, on the other hand, in a statement given out on Jan. 27, put the number of unemployed wage earners throughout the country early in January at 5,700,000, basing his estimate on reports from affiliated labor organizations. Mr. Green said that the increase in unemployment since December was partly due to men being laid off by firms which have been keeping their forces at work on part time.

Laying off of part-time workers, Mr. Green said, was especially marked in the garment, metal and other manufacturing industries, and in building. Mr. Green gave out weighted unemployment figures based on reports from trade unions indicating the percentage of wage earners unemployed each month since 1928. These showed that the percentage for January 1931, according to a preliminary report, was 19.4%, or higher than in any month of the whole period, and comparing with only 6.6% in September 1929. On this unemployment situation a smile-provoking statement was contained in advices Jan. 6 to the New York "Times," to the effect that officials in charge of the census of unemployed, to be started Jan. 15 in 20 representative cities, would be instructed to enumerate as employed the street corner venders of apples, despite their "unemployed" placards. It was stated that a conference of experts of the Census Bureau had reached the decision on that day. The ruling was suggested, it was said, by F. A. Gosnell, who had just returned from a trip to Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, and Philadelphia, setting up the machinery for the census. Mr. Gosnell was represented as having stated that he had learned in his investigation that many persons selling apples as "unemployed" were earning a good living, and candor compels the statement that the facts as gained by daily observation in the streets of New York clearly establish the truth of the assertion.

In the railroad world the agreement of the major Eastern trunk lines for the creation of four competitive systems in Eastern trunk line and official territories in lieu of the "five-party plan" contemplated by the Inter-State Commerce Commission's railroad consolidation plan of December 1929, was announced Jan. 2 by the chief executives of the roads. The plan as set forth contemplates the allocation of the Delaware Lackawanna & Western to the New York Central System, together with a direct connection with the Virginian Railway at Deepwater, W. Va., involving joint rates and through routes via the Virginian. The Pennsylvania is to retain its control of the Wabash, the Norfolk & Western, and the Detroit Toledo & Ironton, while the Baltimore & Ohio plans to round out its system by acquisition of the Ann Arbor, the Lehigh & Hudson River, the Reading and the Central of New Jersey, while retaining control of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Buffalo & Susquehanna, the Western Maryland, and the Chicago & Alton. The Chesapeake & Ohio-Nickel Plate System proposes to retain control of the Hocking Valley, Pere Marquette, Wheeling & Lake Erie, and Chicago & Eastern Illinois, and acquire the Erie, the Bessemer & Lake Erie, and the Lehigh Valley. In connection with the latter road, the Pennsylvania is to have certain trackage rights.

The railway executives' letter on the subject stated that following the promulgation of the Commission's so-called complete plan of railroad consolidation in December 1929 the major trunk lines entered into a series of conferences looking toward the carrying out of the plan, or failing that, a substitute plan.

"The suggestion of the Commission," said the letter, "that modification might be approved by the Commission has led an attempt to provide within the limits of a four-party plan the allocation of nearly all the properties in accordance with what we conceive to be the principles followed by the Commission in its five-party plan. As a result of these negotiations, an agreement covering the allocation of the principal carriers in the Eastern group, excluding New England, has been reached. This agreement is inter-dependent and could not have been reached upon any different basis of allocation."

Dealing in greater detail with the trade development of the month, reference has already been made to the increased activity in the steel industry which, as stated, was from a low start at the end of 1930 and largely of a seasonal character. The "Iron Age" in its issue of Jan. 29 in reporting a further slight gain in activity for the then current week remarked that the improvement had been spotty and had not been shared in by all products. Tin plate specifications continued to increase and some producers reported moderately larger orders from the automobile industry for bars, sheets, strips and pig iron, but railroad equipment buying, it was stated, was at a standstill, rail releases were sluggish, structural steel requirements remained largely prospective and miscellaneous demand for iron and steel continued at close range with no indications of a movement to replenish inventories. In brief, the upturn in business since the first of the year had been disappointingly gradual, yet it was realized that a sudden rush of orders unsupported by a commensurate expansion of consumer needs would have raised, it was observed, false hopes. The stability of the steel price structure was mentioned as one of the most reassuring features of the market. While it was true that there was a lack of tonnage business to give prices a severe test, most large buyers having covered for the quarter at low figures, consumers who buy in small lots were no longer seeking concessions with the placing of each order. In the primary material markets the price situation was in the main quiescent, although not free from weakness. Resale pig iron, offered at 50c. a ton below furnace quotations, was a disturbing factor at Chicago. In Alabama pig iron for district delivery had declined $1 to $13 a ton, Birmingham. Heavy melting scrap was weaker at both Pittsburgh and Chicago, and the "Iron Age" composite price for steel scrap declined from $11.33 to $11.21 a gross ton, dipping under the low figure for 1930—$11.25—reached in December. The "Age" made the composite price of finished steel Feb. 3 2.142c., as compared with 2.121 on Jan. 6. The composite price of pig iron at the same date was reported at $15.90 a gross ton, the same as a month earlier.

In the nonferrous metals some weakness again developed in copper. Copper Exporters Inc. on Jan. 9 had reduced the price of copper for export ¼c. a lb., making the new price 10.55c. delivered in London, Hamburg and Havre. This reduction in the export price of the metal followed a cut in the domestic market of ¼c. a lb. on Jan. 8 to 10¼c., this being for copper delivered at factories in Connecticut. On Jan. 10 the export price of copper was reduced another ¼c. to 10.30c. a lb. c.i.f., European base ports. The domestic price remained at 10c. On January 16, however, with buying of the metal for export continuing in fair volume, Copper Exporters Inc. marked up the price of the metal for March and April shipment, apparently it was stated, to enable custom smelters to hold their sales to the nearer months. March shipments was increased 5 points to 10.35c. a lb. and April 10 points to 10.40c. a lb. January and February quotations were kept at 10.30c. while the 10c. level was maintained for domestic shipments delivered to the end of May. Here in New York Lake copper was reduced on Jan. 9 from 10⅝c. to 10⅜c. on Jan. 14 to 10⅛c. and on Jan. 30 to 9⅞c. Electrolytic was reduced Jan. 8 from 10¼c. to 9¾c. and on Jan. 29 to 9½. Lead prices were also weak, the quotation Jan. 5 being reduced from 5.10c. to 5.00c., on Jan. 7 further reduced to 4.85c. and on Jan. 8 to 4.75c. which price was maintained the rest of the month. Tin prices showed greater stability the quotation here in New York, Jan. 31, being 25.50c. against 26.62½c. Jan. 2, though in the interval the price was as high as 27.25c. Jan. 7 and as low as 25.12½c. Jan. 16. Sir Philip Cuniffe Lister, Chairman of the Tin Producers Association, announced that the scheme for regulating tin output by a system of international quotas had the approval of Sir Cecil Clementi, High Commissioner of the Federated Malay States, and that the Malayan Government had been assured the support of a great majority of Malayan companies as well as individual producers, both British and Chinese in Malaya. The Dutch East Indies, Bolivian and Nigerian Governments had already approved the scheme and were in complete agreement regarding its operation. The statement was issued with the approval o the council of the Tin Producers Association. Sir Philip pointed out:

(1) That the international agreement would remain in force two years;
(2) That the quota ratio allotted to Malaya was on equal terms with the aggregate allotted to the three countries already signatories to the agreement;
(3) The essence of the agreement was correlation of world production to consumption and gradual reduction of the existing excessive stocks so that producers might definitely count on a better price.

London Associated Press advices Jan. 7 stated that Chinese tin mining interests in the Federated Malay States, which are under British protection, were supporting a proposal to restrict tin production in 1931 to 78% of the 1929 output. The agreement was to go into effect March 1.

In petroleum and its products the principal features were some weakness in the crude oil price schedule in the Southwest and the meeting of oil representatives in Washington to insist on a tariff on oil. The fight for action on the tariff, however, was dealt a blow in the announcement by Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee that he would not call any hearing on the tariff question until the Tariff Commission had made its report. Inasmuch as the Tariff Commission is engaged in an extensive survey which is not expected to be completed until the latter part of February, this manifestly put an end to any hope of action at the present session of Congress. There were a number of price changes in the case of gasoline, all of which, as well as the changes in crude oil, are enumerated in the following:

CRUDE OIL.

Jan. 14.—Humble Refining posted reduction of from 2c. to 28c. a barrel for crude oil purchased in the North Texas, Panhandle and Gulf Coast fields. New price established 400 crude at 67c. a barrel. This reduction placed Humble at the same posted level as Gulf Refining, which was posted Oct. 30.

Jan. 16.—Magnolia Petroleum, Sinclair, Simms Petroleum and Continental Oil met the crude oil price reductions posted by Humble.

GASOLINE AND KEROSENE.

Jan. 2.—All major refining companies met Tidewater's advance and quoted bulk gasoline at 7c. a gallon or higher.

Jan. 3.—Standard Oil of Indiana posted a 5c. a gallon advance in the service station price of gasoline in Detroit. Advance was met by all other major refiners, making service station price 17.8c. a gallon.

Jan. 3.—All refiners posted in advance of 2c. a gallon in the tank wagon price of gasoline in Kansas City, making retail price 13.9c. a gallon.

Jan. 5.—Carson Petroleum advanced price of kerosene ½c. a gallon to 6½c. a gallon for 41-43 water white, in tank car lots, at the refineries in New York City.

Jan. 6.—All refiners advanced price of gasoline 1.2c. a gallon, in Minneapolis establishing service station price of 18.2c. a gallon.

Jan. 8.—In renewal of price war, all major refiners in Lucas County, Ohio, reduced price of gasoline 2c. a gallon to 15c. a gallon at service stations, tax paid.

Jan. 14.—Texas Corp. announced a one cent advance in the tank wagon price of U. S. Motor Gasoline in the New York and New England area.

Jan. 16.—Atlantic Refining met the one cent advance of Texas Corp. throughout New England marketing points.

Jan. 19.—Standard Oil of New York and Warner-Quinlan advanced the tank wagon price of gasoline 1c. a gallon throughout the New York and New England territory. Advance was to meet increase posted previous week by several companies and had no effect on retail prices.

In the textile trades the feature was the demand in the cotton goods market for wide print cloths, particularly the active preference shown for the finer grade goods constructions, notably the 4 yard 80 square, the low prices of which are being taken advantage of by buyers' for dresses that will retail at low figures. Print cloths, however, moved lower and the price at Fall River for 28-inch 64x60 was reduced on Jan. 14 from 4⅛ to 4c. The price of the raw material, cotton, moved within relatively moderate limits, but the trend was towards higher levels, spot cotton here in New York being quoted Jan. 31 at 10.45c., as against 10.15c. on Jan. 2. The low figure for the month was 10.00c., Jan. 12, and the high 10.60c., Jan. 23. Indications pointed to a sharp curtailment of cotton acreage for the new crop. Another ginning return made its appearance. The Bureau of Census, on Jan. 23, issued its report, showing the number of bales of cotton ginned up to Jan. 16, from which it appeared that up to that date the present season total ginnings had been 13,592,104 bales, against 14,176,936 bales in the corresponding period of the preceding season, and 13,888,972 bales the season before. The operations of the Federal Farm Board were the subject of much comment. Generally speaking, interference on the part of the Farm Board was deplored, but there was also sporadic favorable comment. Characterizing the outlook for American cotton as "tragic," and the product "unpopular" with world spinners, the economics committee of the American Cotton Shipper's Association issued through its Chairman, J. W. Garrow, of Houston, a statement calling for retirement from cotton merchandising by the Federal Government. The statement was issued after a 3-day conference. On the other hand, full endorsement of the Federal Farm Board, the Agricultural Marketing Act, and their operation was voiced in a resolution adopted at New Orleans on Jan. 10 by the meeting of directors of the State Cotton Co-operative Association, affiliated with the American Cotton Co-operative Association.

Under date of Jan. 14, the Bureau of the Census issued its statement of cotton consumption for the month of December, showing 406,207 bales of lint and 43,989 bales of linters consumed in December 1930 as against 452,685 bales of lint, and 52,152 bales of linters in December 1929. The Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York in its statistical report covering the five weeks of December showed that production during that period had been 234,052,000 yards, or at the rate of 46,810,000 yards per week. This was 23.2% less than for the corresponding weeks in December 1929. Shipments were 226,951,000 yards, equivalent to 97% of production. Sales were 182,656,000 yards, or 78% of production. Stocks on hand at the end of the month amounted to 363,962,000 yards, representing an increase of 2% during the month. Unfilled orders on Dec. 31 were 288,956,000 yards, representing an increase of 13.3% during the month. During the year 1930 stocks on hand decreased 97,051,000 yards, a reduction of 21%. This was taken as a clear indication of the success which has attended the efforts of many mills to keep their production in line with the reduced demand during 1930. For the first time since 1926 shipments for the year were in excess of production. The ratio of shipments to production for 1930 was 103.4% as compared with 98% in 1929, 98.4% in 1928 and 97.8% in 1927. Stocks on hand at the end of 1930 were substantially less than at the end of the two preceding years. These statistics on the manufacture and sale of standard cotton cloths are compiled from data supplied by 23 groups of manufacturers and selling agents reporting through the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York and the Cotton-Textile Institute, Inc. The groups cover upwards of 300 classifications or constructions of standard cotton cloths and represent a large part of the production of these fabrics in the United States.

The Danville (Va.) textile strike which began Sept. 29 and involved 4,000 members of the United Textile Workers came to a conclusion on Jan. 29 with a statement issued by Francis J. Gorman, Vice-President of the organization, in which he contended that the Riverside & Dan River Cotton Mills in taking back to work members of the union thus "respected" the union and that therefore there was no reason for a strike to continue. A despatch from Danville to the New York "Journal of Commerce" said it was a hollow victory for the union, with no concession granted on the stretchout complaint, no restoration of wages, that existed prior to a 10% wage cut and without formal recognition by the mills of the principle of collective bargaining.

Raw silk prices showed further improvement and Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted Jan. 31 at $2.85@$2.95 a yard, as against $2.60@$2.70 Dec. 31, $2.40@$2.45 on Nov. 29, and also on Oct. 31; $2.35@$2.45, Sept. 30; $2.95@$3.00 on Aug. 29; $2.85@$2.95, July 31; $3.10@$3.15, June 30; $3.90@$3.95, May 31; $4.10@$4.15, Apr. 30, and $4.70@$4.75, Jan. 31 1930. In the 20-22 deniers, Japanese crack double extra were quoted at $2.85@$2.90 Jan. 31, against $2.70@$2.75, Dec. 31; $2.30@$2.35 on Nov. 29; $2.25@$2.30 on Oct. 31, and also on Sept. 30; $2.65@$2.70, Aug. 29; $2.70@$2.75, July 31; $2.85@$2.90, June 30; $3.75@$3.80, May 31; $4.10@$4.15, April 30, and $4.60@$4.65 on Jan. 31 1930.

A reduction in rayon prices, effective Jan. 9, of from 15 to 35 cents a pound, or up to 20% as compared with previous quotations, was announced on Jan. 8 by the Viscose Co., the largest producer of rayon in this country.

New price levels for its rayon yarns, bringing them in line with those established by the Viscose Co., were announced Jan. 10 by the du Pont Rayon Co., second largest American producer of synthetic yarns. It also announced the adoption of the 90-day-from-date-of-invoice and the rebate system inaugurated by Viscose. Reductions ranged from 15c. to 45c., the latter being on its 50 denier 20 filament coned super extra yarn, which was changed to $1.75 and was formerly quoted at $2.20. Second quality coned super extra yarns were eliminated in the new list.

Crude rubber continued depressed and again moved lower with ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery quoted at 7¾@8c. on Jan. 31 against 8⅜@8½c. on Dec. 31; 9@9⅛c., Nov. 29; 8⅝@8⅞c., Oct. 31; 7⅜@7½c., Sept. 30; 9⅝@9¾c., Aug. 29; 10⅜@10½c., July 31; 12@12⅜c., June 30; 13¾@14c., May 31; 14@14¼c., April 30; 15½@15¾c., March 31, and 15¾@15⅞c., Feb. 28 1930. Announcements of sweeping cuts in retail tire prices were made on Jan. 12 by three of the largest Akron rubber companies.

The General Tire & Rubber Co. announced a reduction of 7½ to 12% on all passenger tires, but said no cut in truck tire prices had been made or was contemplated.

The B. F. Goodrich Co. issued a statement saying that it "has revised its tire price schedule to meet the reductions announced the previous week by competitive companies."

Official confirmation was obtained of the cut of 6½ to 12% credited to the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

The Seiberling Rubber Co. announced slashes on all tires of the mail-order grade, but stated higher-priced lines would be practically undisturbed. Further advices from Akron, Jan. 13, said that the India Tire & Rubber Co. and the Mohawk Rubber Co. had joined the list of Akron tire corporations slashing retail prices 6½ to 12%.

On Jan. 14 the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced that it had made adjustments in tire prices to its dealers to enable them to meet tire price reductions by other companies. Some of the tire manufacturers have reduced prices from 6½ to 12%.

In the grain markets the Federal Farm Board succeeded in holding up the price of wheat in the options to which it was extending support, and the July option for the new crop, in which the Board was not carrying on operations, after moving up sharply the first business day of the month also retained its advance the rest of the month. At Winnipeg also prices were somewhat higher, but, as in the case of the July option at Chicago, prices ruled away below the near options at Chicago, to which the Farm Board was extending support. The March option at Chicago against an opening price on Jan. 2 of 79¾c. closed Jan. 31 at 79½c. and in the interval sold as high as 83½c. Jan. 15. The May option for wheat in Chicago closed Jan. 31 at 82⅝c. as against an opening price Jan. 2 of 81½c. On Jan. 15 this option sold as high as 86⅛c. July wheat at Chicago closed Jan. 31 at 65¾c. which compares with the opening price Jan. 2 of 62¾c. May wheat at Winnipeg which opened Jan. 2 at 54¾c., closed Jan. 31 at 58⅛c. In corn a sharp decline occurred following a brisk rise in the early part of the month. March corn in Chicago sold up from 66⅜c. Jan. 2 to 73¼c. Jan. 7, but from this figure tumbled to 61⅞ Jan. 31 notwithstanding that the 1930 corn crop in the United States was the smallest of any year since 1901. Oats prices at Chicago fluctuated within narrow limits, with the March option quoted at 32⅛c. Jan. 31 against the opening price Jan. 2 of 31¾c. A feature of the corn market was that corn displaced wheat in the Chicago grain pit on account of the operations of the Farm Board, which remained in absolute control of the situation and whose dealings of course were secret. Accordingly speculation in wheat died out and corn was taken up instead. A Chicago dispatch Jan. 7 to the New York "Times" reported the change as follows:

Wheat, which has ruled as monarch of the Chicago Board of Trade grain pits for 10 years, to-day lost its throne to the hitherto less conspicuous fellow-ruler, corn. On Monday next corn and wheat traders will exchange pits. The directors of the Board of Trade announced the transfer this morning.

The move was forced because the speculative interest in corn on the Board of Trade has increased 100% of late as a result of the decreased interest in the wheat market, which is controlled largely by Federal Farm Board trading agencies. There are no government restrictions on corn, hence it has come to the fore, transactions in it being nearly three times larger than wheat, while usually it is the reverse.

Coffee prices continued depressed. No. 7 Rio in this market was quoted at 6¾c. Jan. 31, against 7¼@7½c. Dec. 31; 7½c., Nov. 29; 8½c. on Oct. 31; 7⅜@7½c. on Sept. 30; 6¼@6½c., Aug. 29; 7½c., July 31, and 8¾c. at the end of June. No. 7 Santos, Jan. 31, was 8¾@9c., against 8¾@9¼c. Dec. 31; 10@10½c., Nov. 29; 11@11¼c., Oct. 31; 10¼@11c., Sept. 30; 8¾@9¼c., Aug. 29, and at 10@10½c. July 31, as well as on June 30.

Sugar prices moved higher as a result of the conclusion of the Chadbourne scheme for restricting exports and production. Cuban raw sugar which Dec. 31 sold at 1.24@1.25c. touched 1.40c. Jan. 10, then sold at 1.38c. Jan. 14, recovered to 1.42c. Jan. 20 after which there was a sale the next day at 1.40c. The wholesale price of refined sugar in this market was advanced to 4.70c. at all the leading refineries on Jan. 8 as against the previous price of 4.55c. which had been in effect since Dec. 22.

Thomas L. Chadbourne officially announced on Jan. 9 that final settlement with Germany to enter the international sugar agreement was made on the basis of a 1,750,000 tons export quota for the period of five years in which the Chadbourne plan will be in effect. The original figure offered to Germany was 1,000,000 tons. The difference of 750,000 tons will be taken care of to the extent of 575,000 tons by Cuba, while the remaining 175,000 tons would be forced, it was stated, upon the European beet producers. The text of Mr. Chadbourne's cable to Senator Gutierrez of Cuba was as follows:

Subject to approval by the German producers which will be obtained at Monday's meeting I have verbally agreed on the export quota of 500,000 tons for the first year, 350,000 tons the second year and 300,000 tons for the third, fourth and fifth years, totaling 1,750,000 tons, which is an increase of 750,000 tons over the original proposal to Germany.

The split-up of the 750,000 tons provides that Cuba restricts further 575,000 tons, the rest out of Brussel's quota to other beet producing countries. Cuba's total exportation for the first year of new and old crop sugars will be 3,455,000 tons, second year 3,605,000 and the third to fifth years 3,755,000 tons.

Cuba's Exports.

Cuba's exports in 1932 and 1933 will be increased by the total consumption increase in the United States. During the years 1934 and 1935, it will be increased by half the increase in consumption in the United States, plus Cuban consumption of 150,000 tons annually and taking into consideration the liquidation of the segregated stocks of 300,000 tons yearly. This will represent a crop of 3,305,000 tons in the first year, 3,455,000 tons the second year and 3,505,000 tons in the third, fourth and fifth years.

In addition the first year we may be able to manufacture the difference between the sugar received this year by the National Sugar Export Corp. (last reported 1,325,000 tons) and the total of 1,500,000 tons. Besides the crop will be increased to provide Cuba's share of consumption increase in the United States.

Associated Press advices from Paris, Jan. 17, reported the signing of the agreement as follows:

Representatives of producers in seven great sugar-producing countries to-day concluded an agreement for what amounts to virtual world restriction of production.

The signatory powers were Cuba, the Netherlands, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Germany and Belgium. Thomas L. Chadbourne, representing Cuban and American interests, who negotiated the agreement, said that discussions with producers in Russia, Japan, Great Britain and the Argentine would soon be initiated and that it was hoped to bring these nations also into an accord, which he declared would solve the problems of the planter without increasing the price of sugar to the consumer.

Shortly after signature of the agreement was announced Mr. Chadbourne received a cablegram from the Cuban government conveying the congratulations of President Machado on the success of the negotiations and declaring that the conclusion of an accord was the most important event for Cuba since that nation had acquired independence. The agreement is to run for five years.

The Jan. 22 issue of the "Wall Street Journal" also contained the following Havana advices:

President Machado has signed a decree outlining provisions with respect to sugar exports to the United States and to other countries, in accordance with the Chadbourne-Gutierrez plan of last November. The decree is to be effective from the date of publication.

Among other things, it provides that all sugar exported to the United States from Jan. 1 1931, be charged to the individual quota set apart for each mill. Exports to countries other than the United States will be handled on a similar basis.

A cablegram from Havana, Jan. 21, to the New York "Times" contained the following additional details:

Cuba's sugar output for 1931 will not exceed 3,000,000 tons. Exports to the United States are to be limited by a Presidential decree to 2,605,000 tons, according to an announcement made to-day by the Board of Directors of the National Sugar Exporting Corp., which was created under the provisions of the Chadbourne-Gutierrez sugar plan to control sugar manufacturing and exportation during the next five years.

An estimate of the average production of each mill for the past three years will be the basis for the allocation of the quota that mill shall grind this year so as not to exceed the total output, the corporation announces. The directors are still working on legal matters in connection with the proposed issuance of bonds in guarantee of sugar delivered by producers to the corporation recently to make possible the elimination from the world market of 1,500,000 tons of the Cuban product, one of the features of the Chadbourne plan for world stabilization of the industry.

THE JANUARY FINANCING OF THE UNITED STATES TREASURY.

An offering of a total of $60,000,000, "or thereabouts," of 90-day Treasury bills to be sold on a discount basis to the highest bidders, was announced by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon on the evening of Sunday, Jan. 25. Tenders for the same were received up to 2 p. m. Eastern Standard time on Friday, Jan. 30. The new bills were offered in two series, each for the amount of $30,000,000, "or thereabouts," —one to be dated Feb. 3 1931 and to mature May 4 1931, and the other to be dated Feb. 4 1931 and to mature May 5 1931. It was specifically stated that "bidders would not be required or permitted to bid for a particular series, but the Treasury will apportion each accepted bid equally between the two series insofar as the minimum denomination of $1,000 will permit." At maturity the face amount of the bills, as in the case of all Treasury bills sold on a discount basis, is payable without interest. The bills were exempt, as all bills now are, from the surtaxes, as well as the normal income taxes, and were, in fact, exempt from all forms of taxation, Federal and State, excepting only estate and inheritance taxes. Any gain from the sale or other disposition of the bills is likewise exempt under an Act of Congress approved in June 1930.

This offering of bills was again an unqualified success, fortified as it was by every species of tax exemption, and the low income basis upon which the Treasury was able to dispose of its offering reflected the profound ease prevailing in the money market. During the course of the month market rates for bankers' acceptances in this city had been reduced four separate times, ⅛% each time, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York had likewise adjusted its buying rate for acceptances by following the downward movement of market rates for acceptances, and at the time of the closing of subscriptions for the new Treasury bills this buying rate was only 1½% per annum on bills running from 1 to 45 days, and 1⅝% for bills running from 46 to 120 days—by far the lowest during the existence of the Federal Reserve System. The subscriptions for the new bills aggregated $327,805,000. The highest bid received was 99.782, equivalent to an interest rate of about ⅞ of 1% on an annual basis. The lowest bid accepted was 99.753, equivalent to an interest rate of about 1% on an annual basis. The total amount of bids accepted was just $60,000,000, and this was equally apportioned between the two series. The average price of the bids accepted was 99.763, making the average rate on a bank discount basis about 0.95%—that is, less than 1% per annum—illustrating in a striking manner the extreme plentitude of short-term funds and likewise the distrust and loss of confidence prevailing in the financial world under which there is a marked disinclination to invest in long-term funds and to prefer short-term funds instead. The last previous sale of Treasury bills was on Nov. 13 1930, when subscriptions were invited for a total of $125,000,000 of bills running 91 days, and when tenders were received to an aggregate of $568,280,000, while $127,455,000 of subscriptions were accepted, the average price of the bills allotted being 99.564, or an average on a bank discount basis of 1.72% per annum. This last constituted the best price obtained up to that time on any sale of Treasury bills. The average now obtained of only about 0.95% per annum of course far surpasses this average of 1.72% obtained two months before, in November.

THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING JANUARY 1931.

On a moderate volume of business the stock market in the opening month of the new year made a quiet display of strength, and following the upward reaction that marked the closing days of December an irregular further rise occurred. But, while the trend was upward, the rise was by no means continuous, either in the case of individual stocks or as far as the market as a whole is concerned. The rising tendency was attended by not a few downward reactions, and there were periods of distinct weakness, days of declining prices being interspersed with the series of days that had net gains to their credit. Taking the 50 stocks that form the basis of the averages so long compiled by the New York "Times," there were net gains on 14 days and net losses on 12 days, and there was an advance in the case of these 50 stocks from a low of 142.75 on Jan. 2 to a high of 156.49 on Jan. 30, with the close on Jan. 31 at 153.41. The rise extended to both the railroad list and to the industrial group, though the railroads exhibited more sustained strength than the industrial group. The 25 railroad stocks advanced from a low of 80.08 Jan. 2 to a high of 93.39 on Jan. 27, with the close Jan. 31 at 91.93. The average for the 25 industrial stocks, on the other hand, rose from a low of 205.43 on Jan. 2 to 222.17 Jan. 9, then tumbled back to a new low of 203.97 Jan. 19, or lower than the low figure at the beginning of the month, but then advanced again to 220.62 Jan. 30, with the close Jan. 31 at 214.90. The irregularity here shown in the course of the industrial stocks reflects accurately the conflicting influences which were the conspicuous feature of the month, and which served to cause considerable irregularity in the price movements of individual stock as news came to hand bearing on the income and condition of such stock.

Many developments made it plain that liquiation in the general market had been thorough and complete, in the culminating breakdown in the stock market which occurred in December, and that in this circumstance there existed a substantial basis for a brisk recovery from the extreme low levels then reached, or, in other words, that in the great collapse which then took place prices had perhaps been carried lower than was justified by the intrinsic merit of the different properties. On the other hand, however, now that the year 1930 was closed, there were bound to be unpleasant revelations as to the extent to which many properties had suffered reductions of business and profits, and disappointment, in addition, in many cases as to the recovery in trade and industry which could now be counted upon. As it happened, these revelations of losses sustained in 1930 by reason of the depression in trade and industry came aplenty as the returns of corporate results for the calendar year made their appearance, and what was especially noteworthy, they were accompanied by dividend reductions and suspensions which put a different light upon the values of the properties concerned than conclusions based upon the much more favorable results that marked the income statements for the previous calendar year when industrial activity was at its height. One conspicuous instance of how revenues had shrunk was furnished in the case of the income statement of the United States Steel Corp. for the December quarter of 1930, which was made public after the close of business on Tuesday, Jan. 27. This showed that this great industrial undertaking had earned only 70c. a share on its common stock for that quarter in 1930, as against $4.14 in the corresponding quarter of 1929, and that after the payment of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾% on the common shares a deficiency of $9,144,897 appeared, as against a surplus of $19,126,425 in the last three months of 1929. This, too, was after the inclusion in the 1930 results of a special item of non-recurring income for $3.695,426. With this eliminated, the earnings on the stock were only 27c. a share. For the full calendar year 1930 the company, of course, made a much better exhibit, showing more than the full 7% dividends earned even after elimination of special income receipts of $10,901,555. But, of course, the important point was the state of things at the close of the year, as best indicative of current prospects. Other instances of heavy losses of income came to hand, and, as already said, dividend reductions and dividend omissions were accompanying features.

The market opened strong on Friday, Jan. 2, and a further sharp upturn occurred in continuation of the brisk recovery which had marked the closing days of December. The railroad list manifested particular strength, and during the whole of the early part of the month led in the general upward movement. A favorable view was taken of the action of the Eastern trunk lines in reaching an agreement for apportioning the mileage in their territory among the four great trunk line systems, namely, the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Nickel Plate-Chesapeake & Ohio—this not only on its own account, but because it was looked upon as a prelude to mergers in other parts of the country. The advance of the railroad stocks carried the general market up with it. However, in the case of the industrial stocks fluctuations were governed largely by developments relating to the individual properties. Thus the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. shares were temporarily strong on the announcement that the regular quarterly dividends of $1.25 on the common stock and $1.75 on the preferred stock had been declared. After the meeting, however, statements appeared that the common stock dividend had not been fully earned, though mainly because of year-end inventory adjustments, and then the stocks fell off again. Later in the month reductions in tire prices made the rubber stocks particularly weak. The sugar stocks gained strength from the news that Germany had arranged to give its adhesion to the Chadbourne plan for sugar restriction, insuring the carrying out of this restriction plan. As the month progressed there were unfavorable developments of one kind or another which served to hold the upward movement in check, as far as the general market was concerned, and to bring about sharp declines in special stocks. Thus the oil stocks suffered by reason of the marking down of oil prices in the Mid-Continent and other areas and by the appointment of a receiver for the Richfield Oil Co. of California. A big falling off shown in an estimate of the profits of the Texas Corp. for the calendar year 1930, which appeared at this time, operated to the same end. Cuts in the prices of chemicals in the alkali group, which had been acting to the detriment of the chemical stocks for some time, appeared to have been halted, but the chemical stocks, nevertheless, suffered sharp breaks, Allied Chemical & Dye being especially conspicuous in that respect. This stock dropped from 179½ Jan. 7 to 153½ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 21 at 156¼. Other stocks also displayed weakness because of circumstances relating to themselves. Thus Gillette Safety Razor was under pressure owing to rumors of a probable reduction in the dividend, and this stock, which in January of the previous year sold as high as 106⅛, after rising during the current month from 21⅛ Jan. 2 to 28 Jan. 12, fell back again and closed Jan. 31 at 24⅝. United States Steel was more or less depressed the latter part of the month, notwithstanding that trade reports showed slowly reviving activity in the steel trale, and notwithstanding that President James A. Farrell, in an address at Chicago, on Monday, Jan. 19, declared quite confidently that the country had seen the worst of the prevailing business depression. The weakness in the stock of the Steel Corp. was due to advance calculations as to the unfavorable results that were to appear in the quarterly statement of the company to be submitted on Jan. 27.

The closing week of the month was especially marked by adverse developments. On Monday, Jan. 26, there came news that the Stewart Warner Corp. had omitted the dividend on its common stock; on Tuesday, Jan. 27, it was announced that the Studebaker Corp. had placed its common stock on an $1.20 annual dividend basis against $3.00 per annum previously paid. On Wednesday, Jan. 28, the directors of the Wabash Railway deferred action on the preferred A dividend and the preferred B. This last had an unfavorable effect on the railroad list generally, which previously had manifested considerable strength, as noted above. The U. S. Steel statement for the December quarter was given out after the close of business on Tuesday, Jan. 27, but appeared to have little influence one way of the other on the price of the stock the next day, as the statement proved in line with the estimates previously made. The most important event, however, at this time, in its influence on the market, was the fear that Congress would pass the bonus bill providing for the cashing of the adjusted service certificates held by the World War veterans, and which would require the issuance of $3,400,000,000 of United States bonds. The developments with respect to that event came very fast, and on Wednesday, Jan. 28, as a result, all the different issues of United States Government securities suffered sharp declines on what was termed selling by the banks. This depression in the Government bond market weakened bonds generally, and the whole had a bad effect on the stock market, though on Thursday, Jan. 29, after further depression in the morning, there came an upward reaction in the afternoon, stimulated by a rise in the stock of Montgomery Ward & Co., occasioning buying induced by the marked improvement in the company's earnings for the final months of 1930. The annual report of the company showed net earnings for the last quarter of 1930 of $3,417,202, which was sufficient to wipe out the deficits for each of the preceding three quarters of the year and leave a net profit of $423,211 after taxes, which, however, compared with the net profit for 1929 of $13,434,935. The rise in Montgomery Ward stimulated buying in the other mail order issues, and the advance in the mail order stocks carried the whole market upward, so that most of the losses of the early morning were recovered in the afternoon nearly all through the list. On Jan. 30 the recovery was carried further, sharp advances occurring in a number of special stocks, but this was followed on Saturday, Jan. 31, by a decidedly reactionary market. The money market remained extremely easy, the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange never deviating from 1½%, with loans obtainable outside the Exchange as low as 1%.

Some stocks distinguished themselves for sharp advances. Thus Auburn Automobile rose from 101½ Jan. 14 to 148 Jan. 30, and closed Jan. 31 at 138½. As far as the ordinary market leaders are concerned, United States Steel, after opening Jan. 2 at 139¾, sold down on that day to 137⅞, then advanced to 145 Jan. 9, after which, however, it suffered a sharp setback, and closed Jan. 31 at 139¼. Bethlehem Steel, after opening Jan. 2 at 51, touched 54⅛ Jan. 9, then dropped to 45⅝ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 31 at 50⅜. American Tel. & Tel., from 176½ Jan. 2, rose to 190¼ Jan. 27, and closed Jan. 31 at 187⅜. General Electric, after opening at 44⅛ Jan. 2, advanced to 47 Jan. 7, then declined to 41⅜ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 31 at 44. American Can, after opening Jan. 2 at 110½, rose to 115¾ Jan. 7, then dropped to 106¼ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 31 at 110½. Anaconda Copper, from 29¾ Jan. 2, advanced to 34⅞ Jan. 23, and then, as it appeared that the price of the metal, copper, was being shaded, fell back, and closed Jan. 31 at 33. Kennecott Copper, after advancing from 22½ Jan. 2 to 26½ Jan. 23, fell back and closed at 23¾ Jan. 31. General Motors rose from 35¼ Jan. 2 to 38⅞ Jan. 26, and closed Jan. 31 at 38. International Harvester sold up from 48 Jan. 16 to 54⅛ Jan. 30, and closed Jan. 31 at 51¾. Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing, after opening Jan. 2 at 91⅜, rose to 95⅝ Jan. 3, dropped back to 82⅜ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 31 at 84⅜. Montgomery Ward & Co. advanced from 15¾ Jan. 2 to 20⅞ Jan. 30, and closed Jan. 31 at 19⅞. Sears, Roebuck & Co. moved up from 44⅞ Jan. 2 to 51⅞ Jan. 29, and closed Jan. 31 at 50⅝. Studebaker Corp. declined from 24⅞ Jan. 9 to 20½ Jan. 29, and closed Jan. 31 at 21. Radio Corp. of America rose from 12 Jan. 2 to 16¼ Jan. 30, and closed Jan. 31 at 15¼. North American advanced from 62 Jan. 2 to 72⅜ Jan. 24, and closed Jan. 30 at 70½. Pacific Gas & Electric, opening Jan. 2 at 46, touched 50 Jan. 7, dropped to 45¼ Jan. 15, and closed Jan. 31 at 46. In the railroad list Atchison sold up from 178⅛ Jan. 2 to 197⅜ Jan. 26, and closed Jan. 31 at 192¾. New York Central advanced from 113 Jan. 2 to 127 Jan. 26, and closed Jan. 31 at 123½. Baltimore & Ohio moved up from 68⅛ Jan. 2 to 82 Jan. 26, and closed Jan. 31 at 79⅛. Rock Island rose from 47¼ Jan. 2 to 65½ Jan. 27, and closed Jan. 31 at 60½ bid and 62 asked. St. Louis-San Francisco advanced from 43 Jan. 2 to 62¾ Jan. 27, with the close Jan. 31 55 bid and 58½ asked. Louisville & Nashville, from 90⅛ Jan. 2, spurted up to 109¼ Jan. 31. New Haven rose from 75 Jan. 2 to 91 Jan. 9, with the close Jan. 31 87½ bid and 90 asked, and Union Pacific rose from 179¾ Jan. 2 to 198 Jan. 26, with the close Jan. 31 at 197.

Trading, as already stated, was of moderate volume. On the New York Stock Exchange the sales for the month aggregated 42,423,343 shares, which compares with 58,764,402 shares in December, and with 62,308,290 shares in January 1930, 110,805,940 shares in January 1929, 56,919,395 shares in 1928, and with 34,275,410 shares in January 1927. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales totaled only 9,348,900 shares in January 1931 against 16,108,800 shares in January 1930 and 43,546,800 shares in January 1929. The bond market developed growing strength up to the last week of the month, when the agitation in Congress for cashing the adjusted service certificates of the war veterans began to attract public notice. It appeared from the testimony of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mellon, that this would involve the issuance of $3,400,000,000 of new United States bonds. Holders of the outstanding issues of United States Government bonds immediately became apprehensive and began disposing of their holdings, with the result that prices of Government bonds broke badly. Recognizing that if Government bonds were to sell at lower levels, there would be a readjustment of bond values generally, the general bond market also suffered severe losses. The extent of the losses in the United States issues has been shown in a table in the earlier part of this article. To indicate the decline in bonds generally the last few days of January we give the following table:

THE MONEY MARKET DURING JANUARY 1931.

The ease in the money market was further accentuated in the opening month of the new year, as it was bound to be with the mercantile demand for accommodation almost entirely absent, with Stock Exchange borrowing still undergoing further contraction, and with the return flow of money from the interior sections of the country and likewise the release of money from holiday circulation and with the New York Reserve Bank further lowering its buying rate for bankers' acceptances as market rates for acceptances kept moving steadily downward, this buying rate being on Monday, Jan. 26, cut to only 1½% per annum on bills running from 1 to 45 days, and to 1⅝% for bills running from 46 to 120 days—rates previously unknown. In addition, in New York City and throughout other parts of the United States, the banks had the use of the large Government deposits growing out of the sale of Treasury certificates of indebtedness made the previous Dec. 9, when the allotments aggregated $428,322,000. As previously stated, and as is well known, it is the practice of the United States Treasury to leave the proceeds of the sales of certificates on deposit with the banks through whom or on behalf of which the subscriptions are made, and to draw these Government deposits down only as needed from time to time. There is a distinct advantage in the holding of such Government deposits in the fact that the banks are not required to maintain any reserves against the same. At the time of the sale of these certificates in December the aggregate of these Government deposits reached $309,972,400, of which $79,291,900 was held by the banks in the New York Federal Reserve District. At the end of January $128,360,900 of these Government deposits still remained on deposit with the banks throughout the country, of which $32,603,200 was on deposit in the New York Federal Reserve District. The "Monthly Review" of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, in its issue for Feb. 2 1931, had the following to say:

"In January the surplus of funds in the New York money market was larger and more continuous than at any time in a number of years. The immediate cause was a reversal of the currency movement of the previous month. In the five weeks from Dec. 24 to Jan. 28 the return flow of currency into the Reserve Banks totaled $470,000,000, which is slightly more than the usual seasonal movement.

"During this period two distinct tendencies were discernible. In the final week of December and the first few days of January some continuation of unsettled banking conditions was reflected in a less rapid return flow of currency from holiday circulation than is usual for the time of year, indicating that, although obscured by the seasonal retirement of currency, some further withdrawals of deposits from the banks were taking place. After the first week of January there was evidence of more stable banking conditions and a gradual restoration of public confidence which appeared in a more than seasonal flow of currency into the Reserve Banks. Near the end of the month it appeared, however, that the retirement of the extra currency which was called into use in December was still far from complete. A gain of about $43,500,000 of gold, including imports and gold released from earmark, was a supplementary factor making for easier money conditions in January.

"The accumulation of surplus funds in New York is a development rarely encountered in recent years, but typical of periods of serious business recession. Lower commodity prices and reduced payrolls lead, at such times, to reductions in the amount of currency in circulation and the pouring into New York of funds seeking employment. This tendency is accentuated when apprehension limits the types of employment of funds which banks and other investors are willing to make."

Somewhat of a disturbing element was introduced in the closing days of the month by the agitation in Congress of the proposal to pay in cash the adjusted service certificates held by the World War veterans and to raise the funds for so doing by the issuance of $3,400,000,000 of new United States bonds, but the effect of this was felt chiefly in the bond market rather than in the money market, all Government bond issues declining sharply as a result, and the general bond market also receding in marked degree. As a matter of fact, about the only effect in the money market was to cause a marking up of ⅛% in the rates for bankers' acceptances on Thursday, Jan. 29, after these rates had previously during the month been lowered ⅛% four separate times.

As far as call loans are concerned, the slight flurry in rates which occurred at the close of December was not prolonged into January. Renewals, it is true, on Jan. 2 (the first business day of the new year) were at 3%, but almost immediately thereafter the rate for new loans dropped to 1½%, and this last remained the rate unaltered the remainder of the month on the Stock Exchange, both on new loans and for renewals, there being never any deviation from the 1½% figure on all the remaining days of the month. Outside the Stock Exchange even greater ease prevailed. There was a constant overflow of funds from the Stock Exchange to this outside market, and loans were all the time obtainable at a concession of a full ½%, or at the rate of only 1% a year. Time loans on the Stock Exchange also reflected a pronounced state of ease, and rates, already extremely low, were further marked down during the month, in many cases to the lowest figures ever recorded. As a matter of fact, however, there was little or no demand for time loans, for the double reason that borrowing on security collateral kept steadily diminishing, and that money could be obtained in other branches of the market on more advantageous terms. At the opening of the month quotations were 2@2¼% for 30-day money, 2¼@2½% per annum for 60 days, and also for 90 days; 2½@2¾% for four months, and 2¾@3% for five and six months. At the close of the month the quotations were 1⅜@1½% for 30-day money, 1½@1¾% for 60 days (after the rate at one time had been at the single figure of 1½%), 1¾@2% for 90-day accommodation (after the range had been 1½@2%), 2@2¼% for four months (after the single rate of 2% had at one time prevailed), and 2¼@2½% for five months and for six months. The trifling deviation to slightly higher levels for some of the maturities in the closing days of the month may have been due to the unsettled feeling regarding the future caused by discussion of the soldiers bonus proposition involving the issuance of $3,400,000,000 of new United States bonds. In the case of commercial paper the demand for prime paper in the open market continued brisk throughout the month, but satisfactory paper was in short supply, and this reduced the volume of transactions. Rates for choice names for four to six months' maturity dropped at the close of the month to 2½@2¾%, which the New York Federal Reserve Bank says is the lowest figure since 1894, while names less well known were 3@3¼%. With reference to the supply of paper, the New York Federal Reserve Bank, in its "Monthly Review," observed that "the amount of new paper that came into the market as the result of commercial and industrial concerns' needs for funds was reported to have been somewhat less than is usually expected at this time of the year, but there was some increase in the supply compared with December, when an unusually large amount of open market commercial borrowing was paid off. In that month the amount of paper outstanding through 21 dealers was reduced 20% to $357,000,000 on the 31st, and at that figure was only 7% larger than a year previous, following much larger year-to-year increases in preceding months of 1930."

There was no abatement in the demand for prime bank acceptances in the open market, but the supply of paper was at all times far below market requirements, this following in good part from the fact that many banks retained in their portfolios, for their own investment, bills which they had accepted for their customers. In this state of things rates for acceptances were reduced ⅛% four separate times during the month, first on Jan. 2, then on Jan. 13, then on Jan. 20, and finally on Jan. 23, in each case in both the bid and the asked columns and for all maturities, these being the lowest figures on record. This left the rates only 1½% bid and 1⅝% asked for bills running 30 days, 60 days, and 90 days; 1⅝% bid and 1½% asked for 120 days, and 1¾% bid and 1⅝% asked for 150 days and 180 days—rates which never before had even been closely approached. On Thursday, Jan. 29, however, owing to the unsettlement occasioned by the proposition to issue $3,400,000,000 of United States bonds to provide the means for taking up in cash the adjusted service certificates held by the World War veterans and not due until 1945, rates for acceptances were advanced ⅛% all around. In the early part of the month the New York Federal Reserve Bank held its buying rate for acceptances unchanged at 1¾% for bills of all maturities. On Friday, Jan. 23, the Reserve Bank marked down its buying rate from 1¾% to 1⅝%, this, however, applying only to acceptances running from 1 to 15 days, and on Monday, Jan. 26, further reduced to 1½% in the case of bills running from 1 to 45 days, and to 1⅝% in the case of bills running from 46 to 120 days. With the demand for acceptances so brisk, however, and with so many of the banks retaining in their own portfolios the bills which they had accepted, bills were tendered to the Federal Reserve Banks in greatly diminished volume, with the result of heavily reducing the acceptance holdings of the Reserve institutions. The 12 Reserve Banks reported, on Jan. 28, an aggregate of only $120,241,000 of acceptances, as against $363,844,000 on Dec. 31 1930. Their holdings of acceptances, however, for their foreign correspondents, after greater or smaller fluctuations from week to week, were somewhat larger at $442,435,000 Jan. 28 compared with $439,288,000 Dec. 31. In its monthly report, issued on Jan. 16, the American Acceptance Council reported the volume of bankers' acceptances outstanding on Dec. 31 1930 at $1,555,966,201. This was a reduction of $15,451.473 from the total shown on Nov. 29, and was $176,470,187 below the record total of $1,732,436,388 reached 12 months before, on Dec. 31 1929.

Following the reduction, on Dec. 24, of the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from 2½% to 2%, and the subsequent reduction at Cleveland from 3½% to 3%, several of the other Reserve institutions also reduced their rates during the month of January. As a matter of fact, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston announced on Dec. 31 that its rate would be lowered on Jan. 2 1931 from 3% to 2½%. On Jan. 7 the St. Louis Reserve Bank announced that its rate world be lowered on Jan. 8 from 3½% to 3%. On Jan. 8 the San Francisco Reserve Bank announced a similar reduction from 3½% to 3%, effective Jan. 9, and on Jan. 9 the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank and the Atlanta Reserve Bank also gave notice of a reduction from 3½% to 3%, effective Jan. 10. At the end of January the rate at New York was 2%, at Boston 2½%, at Cleveland, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, and San Francisco 3%, and at Philadelphia, Richmond, Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Dallas 3½%.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS.

Brokers' loans continued their downward course during January, and without any interruption to the downward movement from week to week. In the week ending Jan. 7 the reduction was $47,000,000; in the week ending Jan. 14, $59,000,000; in the week ending Jan. 21, $63,000.000, and in the week ending Jan. 28, $23,000,000, making $192,000,000 for the four weeks combined, and reducing the total of these loans (according to the returns of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York) from $1,926,000,000 to $1,734,000,000. In fact, with the exception of a single week, the amount of these loans has been uninterruptedly shrinking for 18 successive weeks, during which period the total has fallen from $3,222,000,000, reported for both Sept. 17 and Sept. 24, to $1,734,000,000. In other words, there has been a reduction during this period of almost 1½ billion dollars, or, in exact figures, $1,488,000,000. The reduction has extended to loaning in all the different categories—that is, to loans made by the reporting member banks in New York City for their own account, to those for out-of-town banks, and to loans "for account of others." During the four weeks of January, however, as an exception to the rule, loans for the out-of-town banks increased from $235.000,000 Dec. 31 to $328,000,000 Jan. 28. In this same period of four weeks loans for own account fell from $1,321,000,000 to $1,089,000,000, and loans "for account of others" from $370,000,000 to $317,000,000.

The monthly Stock Exchange figures regarding broker borrowing show the same uninterrupted contraction—extending back, in fact, over the whole of the past nine months. During January there was a further decrease in Stock Exchange borrowing in amount of $173.267,572. This came after $268,636,112 decrease in December and $393,875,085 decrease in November, $925,328,674 decrease in October, $117,180,308 decrease in September, $90,849,228 decrease in August, $38,228.992 decrease in July, $1,020,120,623 decrease in June, and $315,299,447 decrease in May, making the total contraction for the nine months $3,342,786,041 and leaving the amount of borrowing Jan. 31 at only $1,720,345,318 against $5,063,131,359 April 30.

In the operations of the Reserve Banks themselves, as distinguished from those of the member banks, the feature during January was the reduction in the volume of Reserve credit outstanding, following the large increase in the same which occurred during November and December as a result of the disturbed banking condition in these earlier months growing out of the bank failures in this city and elsewhere throughout the country. These failures induced the banks greatly to increase their direct borrowing by obtaining rediscounts from the Reserve institutions while in addition the Reserve Banks put out large extra amounts of Reserve credit through their open market operations in the purchase of United States Government bonds and of bankers' acceptances. In January, on the other hand, with the need for special accommodation no longer operative, the volume of Reserve credit outstanding underwent substantial reduction and under all the various headings. The total of the discounts of the 12 Reserve institutions, representing member bank borrowing, which in the last week of December had been sharply reduced (falling from $448,349,000 Dec. 24 to $251,398,000 Dec. 31), increased again to $292,385,000 Jan. 7, but thereafter steadily decreased week by week, and Jan. 28 was only $215,137,000. At the same time, holdings of acceptances fell from $363,844,000 Dec. 31 to $120,241,000 Jan. 28. Holdings of United States Government securities were also reduced, and Jan. 28 stood at $609,877,000 as against $729,467,000 on Dec. 31. The result was that the aggregate volume of Reserve credit outstanding, as measured by the total of the bill and security holdings, on Jan. 28 was only $945,405,000 as against $1,351,852,000 Dec. 31. The volume of Federal Reserve notes in circulation was correspondingly reduced, the amount falling from $1,663,538,000 Dec. 31 and $1,721,897,000 Dec. 24 to $1,478,302,000 Jan. 28. Gold reserves during the same interval increased from $2,941,219,000 Dec. 31 to $3,091,714,000 Jan. 28.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING JANUARY.

Sterling exchange was dull and irregular during January, with the fluctuations narrow, but with a tendency towards weakness most of the time. The features were the same as in the months immediately preceding, the chief of these being the continued heavy takings of gold in London for French account and the steady and large reductions in the gold holdings of the Bank of England. Chief concern was as to how to check the continued drain of gold to France and discussion was active, as in previous months, as to the best means for attaining that end. The Bank of France expressed great willingness to aid in the effort, but seemed able to accomplish little, though there were reports the latter part of the month that the French bank was buying sterling exchange in the endeavor to maintain the sterling level, and rumor had it that the New York Federal Reserve Bank was doing the same thing. The action of the Bank of France and the National Bank of Switzerland in both reducing their discount rate from 2½% to 2%, and the Bank of the Netherlands in reducing its rate from 3% to 2½%, ought to have acted to the advantage of the sterling rate, and there actually was some stiffening in sterling towards the close of the month. The most powerful influence, however, in this slight stiffening of rates, after sterling had got to a point where gold imports at New York from London became possible was the rise in open market discounts at London, the rates for which at the end of the month were 2⅜@2 7/16% in the case of short bills, and 2 7/16@2½% in the case of three months bills, as against 2¼% for both long and short bills at the beginning of the month. Whether this was the result of the action of the Bank of England in extending support to the market or followed as a result of the continued heavy withdrawals of gold from London was not altogether clear. The Bank of England reported a loss of £1,713,457 gold in the week ending Jan. 7, of another £1,407,902 in the week ending Jan. 14, still another loss of £2,288,246 in the week ending Jan. 21, and a still further loss amounting to £2,720,530 in the week ending Jan. 26, the result being that gold holdings Jan. 28 were down to only £140.141,236 as against £150,428,168 twelve months before, on Jan. 29 1930.

One development of the month was the action of the Bank of France in deciding on Jan. 13 to accept standard gold bars from England of 11/12 fineness. Previously the bank would not accept gold of less than .990 fineness. The first effect of this action was to lead to a recovery in the sterling exchange rate at Paris. The standard bars offered by the Bank of England are .91667 fine, while the Bank of France insisted on bars of a fineness of .990. Accordingly, banks shipping the metal from London were compelled to refine the gold before selling it to the Bank of France. It was not clear how this action would act to the benefit of sterling, and it was understood that the Bank of France would not accept standard gold until Feb. 1. The effect certainly is to reduce the high premium that had to be paid for francs in London, and according to some bankers the only influence on the gold situation is to lift the gold point (the figure at which gold takings are possible at a profit or without loss) along with the exchange rate. The old arrangement entailed extra expense in having the gold refined. In eliminating this item of expense the effect would appear to be to accelerate instead of retarding the outflow of the metal.

Home developments in Great Britain were not favorable to sterling, inasmuch as labor troubles developed in the coal mining districts of England and also in the cotton manufacturing districts, strikes prevailing in both. So far as these troubles reduce merchandise exports, the effect naturally would be to further increase the adverse trade balance against Great Britain, and French opinion seemed to be that Great Britain's heavy adverse trade balance was the real cause of the weakness of sterling. Cable transfers on London, as against 4.85⅝@4.85 11/16 on Jan. 2, were down to 4.85 5/16@4.85⅜ on Jan. 19, at which figures it was computed that gold could be imported to New York without loss or possibly at a slight profit, if any disposition existed at New York to engage in the movement. By Jan. 28, however, cable transfers had risen to 4.85¾, and the belief was that the further decline in market rates for bankers' acceptances at New York played some part in bringing about the improvement. After the date referred to the rates for cable transfers weakened again, the quotation Jan. 29 being down to 4.85 9/16, and the reaction was attributed partly to the advance in acceptance rates which then occurred in this market because of the unsettlement occasioned in financial circles by the agitation to pay the adjusted service certificates of the World War veterans in cash and to issue $3,400,000,000 of new United States bonds to cover the cost. Cable transfers closed on Jan. 31 at 4.85⅝@4.85 11/16. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York estimates that Paris took £10,500,000 gold from the Bank of England during the month, and in addition got the bulk of the South African gold offered in the market, amounting to £3,000,000. Withdrawals from the bank were offset in part by the reported arrival of £1,900,000 in coin from Brazil and £250,000 from South Africa.

Canadian exchange ruled at a discount all through the month of January, and large amounts of gold were received here the first half of the month, after which the movement ceased, the discount having fallen enough to make further imports of the metal no longer profitable. The gold movement to and from the United States during the month is summarized as follows by the New York Federal Reserve Bank:

"Receipts of gold from Canada amounted to $20,500,000 in the first half of January, and totaled $42,500,000 on the movement which began in December. A shipment of $5,450,000 was also received from Argentina, and $2,920,000 came here from Colombia, and $554,000 from Cuba. At San Francisco, $900.000 was imported from Japan and $675,000 from China. There was an additional gain to the country's gold stock through a decrease of $12,000,000 in gold held under earmark for foreign account. As exports were negligible, a preliminary estimate indicates a gain of about $43,500,000 of gold during January, the largest increase since April 1930. This country has continued to gain gold in all but two of the past 13 months, despite the prevalence of exceptionally low money rates here during much of the period."

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

Rates of exchange on nearly all the Continental centers of Europe sharply declined during the month, though in two or three instances some recovery ensued in the closing days of the month. Quite a number of the European central banks reduced their discount rates during the month. The Bank of France lowered its rate on Jan. 2 from 2½%, the figure in effect since May 2 1930, to 2%. The National Bank of Switzerland on Jan 23 also reduced from 2½%, the rate in force since July 11 1930, to 2%, and the Bank of the Netherlands the same day reduced from 3% to 2½%, effective Jan. 24. This last was the first change by the latter bank since Mar. 25 1930. On Jan. 23, also, the National Bank of Bulgaria reduced its rate from 10% to 9%. French francs were firm with respect to sterling, and it was claimed that the sterling-franc rate would have been still lower except for the support extended to sterling by the Bank of France. Anglo-French gold conferences were in progress with the object of halting, if not reversing, the gold movement between London and Paris, but they appeared to have accomplished little, if anything. Anxiety was still being felt in Paris as to the position of some of the French provincial banks, and there was no indication that deposits which were withdrawn from the banks during the suspension of the Banque Oustric and the collapse of the Bank Adam were returning. Paris cablegrams stated that the Bank of France authorities did not disguise their feeling that if the domestic situation alone had been considered the reduction in the Bank of France rate from 2½% to 2% would not have been opportune. The bank concluded, however, it was stated, that its primary duty was to consider the international money situation. The bank allowed it plainly to be understood that it did not wish the rate reduction to be interpreted as an encouragement to speculation, and it deserves to be noted that, despite the low discount rate, the Bank of France rate on collateral loans was left unchanged at 4½%.

Reference is made above, in our review of the sterling exchange market, to the details of the movement of gold from London to Paris, and also to the action of the Bank of France in concluding again to accept bars of gold of a fineness of .91667 instead of insisting on .990 fineness. Paris cable dispatches stated that under the change the gold point for export from London would not depend on refining costs, but that the gold export point, instead of fluctuating as it had been doing since the Bank of England stopped releasing standard bars of .995 fine, would be established at the fixed rate of 123.89 francs to the pound sterling, below which figures Paris said sterling could not fall. Governor Moret, in his address to the shareholders of the Bank of France, on Jan. 29, in explaining the large influx of gold, declared that capital flowed into France owing to two causes: first the low money rates prevailing in world centers, which have led French banks to withdraw funds from abroad whenever they were faced with heavy demand for francs; secondly, the fact that foreign capital has been attracted by the stability and security of the French currency. The Governor promised his support to all efforts to develop international short and long-term lendings, especially the latter, which constitute, he said, a normal outlet for excess French capital. The Bank of France, in its return for the week ending Jan. 10, showed an increase in gold holdings of 372,428 311 francs; for the week ending Jan. 17, an increase of 293,322,776 francs; for the week ending Jan. 24, an increase of 641,131,984 francs, and for the week ending Jan. 31, an increase of 466,000,000 francs. Cable transfers on Paris, as against 3.92 11/16 Jan. 2, were down to 3.91¾ Jan. 19, and were 3.91 15/16 Jan. 31.

The German mark suffered a sharp decline during January. Cable transfers on Berlin dropped from 23.82 Jan. 2 to 23.74¼ Jan. 19, and closed Jan. 31 at 23.76½@23.77. One reason given for this was a heavy demand from Germany for German dollar issues, which is claimed to have been a feature of the New York bond market since early in December. It is estimated that a total of $100,000,000 was purchased here in New York for German account. Germany has been experiencing a drain, it appears, on her gold and exchange reserve despite the fact that the discount rate of the Reichsbank has been maintained at 5% as a consequence of a capital exodus and a concomitant shrinkage of capital imports, the two combined having placed an increasing strain upon mark exchange. The causes of the capital flight are only partly traceable, it is claimed, to domestic conditions resulting from bad business, heavy taxation and political anxiety created by the results of the autumn elections. French funds, upon which the German mark had come to depend, have not only been removed for such reasons, but also because of the crises produced in France and by a series of bank failures. Furthermore, there has been a general withdrawal or withholding of credits by the United States due to the banking and business disturbances here. The Bank of Germany gained 164,000 marks gold the first quarter of the month; lost 117,000 marks the second quarter of the month; gained 28,530,000 marks the third quarter, and lost 130,000 marks the fourth quarter. Italian exchange was without feature, and the fluctuations in it were confined to narrow limits. On Jan. 2 the lira for cable transfers was 5.23½@5.23 11/16, and on Jan. 31, 5.23½@5.23 9/16.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the war was in nearly all cases easier, with most of the units ruling lower than at any time for some weeks past. The softness in these exchanges was ascribed to seasonal pressure, to uncertainties with regard to international money markets, and to lack of demand for money and credit in most centers, and to retarded business recovery in all markets. The Dutch guilder was particularly weak, and this was ascribed to a flow of Dutch funds to London and New York, attracted by the low level of security prices in both markets. The Bank of the Netherlands, as noted further above, reduced its discount rate from 3% to 2½%, effective Jan. 24. The guilder on cable transfers dropped from 40.26¼ Jan. 2 to 40.18¾@40.19½ Jan. 31. Swiss francs also experienced a sharp decline. The National Bank of Switzerland on Jan. 23, as already noted, reduced its discount rate from 2½% to 2%, and obviously the lower money rates go the less inducement there is for capital, home or foreign, to remain in the market affected. On cable transfers the Swiss franc was 19.32¼@19.32½ Jan. 31 against 19.38¾@19.39 on Jan. 2. The Scandinavian exchanges also all moved lower, though with a sharp upward reaction the latter part of the month. Cable transfers on Denmark dropped from 26.74 Jan. 2 to 26.71¼ Jan. 19, and recovered to 26.73¼@26.74½ Jan. 31. The Norwegian crown on cable transfers declined from 26.74½ Jan. 2 to 26.71½ Jan. 19, and was 26.73½@26.74 Jan. 31. The Swedish crown on cable transfers, as against 26.78½ Jan. 2, sold down to 26.75¾ Jan. 9, but was 26.77@26.77½ Jan. 31. The Spanish peseta continued to fluctuate widely, but, on the whole, moved lower again. The range Jan. 31 for cable transfers was 10.21@10.26 against 10.48@10.50 Jan. 2, and in the interval it sold as high as 10.70 Jan. 9, and as low as 10.11 Jan. 15.

Rates on South American points developed renewed weakness in the case of both the Argentina peso and the Brazilian milreis. The former dropped from 31.75 Jan. 2 for cable transfers to 30.00 Jan. 13, and was 30.47@30⅝ Jan. 31. The Brazilian milreis on cable transfers declined from 9.70 Jan. 2 to 8.35 Jan. 28, and was 8.50@8.75 Jan. 31. This happened notwithstanding both countries arranged for further shipments of gold to New York and London. On Jan. 7 announcement was made that the Bank of the Argentine Nation was going to ship gold to New York in order to cover the country's debt service for the three months. It was understood that approximately $15,000,000 gold would be shipped. This was after reports had reached New York that the Banco Pelotense of Pelotas, the second largest bank in the State of Rio Grand do Sul, had closed its doors. The Argentine Finance Minister announced early in the month that Conversion office gold would be available for export to support the exchange against further violent fluctuation. Foreign credits, it was stated, might be utilized for this purpose if gold exports become so heavy that "currency suffers inconvenient restriction." Argentina was known to be trying to negotiate foreign credits abroad. On Saturday, Jan. 24, announcement came that the Banco do Brazil had been granted a £6,550,000 banking credit in London by a syndicate headed by the Rothschilds. The credit was the first step toward reorganization of certain financial conditions in Brazil under advice of Sir Otto Niemeyer and is intended to supply the Banco do Brazil with foreign exchange to meet its external obligations. The credit is to be offered to banks in London, New York, Stockholm, and Geneva. The credit is guaranteed by the Brazilian Government. Brazilian Treasury bills, milreis and coffee, it is understood, have been deposited in London to form this guarantee. The milreis are deposited, it was stated, with a margin of 25% above current quotations for the exchange, to allow for possible depreciation, while the coffee portion of the guarantee was said to consist of 1,500,000 bags belonging to the central bank. The credit is to run 18 months, payable in monthly installments from the end of the seventh month. The Uruguayan peso also suffered a sharp break, selling down from 72.87 for checks Jan. 2 to 65.47 Jan. 14, with the range Jan. 31 66.35@66¾.

Exchange on the Far East suffered a further bad break, as the price of silver continued to record new low levels in all time, but rates improved somewhat as the price of silver steadied, and then moved downward again as the price of silver suffered a new slump. The Imperial Bank of India on Jan. 15 advanced its rate of discount from 6% to 7%, and the advance was ascribed to excessive weakness in rupees. The Hong Kong dollar on checks sold down from 26 11/16 Jan. 2 to 23⅜ Jan. 9, then recovered to 25 9/16 Jan. 13, broke anew to 23⅞ Jan. 19, and was 24@24 9/16 Jan. 31. The Shanghai tael went through similar gyrations, dropping from 34 7/16 Jan. 2 to 31⅛ Jan. 9, then recovered to 32¾ Jan. 13, then broke anew, touching 31 several times, and was 31¼@31⅜ Jan. 31. The Japanese yen also moved lower, notwithstanding dispatches saying that Japan was again shipping gold to the United States, and notwithstanding the strenuous measures taken by the Japanese banking authorities to support exchange all through the past year. Yen checks were 49.38@49⅝ Jan. 31 against 49.50@49⅞ Jan. 2. The price of silver in London, after being quoted at 14½d. per ounce on Jan. 2, touched 13 3/16d. Jan. 9, establishing a new low level in world's history, and then recovered to 14¼ Jan. 14, tumbled once more to 13⅝d. Jan. 16, recovered to 14 15/16d. Jan. 23, and then tumbled again, and was back to 13⅝d. Jan. 31.

The tables on pages 16 to 38 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during January and range for year 1930. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which nterest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," ibut where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated "cony" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained. The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return. Recently however, owing to the tension in the money market, it has happened in not a few instances that the shorter maturities have been yielding the highest rate of return and the longer maturities the lowest rate of return, and where that happens to be the case, the range has been reversed to read, say 4.35% to 4.25%.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
