REVIEW OF SEPTEMBER—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS

A welcome piece of news during the past month was the long-awaited announcement of the "substantial completion" of the experimental phases of the Administration program as it affects business. The announcement was made on Sept. 6 in the form of a letter by President Roosevelt to Roy W. Howard, Chairman of the Board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. It came in response to a letter from Mr. Howard requesting some reassurance which would set at ease fears generally prevalent among business men as to Mr. Roosevelt's future plans. The President declared, in part, that the condition of the country when the Administration came into power required "drastic and far-reaching action," that the basic program "has now reached substantial completion and the 'breathing spell' is here—very decidedly so." The President in his letter dealt generally with basic questions and put forth the argument that "recovery" and "reform" were inseparable, from a governmental standpoint, in carrying out the program of the Administration—a program which he said had helped to bring about a substantial improvement in conditions. This was about the best news that the business world in the United States had had for many a day.

In the meantime a number of the New Deal measures have been brought before the courts to test their constitutionality. Sixteen coal companies operating in Harlan County, Kentucky, condemned the Guffey Soft Coal Act as the vehicle of five different kinds of unconstitutionality, in a suit for injunction against its enforcement which they filed in the Federal Court in Louisville late on Sept. 10. On Sept. 19 the coal companies won, by legal strategy, the right to a constitutional test of the Act on Sept. 27, their counsel precluding the objection "prematureness" which enabled the Government to avert another test case in the same category on Sept. 16.

On Sept. 9 temporary injunctions against the collection of Agricultural Adjustment Administration processing taxes were obtained in Boston by 14 Massachusetts cotton textile mills and a pork products company.

On Sept. 12 the legality of the Wagner Labor Disputes Act was questioned. A confidential preliminary report, prepared by a subcommittee of the newly-formed Lawyers Vigilance Committee, formed to investigate the legal aspects of the New Deal legislation, held that certain phases of the Act are unconstitutional.

On Sept. 16 a suit to test the constitutionality of the Public Utility Act of 1935 was filed with Judge William C. Coleman in the Federal District Court at Baltimore.

A hearing on the validity of the Tennessee Valley Authority Act at the term of the Supreme Court opening Oct. 7 appeared probable on Sept. 17, when the Government announced that it will not oppose the review of a suit testing the constitutionality of the power policy of the TVA. This announcement was contained in a memorandum filed with the Supreme Court by Solicitor-General Reed and lawyers "for the purpose of aiding the court" in the suit of George Ashwarder and others against the TVA. The review would cover a ruling of the Fifth Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans, which said that the TVA is constitutional and which approved the sale of surplus power in Alabama.

At midnight on Sept. 22 a strike affecting more than 400,000 bituminous coal miners in more than 20 States became effective while negotiations between leaders of mine unions and operators were in progress. This strike, however, proved to be the shortest in the history of the industry. On the night of Sept. 26 the joint conference of miners and operators representing the Appalachian area ratified the terms for a settlement of the strike; thus most of the miners returned to the pits on Tuesday, Oct. 1. According to the New York "Times," the new contract is dated to run 18 months, expiring on April 1 1937, and provides for wage increases for the various grades of labor amounting to upwards of $90,000,000 a year. This will constitute the third wage increase granted to the coal miners in the past 24 months. With the two previous increases, aggregating $125,000,000, the total increased wage cost to the industry in two years amounts to $215,000,000.

First Court Attack on Guffey Coal Conservation Act Fails in District of Columbia Court—Louisville, Ky., Court Permits Constitutionality Test

The Government's contention that a suit to restrain operation of the Guffey Coal Conservation Act was premature because the law has not yet been placed in operation was upheld on Sept. 16 when Justice Daniel O'Donoghue of the District of Columbia Supreme Court denied an injunction in the suit of James W. Carter, who had challenged the constitutionality of the law. In Louisville, Ky., on Sept. 19, the right to a constitutional test of the Act was won in an action brought by C. H. Clark, a stockholder of the R. C. Tway Coal Co. The Tway company was one of 16 companies, with sales averaging $654,750 monthly, which filed suit Sept. 10 against Selden R. Glenn, Federal Internal Revenue Collector, to restrain enforcement of the Act. An early date (Sept. 27) for the constitutional test was won in the Louisville court by legal strategy of the companies opposing enforcement through the action of their counsel in precluding the objection of "prematureness" which enabled the Government to avert such a test in the suit of Mr. Carter, counsel in the Louisville case, invited the Government to help present at the hearing the arguments for constitutionality of the law. The case was completed before the Louisville court on Sept. 28, and a study of further arguments submitted during the week was being made on Sept. 30 by Federal Judge Hamilton. In the action of Mr. Carter, the latter unsuccessfully sought to prevent application of the legislation to the Carter Coal Co. of West Virginia, of which he is President and principal stockholder. Through his counsel, Frederick H. Wood, he contended that the law is unconstitutional because of its taxing provisions and alleged regulation of intra-State commerce. In denying the injunction, the court left the way open for another hearing after Nov. 1, when the penalizing tax to force coal operators into conformity with the Act becomes effective.

Suit to Test Validity of Public Utility Act of 1935 Filed in Baltimore in Behalf of American States Public Service Co.

Suit to test the constitutionality of the Public Utility Act of 1935 was filed with Judge William C. Coleman in the Federal District Court at Baltimore, on Sept. 16. In advices from that city on that date to the New York "Herald Tribune" it was stated that John W. Davis came from New York to join Baltimore counsel for the petitioners. The dispatch likewise said:

gitized for FRASER

He accompanied James Piper, of the Baltimore firm of Piper, Cary & Hall, when he went to Judge Coleman's office to file the papers in the action. Ralph P. Buell, of the New York firm of Graham, McMahon, Buell & Knox, accompanied Mr. Davis and will represent other interests.

Incidentally it may be noted that it was made known on Sept. 12 by the Edison Electric Institute that in view of its conclusion that the question of the constitutionality of certain Federal statutes adversely affecting the electric light and power industry should be judicially determined as soon as possible it has retained the services of John W. Davis of New York, Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, Ohio, James M. Beck of Washington, D. C., and Forney Johnston of Birmingham, Ala.

The petition in the Baltimore court was filed by F. Donald Fanhagen and J. B. Whiteworth, trustees for the American States Public Service Co., controlling water and power companies in Illinois, Idaho, Michigan, California, Oregon, Montana and Indiana. A dispatch from Baltimore, Sept. 16, to the New York "Times" said:

The American States Co., which has its main office in Baltimore, is in process of reorganization under Section 77B of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

The petitioners state that registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission, as required by the Holding Company Act, would entail heavy expense, lay a punishing burden upon the original owners of the company and prevent completing the plan of reorganization. They ask that the law be declared unconstitutional.

It is set forth that the trustees, under the instruction of the court, are carrying out a plan of reorganization approved by the court, but that this plan is in conflict with the Holding Company Act.

According to the petition, each of the subsidiaries operates solely within the confines of a single State and therefore is not engaged in inter-State commerce.

The suit in the United States District Court at Baltimore to test the Public Utility Act was brought under way on Sept. 27.

Order Issued by H. L. Hopkins Permitting Reduction in Working Hours on WPA Projects Below Present Maximum of 40 Hours Per Week

Under an administrative order signed at Washington, Sept. 19, by Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, State Administrators are authorized to reduce, at their discretion, the hours of work on Works Progress Administration projects below the present maximum of 40 hours a week.

Settlement of Wage Dispute Between Federal Government and Labor Unions on WPA Projects in New York City—Maximum Pay for Skilled Workers $90 a Month—Hours Reduced from 120 to 60 a Month

Adjustment of the wage dispute between the Federal Government and members of labor unions employed on Works Progress Administration projects in New York City was made known on Sept. 24 at which time it was announced that the 2-month's strike on these projects had been called off. As to this the new York "Times" of Sept. 25 said:

The announcement came after a meeting of the WPA Executive Committee of the Central Trades and Labor Council and was issued by George Meany, President of the New York State Federation of Labor, from the offices of the Council, 265 West Fourteenth Street.

Mr. Meany said labor was willing to leave the determination of the dispute in the hands of General Johnson, feeling that he would see that the workers received "a fair deal."

Confer with Johnson Here

The action of labor's spokesmen was taken soon after General Johnson's return from Washington, where he had conferred with a national labor steering committee on a solution of the controversy over payment of the prevailing union rate and succeeded in obtaining the committee's agreement to an adjustment satisfactory to both the government and labor.

It is stated that the settlement of the pay for unskilled labor is to remain at $60.50 per man for a 120-hour month; the rate for skilled workers is to be the prevailing or union rate averaging $1.50 an hour, but limited to a maximum of $90 a month. For skilled workers the hours are to be reduced from 120 to 60 per month.

On Sept. 30 General Johnson announced salary increases for about 125 officials and 2,000 employees of the administrative staff of the WPA. Of the increases granted, totaling about $20,000 a month, about $9,500 a month will go to the executive group while raises averaging $60 a year each will be received by the others.

Ruling by Federal Court at Louisville, Ky., on Amended Frazier-Lemke Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act

Judge Elwood Hamilton, in the Federal Court at Louisville, Ky., on Sept. 6 handed down a ruling under the amended and re-enacted Frazier-Lemke Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act, which was signed by President Roosevelt on Aug. 29. According to Associated Press advices from Louisville, the re-enactment's scope narrowed when on Sept. 6 Judge Hamilton decided the new Act could not help farmers get back land sold under foreclosure lest it run foul of the due process clause of the Constitution.

Validity of Processing Tax Under Amended AAA Upheld by Federal Court in Yazoo, Miss.

On Aug. 29 Federal Judge Edwin R. Holmes of Mississippi upheld the validity of the amended Agricultural Adjustment Act with reference to processing taxes on cotton, wheat and other agricultural commodities. In his decision, given in the case of the Stonewall Cotton Mills of Stonewall, Miss., Judge Holmes sustained the Government's argument that the revised statute preserved to processing tax payers adequate methods by which their rights could be passed on by the courts.

AAA Tax Held Duty by Customs Judge—Justice Kincheloe Rules Levy on Imports Comes Within the Court's Jurisdiction

Federal attorneys, defending compensation taxes levied under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, received a setback in the United States Customs Court on Sept. 18 when Judge David H. Kincheloe ruled against their plea that a suit attacking the constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment Act be dismissed on the ground that the action was not within the jurisdiction of the Customs Court. From the New York "Times" of Sept. 19 we quote:

In a written opinion, with Judges Frederick W. Dallinger and William J. Tilson concurring, Judge Kincheloe held that any impost levied on foreign goods while in customs custody is a duty, and disputes arising from such assessments therefore come within the jurisdiction of the Customs Court. The decision dealt only with the motion to dismiss the action, which was brought by Marshall Field & Co., Inc., and left the broader question of constitutionality of the AAA for a later opinion.

Action to Test Constitutionality of Federal Deposit Insurance Provisions of Banking Act of 1935—Suit Brought by Stockholder of Manufacturers Trust Co. of New York

Under an action brought to test the constitutionality of the Federal deposit insurance provisions of the Banking Act of 1935, an injunction is sought to restrain the Manufacturers Trust Co. of New York from paying the assessments due Nov. 15. The suit was filed on Sept. 11 in the United States District Court in New York City by Miss Frances L. Garfunkel, of 14 Washington Place, this city, a stockholder of the trust company. With reference to the action, Harvey D. Gibson, President of the trust company, issued the following statement on Sept. 11:

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is a feature of the National Banking Act of 1935, designed to protect depositors by Federal insurance. It was sponsored by the United States Government in the interests of depositors rather than of banks. Much discussion has been had respecting deposit insurance, and the matter was finally settled by Congress and approved by the President, thereby becoming compulsory for every member of the Federal Reserve System. Regardless of what any member might have thought as to the necessity for this type of insurance, there was no option for a member bank but to comply with the law or to place itself in the position of litigating its legality. The Garfunkel suit just instituted involves no possible reflection upon the management of Manufacturers Trust Co., but merely attacks the constitutionality of this peremptory requirement of the law. Manufacturers Trust Co. is quite willing to have this question of legality authoritatively decided, but meanwhile it will scrupulously comply with the law in respect to deposit insurance as well as in all other respects. The Garfunkel complaint is in the hands of our attorneys, where it will receive prompt attention.

Effective Date of Operation of Certain Sections of Act Governing Motor Bus and Truck Systems Deferred from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1

Postponement, from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1, of the effective date of five sections of the Act placing the motor bus and truck systems of the country under control of the Interstate Commerce Commission was announced by the Commission on Sept. 19. In its announcement the Commission said:

This action was due primarily to the inability of the Commission to make necessary preparation incident to the filing of tariffs and to give operators additional time in which to compile their tariffs.

Unless there are unforeseen developments the effective date of other sections of the Act will not be postponed beyond Oct. 1. It is now expected that forms to be used in applying for certificates of public convenience and necessity, permits for contract carriers, and brokerage licenses will be ready for distribution prior to Oct. 1.

Strike in Soft Coal Industry Ended—Increased Wages Provided Under New Agreement, with No Change in Working Hours

Termination of a short-lived strike of miners in the Appalachian coal fields, which was said to involve 400,000 bituminous mine workers, was brought about on Sept. 26 when the joint committee representing coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America ratified terms for a settlement. The strike went into effect Sept. 23 after failure to reach an agreement by midnight, Sept. 22, the time scheduled for the walkout. As a result of the agreement reached in Washington on Sept. 26 between the committees representing the miners and operators, the miners, in 28 States, returned to work on Oct. 1. From its Washington bureau, Sept. 26, the New York "Herald Tribune" reported:

The agreement, which was ratified at midnight by the joint wage conference of 100 operators and 100 union leaders amid speech-making and cheers, will give a compromise boost in pay to all classes of soft coal workers —10% for most of them.

gitized for FRASER
p://fraser.stlouisfed.org/

The agreement will end a dispute which has continued ever since Feb. 18, last.

The contracts were signed with reservations by the Virginia operators, while the Harlan, Ky., and Southern Appalachian group of operators absented themselves. However, only 10,000 or 15,000 men are affected in those regions.

Informed by Edward L. McGrady, Assistant Secretary of Labor, that the strike had been settled, President Roosevelt wrote out in longhand a letter of appreciation, which Mr. McGrady carried back to the meeting of the joint wage conference.

Five temporary extensions of the old contracts were made while the desultory negotiations continued. Several times President Roosevelt intervened personally to press for an agreement. The strike finally began last Sunday midnight when the deadlock persisted.

It is stated that the new contract is dated to run 18 months, expiring on April 1 1937, and that it provides for wage increases for the various grades of labor amounting to about $90,000,000 a year.

Two Coal Boards Named by President Roosevelt Under Guffey Coal Control Act—National Bituminous Coal Commission and Bituminous Coal Labor Board Established

President Roosevelt on Sept. 20 named two coal boards created under the Bituminous Coal conservation Act of 1935, otherwise known as the Guffey-Snyder Coal Control Act. One of the bodies named by the President—The National Bituminous Coal Commission of Five—will in effect administer a "little NRA" for the industry through a wage, hour, trade-practice and price-fixing code. The other board—a Bituminous Coal Labor Board—composed of three members—is also set up under the act to adjudicate disputes arising out of the collective bargaining provisions of the act. Those named by the President as members of the National Bituminous Coal Commission are:

George E. Acret, California lawyer.

Charles S. Hosford Jr., of Pittsburgh, former coal operator and for the last two years legal representative of the Coal Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Walter H. Maloney of Kansas City.

C. E. Smith, of Fairmount, W. Va., Editor.

Percy Tetlow, of Columbus, Ohio, mine union spokesman.

The Bituminous Coal Labor Board named by the President are:

Lee Gunther, of Knoxville, Tenn, former coal operator, representing the producers.

John J. O'Leary, of Pittsburgh, labor leader, representative of the employees.

John M. Paris, of New Albany, Ind., former Judge, representative of the public.

Strike of 12,000 Shipping Clerks in New York City Garment District Ends When Employers Agree to Higher Minimum Wages

A three weeks' strike of 12,000 ladies' apparel shipping clerks in New York City was ended on Sept. 11 when the strikers agreed to accept terms offered by the employers. These included higher minimum wages, a shorter working week, and the rehiring of strikers. The employers, however, refused to recognize the Ladies' Apparel Shipping Clerks Union. The strike of the shipping clerks had been marked by much violence.

President Roosevelt, Under Executive Order, Authorizes FTC to Approve Voluntary Code Agreements for Industries—George L. Berry Named Co-ordinator for Industrial Co-operation

In furtherance of the desire to maintain business and labor standards in line with National Recovery Administration codes, President Roosevelt on Sept. 26 issued an Executive Order conferring upon the Federal Trade Commission authority to approve voluntary industrial trade agreements providing for fair trade codes embodying minimum labor provisions. At the same time the President designated George L. Berry as Co-ordinator for Industrial Co-operation. Noting that both actions were taken under the authority of the "skeletonized" National Industrial Recovery Act, which was enacted as a stopgap following the Supreme Court's decision against the original NRA, a dispatch Sept. 26 from Washington to the New York "Times" added:

The President acted to-night so as to lose no more time in starting a new and vigorous recovery effort. The authority under which he proceeded comes automatically to an end April 1, on the expiration date of the "skeletonized" NIRA.

If industry and labor and consumers can be brought together in this final offensve against the forces of depression, President Roosevelt may not ask for a continuation of any major controls over business when the present act expires. He indicated as much yesterday, but added that business must rid itself of "chiselers" before it could expect to proceed again without some restraints.

President Roosevelt Appoints L. J. Martin as Administrator of NRA

L. J. Martin, former compliance director of the National Recovery Administration, was appointed to the post of Administrator of the NRA on Aug. 24 by President Roosevelt. Mr. Martin succeeds James L. O'Neill, who resigned from the post on July 31 to return to his duties as Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

"Skeletonized" NRA Has 2,760 on Payroll, According to Report of Administration Filed with Senator King—Annual Salaries Aggregate $7,023,220

A total of 2,760 persons is on the payroll of the "skeletonized" National Recovery Administration, according to a report filed by the latter with Senator William H. King (Democrat) of Utah. The figures indicate that the annual salaries of those still employed aggregate $7,023,220. During the last session of Congress Senator King introduced a resolution calling for the information, but subsequently withdrew it, when the NRA voluntarily agreed to supply the data.

Treasury Offers to Redeem Gold Securities at Par and Accrued Interest—Holders Have Until Jan. 1 to Present Bond and Note Issues—Approximately $8,400,000,000 Outstanding

An offer to redeem the outstanding gold clause notes and bonds, approximating $8,400,000,000, at par and accrued interest at any time up to Jan. 1, was extended to holders of the securities on Sept. 26 by the Treasury Department. At the same time the Treasury announced that its official agencies "will continue to exchange the coins and currencies of the United States, dollar for dollar, for other coins or currencies which may be lawfully acquired and are legal tender for public and private debts." Treasury officials explained, it was stated in Washington advices, Sept. 26, to the New York "Times" of Sept. 27, that although this instruction will apply to gold coins or certificates still outstanding, it does not extend to gold bullion. From the advices we also quote:

Both actions were pursuant to the joint resolution adopted by the last session of Congress outlawing after Jan. 1, 1936, suits against the government which arose out of gold-payment clauses. The resolution also instructed the Treasury to offer to redeem any of its gold clause bonds in cash at par and accrued interest.

Thirty-four State Banks Withdraw from FDIC—Includes Eight Mutual Savings Banks—Privilege Expired Sept. 23

A total of 34 of the nation's insured banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve System withdrew from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to the expiration on Sept. 23 of the 30-day period allotted by the Banking Act of 1935 within which the banks had the right to surrender their insurance privileges by written notice, it was announced by the Corporation on Sept. 24.

The banks withdrawing included eight mutual savings banks, with deposits of $89,187,000, and 26 commercial banks, with deposits of $117,981,000, a total of $207,168,000. 474,627 accounts, 465,596 fully insured, are affected by the action.

Leo T. Crowley, Chairman of the Corporation, expressed himself as gratified at the small number of banks which chose to leave the Insurance Fund, pointing out that, of the 7,750 non-member State banks which joined the Insurance Fund voluntarily, less than ½ of 1% exercised their right to abandon the Deposit Insurance fold.

Joseph P. Kennedy Resigns as Chairman of SEC—J. M. Landis Elected as Successor

On Sept. 20 President Roosevelt announced the resignation of Joseph P. Kennedy as Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The resignation became effective Sept. 23. The members of the Commission on Sept. 23 unanimously elected James M. Landis as Chairman to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Kennedy. The selection had the approval of President Roosevelt. Mr. Landis has been a member of the SEC since July 1934, having been appointed for a three-year term. He will serve as Chairman until July 1 next.

Initial Meeting of National Munitions Control Board—State Department's Announcement Regarding Registration of Manufacturers, Importers and Exporters of Arms—President's Proclamation Listing War Implements Under Neutrality Resolution

The initial meeting of the National Munitions Control Board, created under the recently enacted neutrality resolution was held in Washington on Sept. 24. Following the meeting the State Deparment issued an announcement as follows:

The National Munitions Control Board, created by a recent Act of Congress, held its first meeting this morning. The Board met to organize and to fulfill its duty of agreeing upon a list of arms and munitions and implements of war which it will recommend to the consideration of the President for use in a proclamation defining these articles for the purposes of Section 2 of the Act under which the Board was created.

When the Board has fulfilled this function and the President has issued his proclamation, the Administration of the Act devolves upon the Department of State. All manufacturers, exporters and importers of arms and munitions and implements of war must register with the Department, and after Nov. 29 these articles may not be exported from or imported into this country without a license issued by the Department to cover each shipment.

http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/

President Roosevelt's proclamation lists articles to be considered implements of war under the neutrality resolution; the list, embodying six categories, was summarized as follows in the Washington advices Sept. 25 to the New York "Journal of Commerce":

1. Rifles, machine guns, ammunition for arms, grenades, bombs, torpedoes and mines, tanks, military armored vehicles and armored trains.
2. Vessels of war of all kinds, including aircraft carriers and submarines.
3. Aircraft, assembled or not, and parts.
4. Revolvers and automatic pistols using ammunition in excess of 26.5 calibre and ammunition therefor.
5. Aircraft and parts, other than covered in No. 3.
6. Livens projectors and flame throwers, mustard gas, Lewisite, ethyldichbrarsine and methylxichlorarsine.

Appeals Court Upholds Validity of New York State Mortgage Commission Law

The constitutionality of the New York State Mortgage Commission law was sustained on Sept. 9 by a unanimous decision of the State Court of Appeals in a case where suit had been brought by a holder of one mortgage certificate in an issue of $223,000 in an apartment house in Westchester. The plaintiff sought to enjoin the Commission from taking control of the issue. The decision of the Court of Appeals definitely upheld the right of the Commission to succeed the State Superintendent of Insurance in the management of mortgages and underlying properties in certificated issues.

Currency Stabilization Prospects

Formal international consideration of the currency stabilization problem was confined in September to the debates of the second or economic committee of the League of Nations, which met at Geneva while the League Assembly was in session. Although the desire for monetary stability is well-nigh universal, the economic committee was unable to make any progress toward that end. After long debates on the matter the committee adopted, on Sept. 24, a resolution which sidesteps the stabilization question and urges all governments to reduce tariff barriers as a preliminary to that desirable end. Hopes for early international measures toward stability were stirred early last month, when it was announced at Washington that a number of American Treasury experts intended to visit Europe in one capacity or another, but chiefly for study purposes. But it was promptly indicated that real negotiations on currencies are not in prospect. These disclaimers were accepted without question, for the international position is such that stabilization seems still far distant. All the European currencies were under heavy pressure throughout September, and huge amounts of gold were engaged for shipment to the United States in order to keep the European gold units at their nominal gold relationships with the United States dollar. Metal came even from England, apparently from the large private hoards accumulated there in recent years. Fears of a spread of Italo-Ethiopian difficulties prompted the shipments, which reduced the European gold holdings considerably.

European developments in general were most unfavorable to any measures for monetary stabilization throughout September. The developments attendant on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict were of primary interest in this connection. The British Government made it quite apparent, through a massing of its fleet in the Mediterranean, that it opposed the projected Italian venture and intended to seek assurances of League economic sanctions if an unprovoked war of aggression were started by Italy. For a time there were fears that a general European war might eventuate, and it was chiefly for that reason that gold flowed toward the United States in amounts limited only by available space on fast vessels and insurance requirements. The metal came mainly from Great Britain, France and Holland. The shipments did not menace the gold standard in any of the three Continental countries still making the metal available in support of their currencies, but, on the other hand, they hardly added to the comfort of the positions in France, Holland and Switzerland.

In The Netherlands and France, meanwhile, special internal developments made the problem of gold standard maintenance in these countries an active one. The Netherlands Parliament met for the usual autumn session on Sept. 17, and Queen Wilhelmina opened the session with a long speech from the throne in which the fiscal difficulties occasioned by decreasing revenues and the need for enlarged defense appropriations were emphasized. She added that depreciation of the currency or dropping of the gold standard were not measures that could be considered advantageous to the people on the whole. The Netherlands central bank tried to stem the outward flow of gold by increasing its discount rate to 6% from 5%, on Sept. 16, but this measure diminished the gold exports only a little while. The French Cabinet, headed by Premier Pierre Laval, approved, on Sept. 21, a series of budgetary proposals calling for a 20% reduction in 1936 expenditures as against the current year. Ordinary budget outlays next year are to be only 40,000,000,000 francs compared with 48,000,000,000 francs this year, and it is intended to raise sufficient revenues to meet such expenditures. Extraordinary expenditures, mainly for defense purposes, are to be 6,500,000,000 francs in 1936, and borrowing will be done to cover that sum. The proposed budgetary curtailment is a drastic one, and it is likely that a prolonged and acrimonious debate will develop in the French Parliament in October, when the regular session starts. Whether the Laval regime can survive the attacks expected is open to question. Highly indicative are large preparatory gatherings throughout France on Sept. 22 of the Fascist organization called the Croix de Feu. There were rumors that Colonel Francois de la Rocque, who controls the French Fascist faction, might attempt soon to take matters into his own hands.

With the situation thus fantastically confused and uncertain, little could be done toward stabilization by the economic committee of the League of Nations. That body considered all aspects of the problem for some time, and divergent views of the French and British delegates made any kind of a resolution hard to draft. It was finally agreed, however, to urge all governments to reduce international tariff barriers as a preliminary to that stabilization of currencies which all countries apparently intend to effect at one time or another. When the British and French delegates agreed on a text all other representatives promptly fell in line. The resolution, drafted by the British delegate, suggests policies closely resembling those urged and to some degree adopted by the United States Government. It recommends that governments "should endeavor to encourage freer trade by concluding bilateral agreements subject, should they consider it necessary, to the provisions that, in the event of a large variation in the rate of exchange between currencies of the contracting parties, there should be power to take steps to revise the agreements at short notice." In the preamble to this resolution the committee expressed its conviction that arbitrary restrictions on international trade are inimical, and note was taken of the ultimate objective of the governments to return to the gold standard. Even before international monetary stabilization is accomplished, it was argued, effective steps might be taken with a view to removal of the impediments to the exchange of goods. In general, accordingly, the committee urged the adoption of more liberal economic policies and the conclusion of bilateral agreements based upon the principle of the most-favored-nation clause.

Reciprocal Tariff Accords

Some progress was made during September at Washington toward the general Administration aim of concluding reciprocal tariff treaties with as large a number of countries as possible. The sixth treaty of this nature was signed on Sept. 13 with Colombia, and it was indicated at about the same time that negotiations for an accord of this nature had been started with the Canadian Government. Also of considerable interest was an announcement by Secretary of State Cordell Hull that the tariff concessions made by the United States under the series of reciprocal accords will be withheld from Germany. Apparently, the decision to exclude Germany from the list of countries to which the reciprocal concessions are generalized is due to the extensive trade and financial discrimination exercised by that country against the United States. Also influential, however, is the German denunciation of the most-favored-nation trade treaty with the United States. An understanding was reached to continue all phases of the German-American treaty with the exception of the most-favored-nation clause, and the United States thus was thoroughly within its rights in terminating equal treatment of the Reich with other countries and in applying, after Oct. 15, the higher American duties on imports from Germany.

The treaty with Colombia, signed at Washington on Sept. 13, will come into effect only after ratification by the Colombian Congress. Complete details have not been disclosed, but it was indicated that the concessions by the United States consist chiefly of an agreement to retain on the free list "certain products of Colombia which represent a large percentage of Colombian exports to this country." It is considered a safe assumption that coffee is among the products mentioned. Colombia agrees, the State Department indicated, to reduce its customs duties on an "important percentage of products imported from the United States." In connection with the proposed trade treaty with Canada, the State Department made public on Sept. 9 an exchange of letters between officials of the two Governments. It was made plain in the exchange that Secretary Hull is insisting on his broad and sound policy of concluding agreements on the principle of tripartite and multiplex world trade, rather than on that of a simple trade balance between two countries. The Canadian communication suggested larger American imports of Canadian merchandise, with reduced Canadian imports from this country as the alternative, owing to the favorable trade balance enjoyed by this country in its commercial relations with Canada. But Mr. Hull made it clear in his reply that it would be impossible to use the international balance of payments as a basis for the tariff agreement. Notwithstanding this divergence of opinion and the refusal of Mr. Hull to make commitments in advance, it was stated that the tariff negotiations are continuing. Mention was made in Washington of the fact that the reciprocal accord negotiated some months ago with Brazil still is under debate in the Congress of that country.

Latin American Debts

In several respects indications were available during September that Latin American countries at length are beginning to give serious consideration to the problem of the defaulted dollar bonds of such countries. The Peruvian Government took tentative steps toward the resumption of payments, although it appears to be the intention of the Lima regime to pay very little to begin with. When the 1936 budget was presented to the Peruvian Congress, on Sept. 3, it was accompanied by a statement that as soon as recovery symptoms begin to appear the Government will deem it necessary to resume payments on external obligations. Persistent rumors that the Brazilian Government might again default completely on external debts, notwithstanding the moderateness of the Aranha agreement, were denied early last month by Finance Minister Arthur de Souza Costa. It was stated that the Brazilian authorities intend to continue paying the stipulated sums as long as possible on all Federal, State and Provincial debts held abroad. Less favorable were reports from Panama that an attempt will be made to obtain a reduction in the interest rate on the $12,000,000 issue of 5% bonds of that Government, due in 1963, on which one-third of the stipulated rate now is being made available.

World Court

Disclosure was made by the League of Nations on Sept. 23 that Frank B. Kellogg, American member of the Permanent Court of International Justice, had sent his resignation to Geneva early in the month. This action is of considerable importance, as it may well mean lessened American influence in that juridical body. Mr. Kellogg formerly was Secretary of State, and he is the third American to serve as a Justice in the World Court. Difficulty in attending the sessions of the Court was the reason given by Mr. Kellogg for resigning. He urged in his letter the great importance of the Court in the field of international relations. and expressed a desire to co-operate in every way possible to further the judicial settlement of international disputes. It is quite possible that there is no political significance in the decision of Mr. Kellogg to terminate his activities at The Hague, but it was suggested in some quarters that refusal of the United States Senate to vote American participation may have been an influence. To some degree the withdrawal was viewed at Geneva as another indication of the growing American tendency to avoid all entanglement in European affairs, and if that interpretation is correct there is no reason to regret the decision of Mr. Kellogg. His successor will probably be named next year, at the September meeting of the League Council and Assembly, and some doubt exists as to whether another American will be chosen.

Italy and Ethiopia

Not since the world depression started have financial markets faced a more generally disturbing episode than that presented by the Italian aim to wage a war of conquest against the ancient African Kingdom of Ethiopia. A spectacle of swiftly changing emphasis was current throughout September in connection with that long-projected aggression. The League of Nations struggled unsuccessfully with the problem, both in the Council meeting and in the annual Assembly. A special conciliation commission appointed by both countries dodged the issue of assessing blame for a border clash at Ualual last December. The League appointed a committee of five to find a way out of the dispute and assure a peaceful settlement of the quarrel which Premier Benito Mussolini picked with the Ethiopian Government, but such efforts also were fruitless. The Ethiopian Government attempted to obtain American support early in the month by granting a concession for mineral and oil exploitation over most of the country to a group representing Standard Oil interests. When the facts were revealed, that concession was abandoned hastily. Finally, the grim spectacle was presented of a massing of the British fleet in the Mediterranean, and Premier Mussolini finally was forced to pause while Italy tried to fathom the British intentions. Mutual pacific assurances by the British and Italians once again seemed to clear the way for the Italian war of conquest, and as the seasonal rains diminished in Ethiopia toward the end of September, expectations of an early start of warfare were general. The League, to be sure, moved toward economic sanctions in the event of aggression, but Premier Mussolini expressed his contempt of the League by statements that he would proceed with his plans, with the League, without the League, or against the League.

By far the most disconcerting phase of the entire matter was that connected with the British concentration of naval forces in the Mediterranean. During the second week of September a war scare ocurred because of that massing of strength, and there was universal fear that the Italo-Ethiopian dispute might develop into another World War. The British action seems to have been taken because of the utter failure of Paris negotiations for adjustment of the problem in August. British, French and Italian representatives gathered in August at the French capital and sought a means for pacific settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian question, and rumors were current soon thereafter of British fleet movements toward the Mediterranean. A major part of the British Mediterranean fleet sailed Sept. 4 from Malta for the waters around the Suez Canal, occasioning speculation as to possible British measures for closing the Suez Canal to Italian vessels in the event of war. Premier Mussolini had declared in August that League sanctions would mean war, and even on the assumption that the British merely were preparing to enforce any sanctions the situation seemed perilous. When a large part of the British home fleet also sailed for the Mediterranean and British ports at Gibraltar and Alexandria were protected by huge iron nets, the position became critical. All markets reflected the concern felt over such developments, and it was only after an exchange of assurances by the British Ambassador at Rome and the Italian authorities that tension relaxed to some degree. The assurances, given Sept. 21, were to the effect that hostile press campaigns in Italy and England, directed in each case against the other country, made fleet movements advisable. The statements were not credited in all circles, for the belief prevailed quite generally that England was really concerned lest a more powerful Italy, imbued with expansionist ideas, might menace Egypt and the highly important route to the Far East, sometimes referred to as the "lifeline of the Empire." Significant were British statements that not a single ship would be withdrawn from the Mediterranean.

The Italo-Ethiopian problem stretched far beyond even such limits. All observers were agreed that a war between those countries would tend to upset diplomatic relationships in many parts of Europe, for an Italian preoccupation with Ethiopian difficulties would render that country less effective in the European scene. The French Government, obviously committed to support of Italy in one way or another, tried throughout September to mediate between the British and Italians. Premier Laval, who apparently gave the Italians a free hand in Ethiopia last January when the Franco-Italian troubles were patched up, adopted a wavering course. He tried to obtain assurances from London that the British Government would support France in Europe, in the event of aggression by any country there, and it takes little imagination to realize that M. Laval had in mind the possibility of German encroachment in Austria. Great Britain made it clear at Geneva that she is prepared to back the Covenant of the League of Nations, even if such action means the employment of sanctions. In a subsequent note to the French Government, published Sept. 30, the British repeated such assurances but refused to make specific declarations. The British note, moreover, indicated that failure by any nation to live up to previous treaty obligations might have to be considered in a special category. These exchanges indicate that European alignments as a whole are undergoing study and possibly extensive revision, owing to the impact of the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

While these intricate developments were in progress Italy continued to send troopships to the East African colonies of that country literally by the dozens. Soldiers by the tens of thousands sailed from Italian ports to participate in the proposed venture against Ethiopia, and in many instances they departed with martial declarations by Premier Mussolini ringing in their ears. The Italian Dictator assured them over and over again that he would go forward and that nothing could stop the Italian people from attaining their "destiny" of ruling over another Roman Empire. As the rains slowly diminished in Africa the fear was general that Premier Mussolini might declare war and start hostilities. He arranged in mid-September for a huge demonstration of Fascist adherents to the number of 10,000,000 in Italy, to take place at an unspecified date. That demonstration was delayed from day to day, obviously because of the uncertainty introduced by the British measures. The assumption was that Premier Mussolini intended to use the occasion for martial declarations. The Ethiopian Government, on its part, attempted to follow a pacific course, and even when the rainy season ended officially on Sept. 28 no general mobilization had been ordered to prepare for combat with Italy. But statements by the Italian Cabinet on Sept. 29 seemed to admit of no other interpretation than an early start of Italian hostilities, and on Sept. 30 the Ethiopian Government ordered a mobilization of all males in the country. These and other ominous indications were accepted as indicative of an early start of hostilities between the two countries. Indeed, as September ended, only the drying of the mud in Ethiopia was said to be awaited by the Italian Government to start the long-expected advance into that unhappy country.

Of chief immediate interest to the United States in this matter was the attempt by the Ethiopian Emperor, Haile Selassie, to enlist the aid and sympathy of the American people by granting to the Standard Oil interests a concession covering a large part of his country. This measure, clearly one of desperation, proved mysterious for a time, owing to disclaimers on this side of any interest in the concession. A British promoter, Francis M. Rickett, obtained the concession, and it was assumed for a time that British interests were concerned. A formal protest by the London Government was prepared and sent to the British Minister at Addis Ababa, but it was never delivered to the Ethiopian Government, for Emperor Haile Selassie declared on Sept. 1 that only American interests were involved. It appeared soon thereafter that the concession was granted jointly to the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc. Officials of these companies conferred with Secretary of State Hull in Washington and announced on Sept. 2 their relinquishment of the concession. This ended the matter, save for a statement by President Roosevelt that "dollar diplomacy" no longer is recognized by the United States Government.

The League of Nations resumed its consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian problem on Sept. 4, when the Council gathered for its usual session. Captain Anthony Eden, the British delegate, made it plain that the British Government desired the maintenance of the League principles, and mild words to the same effect were spoken by Premier Pierre Laval of France. A sensation was caused, however, when Baron Pompeo Aloisi, speaking for Italy, assailed Ethiopia in unmeasured terms as a barbarous country which has "systematically and openly violated all the League Covenant undertakings she had assumed." The Italian representative indicated that, in Italian opinion, Ethiopia should be expelled from the League. Professor Gaston Jeze, speaking for Ethiopia, made a trenchant reply. He taunted Italy with having chosen as an enemy a small and relatively defenseless State, and remarked that the peril to Ethiopia is serious only because that country has not sufficient guns to protect itself. The Italian delegates left the Council chamber at that point in the proceedings, and for a time the impression prevailed that Italy was abandoning Geneva. But it was stated officially in Rome that such was not the intention, and that Italian delegates merely declined to sit at the same table with Ethiopians.

When the League Assembly met on Sept. 9 the matter took on an ever-graver aspect, owing to British insistence that League forces be rallied in defense of Ethiopia. The British Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, appeared at Geneva to present the British case, and he opened the debate on the Italo-Ethiopian situation Sept. 11 without mentioning the names of the countries involved. Sir Samuel contented himself with an extensive review of the formation and organization of the League, and pointed out that the system of collective security founded on international agreement is the most effective safeguard for peace. He then pledged specifically the support of Great Britain for "collective maintenance of the Covenant in its entirety and particularly for steady, collective resistance to all acts of unprovoked aggression." Swedish, Belgian and other delegates of small European countries immediately rallied behind the British, and also insisted upon full maintenance of the Covenant. Premier Pierre Laval, of France, spoke on Sept. 13, and in a somewhat equivocal speech stated that his country abides by the League principle and Covenant, but he also insisted that account must be taken of Italy's "legitimate aspirations."

Swiftly, while these speeches were being made at Geneva, the British Government gathered a major portion of the immense British fleet in the Mediterranean, and for a time that mobilization of strength overshadowed all other aspects of the Italo-Ethiopian impasse. Before the strength of the mighty British fleet was concentrated in the Mediterranean, Premier Mussolini continued to assert that Italy was prepared for any menace, from whatever direction it might come. He stated in one interview that Italy would proceed with the proposed war against Ethiopia "with the League, without the League, or against the League." Extensive war maneuvers were held in northern Italy, and Cabinet meetings at Bolzano were directed toward preparation of the Italian people for the venture in Africa. But the British fleet concentration in the Mediterranean clearly was not anticipated by the Italian Dictator, and for several weeks his statements were comparatively mild and equivocal. The League, meanwhile, attempted to find a solution for the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia, and a committee of five members elaborated a plan as a basis for discussion which called for nominal retention of sovereignty by Ethiopia, with European observers as the real rulers and Italians as recipients of the major benefits. On Sept. 21, however, the British Ambassador to Rome explained to the Italian Government that the fleet concentration was due to the anti-British press campaign in Italy, and fears of war between Italy and Great Britain diminished rapidly thereafter. It is significant that Premier Mussolini rejected the League committee plan as inadequate, and even more important were the indications at the end of September that hostilities would start at the earliest possible moment, after the mud caked in Ethiopia and made land transport possible once more. With understandable realism, Emperor Haile Selassie ordered late in September the mobilization of approximately 3,000,000 men in his Kingdom. A traditional feast, celebrating the end of the rainy season in Ethiopia, was held Sept. 28.

Memel Election

Although world attention was concentrated during September on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, some recognition also was accorded the danger to peace arising from elections in the small territory of Memel, which formerly was German but now is under Lithuanian sovereignty with a certain degree of autonomy. Residents of this territory, who are approximately 90% German, went to the polls Sept. 29 to elect a new Landtag, or local Parliament. International concern over this election was occasioned by the quite general assumption that the German Government is casting covetous eyes on the area of 930 square miles, and might engineer a coup to regain possession if the Powers are engaged elsewhere. The British, French and Italian Governments, acting in concert, warned Lithuania several weeks before the election that the balloting must be conducted with the utmost rigor and fairness. German authorities, however, made unofficial charges that thousands of their adherents in Memel had been disfranchised and other thousands of Lithuanians sent into the territory to sway the result. Such statements were denied by the Lithuanian Government, which declared that only 69 persons had lost their right to vote. When the voting actually started, on Sept. 29, much resentment was caused among the population by complicated forms, which prevented conclusion of the voting until late the next day. There were a few unfortunate incidents, but they were not of a character to produce any sharp international conflict, and as it was conceded that the German population elected a great majority of the Landtag members, this incident passed off quietly. Whether further clashes with regard to Memel can be avoided in the future, however, is another matter.

German-American Relations

Relations between the United States and Germany have been irritated on a number of ocasions since the Nazis came into power in the Reich, and another incident of the same nature developed during September. Secretary of State Cordell Hull found it advisable to apoligize orally, Sept. 14, to officials of the German Embassy in Washington for comments made by a New York City Magistrate, Louis B. Brodsky, when some rioters were acquitted of the charge of unlawful assembly in connection with the tearing down of the Nazi swastika emblem on the liner Bremen, last July. Regret was expressed that the Magistrate, "in restating contentions of the defendants in the case and in commenting upon the incident, unfortunately so worded his opinion as to give the reasonable and definite impression that he was going out of his way adversely to criticize the German Government, which criticism was not a relevant, legitimate part of his judicial decision." Some conjecture took place in this country regarding the reasonableness of the German objections to the opinion of the Magistrate, for it was only long after the incident occurred that the swastika emblem was made the official flag of the German Reich. Whatever the merits of such contentions, it is obvious that Secretary Hull took the proper course in attempting to assuage the feelings of the German authorities.

German Fascism

Lines of the German official anti-Semitism were drawn tighter at a special meeting of the Nazi Reichstag, called by Chancellor Adolf Hitler at the conclusion of a party gathering in Nuremberg, Sept. 15. The session was notable not only because new restrictive laws were passed against the unfortunate Jews of Germany, but also because Herr Hitler discoursed at some length on the foreign policy of his Fascist regime. Three new laws were enacted at the behest of the Nazi leader. One of these provides that the swastika emblem, heretofore the party banner, is to be the official standard of the Reich. The other two enactments were directed against Jews in Germany. They deprive Jews of ordinary German citizenship, while leaving them a curious intermediary status as elements in the State. Marriages between Jews and non-Jewish Germans are forbidden, as are extramarital relations between them. The Reichstag session was sandwiched in between immense regular army parades and maneuvers, and it is evident that the presence of the omnipotent German army at the party gathering is of more than ordinary significance, since the ascendancy of the military faction in the Reich is thereby demonstrated. In his address to the entirely subservient Reichstag, Chancellor Hitler referred to the international Jewish agitation aroused by his own peculiar ideology and to what he called the provoking behavior of individual members of the Jewish "race" within the Reich. He called for the enactment of the new anti-Semitic legislation on this basis.

Most of the speech was devoted to a survey of German foreign relations, and in this connection Herr Hitler reiterated his declaration of peaceful intentions. He also made the interesting, if somewhat dubious assertion, that Germany's affairs are in order, both internally and externally. The enlargement of the German army is intended solely to preserve the freedom of the German people, he remarked, and added, significantly, that the Reich Government will take no position in any question that does not directly concern it. Chancellor Hitler then proceeded to discuss the Memel situation, which long has embittered the relations between the Reich and Lithuania. Memel was stolen from the Germans, he said, and for years the German element in that small territory has been "maltreated and tortured," contrary to existing laws and treaties. The speech closed with the usual animadversions regarding the Communists and the Jews, who appear to constitute the pet hatreds of Herr Hitler and his lieutenants. All observers at Nuremberg were impressed by the army and air force demonstrations which marked the so-called "party day." It is evident that the Reich has made great progress toward rearmament in these fields.

Activity by Steel Trade Maintained—Further Gain in Scrap and Non-Ferrous Metal Prices

Continued activity in the iron and steel industry brought steel ingot production during the second week of the month to the highest level reached since the second week in February; output during the remainder of the month tapered off slightly, due to the automobile industry's delay in getting into production on new models which is holding back steel orders. Scrap touched the highest price level reached since the second week of March 1934. Non-ferrous metals remained firm, with prices again moving higher.

In its issue of Sept. 26 the "Iron Age" remarked that though automotive demand, in the aggregate, is slowly improving, round-lot orders for the new models have not yet appeared. It had first been thought that 1936 assemblies would get under way early this month, but, as is customarily the case, late alterations in models have held back production programs. Two leading makers of low-priced cars were expected to launch their assemblies of new cars in the first week of October, others planning to follow in quick succession. Whatever the time may be when motor car output rebounds, the outlook for the fourth quarter is regarded as most promising, current estimates placing production for that period at 750,000 cars and trucks. Tin plate output, according to the "Age," continues at 55% of mill capacity despite clear evidences of ebbing demand; sheet production, strongly supported by miscellaneous demand, is holding at 70%; railroad buying remained throughout the month at a low ebb. Pig iron producers, particularly in the Great Lakes region, were reported to be well booked for the fourth quarter. Scrap, after a short period of hesitancy, resumed its upward trend on Sept. 10, rising from $12.58 to $12.75 a gross ton, compared with the $9.50 in effect at the close of September last year. Finished steel and pig iron continued to remain unchanged at 2.124c. a pound and $17.84 a gross ton, respectively.

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimated the operating rate of steel companies having 98.2% of the steel capacity of the industry at 45.8% for the week beginning Sept. 2, which compares with 47.9% for the previous seven-day period. For the week beginning Sept. 9 operations were at 49.7% of capacity, the highest level reached since Feb. 11, when operations were reported to be at 50.8%. For the week of Sept. 16 the industry was reported as operating at 48.3% of capacity; for the week beginning Sept. 23 at 48.9%, and for the week beginning Sept. 30 at 50.8%. At the close of September 1934 steel operations were at 23.2% of capacity.

As to non-ferrous metals, "Metal and Mineral Markets," in its issue of Sept. 19, stated that the continued flow of copper into consumption, both here and abroad, and the announcement of a decrease of about 20,000 tons in world copper stocks were said to have caused the rise of domestic copper on Sept. 16 from 8.50c. to 9.00c., Valley (which followed an increase from 8.00c. to 8.50c. on Aug. 19). During the week ended Sept. 18 foreign copper continued in strong demand, and the price finally passed 8.50c., thereby strengthening the domestic demand to the new level. General industrial improvement in the United States and Europe, in addition to some possible war purchases abroad, places the non-ferrous metal industry in a firm position for the last quarter. The same publication, in its issue of Sept. 26, remarked that "to meet the recent expansion in consumption of copper, domestic producers are gradually increasing production." According to copper authorities, it is expected that the gain in output should be sufficient to take care of what now appears to be a higher rate in consumption. Inquiry for lead continued in good volume toward the close of the month, despite the advance in New York on Sept. 18 of 15 points to 4.50c. Here in New York, Lake and electrolytic copper rose on Sept. 16 ½c., the former to 9.12½c. and the latter to 8.75c. Zinc at New York, following the example set by copper, on Sept. 18 moved to a higher price level, advancing from 4.97½c. to 5.12½c., closing the month at the latter figure. Tin at New York moved within a narrow margin, showing a gain for the month; closing price as of Sept. 30 of this metal was 50.25c. as against 49.12½c. at Aug. 30.

Lumber Movement Slightly Lower—Production at Peak for Year

Shipments of lumber during each of the first three weeks of September were lower than for the week ended Aug. 31, when the total shipped reached the highest figure reported for the year to date. Production, however, was at its peak during the week ended Sept. 14, and though fractionally lower during the following week, will probably top the record of any week since 1931 when revised figures are available.

For the week of Sept. 21 shipments were slightly above those of the preceding week and orders were 6% above the same period and the heaviest booked since April. Shipments for the Sept. 21 week were, however, 5% below output and new business 6% below production. All items, as reported by these mills, were materially in excess of the corresponding week of a year ago. These comparisons are based upon reports to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association from regional associations covering the operations of leading hardwood and softwood mills.

During the week ended Sept. 21 a total of 583 mills reported production of 242,327,000 feet; shipments, 230,359,000 feet, and orders booked amounting to 228,438,000 feet. For the preceding week, 621 mills produced 242,949,000 feet; shipped 229,956,000 feet, and booked orders for 215,784,000 feet. For the week ended Sept. 7 reports from 623 mills, showed production of 220,095,000 feet; shipments of 196,440,000 feet, and new business of 179,209,000 feet. For the last week of the preceding month—ended Aug. 31—604 mills reported production of 228,958,000 feet; shipments of 231,655,000 feet, and orders of 215,389,000 feet.

Western pine, Southern cypress and Northern hemlock mills reported orders above production during the week ended Sept. 21. All but Western pine, redwood and Northern pine reported shipments above output for the same period; total softwood orders were 6% below production; hardwood orders were 5% below hardwood output. All regions but Northern pine reported orders above 1934. For the Sept. 21 week all but Northern hemlock reported production above that of the corresponding week of 1934; softwood orders were 44% above and hardwood orders more than twice those of similar period of 1934.

Reports from 669 mills on Sept. 21 1935 give unfilled orders of 720,320,000 feet and gross stocks of 3,847,567,000 feet. The 468 identical mills report unfilled orders as 650,757,000 feet on Sept. 21 1935, or the equivalent of 29 days' average production, compared with 502,713,000 feet, or the equivalent of 22 days' average production on the same date a year previous.

Hides, Leather and Footwear

The First National Bank of Boston, in its "New England Letter," under date of Sept. 30 1935, discusses these markets as follows:

"Expansion in re-orders for fall shoes lifted trade sentiment noticeably during the past month. Cutting is still somewhat irregular, but production is increasing and prices are firm.

"The broader interest in fall shoes is attributed to cool weather and stronger hide and leather markets. Since June, hide values have risen 1½ to 2c., and while manufacturers' shoe prices in some lines have advanced slightly, there has been no broad and general change in costs to the consumer. This failure of footwear to rise commensurately with hides apparently reflects the reluctance of some volume distributors to risk consumer resistance by a moderate mark-up in shoes. Consequently, the problem of getting replacement costs out of current shoe quotations is a pressing one.

"That present prices do attract the consumer is indicated by the trend of footwear production. Output in July was 18% ahead of June and 11% over July last year. This brings total production in the seven months within 1% of 1934 and substantially above the average of corresponding periods in the past decade.

"Tanners displayed spring lines at the Leather Show and Style Conference in New York early in the month. A record number exhibited and good business was booked at advanced prices. Leather for the past two months has been moving in volume. Demand is broad and quite active. Process and finished stocks in all hands, as reported by the Commodity Exchange, have been declining since May and the trade expects a further improvement in August and September. Because of the lag in shoe prices and the strength in hides, however, tanners have been accepting future business cautiously.

"Hides have been moving actively in domestic markets at prices approximately 4c. above a year ago and only a fraction under their 1934 high. Similarly, war threats abroad have improved European demand and Argentine hides have moved up in consequence. Despite resistance to replacement prices for both shoes and leather, demand for hides has been reported as absorbing current production. Inspected slaughter is running somewhat ahead of earlier expectations and thus far this year has exceeded a 10-year average by about 4%. Nevertheless, tanners' wettings for the seven months of the year have surpassed the movement of hides into sight, with the result that raw stocks at 6,464,000 hides on July 21 have declined by some 600,000 since the first of the year. The Commodity Exchange included in their raw stock figures about 984,000 hides certified in exchange warehouses and approximately 1,200,000 held by Government and State relief agencies. These substantial holdings consist mostly of light hides and the trade continues to regard their availability as indefinite."

Grains

Prices in domestic wheat markets developed an upward trend during the past month, despite temporary reactions. Persistent buying by both speculative and consumptive interests was encouraged by bullish crop developments in North America and Argentina by the generally improved nature of the world's statistical position and by the uncertainty over the European political outlook. Argentina, the chief source of exportable supplies outside of Canada, continues to suffer from a drought which promises to be the most devastating that country has ever experienced. The United States Department of Agriculture estimated that Argentina and Australia, "based on the current outlook," may have only 80,000,000 bushels for export from the new crop against 265,000,000 bushels in the 1934-1935 season. For the third consecutive year the United States has failed to produce its own domestic requirements. Present indications point to a crop this year of around 595,000,000 bushels compared to a crop of 497,000,000 bushels in 1934 and a five-year (1928-1932) average of 861,000,000 bushels. The domestic carryover has dwindled from 390,000,000 bushels in 1933 to approximately 150,000,000 bushels as of July 1 1935. Average consumption is 640,000,000 bushels, which would leave less than a safe reserve of 135,000,000 bushels. Thus, it would appear that Canada is holding the dominant position in the world wheat picture. The crop in Canada this year promises to be around 300,000,000 bushels, which, if materialized, plus a carryover of 210,000,000 bushels and less domestic requirements of 100,000,000 bushels, would leave an exportable surplus of 400,000,000 bushels for the world to draw on. In the past the United States, Canada and the Argentine supplied importing countries with the bulk of their wheat. Hence, with prospects of less than a 50% normal crop in the Argentine, and the United States on an importing basis this year, Canadian stocks will likely prove to be a world asset throughout the year. It is true that the primary movement of wheat has been heavy, with consequent liberal hedging, but offerings have been well absorbed. Perhaps one of the most striking features of the domestic markets has been the unusually high premiums maintained for cash wheat. This development has been construed as reflecting unsatisfactory supplies and has been considered especially significant because it has ocurred during the height of the crop movement. It is pointed out that the deficit of high quality supplies in the United States cannot be made up, aside from Canadian importations, until the next crop is harvested. Thus, Canada's improved position in the world export picture has been reflected in a broadening foreign demand for Canadian wheat, and this fact, no doubt, influenced the Canadian Grain Board in fixing the minimum price at 87½c., since it is apparently convinced that importers will be forced to meet her offering prices. In view of tightening of domestic supplies and the improving world position of wheat, periods of selling pressure have been of short duration.

Corn proved a disappointment to the trade and closed the month with prices slightly lower with the exception of the September position, which closed on Sept. 30 at 84½c. compared with an opening price of 72c. Strength of the nearby month was due to the tight cash position and smallness of available supplies for delivery purposes. All kinds of reports were in circulation during the month as to the lateness and condition of the crop, especially west of the Mississippi River, owing to the hot and dry weather during the summer. Subsequently, cold weather delveloped, with frosts earlier than usual in a number of sections. However, the market, contrary to expectations, failed to display strength, and large interests liquidated their holdings and there was not enough buying power to absorb the offerings. Oats and rye, however, ended the month with prices higher. In Chicago the December option for wheat closed on Sept. 30 at 99⅜c. as against an opening price of 90¼c. on Sept. 3. (Sept. 1 was a Sunday and Sept. 2 a holiday in Canada and the United States—Labor Day.) At Winnipeg the December wheat option closed on Sept. 30 at 91½c. as against an opening of 83c. on Sept. 3. December corn in Chicago closed at 57½c. as compared with the opening price of 57⅝c. on Sept. 3. December oats closed at 27⅞c. as against the opening of 26½c. on Sept. 3. December rye closed at 49c. as compared with the opening price of 44c. on Sept. 3.

On Sept. 8 the council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange announced the cancellation of the regulation governing sale of wheat futures in the Winnipeg market, thus permitting open trading despite the price of 87½c. fixed by the Canadian Grain Board.

European Countries Expected to Import 500,000,000 Bushels of Wheat for 1935-36—Estimate of International Institute of Agriculture (Rome)

European countries will import from 500,000,000 to 540,000,000 bushels of wheat for 1935-1936, the International Institute of Agriculture announced Sept. 15, said United Press advices from Rome, Italy, that day. The advices added:

> This estimate places European needs between 350,000,000 and 370,000,000 bushels. The old crop on hand beginning last August was placed at 500,000,000 bushels, the lowest figure since 1928. The amount on hand a year ago was 704,000,000 bushels.
> The Institute's statement said:
> "It may now be estimated that the demand from European importing countries for the entire 1934-1935 importing season did not reach a total of more than 355 000,000 to 360,000,000 bushels. Therefore it remains 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels smaller than that of the preceding season.

Canadian 1935 Wheat Crop Estimated 18% Below Average but 5% Above 1934 Crop

The first official estimate issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa places the 1935 wheat crop at 290,541,000 bushels, which is 5% larger than the 1934 crop, but 18% less than the average for the five years 1929-1933, according to a report by the Foreign Agricultural Service of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Last year's crop, reduced by the drought, was 275,849,000 bushels compared with the five-year average of 354,294,000 bushels. Under date of Sept. 16 the Bureau of Agricultural Economics also announced:

This year's crop has been reduced by rust damage, principally in the southeastern parts of the wheat belt, but in scattered patches elsewhere; and three-fifths of the entire wheat area has been affected. Frost damage also has been a serious factor, especially in central and northern sections of the wheat region, where yields in some instances were reduced 20 to 25%, and some fields rendered unfit for cutting.

The area planted to wheat in Canada this year was 24,116,000 acres compared with 23,985,000 acres in 1934 and with the average of 25,936,000 acres for the five years 1929-1933. Of the 1935 planting, 555,000 acres was winter wheat, with an estimated production of 13,267,000 bushels, and 23,561,000 acres was spring wheat, with an estimated production of 277,274,000 bushels.

Sugar

Trading in sugar "futures" was fairly active during the past month, with general undertone firm. A feature of the trading was accumulation by commission houses and trade operators in the spot, or old crop, position of the No. 3 contract. There was also considerable switching from old crop to new crop months, with a consequent widening of differences. In view of the continued rapid depreciation in quotas from off-shore producers, the supply situation remained very strong. Furthermore, the action of the Cuban Government in withholding sales of Cuban sugar here next year until the Suspense Fund of 108,000 tons (withheld from entry under 1935 quotas) is liquidated, removed the possibility of immediate pressure of raw Cuban offers for 1936 melt. Consumption continues above last year and promises to continue so until the end of the year. Overshadowing all of the factors, however, is the uncertainty over the forthcoming Supreme Court decision as to the constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The court convenes the early part of the current month, and whether it will give prompt consideration of the arguments or allow them to be delayed until late in the year provides the crux in the outcome of the sugar situation here.

Sales of raw sugars during the month were reported as follows, all ex store: On Sept. 6 at 3.50c.; on Sept. 16 at 3.47c.; on Sept. 23 at 3.55c.; on Sept. 24 at 3.57c.; on Sept. 25 at 3.58c., and on Sept. 27 at 3.59c. The wholesale price for refined sugar was quoted by all refiners at 5.10c. until the close of Sept. 20 when the price was advanced to 5.30c., at which figure it remained during the remainder of the month.

Coffee

Coffee "futures" fluctuated more or less irregularly during the month, developing strength during the latter part and closing higher. A factor in the situation has been reliable reports from Brazil to the effect that the drinking quality of the new crop is very poor generally. There was a good spot demand for desirable grades.

Rubber

Crude rubber started the past month with sharply lower prices, largely as a result of the unexpected increase in exports from Malaya during August. The heavier shipments proved disappointing in view of the 65% restriction, in effect since July 1. Slackening demand on the part of tire manufacturers, and London advices reporting cancellations of delivery contracts for Italian interests, because of difficulty in securing letters of credit covering such shipments, also depressed sentiment. Later in the month a reversal in the trend of the market occurred when tire makers re-entered the market on a broad scale, and particularly following the announcement of a reduction in rubber export quotas to 60%. In the closing days of the month news of a warehouse fire in London, involving serious damage to large stores of crude rubber, resulted in renewed speculative activity, although the trend assumed a more irregular character.

Textiles

Materially increased activity featured the textile trades during the past month, with brisk early fall temperatures proving an important stimulant to business. Retail sales picked up substantially, showing considerable gains over the corresponding period of last year and giving promise of broadening activities later during the fall and pre-holiday season. Wholesale trade, following its previous period of dulness, enjoyed a pronounced improvement, reflecting, on the one hand, the broadening flow of goods in distributive channels, and on the other hand, the generally depleted condition of inventories, both in retailers' and wholesalers' hands. Prices ruled very firm, and numerous advances on major staple items were announced, with tight delivery situations developing in a number of lines, and with expectations of additional later price advances resulting in the placing of substantial initial orders on spring merchandise. Raw cotton during the first half of September steadied slowly, chiefly as a result of the unexpected cut in the Government crop estimate from 11,798,000 bales to 11,483,000 bales. Excessive rains in parts of the belt, which delayed the crop movement and retarded hedge pressure, also served to support prices. A mild flurry was caused by the more serious turn in the European political situation, causing fears of general complications in the Mediterranean area in the event of hostilities between Italy and Ethiopia. During the latter part of the month an easier trend developed as more favorable weather conditions resulted in a quickening of the crop movement and an ensuing increase in hedge offerings, although a slightly better export demand, reflecting the generally inadequate supplies in foreign markets, tended to counteract bearish influences. In the event of the outbreak of hostilities in Africa, a mild buying movement is generally anticipated as the closing of the Suez Canal, widely viewed as a possibility, might result in all sorts of political as well as maritime complications, with the latter's direct bearing on the cotton shipment situation. Spot cotton here in New York was 10.65c. on Sept. 1, and from this figure advanced to 11.00c. Sept. 18, but from that point a gradual recession carried the price back to 10.75c. Sept. 27, with the quotation Sept. 30, 10.80c. Trading in the print cloth market at times broadened materially, resulting in sales exceeding present output and placing mills generally into a better statistical position. A feature was the increased buying of goods for industrial uses. Print cloths at Fall River for 28-inch 64x60's ruled at 5⅛c. throughout September, unchanged from last month. The price of 27-inch cloth 60x64's was 5c. Sept. 30, and that of Osnaburgs, 10½c., both unchanged from Aug. 31. The report of the Census Bureau on cotton consumption in the United States, issued Sept. 15, and covering the month of August, showed an increase over the previous month, but a moderate loss as compared with August 1934. The amount consumed in August was given as 408,410 bales of lint and 57,866 bales of linters, as against 391,771 bales of lint and 62,137 bales of linters in July 1935, and 418,941 bales of lint and 61,113 bales of linters in August 1934.

The woolen goods market, following the opening of the new spring lines of men's suitings and worsteds, developed pronounced activity, and repeated moderate price advances were announced, chiefly as a result of the strength in the raw wool market. Clothing manufacturers ordered freely, with the result that a number of mills found themselves with orders on hand sufficient to absorb their output for the next few months, and that in some instances paring down of purchases was resorted to by producers. Demand for women's wear also improved perceptibly, particularly in the sports woolens division.

RFC Authorizes $100,000,000 Loan to CCC to Facilitate 10-Cent Cotton Loan Plan

Jesse H. Jones, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, announced on Sept. 9 that an additional $100,000,000 loan had been authorized by the RFC to the Commodity Credit Corporation to enable the CCC to carry out the 10c. cotton loan plan on the 1935 crop.

The following is Chairman Jones's announcement of Sept. 9:

We have authorized an additional $100,000,000 loan to the CCC to enable it to lend the farmer 10c. a pound on his 1935 cotton crop. Loans to the farmers will bear interest at 4%. It is estimated that very little of this year's crop will be borrowed upon and that CCC will not need as much as $100,000,000 at any one time for this purpose. If, however, that amount, or even more, is needed, it will be available.

The CCC now owes the RFC on the 12c. loan, including loans yet to be taken up, $270,000,000.

CCC has announced that it will not permit cotton under the 12c. loan to be sold for less than the amount loaned upon it, plus carrying charges, which now approximates 13½c. This fact, together with the reasonably low Government estimate released to-day, should insure normal moving of the entire 1935 crop.

Petroleum and Its Products

Efforts of the independent producers in California to curb the rising trend of crude oil ouput occupied the attention of the industry during September. While several different plans were drafted by various independent groups, little material success in curbing production had been achieved by the end of the month.

Daily average production—which has consistently moved higher week by week since the collapse of the Pacific Coast Marketing Agency when the Supreme Court held the NRA unconstitutional—soared to the highest point since early in 1930 during the month. Efforts of the Committee of Seven, acting in co-operation with other independent units, to curb production were futile due to the impossibility of securing sufficient signers to a curtailment program.

Following the collapse of the curtailment program sponsored by the Committee of Seven in mid-September, announcement was made of the formation of an emergency group to cope with the problem of overproduction. The new organization, known as the Emergency Advisory Board, established a new allowable of 531,250 barrels daily for October, November and December. Unsuccessful efforts to persuade all independent producers in the State to join in paring production to this level were made by the group. Daily average production during September in California was far in excess of 600,000 barrels.

The situation was complicated, moreover, by an estimate of the Oil Producers Agency of California made public on Sept. 30 placing total crude oil production required in the State for the final three months of the year at 590,700 barrels daily. This total is some 60,000 barrels in excess of the level set by the Emergency Advisory Board and the Emergency Curtailment Committee of independent operators.

Indications earlier in the month that Governor Merriam would back legislation ratifying the inter-State compact commission and also sponsor the establishment of a State oil control authority at a special session of the Legislature next January were contradicted by a statement by the Governor that, barring unexpected developments, there would be no session of the Legislature until the regularly scheduled one in January 1937. Neal H. Anderson, representing the Governor at the meeting of the inter-State compact group in mid-month at Oklahoma City, had inferred that there would be a special session and that the Governor would back the two measures.

J. R. Pemberton, oil umpire, laid the blame for the bulk of the overproduction in California on four fields in the State—Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill, Mountain View and Kettlemen Hills—which were said to account for approximately 90,000 barrels of the excess output. Kettlemen Hills was said to be 35,000 barrels in excess of the market demand, Signal Hills and Santa Fe Springs 20,000 barrels each and Mountain View 15,000 barrels.

Reverberations from the crude oil price cut initiated late in August by Standard Oil Co. of California were felt in Washington where Attorney-General Cummings disclosed the receipt of a formal protest entered by the Independent Petroleum Association of California charging that the price cut indicated the existence of a monopoly in the California oil industry.

"The Standard Oil Co. of California without an hour's notice and regardless of the fact that demand has been in excess of production announced a drastic cut in the price of all refinable grades of crude oil from $1 to 50 cents, which was followed immediately by all other major companies controlling most crude purchases in California," the wire charged.

"This act demonstrates the complete power of the oil monopoly—ruthlessly exercised and vitally affecting every one in California's largest industry including producers, refiners, marketers and affiliated industries," it continued. "We urge the Department of Justice to take immediate notice of this situation and request prompt and energetic action based upon the facts which are clearly revealed by this act of the group of major companies dominating the industry in this State."

Texas developments during the month were featured by a decision upholding the constitutionality of the Connally hot-oil Act, a bitter indictment of the Texas Railroad Commission as "inefficient" in its operation of the State oil control laws and a threatened shutdown of the entire East Texas field to determine new potentials. The latter, which did not occur despite announcements by the Railroad Commission that tampering with its potential records by clerks—discharged for their actions—on behalf of certain unnamed oil companies, was followed by a secondary announcement that the Commission would continue its former practice of setting the allowable from the results of tests of 100 key wells in the East Texas field.

Federal Judge Randolph Bryant in a decision handed down in Federal District Court in Sherman, Texas, on Sept. 6 upheld the constitutionality of the Connally hot-oil Act, challenged in an action filed by the East Texas Refining Co. seeking to overrule the Federal Oil Tender Board which had refused to permit the movement of 150,000 barrels of crude oil in inter-State commerce. The Tender Board's ruling was made upon the authority vested in it by the Connally Act.

Judge Bryant's ruling—which in effect means the exclusion from movement in inter-State traffic of all oil or refined oil products produced or withdrawn from storage in violation of State laws—was a verbal announcement made following the Judge's review of the briefs of the counsel for the Federal Tender Board and for the plaintiff company. The ruling held that the Federal Government has the constitutional right to exclude from movement in inter-State traffic, oil or refined products produced or withdrawn from storage in violation of State laws.

The oil company's attack upon the law in challenging the constitutionality of the Act held that the Federal Government, under the guise of regulating inter-State commerce, was attempting to step in and aid a State in the enforcement of its oil regulatory laws. The Connally Act was passed by Congress early in 1935 to provide for Federal supervision of inter-State movements of crude oil and refined products through the tender board system.

The Texas Railroad Commission was branded as "inefficient" in its enforecement of the State oil control measures in a scathing report returned by the Legislative investigating committee which has been engaged in investigating the Texas oil industry for the past few months. The report was signed by all members of the committee, and was viewed in some quarters as a preliminary step in an attempt to force the passage of legislation establishing a separate oil and gas commission at the present special session of the Texas Legislature.

The report stated that the Commission's administration of the Texas proration laws was so inefficient that in many instances it was "ludicrous," continuing, that many of the Commission's employees were incompetent and unfit to occupy the positions they hold in the enforcement bodies.

The committee, the report continued, found that East Texas refineries were running huge quantities of "hot oil," that the State tender system was based upon "inaccurate bookkeeping" and that the Commission "had been victimized by designing operators."

The passage and operation of the law authorizing the State to confiscate and sell "hot oil" at public auction for the benefit of the State has had the effect of placing Texas in the "hot oil" business, the committee charged in the report. "Legal racketeering" has followed the law and "law operators had kept at least a full length," ahead of enforcement, the Committee added. Members of the Railroad Commission refused to comment upon the report.

Fears in the oil industry that the Rhodessa field—located on the boundary line between Texas and Louisiana—might turn out to be a miniature East Texas field as far as effect on the general price structure of crude oil might be concerned faded when reports of water in the wells spread in trade circles. Previously, the Railroad Commission had attached so much importance to the new field that a special proration meeting had been set at which Texas and Louisiana representatives were to settle upon the proration rulings for the split field.

Representatives of the signatories to the inter-State oil control compact met in Oklahoma City on Sept. 12 and elected Governor Marland, of Oklahoma, chairman of the group. Three committees to organize the details of the new unit were set up, to report at the next scheduled meeting set for early in October. The committees were to establish rules and regulations for compact commission meetings, for the encouragement of improved conservation methods in the oil States and for the co-ordination of the exercise of the police powers of the oil States.

Other officials of the compact commission, in addition to Governor Marland, included Governor Allred, of Texas, or his assistant, E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, as vice-president, as well as Homer Hoch, Kansas Corporation Commissioner. A. L. Walker, secretary of the Oklahoma compact office, was elected temporary chairman of the inter-State commission. The American Petroleum Institute, through a telegram signed by President Axtell Byles, pledged its co-operation to the Commission.

Holding that a voluntary oil code is needed to avert chaos in the industry, C. E. Arnott, vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute, asked delegates attending the 33rd annual convention of the National Petroleum Association at Atlantic City to support the code sponsored by the A. P. I. Mr. Arnott is vice-president of Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc.

"No industry can succeed where the leaders do not lead," Mr. Arnott said. "The question to-day is will this industry recognize that it must have leadership and accept it. If we are to go again through an era in which all types and forms and classes of companies insist upon their own views, methods and interests, we can only hope for eventual chaos.

"Regardless of what is in the Government's mind, our industry has arisen and said that it needs no control but wants only a chance to assert its own talents. Now it is up to the industry to make good," he said. The convention closed its three-day meet on Sept. 20 with the re-election of all officers. C. L. Suhr, Oil City, Pa., was renamed President, N. H. Webber, Chicago and H. A. Logan, Warren, Pa., were renamed Vice-Presidents.

Other news during the month included a small increase in the price of Pennsylvania grade crude oil, an estimate of October crude oil demand at 2,554,200 barrels daily by the Bureau of Mines and a forecast by Wallace E. Pratte, vice-president of the Humble Oil and Refining Co. of the discovery of sufficient new oil fields in this country to offset the oft-discussed shortage of crude petroleum.

Price changes posted during the month follow:

Sept. 6—South Penn Oil Co. lifted Pennsylvania grade crude in Southwest Penn Pipe lines 5 cents to $1.72 and Eureka Pipe Line a similar amount to $1.67. Bradford and Allegany were advanced 5 cents a barrel to $2 by the Tidewater Pipe Line, Ltd.

Gasoline prices in California were under pressure during September as the crude oil price structure was stablized at sharply subnormal levels. Retail prices at San Francisco and Los Angeles broke with adjustments to the new price structure in the heavy consumption areas unsettling the entire West Coast territory.

The Chicago areas suffered a sharp cut in retail gasoline prices during the month as major companies met competitive price slashes. The bulk market, however, with the exception of a temporary sag late in the month, held firmly and prices are well maintained at the summer highs. The favorable statistical position of the industry's gasoline stocks aided in stabilizing the bulk market.

While for a time there appeared to be a danger of sharp price cuts in the southern New Jersey areas developing as a result of independent price-cutting, the situation was corrected and prices were restored to a more normal basis. In the New York-New England retail gasoline marketing field, scattered price cuts in various areas where local competitive conditions were severe were noted during the month.

Bulk gasoline prices in the New York-New England area showed better than seasonal strength. New York harbor bulk prices were firm to strong during the month, bolstered by the strong undertone in the Gulf Coast market. Little fear was felt in trade circles of shipments of low-priced gasoline from the West Coast upsetting the Atlantic Seaboard markets although a close watch on the California market is kept.

THE SEPTEMBER FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY

September was in certain ways a trying month for the United States Treasury. The market for outstanding issues was weak a good part of the time, continuing the down-trend which became especially noticeable after it was revealed on Aug. 29 that the Aug. 26 offering of $100,000,000 of Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation 1½% bonds had been undersubscribed. It was not until after the middle of September that the market showed any rallying tendencies. In the second place, the exchange of called Fourth 4¼s for the new issues offered on Sept. 3 proceeded at a slower pace than had other conversion offerings in the last year or two. In the third place, partly as a result of the slowness of the exchange subscriptions, the Treasury had to return to the practice of making weekly bill offerings in excess of maturities.

The one bright spot for the Treasury in an otherwise unsatisfactory September was the alacrity with which the Sept. 3 offering of 3½-year 1½% notes for cash subscription was snapped up. In spite of the quite recent failure of the Federal Farm Mortgage bonds to be fully subscribed by the auction method, the Treasury came out on Sept. 3 with a major offering that did not appear to make many concessions to the market's nervousness. The Treasury had the satisfaction of seeing the notes offered for cash subscription substantially oversubscribed on the very first day of the sale, and books were closed forthwith. Secretary Morgenthau said on Sept. 5 that reports received from Federal Reserve banks showed that subscriptions to these notes aggregated more than $1,270,000,000. He was able on Sept. 10 to announce the final figures on the note sale. He said then that cash subscriptions to the 1½% notes totaled $1,274,565,350, of which $512,434,350 were allotted.

In addition to putting these notes up for cash sale, the Treasury stated on Sept. 3 that it would allot them in exchange for the approximately $1,250,000,000 of Fourth Liberty Loan 4¼% bonds called for redemption on Oct. 15. These notes were to be dated Sept. 16 1935 and to mature on March 15 1939. Besides the notes, the Treasury announced that it was offering an issue of 10-12-year 2¾% bonds of 1945-1947, dated Sept. 6 1935 and bearing interest from that date. Thus holders of the called Fourth 4¼s who accepted the new bonds in exchange would receive what amounted to a bonus of interest on the bonds from Sept. 6 to Oct. 15. By this means the Treasury proposed to complete the refunding of the last block of Fourth Liberty bonds, making the total refundings during the Roosevelt Administration $8,201,000,000, of which $6,268,000,000 were Fourth 4¼s and $1,933,000,000 First Libertys, mostly bearing a 3½% coupon.

The holders of the called Fourths did not take to the new securities in emphatic fashion. By Sept. 10 exchange subscriptions to the new issues totaled only $480,000,000, of which $180,000,000 were in exchange for the 2¾% bonds and approximately $300,000,000 for the 1½% notes. The weakness of outstanding issues undoubtedly contributed to the slow progress of the exchanges. In the week ended Sept. 17, the Treasury revealed, about $759,000,000 of the called Fourths had been exchanged for the new issues, with the subscriptions to the 2¾% bonds aggregating $331,000,000 and to the 1½% notes about $428,000,000. At that time T. Jefferson Coolidge, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, intimated that the Treasury would have to pay out more cash on the latest batch of called bonds that it did on a comparable call of $1,200,000,000 of Fourth Liberty bonds on Oct. 15 1934. The books were closed on Sept. 14 on the 1½% notes issued in exchange for called bonds, but it was stated that the books would remain open until further notice on the 2¾% bonds of 1945-1947.

When the total exchanges had climbed to a level of only $800,000,000, on Sept. 26, the Treasury launched a new borrowing program to raise $50,000,000 in new funds weekly through the sale of discount bills. From Aug. 21 until then the Treasury had been offering $50,000,000 of bills weekly, just matching the maturities. From June 26 to Aug. 21 the weekly bill offerings were less than maturities. The Treasury did not indicate how long the new weekly borrowing program would continue, but Washington dispatches published on Sept. 27 suggested that the bill offerings would exceed maturities for the next several weeks.

The Treasury also announced on Sept. 26 that, in conformity with the provisions of the gold clause suit bill passed at the last session of Congress, it was prepared to redeem at par until Jan. 1 1936 any of the $8,423,888,840 of gold clause bonds and notes still outstanding. Interest would be paid on the securities turned in for redemption until the day when the Treasury paid them off. The gold clause issues on which the redemption offer held good were the 4¼s of 1952, the 4s of 1954, the 3⅞s of 1956, the 3½s of 1949, the 3s of 1955, the 3⅜s of June 1943, the 3⅜s of March 1943, the 3⅜s of April 1936, and (among the notes) the 2⅞s of April 1936, the 3¼s of August 1936, the 2¾s of December 1936, the 3s of April 1937, the 3¼s of September 1937, and the 2⅝s of February 1938. The Act outlawing suits against the Federal Government to compel recognition of the gold clause was signed by President Roosevelt on Aug. 27 1935.

Another development of significance in Treasury financing in September was the appearance in the "Saturday Evening Post" for the last week of the month of an advertisement urging the public to buy United States Savings Bonds, more popularly known as Baby Bonds. The advertisement was the first of a series of seven which were to appear over the next few weeks. It marked the first time that the Treasury had gone in for Liberty Loan campaign selling methods to achieve wider public distribution for its securities.

The details of the sales of Treasury bills sold on a discount basis are given in the following tables:

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN SEPTEMBER

New financing in the domestic market for September exceeded that of August by a substantial margin and was greatly in excess of the total for the same period one year ago. This was particularly true in the case of public utility and government classifications with industrial financing represented in no small measure by the $50,000,000 offering of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc. Refunding operations continue to be the outstanding feature of the month's emissions. In the public utility group, the Southern California Edison Co., Ltd. was conspicuous in the sense that it completed the final step in its $165,500,000 refunding program with the offering of $30,000,000 1st and ref. mtge. bonds, series of 4s, due 1960, and $27,500,000 of serial 2½, 3½ and 3¾% debentures through an underwriting group, headed by the First Boston Corp. The combined offering of bonds and debentures by the Southern California Edison Co., Ltd. was the largest piece of financing undertaken during the month. Below we give the larger offerings for September:

RAILROAD FINANCING

$9,000,000 Chesapeake & Ohio Ry.—3% equipment trust certificates awarded to a syndicate comprising The First Boston Corp.; Kean, Taylor & Co.; F. S. Moseley & Co., and Lawrence Stern & Co., Inc. at public sale on its high bid of 101.0713. The certificates, which fall due at the rate of $600,000 annually from Oct. 1 1936 to 1950, were offered by the syndicate priced to yield from 0.625 to 3.05%, according to maturity.

The same banking group sold an issue of $73,000,000 of ref. mtge. 3¾% bonds in April and an issue of $35,000,000 of ref. mtge. 3¾% bonds in July. The new 4% bonds were priced at 102 and int. The offering of debentures comprised $3,000,000 of 2½s, due 1936, priced to yield 0.875% $2,000,000 of 2½s, due 1937, to yield 1.625%; $2,000,000 of 2½s, due 1938, to yield 2.625%; $3,000,000 of 3½s, due 1939, to yield 3%; $3,000,000 of 3½s, due 1940, to yield 3.375%, and $14,500,000 of 3¾s, due 1945, to yield 3.75%. This financing brings to $95,000,000 par value the total 1st & ref. mtge. 4% bonds of the company marketed since last spring. Two blocks of $45,000,000 and $30,000,000 of the series G bonds were sold in April and June, respectively. The proceeds will be used to retire bank loans which amounted to $15,745,000 on Dec. 31, last. The new serial notes will be payable after the first six months in equal semi-annual instalments.

COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING SEPTEMBER 1935

The stock market started out in September as though it was going to make the month the most outstanding of any since prices began to work higher last April. For the first two weeks stocks fairly leaped upward, and in the middle of the third week prices ran up triumphantly to a new high on the movement in decidedly active trading. But then the market ran into difficulties, largely traceable to the European war scare, and prices dropped perpendicularly. Not quite all of the gains rolled up in the first half of the month were lost, but the losses were wide, shaking the market's confidence badly and causing trading to fall off to a level roundly 50% lower than it had been earlier in the month.

When the steep advance started, early in the month, the war clouds had begun to gather ominously over the Italo-Ethiopian situation. But at that stage the eyes of the stock market were not trained on the darkening outlook abroad. The market's principal stimulation came from domestic sources, where the trade news, in the main, was still cheerful and encouraging, and traders appeared anxious to make capital of the circumstance that September was the first month of the year in which Congress was not in session. In addition, from the start of the month, the market had as a further stimulus a letter which President Roosevelt dispatched on Sept. 2 to Roy W. Howard. In this exchange of letters, which the political correspondents maintained was pre-arranged, the President promised that a "breathing spell" was at hand for business. He declared that his Administration's legislative program had "now reached substantial completion." The letter was not made public until Sept. 5, but the market, before that, seemed to have a pretty good idea that such a letter had been written. As soon as the public was made privy to the letter's contents, the stock market was given a bullish whirl that would not have disgraced one of 1929's advances. The price rise originating in that quarter was given additional stimulus by several favorable dividend declarations, including especially the increase in the General Electric disbursement from 15 to 20c. quarterly, and by a brisk upturn in wheat prices.

The stock market enthusiasm thus engendered, however, was dissipated with startling suddenness on Thursday, Sept. 20, when a bad break in prices began and continued on through the next session. The fit of despair into which the market was so suddenly plunged came almost wholly from the political state of Europe. Financial centers had not taken very seriously the obvious dissatisfaction on the part of England with Mussolini's dreams of empire until it became known that the British fleet, with business-like suddenness, had been mobilized and sent, 400,000 tons strong, to the Mediterranean.

On that turn of events, stock and bond prices slumped in all leading European and American markets. The seriousness of the situation was ground into the markets' consciousness by the beginning of another heavy movement of gold from Europe to the United States, which quickly developed into a flight of capital of no mean proportions. First, gold started to move from France, then from Holland, and finally from England, though sterling, of course, is not on gold. What happened was that gold previously hoarded in London was shifted to New York, and liquid capital began to leave London on the heels of the war scare in such quantities that the pound had to be accorded considerable official support.

On the eve of the outbreak of the World War in 1914 there was tremendous liquidation of American securities by European holders. There seemed to be some doubt whether much foreign selling struck the market on the present occasion. It looked as though the New York stock market was recoiling out of fear that dumping of securities here by foreign holders might take place.

After the visitation of selling on Sept. 19 and 20, the stock market righted itself without much difficulty. But the sweeping advance of the first half of the month was not resumed. Prices crept cautiously higher on a volume of about 1,000,000 shares for a full session. Copper and electrical equipment issues showed up relatively to the best advantage, for the former benefited by large sales of the metal to a Europe looking feverishly to its armaments, and the latter were so placed as to participate better than most industries in the recovery of business in this country. Rail shares kept in the market background when they were not in the van of the decline, since they labored under a new outcropping of rumors of defaults and reorganizations. The rail news of this character fell particularly hard on the Nickel Plate, Denver & Rio Grande, and New Haven. The Van Sweringen lines were adversely affected by the announcement on Sept. 12 that the collateral held behind certain bank loans to O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen would be sold at public auction on Sept. 30. Among the utilities, the action of Standard Gas & Electric in petitioning, on Sept. 27, for reorganization under Section 77B of the bankruptcy law because of its inability to meet its notes due in the following week was fairly well localized.

The slowing down of trading in the latter part of the month, and notably in the last week, caused the aggregate volume of dealings for the month to drop to 34,726,590 shares from 42,925,486 shares in the previous month, which was the largest total for 18 months. The volume compared, however, with a total of only 12,635,870 shares in September 1934. The stock market index compiled by the New York "Times" showed a 3.25-point advance, thus keeping unbroken the record of rising markets reaching back to April. The month's rise compared with one of 1.13 points in August; 5.62 points in July, and 7.07 points in June.

As to the fluctuations in individual stocks, United States Steel was at its lowest Sept. 4 at 42½ and at its highest Sept. 18 at 48¾, with the close Sept. 30 at 45. Steel preferred was at its highest Sept. 9 at 112½, and at its lowest Sept. 21 at 107, with the close Sept. 30 at 110. Consolidated Gas of N. Y. was at its highest Sept. 7 at 29⅝, and at its lowest Sept. 20 at 25⅝, with the close Sept. 30 at 27⅜. In the railroad list, New York Central was at its lowest Sept. 4 at 22⅛ and at its highest Sept. 19 at 27¼, with the close Sept. 30 at 24¼. Delaware & Hudson rose from 34½ Sept. 3 to 40½ Sept. 11, with the close Sept. 30 at 36. Union Pacific moved up from 98 Sept. 4 to 104 Sept. 11, with the close Sept. 30 at 99⅞. Southern Pacific was at its lowest Sept. 4 at 18⅛ and at its highest Sept. 11 at 21½, with the close Sept. 30 at 18½. Baltimore & Ohio rose from 15 Sept. 3 to 18 Sept. 11, with the close Sept. 30 at 15⅝. Chesapeake & Ohio moved from 47½ Sept. 11 to 45 Sept. 25, with the close Sept. 30 at 45¼. Southern Railway was at its lowest Sept. 4 at 8⅝, and at its highest Sept. 11, at 10¾, with the close Sept. 30 at 9¼.

Some improvement was noted in domestic corporation bonds during September. Gains were confined in the main to medium-grade issues, which advanced on the average from ¾ to 1 point, with the highest grade bonds showing little or no net change from the previous month. The latter issues, however, displayed a firmer tone than was the case for the past two months. Foreign bonds declined during September, especially Italian issues, but toward the close were more steady.

In the following table we show, as usual, the fluctuations for the month in the different issues of United States obligations, and a considerable number, likewise, of domestic corporate and foreign government bond issues:

THE MONEY MARKET DURING SEPTEMBER 1935

The outstanding event in the money market during the past month was the renewed heavy movement of gold to this country from Europe, obviously as a result of the concern aroused by the threats of war. Including amounts engaged for shipment, this new movement totaled more than $225,000,000 during the month, and actual shipments, chiefly from France, England, Holland and India, plus the further deposits of newly-mined gold and scrap gold, resulted in an addition to the monetary gold stocks of this country of approximately $165,000,000. With a total of over $9,400,000,000, gold holdings are now more than $2,500,000,000 larger than immediately following the devaluation of the dollar on Jan. 31 1934. Early in the month member bank reserves reached a new high of $5,388,277,000, Sept. 11, but in the following week, largely due to income tax collections and to cash sales of new Government securities, which considerably exceeded Treasury interest payments and other disbursements, the reserve account declined to $5,136,134,000, Sept. 18, from which point, however, another increase of approximately $100,000,000 was reported in the week ending Sept. 25. This trend is expected to continue, as the accumulation of Government deposits in Federal Reserve banks will gradually be disbursed by the Treasury. Total loans and investments of the reporting member banks showed an increase of nearly $600,000,000, chiefly as a result of subscriptions to new Government securities. Early in September announcement was made of an offer of 10-12-year 2¾% Treasury bonds, in exchange for the $1,250,000,000 Fourth Liberty 4¼s called for redemption Oct. 15; also of an offering of 3½-year 1½% notes, for cash or exchange. Due to the decline in Government bond prices, acceptance of the exchange offer proceeded slowly, with a total of $826,000,000 having been exchanged at the end of the month. In addition, the Treasury sold $512,000,000 of the 3½-year 1½% notes on cash subscription. In sympathy with the easier price trend in the Government bond list, rates on Treasury bills stiffened to 0.23% as compared with 0.13% on the last August issue. Discount holdings of the 12 Reserve banks, after having increased from $9,409,000 Aug. 28 to $11,177,000 Sept. 11, subsequently declined to $9,547,000 Sept. 25, while bills bought in the open market remained virtually stationary at the low figure of $4,688,000, Sept. 25. Industrial advances continued their slow increase, from $29,447,000 Aug. 28 to $30,132,000 Sept. 25. Outside of the moderate increase in yields on short-term Government obligations, money rates showed no changes. On the Stock Exchange the official rate for call loans remained at ¼%. Bankers' acceptances, Treasury bills and other prime short-dated obligations continued in brisk demand.

Time loan rates on security collateral continued at the low figures previously quoted, although at times during the earlier part of the month some lending institutions sought to establish a slightly higher rate for longer accommodations. Officially, throughout the month rates for loans running from 30 to 180 days remained at ¼%, with a slackening demand reflecting the smaller volume of stock trading.

Commercial paper was in moderately increased supply, reflecting, in part, at least, borrowings by concerns whose operations are associated with the fall crop movement. Supplies in general, however, were greatly exceeded by the continued bank investment demand. The prevailing rate for prime four- to six-month paper remained at ¾%, and, in fact, a small amount of especially choice paper maturing at the year-end was sold at ½% around the middle of the month. Under date of Sept. 12, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York announced the returns received by the bank from commercial paper dealers showed a total of $176,800,000 of open market commercial paper outstanding on Aug. 31 1935 as against $163,600,000 at the end of July and $159,300,000 at the end of August 1934.

Rates for bankers' acceptances also remained unchanged. The demand for bills continued to exceed the supply, although for the first time in nearly one year the total volume of acceptances showed a small seasonal expansion. The American Acceptance Council on Sept. 27 published its usual survey of the acceptance market and found that bankers' acceptances at the end of August amounted to $321,807,411 as against $320,890,746 July 31, but $520,002,718 Aug. 31 1934. In making public the figures on Sept. 27, Robert H. Bean,

Executive Secretary of the Council, pointed out that after a steady reduction in each month since November 1934, the acceptance volume showed a slight improvement during the month of August, which is an indication that at least a portion of the seasonal crop and commodity financing is going into acceptance credits. It is customary for such seasonal credit activity to make its appearance each year during August and to be reflected in the acceptance volume at the end of the month. With the steadily increasing movement of base natural products, there is an indication in the production center banks that bank credit will be in more active demand than a year ago, and it is confidently expected that a substantial portion of this credit may be in the nature of acceptances. Furthermore, many banks are realizing the wisdom of keeping some of their bills in the acceptance market and will undoubtedly be guided by this thought as new credits are now available, notwithstanding the still urgent need to employ unloaned funds in over-the-counter loans. New reports on the export and domestic movement of cotton, as well as the very large production of seasonal canned goods, indicate the probability of much larger commercial commodity loans than have been seen in recent years. Import credit acceptances increased $2,425,991 and acceptances based on goods stored in domestic warehouses $5,565,328, while dollar exchange credits increased $1,352,821 in volume. To offset these gains, acceptances based on exports declined $4,890,661, domestic shipment credits were off $114,148, and bills based on goods stored in or shipped between foreign countries were off $3,422,666. An unchanged position is found in the holdings of bills by accepting banks, which report $144,901,656 of their own bills and $147,208,568 of the bills of other banks, a total of $292,110,224, leaving approximately $30,000,000 held by other banks and investors as against $24,000,000 at the end of July and approximately $19,000,000 at the end of June. Bill rates remained unchanged for the entire month at 3/16% bid and ⅛% asked for 30-day, 60-day and 90-day bills; at ¼% bid and 3/16% asked for 120-day bills, and at ⅜% bid and 5/16% asked for 150-day and 180-day bills. The New York Federal Reserve Bank, in the "Monthly Review," discussed conditions in the market for bankers' acceptances as follows:

"During September several moderate-sized blocks of bills were sold in the market by New York City banks and were quickly resold by the dealers, but on the whole the bill market continued in the inactive state that has prevailed for some time past."

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY

September afforded for the Federal Reserve System a slight variation on the old theme of steadily rising member bank reserve totals. In the four weeks ended Sept. 25 there was actually a shrinkage of $110,707,000 in the reserve balances standing to the credit of member banks on the books of the Federal Reserve. This reversal of the reserve balance trend was in large degree attributable to quarter date financing operations of the United States Treasury. Income tax payments and cash subscriptions to the offering of notes caused a sizable expansion in the Treasury's cash deposit with the Reserve banks around the middle of the month. By Sept. 25 the Treasury still had $112,231,000 on deposit with the System, compared with $49,877,000 as of Aug. 28. Member banks also lost reserves through a swelling of $46,680,000 in the so-called other deposits of the System. These other deposits are largely Government agency and stabilization fund acounts.

The Treasury's operations, which, as has been pointed out before, are a more important factor in money market conditions than the activities of the Reserve banks, were large enough in scope to nullify the effect on bank reserves of the increase of $100,000,000 in the monetary gold stock. A part of this increase in monetary gold came about from newly-mined and scrap gold supplies, but by far the greater part of it represented gold received from Europe. A new movement of gold set in from Europe on Sept. 9 from France, and soon thereafter Holland and England as well began to give up substantial amounts of gold to the United States. By Sept. 27 the movement of gold from all foreign countries, acording to figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from reports of New York banks, had amounted to over $202,000,000 in 18 days. It was not until the week ended Sept. 25 that foreign gold began to arrive in volume. In that week importations totaled $53,065,000, and monetary gold was $57,000,000 higher. The gold was running in flood tide toward this country at the beginning of the movement, for seasonal reasons; but quickly the movement turned into a flight of capital from Europe because of the Italo-Ethiopian tension and the mobilization of the British fleet in the Mediterranean. England itself gave up some $50,000,000 of hoarded gold to this country, and the other chief sources of supply were France and Holland.

Aside from Treasury operations and gold engagements, the Federal Reserve month was without significant feature. The regular fall expansion in currency circulation began, with hand-to-hand money rising $53,000,000 in the four-week period. The quarter date financing at the mid-month was attended by some shifting about of Government securities in the System's portfolio. For the period under review, Federal Reserve holdings of Government bonds decreased $51,370,000 and certificates and bills were $18,380,000 lower, but Treasury notes were $69,615,000 higher. The entire portfolio declined $135,000. Other open market items were but little changed, with bills discounted $138,000 higher and bills bought in the open market up $3,000. Federal Reserve credit outstanding increased $3,000,000. Deposits of gold certificates with the Federal Reserve banks by the Treasury amounted to $68,901,000 in the four weeks, raising the total to a new record high at $6,551,132,000.

Paid-in capital of the Reserve banks showed a reduction of $15,810,000, or just over 10%. This decline was a reflection of a provision of the Banking Act of 1935, which became law on Aug. 23, requiring that banks decrease their holdings of Federal Reserve stock in proportion to their reductions in surplus since their entry into the System. Previously the law had required that banks cut down on their holdings of Reserve bank stock whenever they pared down their capital, but it was optional with them whether they reduce their stock holdings upon a cut in their surplus. Most banks had chosen to retain their Federal Reserve stock because of the 6% yield it afforded.

During the four weeks, loans and investments of reporting New York banks underwent an expansion of $339,000,000. The principal increases in their credit were in loans on securities, up $50,000,000; other loans, up $56,000,000; Government securities, up $176,000,000, and other securities, up $43,000,000. The increase in other loans was taken to mean that commercial borrowings were showing a seasonal rise. Net demand deposits of these banks were $213,000,000 higher, while their time deposits dropped $8,000,000.

All weekly reporting banks, in the four weeks from Aug. 21 to Sept. 18, put out $517,000,000 more credit. Most of the increase in their loans and investments came about through a rise of $377,000,000 in their holdings of Government securities. Other loans were up $61,000,000, Government-guaranteed securities $72,000,000, and other securities $20,000,000. Demand deposits of the weekly reporting banks were $423,000,000 higher, and time deposits $10,000,000 higher.

Of the $50,000,000 increase in security loans of the reporting New York banks, $49,000,000 took place in their loans to brokers and dealers in New York City. Loans to brokers and dealers outside New York were unchanged at $56,000,000. Secured loans to non-brokers increased $1,000,000. Street loans, as compiled by the New York Stock Exchange, amounted to $781,221,869 on Sept. 30 1935, which is an increase of $9,190,401 over the Aug. 31 1935 total of $772,031,468. On Sept. 29 1934 these loans stood at $831,529,447.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE IN SEPTEMBER

Sterling exchange in September was marked by an almost complete reversal of the firm trend manifest throughout the summer, particularly during July and August. It should be recalled that on July 9 sterling sold as high as $4.98⅝ for cable transfers and on Aug. 14 reached $4.98½, at which points sterling was at its highest since November 1934. The exceptional firmness during July and August was due largely to purchases in the London silver market for account of the United States Treasury.

Sterling had been in great demand throughout the summer because of tourist requirements, which were greater than they had been in six years. The United States Shipping Board stated early in September that the number of American tourists journeying to Europe during May, June and July were estimated at 130,000. For the first time in many years England headed the list of Old World countries visited by Americans. More than 65% of all travelers to Europe arranged their itineraries to include a visit to London during the British Empire celebration of the twenty-fifth year of the reign of King George and Queen Mary. The jubilee took more Americans to London than had been there in 10 years. The tourist requirement for sterling ceased entirely in September.

The threat of war between Italy and Ethiopia and fears that such a conflict might involve Great Britain had a serious effect throughout September, depressing the European markets and affecting sterling adversely. For several years there was a conspicuous movement of funds to London, prompted solely by a desire for safety. The heavy purchases of gold in the London open market for hoarders which had been going on for a number of years reflected in a large measure this movement of funds seeking refuge. As September progressed and fears increased that Europe might become embroiled, gold purchases were greatly restricted, and toward the end of the month there was a marked outflow of money from London and Continental Europe, directed chiefly to the United States. In September the total gold disposed of in the London open market was approximately £5,419,700. This figure compares with £8,810,000 in August, with £9,289,000 in July, with £9,874,000 in June, and with £11,200,000 in May.

Sept. 1 marked the beginning of normal seasonal pressure against sterling on commercial account, but this pressure was less than usual because of the demoralization of international trade. Authoritative figures on international trade published early in September pointed out that world trade had shrunk from approximately $55,000,000,000 in 1929 to $12,000,000,000 in 1933. The war scare and the constant uneasiness as to developments at the League of Nations in Geneva had an extremely depressing effect on the pound. Aside from the movement of funds from New York to London for safety, there was a well-marked trend of European money to the New York security market on the strength of the belief held generally on the other side that American securities offered the most favorable prospect for profitable employment.

Despite the great reduction in London open market gold purchases, however, and the flow of gold from London to New York, it could not be considered that the movement contained any element of panic. Toward the middle of September the total gold hoarded in London for private accounts was estimated at close to $2,000,000,000, at old dollar parity. The great flow of gold from Europe to New York got under way around Sept. 9, and up to Sept. 28 the gold which had already arrived, together with that on the water and other known engagements, totaled more than $200,000,000. Of this amount it was estimated on Sept. 28 that $78,100,000 had been acquired in France, $52,700,000 in England and $49,500,000 in Holland. It would hardly be correct, however, to attribute this gold movement entirely to uneasiness over the prospects of war. Last year, in August, Great Britain shipped a total of $23,500,000 in gold to the United States. Our entire import of gold from Great Britain during 1934 was around $510,000,000. There was no war scare at that time.

The currencies of the rest of the world moved closely in sympathy with the fluctuations of sterling during the month. The British Exchange Equalization Fund was believed to have been constantly active in the market for the purpose of steadying sterling, particularly with reference to the French franc, or gold. It is safe to say that the variation between sterling and the franc was kept throughout the month, as for several months previous, at slightly less than 1%.

As political developments at Geneva became acute, questions of currency stabilization, tax reduction and the maintenance of a balanced budget in Great Britain were forced into the remote future. So far as stabilization on the former gold basis is concerned, however, it can safely be said that British authorities have for long, and recently with renewed insistence, refused to entertain the idea. They maintain that sterling and the sterling area are already sufficiently stabilized,, and in September they were expecting further adherents to the sterling bloc. It was pointed out in September that the sterling area included about one-third of the world's foreign trade. According to the Bank for International Settlements, the sterling area included Great Britain, Argentina, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, India, Ireland, Japan, Norway, New Zealand, Paraguay, Portugal, Siam, Straits Settlements, Sweden, South Africa and the British colonies.

The war fears were at their height around the middle of the month, and on Sept. 16 the news was flashed from London that Lloyd's underwriters had given 10 days' notice of the cancellation of the war risk clause which had hitherto been automatically included in their general policies. Thereafter war risks were to be subject to special rates. This announcement was followed by a wide movement in the foreign exchanges and by considerable selling, accompanied by declines in the quotations for gilt-edged securities in the London market. The European markets were similarly affected. The increased cost of insurance and freight charges naturally resulted in a lowering of gold points.

The sterling situation was further complicated by the general expectation that Great Britain would have to face an increase in armament expenditure, and there was talk of the possibility of a new defense loan. This implied, of course, that coming budgets would reflect no further tax reduction. Despite rumors of a Government defense loan, well-informed London bankers asserted that apart from the fact that large sums could not be spent immediately, the London market for gilt-edged securities became too depressed during September to permit successful large-scale Government borrowing by means of a public issue of bonds. It was held that whatever funds may be required for rearmament could be raised easily and cheaply on Treasury bills, which could be funded into longer-dated debt when conditions became more favorable.

Domestic recovery in Great Britain was well maintained throughout September. In its monthly review of business, the Midland Bank stated: "The pressure of abundant supplies of capital and short-term funds available at rates more advantageous to the entrepeneur than for three decades or longer continues to exert its beneficial effect on the country's business." The Board of Trade index of both production and retail sales, published in September, showed that production for the second quarter of 1935 was 6.3% greater than in the same quarter of 1934 and for manufacturing production alone was 7.1% greater. For thef first half of the year retail sales were 4.9% greater than in the corresponding period of 1934. Provincial bank clearings for August were £100,250,000, an increase of 3.5% over a year ago and the best total since August 1929, when total provincial clearings were £121,931,000.

London open market money rates continued steady and extremely easy throughout September, showing no change from day to day. On Sept. 30, as on Sept. 2, bill rates were as follows: Two-months' maturities, 9/16%; three-months' bills, 9/16% to ⅝%; four-months' bills, ⅝%, and six-months' bills, 11/16% to ¾%. Open market silver during September was quoted between 29 pence and 29 9/16 pence per ounce.

A total of £5,419,700 gold was available in the London open market during the month, as compared with £8,810,000 in August. On four occasions during the month the Bank of England bought gold bars. Its total acquisitions amounted to £288,018. The London open market gold price ranged between 140s. 3d. on Sept. 2 and 3, and 141s. 6½d. on Sept. 27 and 30. The high for gold in London was reached on March 6, at 149s. 4d. Sterling cable transfers sold on Sept. 3 at $4.95¾@$4.96⅛, and on Sept. 30 at $4.91@$4.91⅜; the low for sterling in September was $4.90⅜, and the high $4.96⅛.

In commenting on the foreign exchange situation during September the New York Federal Reserve Bank said in its "Monthly Review" for Oct. 1:

"In the second half of August and in September the dollar for the first time since January advanced simultaneously against both the pound and the European gold exchanges. During previous periods of weakness in Continental European gold currencies recently, these exchanges declined in terms of dollars to a point where gold shipments from Europe to the United States became profitable, but the pound, being free to fluctuate subject only to the operations of the British Exchange Equalization Account, advanced on these occasions more sharply than did the dollar. This tendency was particularly evident in March, April and May of this year. The pound advanced from about $4.75 in the middle of March to $4.95 at the end of May, during a period when either the French franc, the guilder, or both, were in the vicinity of their respective gold import points. The strength of sterling at that time contracts sharply, however, with the tendency shown during the latter half of August and September. After reaching a high of $4.98⅜ on Aug. 14, the day on which, according to an announcement by the Secretary of the Treasury, the United States purchased over 25,000,000 ounces of silver abroad, sterling showed a downward movement in the second half of the month, and the recession proceeded further during September, the rate touching a low of $4.91½ on Sept. 20. Uncertainty regarding the political situation in Europe was reported to have contributed to the decline in the sterling-dollar rate, particularly after the middle of September.

"Among the gold bloc currencies, both the French franc and the guilder were quoted during most of September at or below their gold import points to the United States, and further gold shipments to New York from Paris and Amsterdam were undertaken. Pronounced weakness in the guilder became evident immediately prior to the reconvening of the Netherlands Parliament on Sept. 17 to consider the Government's proposed fiscal measures. The drop in the franc, however, seemed to be largely unrelated to developments within France, and was due rather to external technical influences growing out of the special position occupied by the franc as the principal exchange through which official operations in support of other major foreign currencies are undertaken.

"The sterling area currencies moved about in keeping with the pound, while a number of European currencies, including the Italian lira, the Swiss franc, and the official rate for the reichsmark, were approximately stable in terms of French exchange. The Brazilian free milreis showed an upward tendency during September for the first time since the extension of the free market in February 1935, and the Argentine peso advanced sharply in the free market during the second half of the month."

Changes in the gold holdings of the Bank of England were as follows: In the week ended Sept. 4 an increase of £31,517; in the week ended Sept. 11 an increase of £112,018; in the week ended Sept. 18 an increase of £88,135, and in the week ended Sept. 25 an increase of £44,834. The bank's gold holdings on Sept. 25 were at a new high of £194,360,065, which compared with £192,525,928 a year earlier and with the minimum of £150,000,000 recommended by the Cunliffe Committee.

Details of the gold movement to and from New York during September were outlined as follows in the "Monthly Review" of the New York Federal Reserve Bank for Oct. 1:

"The renewed inflow of gold from Europe which developed around the middle of September reached substantial proportions in the succeeding two weeks, and for the month as a whole, gold imports into the United States totaled $150,000,000. Of that amount $40,000,000 was received from France, $37,000,000 from England, $37,000,000 from Holland, $20,000,000 from India, $15,000,000 from Canada, and $1,000,000 from China.

"In addition to these imports, $1,100,000 of gold was released from earmark for foreign account at the New York Reserve Bank, and there were further deposits of newly-mined domestic gold and scrap gold at the mints and assay offices averaging about $2,500,000 and $700,000 per week, respectively. As a result primarily of the gold import movement from England and the Continent, a total of approximately $165,000,000 was added to the monetary gold stock of this country during September."

Canadian exchange during September ranged between a discount of 1 7/16% and a discount of 3/16%. On Sept. 3 Montreal funds were at a discount of 7/16@⅜%, and on Sept. 30 at a discount of 1 3/16%.

CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGE

The French franc was under pressure throughout September, and the promising outlook presented during August was entirely reversed. Doubtless the main influence adverse to the franc was the complicated Italo-Ethiopian situation. The first few days of September held some promise of continued favorable developments in the Paris money market, and enough funds were returned to the banks by hoarders to indicate a likelihood of easier money rates. Call money fell from 2¾% at the end of August to 2⅜% early in September, and within a few days dropped further to 1¾%, while loans against defense bonds fell from 3@3⅛% to 2 11/16@2¾%. However, as war fears mounted, especially after Sept. 20, hoarding was again resumed, and extreme reluctance to lend was again apparent, so that the outside discount rate, which had dropped to 2¾%, moved up to 3%. Appeals by the French political and monetary authorities for greater confidence were unavailing, and in the last two weeks of September, aggravated by shipments of gold from Paris, hoarding was reported to have been feverishly renewed. It was estimated that at the end of August gold coin and bullion held in private coffers in France exceeded 15,000,000,000 francs, in addition to which French nationals held in hoarding bank notes, chiefly in 500- and 1,000-franc denominations, to a total of 25,000,000,000 francs. It was estimated toward the end of September that approximately $78,100,000 of gold had been acquired in France since Sept. 9 for export to the United States.

It was thought early in the month that the Bank of France would see its way clear to reduce its rediscount rate from 3%, which had been the effective rate since Aug. 8, but as the month progressed it seemed more likely that the bank might have to increase its rate of rediscount. The franc was maintained relatively steady in terms of the pound through the constant operations of the British Exchange Equalization Fund, working in close co-operation with the Bank of France.

Toward the end of September competent observers of the foreign exchange situation asserted that there can be no real improvement in the French situation until such time as confidence is completely restored in the currency and the political situation of France. The great volume of hoarding within the country gave evidence of the remoteness of this prospect. Aside from the hoarding noted above within the borders of France, there is a large volume of privately-owned French gold in London vaults, and there is much French money invested outside the country, chiefly in London, New York, and Brussels. As a result of the hoarding influence, long-term money is almost impossible to negotiate.

Despite the reforms instituted by the decrees of July 17 there was no sign of improvement in the French economic situation at the end of September. Confidence was lacking in many directions. The primary consideration of all French nationals who had any funds was security and not profit.

The Bank of France statement for the week ended Aug. 30 showed an increase in gold holdings of 133,015,762 francs; for the week ended Sept. 6, an increase of 315,271,049 francs; for the week ended Sept. 13, a decrease of 61,039,702 francs, and for the week ended Sept. 20, a decrease of 117,014,723 francs. Gold holdings of the bank on Sept. 20 stood at 71,878,879,224 francs, which compared with 82,204,579,830 francs a year earlier and with 28,935,000,000 francs when the unit was stabilized in June 1928. The Bank of France ratio on Sept. 20 stood at 75.36% compared with 80.77% a year earlier and with legal requirement of 35%.

The franc ranged in September between 6.58⅜ and 6.60¼. On Sept. 3 Paris cable transfers were 6.59¾@6.60¼, and on Sept. 30, 6.59@6.59¼.

The Belgian currency was, with the exception of Swiss francs, the least disturbed of the Continental currencies, as a result of the unpropitious events at Geneva. Early in September the belga was inclined to develop ease. Dollar parity of the belga is 16.95. On Sept. 3 the belga declined in New York to 16.81 below the theoretical lower gold point of 16.84. Belgium had been losing much gold to France and other centers from the beginning of April to the end of August. For the most part this flight of funds from Belgium represented foreign money which had rushed into the country following devaluation of the belga, in the expectation that a boom of some description would result. However, while business recovered to some extent, the improvement did not approach the proportions of a boom, so that the Belgian unemployment figures had not changed at all in July and August. During those months and until the close of the first week of September the National Bank of Belgium was actively engaged in supporting the belga in Paris. After Sept. 7 the belga became much steadier, showing a strong tendency toward dollar parity. Belga cable transfers were 16.81@16.83 on Sept. 3. Cable transfers on Antwerp closed on Sept. 30 at 16.89½@16.91.

Italian lire were exceptionally weak during September, owing to Italy's war preparations. New dollar parity of the lira is 8.91. Since the decree of July 22 suspending the 40% gold coverage of the note issue, which was fixed on Dec. 21 1927, under the decree stabilizing the lira at 92.76 to the pound sterling, the Italian exchange control endeavored to keep the lira stabilized in terms of the dollar at 8.22. However, on numerous occasions during September the lira sold as low as 8.12½. The Bank of Italy lost gold consistently during the month. It may be recalled that the Bank of Italy increased its rediscount rate from 3½% to 4½% on Aug. 12. On Sept. 9 the Italian bank further increased its discount rate to 5%. Toward the end of the month another increase in the rate was anticipated. Early in the second half of September the Italian Government issued a decree calling for a heavy popular loan in order to defray war expenses. At the time of going to press the exact extent of the loan had not been made public. The Italian Government had already provided for temporary financing of its Ethiopian expedition by the issuance of short-term Treasury bonds up to 7,000,000,000 lire. Cable transfers on Rome ranged during September between 8.12½ and 8.17. Cable transfers on Rome on Sept. 3 were 8.15½@8.17, and closed on Sept. 30 at 8.15@8.15½.

The German mark situation continued to increase in gravity during the month. Statements from Berlin regarding the Reich's financial and currency operations were not regarded as enlightening. New dollar parity of the mark is 40.33. The so-called free or gold mark, daily quotations which are fixed by the Reichsbank, ranged during September between 40.15 and 40.27. The so-called registered marks, also in the estimation of the Reich exchange control, have a parity of 40.33. At the end of September registered commercial marks were quoted at 20.00. Mark currency sent from abroad was down 30.50; tourist marks, 26.75, and benevolent marks, 30.40.

The Reichsbank statement for the first quarter of September showed an increase in gold and bullion of 20,000 reichsmarks; for the second quarter, an increase of 18,000 reichsmarks, and for the third quarter, a decrease of 75,000 reichsmarks. The bank's gold and bullion on Sept. 23 stood at 94,742,000 marks, which compared with 74,993,000 marks a year earlier and with 806,223,000 marks at the end of 1932. The bank's ratio on Sept. 23 stood at 2.67%, which compared with 2.21% a year earlier and with 25.8% on Dec. 31 1932. On Sept. 3 the so-called free or gold mark was quoted at 40.21@40.24, and on Sept. 30 at 40.24@40.25.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the war presented mixed trends in September. The Holland guilder was under pressure throughout the month. Swiss francs were consistently steady as the disturbed political situation of other European countries tended to cause money to flow into Switzerland. The Scandinavian currencies moved in sympathy with the pound.

Holland lost gold steadily during the month as funds moved out of Amsterdam on fears that the guilder would be devalued or that gold payments would be suspended and the guilder might be joined to sterling. High Government authorities took occasion repeatedly to deny possibilities of either devaluation or abandonment of gold. Nevertheless, the entire foreign exchange market operated on the basis of probable devaluation. In addition, a considerable proportion of Dutch money was believed to be coming to New York for investment in American securities.

On Sept. 16 the Bank of The Netherlands increased its rediscount rate from 5% to 6%. The 5% rate had been in effect only since Aug. 3, when it was reduced from 6%. Toward the end of the month money rates in Amsterdam were higher than in many years, and it was generally expected that the Netherlands bank might again raise its rate to either 6½% or 7%.

Guilder cable transfers on Sept. 3 were 67.69@67.70. The guilder ranged during the month between 67.33 and 67.75, and closed on Sept. 30 at 67.66@67.69. Swiss cable transfers were 32.57½@32.60 on Sept. 3, and closed at 32.52@32.56 on Sept. 30. Cable transfers on Sweden were 25.57@25.60 on Sept. 3 and closed at 25.32@25.34 on Sept. 30.

Exchange on the South American countries were for the most part inclined to move in sympathy with sterling exchange. The Argentine business reports indicated a high level of activity. Argentine imports in August were valued at 110,000,000 pesos ($36,300,000 at official rate of exchange), which was the highest figure for any month since March 1931. The excess of exports over imports during August amounted to 3,700,000 pesos, or considerably below the monthly average of 40,000,000 pesos between January and July during the lull in Argentine exports. The tendency toward larger imports was interpreted as an indication of the increased purchasing power of the country and of the liberalization of foreign exchange control, a fact which was stressed by Finance Minister Pinedo in an address made in September before the United States Chamber of Commerce in Buenos Aires. A like improvement in business conditions was reported from Brazil.

The official quotations for exchange on Buenos Aires ranged between 32.72 and 33.12 for cable transfers during September. The unofficial or free market ranged between 26.75 and 28.15. The official rate on Rio de Janeiro showed a range of between 8.20 and 8.45. The unofficial or free market in milreis showed a range of between 5.30 and 5.60.

Exchange on the Far Eastern countries showed no new trend in September. Chinese banking difficulties resulting from the severe depletion of Chinese silver stocks were aggravated by the closing of the Bank of Canton and the National Commercial & Savings Bank of Hong Kong. It was estimated that the Chinese silver reserves dropped nearly 50% in the past year. The Japanese yen moved in sympathy with sterling exchange, in accordance with the fixed policy of the Bank of Japan. The Indian rupee fluctuated, of course, with sterling, to which it is legally attached at the rate of 1s. 6d. per rupee.

The London price of silver on Sept. 30 was 29 5/16 pence against 29 pence on Sept. 2. Shanghai dollars were 38.11@38 9/16 on Sept. 30 against 37.21@37⅝ on Sept. 3. The Hong Kong dollar was 50.16@50 11/16 on Sept. 30 against 49.78@50 7/17 on Sept. 3. Yen checks sold at 28.81@28.82 on Sept. 30 against 29.28@29.31 on Sept. 3.

NOTICE.—Cash and deferred delivery sales are disregarded in the month's range, unless they are the only transactions of the month, and when selling outside of the regular monthly range are shown in a footnote in the month in which they occur. No account is taken of such sales in computing the range for the year.

The tables on pages 21 to 43 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during September 1935 and the range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The table embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" in licate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bond. are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-America Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909. Quotations after decimal point represent one or more 32ds of a point.

NOTE—State and City Securities—Sales of State and City securities occur very rarely on the New York Stock Exchange and usually only at long intervals, dealings in such securities being almost entirely at private sale over the counter. Bid and Asked quotations, however, by active dealers in these securities will be found on a subsequent page under the general head of "United States & Municipal Bonds."

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

	Page		Page		Page
Exchange Seats	88	Joint Stock Land Bank Securities	115	Railroad Stocks	76
Federal Land Bank Bonds	95	Mining Stocks	89	Real Estate Bonds	94
Foreign Government Bonds	96	Municipal Bonds (Domestic)	95	Real Estate Trust and Land Stocks	89
Industrial Bonds	86	Canadian	97	Textile Stocks	89
Industrial Stocks	89	Public Utility Bonds	78	Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Stocks	89
Insurance Stocks	116	Public Utility Stocks	84	United States Government Securities	95
Investing Companies Securities	77	Railroad Bonds	72	United States Territorial Bonds	95

Quotations for all securities are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are ex dividend—that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Quotations for all securities are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue.

United States and Municipal Bonds

Quotations are as near as possible for the last day of the month preceding the date of issue.

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained. The customs, however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as, for instance, "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return. Where, however, a range for basis prices appears, and the higher figure of the range is given first—thus, "5.00 to 4.75"—then the higher yield is meant to be the bid price and the lower yield the asked price. It is proper to add that as far as the different maturities are concerned, it not infrequently happens now, that no distinction is made between the different maturities, all being quoted alike.

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the National banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
