REVIEW OF OCTOBER—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS

With European peace assured for the time being at least by the successful carrying out of the Munich accord reached in the German-Czechoslovakia crisis, attention was turned during the month under review to domestic events which included the enforcement of the Wage and Hour Act, coming congressional elections, and the moves, in face of continued favorable reports on economic conditions, to eliminate friction between industry and government.

Railway Wage Dispute—Roads Asked to Withdraw Proposal for 15% Wage Cut

Quite the most important issue of the month had to do with the question of railway wage pay. With the conclusion, on Oct. 17, of hearings before the President's Emergency Fact-Finding Board, railroad employers and workers remained insistent on their stand on the roads' proposal for a 15% wage reduction after a month's testimony before the Board. Both sides presented numerous witnesses and voluminous statistics to prove their contentions. The Board, however, on Oct. 29, in a report to President Roosevelt, recommended that the roads withdraw their wage cut demands and suggested that immediate consideration be given to far-reaching rehabilitation of the railroad system of the country.

President Roosevelt at once arranged to meet on Oct. 31 with President John J. Pelley of the Association of American Railroads and President George M. Harrison of the Railway Labor Executives Association to consider the Board's report. The President, it is indicated, promised at the conference that he would do everything possible for the development of a constructive plan for the rehabilitation of the roads, the program to be enacted into legislation following its working out by the Fact-Finding Board.

J. Carter Fort, chief counsel for the carriers' joint conference committee, which proposed the 15% wage cut, declared at the opening of the hearings, on Sept. 30, that "the general level of railroad wages is unreasonably high in the light of existing conditions which bear upon the question of what is a reasonable level of wages." Tom Davis, counsel for the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at the hearing on Oct. 1 asserted that the reduction asked by the carriers was "the most untimely demand in history." The Board, in its findings, stated that "a wage reduction in the railroad industry would run counter to the trend of wage rates in industry generally." Although scheduled to send its report to the President on Oct. 27, the Fact-Finding Board on Oct. 25 asked a few days' grace, and on Oct. 27 the time limit for the report was extended by President Roosevelt an additional 48 hours, to midnight, Oct. 29.

Wage and Hour Law

Lacking the fanfare that accompanied the setting up of the National Recovery Administration, the Fair Labor Standards Act (the so-called wage and hour law) went into force quietly on Oct. 24. The Act, which was passed by the last session of Congress (it became law on June 25, 1938), makes mandatory a minimum wage of 25c. and 30c. per hour for the first and second years, respectively, of its operation. The 40c. minimum is fixed to go into effect after seven years, but may be ordered at once if industrial boards named by the Administrator make such recommendations and these are approved by him. Work-week minima are fixed at 44, 42 and 40 hours for the first, second and third years, respectively, with certain exemptions. Overtime is to be paid at 1½ times the regular rate of pay. In a broadcast on Oct. 24 Elmer F. Andrews, Administrator of the Act, hailed the event of the law as "a red letter day in the history of American industry-labor relations." Mr. Andrews said at a press conference that most industries were complying whole-heartedly with the law. He criticized on Oct. 21 a "small and scattered minority" which is trying to bring the wage and hour law into disrepute. Although any estimate as to the number of workers to be affected by the law is largely a matter of conjecture, figures from a study made available by the Bureau of Labor Statistics last year indicate that with employment at the August, 1937, levels, manufacturing industries were working about 1,200,000 employees more than 44 hours a week and about 3,100,000 more than 40 hours. At the same time it was estimated that of factory wage-earners, including some exempted by the law, only about 200,000 earned less than the initial minimum of 25c. an hour, about 400,000 earned less than next year's 30c. minimum, and from 370,000 to 1,300,000 earned less than the final "floor" of 40c. an hour. Aside from its wage and hour provisions, the law prohibits shipment in interstate commerce of any goods made in an establishment employing children under 16 years old, or children of 16 or 17 at hazardous or unhealthful work. Reports on the compliance with the Act during the first few days of its enforcement were favorable. President Roosevelt, however, indicated his displeasure on Oct. 25 with the way in which reports of small pecan-shelling firms in Texas going out of business because of the wage-hour law were featured. He termed it unfortunate that such prominence be given the news two weeks before election. The most important rulings and definitions of the Act issued by Mr. Andrews prior to the effective date were:

A ruling on Oct. 12 that maintenance workers, watchmen, clerks, stenographers and messengers employed in interstate commerce would be subject to the law.

Another on Oct. 14 indicating that the employment of learners, apprentices, handicapped persons and messengers at less than the required minimum would be permitted only under special certificates which the Administrator will issue.

And definitions, on Oct. 19, of professional, executive, outside salesmen and persons engaged in a retail capacity, all of whom are exempt from the Act.

The Textile Industry Committee, the first to be appointed, started work on Oct. 11 to determine if a higher figure up to 40c. an hour may be enforced in the textile industry without reducing employment.

Upturn in 1939 Foreseen by President Roosevelt if Business Will End "Saber-Rattling," According to Spokesman

Making use of "a spokesman qualified to speak" the Administration on Oct. 4 called for an end of "saber-rattling" by labor, business and government. The spokesman said that the country could look for favorable business conditions "from now on" if a cooperative attitude toward the Administration's program for economic recovery was unmistakably manifested by business and industrial leaders. Using the analogy of the recent settlement of the European war crisis, the spokesman intimated that American industry will profit more by cooperating with government than by "economic saber-rattling," and that the partnership of business with government is essential to the Nation's progress. Mr. Roosevelt was represented as being desirous of keeping prices at a sensible level, but certain prices, notably cotton and wheat, should be raised above their present low levels. Charles R. Hook, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, replied to the Administration's plea by declaring that "the manufacturers are extremely eager for a furthering of a more cooperative attitude among leaders of government, lavor, industry, agriculture and other groups in order to help a business recovery get under way." The Administration's request was implemented by the action of C. E. Groesbeck, Chairman of the Board of the Electric Bond & Share Co., in announcing on Oct. 14 that his company would file with the Securities and Exchange Commission a plan of integration by Dec. 1 under Section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act. Mr. Groesbeck's action was construed as sounding a keynote of cooperation with the SEC in working out the provisions of the Act.

President Roosevelt, at a press conference on Oct. 14, hailed the decision of the utility company as a concrete demonstration of the "cooperation" of industry with government of which he had frequently spoken in the past. He added a prediction that business generally would be helped by the example set by the Electric Bond & Share. The President indicated that the Administration would now have a long awaited opportunity to prove that the "death sentence" clause was really a health sentence instead. A further favorable factor in the Government-utility situation, and in general economic conditions, was the announcement from Washington, on Oct. 28, of a $2,000,000,000 utility expansinon program in furtherance of the Government's defense plans.

President's Overtures for Peace Between A. F. of L. and C. I. O.

Renewed efforts to end the three-year feud between the ranks of organized labor were made throughout the month. In a message to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, held in Houston, Tex., President Roosevelt on Oct. 4 called upon the leaders of organized labor to make peace between its factions for the sake of increasing labor's prestige and preventing "the reaction which otherwise is bound to injure the workers themselves." The President's "peace-feeler" was made in an expression of "hope that the convention will leave open every possible door of access to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States." Heywood Broun, President of the American Newspaper Guild, proposed to the President on Oct. 6 the creation of some sort of a fact-finding board which would lay a basis for settlement of the labor feud. Secretary of Labor Perkins similarly proposed on Oct. 15 the creation of a commission of 13 members to mediate the dispute between the Committee for Industrial Organization and the A. F. of L. Advancing her views in an address prepared for a celebration of the 70th anniversary of the Order of Railway Conductors at Columbus, Ohio, the Secretary suggested that each organization choose five of its "trusted and experienced representatives," who in turn would select three disinterested persons. The representatives of labor groups, she said, should have authority to bind their organizations to adhere to any agreement the commission reached. In a resolution, the A. F. of L. convention declared on Oct. 10 that it would not make terms with the C. I. O. so long as J. L. Lewis was its "dictator." Mr. Lewis's answer, on Oct. 11, was that both he and Mr. Green resign their respective posts as heads of the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. as a contribution toward a general healing of the labor rift. Mr. Green rejected the Lewis offer and termed it an "empty gesture" aimed at misleading the public. Daniel J. Tobin, head of the Teamsters Union, the largest in the A. F. of L., threatened to leave the Federation if the Executive Council did not make an early move to reopen the peace parleys with the C. I. O. Taking a less belligerent tone, Mr. Green, after his reelection as the head of the A. F. of L., on Oct. 13, appealed to the C. I. O. unions to break away from the C. I. O. Mr. Green said: "I ask those who have left us to come back home."

Strikes

New York's only strike since the settlement of the trucking strike, on Oct. 2, which quickly brought operations back to normal, was in the tugboat industry (United Marine Division of the International Longshoremen's Association). Several large liners were forced to dock without tugboat assistance. The strike was short-lived, however, and ended after five days, on Oct. 19, when union members voted to accept compromise suggestions made by Mayor LaGuardia as a basis for settlement of the dispute. On Oct. 26 an agreement on a new contract was reached by the New York Towboat Exchange and the United Marine Division, Local 333, of the International Longshoremen's Association. Another important strike of the employees of the Chicago North Shore & Milwaukee RR., which had been in effect since Aug. 16, when the employees refused to work rather than accept a 15% wage cut, ended in a three months' truce on Oct. 2, during which time negotiations will be conducted looking toward a permanent settlement.

Labor Board Rulings

Of chief importance in the news on the National Labor Relations Board, aside from the cases before the Supreme Court in which it is involved, was its decision on Oct. 19 holding the Republic Steel Corp. to have engaged in unfair labor practices in violation of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and ordering the company to rehire 5,000 workers involved in the "little steel" strike of May, 1937. The company, among other things, was ordered to refrain from discouraging membership in the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers or the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, an affiliate of the C. I. O. An appeal from the Board's ruling was filed by the corporation in the Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia on Oct. 20.

Opening of 1938-39 Term of United States Supreme Court—Rulings

The United States Supreme Court opened its 1938-39 term on Oct. 3 with one seat vacant as a result of the death of Justice Benjamin Cardozo. There have thus far been no important decisions of the Court, but numerous rulings and orders were handed down and arguments begun. Among the more important orders were: A review of the Ford Motor Co.'s contention that the NLRB shall not be permitted to withdraw its order for remodeling to fit the "full and fair hearing" requirements laid down in the Kansas City Stockyards case; a review of the Columbian Stamping and Enameling Co. of Terre Haute vs. the NLRB in which the Seventh Circuit Court held that a strike violating a labor contract deprived 250 strikers of the right to reinstatement under the Wagner Act; a review of the Fansteel sit-down case which is similar to the Columbian case; refusal to review the plea of employees of the Port of New York Authority for a rehearing of the Gerhardt case, in which a decision last spring held that they were subject to Federal income tax; and dismissal of the action brought by John M. Perry of New York to test again the constitutionality of the abrogation of the gold clause in Federal obligations (all the foregoing on Oct. 10). On Oct. 17 the court denied the petition of the Biddle Purchasing Co. of New York for a review of a Second Circuit Court decision upholding the Federal Trade Commission's interpretation of the brokerage fee provision of the Robinson-Patman Act. Also on Oct. 17 the court started to hear arguments on the validity of the order of the NLRB directing the Consolidated Edison Co. of New York to abrogate a collective bargaining contract. This case involves the controversy between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. Solicitor Robert H. Jackson stated on Oct. 10 that argument of the Tennessee Valley Authority case had been postponed from Oct. 17 to Nov. 14 because of the nomination of one of the Government's attorneys, John Lord O'Brian, by the Republican party as its candidate for United States Senator from New York. The Supreme Court on Oct. 24 denied the appeal of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. for a review of a Louisiana State Supreme Court ruling that the company was liable for interest charges on taxes withheld during a suit over the validity of the tax. The decision said that no Federal question was involved in the Louisiana court ruling sufficient to warrant a review.

President Roosevelt in Letter to Governors of Five Western Drought Stricken States Calls Attention to Rehabilitation Plan in Report of Northern Great Plains Committee

Attention to the report of the Northern Great Plains Committee (made public Oct. 14) is called by President Roosevelt in a letter to the Governors of five States in the area, the report recommending a program of rehabilitation to promote permanent improvement in economic conditions therein. To the Governors of Wyoming, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota, the President in his letter dated Oct. 19 urges their review of the proposals and he expresses the hope "that you may carry out such of them as are appropriate to the conditions of your State." The President in his letter said, in part:

My dear Governor:

This committee, which included in its membership representatives of both Federal and State agencies, was appointed at my request by the National Resources Committee to suggest measures, including specific changes in Federal procedure and policy affecting land and water conservation, which might be carried out promptly in order to promote the rehabilitation of the area.

The committee's recommendations are of three classes from the standpoint of action necessary to effectuate them.

First, certain improvement in the activities of Federal agencies may be made under existing authorizations of the Congress. I approve the recommendations of the committee in these particulars, and I have directed all executive departments and agencies to modify their procedures accordingly. The report outlines the character of rehabilitation work which will be undertaken by the Federal Government during the fiscal year 1939.

Second, several proposed changes in policy may be made only under new authorization of the Congress. I hope that the suggestions of this nature may receive careful study by the Congress at its next session.

Third, the responsibility for a number of basic lines of constructive action rests largely or wholly with State and local agencies. I recommend that you review the proposals of this class, and I hope that you may carry out such of them as are appropriate to the conditions in your State.

President Roosevelt Opens Annual Mobilization for Human Needs—Says Private Charity Must Supplement Government Aid

People in the United States were urged on Oct. 14 by President Roosevelt to continue private charitable operations despite the expansion of governmental relief and social aid. Speaking in a radio broadcast from Washington which opened the 1938 Mobilization for Human Needs, the President said that what he termed the pioneer agencies were essential to meet the "concrete problems which must be met if our whole program is to go forward with the coordination that is its basic aim." He added that Government relief work made private community effort no less necessary, since "there is more than enough work for both." The Government social security program, he said, should not take the place of private agencies, for if local and private help decreased no improvement in former conditions would ever have been made.

President Roosevelt Authorizes Expenditure of $11,000,000 for New England Flood Control Projects—New England Governors Assert Stand Against State Surrender of Jurisdiction

President Roosevelt, in a telegram on Oct. 4 to Harry Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, authorized additional expenditures of $11,000,000 for New England flood control projects, and also approved plans of procedure designed by army engineers and others. The ultimate cost of these projects will be $28,630,000. Mr. Roosevelt also emphasized, at the suggestion of Norman H. Davis, Chairman of the American Red Cross, that Federal rehabilitation programs in the New England area did not reduce the need for public contributions to the organization's relief fund. He explained that an erroneous impression had developed that the Federal Government had taken over the full burden of the relief load.

Governors of New England States indicated on Oct. 6 that despite the protection desired by flood control projects they were insistent in the matter of retaining State power rights. Quoting Governor Aiken of Vermont as stating on Oct. 5 that Vermont was ready to cooperate with the Federal Government on any plan that did not require "the surrender of the ownership and jurisdiction over natural resources."

Preston Delano Assumes Duties as Comptroller of Currency—Marshall R. Diggs Resigns as First Deputy Comptroller—Succeeded by C. B. Upham—G. J. Oppegard Also Resigns

In a brief ceremony in the office of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Preston Delano was inducted into office on Oct. 24 as Comptroller of the Currency. Mr. Delano was appointed to the office of Comptroller by President Roosevelt on Sept. 23 but requested time to dispose of pressing matters as Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System before taking the oath of office.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced on Oct. 1 that Marshall R. Diggs, First Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, who had been Acting Comptroller since the resignation of Comptroller J. F. T. O'Connor early in April, had resigned to reenter the practice of law. The Secretary also announced the resignation of G. J. Oppegard, Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, who is returning to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as assistant counsel, a position he occupied until his appointment as Deputy Comptroller in January, 1938. Cyril B. Upham, who was appointed First Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, took the oath of office on Oct. 1.

Strikers Picketing Busch Jewelry Co. Fined and Given Jail Terms for Alleged Violation of Non-Picketing Order

Justice Salvatore A. Cotillo of the New York Supreme Court refused on Oct. 14 to dismiss contempt of court actions against five members of the Window Trimmers Union, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, for allegedly violating the court's decision of June 28 prohibiting all picketing of the Busch Jewelry Co. stores. On Oct. 20 Justice Cotillo fined the five pickets a total of $650 and sentenced them to jail terms of from five to 30 days. He read an opinion criticizing the activities of union officials who refused to compromise with employers. Justice Cotillo on Oct. 24 began the trial of eight men and three women for contempt of court in violating his injunction, after he had denied a motion by defense counsel to disqualify him from hearing the case.

Later (Oct. 31) Justice Cotillo sentenced two union officials, reported active in the strike, to 30 days in jail and imposed a fine of $250 each for ignoring his injunction of June prohibiting picketing of the stores.

A previous decision in the case had to do with the dismissal by Justice Cotillo on Oct. 3 of an order to show cause why 12 strikers should not be held in contempt for "silent picketing."

Strike of Cab Company Drivers in Philadelphia Ends

The two months' strike of 950 taxicab drivers of the Yellow Cab Co., Philadelphia, was ended on Oct. 16 when the drivers voted to accept a compromise agreement. The contract calls for an $18 weekly guarantee with 45% commission on fares, which is the same as the wage rates in the expired contract, and a week's vacation with pay. The Philadelphia "Inquirer" of Oct. 17 said:

Although given a week's vacation with pay, the workers will lose their five-day week during the summer months. Instead, they will work a nine-hour day, six days a week the year 'round.

The drivers, who were called out on strike Aug. 15 by the Taxicab Drivers Union, Local 156 of the American Federation of Labor, returned to work on Oct. 17. It was estimated that the strike cost the drivers nearly $150,000 in lost wages. On Oct. 7 about 125 independent Philadelphia taxicab drivers returned to work after voting the day before to accept a new contract. The independent drivers, who were called out on strike Sept. 15 by the Taxi Drivers Union, Local 156 of the A. F. of L., were granted a $15 a week guarantee and a 50% commission. The strike left Philadelphia without taxi service for three weeks, since 950 drivers of the Yellow Cab Co. had been on strike since Aug. 15. The union had demanded a $30 minimum for independents and a 50% commission. Before the strike both the Yellow Cab and independent drivers were paid a 45% commission with an $18 weekly guarantee.

Philadelphia Refuse Collectors Return to Work After Eight-Day Strike—City Council Votes Pay for Dismissed Workers

An eight-day strike of ash and garbage collectors in Philadelphia was settled on Oct. 14 when the City Council, at a special meeting, appropriated money to pay the salaries of the men whose dismissal precipitated a walk-out. Rubbish accumulated during the strike was cleaned up by 2,000 workers who returned to their jobs on Oct. 15. The striking workers, who walked out on Oct. 6, were paid $73,000 for the period from Sept. 15 to Sept. 25, and later were given another $29,000 for the time between Sept. 25 and Oct. 1.

Chrysler Auto Workers Return to Work After Strike

A strike by members of the United Automobile Workers, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, which closed two large Detroit automobile plants and threw 15,000 persons out of work, was ended on Oct. 13. According to the Detroit "Free Press" of Oct. 14, it was planned to put 8,000 additional men to work in the Chrysler plants the following week, United Automobile Workers leaders announced on Oct. 13 after a conference between representatives of the union and the management, the increase bringing the number employed at Chrysler to 48,000. In part, the "Free Press" said:

The union representatives, Morris Field, Executive Board member; Richard T. Frankensteen, Vice-President; R. J. Thomas, Vice-President, and Leo LaMotte, President of the Plymouth local, said the company had agreed to add a second shift at the Plymouth plant. That will put about 1,600 more men to work, they said. Men will be put back to work at other plants according to the needs of each.

The conference had been called to consider the union's request for a 32-hour week.

At its conclusion union leaders said: "The 32-hour week was not in itself the important thing. What we wanted was to get as many men back to work as possible."

Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler Vice-President in charge of operations, denied a report that the Chrysler Corp. would adopt a 32-hour week next week.

United Press advices from Detroit, Oct. 14, stated that the Chrysler Corp. did not commit itself to the 32-hour week beyond the then current week.

On Oct. 19 K. T. Keller, President of the corporation stated that "since Aug. 1 the corporation has recalled 34,000 employees. Mr. Keller also announced Oct. 21 that salary reductions made on March 16 would be restored beginning Oct. 31 to all employees earning less than $300 a month.

Settlement of Strike at Nash-Kelvinator Plants in Wisconsin

The plants of the Nash-Kelvinator Corp. in Racine and Kenosha, Wis., which had been closed by a labor dispute, were reopened on Oct. 10 after a settlement was reached the previous day at a conference between company officials and representatives of the International United Automobile Workers' Union. The following regarding the dispute is from the Milwaukee "Sentinel" of Oct. 10:

The Racine plant was closed Aug. 22 with intent to move its operations to Kenosha, to which the Racine local objected. Under the settlement it will continue to operate for a time as a parts plant, and the Racine local probably will continue in existence as long as any men are employed there.

The Kenosha and Milwaukee plants closed Sept. 27 when the dispute still was unsolved. A settlement was worked out last week, but the Kenosha local rejected it because of dissatisfaction with the seniority arrangements, which it feared would jeopardize the jobs of some of its members.

Four-Month Walkout of San Francisco Warehousemen Ended—City's Department Store Strike Continues

A four-month-old strike of warehousemen in San Francisco was ended on Oct. 24. On Oct. 20 the Association of San Francisco Distributors unanimously ratified an agreement with the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union providing for the reopening of more than 135 warehouses; later, on Oct. 23, more than 2,000 warehousemen approved the new agreement, as a result of which the men returned to work on Oct. 24.

In describing the settlement the San Francisco "Chronicle" of Oct. 20 said, in part:

Although a master contract was concluded in the settlement, details were withheld. Likewise unannounced was the disposition of the strike of Hiram Walker and the Woolworth warehouses, and the matters of a damage suit and case before the National Labor Relations Board filed by the union.

Another problem settled involved a matter before the Unemployment Reserves Commission.

Involved in the tieup were nearly 1,800 warehousemen and operators of more than 135 warehouses who closed their plants in a demand for a master contract from the union.

The start of the current warehouse dispute is represented by two key dates; the strike on July 6 of the Woolworth warehouse; the closing on Aug. 16 of 19 public warehouses when workers at the Haslett warehouse declined to unload a freight car that had been loaded at the Woolworth warehouse.

Refusal of workers to unload the car at the Haslett warehouse was followed by their refusal to unload it at other plants because of their allegation that it was loaded by strikebreakers. More than 135 plants were closed by the travels of the "hot" boxcar.

Representatives of 35 San Francisco department stores and of striking retail clerks affiliated with the American Federation of Labor have continued to confer in an effort to end the strike which has been in progress for almost a month, and on Oct. 29 it was indicated that a basis of settlement had been reached.

Tobacco Marketing Quota Provisions of Agricultural Adjustment Act Upheld by Three-Judge Federal Court at Macon, Ga.

In ruling against South Georgia tobacco growers, a three-judge Federal court at Macon, Ga., on Oct. 7 upheld the marketing provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, ruling that the application of the Act is not unconstitutional and that "marketing of quotas may be validly penalized according to the Act." Associated Press accounts from Macon in the Savannah "News" said:

A group of South Georgia leaf producers had filed suit against Nat Smith, AAA official, seeking refund of penalties paid on tobacco marketed over their quotas. The suit was brought in the Valdosta division of Federal court in the name of James E. Mulford.

The United States had intervened because the constitutionality of an Act of Congress was involved. Congress passed a law last year allowing such intervention by the Government when constitutionality of an Act was questioned.

Sitting on the case were Judge C. B. Kennamer, Judge of the northern Alabama district of Federal court; Judge Samuel H. Sibley, judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judge Bascom S. Deaver, jurist for the Middle Georgia district of Federal court. Judges Sibley and Kennamer wrote the opinion upholding the Act and Judge Deaver did not file an opinion.

Fees impounded by the court were ordered disposed of under the court's ruling, and they will go to the Government. A restraining order which the growers obtained in the Valdosta division at the beginning of the 1938 tobacco season was ordered dissolved.

Judge Sibley ruled that if regulation of marketing of crops is needed Congress has the authority to act to regulate it and not the States. The Act, he held, deals only with the planting and production.

Monetary Policy

Among the many aspects of international affairs that gained prominence during October was the question of international monetary policy. After its sharp dip late in September to $4.60, sterling exchange tended to recover, but remained much under levels prevalent before the European political crisis was settled at Munich. Other foreign currencies likely remained depressed, and in Washington it was rumored that much concern existed with regard to the effects of the development. The fear was said to prevail especially that American foreign trade might be affected adversely by the changed situation, and it was rumored that fresh examinations were being made of the tripartite currency agreement. Formal statements were lacking, however, and in informed circles it was realized that in all probability these matters were being threshed out along with the multifarious difficulties of the proposed Anglo-American tariff agreement. That pact, now said to be well along toward conclusion, is understood to await only a relatively few minor understandings.

In the meanwhile the International Chamber of Commerce made clear at a Council meeting in Paris, on Oct. 21, the need of business men everywhere for currency stability and modification of the restrictions that have made money markets artificial. The Council met to draft a program for the general meeting which is to take place in Copenhagen next June, and delegates of 23 countries attended. They adopted, unanimously, a resolution calling for lowering of trade barriers, the balancing of budgets, the stabilization of currencies, and the removal of exchange controls. This resolution, proposed by Winthrop W. Aldrich of the Chase National Bank, remarked that the problems are all interdependent, with progress in the accomplishment of any objective likely to lead toward advances in other directions. The delegates reaffirmed their faith in the ultimate restoration of gold as an international measure of value and in the fundamental economic function of the gold standard. Adherents of the tripartite agreement were urged to increase their collaboration, with a view to determining the proper relative values of the principal currencies. The resolution also "rejected the fallacy that artificially cheap money is necessary for business activity, or that the money market must never again be called upon to stand the discipline of firm or tight money rates."

Bank for International Settlements

Directors of the Bank for International Settlements held the first of their autumn sessions at Basle, on Oct. 11, with political problems foremost in the discussions. All the leading European central bankers attended the gathering with the exception of Montagu Norman of the Bank of England, who was ill. In the formal discussions and in the preliminary exchanges of views the bankers were represented as not especially optimistic regarding the Munich settlement and the prospects of further developments in Europe. By the time the bankers assembled they were already forced to conclude that the "Munich honeymoon did not last very long." They believed, however, that at least another full year of peace is assured in Europe. The formal session of the B. I. S. was devoted mainly to a consideration of the effects of the September crisis on the great international bank. Approximately 60,000,000 Swiss francs were reported withdrawn during the period of stress, but it also was indicated that with the ending of the difficulties funds promptly started to flow back into the B. I. S. It was reported in Basle that Swiss bankers were more nervous than others during the crisis.

American Policy

The foreign policy of the Roosevelt Administration was debated throughout the United States during October, in the light of the pronouncements made during the European crisis and the many previous declarations, but it can hardly be said that any progress was made toward clarification of this highly important matter. The appeal made by Mr. Roosevelt to Chancellor Hitler for a peaceable settlement of the differences with Czechoslovakia probably had little or no bearing on the course of the European crisis, but it remains true that the President urged such an adjustment as actually was made and added that the world would long remember the incident with gratitude for the avoidance of war. The statement conflicted sharply, of course, with the "quarantine" speech made by President Roosevelt at Chicago, in October, 1937, and it was difficult to reconcile with the promise of American aid to Canada in the event of an attack on that country from outside the British Empire. Immediately after the Munich conference ended, Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared that the Administration shares in the universal sense of relief over the avoidance of warfare. Mr. Hull expressed the hope that efforts would be redoubled for maintenance of principles of order under law, resting on a sound economic foundation.

Notwithstanding much urging at press conferences, President Roosevelt kept silent on the question of foreign relations until Oct. 26, when a radio address was made in connection with a forum on world affairs conducted by the New York "Herald Tribune." After a brief reference to the trying hours of the September crisis, Mr. Roosevelt declared that it is our business now to utilize the universal desire for peace to build principles which are the only basis for permanent peace. Peace by fear, he said, has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword. There can be no peace, Mr. Roosevelt added, if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force, or if national policy adopts the threat of war as a deliberate instrument of influence. The President decried a national policy that disperses all over the world millions of persecuted and helpless wanderers. Peace cannot prevail, he said, if freedom of thought and worship are denied, or if economic resources are diverted from social and economic reconstruction to an intensified competition in armaments. "I speak for a United States which has no interest in war," Mr. Roosevelt remarked. "We covet nothing save good relations with our neighbors, and we recognize that the world today has become our neighbor." The principle of the good neighbor involves fundamental reciprocal obligations, such as peaceable political changes, regard for the sanctity of treaties, avoidance of "fear and distress" policies, and self-restraint on ambitions which are sure to breed insecurity and intolerance, the President continued. Disarmament must be achieved, he said, but added that no nation can accept disarmament while neighboring States arm to the teeth. If there is no general disarmament, we ourselves must continue to arm, whatever our wishes may be, Mr. Roosevelt declared. The determination was expressed to use every endeavor in order that the Western Hemisphere may work out its own interrelated salvation in the light of its own interrelated experiences.

These general expressions by Mr. Roosevelt failed to allay the uneasiness as to the foreign policy pursued at Washington. It was pointed out again and again in the public press that grave disparities exist between such expressions and the actual course of diplomacy during the September crisis. Mr. Roosevelt was urged to clarify beyond the possibility of dispute the course likely to be taken in the event of further troubles in Europe or elsewhere, but no assurances were extended on this point. Nor was any attempt made to reconcile the difference between the "quarantine" speech and the praise heaped on Chancellor Hitler because the latter agreed to settle his dispute with Czechoslovakia by peaceful means. Even more significant is the fact that Mr. Roosevelt carefully refrained from any statement emphasizing the aloofness of the United States from European concerns, although it is clear that such aloofness is earnestly desired by the great majority of Americans.

Checoslovakia

In strict accordance with the compact signed at Munich early on Sept. 30 by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain, Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, Premier Edouard Daladier of France and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, dismemberment of the small democratic State of Czechoslovakia proceeded early in October, with results that can only be considered catastrophic to the country. The extent to which Czechoslovakia was sacrificed in the cause of "peace in our time" was illustrated ever more clearly as the German forces marched into the country, as Poland took over the Teschen area, and as Hungary made demands for a surrender of Czech territory in which Magyars happened to settle. Even more important than the actual sacrifice of Czechoslovakia, however, was the significance of the development for the future of southeastern Europe as a whole. It became ever more apparent that Germany hereafter will dominate that great sphere, economically and politically, and thus will have free access to the great wheat and oil fields of Rumania and possibly of the Ukraine. The course of European history obviously will be changed in many important respects by the Munich agreement.

Czechoslovakia itself had no alternative to simple submission to the German demands, for Great Britain and France were not inclined to aid the small State in any struggle that might develop, and Russia was prepared to aid its small ally only in the event of prior action along the same line by France. Accordingly, German troops marched into the country and completed by Oct. 10 their occupation of the four zones marked out at Munich for progressive transfer. Moreover, a special commission formed by the four countries of the Munich compact agreed by Oct. 6 that a fifth zone likewise would be transferred to Reich sovereignty, without the plebiscite that originally was reported as a necessary preliminary. The fifth zone included areas where even a small majority of German inhabitants was believed to exist. In general, therefore, Herr Hitler gained control of all the territory he demanded at Godesberg, without further formalities or difficulties. Included in the transferred territory was much of the industrial area of Czechoslovakia, and a large part of the defense lines which were carefully built up with French aid. The area transferred to Germany somewhat exceeded the State of Massachusetts in size, and the population was estimated at 3,500,000. Arrangements for population exchanges, where Germans or Czechs still predominate in enclaves, remain to be worked out. Meanwhile, intense suffering is reported among Jews included in the transferred areas, and among Germans who are not sympathetic to Nazi ideas.

Poland took a leaf from the German book, late in September, and threatened to march into the Teschen area unless an immediate transfer of territory were arranged. Troops were massed at the frontier, and in the face of this threat of warfare the Czech Government again capitulated. Just before the zero hour of Oct. 1, Prague agreed to return the Teschen area to Poland and troops of that country occupied the region rapidly and without disorder. The Hungarian Government made similar demands upon Czechoslovakia, with respect to the territory occupied by the 700,000 Magyars included in the Czech borders, but in this instance other considerations prevailed. Instantaneous warfare was threatened by the Budapest authorities time and again during October, but German and Italian intervention kept the peace. No less than five series of demands were made by the Hungarians, and some of these included requests for cession of the Ruthenian tip of Czechoslovakia, so that Poland and Hungary would have a common frontier. At the end of October, however, it was understood that the entire problem would be submitted to German and Italian arbitrators.

There were numerous indications of the degree to which Czechoslovakia was reduced in power and rendered helpless and dependent upon other countries. The British Government proceeded to advance the £10,000,000 loan to the Prague Government which Prime Minister Chamberlain revealed late in September as one element of the new state of affairs. Prague had asked for £30,000,000, but received no financial aid beyond the British loan. Berlin and Prague dispatches made it clear that the small country was being subordinated entirely to Reich aims and designs, both politically and economically. The Russian Government was informed that Czechoslovakia no longer finds useful the pact of mutual defense signed with Moscow some years ago, and no better indication could be asked of the integration of Czech policy with that of Berlin. Numerous Czech Ministers visited the Reich in October to confer with German authorities on problems of mutual interest. That a new trade treaty with Germany would be negotiated by what remains of Czechoslovakia was considered a matter of course. Even more significant were rumors in Berlin that a customs and currency union might develop. In the meanwhile, Reich and Czech officials grappled with the problem of the great amount of Czech crowns in circulation in the transferred Sudeten area, and with the many aspects of the population transfer.

The Cost of Peace

Europe recovered slowly in October from the effects of the war crisis that held all the world in suspense until the "Big Four" of Europe arranged for a peaceable settlement at Munich of the Czech-German issue. The dismemberment of Czechoslovakia was effected just before that little country was to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of its formation, and the celebrations naturally were omitted. Edouard Benes, who held the post of President of the Czech Republic, resigned his office on Oct. 5, and surrendered the direction of Czech affairs to General Jan Syrovy, who is known to be of the military stamp of rulers. In explanation of his departure, Dr. Benes said that there was no alternative to acceptance of the German demands. He avoided all recriminations and remarked simply that judgment as to the events must be left to history. The remnant of a country that Dr. Benes sorrowfully surrendered to its great Nazi neighbor was started promptly on the road to complete subordination to the Reich, and the power and influence of Germany in Central and Southeastern Europe took an immense upbound. The Little Entente can hardly hope to survive as a factor of any importance, and there were signs in October that Yugoslavia and Rumania were anxious to formulate policies acceptable to the German Government. Hungary is considered entirely within the German orbit, and the influence of German programs unquestionably will be felt increasingly down the Danube and possibly even in the Near East.

The change implied in all this for Europe can only be described as epoch-making, but much doubt prevails as to whether the change is for the better. It is apparent that the German colossus now bestrides the "bastion of Central Europe," as the Czechoslovakian plateau long has been known. The route down the Danube is open to Herr Hitler, and the Moravian gateway to the plains of Russia also is within his control. In his outline of policies contained within Herr Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf," the German dictator long since indicated that his aim ultimately would be to impinge upon the Russian Ukraine, and the success achieved in Czechoslovakia made that declaration for less fantastic than it seemed heretofore. The eclipse of Russia as a force in Europe has not yet been plumbed, possibly because little has emanated from Moscow to make clear the policies now to be pursued by the Communist Government. It is plain, however, that the German Nazi ideology will make great strides in Central and Eastern Europe, and possibly even in Western Europe. In view of the despicable German persecution of Jews and of political dissentients, many commentators have tended to describe the events as the forerunners of another dark age. This tendency may be exaggerated, but it is hardly to be denied that a fullsome basis exists for such pessimism.

In Great Britain and France the immediate reaction to the Munich compact was a sense of thankfulness regarding the preservation of peace. When Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain returned to London he declared that the result was "peace with honor," and he assured his countrymen subsequently that the arrangement signified "peace for our time." But Mr. Chamberlain also insisted upon continuance of the British program of rearmament. Indeed, the arming of the British Isles was pushed far more vigorously in October than in preceding months. In France the Government of Premier Edouard Daladier took similar precautions, and the aftermath of the Munich compact thus was revealed swiftly as merely another period of rapid preparation for a general conflict. But this aspect of the problem failed to influence the British and French Parliaments in the days immediately succeeding Munich, when the legislators were asked to set the stamp of approval on the occurrences. The required approval was promptly granted, owing to the assurance that peace had been preserved, for the time being at least.

The British House of Commons assembled in special session on Oct. 3 to hear the report of Prime Minister Chamberlain on his Munich venture. The British leader made it clear that he had no qualms about the decision to sacrifice Czechoslovakia. With typical realism, he assured the House that he hardly looked for paradise on the basis of the Munich accord, and he insisted that British rearmament must be hastened. In the course of this exposition, Mr. Chamberlain revealed that a loan of £10,000,000 had been promised to Czechoslovakia, but he did not ask for immediate approval of this action. The Prime Minister assured the House again and again that he felt he was right in avoiding warfare, and the vote that finally was taken indicated that he had the support of Parliament in this view, for 366 affirmative ballots were counted against only 144 negative votes. In France the action taken at Munich was hailed even more enthusiastically than in England. Premier Edouard Daladier explained the decision to the Chamber of Deputies on Oct. 4 as a "useful conversation rather than a formal conference." After a brief discussion the Chamber approved the policy by a vote of 535 to 75, obviously on the basis of maintenance of peace. But in Great Britain and France alike, criticism of the Munich pact became ever more pronounced as October progressed, and it is clear that the London and Paris regimes will find their tasks more difficult in the future. There was talk in London of a general election, but no steps were taken toward such ends. In France the Popular Front was considered a thing of the past, and much uncertainty prevailed as to the future course of French affairs.

Colonial Problem

One aspect of European developments that gained increasing prominence during October was that of the colonial settlement that formed part of the Versailles treaty. The German Government finally has torn that treaty into shreds, and a good deal of uneasiness was expressed in England and France as to the colonial demands that the Germans would raise, after the fresh adjustment of Central European affairs. Chancellor Adolf Hitler never relinquished the German claim to return of the colonies taken from the Reich after the World War, and it was realized generally that such areas might well form the basis of his next demands on the European democracies. British opinion is believed to hold firmly against any relinquishment of colonies or mandated areas. The French view is known to be along the same lines. But there were one or two indications of governmental conversations that possibly will result in an early adjustment of the matter. Express declarations again were made by German authorities that the claim to colonies never would be relinquished, although only peaceful means are to be employed to attain the aim. More important than such statements was a visit by the South African Defense Minister, Oscar Pirow, to Portugal, late in October. No official statements were issued as to the reason for the conversations, but the visit called to mind the many rumors of recent years that a distribution of Portuguese colonies well may be entailed in any general revision of the colonial status of leading European countries.

Fascist Oppression

One of the unpleasant by-products of fascist ascendancy in Europe is a spread of the racial superstitions that form part of the strange equipment of Chancellor Adolf Hitler for leadership of the German people. The unreasoning antagonism of Herr Hitler to all persons of the Jewish faith or to non-Aryan descent is visiting tortures upon his victims that recall the inquisition of medieval Spain. In Austria, where a large part of the population is of the Catholic faith, the determination of Herr Hitler to brook no other gods than his own caused much trouble during October. Nazi hoodlums attacked the residences of bishops and priests, and the issue of religious freedom once again was raised in a country where such matters had been considered settled decades ago. As Herr Hitler extended his sway over Czechoslovakian areas, Jews and political dissentients fled before the German troops, but the Prague authorities were unable to accommodate all the victims and many of them shivered in the no-man's land between the Czech and German lines, while decisions were awaited as to their future. Late in October German officials began to expel thousands of Jews of Polish origin, owing to enactment of a law in Poland that left the status of Polish Jews in other countries uncertain. Conversations between Berlin and Warsaw finally halted the hegira. The Nazi persecution of Jews was taken up in Italy and pushed to such a degree that a communication finally was addressed to Rome by the United States Government on Oct. 7. In this note the Italian Government was reminded of former treaties insuring impartial treatment of nationals of other countries, and a request was made for avoidance of discrimination against Jews of American nationality. In a reply published on Oct. 20 the Italian Government merely assured Washington that American Jews domiciled in Italy would be treated no less favorably than those of other countries.

Spanish Civil War

Fighting in the Spanish civil war was little more than desultory in October, owing in part to the withdrawals from both sides of many of the foreign "volunteers" who gave the conflict its most decided international flavor. There were no changes whatever in the military lines, the loyalists and insurgents both contenting themselves with maintenance of the status quo. The most important skirmishes were fought in the area southwest of the Ebro River, where the insurgents made modest attempts to oust the loyalists from their dangerously extended positions. Insurgent airplanes occasionally battered the great loyalist cities such as Bercelona from the air, and these unfortunate raids continued to produce no military effect whatever, although many civilians were killed and wounded. The impression gained by foreign observers was that both sides are weary of the long-drawn war and inclined to dig in for another winter in the trenches. It can hardly be disputed that the loss of effectives through withdrawals of "volunteers" is embarrassing, for the man-power of Spain has been reduced sharply in more than two years of heavy conflict.

The internal situation in Spain was in the background, during October, as the withdrawals of volunteers from other countries occasioned much conjecture regarding the real significance of these decisions. The loyalist regime took the initiative in this matter, of course, through its voluntary announcement at Geneva that foreign effectives would be sent back to their native lands. The Italian Government started on Oct. 12 to withdraw some of the weary veterans who have been on the firing lines in Spain for a year or more, and the real reason for that action still is not entirely clear. It was generally agreed that Premier Mussolini will bring back at least 10,000 of his legionnaires, and some reports suggested that 18,000 would be withdrawn. In loyalist circles this action was minimized, and the claim was made that fresh troops were arriving from Italy to replace the ones withdrawn. But it also was evident that the Italian action related to the international scene, for there were daily conversations in mid-October between the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador to Rome, and Italian officials. The conclusion drawn was that negotiations were afoot to cover not only British recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia, but also the Spanish difficulty, to the end that the Anglo-Italian pact of amity might be implemented. The fear prevailed in Republican Spain that this might entail pressure by the great Powers for a settlement of the civil war through an armistice, with each side retaining the territory in its hands at the time of suspension of hostilities. The loyalists' Foreign Minister, Alvarez del Vayo, declared categorically on Oct. 6 that such a solution would be absolutely unacceptable and that Spain would continue to fight indefinitely to avoid a fate like that of Czechoslovakia. Insurgent spokesmen made no comments regarding the reported proposal.

Far East

Japan made vast strides against China in the war which the Japanese militarists forced upon the Chinese Government and people, and a fresh survey of the Far Eastern situation is one necessary result of the abrupt change. Encouraged, to all appearances, by the demonstrated unwillingness of the British to fight for their interests, the Japanese engaged on Oct. 12 in a widespread engagement against the Canton area of southern China, just back of Hongkong. In a few brisk military moves the Japanese cut the railroad through which supplies were reaching the Chinese armies around Hankow, and the defense of that great inland center of China collapsed as well. The Japanese thus gained control of a vast area of China proper, estimated to contain 270,000,000 people, and it is hardly to be supposed that they will fail to integrate their new holdings with the Manchurian conquest. Chinese resistance to the invaders is to continue, according to leaders of that unhappy country, but military experts are mostly of the opinion that guerrilla activities will constitute the tactics. The Chinese removed all governmental activities far inland to Chungking, 700 miles up the Yangtze. Trade relations of other countries with China plainly will be at the mercy of Japan, hereafter, and that fact is well illustrated in a protest which the United States Government made to Japan and published on Oct. 27.

The City of Canton fell to the invaders virtually without resistance on Oct. 21, and five days later the great industrial and trade center of Hankow also was surrendered. The ready fall of Canton occasioned surprise, and it may be remarked that satisfactory explanations are lacking. Defense arrangements were fairly extensive and adequate, but the Chinese military leaders are frankly accused in some reports of having been persuaded by "silver bullets" into abject surrender of the highly important center. The Japanese troops met only a show of resistance when they marched into the city. Patriotic Chinese immediately put into effect their "scorched earth" policy, and set fire to the community, which was almost completely destroyed by the raging flames. Only a shift in the wind saved the foreign settlement from destruction. With the Japanese in complete possession of the line terminal through which supplies were reaching the Hankow defenders, little further effort was made to hold the inland industrial area against the relentless assaults of the aggressors. On Oct. 26 the Japanese reported that they had entered Hankow, only to find the place a "raging inferno." Once again the "scorched earth" program was made effective, and every effort made to reduce the value of the prize falling into enemy hands. But the fact cannot be denied that a vast and rich territory at length is in the hands of the invaders, with formal military opposition unlikely. There were rumors for a time that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had proceeded to Hongkong for peace discussions with the ruthless invaders, but it soon appeared that the doughty defender merely had retired farther into the interior, with every expressed intention of continuing the struggle. All Chinese Government functions were concentrated at Chungking, 750 miles from the mouth of the Yangtze. New defense lines are to be set up between Hankow and Chungking.

The significance of this change in Far Eastern affairs cannot be exaggerated. Recent occurrences are, of course, only a further reflection of the supine acceptance by Occidental nations of the depredations committed by the Japanese in their headlong march toward imperial expansion. Protests by Great Britain and the United States have been absolutely meaningless throughout the 15 months of warfare, and it would be mere self-delusion to suppose that Japan now would be more inclined than in the recent past to pay heed to the complaints. It is indicative that Japanese authorities issued a statement at Shanghai, Oct. 26, disclaiming any and all responsibility for damage to foreign interests "during actual fighting." Japanese aerial bombs damaged the British warship Sandpiper, at Changsha, Oct. 24, but the Japanese did not even bother to apologize. They merely held the incident "accidental." The course likely to be taken with respect to the trade interests of other countries was illustrated Oct. 25 when clearance papers were denied to the American ship, President Coolidge, when that vessel tried to sail from Shanghai with a cargo of silver and gold valued at $2,800,000. The metal was unloaded by the line officials so that the ship could proceed. This high-handed Japanese action merely epitomizes the ruthless suppression of all non-Japanese trade which already has been effected in Manchukuo and which unquestionably will be extended to include all the vast area now under nominal Japanese domination.

In Washington, on Oct. 27, a note to the Japanese Government was published which related to the many expedients developed by the invaders in order to make the position of other traders untenable in China. This communication was delivered at Tokio, Oct. 6, and obviously was held for publication until receipt of a reply. But no mention was made of an answer when the text finally was revealed, which suggests that the Japanese Government made no formal answer. Japanese authorities were reminded, in the American communication, of the numerous representations already made on the general subject of Japanese activities that plainly violate the "open door" principle. Despite repeated and categorical assurances that the open door would be maintained, the note said, Japanese violations of American rights and interests have persisted. After a long exposition of the violations and the protests and suggestions, the note called for three distinct measures to make the Japanese promises effective. The first of these was discontinuance of discriminatory exchange controls and similar measures imposed in Chinese areas under Japanese control. The second point was discontinuance of any monopoly or any preference which would deprive American nationals of the right of undertaking legitimate trade and industry in China, or give Japanese interests superiority in these respects. Finally, the State Department called for discontinuance of interference by Japanese authorities in China with American property and other rights, including censorship of mails and telegrams, restrictions upon residence and travel, and upon trade and shipping. The effectiveness of this protest is perhaps best indicated by the enforced discharge, 18 days later, of cargo taken on by the American ship President Coolidge.

Latin-American Disputes

One of the most persistent and troublesome of Latin American boundary disputes apparently passed into history on Oct. 10 when an award was handed down by the Presidents of six American republics fixing the borders of Paraguay and Bolivia in the Gran Chaco area. There are other disputes of a like nature in the great region south of the Rio Grande, but if the principles applied in the Chaco controversy were to be used generally, it would mean a tremendous advance toward permanent peace in the Americas. The Chaco boundary problem caused an exhausting three-year war between Paraguay and Bolivia, and for three additional years endeavors were made to settle the matter without further resort to arms. An international commission failed in this respect, and the problem then was passed to the Presidents of the United States, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Uruguay. The frontier finally drawn closely approximates the military lines at the end of the war in 1935 and gives some 69,000 square miles of disputed territory to Paraguay. The new border of the small country extends 275 miles west of the Paraguay River, but remains distant more than 100 miles from the Bolivian foothills where important oil fields have been located. Representatives of the six Presidents announced this award in Buenos Aires, where the discussions were conducted. They urged also that full diplomatic relations be restored within 30 days.

Chilean Election

Chilean voters flocked to the polls on Oct. 25 to choose a successor to President Arturo Alessandri, and they proceeded to elect Pedro Aguirre Cerda, candidate of the first Popular Front of leftist parties ever organized in Latin America. Senor Aguirre received 212,000 votes against the 190,000 ballots cast for Gustavo Ross, candidate of the rightist coalition. The President-elect was aided not only by the workers in the large cities and the mining districts, but also by the inability of the fascist nominee, General Carlos Ibanez, to engage actively in the campaign. Imprisoned for political reasons, General Ibanez directed his followers to vote for Senor Aguirre, and a rather startling array of parties thus accounted for the election of the latter. The fact that communists and socialists supported Senor Aguirre has occasioned misgivings regarding his election. It appears, however, that he is considered moderately liberal. As it happens, both candidates are quite wealthy, and there was nothing to choose between them on that score. Senor Aguirre is 57 years old, a lawyer and leader of the Radical party in Chile. In a post-election speech he promised the Chilean masses "bread, homes, culture and liberty."

Steel Trade—Non-Ferrous Metals

The steel trade reported a further gain in operations, with the price of pig iron again increased and that for steel scrap lower. A further improvement in non-ferrous metals was also reported. The "Iron Age," in its issue of Oct. 27, stated in part as follows: "Withdrawal of $6 a ton concessions on sheets and strip during the week ended Oct. 25 was accompanied by the placing of heavy commitments for these products at the low prices. If all of the flat-rolled products for which mills are committed are specified, as undoubtedly they will be, a sharp bulge in operations is to be expected during November and December, as mills will insist on the completion of shipments by Dec. 31. Most mills attempted to obtain definite rolling specifications with the low-priced orders, but this was not possible in all instances, and these will come along later. Blanket coverages were obtained by some buyers, but there was an avoidance by mills of such protection on a large scale. The desire to raise steel prices for the first quarter prevails in the trade, but whether it will be possible to do so remains to be seen. Fall production by the automobile industry of new models will reach a peak within the next two or three weeks." In its issue of Oct. 31, the magazine "Steel" of Cleveland reported, in part: "Paced by expanding needs of the automotive industry, steel demand shows more diversified improvement. Retarding effect of recent price unsettlement on business in some products has been successfully removed by the introduction of a firmer market on sheets and strip. At the same time, heavy tonnages of flat-rolled steel, booked during the temporary period of cut prices, are reflected in rising production of this material. With the best backlogs in many months, and with shipment of low-price orders marked for completion before Jan. 1, sheet and strip producers are assured of sustained operations the remainder of the year. This tonnage is not expected to restrict operations next quarter, however, since many buyers covered no more than this quarter's requirements; some for a shorter period. Scrap markets show a stronger undertone in view of the upturn in consumption." The "Iron Age" composite price for finished steel, after having been adjusted on Oct. 11 to 2.236c. a pound, and on Oct. 18 to 2.211c. (which is $6.02 a ton below the peak level of 1937), returned on Oct. 25 to the 2.286c. basis, which had been in effect prior to the declines, and compares with 2.512c. in effect a year ago. The "Iron Age" composite price of pig iron increased on Oct. 11 from $20.44 to $20.61 a gross ton, and compares with $23.25 at the close of October last year. The "Iron Age" composite price of steel scrap, on the other hand, dropped from $14.25 to $14.17 a gross ton on Oct. 18, which compares with the high for the current year of $14.83 and the low of $11.00 (latter figure reached on June 7).

The operating rate of steel companies having approximately 98% of the steel capacity of the industry, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, was scheduled at 53.7% for the week beginning Oct. 24 (the highest rate reached since the week beginning Oct. 18, 1937), and compares with 49.4% for the preceding seven-day period, 51.4% for the week beginning Oct. 10, 47.9% for the week beginning Oct. 3, and 46.7% for the week beginning Sept. 26, 1938. At the close of October, 1937, operations were reported to be approximately 52.1% of capacity.

As to non-ferrous metals, "Metal and Mineral Markets" reported in substance as follows: Producers are encouraged over the upward trend in shipments, and October, taking the three major metals as a group, promises to surpass any month so far this year in the tonnage moved into fabricating plants. Sales of copper for domestic account amounted to 7,299 tons for the week ended Oct. 4 (against 6,349 tons in the preceding week), 40,847 tons for the week ended Oct. 11, 21,721 tons for the week ended Oct. 18, and 4,971 tons for the week ended Oct. 25. Sales of lead totaled 3,660 tons for the week ended Oct. 5; 7,095 tons for the week ended Oct. 12; 17,300 tons for the week ended Oct. 19 (the largest volume sold during any seven-day period so far this year), and 5,459 tons for the week ended Oct. 26. Business in zinc was generally fair throughout the month. Tin was quiet, with a fair amount of buying being reported at the close of the month for tin-plate mills. Though purchases of major non-ferrous metals were on a reduced scale during the last week, the general tone of the market remained firm. Both producers and fabricators of copper were said to be getting better releases against old orders. The price of copper was increased on Oct. 5 from 10.37½c. to 10.50c., Connecticut Valley basis; on Oct. 6 to 10.62½c.; on Oct. 10 to 10.75c.; on Oct. 13 to 11.00c., and on the following day to 11.25c. Zinc advanced on Oct. 13 from 5.34c. to 5.44c., New York, while lead remained unchanged during the month at the 5.10c., New York, basis. Prices for tin moved higher, closing on Oct. 31 at 46.50c., New York, as compared with 43.50c. on Oct. 3 and 44.50c. on Sept. 30. Tin-plate operations were estimated to be at the rate of about 30% of capacity.

Lumber Movement

The lumber industry during the week ended Oct. 22, 1938, stood at 67% of the 1929 weekly average of production and 72% of average 1929 shipments, according to reports to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association from regional associations covering the operations of hardwood and softwood mills. Production was about 66%, shipments about 75%, and new orders about 76% of the corresponding figures for the same week of 1929. In the week ended Oct. 22, 1938, reported production was slightly less and shipments were somewhat greater than in the preceding week. New business was about the same as in the week ended Oct. 15, 1938, and 25% above that booked in the corresponding week of 1937, the highest percentage so far this year. Every reporting region but two showed a gain over last year. Reported output (hardwoods and softwoods) was 3% below and shipments 14% above the same week of 1937; while softwood production and shipments were, respectively, 2% less and 15% greater as compared with the same period.

During the week ended Oct. 22, 1938, a total of 518 mills produced 222,396,000 feet of softwoods and hardwoods combined; shipped 232,861,000 feet, and booked orders for 219,762,000 feet. Revised figures for the four preceding weeks follow:

Week Ended	No. of Mills	Production (Feet)	Shipments (Feet)	Orders Received (Feet)
Oct. 15	557	228,732,000	219,062,000	222,059,000
Oct. 8	533	226,895,000	210,779,000	221,019,000
Oct. 1	544	224,138,000	217,683,000	213,280,000
Sept. 24	553	238,617,000	225,773,000	202,045,000

Southern Pine, Northern Pine, Northern Hardwood and Southern Hardwood regions reported new orders above production in the week ended Oct. 22, 1938. All regions but Western Pine, California Redwood and Southern Cypress reported shipments above output. All regions but Redwood and Cypress reported orders above those of the corresponding week of 1937; all regions but Western Pine, Redwood and Southern Hardwood reported shipments above last year, and all except Southern Pine, Cypress and Northern Hemlock reported production below the 1937 week.

Hides, Leather and Footwear

The First National Bank of Boston, in its "New England Letter," under date of Oct. 31, comments upon these markets as follows:

"Notwithstanding a contra-seasonal decline in shoe production below the August peak, there has been considerable early buying of leather and hides for the spring season. The resultant rise in raw material prices is expected by the trade to be reflected in higher manufacturers' quotations for shoes during the winter.

"Output of footwear in the third quarter is estimated to have totaled about 109,000,000 pairs, or 10% more than the

gitized for FRASER

10-year average for the period. Even should the usual seasonal decline in production take place during the final three months, total output for the year would be only 7% below the 1936 record of 415,000,000 pairs. Factories recently have reduced their output of winter models and are working on staple varieties together with a moderate amount of early spring business for mail order houses and chain stores. Prices quoted by most retailers and manufacturers have held unchanged for several weeks and have been based for the most part on low-priced leather purchased early in the summer. With these supplies nearing exhaustion, it is possible that shoe prices will show some advance during the coming season.

"Upper leather was the first to respond late in September to the constructive forces underlying the market. Calf leather has had a marked advance from the low point, while side leather, which is in good demand for low-priced shoes, has shown similar strength. Sole leather was somewhat slower to improve but quotations subsequently advanced materially on a heavy volume of sales. Tanners have stepped up operations to the best level since the first half of 1937.

"Domestic and foreign hide prices have advanced sharply above the narrow trading range of the preceding two months. Values are approximately 20% over the September level and more than 50% above the low point of last spring. This gain has reflected the improved statistical position of hides whose supply has declined to a very low level because of smaller imports and reduced slaughterings. In recent weeks, however, tanners have made moderate purchases in Buenos Aires which, with the seasonal rise in slaughtering that usually takes place in the fall, should tend to increase the available supply of hides."

Grains

Prices for wheat in domestic markets fluctuated within comparatively narrow limits during the past month, with the general undertone steady. The more favorable turn of events in Europe removed an important source of price strength and the market again came under the influence of factors that pertained directly to the major cereal. From the standpoint of prevailing supplies, there has been little in the situation to warrant an optimistic price outlook. However, when provision is made for the amount of wheat that is likely to be withdrawn from the market through the loan and crop insurance program, the remaining "free carryover" will no doubt make a much more favorable comparison. President Roosevelt's remarks to the effect that he considered prices for wheat and cotton as too low attracted much attention. These views gave rise to the belief in some quarters that new price-raising efforts may be undertaken. However, there appeared to be a general tendency to await developments of a more tangible nature before making extensive commitments. The purchases of wheat and cotton likewise caused much comment, and it was believed in some circles that there was a possibility of something being achieved in this direction. Furthermore, there was some discussion over the probability of a higher wheat loan, especially in view of the relatively high rate for corn. Meanwhile, crop conditions in the Southern Hemisphere continued to become increasingly important. These crops are harvested in November and December and usually provide more than 40% of the world's exports. Growing conditions in Argentina were reported to be generally favorable. On the other hand, Australia was reported to have experienced drought for some time, and there was much uncertainty surrounding the final crop outcome. Any severe deterioration in Southern Hemipshere crop prospects could conceivably provide the basis for good price advances in world markets. Thus, sellers were more or less cautious. The domestic production outlook for next year likewise attracted attention. It will be recalled that winter wheat usually is planted in September and October. Moisture is important at this time in order to enable the seed to germinate properly and give the plant a good start. Reports during recent weeks have stressed the fact that moisture is badly needed in many important sections of the winter wheat territory. This factor, together with the reduction in acreage, would suggest that next year's production will be smaller than the 1938 yield. The general tendency of prices for corn was towards lower levels, while oats and rye ruled steady. In regard to corn, supplies are large and the market will soon be subjected to the pressure of the new crop movement, which expands seasonally at this time of the year. However, there are other factors which are beginning to assume increasing importance. Prices in the country have declined to such low levels that farmers have little incentive to press their holdings for sale, while the availability of the Government loan is an aid to producers in adopting a firmer attitude. Furthermore, there is a growing belief that the loan price will be raised within the near future. On Oct. 10 the Crop Reporting Board of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics placed the corn crop as of Oct. 1 at 2,459,316,000 bushels compared with 2,454,526,000 bushels as of Sept. 1. The Board estimated the wheat crop at 940,229,000 bushels, the third largest on record. In Chicago the December wheat option for wheat closed on Oct. 31 at 64¾c. as against an opening price of 63⅝c. on Oct. 1. At Winnipeg the December wheat option closed on Oct. 31 at 59c. as against an opening of 59⅞c. on Oct. 1. December corn in Chicago closed on Oct. 31 at 45⅛c. compared with an opening of 47⅞c. on Oct. 1. December oats closed at 25¼c. as compared with an opening of 25⅜c. on Oct. 1. December rye closed at 42⅜c. as compared with an opening of 43¼c. on Oct. 1.

Sugar

Markets for sugar "futures" developed a generally firm undertone and more activity during the early part of the past month. Buying for both speculative and investment account was influenced to some extent by the threat of early completion of off-shore raw sugar quotas for this year. Refiners purchased large quantities for nearby arrival, and firm prices for duty-frees were paid. Withdrawals of refined sugar and bookings were also good while consumption in turn appeared to have improved, which would be consistent with the upturn in general industrial index. Later activity subsided, and while there were slight reactions at times, the general tone of the market held steady. Scattered selling was influenced partly by reports from Washington that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration was sending questionnaires to refiners regarding their position and would, if necessary, permit melting of sugar against 1939 quota. The reason for the questionnaires lies in the policy of the AAA to make certain that no sugar refinery should be forced to shut down because of unavailability of raw sugar. However, this does not mean, according to well-posted authorities, that refiners would be permitted to actually market "1939 quota sugar" in 1938.

Sales of Cuban raw sugars consisted of the following, all exclusive of duty: On Oct. 4 ex-store c. & f. at 2.05c.; on Oct. 6, f.ob. at 2.02c. and 2.05c., and ex-store c. & f. at 2.20c.; on Oct. 7, ex-store c. & f. at 2.25c. and 2.22c.; on Oct. 14, prompt c. & f. at 2.20c.; on Oct. 18, prompt c. & f. at 2.18c. and 2.15c.; on Oct. 19, ex-store c. & f. at 2.18c., and on Oct. 21, October shipment c. & f. at 2.20c. The wholesale list price for refined, immediate delivery, was quoted at 4.45c. to 4.60c. on Oct. 1, at which range it remained until Oct. 7, when it advanced to 4.60c. to 4.75c. The range of 4.60c. to 4.75c. continued until Oct. 10, when all refiners quoted 4.75c. On Oct. 18 a range of 4.40c. to 4.75c. was quoted, at which level it remained during the remainder of the month.

Coffee

Despite the fact that reactions occurred at times, the market for coffee "futures" ruled generally steady during the past month. There was an improved demand for actuals, and evidence that confidence of roasters was gradually returning and that they were endeavoring to build up supplies. There were unconfirmed rumors from Brazil that a change in the monetary policy in Brazil was imminent, which would increase the dollar value of coffee, and that the coffee export taxes would be raised. Carryover supplies were said to be much nearer normal, and an analysis of the general statistical position of coffee was said to disclose that a definite improvement was under way. According to reports, world consumption is continuing to increase, and while it is too early to determine whether the increased rate of consumption will hold up, it was predicted in some quarters that there is a good possibility that the 1938-39 season will bring a new record for world disappearance.

Rubber

Crude rubber early in the period under review continued the advance which started late in September following the termination of the foreign war scare. Increased buying by tire factories, reflecting the optimistic outlook in the automobile industry, helped to support the upward trend, as did the advance in securities and other commodities following the easing of the European tension. Later in the month a slightly easier tone developed, chiefly because of the somewhat disappointing figures of the United States crude rubber consumption for September, showing a small decrease from the previous month, and also as a result of the tire statistics for September published by the Rubber Manufacturers Association and revealing a small decrease in tire sales during September as compared with the previous month, while simultaneously tire inventories experienced a slight increase. Subsequent estimates of a sharp rise in United States crude rubber consumption for the remainder of the current year improved sentiment, but a disposition to await the outcome of the meeting of the International Rubber Regulation Committee, scheduled for Nov. 15, resulted in the market assuming a cautious attitude during the closing days of the month.

Ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery were quoted at 16¾d. asked Oct. 31, the same as on Sept. 30, against 16⅜c. asked Aug. 31; 16⅛c. asked July 30; 14¾c. asked June 30; 11½c. asked May 31; 10¼c. asked April 30; 10⅜c. asked March 30; 14⅞c. asked Feb. 28; 14¾c. asked Jan. 31.

Textiles

Abnormally warm temperatures served to somewhat hamper the seasonal progress of the textile trades during

gitized for FRASER

the past month. Retail business in particular felt the effect of the lack of brisk fall weather which caused consumers to postpone purchases of seasonal apparel items. The improvement in industrial employment counteracted only in part the adverse effect of the weather factor. Wholesale trade, while benefiting somewhat during the early part of the month from the waning of the European war scare, and also from the necessity of replenishing merchandise stocks by stores in the hurricane-stricken areas, failed to show any sustained revival in buying activities, chiefly because of the disappointing flow of goods in retail channels. Although inventories are generally admitted not to exceed moderate levels, the majority of merchants feels inclined to limit new commitments until the volume of retail sales shows a definite pickup. Raw cotton in October continued the gradual improvement which started late in September. The paramount influence was, of course, the termination of the foreign political crisis, and the ensuing sharp rally in security and commodity markets. The immediate consequence of the removal of the war threat was a resumption of foreign buying, which was followed by a moderate improvement in the demand by domestic mills. While the Government crop report, released on Oct. 8 and showing a figure of 12,212,000 bales, or almost 600,000 bales more than previous private estimates had indicated, was a depressant, this factor was counteracted by continued evidences of an increasing disposition among Southern growers to either hold their cotton or put it into Government loans. The improvement in the general business outlook and a better movement of certain finished cotton goods also helped to neutralize the bearish effect of the higher crop estimate. A somewhat confusing influence was the report from Washington concerning the planned utilization of 1,670,000 bales of 1934 loan cotton for distribution in the form of low-priced goods to low-income consumers. While this move was construed as the first step to liquidate the huge Government loan stock, doubts were expressed as to its practicability in increasing net consumption of the staple. During the latter part of the period indications of a tightening position in nearby months were apparent, largely owing to the fact that, in consequence of the diversion of important portions of the current crop to the Government loan stock, Southern hedge selling kept within narrow bounds. On the other hand, it was held that the failure of foreign growths to follow the rise of the American staple portends a further shrinkage in takings of United States cotton by foreign spinners. Spot cotton here in New York was 8.25c. Oct. 1. From that point a steady advance carried the quotation to 9.01c. Oct. 31. Business in gray cloths, following a short-lived flurry immediately after the removal of the European war threat, lapsed into a period of dulness, largely owing to the slow movement of finished goods in distributive channels. Prices, however, held fairly steady as most mills, fortified by a somewhat better statistical position, refrained from pressing their goods on the market. Print cloth at Fall River for 28-inch 64x60's was quoted at 3⅝c. throughout the month. The price of 27-inch cloth 60x64's was 3½c. Oct. 31, unchanged from Sept. 30, while Osnaburgs ruled at 6¼@6½c. Oct. 31 as compared with 6¼c. Sept. 30. The report of the Census Bureau, issued Oct. 14 and covering the month of September, revealed a decline of consumption in the United States both as compared with the previous month and with the same period of last year. The amount consumed in September was given as 534,037 bales of lint and 70,991 bales of linters as against 561,406 bales of lint and 70,218 bales of linters in August, 1938, and 601,305 bales of lint and 74,167 bales of linters in September, 1937.

The woolen goods market showed a broadening trend, which became more pronounced during the latter part of the month as clothing manufacturers entered the market on an increasing scale, chiefly owing to fears of further price advances. Business in women's wear goods, while less active than in the men's wear division, late in the month also gave indications of an early revival.

Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted Oct. 31 at $1.81@$1.86 against $1.80@$1.85 Sept. 30; $1.77@$1.82 Aug. 31; $1.79@$1.84 July 30; $1.76@$1.81 June 30; $1.56@$1.61 May 31; $1.62@$1.67 April 30; $1.55@$1.60 March 31; $1.65@$1.70 Feb. 28, and $1.65@$1.70 Jan. 31.

In the case of the 20-22 deniers Japanese crack double extra were quoted at $1.73@$1.78 Oct. 31 against $1.68@$1.73 Sept. 30; $1.67@$1.72 Aug. 31; $1.69@$1.74 July 30; $1.67@$1.72 June 30; $1.48@$1.53 May 31; $1.57@$1.62 April 30; $1.48@$1.53 March 31; $1.59@$1.64 Feb. 28, and $1.48@$1.53 Jan. 31.

Petroleum and Its Products

A wave of price cuts that hit crude schedules in virtually every producing area east of the Rocky Mountains overshadowed all other developments in the domestic petroleum industry during October. Early in the month prices were reduced in Louisiana and Michigan with mid-October seeing the price cuts become general.

Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana on Oct. 5 posted sweeping reductions in crude oil prices for Louisiana and Arkansas. In announcing the cuts, M. J. Rathbone, President of the company, said: "For some months crude, in increasing amounts, has been sold by others at prices substantially below our posting for crude of like quality purchased in the same general territory. The products from these lower-priced crudes are moving into direct competition with the products from our refinery and we have, therefore, been forced to revise our crude oil postings downward."

Under the new price schedule established by the reductions, Homer, Caddo, El Dorado, Desoto, Sabine, Haynesville, Miller County, Bunkie and Cotton Valley crudes below 25 gravity were posted at 73c. with a 2c. differential for each degree in gravity, and a top price of $1.05 for 40 gravity and above. Rodessa crude was cut 20c. a barrel to 73c. for below 25 gravity, with a 2c. differential for each degree higher and a top price of $1.05 for 40 gravity and over.

Crudes produced in the Arkansas fields of Buckner, Magnolia and Village were posted at 66c. a barrel, with a 2c. differential for each degree in gravity and a top price of 90c. for 40 gravity and above, a cut of 17c. a barrel. A price of 74c. a barrel was set up for Roanoke, North Crowley, Darrow and Choctaw crudes below 21 gravity, with a 3c. differential for each grade to 26 and a 2c. differential above with a top price of $1.20 a barrel for 40 gravity and above. This was a 16c. a barrel reduction for these fields.

In the same week reductions ranging from 6c. to 9½c. a barrel were posted in Michigan crude oil prices as operators met competitive conditions caused by heavy shipments of Illinois oil in the State. Allegheny grade crude was cut from $1.12 to $1.05, with Greendale-Porter grades dropping from $1.12 to $1.02¼; Buckeye and Freeman grades were off from $1.09½ to $1, and West Branch-Arenac grades from 90c. to 84c.

Less than one week after these reductions the crude oil price structure in Texas and the mid-continent area was swept by sharp price slashes. Behind the Texas slashes was talk of heavy imports of Mexican oil into the Lone Star State which burdened an already none too steady crude oil market. Acting upon the complaint of a leading independent oil group, the Department of State is checking Mexican oil imports to determine whether or not they are in violation of the "dumping" laws.

The Humble Oil & Refining Co. on Oct. 10 announced that effective the following day it would reduce prices of crude oil produced in Texas fields by from 12c. to 18c. a barrel. A 12c. reduction was established for crude in the Panhandle, while crude from the Gulf Coast (West Texas) and southwest New Mexico was cut 13c. a barrel. East Texas prices were reduced 15c. a barrel, while the Talco field was lowered 18c. a barrel.

Panhandle Refining on Oct. 10 posted a reduction of 25c. a barrel for north Texas crude, effective on Oct. 12. Under the revised price listings, crude oil dropped to 95c. a barrel for 40 gravity and above, with a 2c. differential down to a bottom of 71c. a barrel for below 29 gravity. The Atlantic Refining Co. also posted a reduction of 15c. a barrel for Greta-Refugio crude oil to $1.26 a barrel for 40 gravity and above.

Quick in following the Texas cut was Standard Oil of Indiana, major purchaser of crude in Oklahoma and Kansas, which on Oct. 11 lowered its prices by 20c. a barrel. Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing Co., its subsidiary, at the same time reduced its postings for north Texas crude by 20c. a barrel. In all other Texas fields, the company announced, it will maintain its own gravity range, but will meet the reduced prices initiated by Humble Oil.

First reduction in posted prices by a major company in the mid-continent field since early 1937, Standard of Indiana's cut established a price of $1.02 a barrel for crude oil produced in Oklahoma and Kansas. All other companies followed the lead of Humble Oil & Refining and Standard Oil of Indiana in adjusting their price schedules to allow for the reductions in all fields in Texas and the mid-continent area. At the end of the month, however, California producers had not made any move toward price revisions.

Corning grade crude oil prices sunk to the lowest levels in five years as a 10c. a barrel reduction there by the South Penn Oil Co. on Oct. 18 pared the price to 97c. a barrel. The cut was the second within two months for Corning crude, and carried the price below $1 for the first time since late 1933, when it was 95c. a barrel. The new price compared with the 1933-38 high of $1.42 a barrel.

Charles F. Roeser, President of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, joined with Colonel E. O. Thompson, head of the Texas Railroad Commission, in attributing the price cuts to pressure brought about by heavy imports of oil from Mexico and other oil-producing areas adjacent to the Lone Star State. "The price cuts in many fields, invasion of our markets, notably in Texas, by cheap foreign oil, much of it from Mexico, the crude storage problem and high gasoline inventories are combining to produce a threatening situation of deep concern to every producer," Mr. Roeser declared.

A possible remedy that has gained wide support in the petroleum industry is that suggested by Frank Phillips, Chairman of the Phillips Petroleum Co., which would give the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, which now merely recommends production quotas for its six-State membership, the legal right to set the allowable production for the country as a whole and also the power to control imports of petroleum. This suggestion was made by Mr. Phillips at a speech delivered at Wellesley Hills, Mass., in mid-month.

Unless the oil-producing States do exercise full control over all production in the country on a cooperative basis with the Federal Government, Mr. Phillips contended, there is a definite possibility that the industry will face the threat of complete Federal control. In commenting upon control of refining and marketing, he suggested that a group similar to that instituted under the National Industrial Recovery Act oil code be established which would have full control over refining and marketing operations. Approval of these suggestions by President Roosevelt was reported by Colonel Thompson after a conference at Hyde Park.

Despite bitter opposition from many Texas oil operators, the Railroad Commission late in October ordered that the Saturday-Sunday shutdowns be resumed as of Nov. 1. The October regulations which permitted full operation of all wells on the closing Saturday and Sunday of the month were not affected by the new orders. The opposition against the new orders stemmed from the fact that heavy imports of crude oil into Texas continue and have aroused the Lone Star State oil operators who are losing their home markets to outside producers.

A committee of seven was appointed by members of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association, meeting in convention at Fort Worth on Oct. 26, to make a study of the proposal to place regulation of the petroleum industry under the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. The group, composed of a representative from each district of the independent oil men's membership, will be headed by C. M. Boggs and will work in cooperation with a similar group from the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Stocks of domestic and foreign crude oil held in the United States showed a decline of more than 3¼ million barrels during the Sept. 24-Oct. 15 period, according to the United States Bureau of Mines. The steady drop in these inventories during the past few months has reflected the strict production control in Texas and other leading oil-producing States. As of Oct. 15, latest available figures, stocks were 277,001,000 barrels against 280,278,000 barrels on Sept. 24.

The United States Bureau of Mines in mid-month had released its November market demand estimate, which placed indicated daily average market demand at 3,391,000 barrels, which was an increase of 1% over the month just closed but 5% under actual demand for the corresponding month a year ago. Texas and Oklahoma already have indicated that they will curb November production allowables, and it is likely that Kansas will follow suit.

The long-drawn-out suits by the State of Texas against 15 oil companies and two trade associations which charged violation of the State anti-trust laws and asked penalties of maximum fines of $17,450,000 and ousters, based upon retail marketing tactics of a decade back, finally ended in a compromise settlement in Austin on Oct. 4. Under the agreement, the Texas Petroleum Marketers' Association paid a $450,000 judgment. The oil companies and the other trade groups—the American Petroleum Institute—were held not liable for any fine.

Representative price changes during the month follow:

Oct. 3—All companies posted reductions of from 6c. to 9½c. a barrel in prices of Michigan grades of crude oil.

Oct. 5—Standard Oil of Louisiana posted reductions of 16c. to 20c. for crude oil prices in Louisiana and Arkansas.

Oct. 10—Humble Oil & Refining posted a price reduction of from 12c. to 18c. a barrel in Texas crude oil prices. Other companies met the reductions, which became effective the following day.

Oct. 11—Standard Oil of Indiana posted a reduction of 20c. a barrel in crude oil prices in Oklahoma and Kansas and announced it would meet the revised price schedule of Humble. Other companies met the reductions immediately.

Oct. 13—Ohio Oil posted cuts of from 10c. to 20½c. a barrel in Central West and Wyoming fields.

Oct. 18—South Penn Oil cut Corning crude 10c. to 97c. a barrel.

Highlight of the month's happenings in the refined products branch of the domestic oil industry was the State-wide reduction of 2c. a gallon posted in gasoline prices on all grades throughout Texas following the sharp crude oil price slashes in mid-month. Aside from these reductions, adjustments in gasoline and other refined products were confined mainly to revisions due to local competitive conditions.

In the statistical field, contra-seasonal contractions of stocks of finished and unfinished gasoline furnished a welcome surprise to the industry. Stocks dipped around 1,000,000 barrels during the Oct. 1-Oct. 22 period, totaling 67,695,000 barrels against 68,602,000 barrels at the outset of the month. Holdings of gas and fuel oils continued to hit record highs in every week of the month, the Oct. 22 total standing at 152,790,000 barrels.

Representative price changes, showing the course of the major markets for refined products throughout the Nation, follow:

Oct. 5—Socony-Vacuum and Standard of Pennsylvania lifted tank car prices of gasoline in Philadelphia ½c. to 7½c. a gallon.

OCTOBER FINANCING OF THE UNITED STATES TREASURY

What with the bond market rallying energetically from the lows reached during the September war scare and the flow of gold to this country cut about in half from the previous month's total, the trend of events in October was to the Treasury's liking. The prices of its outstanding issues, which had fallen sharply in the days immediately preceding the announcement of the Four-Power conference at Munich, recovered briskly and some of the bonds forged ahead into new high ground toward the close of the month. The rate at which the weekly offerings of Treasury bills was placed was sharply reduced under the late September levels.

As the Treasury continued the practice begun in September of reimbursing itself for outlays in buying gold, its cash position was well maintained and there was no necessity for the Treasury to approach the market for new money. The tapering off of the gold movement toward this country from war-scared Europe took a load off the Treasury's mind and the possibility was eliminated, at least for the time being, that gold sterilization would have to be resumed. If it had been necessary to insulate the bank reserve position against the effects of a heavy inward movement of gold, the borrowing needs of the Treasury would have been considerably increased.

While the Treasury itself sought no new money in October, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation refinanced its note issue falling due on Dec. 15. On Oct. 24 Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced that a roundabout exchange offering was being made for the $298,972,000 principal amount of RFC Series K notes falling due on Dec. 15. Mr. Morgenthau stated that the Treasury, on behalf of the RFC, was offering a new series of RFC notes, called Series P. The new notes would be dated Nov. 1, 1938, bear interest at ⅞% annually, and mature on Nov. 1, 1941. The notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed both as to interest and principal by the United States and are exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes. Now the Treasury did not make a direct exchange offer for the Series K notes. Instead, simultaneous with the news of the offering of the Series P notes it announced that it would purchase on Nov. 1, 1938, at par and accrued interest, the outstanding notes of Series K maturing Dec. 15, 1938, to the extent holders of such notes subscribed to the new notes. The effect of the transaction was an exchange offering, but the technique with which it was handled was different. Notes of Series K tendered to the Treasury, it was stipulated, must have the coupon maturing Dec. 15, 1938, attached and accrued interest from June 15 to Nov. 1, about $5.70 for each $1,000, would be paid to the subscriber following acceptance of the notes.

Secretary Morgenthau stated on the day of the offering that the subscription books would be closed on Oct. 26. On Oct. 28 he declared that $297,162,000 of the Series K 1½% notes of the RFC had been turned in for the new Series P notes, leaving only $1,810,000 of the Series K notes to be redeemed in cash on Dec. 15.

Aside from its regular disbursements and pump-priming expenditures, the chief liability which the Treasury was called upon to meet in October was the payment of interest on the 15th, amounting to about $64,000,000. In the four weeks from Sept. 28 to Oct. 26 the Treasury, as aforesaid, did not raise any new money and likewise did not issue any call on depositaries. Deposits of gold certificates with the Reserve banks amounted to $389,489,000 from Sept. 28 to Oct. 26, or $52,000,000 more than the increase in the gold stock in the same period. The Treasury's balance with the Reserve banks declined $280,328,000 in these four weeks, and yet on Oct. 26 the balance amounted to $584,153,000. The offer made on Oct. 24 for the $298,972,000 of RFC notes maturing on Dec. 15 left the decks clear for the Treasury to raise new money, if the need be, on the next quarter date. If the Treasury adheres to its recent practice of caring for its own maturities three months ahead of the due date, then the market can expect in December some exchange offer for the $942,000,000 of Series C 1½% Treasury notes maturing on March 15, 1939.

The disturbance in the Government securities market during the European crisis was reflected in Treasury purchases of Government securities for investment accounts in September. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau disclosed on Oct. 15 that these purchases had amounted to $38,481,000 in September, compared with sales of $3,905,650 in August. It was the largest amount of Government securities acquired for these investment accounts since March, 1937—also a month of market weakness—when the purchases totaled $119,553,000.

F. F. Hill, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, announced on Oct. 11 that the Federal Land banks would call for payment on Nov. 1 approximately $14,000,000 of individual 4½% farm land bonds dated Nov. 1, 1928. The bonds, maturing in 30 years and callable in 10 years, would be redeemed in cash, he stated, and there would be no refunding issue in connection with the call. Farmers' principal payments on Federal Land Bank loans in the first half of 1938 amounting to $30,219,158 exceeded the amount of new loans made, he said, and most of the banks would apply this collection money to the bond issue now being called. The Federal Land banks had outstanding $1,142,518,940 of their individual bonds on June 30, 1933, but after Nov. 1, 1938, all but $740,000 of these bonds will have been called for repayment or retired.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES IN OCTOBER

A sharp upturn occurred in security issues placed in the domestic market during October and came about chiefly from a resumption of refunding operations on the part of the public utilities companies. Further progress is looked for in this direction. For some time a spirit of antagonism has been evident toward this group by the Federal Administration and has been a serious deterrent in the way of extensions to plant and equipment. Necessary improvements of this nature have long been deferred and the utilities feel this work should be delayed no longer. Industrial financing for the month, while small, was represented by one issue of size, namely, the $50,000,000 offering of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s 10-year 3½% debentures. The flotation of these securities was attended by much success. Outstanding offerings for the month included, the $80,000,000 emission of the Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois, and the $65,000,000 issue of the Ohio Power Co. COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING OCTOBER, 1938

The stock market experienced a marked revival of the speculative spirit during October, leading to a sharply increased volume of trading and a broad price upturn. The forward movement really dated from the morning of Sept. 28, when the Atlantic cables brought over from London the news that the Four-Power conference at Munich had been arranged, thus promising an early end of the war scare which was depressing prices and restricting trading volume. As October opened the market was in the midst of one of its steepest rises during the period of Government regulation of Wall Street. So feverish a rise could not be expected to continue for long, and by the end of the second week of the month the more violent phase of the rally had spent its force. The high for the month—as well as for the year—was not reached until Oct. 24, but the gains were coming harder in the last two weeks.

The avoidance of war in Europe over the Sudeten issue was an extremely effective tonic for the securities markets and for business. Speculative spirits were chilled by the European crisis in late August and September, and the signs were multiplying that business was losing some of the forward drive which first appeared in June. Orders for goods were being held in abeyance and the capital market lost its receptivity. After the plans for the Munich conference were made known the markets and business began to surge ahead as though a great weight had been lifted from their shoulders. Industrial activity throughout October expanded with a steady beat and new security issues began to pour forth in healthy volume.

Turnover of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange during October was the largest for any month of this year. Share volume increased to 41,558,470 shares, a gain of 74.8%, and on six days of the month turnover was 2,000,000 shares or better. Bond trading improved to $185,179,000 par value from $133,954,000 in September, though the total was still the smallest for any October since 1917. The index of 50 representative stocks compiled by the New York "Times" advanced 7.39 points, the second largest monthly advance of the year. The New York "Herald Tribune's" average of 100 stocks showed that the broadest advances were scored by the utility, steel, manufacturing, and copper stocks, in that order.

The rise in stock and bond prices was fed by a constant stream of encouraging reports from the business front. Not all of the month's developments, of course, could be classified as favorable to stock market improvement and business expansion, but it was significant of the vigor of the advance that the unfavorable items were brushed aside, at least temporarily. The output of steel ingots was sharply enlarged, with the production rate standing at 56.8% of capacity as the month closed, compared with 46.7% in the week beginning Sept. 26, according to the estimates of the American Iron and Steel Institute. This was the highest rate of output since the week of Oct. 11, 1937, and it compared with the year's low of 22.4% in the week of July 5. The steel industry's price structure was rent asunder for a brief period during the month, and the price concessions caused buying to slow up for a time. The weakness of price schedules and the decline in buying were reflected in a two-point drop in the production rate in the week of Oct. 17. But when the price cuts were rescinded buying became especially vigorous, causing "Iron Age" to liken the movement to the flurries of late 1936 and early 1937 preceding price advances.

Placement of a considerable quantity of automobile company orders for steel contributed importantly to the improvement in the rate of steel production. The revival of confidence in the automobile industry was reflected in the announcement by General Motors Corp. on Oct. 18 that it was rehiring 35,000 workers in the next two weeks and was restoring salaries to the level existing prior to the reduction of last February. Car loadings rose to a point where the reduction from the previous year's total was only 8.4% in the week ended Oct. 22, compared with a decline of 10.0% in the preceding week, 13.5% two weeks earlier, and 17.3% three weeks earlier. The Shippers' Advisory Board estimated that loadings in the fourth quarter of this year would be only about 3.6% smaller than actual loadings in the last quarter of 1937. The decline in electric power production was reduced to 3.0% under the previous year's total in the week ended Oct. 22, against a margin of 4.1% in the previous week and 5.5% two weeks previously.

As the stock indexes indicated, utility stocks came in for an unaccustomed amount of attention from investors and speculators in October. This better tone derived in considerable part from the announcement that Electric Bond & Share Co. would file with the Securities and Exchange Commission a plan to comply with the "death sentence" provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act. This news was followed on Oct. 28 by an announcement in Washington stating that a dozen large utility companies, in furtherance of the Government's national defense program, would spend $2,000,000,000 in the next two years to enlarge their output of electric power. Investors took these developments to mean that the Government and the utility companies were on the point of striking a truce. Certainly the indications that the power companies would expand their generating capacity made for pronounced strength in the electrical equipment stocks.

The vigor of the advance in stock prices was best attested by the ability of the market to withstand the shock of application of the wages and hours restrictions of the Fair Labor Standards Act on Oct. 24 and the disclosure on Oct. 29 that the Emergency Fact-Finding Board appointed by President Roosevelt had recommended that the Class I railroads abandon their proposal for reducing the wages of nearly 1,000,000 employees by 15%. The requirement that industry pay not less than 25c. an hour and work its employees not more than 44 hours a week (except at penalty wage rates) caused some unsettlement in several industries and factories here and there closed down. Nevertheless, the momentum of the business recovery was such that the stock market did not react adversely when the wage and hour standards became effective. The railway wage recommendation was made public after the close of trading on Saturday, Oct. 29, and the stock market had only one trading day during the month in which to show its attitude toward the news. The decline in the 25 rail stocks in the index of the "Times" was only 0.30 of a point on Oct. 31.

As to the fluctuations in individual stocks, United States Steel was at its lowest Oct. 4 at 58¾ and at its highest Oct. 27 at 66½, with the close Oct. 31 at 64⅝. Steel, preferred, was at its lowest Oct. 1 at 115 and at its highest Oct. 10 at 121, with the close Oct. 31 at 116¼ bid. American Tel. & Tel. moved up from 142½ Oct. 1 to 149⅝ Oct. 24, with the close Oct. 31 at 148. General Electric rose from 42 Oct. 1 to 47⅝ Oct. 17, with the close Oct. 31 at 46⅝. Allied Chemical & Dye was at its lowest Oct. 1 at 182 and at its highest Oct. 17 at 197, with the close Oct. 31 at 187. Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. rose from 103 Oct. 1 to 123¾ Oct. 14, with the close Oct. 31 at 119¼. Consolidated Edison Co. of N. Y. moved up from 27¼ Oct. 1 to 34¼ Oct. 17, with the close Oct. 31 at 33. In the railroad list, New York Central was at its lowest Oct. 1 at 17¼ and at its highest Oct. 13 at 20⅞, with the close Oct. 31 at 19⅜. Delaware & Hudson moved up from 18⅛ Oct. 1 to 21⅝ Oct. 19, with the close Oct. 31 at 20⅛. Union Pacific rose from 90 Oct. 1 to 98⅝ Oct. 13, with the close Oct. 31 at 93. Southern Pacific was at its lowest Oct. 1 at 16⅞ and at its highest Oct. 13 at 21, with the close Oct. 31 at 19. Baltimore & Ohio moved up from 7⅝ Oct. 4 to 9 Oct. 11, with the close Oct. 31 at 8¼. Chesapeake & Ohio rose from 30½ Oct. 4 to 36¾ Oct. 25, with the close Oct. 31 at 34½. Southern Railway was at its lowest Oct. 1 at 12⅜ and at its highest Oct. 28 at 21⅛, with the close Oct. 31 at 20.

The tendency of domestic corporate bond prices to advance in October corresponded in much the same fashion as the forward movement in stock prices. Railroad bonds with a speculative tinge were an outstanding feature in the higher trend and reflected the broadest gains. The progress made in best-rated securities during the month with equal to the high level reached the first month of 1938, while among the lesser-grade issues the recovery was much more pronounced, touching the highest peak since September, 1937. Foreign bonds were not overlooked in the upward surge of prices, and likewise made progress. Major advances embraced the German, Italian and Japanese issues, with smaller gains quite general among other foreign bonds.

In the following table we show, as usual, the fluctuations for the month in the different issues of United States Government obligations and a considerable number, likewise, of domestic corporate and foreign government bond prices:

THE MONEY MARKET DURING OCTOBER, 1938

A further heavy influx of gold from abroad, partly in consequence of the large engagements of the metal during the critical September days, and another sharp accumulation of idle funds as reflected in a further rise of excess reserves to a near peak, were the outstanding features of the money market during the past month. The passing of the foreign crisis had in its wake also a strong revival of the new issues market, with corporate flotations reaching the highest figure since June, 1937, and with most offerings finding an excellent reception by investors. On Oct. 26 excess member bank reserves reached a total of $3,280,000,000, or nearly equal to the previous high record of $3,300,000,000 established in December, 1935, when reserve requirements were materially below present levels. In view of the continued large disbursements by the Treasury for relief and other purposes out of funds accumulated in the Reserve banks, and because of the persistent inward movement of gold, a further rise in excess reserve funds is generally anticipated, although currency requirements in connection with the Christmas holiday season may cause a temporary slowing down of this trend. Government financing was limited to the four weekly $100,000,000 bill issues to replace maturities of similar amounts. In addition, the Treasury on Oct. 24 offered a three-year ⅞% note issue of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to refund an amount of $298,972,000 of outstanding 1½% RFC notes maturing Dec. 15. Gold imports totaled $136,600,000, of which sum $112,300,000 came from England, $10,000,000 from Canada, $6,400,000 from Japan, $4,200,000 from Holland and $2,700,000 from Australia. Including large sums of unreported acquisitions of gold by the Treasury, the total gold stock of the country rose $310,000,000 to a new peak of $14,051,000,000 Oct. 26. Discount holdings of the 12 Reserve banks decreased from $9,041,000 Sept. 28 to $7,235,000 Oct. 26. Bills bought in the open market remained at the nominal sum of $541,000 throughout the month. Total member bank reserves increased from $8,197,488,000 Sept. 28 to $8,740,083,000 Oct. 26. Reflecting the easing of the tension abroad, yields on Government securities showed a declining trend, with average rates on 91-day bills receding from 0.14% to 0.03%, those on 3- to 5-year Treasury notes from 0.76% to 0.69%, and those on longer-term Treasury bonds from 2.36% to 2.27%. The Stock Exchange call money rate remained at the long-established level of 1%.

Time loan rates on security collateral continued to be quoted at the nominal levels of 1¼% for 60- and 90-day loans, and 1½% for loans running 180 days. While trading on the Stock Exchange broadened materially, no worthwhile expansion in security loans resulted therefrom, and as heretofore most transactions concerned the renewal of older accommodations.

Investment demand for commercial paper continued to exceed the available offerings, and rates for average-grade prime 4- to 6-month paper remained at the previously reduced rate of ⅝% to ¾%, with slight concessions allowed on particularly choice names. Under date of Oct. 13 the Federal Reserve Bank of New York announced that returns received from commercial paper dealers showed a total of $212,300,000 of open market commercial paper outstanding on Sept. 30, compared with $209,400,000 on Aug. 31, but $331,400,000 at the end of September, 1937.

for 30-day, 60-day and 90-day bills; at 9/16% bid and ½% asked for 120-day bills, and at ⅝% bid and 9/16% asked for bills running 150 and 180 days. The New York Federal Reserve Bank, in its "Monthly Review," discussed conditions in the market for bankers' acceptances as follows:

"The discount market for bills continued dull during October owing to the limited supply of paper coming into dealers' hands. Rates remained unchanged. Responding to seasonal influences, the total of bills outstanding at the end of September was $3,000,000 larger than in August; a further increase of approximately $6,000,000 in outstandings of import bills was the principal change. Accepting banks and bankers held in their portfolios at the end of September approximately 85% of all bills outstanding."

RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY

Three developments in the banking position in October stand out as worthy of special mention. They are the substantial expansion in member bank excess reserves attending the large receipts of gold from Europe, the increase in demand deposits—adjusted of the reporting banks to the highest levels on record and, finally, the large demand for currency.

Excess reserves of all member banks increased $390,000,000 in the four weeks from Sept. 28 to Oct. 26 to a total of $3,280,000,000. This latter total is within $24,000,000 of the all-time high for surplus reserves reached on Dec. 11, 1935. Aggregate additions to the supply of member bank reserves amounted to no less than $542,595,000, but the increase in surplus reserves was considerably smaller, owing to the rise in required reserves resulting from expanding bank deposits.

The increases in excess reserves and in member bank deposits are directly related to the enormous efflux of gold from the rest of the world to the United States. While this movement of gold was of smaller proportions than in September, when the war crisis was at its height, the increase in this country's gold stock, nevertheless, amounted to $337,000,000 in the four weeks to Oct. 26, thereby raising the total to the $14,051,000,000 mark—a new record high, representing 58% of all the monetary gold in the world. The effect of these gold receipts on the member bank reserve position was prompt, for as the Treasury bought the gold, member banks' deposits with the Reserve banks were increased at its expense. But at the same time that the banks acquired additional assets in the form of larger balances with the Reserve banks, their liabilities were increased in the form of larger deposits on their books for the account of foreign customers. The banking statistics do not disclose the full extent of the banks' liability to foreign depositors. Only their liability to foreign banks is disclosed, and this item in the case of the reporting New York City banks increased $42,000,000 in the four weeks to Oct. 26. It is safe to say that the mainspring behind the substantial rise in demand deposits—adjusted of the reporting banks in October was the accumulation of foreign refugee money in this country. Next in importance were Treasury pump-priming expenditures.

Faced with a heavy drain on its cash by virtue of the gold imports, the Treasury, for its part, continued its large deposits of gold certificates with the Reserve banks. In fact, in October the Treasury began the practice of reimbursing itself for gold previously bought as well as for gold currently acquired. As we stated in this article last month, the Treasury resumed the deposit of gold certificates with the Reserve banks in the week ended Sept. 21. But where the Treasury at first deposited certificates at a slower rate than the expansion in the gold stock, in October the gold certificate deposits ran ahead of the growth in the gold stock. Thus the Treasury began to reimburse itself for its outlays on gold from mid-April to mid-September, when no gold certificates at all were deposited. The gold certificate deposits of $389,489,000 in the four weeks to Oct. 26 compared with an increase of $337,000,000 in the gold stock.

Currency circulation first showed signs of a greater-than-seasonal increase in the latter half of September, when the European crisis was casting a pall of fear over world markets. The increase then was attributable not only to domestic hoarding of dollar currency but also to the heaviest exports of dollar currency to Europe on record. After the Munich conference largely dispelled the fear of war, hoarding in Europe began at once to diminish, and the reduction in note circulation of the central banks of England and France was rapid in October. In the United States, however, currency circulation rose throughout October at a faster rate than in the corresponding period of the previous year. The net increase in currency outstanding in the four weeks to Oct. 26 was $80,000,000. But on the latter date there was $135,000,000 more currency outstanding than on the comparable date of last year, compared with a margin of only $54,000,000 on Sept. 28.

In spite of the large gold certificate deposits, the Treasury's deposit balance with the Reserve banks declined $280,328,000 in the four-week period. Foreign central bank deposits with the System increased $29,269,000, and other deposits were $7,912,000 higher. Federal Reserve credit in use declined $17,000,000. Bills discounted for member banks decreased $1,806,000 to a total of $7,235,000. The Reserve banks sold out $2,000,000 of Treasury bonds and 1,500,000 of Treasury notes, but they bought $3,500,000 more Treasury bills, leaving the entire Government securities portfolio unchanged as to total amount.

Loans and investments of the reporting New York City banks increased $46,000,000 from Sept. 28 to Oct. 26, with loans up $34,000,000 and investments up $12,000,000. The largest demand for loans was from brokers and dealers, as will be set out more fully below. Loans to commerce, industry and agriculture decreased $1,000,000 in the four weeks. New York reporting banks had a decline of $71,000,000 in direct Government securities and one of $3,000,000 in their Government-guaranteed issues, but their other securities increased $86,000,000. Demand deposits—adjusted increased $170,000,000 to a record high of $6,732,000,000. Domestic bank deposits rose $184,000,000.

Loans and investments of the weekly reporting banks in 101 cities increased $228,000,000 in the five weeks ended Oct. 26, thereby rising to the best level of the year at $21,493,000,000. Loans increased $92,000,000, with loans to commerce, industry and agriculture up $26,000,000 and loans to brokers and dealers in securities up $70,000,000. Holdings of direct Government securities and Government-guaranteed issues increased $23,000,000 and $15,000,000, respectively, while other securities increased $98,000,000. Demand deposits—adjusted of the reporting banks in 101 cities rose $707,000,000 in the five-week period to a new record high at $15,995,000,000.

Reflecting a substantial increase in the demand for stock market credit, reporting New York City bank loans to brokers and dealers increased $54,000,000 in the four-week period to a total of $571,000,000. Street loans, as compiled by the New York Stock Exchange, increased during October $56,539,099 to $580,741,637 Oct. 31, 1938, from $524,202,538 Sept. 30, 1938. On Oct. 30, 1937, these loans aggregated $725,622,872.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING OCTOBER

The foreign exchange and all financial markets during October reflected the relaxation of the extreme tension which prevailed during September because of the imminence of a general war over the German-Czech crisis. Markets were apathetic on the whole.

Sterling, which opened strong with cable transfers at $4.82¾ on Oct. 1, developed marked weakness as the month progressed. Commercial factors during September and prior months played only an incidental part in exchange movements. Despite the passing of the war crisis after Sept. 29, uneasiness and hesitancy continued in the foreign markets. Continental markets and even London financial interests indicated by their operations apprehension as to the course of sterling. The rush of gold to the United States from London and other centers dropped off to relatively minor volume, due to the almost complete exhaustion of the movement, which had been going on for many months and reached a climax in September, when it was officially estimated that more than $600,000,000 of gold had been transferred from other countries to the United States during that month of extreme excitement.

After Sept. 29 markets resumed the trends apparent before the crisis. However, these trends were adverse to a normal course of business, and were reflected in the movement of gold and foreign funds to the United States. In May, 1937, wide comment was evoked by the fact that the United States gold holdings had reached $12,000,000,000. By July of this year another billion dollars of gold came to the United States, chiefly from London, and on Oct. 19 United States gold holdings passed the $14,000,000,000 mark, reaching $14,051,000,000 on Oct. 26. Between Aug. 31 and Sept. 28 United States gold holdings had increased by $597,000,000.

The principal factors contributing to the weakness in sterling were no different in October than during the two years previous to the September crisis. The war in the Far East, in Palestine, in Spain, and the unrest in northern Africa made large banking interests apprehensive as to the soundness of Great Britain's economic position and prestige.

Intensification of the already burdensome rearmament program after the conference of the four Premiers at Munich added to the pressure on sterling and indicated that it would be extremely difficult if not impossible for Great Britain to reduce its adverse trade balance, especially with regard to the United States.

In October bear speculation in sterling gained impetus and a flight from the unit appeared to be in progress. Certainly the movement of foreign funds to London which had been characteristic of the past several years seemed to have ceased entirely.

In the middle of the month, although sterling ruled better than $4.73 in New York, Amsterdam bankers were noted by careful observers to be discounting a future decline in the pound to $4.60 or even to $4.50.

On Oct. 15 sterling cable transfers were quoted at $4.73⅜ @$4.73¾, the lowest level reached since 1935. On Oct. 17 Alexander Dana Noyes pointed out in his weekly summary in the New York "Times": "It is true that the present price, though the lowest since 1935, compares with a much lower level in 1932, when the full effect of England's abandonment of gold payments was expressed in sterling's fall to $3.14⅝. But the price in 1932 was measured by our old dollar, which was not then devalued. If the criterion were the same today, sterling's present gold value would be quoted at something like $2.25—by far the lowest, except during the crisis of September, in the history of England."

About the time these comments were made, United States Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau took occasion in one of his press interviews to express entire satisfaction with the functioning of the tripartite currency agreement during the crisis. A contrary opinion was voiced by financial commentators in the press everywhere.

London financial interests expressed extreme dissatisfaction with the past and current failure of the British Exchange Equalization Fund to maintain a reasonable degree of steadiness in foreign exchange rates. They pointed to the fact that the wide fluctuations in sterling had greatly encouraged speculators to the detriment of commercial interests.

Influenced by the movements of foreign exchange and the vast increase in United States gold holdings, Thomas F. Woodlock wrote in the "Wall Street Journal" of Oct. 28:

"But what is the result when one country sucks into its coffers a huge proportion of the world's gold stocks, sits on it, and virtually asphyxiates it by withdrawing it from active use? Our present stock is at least two and one-half times the total value of all the currency that we need or can use in our domestic economy—an absurd position! Can we suppose that the outside world—assuming a civilized order—will be satisfied to accept conditions which make them little better than monetary vassals to our gold overlordship? Is anything that can be called a working 'international gold standard' possible in such a situation? If not, to what monetary use can we expect to put our gigantic hoards?"

Mr. Woodlock went on to say that the only thing upon which he had a fairly definite feeling as to the future was that all dreams of restoring the international gold standard of pre-war days, or anything like it, may be forgotten. "It is fairly evident," he said, "that the conditions which made that possible were impermanent, for they rested upon a transitory stage in world economy which cannot be repeated."

On Oct. 24 Secretary Morgenthau at his press conference indirectly confirmed reports that the Treasury was concerned by the recent action of the French franc and the British pound with relation to the dollar. A few days earlier he informed newspaper men that experts were being consulted with respect to the foreign exchange situation. Nothing more was said, and the reporters had to draw their own conclusions as to what was going on. On Oct. 24 Mr. Morgenthau said that he was favorably impressed by the reports written by the newspaper correspondents. Since most of these reports took the position that the Treasury was apprehensive concerning the franc-pound-dollar relationship, the Secretary's statement amounted to official confirmation of this interpretation. Although Mr. Morgenthau declined to discuss the matter further than to say that the conferences with experts would continue, it was apparent that the failure of the pound to stiffen against the dollar was a cause of serious concern to the Treasury Department.

During October British domestic trade continued to display a downward trend, while there was no evidence of improvement in Great Britain's export position.

The heavy export of British capital to the United States produced greater stringency in the London open market than had been experienced in several years. This stringency did not manifest itself in any appreciable rise in the loan and discount rates, but caused increased activity on the part of the Bank of England and the Treasury in assisting the market by freer lending, such operations being effected by indirect methods.

Gold on offer in the London open market during October amounted to £21,314,000 compared with £29,561,000 in September, with £34,805,000 in August, with £19,461,000 in July, and with £16,429,000 in June. The mean London check rate on Paris ranged in October between 178.66 francs to the pound (favoring Paris) and 179.01 francs (against Paris). The London open market gold price (at fixing time) ranged between 144s. 1½d. on Oct. 1 and 146s. 10d. on Oct. 14, and closed at 146s. ½d. on Oct. 31. The American price for gold (Federal Reserve Bank of New York) continued at $35 an ounce. London open market money rates moved down sharply in October to close to the levels which prevailed in August and for many months previous. At the close of October two months' bills were 9/16%, three months' bills, 5/8%, four months' bills, 11/16%, and six months' bills, 7/8%. These rates compared with the high rates touched in September of 1 9/16% for two months' securities, 1 25/32% for three months, 2⅛% for four months' and 2⅝% for six months. Sterling cable transfers sold in New York on Oct. 1 at $4.81⅞@$4.82¾, and on Oct. 31 at $4.75½@$4.76⅛. The high for sterling in October was $4.82¾ on Oct. 1, and the low was $4.73⅛ on Oct. 13.

In commenting on the foreign exchange situation during October, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said in its "Monthly Review" for Nov. 1:

"The subsidence of tension in Europe, which followed the Munich settlement of the Sudeten German problem on Sept. 29 and 30, was attended in the foreign exchange markets by a gradual restoration of more orderly conditions during the month of October, although exchange rates, in terms of dollars, eased somewhat from the quotations to which they had recovered at the close of September. This return to more normal conditions shows the extent to which the spreads between the daily high and low quotations for the pound sterling narrowed, especially during the latter half of October.

"The recovery in the pound sterling, which, beginning on the morning of Sept. 28 after sterling had fallen to $4.61, carried the rate to $4.83¼ at the close on Sept. 30, came to a halt at that level. During the next two weeks sterling was under heavy pressure again, and the rate fell to $4.73⅛ as sentiment turned against the Munich settlement for a period, and as speculation against sterling became strong under the stimulus of rumors circulating to the effect that the British exchange authorities intended to let the pound depreciate. After the middle of the month, however, the pound recovered to the level of $4.76 and closed at $4.75½, after fluctuating in a quiet market between $4.78¼ and $4.75¼. Over the month as a whole, funds continued to move to New York from abroad, although at a diminishing rate, and the slight rallies in sterling in the second half of the month in response to the year-old rumors of further dollar devaluation appeared to reflect a small movement out of dollars into gold in London rather than into sterling.

"In the London market the dollar equivalent of the gold price at "fixing" was quoted close to the shipping parity level, as the insurance market for gold shipments emerged from the disturbed September condition. The sterling price of gold advanced over the month from 144s. 1d. to 146s. ½d., under the stimulus of the decline in sterling and a resumption of hoarding in London. The discount on forward sterling for three-month delivery reached a level equivalent to 1 11/16% per annum at the middle of the month from 13/16% on Sept. 30 and 3 3/16% on the morning of Sept. 28, but recovered to the equivalent of 1⅛% at the end of October.

"The French franc was under pressure for a few days early in October until the Parliament on the 5th voted confidence in Premier Daladier over the Munich settlement and accord his Government plenary powers to govern by decree until Nov. 15. Some pressure on the currency reappeared briefly late in the month when, after a three-week period in which no decrees had been issued, the discussion at the Radical Socialist party congress of the necessity for a "directed economy" revived old rumors that exchange control would be instituted. Quotations for the franc in New York fluctuated closely with those for the pound sterling, but in London the franc firmed from 179 3/32 francs per pound on Oct. 3 to 178 11/16 on Oct. 24, before closing the month at 178 23/32. The discount on three-month forward contracts similarly narrowed from the equivalent of 19¼% per annum on Oct. 4 to 9½% on Oct. 25 and 13½% at the month-end.

"The Dutch guilder and the Swiss franc, which had moved more closely with the pound than with the dollar prior to Sept. 26, fluctuated during October more in consonance with the dollar than with the pound. The guilder firmed slightly in New York from $0.5437 on Sept. 30 to $0.5444 at the end of October, while it appreciated considerably in London from 8.89 to the pound on Sept. 30 to 8.74 at the close of October. The Swiss franc eased against the dollar from $0.2278 at the end of September to $0.2270½ but gained against the pound, advancing from 21.21 to 20.96 francs per pound over the month. The belga held firm against the dollar and appreciated against sterling during the month, while quotations for three-month forward belgas, which had been at a wide discount at the beginning of the month, reached on Oct. 26 a discount equivalent to less than 2% per annum for the first time since April of this year."

Changes in the gold holdings of the Bank of England during October were as follows: For the week ended Oct. 5, a decrease of £107,745; for the week ended Oct. 12, an increase of £40,703; for the week ended Oct. 19, a decrease of £44,875, and for the week ended Oct. 26, an increase of £21,152. Total gold holdings of the Bank of England on Oct. 26 stood at £327,775,621, compared with £328,024,445 a year earlier, with the minimum of £150,000,000 recommended by the Cunliffe Committee, and with £136,880,000 in the Bank's statement just prior to the suspension of gold in September, 1931. The Bank's gold holdings of £328,144,903 on Oct. 14, 1937, were the largest in its history.

Details of the gold movement at the Port of New York were outlined as follows in the "Monthly Review" of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for Nov. 1:

tized for FRASER.
://fraser.stlouisfed.org/

"During October, gold imports affecting the United States gold stock included receipts at New York totaling $127,300,000, of which $112,300,000 came from England, $10,000,000 from Canada, $4,200,000 from Holland, $700,000 from India, $100,000 from Australia, and on the West Coast receipts of $9,300,000, of which $6,400,000 came from Japan, $2,700,000 from Australia, and $200,000 from China. In addition, there was a gain to the gold stock through the release of $3,000,000 from foreign earmarked holdings. As a result of these reported transactions and an even larger total of unreported acquisitions of gold by the Treasury, the United States gold stock was increased by approximately $310,000,000 during October, or about one-half the rise in September."

CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGE

French francs were irregular during October but moved more steadily in favor of Paris as the month advanced. The extreme low of the unit was reached on Sept. 29 when the rate was 179.10 francs to the pound.

The fiscal and economic position of France, however, showed no improvement. The Daladier Government, which continued to rule by decree, published no measures likely to improve the situation. As a result of the heavy expenditures entailed by mobilization and rearmament, French note circulation on Sept. 29 reached on all-time high of 124,428,556,245 francs. With the turn of affairs after Munich circulation was reduced in a few weeks to 110,555,021,205 francs, which is in itself a record high figure except for the total of Sept. 29.

Temporary advances to the State by the Bank of France increased on Sept. 29 to 50,133,974,773 francs, practically exhausting the State's borrowing limit at the Bank. A slight improvement occurred on Oct. 13 when the Treasury reduced its borrowings by 2,000,000,000 francs. Between Sept. 17 and Sept. 29 temporary advances to the State were increased 10,000,000,000 francs. From April 21 to Sept. 17 borrowings remained unchanged at 40,133,000,000 francs, and in the last statement for October stood at 48,133,649,244 francs.

Weakness in the franc with respect to the dollar was without special significance, as the unit is tied to sterling and, in terms of other currencies, fluctuates with sterling. French business, both internal and external, continues highly unsatisfactory. Paris cable transfers sold on Oct. 1 at 2.69¼@2.70, and on Oct. 31 at 2.66@2.66¼.

The Belgian currency showed special firmness throughout October, and was the firmest of the European units with the exception of guilders and Swiss francs. Apparently the unit was unaffected by the German-Czech crisis. In New York spot belgas ruled close to dollar parity of 16.95, and the discounts on future belgas were considerably reduced from those prevailing during the previous three months.

The banking situation of Belgium was so far improved that the National Bank of Belgium on Oct. 26 reduced its rediscount rate to 2½% from 3%, the rate in effect since May 30. The Bank's gold holdings were considerably increased during the month owing to the fact that the belga is based on gold. On Oct. 20 the National Bank of Belgium showed total gold holdings of 3,292,600,000 belgas and a ratio of gold to notes and sight liabilities of 63.69%. Belga cable transfers sold on Oct. 1 at 16.89½@16.90½, and on Oct. 31 at 16.90¾@16.91¾.

The German mark situation showed no change of importance during the month. The published gold reserves of the Reichsbank hardly varied during the 10 months of 1938. The Reichsbank's gold reserves were reported at 70,661,000 marks on Jan. 8. On Oct. 22 total gold and bullion stood at 70,773,000 marks. Berlin cable transfers sold on Oct. 1 at 40.04½@40.12½, and on Oct. 31 at 40.04½@40.06½.

Italian lire were apparently entirely unaffected by the September crisis. The Roman control kept the unit pegged as during the previous months. Cable transfers on Rome on Oct. 1 sold at 5.26⅛@5.26½, and on Oct. 31 at 5.26⅛@5.26½.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the war presented mixed trends in so far as Holland guilders and Swiss francs moved independently of sterling. These currencies were detached from sterling on Sept. 26 by Government controls and have thereafter shown firmness. The Scandinavian currencies, however, continued to move in close relationship to sterling.

The Bank of the Netherlands statement for Oct. 24 showed gold holdings of 1,481,000,000 guilders, unchanged from prior October statements. However, the Bank statement disclosed an increase from week to week in gold held under earmark abroad, which on Oct. 24 amounted to 297,800,000 guilders. The Bank's ratio on Oct. 24 stood at 80.5%. Guilder cable transfers sold on Oct. 1 at 54.36@54.51, and on Oct. 31 at 54.42½@54.45. Swiss cable transfers sold on Oct. 1 at 22.74½@22.79, and on Oct. 31 at 22.70½@22.71½. Cable transfers on Sweden sold on Oct. 1 at 24.83½@24.86, and on Oct. 31 at 24.49½@24.53½.

Exchange on the South American countries was exceptionally steady during October, and hardly reflected the fluctuations in the sterling-dollar rate. The official quotation for exchange on Buenos Aires ranged between 31.54 and 32.06. The unofficial or free market range was between 24.90 and 25.45. The official rate on Rio de Janeiro ranged between 5.85 and 5.90.

Exchange on the Far Eastern countries was largely influenced by the trend of sterling, to which these currencies continued allied in fixed ratios either legally or through exchange controls. The London price for silver was 19 15/16d. on Oct. 1 and 19⅝d. on Oct. 31. The Hongkong dollar was 30.14@30⅜ on Oct. 1, and 29.57@29 13/16 on Oct. 31. The Shanghai dollar was 16.47@16⅞ on Oct. 1 and 15.88@16¼ on Oct. 31. Yen checks sold at 28.08@28.15 on Oct. 1, and at 27.72@27.76 on Oct. 31.

NOTICE—Cash and deferred delivery sales are disregarded in the month's range unless they are the only transactions of the month, and when selling outside of the regular monthly range are shown in a footnote in the month in which they occur. No account is taken of such sales in computing the range for the year.

The tables on pages 19 to 40 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during Oct., 1938, and the range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2, 1909. Quotations after decimal point represent one or more 32ds of a point.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

United States Government Securities	91
United States Territorial Bonds	91

Quotations for all securities are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. In the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend" that is the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous three headings, namely "Railroads" "Investing Companies" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds

Quotations for all securities are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue

United States and Municipal Bonds

Quotations for all securities are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue

The custom in reporting prices for State and municipal securities is to quote them on the basis of the return the bonds yield per annum. Therefore, in furnishing the prices below, it will be found that for the single maturity bond a bid and asked quotation is published—either actual figures or on a percentage basis. In furnishing prices for the serial bonds, however, we endeavor to obtain the yield basis for the varying maturities. For instance, a certain bond matures from 1937 to 1951 and is quoted 0.50 to 3%—would indicate that the 1937 maturity yields 0.50% and the bond due in 1951 yields 3%.

Therefore, in the following list, it must be remembered the word to indicates that the figures shown are the yield basis; all other figures are bid and asked prices.

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the National banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
