Road and branches finished and running 367 miles, with monthly increasing earnings, and a mortgage debt of only $2,450,000.

For the purpose of retiring the above old indebtedness, and of extending its connections Southward, this Corporation has executed a mortgage to JAMES PUNNETT and JUNIUS B. ALEXANDER, of the city of New York, as Trustees, upon its entire lines of Road, with all its rolling stock, property, franchise and income, to secure the prompt payment of its bonds for eight millions of dollars, in denominations of one thousand each, payable thirty years from 1st of April, 1868, and bearing seven per cent interest—Coupons payable April and October, at the Bank of America in New York. This mortgage provides for the registering of these bonds on the books of the Company and at its agency in New York, by any holder who may desire this security against loss by theft or otherwise; and also that $2,500,000 of the bonds shall be set apart for the EXPRESS PURPOSE of retiring at maturity the present indebtedness—thereby making this the ONLY and FIRST mortgage, on a road costing DOUBLE THE AMOUNT.

There is no railroad Corporation in America whose bonds should more fully command the entire confidence of capitalists than this, which has never faltered in the payment of its obligations, of every description.

The net earnings of the road are more than fourfold the interest on its present bonded indebtedness, and the stockholders have received eight per cent cash dividends.

It is the purpose of the Company to issue at present only a small portion of their Bonds secured under this mortgage, which we are now authorized to sell, in lots to suit purchasers, at ninety and accrued interest. Personal knowledge of this property, and its management, fully warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these Bonds, as in ALL RESPECTS, a FIRST CLASS security.

North Missouri RailroadFIRST MORTGAGE*30 YEARS SEVEN PER CENT BONDS*INTEREST PAYABLE JANUARY AND JULY, AT THE NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK

The Road is completed and in operation from ST. LOUIS to BRUNSWICK, on the Missouri River, and to ATLANTA, in Northeast Missouri, 212 MILES.

The entire length of road which will be completed in NOVEMBER OF THIS YEAR, 382 1-2 MILES.

Amount in Actual Cash Expended in Construction to date, $11,310,000.

The only lien upon the Road is this First Mortgage of Six Millions, and which is LESS THAN $16,000 PER MILE.

This Road connects with the Union Pacific at Kansas City, already completed westward 350 miles, and with the Iowa Central and the Cedar Rapids Railroads in Iowa, forming by the Iowa Central a direct connection with St. Paul, and by the latter with Dubuque. It runs through the choicest agricultural and coal lands in the State of Missouri, and by its connections will have the finest and most populous portions of Iowa and Minnesota tributaries to it. The road now completed is constructed in the most substantial manner.

We recommend the above loan as an undoubted security, and are authorized to offer a limited amount of the Bonds at 83 1-2 and accrued interest. For the character of the security we refer, by permission, to R. LENOX KENNEDY, Esq., President National Bank of Commerce, New York.

BEST INVESTMENTS.

THE
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.

900 MILES COMPLETED.

A limited amount of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad Company are offered to the public, as one of the safest and most profitable investments.

1. They are a first mortgage upon the longest and most important railroad in the country.
2. By law they can be issued to the company only as the road is completed, so that they always represent a real value.
3. Their amount is limited by act of Congress to fifty million dollars on the entire Pacific line, or an average of less than $30,000 per mile.
4. Hon. E. D. Morgan, of the United States Senate, and Hon. Oakes Ames, of the United States House of Representatives, are the trustees for the bondholders, to see that all their interests are protected.
5. Five Government Directors, appointed by the President of the United States, are responsible to the country for the management of its affairs.
6. Three United States Commissioners must certify that the road is well built and equipped, and in all respects a first-class railway, before any bonds can be issued upon it.
7. The United States Government lends the company its own bonds to the same amount that the company issues, for which it takes a second mortgage as security.
8. As additional aid, it makes an absolute donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile lying upon each side of the road.
9. The bonds pay six per cent in gold, and the principal is also payable in gold.
10. The earnings from the local or way business were over four million dollars last year, which, after paying operating expenses, was much more than sufficient to pay the interest. These earnings will be vastly increased on the completion of the entire line in 1869.
12. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond, with such guarantees, were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.
13. The issue will soon be exhausted. The sales have sometimes been half a million a day, and nearly twenty millions have already been sold. About ten millions more may be offered. It is not improbable that at some time not far distant all the remainder of the bonds the company can issue will be taken by some combination of capitalists and withdrawn from the market, except at a large advance. The long time, the high gold interest, and the perfect security, must make these bonds very valuable for export.

All the predictions which the officers of this Company have made in relation to the progress and business success of their enterprise, or the value and advance in the price of their securities, have been more than confirmed, and they therefore suggest that parties who desire to invest in their bonds will find it to their advantage to do so at once.

Subscriptions will be received in New York

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street

AND BY

John J. Cisco & Son, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street.

And by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sent free, but parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP was issued October 1st, containing a report of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices or to any of the advertised agents.

THE NOVEMBER DEBT STATEMENT.

In the absence of an official copy of the statement of the public debt for November 1, we can give only such figures as have been received by telegraph, reserving the printed details for our next issue. It appears from the telegraphic returns that the net debt has been reduced, during October, $7,514,166. The total obligations outstanding have been diminished only $3,898,988; but as the cash balance in the Treasury has been increased $3,615,178, the net decrease appears as stated. The amount of Five-Twenties has been increased $7,423,600, by the sale of bonds. These issues are made under the authority to exchange Seven-Thirty notes for bonds. During the process of conversion, the Secretary bought up the Seven-Thirties much beyond the issues of bonds at the time, and the bonds now being sold are a part of that reserve issue. The last issue of Compound interest notes, amounting to $5,251,930, matured during October, and were either redeemed or exchanged for the 3 per cent Certificates. On the 1st of October, there was outstanding of these notes $11,574,000, of which $6,322,070 were overdue. There is now outstanding $5,128,310, entirely overdue. The Three Per Cent Certificates show a reduction of $6,905,000. As nearly twice that amount was redeemed at the Sub Treasury within the month, it is to be presumed that new Certificates were issued in redemption of the Compound Interest Notes. The amount of coin on hand is $6,516,138 greater than on October 1st; while the Coin Certificates are $519,560 less. Deducting from the $103,400,000 of gold in the vaults, the amount of interest due on the 1st inst., and the coin held on public deposit, we have $59,700,000 as the amount of gold owned by the Treasury the beginning of November, against $76,600,000 on October 1st. The currency balance has been reduced to the very low point of $10,465,000, a loss of $2,900,000 during the month. The sales of bonds and gold in October have realized about $20,000,000 of currency; of which about $13,500,000 has been paid out in the redemption of Three Per Cent Certificates and Compounds, while the balance, with the $2,900,000 loss in currency on hand, has been mainly used in ordinary Government disbursements.

THE NEW CLEARING-HOUSE ARRANGEMENTS.

Last Wednesday the banks of this city, at a meeting in the Clearing House, passed a resolution which has been somewhat misunderstood and misrepresented. The reserve of 25 per cent which the New York banks are obliged by law to hold, was intended originally to be composed of specie and greenbacks only. The law was, however, modified so as to allow the holding of Treasury certificates bearing interest, and the counting of these as a part of the lawful bank-reserve. Now as this reserve of 25 per cent is intended to strengthen the banks, and to protect them against any "run," or panic, which might send their circulation home for redemption, or might cause their depositors to demand payment suddenly of their deposits, it is clear that the safety of the banks would be compromised except the certificates are made convertible immediately on demand into greenbacks. During the last summer the bank reserves were full, and exceeded considerably the minimum of 25 per cent. Hence, there was no trouble, and no practical difficulty arose.

But during the recent financial trouble the reserves have suffered, and are likely to fall some still. Consequently a plan for relief was proposed, which was found very effectual during the war, of making the certificates payable at the Treasury in greenbacks on demand.

Before this arrangement could be carried out some of the banks yielded to the pressure, and converted their certificates into greenbacks. There was no small objection to this movement, because the banks are uncertain whether certificates so presented, paid and cancelled will ever be reissued. Still 14 millions of the certificates were exchanged for greenbacks during the month of October, and it became probable that in a few days Mr. McCulloch would be obliged to issue a part of the 50 millions of greenbacks which are authorized by law for the purpose of redeeming the certificates. To meet the difficulty Mr. Van Dyck was authorized to stamp twenty millions of the certificates as payable on demand in greenbacks. Immediately this was done, the obstacles disappeared, the certificates could be used in the Clearing-house, and the banks could without risk accept them in payment of their daily balances. What was done on Wednesday was to accept the situation, and to agree that certificates so stamped at the Treasury should be treated as greenbacks for the purpose referred to.

Two or three questions have arisen and are agitating Wall street since this compact has been mooted. First, it is urged that the arrangement is neither more nor less than an enlargement of the volume of the legal tender. This point appears to be well taken. The certificates were a subordinate species of legal tender money before being stamped as we have described. They were performing some of the functions of greenbacks, because they took the place of greenbacks in the reserves of the banks. After the stamping process had conferred upon them the new power of convertibility on demand, their activity in the monetary circulation was of course enlarged.

Secondly, it is claimed that this enlargement of the currency is an evil, and should not be permitted. This we can scarcely allow. It has been shown above that what has been done is intended to prevent, if possible, the issue of greenbacks. Now nobody will contend that the inflating power of certificates is as great as that of the greenbacks, consequently the issue of the former is the less evil of the two.

Besides, we are in the midst of that season of the year when a sudden demand arises for a legitimate increase of thirty to fifty millions more of currency than is required during the dull months of summer. Our monetary circulation requires to be elastic enough to admit of such an expansion now as would meet the legitimate demand. This elasticity, as we have often explained, is almost wholly wanting in our currency machinery. The rigid uniformity at which it keeps our circulating medium is one of its worst defects. And any man who can show us how it may be remedied will confer a benefit on the financial interests of the country, the magnitude of which it is not easy to over-estimate. Till such a remedy is provided we must be content with a temporary palliative for special evils as they arise. On this ground the new arrangement of the Clearing-House Certificates is defended, and it is probably the best defence that can be made. As to the amount of relief which will thus be given to the money market it is premature to offer any opinion. But there is no doubt that one of the most obstinate and troublesome causes of stringency is probably effectually disposed of for the present.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

When the king of France died, under the old regime, it was customary for the chief chamberlain of the palace in which the event took place to signify it to the assembled courtiers, in the ante-room of the state chamber, by throwing open a door and crying out: "The king is dead! Long live the king!" This quaint ceremony symbolized, tersely enough, the fiction, which, after all, was no fiction, of the undying nature of the chief executive office. The monarch was mortal. The monarchy was immortal.

Something of the feeling expressed in this antique royal rite pervades the people of all countries in which the people have some recognized connexion with their system of government more deep and vital than that of mere obedience to a superior force handled by superior cunning. It certainly pervades the people of the United States, and pervading them, it ballasts with a substratum of rational composure the ship of state, in the height of every political tempest. No matter how hot and fierce may be the contest of parties for power, the great masses of the people feel that, end their contest as it may, the substantial framework of the Republic will endure. One President may disappear into private life. Another may emerge into the trying and dazzling daylight of power; and the country may suffer something or gain something, in the matter of the direction of its public affairs, by the change, but the people never believe that the suffering will be fatal or the gain vital. The politicians, of course, assert the contrary, during the heat of the canvass; the people, for the time of the canvass, act as if they felt the assertions of the politicians to be true, for there is a kind of moral fever engendered by the excitement of a political contest. But the canvass once over, the people relapse into their normal confidence in their institutions. There is a side of danger, of course, as well as a side of safety in this relation of the people to their politics. It is certainly possible that the institutions of a republic as well as the institutions of a monarchy may be imperiled by the overweening confidence of the nation in their stability. It is certainly possible that the change from one President to another may at some given time, and under some particular condition of circumstances, lead to profound and permanent modifications in the national constitution.

But, on the whole, and taking the average of what we may call a nation's chance, especially in the case of a nation so made up and so situated as our own, it is probably true that we gain in respect to impulse and elasticity more than we lose in respect to prudence and caution from this temperament of the people and of the times. Such, at least, is the general conviction of thinking men among us, as shown in the turn which private affairs commonly take after the termination of a great public contest. This is commonly a favorable turn, and that it is so is universally admitted to flow from the general feeling that a political decision, simply because it is a decision, remits the nation to a course of probable safety. The election of General Grant has not yet, it is true, been followed by the usual indications at the great financial centres of the country which mark the recognition by the popular sense of a decision as an advantage. This may be accounted for, however, mainly by the peculiar and unusual condition of our money market the past two weeks, and partly, no doubt, by the singular and abnormal condition into which the business interests, not only of the United States but of Europe, have been brought during the last three years; on this side of the Atlantic by the unsettled relations of the lately rebellious States to the rest of the country, and, on the other side of the Atlantic, by the vexatious and incomprehensible relations of the two great military powers, Germany and France, with each other and with the rest of Europe. It is at least certain that the election of General Grant, if it has failed to work the usual miracle of reviving commercial confidence, has not still further depressed it. On the contrary, it may be assumed from the antecedents of this election, and from the peculiar political situation of the newly chosen Chief Magistrate, that so far as the fact of his election influences commercial confidence at all, the influence will be beneficial.

For nothing is more clear to the impartial observer than this: that General Grant's election, no matter what may have been the motive of some of his supporters in urging it, is a triumph of the conservatism and honesty of our people. His nomination was made in response to the desire so widely expressed for peace and rest from strife. He became the chosen leader of a great party, not because he was a politician, but because and he is trusted now because it is believed he will not seek mere party ends but the country's highest good. What the nation most needs now is repose. It needs to be assured that peace is a reality, and that peace will be as permanent as it is real. It needs to be satisfied that passion will hereafter play a smaller, and reason a greater part in the influence of parties upon public policy. It needs to see a harmony based on mutual respect, existing and efficient between the executive and the legislative branches of the general government. All of these things which the country so greatly needed are made not unreasonable expectations by the conditions under which General Grant has been chosen, and by the popular understanding of General Grant's own character and purposes.

In the light of such anticipations the country will look forward to the selection by General Grant, of advisers who will represent not any sectional feelings, passions or theories, but the broad and national and patriotic spirit of the substantial people of the republic. From an administration constituted, as it would certainly seem to be more practicable for General Grant than it would have for any other man now before the country to constitute an administration, the country will expect a policy of financial retrenchment and prudence, a conciliatory and yet a resolute control of all internal questions justly appertaining to the domain of the federal authority, and a judicious remission of many of the matters which have of late most perplexed our public policy, and most embittered the passions of party, to the unobtrusive and smoothly working system of local independence, combined with general responsibility, which was originally the most distinctive feature, and is still the strongest anchor of American institutions.

PROSPECTS OF THE COTTON TRADE.

Cotton has well nigh gained its former importance as the great commercial crop of the country. The exportable surplus of the staple may now be estimated as worth $125,000,000 in gold; which is near its average value between 1855 and 1860. The growing magnitude of this branch of the export trade renders it especially important to ascertain as nearly as possible what are the prospects as to the value and the movements of this particular staple. The premium on gold is very directly influenced by the supply of cotton bills; and the exports of other products are materially affected by the premium on gold; so that, in an important sense, the cotton movement may be said to control our whole export trade. The supply and demand, however, have during the late war been subject to so many fluctuations, that it is difficult to form satisfactory estimates of the cause of things a few months ahead; each successive year, however, the movements are assuming more regularity, while they afford an accumulation of new data for our guidance.

The general tenor of reports has, during late weeks, become more favorable, so that now the prevailing anticipation in this market is that the Southern crop will exceed that of last year. The injury by rains and the worm has proved less serious than was at one time expected, while the picking season has been very favorable; so that if the election and after election excitement does not interfere with the work of the freedmen, it is now believed among the better informed that an increase of about 200,000 bales upon the last crop may be relied upon with considerable confidence, which would give us a total of say 2,700,000 bales. The fact of the arrivals of cotton at the ports, since September 1, having been over 90 per cent in excess of those of last year is an indication of this improvement in the supply; and yet only partially so, for the crop this year is about three weeks earlier than last year, while in the fall of 1867 trade at the Southern ports was checked by the prevalence of yellow fever. The prospects of the supply in other cotton growing countries appear to be on the whole satisfactory. There were some reports earlier in the season of injury from the rains to the plant in India, but the later advices are all favorable; and it is inferred from the fact that the bulk of the last crop was marketed when prices were high that the area planted will be large, though we do not look for any material increase from that quarter. From Egypt, however, the supply is estimated at about 400,000 bales, as against 250,000 bales last year, while the reports from Brazil are all favorable, the high prices obtained for the last crop having induced, it is believed, some increase of planting. It would seem, then, that the combined supply in America, Brazil, and Egypt may exceed that of last year by say 350,000 bales of 450 lbs. each, which is equal to an addition to the world's consumption of about 7,000 bales per week. It is not to be assumed, however, that the whole of this additional supply will reach Europe. Our own manufacturers had reduced their stocks to an unprecedentedly low point before the crop began to arrive, and not only will they have to compensate for this deficiency in supply on hand, but they are likely to require an increased amount for actual consumption, to meet the extra demand naturally growing out of an improved condition of trade throughout the country generally, and especially in the Southern States. For this reason, Liverpool is not likely to be much benefited by the enlarged Southern crop.

The present condition of stocks in Europe and of the supply afloat combined does not in the total differ very materially from the same period of last year, as will be seen from the following comparison:

IN STOCKS AND AFLOAT.

	1868, bales.	1867 bales.
LIVERPOOL, November 6th.
Stock	426,000	571,000
Afloat	284,000	226,000
LONDON, October 22d.
Stock	89,038	118,343
Afloat	124,914	74,17
HAVRE, October 9th.
Stock	50,429	80,1
Afloat, in excess of 1867	29,835
Total visible supply	1,014,216	1,069,371
Decrease	55,155

There is, however, as affecting prices in this country, a material difference in the nature of the stock, the total amount of American on hand at Liverpool, at the date given above, being only 48,000 bales, against 133,000 bales at this time last year. But, aside from this circumstance, it will be seen that the visible supply of Europe is 55,155 bales less than at the same period of last year; which requires to be set off against the probable increased supply from the new crops, if we suppose it is necessary for the present stocks to be maintained. Making this allowance, then, and supposing that the major portion of the increase in the crop of American will be required at home, it appears that Europe may anticipate results exceeding those of last year by about 200,000 bales, which would allow an increase in the weekly consumption of 3,840 bales over last year. We find that the amount taken by the trade at Liverpool last year, from October 3 to December 31, averaged 57,870 bales per week; while, for the first four weeks of the corresponding period of this year, the purchases of the trade have averaged 58,360 bales, or about 500 bales per week more. For evident reasons, however, the purchases of the trade for the last few weeks are not perhaps a fair indication of the consumption. The following is a statement of the average weekly consumption for the nine months ending October 1 of the two years:

	American.	Brazil.	W. Indian.	East Ind.	Mediterr'n.	Total.
1868 bales.	24,414	10,736	2,042	13,406	3,480	54,078
1867	20,973	5,387	2,149	14,852	2,844	46,295

This statement shows a weekly increase of 7,873 bales. The present price of cotton at Liverpool, however, is one-third higher than the average price during the last quarter of 1867;

There are some other considerations which are not unlikely to have a certain degree of influence upon the price during the next few weeks. It is usually the policy of the Liverpool dealers to encourage a free export from the United States early in the season, with a view to getting a large amount afloat and centered at the southern ports; and when a considerable proportion of the crop is in process of movement towards Liverpool, the price is allowed to drop, and the cotton falls into the hands of English buyers at low prices. It remains to be seen whether the fact of the crop being this year held to an unusually large extent by the planters may not partially thwart this trade trick. The planters well enough understand the game of the Liverpool buyers; and if their financial condition is such as to enable them to hold on for the best market, they will doubtless keep back their cotton in the event of any extreme decline abroad. It is not, however, certain as yet that they have adequate resources for thus protecting themselves. The present extreme stringency of money at New York is not favorable to the holding of cotton at the ports. The banks have urgent applications for money from the South, to which they cannot respond; and, unless it should prove that the monetary pressure is largely due to artificial meddling, it is quite possible that cotton may have to be shipped more freely than is consistent with the interests of holders.

October has been characterized by one of those periods of excessive stringency in money, which appear to have become regularly periodic in the fall and spring months. The preparation for the quarterly bank statement caused less disturbance than had been anticipated, owing to the demand for moving the Western crops having been checked by the refusal of the New York grain merchants to buy produce at the then current high prices. In the early part of the month, however, there was a steady drain of funds to the banks of the minor cities, causing a loss of deposits and of legal tenders, and a firm 7 per cent rate of interest. About the middle of the month the market suddenly assumed a stringent aspect, the banks having little to lend, and the large balances in the hands of private bankers, which had for some time kept money easy, finding ready employment at rates much above the legal limit. With the exception of the banks and a few private bankers who, on principle refuse to accept over the legal interest, lenders obtained during the latter part of the month rates varying from 7 per cent in gold to $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent per day from borrowers on stock collaterals. Discounting operations suffered a severe check. The mercantile banks have been unable to meet fully the wants of their customers; who, however, would have suffered more in consequence had it not been that their wants were strictly moderate. An unusual amount of

The stock market has exhibited unusual activity, the combined sales at both boards having amounted to 2,362,000 shares, against 1,800,000 shares in October, 1867. The severe stringency in money has been accompanied with special efforts to break down stocks, and the attempts have been partially successful, but less so than might have been expected. Cliques, who are holding very large amounts of stock, have secured their position by time loans, extending to the close of the year; which mainly accounts for the comparative firmness of the markets. The following statement shows the sales of the several classes of stocks at both boards during October :

The course of the gold premium has been steadily downward, the price having opened at 140½ and steadily declined to 133½, at which figure it closed. The market has been freely supplied from sales by the Treasury, so that, at the close of the month, there was only $1,100,000 less in the banks than at the beginning, although the payments for customs and the exports combined amounted to $12,000,000. From a statement given below it would appear that $9,000,000 of gold has come from unreported sources; about one-half the amount has come from the sales of the Treasury and the balance probably represents gold that has passed out of private hands into the banks.

The following exhibits the fluctuations of the New York gold market in the month of October, 1868 :

[From our own Correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, October 24, 1868.

Now that the retail houses throughout the country have laid in a considerable stock of goods suitable to winter use, there has been less activity in the trade of Lancashire and Yorkshire, and of the few other counties in which cotton and woollen goods are produced. From nearly all quarters accounts are received that there is less disposition to transact business, and that buyers are operating with a considerable degree of caution. The volume of business passing is not, however, unsatisfactory, but there appears to be an almost complete absence of speculation, and, consequently, the various departments of business are deprived of one important source that produces activity in commercial affairs. Speculation is no doubt checked by the difficulty encountered in procuring accommodation, except on indisputable security, notwithstanding the great abundance of money. It appears, however, that those who can offer substantial security are not, as a rule, disposed to speculate to any extent, but seem inclined to await the return of thorough confidence, and of thoroughly assuring news respecting the attitude of the Continental powers, and more especially of France and Prussia, before operating largely.

The wool trade has relapsed into a very quiet state, but as good qualities will now be scarce until the new Australian clip commences to arrive at market in the early part of next year, it is considered probable that good wools will be in demand, but at present no one is disposed to predict a higher range of prices. Notwithstanding the large supplies already brought forward this year, the November sales, which it is expected will be commenced on the 19th of November, will be very considerable. The arrivals already amount to nearly 52,000 bales, and with the supplies left over from last sales, and with the quantities expected to arrive in time, a total of 110,000 bales, viz., 70,000 bales Australian, and 40,000 bales Cape is looked forward to. A sale of 10,000 bales of South American wool was held at Havre the other day, but only about one-half was sold at lower prices for inferior qualities. A sale of South American wool, consisting of 38,000 bales will be shortly held at Antwerp, but there seems to be no prospect of any animation in the demand for the produce to be brought forward. The probability is, however, as we before stated, that good wool, from its scarcity, will, both here and on the Continent, command fall prices, but that inferior and faulty qualities, from their abundance, will continue to be with difficulty disposed of.

Advices from Manchester state that a slightly better tone has prevailed in the cotton goods trade, but it arose more from the firm attitude assumed by producers, owing to the price of cotton, than from any increased demand on the part of buyers. Throughout the week there has been a considerable inquiry in several departments, and at a trifling concession some considerable sales might have been made, but buyers show as much resistance in paying an advance as sellers do in declining to accept lower rates.

The wheat trade continues to rule extremely quiet, and millers are operating with much caution. The downward movement in prices has made further progress, but not to any important extent. Farmers are now engaged in sowing winter wheat, and hence the supplies of home-grown produce have fallen off. As regards our imports during the present season, they are about 20,000 cwt. less than in 1867. On the other hand, however, our imports of flour have increased by 212,660 cwt., and the exports of wheat show a diminution of 177,000 cwt. The following are the chief particulars of our imports and exports for the present and for last season:

Notwithstanding our large crop the stocks of foreign wheat in London are diminishing, the last return that has been issued having shown a decrease of nearly 90,000 quarters as compared with the close of last year, and of about 46,000 quarters as compared with the close of August. The stock of flour has declined to the extent of 315,000 cwt. since December 3, 1867. These figures are clearly not in favor of a further decline in the price of wheat. The following statement shows the stocks on hand at certain dates:

	Sept. 30, 1868.	Aug. 31, 1868.	July 31, 1868.	Dec. 31, 1867.
Wheat, qrs.	208,470	254,200	289,538	296,693
Flour, cwt.	67,200	82,500	116,900	382,300

The money market has been extremely quiet, and as the supply of money seeking employment is still very large, the best descriptions of paper continue to be discounted at low rates. A further decrease has taken place in the supply of bullion held by the Bank, and the total is now about £2,800,000 less than at that period last year. Improving trade, foreign loans, and the approaching elections, have probably chiefly contributed to such a result, and it would be a good sign were an additional improvement in trade to produce a further decline in the supply of idle capital. After the elections have been held, which will be about the middle of next month, we shall probably witness a return of coin from the provinces, and an addition, which will be quite unnecessary, will very likely be made to our supply of bullion at the Bank. The total supply in the establishment still approximate £20,000,000 which, although smaller than in 1867, is £3,600,000 greater than in 1866, £6,700,000 greater than in 1865, and £6,800,000 greater than in 1864. Discounts, however, show an unsatisfactory total. They amount to only £15,881,648, while last year the total was £16,807,124, and in 1866, £10,553,187. The diminution since 1866 is, therefore about £4,600,000, but such a result could only have been expected when it is borne in mind that trade has been so quiet for so long a time. As the authorities of the Bank are not discounting bills at a lower rate than two per cent, the Bank is suffering more from the slackness of trade than other banking institutions. Out of door money, on good security, is readily obtainable at 1½ and 1¾ per cent. Consequently, those who require accommodation naturally choose the cheaper market, the difference being equal to as much as 25 per cent. Although money has been at 2 per cent at the Bank for nearly five months, there is, nevertheless, one redeeming feature. About the period last year, the supplies increased so materially, while the demand for accommodation diminished to so important an extent, that very large supplies of idle capital were in existence, and first class paper was discounted at 1 1-16 and 1 1/2 per cent. A comparison of the present open market quotations with those of last year exhibits, therefore, a somewhat favorable result. Money is, indeed, cheap enough to indicate that there is a great want of enterprise, and a slackness of general business, but the quotations show an improvement of about 1/2 as compared with last year, there being no quotation under 1 1/2 per cent. It is probable, however, that the upward movement in the rates of discount will be very gradual; but the fact that there is a rising tendency now and then apparent, is a favorable feature. The following are the rates, compared with those of last year:

1867.	1868.	1867.	1868.
Per cent.	Per cent.	Per cent.	Per cent.
Bank minimum....	2	4 months, bank bills	1 1/2 @ 1 1/2

3 months' bills....	1 1/2 @ 1 1/2

One of the leading features in the Continental money markets, is a rise to 2 1/2 per cent in the quotations at Hamburg. An increase in the demand for silver for shipment to the East is probably the cause of such a change. At Berlin there is also more steadiness, the open market minimum being 3 to 3 1/2 per cent. Annexed are the quotations in the open-market:

At Paris	B'k rate— 1867. 1868.	Op. m'kt— 1867. 1868.	Turin	B'k rate— 1867. 1868.	Op. m'kt— 1867. 1868.

The foreign exchanges, so far as the Continent is concerned, are less favorable to this country. The demand for remittance to the Continent has decidedly increased, and bills on Paris and on Italian cities are less favorable to this country. The new Italian loan is probably the cause of the augmented inquiry.

Owing to the fall in the exchanges there has been more demand for gold for export, and a portion of our recent importations has been absorbed. Silver has commanded more attention, and both silver and dollars have been more largely purchased on Continental and Eastern account. It may be observed, however, that there is no decided animation in the demand for the precious metals, for while some portion of our importations is sent abroad, an important part is also retained on this side. The following prices of bullion are from a Circular issued by Messrs. Pixley, Abell & Langley:

The consol market has been affected by the less favorable position of our foreign exchanges. An outflow of gold is certain to affect unfavorably the consol market, even though it could be clearly proved that it was calculated in the end to produce favorable results. It is very certain that if we desire that our money should fructify we must spend it before any result can be obtained. We have been spending it of late, and have lent considerable sums to foreign powers, and if those Governments to whom we have lent money are faithful to their engagements, the present outlay will be a large future gain. The following are the highest and lowest prices of Consols on each day of the week:

United States Five-Twenty bonds have continued to rule firm, the prospect of the election of General Grant to the Presidency being looked upon as encouraging. Towards the close of the week, however, the market is weaker on realizations. Atlantic and Great Western Rail way securities are steady, but Erie Railway shares have given way in price. The fluctuations in Illinois Central Railway shares have been trifling. The following are the highest and lowest prices of the principal American securities on each day of the week:

Advices from Frankfort state that there has been a good demand for United States securities. A large business has been transacted at rising prices.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada has been held this week, to consider the half-yearly report of the directors. On the motion of Sir Edward Walkins that the report and accounts be received and adopted, Mr. Creak proposed an amendment to the effect that as the accounts were unsatisfactory, the shareholders refuse to endorse them. At the meeting the show of hands was in favor of the amendment. A poll, however, was demanded, the result of which was declared to-day: For the amendment 84,000, against it 123,000 votes.

The Lynchburg Virginian, referring to the proposed railroad from Louisville, by Harrodsburg, to Virginia, says: "This route would include the valley of the New River, and connect the Kennebec road with our Virginia and Tennessee road, at or near Central depot, in Montgomery County. It would furnish almost an air line from Louisville via Lynchburg to Norfolk, avoiding the great detour via Cumberland Gap and Bristol, and develop a rich and productive country, now wholly without railroads. It would be the nearest route for Louisville to the sea that could be opened, and would make our Southside line of railroads the great highway of commerce between the West and the East, and Norfolk the golden horn through which it would be poured.

The Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati, and the Fort Wayne, Richmond and Cincinnati will be put under contract in a short time. The City Council of Fort Wayne have adopted a resolution that whenever the Fort Wayne, Richmond and Cincinnati Railroad Company shall complete the whole line of said railroad, and the cars shall be running thereon and in connection therewith from Cincinnati, through Richmond into Fort Wayne, the said city will provide by ordinance for a subscription by said city to the capital stock of said company of $100,000, and will issue the bonds therefor, payable to said company, in an equal amount and with like interest as the bonds authorized to be issued to the Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati Railroad.

Contractors are pushing the work of the Iowa and Minnesota Railroad from Des Moines to Ames, on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, with vigor. Its early completion is regarded a certainty.

The Cortland (N. Y.) Standard contains a report of the railroad meeting held at Cincinnati to take action in regard to the proposed railroad from some point on the Midland Railroad, in the County of Chenango, and thence west through Chenango and Cortland Counties. Resolutions were adopted providing for a preliminary survey. The survey will embrace the route by the Brackel, and the route by the Otselec, and the route by the Canashawacta, to Norwich. And the route through McDonough to Oxford is recommended to be surveyed.

The City Council of St. Paul have granted $100,000 twenty year six per cent bonds to the Chicago and St. Paul Railroad, on condition that the cars will be running to Hastings by November, 1869; and also $50,000 to the Minnesota Valley Railroad, to enable the latter company to bridge the Mississippi at this city, and establish their depot on the St. Paul side of the river. These appropriations will be submitted to the voters of the city for their ratification in April.

The location of the Des Moines Valley (Iowa) Railroad is now completed northward thirty-three miles to Alton, Dallas County. The line passes four miles northeast of Adel, the county seat of that county.

The large gang of workmen on the Portland and Rochester Railroad, near Alfred Corner, are rapidly cutting through the ledge at that point. Last week they made great progress, cutting through over thirty feet in length.

The court at St. Louis has ordered the proposition to subscribe $1,000,000 toward the building of the Chillicothe and Omaha Air Line Road to be submitted to the voters at the election on Tuesday. This proposition has been urged by many of the most prominent men of St. Louis.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST IN GOLD.—The First Mortgage Fifty Year Seven per Cent Sinking Fund Coupon Bonds of the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, principal and interest payable in Gold Coin, free of Government tax, are for sale at the office of the Company, No. 12 Wall street, at 97½ per cent and accrued interest in currency.

Pamphlets giving fuller information may be had at the office.

THE MONEY MARKET.—The excessive stringency in money has been continued through the past week without abatement. The week opened with a bank statement showing a loss of $5,100,000 in legal tenders and of $4,100,000 in currency deposits, and with but a nominal decrease in loans. This exhibit added to the uneasy feeling among lenders, and naturally induced unusual caution. The balances at the Clearing House have ceased to show the irregularities apparent last week at banks holding accounts of parties known to be engaged in operations for breaking the stock market; and from this it was inferred that there was a suspension of the artificial efforts to tighten money. However this may have been, there has been an increased difficulty in borrowing, and outside the banks the rate of interest upon call loans has ranged from ½@¾ per cent per day, while the difference between cash and regular sales of stocks has been generally ¼ per cent. To-day, the pressure resulted in a general break in the stock market, and at the close money was offered more freely, in many cases at 7 per cent; which may possibly be the beginning of a relaxation of the artificial means for embarrassing the market, or the offers may have been made for the purpose of drawing parties into stocks, with a view to again pinching them. The money market and the stock market are entirely in the hands of a knot of unprincipled speculators, and the consequent feeling of demoralization exceeds anything experienced since the panic of 1857.

The position of the banks has not been materially changed by outside movements. They have received fair remittances of currency from Chicago; but probably all the receipts have been sent to other sections. The applications from the South are increasing in volume and urgency, but the banks can only very partially respond to the demand. The payments of the Sub-Treasury have been fully equal to the receipts. No sales of gold or bonds have been made, and about $2,000,000 of 3 per cent Certificates have been presented by the banks for redemption.

With a view to dispensing with the use of plain legal tenders in settling balances between the banks, the Clearing House Association has agreed to use the 3 per cent Certificates for the settlement of daily balances, and $20,000,000 of the Certificates have been appropriated for that purpose, and stamped at the Sub-Treasury with a certification that the obligations are payable on demand in legal tenders. Although some $13,000,000 to $14,000,000 of the Certificates were redeemed during October, yet new Certificates were issued during the month against maturing compounds, so that, as appears from the debt statement, the amount outstanding on November 1 was only $6,900,000 less than on October 1.

Discounting operations are held wholly in suspense, so far as respects street negotiations; and the banks also have been compelled to limit their accommodations to customers. Rates are too irregular to admit of our usual tabular quotations for the different classes of loans.

UNITED STATES SECURITIES.—The market for Governments has been weak and panicky. The pressure in money prevented the realization of the anticipations of a strong upward movement following the elections and the payment of the November interest on Five-Twenties. This produced a certain feeling of disappointment among the holders, which was turned to account by a clique throwing very large amounts of stock on the market, with a view to precipitating a decline. At the same time, it became known that, contrary to expectation and to official assurances, the Treasury had sold, during the past month, between seven and eight millions of Five-Twenties, which added to the demoralization of the larger holders. The panicky feeling was further intensified by reports that the Treasury had been a seller of bonds this week, a statement which, however, is to-day officially denied. Under these influences, the market suddenly broke down 3@4 per cent; but afterward partially recovered, and closed 2@2½ per cent below our last quotations.

RAILROAD AND MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS.—The strong efforts of the cliques to break down the prices of stocks to-day resulted in a general panic in the stock market. The culmination was brought about by the maturing of a large amount of "puts" on St. Paul stocks issued by a director and leading operator in the stock. The issuer of the "puts" proved unable to honor them, and the common stock fell about 20 per cent, and the preferred stock to a similar extent. Northwestern stocks followed with a decline of about 7½@10 per cent, and the panic extended through the whole list, the only steady shares being Erie and Reading. The fall caused the failure of a large operator and a broker's firm connected with Mil. and St. Paul's transactions. At the close, there was a better feeling, upon the supposition that the purposes of the parties depressing the market had been realized. The following has been the extent of the decline on leading shares, comparing present prices with our last quotations: N. Y. Central, $11\frac{1}{2}$; Erie, $\frac{1}{2}$; Hud. River, $13\frac{1}{2}$; Reading, $4\frac{1}{2}$; Mich. South., $2\frac{1}{2}$; Clev. & Pitts., 4 ; Clev. & Toledh, $3\frac{1}{2}$; N. THE GOLD MARKET.—Gold has been active, but the fluctuations have been slight. The heavy decline expected to follow the elections, and the payment of 24 millions of coin interest has not been realized; and large amounts of gold have had to be bought by parties who had sold "short" in expectation of a decline. The price temporarily touched $132\frac{1}{2}$, but again advanced to $133\frac{1}{2}$ and closed at $133\frac{1}{2}$. The impression gains ground that large remittances have to be made to Europe the next few weeks, owing to the postponement of payments by the importers, which causes in some quarters a strong feeling and induces buying.

The fluctuations in the gold market, and the business at the Gold Board during the week closing with Friday, are shown in the following table:

COTTON.

FRIDAY, P. M., November 6, 1868.

By special telegrams received by us to-night from each of the Southern ports we are in possession of the returns showing the receipts, exports, &c., of cotton for the week ending this evening, Nov. 6. From the figures thus obtained it appears that the total receipts for the last seven days have reached 73,425 bales, (against 66,596 bales last week, 55,669 bales the previous week, and 51,091 bales three weeks since,) making the aggregate receipts since September 1, 1868 up to this date, 400,013 bales, against 249,796 bales for the same period in 1867, being an excess this season over last season of 150,217 bales. The details of the receipts for this week (as per telegraph) and the corresponding week of 1867 are as follows:

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that, compared with the corresponding week of last season, there is an decrease in the exports this week of 3,109 bales, while the stocks to-night are 33,047 bales more than they were at this time a year ago. The following is our usual table showing the movement of cotton at all the ports since Sept. 1, according to the latest mail returns. We do not include our telegrams to night, as we cannot insure the accuracy or obtain the detail necessary, by telegraph.

The market this week has continued until to day strong and steady, with a fair demand from spinners, shippers and speculators, in the face of lower gold and a very close money market. This was the result, in great part, of the small stock of American reported in Liverpool last Friday, but as the telegraph this afternoon gives the stock of American there at 48,000 bales, (about 30,000 bales more than estimated,) with 35,000 bales American afloat; the market is weaker, and closes about $\frac{1}{4}$ cent off. Sales of the week for forward delivery have been at full prices. On Monday sales were reported of 400 bales for December and January delivery at 23 $\frac{1}{2}$ c., and 500 bales for November at 25c.; on Tuesday 100 bales average middling for January, and 100 bales for February, were sold at 23 $\frac{1}{2}$ c., and on Thursday 200 bales average middling for January and February delivery at 24c., and 250 bales average low middling for February at 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. To-day no sales are reported. In transit cotton the transactions have been quite limited, though the amount offering has increased. We hear of one sale here of 500 bales average Liverpool middling at 24c., on board, in Savannah. The total sales for immediate delivery this week foot up 19,690 bales (including 3,704 bales to arrive), of which 4,545 bales were taken by spinners, 3,125 bales on speculation, 11,396 bales for export, and 624 bales in transit, and the following are the closing quotations:

THE CROP.—We have nothing new to add with regard to the crop prospects. The reports received during the past week have continued favorable, although there has been some rain followed by cold weather. We hear however of no killing frosts, and picking appears to be progressing favorably. Messrs. Neil Bros. & Co. send us from New Orleans their detailed estimate of the crop, putting the total at 2,500,000 bales to 2,600,000 bales. Their figures, however, for North Carolina, Virginia and Overland are, we think, an understatement of what the result will be. We regret having fallen into an error in the CHRONICLE of October 24 with regard to the remarks of the New Orleans Price Current of the 17th of October as to the extent of the crop. Our belief was that the Price Current in stating that there would be no increase in the receipts referred to the receipts of cotton at that port, whereas the editor was speaking of the entire crop of the country. In its issue of October 31st it says that it is quite probable that the arrivals at New Orleans will reach 900,000 bales.

OUR TABLES OF RECEIPTS.—A correspondent (without giving his name) writes that he wishes to call attention to the "incorrectness of our additions as to aggregate receipts of cotton since September 1st," and then attempts to prove his position by adding together the previous weekly receipts as telegraphed to and published in the CHRONICLE. Certainly this correspondent could never have taken the trouble to read our report through or he would never have fallen into such a loose way of keeping the cotton figures, for we expressly state in our report each week that our total is not made up by adding our telegrams of the previous weeks, since we cannot in that way "ensure the accuracy necessary. We always take the mail returns as given in our general table, and, to obtain the total, add to them on Friday night the week's receipts as reported by telegraph. The necessity for this course is in many ways apparent, but we have not the space for a full explanation here. We will add, however, we have made such arrangements with the telegraph company the past week that in future our information will be even more complete than heretofore.

GOLD, EXCHANGE AND FREIGHT.—Gold has fluctuated the past week between 132 and 134, and closes to-night was 133½. Exchange closed very weak and irregular. The transactions noted were done on a basis of 109@109½ for prime bankers sterling 60-days, 109½@110 for bankers, sight, and 108½@109 for commercial. Freights closed steady at $@½d. by steam.

By TELEGRAPH FROM THE SOUTH AND EUROPE.—The following despatches from the Southern ports contain some matters of interest not given above. We also add the European telegrams for each day of the week, and the Liverpool cotton brokers report of yesterday, with the closing rates to-night:

CHARLESTON, Nov. 6.—Cotton dull, ¼c lower; sales 110 bales; middlings 23¼@23½c, receipts 559 bales; exports, coastwise, 460 bales; receipts of the week 6,939 bales; sales of the week 3,885 bales; exports to Great Britain 2,176 bales; exports coastwise 4,710 bales; stock on hand 6,060 bales.

LIVERPOOL, Friday Evening, Nov. 6.—The cotton market opened steady this morning at unchanged quotations, and was quoted firm throughout the day. The sales of the week have been 121,000 bales, of which 27,000 were taken for export, and 94,000 on speculation. The total stock in port and on shipboard is 426,000 bales, of which 48,000 are from the United States—the latter is nearly 30,000 bales more than the estimates made. The total stock of cotton at sea bound to this port is estimated at 284,000 bales, of which 35,000 bales are from the United States. The trade reports from Manchester report the market for yarns and fabrics as heavy. The following table will show the prices each day of the week, as reported per cable:

EUROPEAN AND INDIAN COTTON MARKETS.—In reference to these markets, our correspondent in London, writing under the date of Oct. 24 states:

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 24.—There has been a steady demand for cotton during the week, and a slight improvement has taken place in the quotations. The total sales amount to 84,840 bales, of which speculators have taken 7,440 bales, exporters 17,830 bales, and the trade 59,570 bales. American cotton shows an improvement of ½d. per lb., but Brazilian and East Indian are unaltered in value. There have been some arrivals of new Egyptian cotton, and prices have been irregular, the better qualities having fallen ½d. per lb. Annexed are the prices of American cotton, compared with those of last year:

The market this week has been very quiet, and under the pressure of a stringent money market and a decline in gold, prices have been drooping. The sales of Kentucky for the week are limited to about 175 hhds. on small shipping and trade orders mainly from 8 to 16c. Seed Leaf Tobacco has also been very quiet, without important change in prices. The sales embrace 18 cases Ohio Fillers, 6½c.; 100 do choice Connecticut Wrappers, 56c.; 26 do 1866 Connecticut Seconds, 15c. Spanish Tobacco less active; sales are limited to 674 bales Havana at 85c. @ $1 05. Nothing has been done in Manufactured.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, Nov. 6, 1868, P. M.

The market showed some speculative strength early in the week, which was subsequently lost under the pressure for money.

Flour has arrived rather less freely, with a prospect of a still greater falling off in supplies at an early date; but trade has remained quiet, and shippers have done but little for the British markets; stocks have therefore continued to accumulate, and the pressure for money, amounting almost to a panic in Wall street, has caused receivers to make considerable concessions in the past three days, in order to realize. The decline, however, is the most marked in low and medium grades; the better grades, being in comparatively small supply, have been steady at the reduced quotations of last week. At today's market some business was done for Liverpool and London, at $6 50 @ $7.

Wheat has come forward freely, and there is now a good prospect of liberal receipts throughout the residue of the season for inland navigation. The upward movement early in the week (mainly stimulated by an advance of a penny per cental in the Liverpool market), reached $1 74 for No. 1 and $1 60 for No. 2 spring; but there was a quick subsidence, and prices have declined daily, No. 2 closing at $1 53. The reduced prices have brought forward shippers, and they have purchased freely for Great Britain—to the extent, this week, of nearly a quarter of a million bushels, being favored, likewise, by a slight decline in ocean freights.

Corn has arrived sparingly—not equal to the current wants of the local trade, and prices have advanced; but the demand has been quite limited, and buyers are not disposed to take parcels from store. Shippers have not been able to do anything in this article for some days. The close was dull at $1 16 for prime mixed. Oats were advanced to 77c., but have receded, in the absence of speculation, with limited trade and closed at 74c. @ 75c. for Western cargoes, afloat. Rye is scarce, but dull and heavy. Barley is held for some

GROCERIES.

FRIDAY EVENING, November 6, 1868.

Notwithstanding the continued downward tendency of gold we have had a week of very firm prices, with a positive advance in some articles of the trade. The extreme closeness of the money market has had an unfavorable effect in checking business, but has not depressed prices as might have been supposed. The condition of the markets as regards stocks on hand and to arrive seems to be considered quite favorable to firm prices.

Importations of the week have shown an increase over the previous week in Rio Coffee, Sugar and Molasses. Of Tea only 1,367 packages of indirect importation have come to hand. A new feature in the receipts now is the arrival from New Orleans of a few barrels of Louisiana Molasses. Our advices from foreign ports are no later, except from Havana. Full details of the imports at the several ports for the week and since Jan. 1 are given below under the respective heads. The totals are as follows:

TEA.

The market for these has been steady and without any unusual feature. Several lots of English order Greens have been disposed of realizing, so far as the terms have been made public, fair prices. For Japans there has been an improved inquiry, and with a light supply the views of holders are firmer. Sales include 3,180 half chests Greens, 2,579 do Oologs, and 540 do Uncolored Japans.

Imports include only 1,367 pkgs by steamer from England and the Continent.

COFFEE.

The latest telegraphic news from Rio Janeiro, received here last Monday, was considered by holders favorable to their interests, and during the week improved prices, ranging from $\frac{3}{8}$ @ $\frac{1}{2}$ better than those current last week have prevailed. In this, as in other branches of business, the stringency in the money market has operated to restrict operations very decidedly; but the closing sales made have been at full prices. Sales comprise, including sales at auction, 24,147 bags of Rio; 1,200 Java; 375 Costa Rica; 100 Maracaibo, and 20 bbls Jamaica.

Imports of Rio coffee have been 29,832 bags at this port, but none has come to hand at other ports. Receipts at New York are as follows:

SUGAR.

The influence of the present close condition of the money market has been directly felt in this market, in curtailing and restricting transactions within limits which would, under ordinary circumstances, have been far exceeded. As it is the sales of the week have been large, while quotations on refining qualities are advanced $\frac{1}{2}$, and fully supported at the close. Grocery grades have been almost entirely overlooked. Holders are apparently very firm, and sanguine of obtaining at least current rates for some time to come. The sales of the week are 7,417 hhds. Cuba, 211 do. Porto Rico, 82 Barbadoes, 62 Demerara, and 1,883 boxes Havana.

The imports of the week show an increase over the previous week. At all the ports the receipts foot up 4,573 boxes, against 2,120—and 3,983 hhds., against 1,067 last week, making the total receipts to date 429,419 boxes and 547,621 hhds., against 344,960 boxes and 436,687 hhds. to same date last year. MOLASSES.

The inquiry during the week has been for refining grades chiefly, in which there has been a slight advance in price; other grades have been quiet, but rates throughout have been firm and fully maintained. Sales comprise 1,618 hhds Cuba, 488 hhds Porto Rico, 56 hhds Demerara, 50 hhds Barba'oes, and 45 hhds New Orleans.

The aggregate weekly receipts show an increase. The receipts at all ports foot up 2,758 hhds, against 723 last week. The total receipts at the ports since Jan. 1 now reach 393,878 hhds., against 332,605 hhds. in 1867. Details for the week are as follows:

FRUITS.

In Foreign Dried, gradually accumulating stocks in Boston, Philadelphia and our own market, united with the decline in gold, have, with one or two exceptions, depressed the scale of quotations throughout. Raisins of the several kinds have felt the change particularly. Sardines are scarce and firm, but a good supply on the way prevent any advance. In Domestic Dried, prices are but little altered. Unpeeled Peaches are abundant and quarters a fraction lower. In Foreign Green Fruit the new crop is coming in, and prices are somewhat influenced by free arrivals. At auction to-day 1,600 boxes Messina Lemons brought $4 65@4 75, and 1,000 do Malaga do, $3@3 25. Havana and Florida Oranges are jobbing at about $12 per bbl.

SPICES.

The general business in these continues fair, without any noticeable variation in prices. Some 600 bags of Cloves, a portion in bond, have been taken on speculation, on private terms. The sales in bond are, we understand, for the Canadian market. The exports of Cloves to the English market within the last six months have not fallen short of 6,000 bags.

Annexed are the ruling quotations in first hands.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., October 30, 1868.

The Dry Goods Market still presents the same listless, inert appearance as reported for three weeks past, the transactions being limited to a few orders for the most pressing requirements. It was generally supposed that with the cessation of the political contest, we should witness a revival of activity, but under the present aspect of financial affairs it is to be feared that we are destined to disappointment. The extreme stringency of the money market has had as yet, no very appreciable effect in the dry goods business, because it was supposed that the spasm would be but of temporary duration. Should, however, the present crisis continue and extend to the commercial community, the desire to make immediate collections, and to restrict credits to the lowest point, would have a prejudicial effect on trade; while at the same time the pressure to realize might induce holders to accept, for cash, still lower prices than those now ruling.

The present extreme tightness of money, however, will probably last but a short time, and the dry goods business has been conducted on such a conservative basis that no serious alarm is felt as to making collections.

The exports of dry goods for the past week, and since January 1, 1868, and the total for the same time in 1867 and 1860 are shown in the following table:

We annex a few particulars of leading articles of domestic manufacture, our prices quoted being those of the leading jobbers:

BROWN SHEETINGS AND SHIRTINGS have not shown the activity that was generally anticipated, and since the election the business transacted has not been larger than was the case just preceding the contest. Heavy sheetings are slow of sale, and there has been some desire to press sales at a slight concession on a few brands; but the terms offered were not deemed sufficiently attractive to lead to any large operations, especially in the face of the present disturbed financial situation. In fine browns there has been also but little doing, at the following quotations. BLEACHED SHEETINGS AND SHIRTINGS have been very quiet, and the demand has been so light as to render it unimportant on either side to press a change in rates. PRINTS have been taken in small assorted lots at our quotations. COTTON BAGS have been in somewhat better request; but prices are not satisfactory to holders. American 37½, Lewiston 42½, Stark A 45 do C 3 bush 60.

FOREIGN DRESS GOODS have shown no improvement during the week under review, the sales being limited to small lots of specialties required to complete assortments, and in these prices are fairly maintained. On the general stock of dress goods, however, rates are not so firm, and there is a desire evinced by jobbers to reduce their lines at a concession. At auction the offerings continue to be on a liberal scale, but prices have not been generally up to the views of importers, and a part of the catalogue has been withdrawn until more activity is apparent in the demand.

DOMESTIC WOOLENS have ruled dull, the election bringing matters almost to a stand still. Cloths and overcoatings have been taken in very small lots at a slight reduction, while on fancy cassimeres we note in some instances a desire to realize at a material reduction. On first-class work, however, prices rule firm, and the distribution continues on as large a scale as could be well anticipated.

The following are the latest reports from the British manufacturing districts:

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 23.—Cotton has been in steady demand throughout the week and firm in price, the market closing with little change from the quotations of last Thursday. Prices of Sea Island are perfectly steady, with a fair demand. American has been in general request, and has advanced partially ½d. per lb., the medium qualities having become scarce. Brazil continues in good demand at firm prices. Arrivals of Egyptian of the new crop have led to an increased desire to realize, and prices have been rather irregular, quotations being reduced about ½d. per lb. in the better qualities. The business in East India continues to a good extent, but with a fair supply on sale the quotations remain without any material change. Speculators have taken during the week 7,440 bales; exporters 17,830 bales, and the trade 59,570 bales. We have had a good demand to-day, the market closing steady at previous rates. The sales are 12,000 bales, of which 3,000 are for export and speculation.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 22.—Our market for both yarns and cloth is still without improvement, the same dullness and inactivity having existed which prevailed throughout last week. Buyers still keep aloof, and where offers are made they are under those current last week, which, producers, in view of the firm position of cotton at Liverpool, are compelled to refuse. There is no inducement to buy for the large Eastern markets, as the latest advices from all are unfavorable for imports. The short-time movement has made little progress yet, and no combined action has been taken to extend it; but every day's experience is in favor of short-time, which seems the only thing that will avert the present ruinous losses to producers.

BRADFORD.—A considerable amount of wool has recently passed from the stapler to the spinners' hands, and as a consequence, a lull has followed until the stocks of spinners have become somewhat reduced. There is still a fair demand for sorting up, and for immediate use. The export yarn trade is not encouraging. The demand which a week or two ago was so brisk, has greatly fallen off. There is a moderately good business doing in pieces, and the next season's trade promises to be about an average. The demand for heavy goods for the East—camlets and crape lastings particularly—is also improving, but China figures get no share of it. Several American buyers are in the market.

BELFAST.—Flax—Rather increased supplies appeared in our markets during the past week; large attendance of purchasers; all well bought up at firm prices. Yarns—Demand moderate, and only a limited business doing. Handloom linens (brown)—Damasks, diapers, and cambric handkerchiefs have been but little inquired for. Prices without alteration. Powerloom—Cloth suitable for the foreign clothing trade has been in improved request. Stocks not large; prices firm. Bleached and finished linens—A fair steady demand exists on home account. Prices generally steady. Stocks are held within a reasonable compass. —London Economist.

IMPORTATIONS OF DRY GOODS AT THE PORT OF NEW YORK.

The importations of dry goods at this port for the week ending Nov. 5, 1868, and the corresponding weeks of 1866 and 1867, have been as follows:

CASES OF THE COLLINS METAL.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Our superior Oroide Watches having recently been imitated, and worthless Watches sold in New York, Boston, Chicago, and other cities, represented as our Watches, we hereby caution the public against them and give notice that we are in no way responsible for these bogus concerns, and only those purchasing directly from us can secure a genuine Watch of our manufacture. We have recently greatly improved our Oroide in appearance and durability, and, to protect the public from imposition hereafter, have named it the "COLLINS METAL," and we give notice that any one making use of this name will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

This metal has all the brilliancy and durability of Gold; cannot be distinguished from it by the best judges; retains its color till worn out, and is equal to gold excepting in intrinsic value. All our gentlemen's Watches are FULL-JEWELLED PATENT LEVERS; those for Ladies an improved Escapement, better than a Lever for a small Watch; all in Hunting Cases and fully guaranteed by special certificate. The $15
Watches are equal in neatness, style of finish, general appearance, and for time, to a Gold one costing $150.
Those of $20 are of EXTRA fine finish, and are fully equal to a Gold Watch costing $200. Chains of every style, from $3 to $6. Also, Jewelry of the Collins Metal in every style.

The Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company has purchased, for $50,000, the old road-bed and franchise from Vernon, on its present road, to Louisville, a distance of 53 miles, thus giving it a road direct from Cincinnati to Louisville, as well as St. Louis.

The following items concerning railroads are from our exchanges:

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad has crossed Middle River, eighty miles from Council Bluffs, and the track is being laid at the rate of three miles per day. The road will be completed to Council Bluffs about the first of December.

The City Council of Fort Wayne has adopted a resolution that whenever the Fort Wayne, Richmond and Cincinnati Railroad Company shall complete the whole line of railroad, and the cars shall be running through and in connection therewith from Cincinnati, through Richmond into Fort Wayne, the city will provide by ordinance for a subscription to the capital stock of said company of one hundred thousand dollars, and will issue the bonds therefor payable to said company in an equal amount, and with like interest as the bonds authorized to be issued to the Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati Railroad Company.

Pensacola, before the war, had a railroad running north to Polard, Alabama, where it made a junction with the railroad from Mobile, or rather from Blakely on the other side of the bay, to Montgomery, and thus connected Pensacola with the rest of the world. The iron was removed from this road during the war. Lately iron has arrived to rebuild the road, and the first rail, the Pensacola Observer informs us, was laid on the 19th inst.

The New Albany, Ind., Commercial of the 28th understands that the bondholders of the Louisville, New Albany, and Chicago Railroad have taken the necessary steps, or will soon do so, to foreclose the mortgage on the road and sell it out. It is understood that the road will be bought up and run in the interest of the Michigan Central Railroad.

The President of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company has made a proposition to the citizens of Jeffersonville, Ind., for the extension of a branch of his road from North Vernon to that point. If the citizens of that city and the counties through which the proposed line would pass, would subscribe $150,000, to be paid when the road is completed, the company would put sufficient force immediately at work to insure the completion of the road within one year. The sum of $50,000 is asked of Jeffersonville, and the balance of the above is to be parceled between the counties interested.
