MR. MCCULLOCH AND THE LOAN BILLS.

The loan bills now before Congress seem to be regarded as dead, inasmuch as Mr. McCulloch is reported to have come to the conclusion which we have more than once indicated, that the existing laws, and particularly those of June, 1864, and March, 1865 give all the power that is necessary to enable him to fund such parts of the floating debt and short obligations of the government as are really likely to be productive of embarrassment.

There are two points, however, on which we think Congress owes it to the country and to its own dignity to take the responsibility of giving very definite and clear directions. Of these the first concerns the secret negotiations of gold and government securities. Publicity in all departments of government administration is the great safeguard of republican institutions, and in financial affairs especially, it is on other accounts of the highest possible moment that all acts which bind the nation should be carried forward and concluded with the greatest possible openness.

The second point refers to the future policy of the Treasury relating to the currency. The Committee of Ways and Means recommend a restriction as to the amount of reduc tions, but if we are to have contraction of the currency in earnest, the people ought to know exactly when and how the reduction is to take place. The power to regulate the currency is too vast, and deals with interests too momentous, and too widely involving the fortunes and means of living of our citizens to be left in its present unsatisfactory and ambiguous position.

THE SCARCITY OF GOLD.

"Gold is scarce for delivery," as the money articles of our newspapers daily remind us, and heavy commissions are paid for the privilege of borrowing at the market price of the day. This is a significant fact, and, taken in connection with other indications, seems to show that some secret drain has been at work, and that the plethora produced by the heavy sales some weeks ago of government gold is ceasing to oppress the market with an excessive supply. If this be so, the price of gold, so far as it depends on such causes, will not go much lower. We can now at any rate measure approximately the effect of these government sales on business and on prices. What amount of coin was sold by the Treasury broker we are not officially informed, but on public grounds it is hoped that Congress will call for full information both as to these sales and former transactions of a similar character. In the spring of 1864, with a view to check speculation twenty millions of gold and foreign exchange are said to have been sold for greenbacks, and the result was that a panic was produced by the locking up of the greenbacks in the Treasury. It is a gratifying circumstance, however, that although the recent sales of gold are variously estimated at from ten to fifteen millions, still through the excellent management of Mr. Van Dyck at the Sub-Treasury, no serious financial trouble has ensued, public confidence nas received no shock, the banks have been able to adjust them selves to the emergency, and the monetary pinch that was anticipated has not come. In other directions, however, these heavy sales have had interesting results, some of which are not unworthy of minute examination.

And first, the price of gold has been lowered to 1267, and as the government sales were made at $137\frac{1}{4}$, the transactions have produced a fall of 10\frac{1}{2} per cent. That this decline is only temporary, and that after oscillating for awhile about its minimum, gold will soon begin to tend upwards, like a thermometer which has been depressed by artificial means, is regarded as certain. Some persons of great experience and extensive knowledge even go so far as to predict a spasmodic spring upward, especially if any thing should occur to turn the foreign exchanges against us,-a movement which in the delicate state of some of our foreign relations is by no means impossible.

However this may be, it is certain that the fall in gold has had a mischievous effect on general business. Dry goods men unite with nearly all classes of import and export merchants to testify to the stagnation which has thus been developed. It is true that other causes have contributed to produce this paralysis of industry and commerce; but the fall in gold and the uncertainty how much lower it would go, has been among the most prominent sources of disquietude and general distrust. Meanwhile the exportations, except of cotton, tobacco and petroleum, are checked, and the currency price of every thing that we export, is unduly depressed, so that we are losing some of the more important pecuniary advantages for the resuscitation of the South, which we should have enjoyed from the sale to foreigners of our cotton if the equilibrium between foreign gold and our depreciated paper had not been disturbed, but had been left to find its own level by the force of natural

Moreover, the recent fall in gold has given rise to a few amusing predictions of an early return to specie basis. Gold is going down it is argued, therefore, the paper currency is rising in value, and the goal of resumption is in view. Just as well might you, on the hottest day of next July, immerse your thermometer in ice-water, and tell us, because the quicksilver was fallen, the heat was declining too. The cases are exactly parallel. Gold ceases to be the true measure of depreciated paper when its price is not free from foreign interference; just as the thermometer ceases to be the true register of the heat of your room when its bulb is tampered with. Hence, it was not because currency rose in value that gold recently fell, but because, by the government action, it was made to fall, in consequence of an interruption of its natural equilibrium. It is useless to try to measure the real depreciation of paper by the premium on gold, until the invading force is expelled, the equilibrium restored, and the perturbation ended.

So far from the government sales of gold helping to bring on a return to specie payments they may positively retard it. For what do we mean by a return to specie payments? Do we not mean that every paper dollar which the government has issued shall be able to command a dollar in coin? Now the government has 451 millions of greenbacks and fractional currency. Suppose, on the 1st of July next, we complete our arrangements, and try to resume. What would be the inevitable immediate result? Every greenback presented at the Treasury must command coin. Four hundred and fifty millions of paper currency issued by the government become payable in coin on demand. Gold and silver will begin to pass current from hand to hand. And, just as happened in France after the revolution, the very novelty of the change, with the long habit of regarding coin as worth more than paper, will make coin for some years to be be more in demand among us than it ever was before the war. A large proportion of the 400 millions of greenbacks, will therefore, inevitably be converted into coin.

How is the prodigious demand for specie to be met, but from coin garnered up beforehand in the Treasury. . Is it not evident that before we can resume two things must be done? We must draw in the redundant part of our currency, and we must have in the National Treasury a sum of gold and cantile firm. In many points of view this is a very sound silver amply sufficient to pay all greenbacks on demand. Now what is the direct result of the government sales of gold but to disperse the very store of the precious metals, which is an indispensable means of resuming specie payments? Without an ample supply of specie in the Treasury to meet the greenbacks and to pay them on demand any attempt to resume must be abortive, and would bring on such convulsions and disasters as would make the very idea of specie payments a terror for a generation to come.

Some ill-informed persons have supposed that Congress would order the Secretary of the Treasury to sell more of There is no probability the gold than he has already done. that Congress will adopt any course fraught with such danger. Indeed it is urged that if we are to make any real progress towards specie payments the authority which the Secretary now has to sell gold should be considerably curtailed. For, on the 1st inst., the coin in the Treasury amounted only to $55,736,192, of which nearly 13 millions belonged to the holders of the gold certificates leaving only 43 millions of gold in the Treasury to meet the interest on the debt. How necessary is the keeping of this amount or more to secure the certain prompt payment of interest due to the public creditors whenever a falling off in customs duties may happen hereafter from revulsions or other causes is sufficiently seen from the fact that the gold interest on our debt now reaches the vast sum of 62 millions a year, and when the floaving obligations of the Treasury are funded the annual interest to be provided for can scarcely be less than 150 millions. Surely then the Government gold should not be dispersed; It is wanted for two objects: for the sustaining of the national credit by the payment of interest, and for a basis for the future resumption of specie payments.

A superficial observer might suppose that when the Gov. ernment wants gold for the purpose of resumption they can buy it. But where can gold be bought? Not in Europe? for at present a few successive shipments of gold to this country would produce a panie at the London Stock Exchange. Nor could the Treasury suddenly buy gold at home, for, though the sale of 15 millions only put the price down 10 per cent. Mr. McCulloch could not perhaps get back 5 millions of it without putting up the price to 140 or higher. The only way for piling up gold for future specie payments is to gather it in by degrees. Nor is there any fear that we shall not be able to accomplish this; for our annual gold crop is or will soon be the largest gathered by any nation in the world.

In view of the rapid prospective development in the gold producing facilities of this country it cannot be doubted that gold can be hoarded in the Treasury, within a short time, until we have enough to redeem 150 or 200 millions of greenbacks, and thus resume coin payments; but will not gold become scarce while the hoarding is going on? To this we reply as we began, that gold is scarce now. If the heavy Government sales fail after a few days to relieve the scarcity complained cf, will the absence of such sales produce it; Gold becomes scarce very rapidly because, from the artificial depression of the price it is selling relatively below its value. The more the depression therefore, the greater the tendency to scarcity. The Treasury could not buy back to-day the 15 millions lately disposed of without paying a much greater price than that for which it was sold. Our gold reserve is easily dispersed but, like spilled wine, it is difficult to gather up again.

CONGRESS AND COTTON.

THE position and policy of a commercial and manufacturing country, says Chevalier, are like those of a great mer.

axiom and we shall do well to keep it in mind in our legislation relating to the cotton tax. Our first duty, our highest interest, is to regain if favorable our old control over the European markets, and if we look carefully into the facts we shall find that this will be no easy task. During the war a number of rivals have sprung up each having considerable cotton producing facilities, and there is every prospect that we shall sustain an eager competition for the next two or three years at least. These rivals had very little of the trade before the outbreak of the war, but as we showed in an article on the subject on the 17th February, they have, during the last four years, greatly extended their production of this necessary material for the looms of England and Continental Europe.

Our chief competitors are British India and Egypt, where an immense amount of capital and energy are at work in the cotton fields which will make those countries formidable rivals except we can undersell them in the market. Numerous facts seem to prove that the cotton planting business has not taken deep root as yet, and the difficulty of raising food enough in conjunction with the cotton crop has retarded the anticipated growth of the latter. For this reason chiefly it happened that in the Presidency of Madras there was, on the 31st of October, only 931,727 acres of cotton under cultivation, whereas a year before there had been 1,063,300 acres. showing a decrease of 131,670 acres in a single season.

Another difficulty in India is that the crop there averages but 30 to 100 pounds an acre, against 200 to 500 in the United States. It is also well known that the Indian varieties are short in the staple; still certain improvements in cultivation are said to promise a better result this year than has ever been attained before. The excessive cost of transportation there, is also an unfavorable point, for the bales have to be conveyed a vast distance to the seaboard.

Similar unfavorable conditions exist in Egypt and in other cotton-growing countries, but there is little doubt that if our war had lasted two or three years longer the facilities for rivalling us in our old monopoly would have been much better organized than at present.

In the mercantile point of view, therefore, assumed by Chevalier, we may feel gratification at the probability that if we adopt the proper means and submit for a year or two to the necessary sacrifices, we shall, by our characteristic energy and enterprise, be successful in regaining our old ascendancy, and shall establish ourselves, almost without a rival, in possession of the greater part of the cotton trade of Europe; and the advantages, monetary, commercial and political, of that position are so vast that it is well worth our while to adopt any expedients which the gaining of so great a prize may demand.

But what is the nature of these sacrifices? In a national point of view there is but one. We must renounce all present attempts to tax cotton too heavily. Let us be content with the existing duty of two cents a pound, which is as much as the trade will bear in its present half-resuscitated condition. Attempts are making to impose three cents ad ditional taxation, making the duty five cents a pound; and we regret to learn that Congress is disposed to overlook the danger threatened to our cotton business from such an increased burden at the present moment. No mercantile firm would adopt the plan of raising unnecessarily the cost of their goods at the very crisis when they were trying to undersell jealous rivals and regain their trade.

It must not be supposed, however, that we contend for a permanent exemption of cotton from heavy taxation. Here after, when the trade has become strong, well established, ample burden; and can get rid in this way of many galling taxes which irritate, discourage and injure our people. Cotton and tobacco must after a while become productive subjects of taxation, and the increasing revenue from these sources may perhaps enable us then without danger or loss to repeal most of our unpopular internal revenue imposts except the income tax.

But we contend that the time to tax cotton more than two cents a pound is not yet come; and that to impose a 5 cent tax now would probably put off for five or six or even ten years the perfect recuperation of the trade which we hope to see realized in two years. Many persons speak about the cotton trade just as if it was in the same condition in which the opening of the year 1860 found it. But we must remem ber that the conditions of planting, ginning and transportation are totally changed. More capital is wanted. Greater anxieties and incertitude attend the procuring of labor. The fences are ruined, and the land is in bad condition. Besides, it is believed that a good deal of bad seed has been sown from inability to get good seed; for it is well known that except the cotton be ginned early after gathering, the seed suffers from the absorption of the oily pabulum on which the germ feeds during its first efforts at organized life beneath the soil. If this fluid be absorbed and withdrawn the seed produces a sickly, languid plant which pines away, shows no vigor but prematurely dies. How much of this old, impaired seed may have been sown we cannot know until the disclosures of the next four months appear on the surface of the cotton fields.

Such are a few, and only a few, of the reasons why we oppose decidedly any increase of the cotton tax. The trade cannot resuscitate except it be left as free from burdens as possible. It is of vast national importance. We car well afford to wait a year or two for a revenue from this source. And the peculiar risks and uncertainties which attend the business of the planter at the present moment are sufficiently severe to deter a wise statesman from adding to them the further weight of intolerable taxation.

FENIANISM AND BRITISH CONFEDERATION.

The celebration of the anniversary of St. Patrick on Saturday of last week was marked by more than usual enthusiasm. In this city many thousand persons took part in the demonstration, which was orderly and well-conducted. Our exchanges from all the principal cities afford a similar testimony. Everywhere the general sobriety and correct deportment of the men received favorable mention. Benevolent Associations and Temperance Societies only displayed banners.

Perhaps this has been the more noticeable this year, because of the lively apprehension existing in the British North American provinces of a general uprising of the Irish population. The fabulous dimensions of the Fenian organization, the large amounts of money said to have been contributed from Canadian towns for its maintenance, and possibly the stings of a guilty conscience, had excited general alarm. The military were placed in guard of the public buildings and property at Ottawa, lest some ferocious "Head Center" should seize them, and proclaim liberty throughout the Canadas to all their inhabitants.

How much real occasion there was for all this excitement is somewhat ludicrously set forth by the public journals. Despite all the notifications there were none even of the displays, heretofore frequent, of banners and devices reflecting upon the English government. Nowhere did a Fenian circle, as such, mingle in the processions, and whatever members of the order did testify their regard for the Saint and and robust, we can by degrees impose a heavier and more his anniversary, did so in other capacities. Canada was as safe as Boston or New York; and the archives at Ottawa remained as undisturbed as the assets and notes of the Bank of England, when a guard was placed over them to keep them from being seized or destroyed by the Great Comet.

It may be imagined by some timorous persons that this very quietness of the Fenians is indicative of coming peril. The clergy have declared against the organization, which may be a reason for its non-appearance at the annual religious demonstration. So have the "Orangemen," who have formed in this city a military association to oppose the Fenians and the Roman Catholics, and established branches in the principal up-town wards. Hence, if the hostility of the Church is sincere, these aspiring liberators of Ireland may actually be exercising themselves between the upper and nether millstones.

Nevertheless, we do not marvel at the manifestations of fear exhibited throughout the British Provinces. The aid and comfort extended to piratical adventurers during the late war in the United States; the general disposition to cast discredit on the cause of the Union and the policy of the government, would naturally lead to the expectation that Americans acting in a retaliatory spirit, would encourage the effort of the Fenians, or other liberators to set up revolt in Her Majesty's Possessions. Having behaved ungenerously toward us, they suppose that our people cannot view their calamities with commiseration.

We suspect, however, that a deeper motive may lie within the secret counsels of the British Provincial authorities. Many circumstances appear to favor the impression that a purpose exists which all these popular movements are made to aid and further. A Confederated North American Empire, we all know, has been a favorite project. Many agencies have been in operation to retard its successful accomplishment. The Reciprocity Treaty affording the facilities of commerce with the United States, equal almost to those which would have been enjoyed if the provinces had been a component part of the American Union, prevented the development of any general desire for consolidation. suspicion has accordingly been entertained, not altogether without reason, that the Canadian agents at Washington a few weeks ago, had no earnest desire to negotiate a new com-Probably the failure was not all the fault mercial treaty. of our government. It would have been wiser, we are of opinion, to have conducted negotiations to a successful issue; but with a large majority against the measure in Congress, and insincerity on the part of the Canadians, it was not so easily to be done. The overthrow of Reciprocity will henceforth be a plausible argument for a British Confederation, and the establishment with it of a great commercial entrepot on the St. Lawrence River.

The expense of an imperial viceroyalty, would not, however, be very attractive to the farmers of the provinces. Neither Quebec nor Montreal could become a metropolitan town like New York without more population and more commercial facilities. At present the young men of Canada are disposed to emigrate into the United States, leaving the old men for subjects of Her Majesty. A canal system and railways will be necessary, and require large outlays of capital for their construction. The prospect of speedy returns are not sufficiently promising to attract the favorable consideration of capitalists; and the debt of the Canadas is too large and formidable to warrant large outlay for internal improvements. What New England or New York can do is not a criterion for the provinces. The Queen's agents are sagacious enough to perceive this.

The threatened Fenian imbroglio comes to them therefore with a secret gratification. What motives of commercial and pecuniary interest were insufficient to effect the urgent consideration of provision for general safety may be able to accomplish. A general uprising of the Irish population, aided by an army of auxiliaries from the United States, would necessitate a consolidation of power, and prove a strong if not an unansweráble argument in favor of confeder eration. But whatever hopes or apprehensions existed have not been realised. The anniversary of St. Patrick, which had been indicated as the period for a simultaneous movement, has passed away like all its predecessors. No foundation appears to have existed for the received opinion that an attempt against Canada had been contemplated.

This is a fit time to reflect upon the actual probabilities of a Fenian Revolution. The summary measures taken by the British Government with the associates of Stephens are evidence that no blank cartridges will be employed in any effort to suppress revolt. The British Lion, like Leviathan, has a heart hard as the nether millstone. The assizes at Carlisle, in 1745, and the recent barbarities of Governor Eyre are proof that its nature has undergone no change. The very semblance of an uprising, or even of a conspiracy in Ireland, would be followed by a chastisement so severe as to induce the most thorough as well as speedy penitence. Besides the British Government is forwarned, and the discontented Fenians know well what that means.

A candid view of the matter, however, will resolve what ever sympathy may be entertained for the movement for liberation. The good sense of mankind has accepted as a maxim that a government generally beneficial in its operations, though occasionally oppressive in its requirements, should not be opposed or changed without weighty considerations. The dominion of the British Government in Ireland is entitled to this argument. There has been for many years a tendency to mitigate the evils incident to its administration over a people differing in race and religion. The right of sufferage is enjoyed in Ireland as freely as in England. The support of the National Church Establishment is no more burdensome on Irish Catholics than it is on English Dissenters; and it is very possible that before many years even this bur den will be alleviated. The Union placed the two countries upon terms of equality, and its operations have become steadily more beneficial to each. There is now more secu rity for life and property than was ever before enjoyed in Ireland, and the Government of the United Kingdom are evi dently determined that the present state of things shall continue.

The folly of the proposed liberating movement is manifest. There is no grievance to be redressed which is considerable enough to demand an appeal to arms and the overthrow of a government. Persistence in demanding reformatory measures will eventually secure them without recourse to violence. As for the possibility of successful revolution through the agency of the Fenians, the idea is too absurd to be entertained. The "Neptune Circle" which has been commanded by Mr. O'Mahony, will hardly be able to assemble a fleet capable of sailing the Thames, to dictate terms of pacification from London to all the British Empire. Even the revolutionary party of England would long hesitate before casting their fortunes with a swaggering madcap adventurer from this country, or such a wretched poltroon as James Stephens.

The value of the bonds of the Fenian Republic will long continue to be hypothetical, having no basis but the faith of the persons so weak as to receive them. They will never be redeemed at the Bank of England or upon the College Green. The money realised upon them will be expended for other purposes than the invasion of England or the liberation of Ireland. We would counsel our adopted citizens to make a wiser investment of their means than in such worthless paper. Every dollar paid for these bonds is lost as irrecoverably as though it had been sunk in mid-ocean. The fate of the men who followed the banners of the Stuarts in 1715 and 1745 should convince them of the impossibility of success. Better by far to direct their industry and enterprise for honorable competence in the land of their sojourning and the home of their children, than to dissipate their modest gains to further utopian adventure or maintain in afluence a horde of unprincipled men.

ANALYSES OF RAILROAD REPORTS. NO. 18

MILWAUKEE & PRAIRIE DU CHIEN RAILWAY.

The Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien (formerly M. & Mississippi) Railway extends across the State of Wisconsin from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River, and consists of—

The lease made with the McGregor Western Company is dated March 11, 1865 and is for 999 years. The M. & Prairie du Chien Company assumed possession April 1, when the road was open to Ossian 35 miles. It was further completed to Counover, 50 miles, August 29th, and is now being extended to Austin, Minn., where it will connect with the Minnesota Central Railroad, 65 miles from McGregor. The M. & Prairie du Chien and the McGregor Western Railroads will be connected by a bridge about to be constructed across the Mississippi. The accounts of these roads are kept separately.*

ROLLING STOCK.

The rolling stock owned by the Company at the close of the last five fiscal years is shown in the following statement:

^{*} The McGregor Western Railway (average length operated 43½ miles) earned in the nine months (April—December) $213,339 or at the rate of $6,529 per mile per annum. The expenses, including rent of rolling stock and working capital ($18,303), amounted to $128,446 or 60.2 per cent of earnings, leaving as profits $84,893. Passengers 24,435; freight 46,160 tons. Of the passengers 10,932 were shipped to west and 9,218 were received from west at McGregor. Out of a total of 15,384 of westward freight 4,433 tons were shipped at Prairie du Chien and 10,663 tons at McGregor; and out of a total of 30,776 tons of eastward freight 759 tons were received at McGregor and 29,983 tons at Prairie du Chien. From the profits were paid $34,440 for coupons due August 1; $49,291 on construction account, and $1 350 for judgment, etc., leaving $4,856 to new account.

The bonded debt has been decreased chiefly by cancellation under the operations of the sinking fund and purchase, and by conversions into 1st preferred stock. The increase of the 1st preferred stock on the other hand is due mainly to issues to satisfy such conversions of bonds and an advance ($274,000) to the McGregor Western Company under a law approved March 26, 1864.

We have obtained through his Excellency, the Governor of Tennessee, a detailed account showing the condition of the State finances, from which we have been able to prepare the facts and figures given below. In the present condition of the government and people it is impossible to furnish any reliable estimate of the probable future receipts or expenditures.

The annual expenses for the few years first previous to the war were $700,000, but the future charge upon the Treasury for the same purposes must exceed that sum. There is also a large amount ($5,169,740) of unpaid back interest, and also $364,167 of the principal of the State debt proper over due, making a total of interest and debt due of $5,588,907,

The debt itself is classified under different heads, and the following shows the total amount of each, and interest due to January 1, 1866:

The bonds endorsed for the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad were, in fact, bonds of the City of Memphis loaned to that company and endorsed by the State.

The subject of funding this debt and paying this over due interest was discussed at great length by the Legislature, and finally the following act was passed authorizing the issue of new bonds:

An Act to amend an Act entitled "An Act to establish a System of Internal Improvement in this State," passed the 11th of February, 1852.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, that the act aforesaid be so amended that the Governor of this State be authorized and instructed to issue the six per cent coupon bonds of the State, similar in character in every respect to the bonds issued under the act that this is in tended to amend, and maturing at the same time, to amount sufficient to pay of London, Saturday, March 10, 1866. The Board of Trade returns, showing the extent of our import and export trade during the month of January, have been published this week. The statement exhibits a very extensive export trade in British and Irish produce and manufactures, the value of these being £14,354, 748. against £10,489,339 in 1865, and £10,413,536 in 1864. Assuming the trade to continue in this ratio till the close of the year, the total export business in the above-mentioned articles would be about equal to that of 1865. The returns for January are less than those for December last to the value of about one million sterling, and it may be observed that the large increase, as compared with January, 1864 and 1865, is owing chiefly to the small amount of business then passing in British goods on American account.

The return also gives the total value of our imports in 1865; these amounted to £219,751,324, against £226,151,840 in 1864, and 204,533,-512 in 1863. The decline in value, however, is not the result of any decrease in the quantities imported, but of a lower estimate of price as regards several articles, the one bearing the most importance in this respect being cotton. The following was the value of the imports of principal articles in 1863, 1864, and 1865:

As might have been anticipated, the export trade in British and Irish produce and manufactures with America in January was, as stated above, greatly in excess of the corresponding mouth in 1864. That our trade with America during the first six or seven months of 1865 was of a most restricted character is a fact now so well known that any further allusion to it is quite unnecessary, but on comparing January, current year, with the same month in 1865, it is well to bear in mind this circumstance. The declared value of our principal exports of British and Irish produce to the United States in January was as under:

The total import of cotton in January was 373,944 cwts, being an increase of 122,000 cwts as compared with the same month in 1865. The table given below presents some very striking features, more especially as regards America and Egypt. The import from the East Indies was greatly in excess of 1865; but it is not considered possible that the import during the whole of the present year can equal that of last year, the latest account from the various Presidencies being to the effect that the quantity of land under cotton cultivation is much less. The latest advices from India, however, state that an improved quality of cotton may be expected when supplies of the new crop commence to ar-

Respecting the importation of breadstuffs the return for January shows an important increase as compared with last year. As the quantity received from the United States in January, 1865 was very limited, the figures exhibit a slight augmentation in the import from that quarter, but our leading sources of supply are now Russia and France, and from these countries abundant supplies of wheat and flour were received. The statement is as under:

The high price of provisions had the effect of attracting large supplies from foreign countries, but considering the high quotations current the aggregate increase is not of any great magnitude. The highest proportionate increase is in lard the value of which at the close of last year was at a very high point. The extent of the import in January, 1864, 1865 and 1866, was as follows:

Statements have been published showing the extent of the exports of the principal fabrics from Liverpool in February last. According to these returns the increase from last year is very considerable, but as so little business was passing in these articles last year the comparison can hardly be considered a fair one. If however, the comparison is extended to 1860 it will be seen that the aggregate operations of American buyers in January were greater than during any corresponding period in the last six years:

During the present week nearly the whole of the stock exchange markets have been injuriously affected by the unsatisfactory position of the Joint-Stock Discount Company, the Directors of that undertaking having resolved to make a call upon the shareholders to the extent of £5 per share. In consequence, the shares of the company have been greatly pressed for sale, and a heavy fall has taken place in their value. The amount paid upon them is £10, and business has been done as low as 11 dis, or, in other words, holders have given buyers £1 per share in order to dispose of their valueless property. The aggregate business of the Stock Exchange has been unusually small, and the decline is not confined to home stocks, shares, and securities, but the foreign department of the house has also been influenced, and a reduction is noticeable in the value of the numerous loans contracted during the last few years in this market. As the week closes, however, there are certainly symptoms of greater confidence, the various markets having shown more steadiness, whilst prices have slightly improved. The following table shows the highest prices of consols on the days enumerated:

PRICES FROM MARCH 1 TO MARCH 10, INCLUSIVE.

The changes in the value of American securities have not been important. The amount of business transacted in them has been very moderate, whilst the fluctuations in prices have been trifling. Taken as a whole, however, the market has shown a fair degree of firmness; and whilst most other securities have given way in price, these have, in some instances, realized slightly enhanced quotations. The following were the highest prices on the days mentioned:

Messrs. Benson & Co. have received subscriptions this week for $780,000 of consolidated 7 per cent bonds of the first division of the Saint Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, Minnesota, the object of the line being to complete a link in the railway system across the American Continent. The issue price of each bond of $1,000 is $700. The security offered consists of the line and lands of the company, the latter amounting to 512,000 acres.

Another attempt is to be made this year to connect England with America by means of telegraphic communication. The directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company having no power to make any further issue of capital, it has been resolved to form another company, which has been brought forward this week under the title of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company (limited.) The capital is fixed at £600,000 in 60,000 shares of £10 each. The proposal of the company is to raise and make use of the 1,212 miles of cable paid out from the Great Eastern in July last, and, if possible, lay down the remaining portion to Newfoundland. The new company will provide 1,660 miles of new cable, well worth the undertaking for a certain time on behalf of the old company, and should the line succeed, the receipts, if sufficient, will be applied as follows: First. In paying to this company £125,000 per annum. Second. In paying £72,000 per annum (representing 8 per cent on the Atlantic Company's existing preference stock, and 4 per cent on their ordinary stock) to the Atlantic Telegraph Company. And third. The entire balance of each year's receipts is to be divided between this company and the Atlantic Telegraph Company in equal shares; but no deficiency in respect to the above annual payments in any one year is to be carried forward to another year.

A considerable number of Indian bills having fallen due, the money market has been decidedly firmer to-day, and the rates in the open market are, in most instances, equal to those at the Bank of England. In the early part of the week, however, there was but little offering, and the best short-dated commercial paper was done at 62 per cent. At the present moment the quotations in Lombard Street are as follows:

| | Per Cent. | 1 | Per Cent. |
|-----------------|-----------|------------------------|-----------|
| 30 days' bills | 6% @7 | 4 months' bills | 71/2 to — |
| 60 do | 638007 | 6 do do | 7½ to — |
| 3 months' bills | 6%@7 | 4 & 6 mnths bank paper | 6½ to — |

The discount houses continue to allow 5 per cent for money deposited with them on call; 5½ if with seven, and 6 per cent if with fourteen days' notice of withdrawal.

Very little change has taken place in the value of money on the Continent. As a rule, the demand for accommodation is restricted, and, in some instances, there is a tendency to lower rates. At the leading cities the quotations are as under:

REE OF THE UNITED STATES ON THE LETTER OF COMP. TROLLER CLARK TO SECRETARY McCulloch .- The following, from the Treasurer of the United States, is written as an answer to the letter of the Comptroller of the Currency with regard to the last debt statement, &c., addressed to the Hon. Hugh McCulloch, which we published last

TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES, WASHINGTON, March 20, 1866.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

The communication of Hon. Freeman Clark, Comptroller of the Currency, in regard to the condition of the Treasury, published in your paper, is of such a character that I consider it a duty I owe to the country, to mysclf, and especially to the Secretary of the Treasury, who must rely upon the figures furnished him by his subordinates, to point out some of the errors iuto which the Comptroller has fallen. I pass the first paragraph in the communication, in which the material words "currency values" are interpolated in a quotation, without comment, further than to note the fact. The next two paragraphs find fault with Hon. Mr. Hooper and his sub-committee, of the House of Representatives, because it failed to make application to the Comptroller in its search for information, and an opinion is ventured that the report made to the House by the Committee is neither more nor less than a hasty, unconsidered indorsement of mation, and an opinion is ventured that the report made to the House by the Committee is neither more nor less than a hasty, unconsidered indorsement of the statements of the Secretary of the Treasury; and an intimation is thrown out that if any information was obtained it was from an irresponsible person. Now, I have this to say—that the Committee did just what the Comptroller should have done before he called the statements of the Secretary of the Tressury in question. It not only examined me and my books, but the clerks in my office, and it came to the conclusion that the Comptroller would have reached had he, like the Committee, gone to the only place where the information sought could be obtained. In that case he, like the Committee, would have been satisfied that the published statements of the Secretary were substantially correct.

Next, the figures of the Treasury statement are given substantially correct.

Immediately following is this statement: Amount on deposit in coin $75,870,878 18. Total amount on deposit, $165,578,237 99. Drafts dra an out and payable, but not yet reported paid, $10,625,587 77. Balance subject to draft, $158,867,368 11. As this, the first item excepted, is no part of the Treasurer's monthly statement, as it is alleged it is, all the allegations and deductions drawn from it fall with it. The deposits in the national banks are entered weekly, as the certificates and reports are received, and included in the cash in the Treasury. The discrepancy between the bank reports and the Treasury statement arises from the fact that the banks are charged weekly with the amounts deposited with them by revenue officers and others, and are credited daily with whatever checks are drawn on them. Hence it occurs that the amount due the Government, according to the books of the banks, will differ materially from the balances according to the books of the department. For instance, the Treasurer may draw to-day on the different deposit banks for twenty million dollars; the banks will, of course, be credited with the amounts of the checks drawn upon them respectively, while they cannot charge the Government until the checks are presented, which may not be for days or weeks after.

No one ought to have known better than the Comptroller of the Currency that a commercial city, while, by reason of the checks in transitu, it will have adaily balance to its credit on the books of its correspondent. During the subscription to the seven-thirty loan very heavy deposit swere made with the National Deposit Banks. These deposits were, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, drawn upon rapidly; but so large were the balances, and so distant were many of the banks, that it was undoubtedly the fact that there were at times in process of collection from twenty to forty millions of dollars, credited to the banks, by reason of being drawn against, but not charged by the banks to the Government by the deposit banks, a orders issued upon these banks for an amount exceeding thirty-three million of dollars.

So many elements enter into the statements of the ramified business of the Treasury Department that it is impossible for any one who does not examine the books of the department to ascertain the real state of the balances in the Treasury. The amounts deposited in the various offices to the credit of disbursing officers are so large that it often occurred during the war that the Treasury account proper was overdrawn from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, and by which several millions of dollars interest was saved to the Government and people.

The difference in the statement of coin pointed out by the Comptroller of the Currency arises from the fact that the Assistant Treasurers are charged with the amount of coin certificates issued by them, and no credit can be given them by the Treasurer on the books of the department for any such gold certificates that may by either of them be redeemed until reimbursement may be made by warrant. In the meantime all such redeemed and paid for coin certificates must be couted as gold cash items. In the statement of coin on hand made up for the Secretary the amount of gold certificates redeemed is deducted daily, so as to show the amount of available coin on hand. The $20,816,440 of coin referred to are certificates issued, but that have been redeemed and paid for, and necessarily appearing in the statements of the various offices as coin on hand, and which must so remain under existing laws until reimbursing warrants issue for the amounts.

for the amounts.

These explanations seem to cover all the points in the Comptroller of the Currency's communication, and I take leave of the subject with the remark that the statement made by me on the 10th inst., which was by the Secretary of the Treasury transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, showing the balances in the Treasury to be $57,799,921 37 in coin $65,623,964 54 in currency, of whica latter amount $21,780,358 55 was in National Banks, is in all very respectfully yours,

F. E. SPINNER, Treasurer United States.

ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE Debt.—The following is a copy of an act to provide for the payment of the State debt of North Carolina contracted before the war:

Whereas, It appears by the estimate of the the Public Treasurer, that the debt of the State upon coupons now due on bonds issued under acts passed prior to the 20th day of May, A.D., 1861, is about the sum of two and a half million of dollars, and that the coupons falling due in the year 1866 will amount to about the sum of $650,000, and that the bonds of the State, due and to become due in the year 1866, amount to the sum of $364,000, making an aggregate sum of $3,514,000 of the public debt, which was contracted before the war, to be provided for during the present fiscal year; therefore, in order to provide means to enable the Public Treasurer to pay said debts.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Public Treasurer be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to cause to be prepared and to sell bon is of the State to an amount not exceeding the sum of $3,500,000, for the purpose of paying said debt, which bonds shall bear date the 1st day of January 1866, and to be made payable 34 years thereafter, with coupons bearing six per cent. interest payable at such places as the Public Treasurer may prescribe: the said bonds shall be of the denomination of $100, $500, and $1,000, and shall not be disposed of for less than par, and in all other respects shall be issued agreeably to the provisions of the 19th chapter of the Revised Code, and the said bonds and the interest accruing thereon, shall be exempt from taxation.

Sec. 2. That the bonds of the State which were issued under acts passed prior to the 20th day of May, 1861, and which have already become due or may become due before the 1st day of January, A.D., 1867, shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum, from the time the same shall have or may become due before the 1st day of March, 1866.

TRADE WITH ARIZONA.—The Mercantile Gazette of San Francisco, of Jan. 29th, says: Our trade with Arizona is being rapidly developed. Within the past few weeks upwards of 1,600 tons of merchandise have been dispatched, chiefly Government Stores. A cotemporary, in alluding to this subject, says: "Most of this freight goes above the mouth of the Colorado River; none of it, we believe, going higher up than Hardyville. As returned freight, we get principally Copper Ore, which is about the richest received in our market-some of it having been sold lately at $220 per ton. Though not of the first magnitude or moment now, this business promises much for the future, and speaks well for the instant. It indicates that enterprise in this direction only needs cultivation to become highly profitable. It connects itself, moreover, in a general way, with the trade our business men are destined, with proper efforts, to establish with Utah, via the Colorado River. It has already been satisfactorily demonstrated that the Colorado is navigable with light draft steamers and barges, up to Southern Utah; and with an adequate supply of capital that region will unquestionably be one of the most profitable. Some of our prominent merchants are already beginning to devise means for the development of trade in that direction."

The Money Market.—The market continues to exhibit extreme ease. The banks hold a liberal supply of currency, and are still receiving steady remittances from the interior. The balance of trade at all the financial centers in the West being in favor of New York. The discussions in Congress upon the Finance bill have produced a certain feeling of uncertainty, but have not had the effect of shaking confidence; it being very generally taken for granted that the Secretary of the Treasury, whatever authorization he may receive, will not adopt any measures materially interfering with the course of business.

The activity in stock operations has caused a brisk demand for money from the brokers, which has been met readily at 5@6 per cent. on call; the latter, however, is an exceptional quotation, and 5 per cent. is the prevailing rate.

There has been more disposition to discount paper, owing to the difficulty of putting out money at fair rates on call loans. At the same time there is no inclination to buy paper at low rates. The transactions in prime paper have been quite considerable during the week, and, at the close, the discount houses report a comparative scarcity of desirable names. The general rate on the best grades is 7@71 per cent., with exceptional transactions at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Dry Goods auction paper, of which the supply is unusually large, has been bought up freely during the week at 8\frac{1}{2}a10 per cent.; but to day is less abundant and is held at 8a10 per cent. Dry Goods commission names are quoted 6348 per cent. Produce commission paper is comparatively scarce, and quoted 7½ a9 per cent. Jobbers paper is bought with a close discrination as to names, owing to the supposition that under the current decline in prices this class of merchants must suffer a heavy drain upon their capital.

The following are the rates for the various classes of loans:

UNITED STATES SECURITIES.—There has been a general falling off from the late active demand for Government securities, though from what cause is is not very apparent. Gold interest bonds have not been injuriously affected by the fall in gold, nor has there been that amount of changing six per cents for seven-thirties which might have been expected from the change in the relative value of the interest on the two classes of securities, resulting from the fall of gold from 137½ to 126%. Seven thirties of the first and second series have stood at 99% to par during the week; which is ½a5 below the price of five-twenties, without interest. There are now comparatively few Government securities held on the street, and consequently a demand for a fair amount of bonds or Treasury notes tells directly upon the price. There has been a slight advance upon the several classes of securities during the week. The gold bearing bonds are $\frac{1}{8}a_4^1$ higher. Certificates of indebtedness are scarce and \(\frac{1}{8} \) higher.

The foreign quotations for five-twenties are firm, the latest price at London being 70½. Avices from Frankfort report a continued preference for United States securities over those of all other governments, and the prospect of a still further advance, unless the market should be liberally supplied from this side.

The following are the closing quotations for the leading Government Securities, compared with those of previous weeks:

RAILROAD AND MISCELLANEOUS SECURITIES.—The activity

in the stock market continues. The abundance of money fosters speculative operations, though the volume of transactions scarcely equals what is frequently realized at this period of the year. The absence of any general falling off in the receipts of the roads during the last two weeks, a result different from what was very generally expected, has directed speculation almost entirely in favor of higher prices, and quotations generally average 2@3 per cent above those of a week ago. Those who had "sold short" in anticipation of a fall in prices have found themselves necessitated to cover their contracts at a loss, and are holding aloof from the market until the rise has culminated, when they hope to recover their losses by putting out sellers options. Nearly every railroad stock upon the list has been under clique manipulation during the week. The largest advance has been upon Rock Island, which to-day closes at 1171. It is understood that the company purpose paying a dividend of 121 per cent in scrip. North Western preferred is strong under clique manipulation, and closes at $56\frac{3}{4}$, having sold during the day at 575.

The fall in the price of coal during the week has checked the upward tendency on the price of coal stocks. The miscellaneous list is generally quiet, but, with the exception of coal shares, is firm.

Gold stocks continue very active, not to say excited. There is a great increase of confidence in this class of stocks, consequent upon the introduction of new separating processes, and the outside public are buying up some of the best shares for investment purposes. The low price of petroleum has produced a general dullness in oil stocks.

The Gold Market.—The course of gold has been steadily downward during the week, opening at 130% on Saturday last and touching this afternoon 126%. The course of the finance bill has been watched closely from its supposed bearing upon the gold premium, and this afternoon, upon the announcement that the Committee on Ways and Means had agreed upon recommending an authorization for contraction to the extent of $10,000,000 for the whole of the first six months, and $4,000,000 per month subsequently, the price steadily declined. The low rates of exchange and large orders for cotton and produce, by the Australasian, have the effect of depressing the premium. On Wednesday there was no shipment of specie by the Etna, for Liverpool. The exports of gold and silver by last Saturday's steamer amounted to $83,000.

Foreign Exchange.—The week opened with an active demand for exchange, induced by the fall in gold; and rates slightly improved. Subsequently large foreign orders for cotton, and an increased supply of cotton bills from New Orleans produced a general weakness in rates, and to-day brokers sterling has touched 107½.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 23, 1866.

The volume of trade the past week has been larger than for some time past. The usual demand for consumption must be large now, if at any time. And as yet the tone prevailing in business circles is an uncomfortable one; probably owing to the fact that prices paid do not generally leave a profit to the seller. There is an extraordinary indifference to new engagements.

Cotton has been in active demand for export, but the wants of buyers have been freely met, and about the largest business done at New York in one week, in a long time, has established only a slight advance, with a weak closing.

Breadstuffs show a general decline, with a slight recovery in the past day or two in some minor articles.

Provisions have been very active, accompanied with some decline in all hog products, except Bacon (which has advanced). Beef is also slightly lower, with an active business for export. The receipts of all except Butter and Cheese are on a liberal scale; but of box meats (Bacon) are not equal to the demand, and Cumberland Cut has advanced to 15½c, being ½c higher than when gold was 140.

Groceries have been fairly active. There has been more doing in coffee; and during the past two or three days the business in both raw and refined sugars has been quite active, but with scarcely any recovery from the relatively low prices that had been reached. In molasses the transactions have been large, at full prices. Teas, spices, rice, &c., are dull.

Naval stores have come forward freely, and, being under advances, have been pressed for sale. Tar has declined $1 a barrel, and common rosin 50c per barrel, while turpentine and pitch are lower.

Hides and leather have been fairly active, but prices show further concession to buyers. In the past day or two considerable quantities of irregular lots of leather have been bought for the British markets.

East India goods show but little activity, but gold prices are well supported.

The receipts of petroleum have fallen off, and latterly there has been a better demand, with a slight recovery in crude.

Fruits have been dull and drooping, except foreign fresh and domestic dried, which have been firm.

Fish have been quiet.

Metals have been uniformly dull, but we do not notice any material decline in prices, except in copper, in which American ingot has declined to 30c.

There is no improvement in the markets for tobacco and wool. Tallow has been steady, Freights have embraced large shipments of cotton, and considerable quantities of corn and bacon to Liverpool; but in a general way exports are dull.

The receipts of domestic produce for the week, since Jan. 1, and for the same time in 1865, have I een as follows:

The business of packing pork in the West has terminated at all points for the season. There is again a marked falling off, yet the deficiency is not by any means as large as had been expected. Farmers fed late—unusually so—and the great bulk of the packing was done in the month of January, instead of December, as is usual. The total number packed is 1,683,474, that the increase in the weight is about 36 lbs. per hog, which is equal to 301,236 hogs of the average weight of the season of 1864-5, making the crop of the present season equal to 1,984,710 hogs of the previous season's average.

The yield of lard per hog is 31 1-17 lbs. against 24 1-9 lbs. in 1864-5, showing an increase of about 7 lbs. per hog. This includes but leaf and trimming lard; the head and gut is to be added as usual.

There is an increase in the average weight of hogs of, in round numbers, 36 pounds per hog, which is equal to 301,226 hogs of the previous seasons average, and by adding this to the total number packed, as given above, it will make the total equal to 1,984,710 hogs of the average of last season.

Now, in order to find the net deficiency in the crop, we may deduct this number from the number packed in 1864-5, as follows

|--------|---|-----------|
| 1865-6 | ····· | 1,984,710 |
| | | |

We have already stated that the yield of leaf lard is 31 1-7 lbs per Now, by multiplying the whole number of hogs packed each sea son with the yield of lard, we have the aggregate product as follows:

1864-5.....lbs. 59,060,724 1865-6.....lbs. 52,865,658

Deficit......lbs. 6,195,066 This is leaf lard, and if head and gut be added both years, the result would compare about as follows:

1864-5......lbs. 78,384,608 1865-6.....lbs. 69,786,674

COTTON.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 23.

The receipts of Cotton have been very liberal the past week, reach ing 50,000 bales. Below we give the movement since Sept. 1st, making in the item of receipts a correction in the table as last published:

| Receipts at the portsbales. | This week. 50,000 | Previously, since Sept. 1. 1,474,000 | Total to date, since Sept. 1. 1,425,000 |
|---|----------------------------|--|--|
| Exports to Great Britain Exports to France Exports to other foreign ports | $30,000 \\ 9,000 \\ 6,000$ | 691,000 101,000 31,000 | 721,000 110,000 37,000 |
| Total foreign exports | 45.000 | 823,000 | 868 000 |

The subject of increasing the tax on cotton to five cents a pound is likely to come up soon in Congress on the recommendation of the committee having the matter in charge. Many appear to consider it settled that the tax will be increased. We trust, however, and believe that a wiser policy will prevail, as an increased tax would certainly greatly check cultivation, the condition of the South being such as to discourage capitalists from embarking in the business of raising cotton except on a wide margin. The increased difficulties of transportation alone are a serious obstacle. . To illustrate this we have prepared the following, showing the expenses which now attach to a bale of cotton after it leaves the planter and before it reaches the consumer. The estimate is made on a bale of 500 pounds:

| build in made on a bare of boo pounds. | |
|--|--------------------------|
| Tax 2 cents per pound. Freight to port from plantation, average 2c. per lb Freight to New York ¾c.; insurance 1½ per cent. | $10 00 10 00 6 75 |
| Removing and forwarding, wharfages, marking, cartages, revenue agent for stamping, etc., etc., all at Southern port | 3 25 |

$30 00 We have here an expense of six cents a pound. If now we add the cost of landing, storage and insurance at New York, loss of weight. mending bale, brokerage, etc., all of which must be paid, we will find that, in most cases, from ten to twelve cents a pound is necessary to cover all the outgoes of the cotton merchant after his purchase is made and before a sale can be effected. These estimates are, we believe, low, and serve to illustrate the difficulties in the way of the resumption of cotton cultivation. When we consider the condition of the plantation-destitute of almost everything-the great loss of capital to the South during the war, the newness of the labor system, the uncertainty of weather and seed, and add to all this the additional cost of bringing the staple to market, we readily see that a wide margin on cotton is necessary to lead capitalists to undertake its cultivation, and that an additional tax would simply be a premium on foreign production.

The market opened weak, and average middlings were sold on Monday below 40c; but the strong accounts which have reached us from Manchester, both for cotton and goods, have completely overcome the unfavorable influences prevailing here, and on Thursday the business was the largest in value ever done in this market, and it has seldom been exceeded in quantity.

The demand is mainly for export. Spinners are well stocked, or have contracts for the delivery of their supplies from the Southern markets

There is a decided increase in the receipts at this market, but mostly to go forward to Europe; a vast proportion is transferred direct to the European packet or steamer.

The great problems of the market just now, as accepted by the trade. are the premium on gold and the duration of the Manchester demand, The probable supply is for the moment lost sight of. As to gold, that is not in our province to discuss; but as to Manchester, there are reasons for believing that, although the demand for the United States is falling off, the wants of other countries will support prices for goods in that market, which will tend to prevent any material decline in cotton at Liverpool.

The demand in this market to day was less active, but yesterday's advance was supported. Sales for the week, 28,000 bales, of which 4,000 bales to-day. The following are closing quotations:

EUROPEAN MARKETS.—Our own correspondent, under date of M arch 10, gives the following full review of the Liverpool and London Cotton markets:

The leading feature in the Liverpool Cotton market, this week, is the large amount of business transacted for home consumption. Another important circumstance relates to the extent of the export demand, the inquiry for produce for shipment to the Continent being active at higher prices. The transactions of a speculative character were to a small extent, and amounted to only 6,590 bales, whilst the trade took 54,270 bales, and exporters 12,900 bales—the total transactions being estimated at 73,760 bales. But although the demand has transactions being estimated at 73,760 bales. But although the demand has ruled active, no material change has taken place in prices, holders having, as regards most descriptions of cotton, felt disposed to transact business at the rates of last week. Hence, with the exception of Egyptian Cotton, which, owing to limited shipments from Alexandria, has advanced ½d. to 1d. per lb., the quotations are much the same as at the close of last week. Large transactions have been effected, "to arrive," in middling American. March shipments from New York at 19d. and low middling Texas, at sea, at 18%d, per lb. The prices New York at 19d., and low middling Texas, at sea, at 18%d. per lb. The prices of middling cotton are as under:

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY NIGHT. March 23.

The changes in the market the past week have been towards easier prices; but, except in the case of prime Spring Red Wheat, the decline has not been important.

Flour has been drooping. The receipts have been but moderate, and the demand fair; but the desire to reduce stocks and close accounts, preparatory to the reopening of canal navigation, have given prices a downward tendency. At to-day's market there has been rather more doing, and the market was firm.

Wheat has been pressed for sale, and prices for the better grades of Spring Reds are 7c@10c below those ruling three weeks ago. Millers buy sparingly, and th y are the only buyers; speculation is dead, and export orders are still far below current prices.

Corn has been fairly active all the week, and prices have, on the whole, been pretty well supported. To day's market was active and firm. Oats have been active, and the lower qualities have latterly improved 1c@2c per bushel from the lowest point.

Rye has been quiet; Barley firm and in good demand; Barley Malt

Corn, bush

Rye, bush

Western markets for all sorts of breadstuffs have declined a trifle, but the supplies arc increasing, and the tendency is downward.

LIVERPOOL, March 11.—The weather has been generally frosty, with occasional slight snow, which, though useful in checking vegetation (which was getting unseasonably advanced), has not had any effect on the trade, which has continued dull and lifeless. The imports of Wheat have been trifling, those of Flour and Indian Corn liberal. There are now no Grain cargoes remaining on sale at ports of call. At Tuesday's market there was a moderate consumptive demand for Wheat at Friday's prices. Flour was rather pressed for sale, and previous prices were scarcely maintained. Indian Corn was freely offered, ex quay, and prices declined 3d per qr. At To-day's market, with a limited attendance of buyers, the trade in Wheat and Flour was very slow at Tuesday's prices. Indian Corn was more difficult to sell, and with large quantities offering from the quay, prices were 6d per qr. lower than on Tuesday.

The dry goods trade still continues to yield to the prevailing dullness in business. There has been a slightly increased activity in domestic goods during the week with both agents and jobbers, but at steadily softening prices. Goods are over abundant, and in many cases are being pressed upon the market at such prices as they will bring. There is little prospect of a reaction, although many profess to think that goods are nearly as low as they will be for the present. The auction sales have been numerous, and large quantities of goods have been sold at rates much below former sales.

Brown Shertings and Shirtings have met with some demand, but in small parcels only, and prices are 1@2 cents lower than quoted last week. Standards are quoted by agents at 24, but are sold at lower figures. The lighter grades are much reduced. Indian Head A, Lawrence C, Appleton A, Stark A, Amoskeag A, and Amory are quoted at 24 cents. The Railway Monitor.

PITTSBURG, FORT WAYNE AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.—The results of operations for the year 1865, compared with those of 1864, are approximately as follows:

| Gross traffic earnings Operating expenses | 1864. $7,120,465 4,101,398 | 1865. 8,489,000 5, 205,000 |
|--|--|--|
| Profits from operations | $3,010,067 97,055 89,035 1,747,300 | 3,284,000 189,737 34,000 1,122,100 |
| Total means of the year | $4,902,457 | 4,629,137 |
| Interest on debt Sinking fund Quarterly dividends of 2½ per cent Cleveland & Pittsburg R. R. contract New construction Akron Branch R. R Total disbursements | 990,002 104,100 785,048 | 901,485 104,100 901,282 342,000 2,010,000 4,258,867 |
| Surplus to new year | $189,937 | 870,270 |

The application of earnings to the improvement of the road, and the increase of equipment and station property since 1862, has been as follows:

Improvements and additions..... $7,312,000 $2,598,259 Derived from earnings, 1862-3... 1884.... 1865.... 887,900-4,442,600-7,312,000

From this it will be seen that since 1862, a period of less than four years, fully half as much as the original share capital has been diverted from earnings to construction, and this after paying for the last two years 10 per cent dividends.

HUDSON RIVER OPEN.—The People's Line of steamers commenced the operations of the season on Thursday, Murch 19th, and are now making daily trips between New York City and Albany. After the completion of the Athens Branch Rillroad, their up-river terminus will be at Athens, where fine accommodations have been provided for steamboats and passengers.

RAILROADS IN THE OIL REGIONS .- The Reno, Oil Creek and Pithole, and the Kersey railroad companies have consolidated their lines. Regular trains are now run between Reno and Rouseville, making close connection at Reno with the Eastern bound trains of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, and at Rouseville with regular stages to Plumer, Pithole and the oil regions above. The road will be completed in a few days from Rouseville to Plumer and Pithole.

INSURANCE COMPANY. OFFICE No. 35 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

Assets, Jan. 1st, 1866......$1,366,699

ORGANIZED APRIL, 1844.

The Company has paid to its Customers, up to the present time, Losses amounting to over EIGHTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

For the past nine years the cash dividends paid to Stockholders, made from ONE-THIRD of the net profits, have amounted in the aggregate to:

One Hundred and Twenty-one and a half per cent.

Instead of issuing a scrip dividend to dealers, based on the principle that all classes of risks are equally profitable, this Company will hereafter make such cash abatement or discount from the current rates, when premiums are paid, as the general experience of underwriters will warrant, and the nett profits remaining at the close of the year, will be divided to the stockholders.

This Company continues to make Insurance on Marine and Inland Navigation and Transportation Risks, on the most favorable terms, including Risks on Merchandise of all kinds, Hulls, and Freight.

Policies issued making loss payable in Gold or Currency, at the Office in New York, or in Sterling, at the Office of Rathbone, Bros. & Co., in Liver-
