THE RISE IN GOLD AND ITS CAUSES.

The main topic of the week is the rise in the price of gold, which is due to a multitude of causes, both natural and speculative. Among the latter is the report which was current yesterday that Secretary Richardson has issued 2½ millions more of greenbacks. Similar stories have been put in circulation almost every day for the past fortnight. During this period gold has gone up two per cent, offering an impressive commentary on the theory which many conservative people hold, that the Treasury can safely be trusted with the power of secret issues of greenbacks. As to these rumors we have made inquiries, and learn from responsible sources that several conferences have been held between the Chief Justice, the Attorney General, and the Cabinet; that after a full discussion of the whole question of greenback issues in all its aspects, a policy was decided upon which commands the unanimous approval of the officials above referred to, as well as of the President. If we are rightly informed, this decision is substantially the same as we have contended for, namely, that the Treasury has the power, so long as any certificates are outstanding, to follow the precedent set by Mr. Boutwell in the month of September, 1869.

The Bank of Commerce of this city being at that time in want of greenbacks, because of the stringency of the money market, presented suddenly at the Treasury, without notice, a large amount of these certificates for redemption. The reserves of the Treasury were low; and Mr. Boutwell, in obedience to the law of 1862, drew on the 50 millions of reserve provided for this purpose. He also complied with the law in making the issue temporary; and in fact the extra notes were only outstanding a fortnight altogether. This precedent, as we are assured, was established after a thorough examination of the statutes by the Judges and by the Attorney General, and it is to be strictly followed in all its parts in future until the certificates are all in, when its force, we presume, will expire.

If this account prove true, the "bulls" in gold and stocks will see that it gives them little comfort. The first great quality essential to our currency is freedom from fluctuation, and the second is exemption from secret manipulations, and from arbitrary increase or decrease, such as was so peremptorily stopped by the law of February 4, 1868, which put an end to Mr. McCulloch's ill-timed contraction. The circumstances are well remembered, and their history impartially written by a competent hand, would be a valuable contribution to the history of our currency. Many of us have a lively, but by no means pleasant, recollection of the way in which the currency was allowed to accumulate, and the contraction power to be idle during the summer months, but no sooner did the fall set in than Mr. McCulloch set to work to contract the circulation. During the autumn of 1867 he continued to contract and retire his currency, though he was warned of the mischief he was doing, and though the contraction law was permissive and left him full discretion. Many stories were afloat as to the motives which directed such an extraordinary procedure. The most probable was, that as Congress was to meet in the following December, the Secretary had no wish to meet the National Legislature without having done something under the law of April, 1866, which started the policy of resumption by which our currency legislation has ever since been professedly governed.

These facts and precedents are quite repugnant to the sensational rumors of indefinite issues of currency, but they lend additional confirmation to the report of a Cabinet conference, with a unanimous determination to follow the precedent set by Mr. Boutwell in 1869, and to regulate the future policy in conformity with it, until some further legislation is had. If this view is correct, it would be, perhaps, desirable to have some official statement of it published to the country. The reports that have been so actively put in circulation have had a bad moral effect, which in the interest of business and sound finance, the friends of the Administration must desire to end.

Except the rise in gold, which is due in part to the rumors above discussed, but chiefly to other and more general causes, there is little movement calling for special remark. The accumulation of funds in the loan market is still suffering from the April drain of currency and of deposits to the interior. But this drain is not so active as when it first set in a few days ago. It is now nearly over, and already the money market shows signs of greater quietude.

SENATOR WINSLOW'S BILL IN THE SENATE.

Like all compromise measures, Senator Winslow's bill for the amendment of the usury law of this State has found foes among both parties. The obstructionists complain that it gives too much; while the reformers say, with reason, that it gives too little, and that a more enlightened and radical measure would have stood a better chance in the Senate, and especially in the House. Thus the bill converts its friends into opponents, and there is much doubt as to its fate. The most important features of the bill are these: First, it repeals the criminal part of the penalties against usury. Since the act of 15th May, 1837, these penalties have been a fine of $1,000 and six months' imprisonment. This penalty of imprisonment is one which we believe is not attached to usury in any other nation in the world. Even in Mahomedan countries, where usury is forbidden under religious sanctions, the civil law has stopped short of imprisonment. The Koran, vol. i., page 50, declares that while "Allah hath permitted selling he hath forbidden usury, and whoever returneth to usury, they shall be companions of Gehenna. They shall continue therein for ever. Allah hath taken away his blessing from usury." In France, the habitude d'usure, the inveterate habit of exacting exorbitant rates for money, is punished as a misdemeanor to check rapacity, but the offence is visited with light penalties. In no country of modern times except our own has this antiquated, barbarous penalty of imprisonment and fine been kept on the statute book. For 36 years it has remained there; but it has never once been enforced, and Mr. Winslow's bill, of course, repeals it.

Secondly, the bill provides that a usurious contract shall not be wholly void for usury. In this respect it resembles the usury law of France, which carefully protects the contract and guards the principal sum, while refusing to sanction excessive interest, and allowing such excess, if paid, to be recovered or applied on the debt. Mr. Winslow's bill, like the French law, provides a method of recovery, and does not leave the sufferer to his remedy at common law. This is the purpose of section 3, which enacts as follows:

> SEC. 3.—All bonds, bills, notes, assurances, conveyances, and all other contracts or securities whatsoever (except bottomry and respondentia bonds and contracts), and all deposits of goods and other things whatsoever, whereas and whereby there shall be reserved, or taken, or secured, or agreed to be secured or taken, any greater sum or greater value for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or other things in action than is above prescribed, shall be void so far only as regards the lawful interest and the excess over and above the lawful interest that was taken or paid, or agreed or secured to be paid, at the time of making or receiving or delivering of the bonds, bills, notes, or any of the securities hereinbefore mentioned.

This important rule of law that the contract shall be protected was partly established by the English Parliament as long ago as 1834. On August 31 of that year the statute 5 and 6 Will. IV. enacted that usurious transactions should stand in the same category with certain other illegal contracts. The documents arising from them were no longer null, but were effectual in the hands of bona fide holders for value. Several extensions were made of this principle, till at length in the law of 17 and 18 Vict., c. 90, the usury laws were wholly repealed in 1854, since which time the maxim of Bentham has governed the English law in regard to the interest of money. This maxim is elaborated in his famous tract on the "Defence of Usury," and declares that "No man of ripe years and sound mind, acting freely, and with his eyes open, ought to be hindered, with a view to his advantage, from making any bargain, in the way of obtaining money as he thinks fit, nor (what is a necessary consequence) should anybody be hindered from supplying him on any terms he thinks proper to accede to." This comprehensive principle holds as in a quiver the chief arguments which the friends of free trade in money have for three quarters of a century poured against the citadel of usury; and the policy of usury-law-repeal has a conspicuous support from the fact that in England, in Massachusetts, in the West, and everywhere else, the spread of freedom in the movements of money has greatly aided the progress of industry, the growth of commerce and the quietude of the loan market.

An important section was added to Mr. Winslow's bill on Wednesday which provides that "no action shall be maintained for any excess of interest over and above seven per cent per annum paid by any person, unless the action to recover the same shall be brought within six months of the expiration of the time of the loan upon which the excess was taken, and no person or officer other than the person paying the excess, or his legal representative, shall maintain such action." Our present law allows four years for the prosecution of such suits, one year to the borrower, and three subsequent years to the Superintendent of the Poor of the county in which the usurious transaction has been done. Moreover, as the principal is protected from confiscation by Mr. Winslow's bill, and nothing can be recovered by the usury-pleader but the interest, such suits will be rare, as they will not pay, and they always paralyze the credit of the suitor, afterwards inflicting a loss upon him which no judgment likely to be had under this new law could compensate.

One of the most glaring defects in the present law has been its partiality for corporations. Sections 2 and 8 of the new bill endeavor to reform some of these inequalities. All corporations are now forbidden to plead usury by the law of April 6, 1850. Consequently any capitalist may lend to a corporation at usurious rates and be quite safe from the penalties. For the corporation being estopped from pleading usury can be compelled to pay, and is bound by its obligation. The bill of Mr. Winslow retains this provision. But there is a second privilege enjoyed by corporations which that bill repeals. We refer to that privilege which is conferred by special charter on certain corporations to lend at any rates they please, irrespective of the usury laws. These privileges are done away by section 2, which enacts that "No person or corporation shall, directly or indirectly, take or receive, in money, goods, or things in action, or in any other way, any greater sum or greater value for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or things in action than is above prescribed, subject only to the forfeitures and penalties hereinafter mentioned."

The penalties referred to are simply the forfeiture of all interest, and the act is to take effect on the 1st of August, 1873. It is easy to see why the bill awakened such strong opposition and received so few votes. The friends of a total repeal of the usury laws declare that the Senate would have given as large a vote or a still greater one for a bill which swept these mischievous laws from the statute book altogether.

It has always been claimed by the friends of our usury laws, that if any law, contrived by human legislation, could be effective in keeping down the rates for money, the usury laws of New York would do it. They have had a patient trial for no less than thirty-six years, and they have been found wholly unable to do what they pretend. In other countries, and in other States in our own country, a better remedy has been tried for putting down and equalizing the rates of interest. This remedy is the total repeal of restrictive laws—the abolition of penalties on the movements of capital—the complete establishment of free trade in money, subject to a legal rate to govern in absence of any contract. This cure for oppressive usury is the only one which social science has been able to apply or jurisprudence to dedevise. We regret that Mr. Winslow did not venture to take the sense of the Legislature on this simple plan for ending the whole controversy.

CAUSES OF EXISTING STRINGENCY.

Why has the money market been so stringent during the last six months? This question is asked by everybody, and conflicting answers are given to it by different men. One party tell us that the whole difficulty arises out of the suspension of specie payments; and that as long as we are on the false and mischievous basis of paper money, we shall always be having at intervals these jerks and spasms in the money market; which will grow worse and worse, till we are driven to contract the currency and adopt stringent measures for resumption. Another explanation is that there is too little paper money afloat, and that if we had boldly issued more of this precious panacea for stringency, we should have suffered less. Again, there are men among us who see in these six months of tight money the inevitable result of excessive importations. We are exporting too little as a nation, they tell us, and are importing too much. Finally, we are told to trace the whole of our difficulties to the cessation of the foreign demand for our bonds, and to the fact that the conversion of our floating capital into fixed capital has been going on at a dangerous rate, and cannot be kept up unless we can command more capital from abroad. This supply from foreign sources being cut off or seriously impaired, we are suffering the natural consequences in the scarcity of loanable funds in the money market.

Amidst this conflict of opinion, where lies the truth? Perhaps we may find something true in all. Let us see. In the first place, there is the resumption theory. Its advocates tell us that our six months of monetary pressure are due to paper money; and that to resume is the only radical cure, the only preventive of a frequent return of the stringency hereafter. Now, we admit, and have often proved, that resumption and specie payments are good and desirable for many reasons. But are they a certain cure for stringency? How can we reconcile with this claim, the circumstance that our panics of 1837, 1847 and 1857 all came on while we were on a specie basis? We ask these men to explain on their theory the fact that we have had no financial panic whatever during the past dozen years of suspension, while under specie payments we used to have a panic regularly every ten years. How does their opinion square with this experience? Besides, the course of events in England was similar; for during the paper money era, from 1797 to the close of the war against Napoleon, there was no financial panic whatever; but soon after specie resumption, the British money market was desolated by a financial convulsion, and there has been a regular return of these troubles in 1825, in 1837, in 1847, in 1857, and finally in 1866. We are as warm advocates of a return to specie payments as any one of our resumptionists; but it is vain to blind our eyes to the facts, or to deny that a specie basis is not a sure preventive of monetary stringency and financial panics. What the coin basis does is to give stability to the standard of value, strength to industrial enterprise, and firmness to the financial machinery. These are very essential qualities, and cannot be dispensed with; they suggest many arguments in favor of resumption. But still we must remember that all experience and all financial history combine to show that specie payments are not preventives of stringency.

This view of the case gratifies the paper-money men who argue that what we want if we would cure stringency is not specie resumption, but more paper money. To these persons we would put two simple questions—first, how could more paper money help to cure stringency; and secondly, where are we to get this paper money? how they would recommend its issue to be made consistently with law and sound policy. As to the first point, these men say very justly that the recent stringency is largely due to the retiring of the three per cents. On the 12th of July, 1870, Congress passed an act authorizing the 46 millions of these certificates then outstanding to be withdrawn. Under this authority nearly the whole have been cancelled. The argument is that the vacuum thus made in the circulation of the country requires to be filled up. To do so new paper money must be printed; the volume of our legal tender currency must be expanded; more greenbacks must be issued from Washington. But if our friends will reflect a moment they will find that what they ask has been done already. The very act of July, 1870, to which they refer, ordered that in place of these 46 millions of certificates 54 millions of National bank notes should be issued. All these notes are legal tender, and with a few restrictions enjoy the same forced circulation as greenbacks. Hence they exert on the currency as much power for inflation as so many greenbacks would, and perhaps more. What reason is there for any further issues in place of the certificates when the 46 millions retired have been replaced by 54 millions of National bank notes?

In reply we are told that these new issues of national bank notes have increased the evil they were intended to relieve. Every dollar of new national bank notes emitted increases the liabilities, against which the banks have to hold 15 or 25 per cent of reserve. The law of July, 1870, thus enlarged the need for reserve in two ways—first by adding 54 millions to the volume of bank currency, and secondly by the consequent addition of a responsive sum to the aggregate deposits of the banks. Against both these sums of new liability an average reserve of twenty per cent must be held, which would create a new demand for 22 millions of reserve. But the law, while thus increasing the need for reserve, cancelled the certificates; and thus diminished the material out of which that reserve could be supplied.

These three per cent certificates, under the act of March 2, 1867, may be counted as reserve by any national bank to the extent of three-fifths of such lawful reserve. Within that limitation the certificates were as available for reserve as greenbacks or coin, while they were more profitable, because they paid interest, which greenbacks of course do not. When the law of 1870 was passed, we pointed out the danger beforehand which is now so loudly complained of. But all was to no purpose. If the men who are now so bitter in their criticisms of the working of this law had not been silent then; if they had used a tithe of the energy in preventing the mischief which they now consume in vainly striving against it, the bill could have been killed. Congress would never have passed it. But as these men held their peace then, they must be content to reap now the fruit of their silence, and the monetary machinery will soon readjust itself by its own inherent elasticity, which it is very rapidly developing. But even if there were not so sure evidence of this recuperation, the mistake of policy made in the law of July, 1870, must not be allowed to lead us into a more fatal error now. And the flooding of the currency with indefinite issues of greenbacks would certainly be the worst mistake of the two.

We might ask these men where they would propose to get the new paper-money for which they clamor? Surely they would not get it by enlarging the bank issues. For on their own showing these issues are excessive already, and are to blame for part of the bank expansion and weakness which have caused or exaggerated the monetary trouble of the past winter. Nor can they look for large issues of greenbacks from the Treasury? For first such issues are virtually a new loan—a loan raised without interest—a loan raised in a method known only to governments in bad credit. Such a loan by the issue of greenbacks cannot be made without law, and no such law has been passed since the war. But, secondly, the Supreme Court has invariably held that the greenback issues are unconstitutional except during war-time, and that even Congress itself has no power to sanction such issues unless during war, and for war purposes. For eight years we have been at peace. During that whole period not a single dollar of new currency could constitutionally be authorized by Congress, or issued by the Treasury. The only exception to this prohibition is the redemption of the war obligations represented by the three per cent certificates now nearly extinct, and for them the law of July 11, 1862, provides. From this argument, and from the facts stated elsewhere, it is clear that indefinite issues of paper money are as impossible as they would be mischievous.

But we must pass to the third class of financial reformers. They say our great want is solid capital. They think that what our stringency arose from during the last six months was not so much our slow progress towards specie payments, still less would they attempt to remedy the trouble by new issues of paper money. The difficulty, as they understand it, lies in a short supply of floating capital. We have imported for years past prodigious amounts of foreign goods, we have exported much less, and the difference has been made up by the exportation of bonds. Prominent among these are our railroad and government securities. But for railroad bonds, the demand has fallen off from well known causes, and our government bonds seem much less in favor since the Syndicate operations of last year. The consequence of this slack demand for our securities abroad has been to introduce an unusual amount of floating bills of exchange into Wall street. These bills represent foreign floating capital. And of this capital we should have a surer grip if it would invest itself in bonds as formerly. It prefers, however, to lend itself at 60 days in these foreign bills, and thus constitutes a very important element of possible disturbance to the money market as well as in the Gold Room. There is much of truth in this view of the case, but we doubt whether the aggregate of foreign capital thus lending amounts, as is pretended, to 70 millions of dollars. At any rate, we are near the period in which the prolonged stringency, which has so long reigned over our money, may be expected from natural causes to relax its pressure. In a few weeks we shall be in a better position than now to estimate the real magnitude of this possible disturbance of monetary quietude, and to forecast the extent of the danger it threatens in the future.

CHANGES IN THE REDEEMING AGENTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, March 15, 1873.

Though anticipated by some, the Directors of the Bank of England have made no change this week in their rates of discount, and the minimum quotation still remains in consequence at 3½ per cent. There has been a full average demand for money, and no accommodation has been obtainable under the Bank rate. It appears, however, that the commercial demand continues to subside, and this appears to be one reason why no advance has been made. The position of the Bank is a satisfactory one, the proportion of reserve to liabilities being somewhat over 43½ per cent. The latter have increased during the week, but the circulation of notes has diminished, and hence there has been a corresponding improvement in the reserve. The demand for gold for export continues strong. Germany has not taken much, the principal exports having been to Portugal and Japan. It is believed that the money market will continue easy if a settled form of government is created in Spain without revolution; but if that should not be the case, some financial disturbance may arise, more especially in Paris, as some large operations have of late been executed between French financial houses and the late Government of Spain. The quotations for money are now as follows:

There having been a tendency to improvement in the price of Monday in this market, the foreign exchanges have somewhat improved. There is a steady demand for gold for export, and silver and dollars support former prices. The following prices of bullion are from the circular of Messrs, Pixley, Abell, Langley & Blake:

The stock markets have been dull, especially for British railway shares. In those securities, however, the investing public still have confidence, notwithstanding the recent heavy fall. The "bears" have maintained for some time past that bona fide holders were large sellers of stock, but the fortnightly account, settled yesterday, disclosed quite the contrary, the supply of stock being unexpectedly short. The public fail at present, therefore, to perceive a better and sounder investment for their money. The foreign market has been comparatively firm, and on the whole the changes in prices have been favorable. United States Government bonds have been firm, and amongst American railroad stocks a prominent feature has been a demand for the securities of the Atlantic and Great Western undertaking. Erie shares have been firm, and the tendency has been upward. The following were the closing prices this afternoon of consols, and the principal American securities:

Messrs. Bischoffsheim & Goldschmidt are inviting applications for $6,250,000 being part of an issue of $12,250,000 of the new York, Boston & Montreal Railway Company. The bonds are to bear 7 per cent interest per annum, and the price of issue is 80 per cent at 4s. 6d. the dollar, or £180 per $1,000 bond. The railway is a consolidation of five lines between New York and Boston and Montreal, extending in all to 350 miles, of which 200 miles are now in operation, 56 will be in working order by June, and the whole is intended to be completed during the present year. The Erie Railway Company, considering the alliance indispensable for its connections with Boston and the manufacturing towns of New England, have, it is stated, entered into working arrangements with the company for fifty years, and a large local traffic is anticipated, especially on the portions of the line adjacent to New York. The balance of the first mortgage bonds is not to be issued till the main line between New York and Rutland is open for traffic, and a net revenue nearly double the amount necessary to cover the first mortgage interest is anticipated. Besides the first mortgage bonds, the capital of the company comprises $12,750,000 second mortgage bonds, and $15,000,000 common stock.

It has been decided to apply the principle of the Foreign and Colonial Government Trust, of which Lord Westbury, Lord E. Cecil, Mr. G. M. W. Sandford, Mr. G. W. Currie, and Mr. P. Rose, are the trustees, solely to American securities, and the same noblemen and gentlemen have consented to become trustees for the investors. The undertaking is called "The American Investment Trust;" the certificates will bear 6 per cent interest per annum; will be issued at £95 per £100 certificates, and will be redeemed by annual drawings at 105. As soon as the whole of the certificates have been paid off each investor will be entitled to a pro rata share in the balance remaining. These trusts have proved very popular in this country, and there have, in consequence, been numerous imitations.

A new undertaking, called the Direct United States Cable Company, limited, has been introduced to public notice this week The capital is £1,300,000, in 65,000 shares of £10 each, and the proposal is to submerge a line from the coast of Ireland to that of New Hampshire. The cable is to be constructed by Messrs. Tiemens Brothers, who have undertaken to have it prepared by May 1, 1874, with a view to submerge it in the summer of that year. The board in London and the council in New York comprises names well known to the commercial world, and if the scheme is successfully carried out, the management believe that they will be able to afford the public greater and cheaper facilities for telegraphing. The Great Western Telegraph Company, however, came to nought, the board of that undertaking having been induced to persuade the shareholders to consent to transfer the cable to a South American company, a course which has been agreed to. Is a like fate awaiting the present undertaking, may well be asked. Already strenuous opposition has been offered to the present undertaking, and the Times, as usual, is quite convinced that another undertaking cannot pay. It is said that the lines are not even now fully occupied, and that further cables are only so much waste of capital. But is it not clear that the number of messages would be largely increased if the charges for transmission were less. Considering the vastness the trade between England and America, and that the two countries speak the same language, the intelligence transmitted by wire is little more than trifling. With lower rates there would be a very large increase in the number and length of messages, and an equally satisfactory dividend to the shareholders. I recollect, some years ago, attending a meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, and I particularly remember Sir Curtis Lampson opposing the reduction of the tariff of £1 per word. He strongly maintained that no dividend to the shareholders would result from a lower tariff, and that to reduce it was madness. Since then telegraphy has been so much developed that to the mercantile classes it is as necessary as the post, and it should be made as cheap as possible. The highest dividends of the existing companies have been distributed at a time when the tariff was the lowest, simply because the lower the charge the greater the business and the profit.

The following letter, written by Messrs. Lester & Co., of Manningham Mills, Bradford, will give your readers an excellent idea of the effect of the high price of coal upon our trade:

> "In March, 1872, we were paying for best Barnsley engine coals 6s. 10½d. per ton of 21 cwt., with an additional 1s. 9d. per ton for leading. We are now paying 19s. 5d. and 2s. leading for a very inferior slack to Mr. J. E. Mellor, of Bradford, who procures it from the Wooley and Sharlston Collieries. Our total consumption being about 17,100 tons per annum of 300 working days, the difference in price to us is about £10,936 17s. 6d. for the year, which no fair trade can stand, but which tends to drive it out of the country. Millowners have formed companies in Manchester, Leeds, and other towns, to procure their own coals, and we are about to do the same, having reliable information that the best coals in several mines in the West Riding are got out of the pit at a cost of 4s. 1½d. per ton net."

The trade for cereal produce has been quiet, but the French and American markets being reported firm, the quotations have been steadily supported. A want of animation, however, is apparent, and millers are in the hope that with the re-opening of the navigation larger supplies will come. The weather is scarcely dry enough for sowing; for though little rain has fallen, the land has been for so long a period in a wet state that a somewhat protracted period of dry weather appeared desirable. Vegetation, however, is still kept in check, and this is unquestionably a favorable feature.

The following statement shows the imports and exports of cereal produce into and from the United Kingdom since harvest, viz., from September 1 to the close of last week, compared with the corresponding periods in the three previous years:

The public sales of Colonial wool were brought to a close last night. At one period prices showed a decline, as compared with the November and December sales, of 1½d. to 3d. per lb., but there has since been a recovery of ½d. to 1d. per lb. "There is no doubt," remark Messrs. Hoare & Hudson, "that the high price of coal has been one of the leading causes of the unsatisfactory result of the present sales. Manufacturers assert that no fair and legitimate trade can be carried on so long as the charge for fuel is so high, and it is clear that unless the price of coal is largely reduced, they must either buy their wool cheaper, or sell their goods dearer, in order to secure a reasonable profit. And it is also evident that while these matters are adjusting themselves, manufacturers will prefer to restrict their purchases of the raw material with a view to produce enough to meet only the more urgent wants of customers. It also appears that foreign buyers had but little inclination to operate largely, and that their transactions were only augmented when the heavy fall afforded them the opportunity of effecting profitable purchases. The quactity estimated to have been bought on foreign account is 40,000 to 45,000 bales."

—We have just received a copy of "The Statistical Annual," published by the New York Daily Bulletin Association, and take pleasure in noticing the large amount of valuable commercial statistics contained in it. The volume aims to give a review of the trade movement in every leading article of commerce for the year 1872, together with the prices of gold, exchange, etc., and an examination of its contents shows that the book is so full of useful figures concerning the various branches of trade in the United States during 1872, that it will be a most welcome volume in the office of the merchant, banker or editor.

—We are in receipt of the sixteenth annual circular of Messrs. Thomas Denny & Co., stock and bond brokers, No. 39 Wall street, containing the usual amount of valuable information in regard to leading stocks and bonds, together with the range of prices for the year 1872. The Messrs. Denny have made a specialty of dealings in railroad bonds during some twenty years past, and their firm is one of the most prominent in that line of business.

—Attention is directed to the first mortgage bonds of the Equality Coal Co., which are offered for sale by the well-known bankers and railroad financiers, Messrs. Winslow & Wilson, corner of William and Cedar streets, from whom a circular may be obtained fully explaining the value of the security and the nature of the property on which it is based.

FRIDAY EVENING March 28, 1873.

The Money Market.—During the early part of this week there was an appearance of slightly increased ease in the money market, and call loans ruled somewhat lower at 7 gold, with the addition of 1-64 commission in some cases. Since that time. however, there has been a reaction towards greater stringency, and call loans on stock collateral have generally commanded 1-64 to 1-32, or 1-16 per day, either with or without legal interest. To day the ordinary rate was 1-32 to 1-16 in the morning, 1-16, 1-32 to 7 gold in the afternoon; loans to leading bankers on Government bonds as collateral have, of course, been made lower. It does not appear that there is any essentially new feature in monetary affairs, and the more general current of opinion points to the early part or middle of April as the time when there should naturally be a return movement of currency toward this centre and a consequent increase in the supply of loanable funds.

The Secretary of the Treasury has not issued or promised to issue any large amount of new legal tenders, though rumors have been frequent that he intended to do so.

Commercial paper moved very sluggishly in the early part of the week, but has since sold more freely on the basis of 10@13 per cent for prime names.

Considerable excitement was produced here on Tuesday by the cable dispatch that the Bank of England Directors at a special meeting had advanced the minimum discount rate to 4 per cent from 3½, the previous figure. No further advance was made at the regular meeting on Thursday, and the measure appears to have been precautionary, in view of the loss this week of £945,000 in bullion, probably in connection with the French Indemnity payments, and also in consequence of the outcry (by the London Times, among others) concerning the amount of 60-day sterling bills borrowed here by speculators, and sold in this market to obtain money for stock operations. The extent of these transactions is not known, but we believe that the large estimate of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 greatly exaggerates them, and that the whole amount of borrowed sterling outstanding in our market would not exceed $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

The last statement of our city banks (March 22) showed an increase in the reserves above the 25 per cent required by law of $217,225, against a deficiency of $264,250 the previous week. The total liabilities were $222,237,100, and the reserves $55,776,500.

The following statement shows the changes from previous week and a comparison with 1872 and 1871:

United States Bonds.—Government securities have been strong and advancing, and close at prices materially higher than last week. The chief causes for this advance have been found in the rise in gold, and the demand for bonds from foreign buyers. One leading banking house purchased over $1,000,000 for shipment, although the supply is small and the bonds can only be picked up in small lots; a part of the above were purchased in fact, on seller's 20 day option.

At the Treasury purchase of 5-20s on Wednesday the offerings amounted to $1,427,200, mostly in small lots, and $500,000 bonds were accepted, and paid for in legal tenders. The market closes strong at prices given below.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Tennessees have been the most active among Southern State bonds, and declined early in the week in consequence, it is said, of the fact that the Legislature adjourned without making sufficient provision by taxation for carrying out the new funding law; prices, however, have recently recovered somewhat, and it appears that the Governor declines to approve certain bills calling for appropriations, as he says all the money will be required to carry out faithfully the provisions of the funding law. Missouri bonds have been quite active, and if the State should pay its interest and maturing bonds in gold, there is no reason why her bonds should not rule much higher, and stand on a par with the securities of other States of financial soundness.

Railroad bonds have generally been dull; Union Pacifics are all stronger; the old Erie mortgages have advanced above par in consequence of the demand from London to exchange them for the new consolidated bond, which they expect will stand near par in gold.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has generally shown but a moderate business, and with the exception of a few leading speculative favorites prices have kept within a moderate range, and close near the figures of last week. Pacific Mail and Panama took an upward turn early in the week, but have since reacted in part. Milwaukee & St. Paul has been strong on the reported negotiations with the Northwestern to "pool" their earnings. The report of the Chicago Tribune that it would be leased to the Pennsylvania road is said to have no foundation. New York & Harlem has been higher in consequence of the report that the road will be leased to the Central & Hudson, and have a surplus of property to be distributed among stockholders. Western Union Telegraph is lower, on pretty large sales. Rock Island declares 4 per cent semi-annual dividend as usual. Erie and Union Pacific have been strong upon the whole and the general market is tolerably steady.

The following were the highest and lowest prices of the active list of railroad and miscellaneous stocks on each day of the last week:

The Gold Market.—Gold has been strong, and advanced to 116⅝, the highest point reached in a long time. A part of the rise in gold is attributed to speculative influence, but it is generally conceded that the upward movement is assisted by natural causes. The relative scarcity in our supply of gold, and perhaps an exaggerated idea of the importance of this fact, together with the recent advance in the Bank of England rate are the most important influences to be noticed. It is believed that the movement for higher gold is supported by some strong parties.

At the Treasury sale on Thursday the total bids were $5,565,000, and the whole amount sold—$1,500,000—was awarded to Jay Cooke & Co. Customs receipts of the week amount to $3,242,000.

The following table will show the course of the gold premium each day of the past week:

Foreign Exchange.—The foreign exchange market was stronger after the Bank of England advance, and the considerable talk about the non-renewal of borrowed sterling bills falling due next month, but the advance was not maintained to-day, and leading drawers reduced their rate ⅛, and were selling at a concession from the prices asked. Gold is so high that merchants are not inclined to buy 60 day bills now if they can possibly postpone their remittances. We quote nominally as follows:

STATE, CITY AND CORPORATION FINANCES.

STATE SECURITIES, CITY SECURITIES, RAILROAD STOCK AND BOND LIST, CANAL AND MISCELLANEOUS STOCK AND BOND LIST.

[Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1873, by WILLIAM B. DANA & Co., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D.C.]

The CHRONICLE tables of stocks and bonds are brought forward to-day—being the last Saturday in March—with numerous corrections and additions. A very large number of the most important financial reports appear during the first few months of the year, and hence the revisions and additions in our tables are more numerous and of greater consequence during these months. Since the last publication of these tables extracts from the annual reports of the following prominent companies have been published in the CHRONICLE, and are duly indexed in the column of "remarks" accompanying their several bond statements, viz: The Pennsylvania Railroad, Erie, N. Y. Central & Hudson, Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore, Northern Central (of Pa. and Md.), Marietta & Cincinnati, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Philadelphia & Erie, Maine Central, Detroit & Milwaukee, Cleveland & Pittsburgh, Chicago & Alton, Lehigh Coal & Navigation, Schuylkill Navigation Co., and various other companies of less prominence.

The Boston, Hartford & Erie litigation has terminated in a denial of the injunction, and the trustees now give notice of a meeting to be held, Thursday, April 17, to reorganize the company. In regard to the St. Joseph and Denver City bonds, we are able to add nothing to the remarks made in THE CHRONICLE of Feb. 22, on page 247. Reports have been current this week that the N. Y. Central and Hudson loan for £2,000,000 sterling had been placed in London, but they are not well authenticated. It has also been stated that the New York, Boston and Montreal Consolidated Company recently sold $6,250,000 of its bonds in London, and has the prospect of placing the balance of its loan, making in all $12,500,000. As Messrs. Bischoffsheim have negotiated with the Erie Company for the general mortgage of $30,000,000, bearing 7 per cent gold interest, they are now taking off this market the old mortgages of the road, which they can pay in on consolidated mortgage account.

Mr. Joseph G. Martin, stock broker, No. 10 State street, Boston, has compiled his complete list of dividends and interest payments to be made in that city April 1, showing total payments of $2,432,500 by Boston banks declaring at this time, and $2,210,439 of other interest and dividend disbursements.

Tennessee:								The Governor, Jan., 1873, recommends funding all debt in a 40 year 6 per cent bond; interest to be resumed by July, 1874. He estimates total taxable property at $500,000,000. The total debt here given is substantially, according to the report of the Comptroller, Jan., 1873, after deducting bonds paid in by railroads, amounting altogether to $12,282,798. The Comptroller estimates debt of solvent railroads, $3,963,836; due from railroads then sold, $2,378,320; indorsed bonds that will pay interest, $2,172,000, and interest, $260,640; balance revenue due, Jan. 1, 1873, $1,319,234. Total valuation of real estate, 1872, $272,874,352. No new debt can be created, except by a two-third vote of the people. The rate of taxation is 40 cts on the $100, but a tax is laid on other sources of revenue. (v. 16, p. 181, 197, 214, 323, 387.)

Boston:								The population of Boston in 1870 was 250,526, against 177,840 in 1860. Valuation of real estate in 1871 was $395,214,950; personal property, $217,448,600; total. $612,663,550, upon which the rate of taxation was $1 57 per $1,000 for State and $11 53 for City and County The net increase of debt in 1871-72 was $745,999. The total debt. April 30, 1872, was $28,628,535, and the sinking fund then held, $11,684,337. Sinking fund provisions are sufficient to meet the debt as it matures. Mr. Thomas Hills. Chairman of Board of Assessors, estimates the value of buildings destroyed in the great fire of 1872 at $14,000,000, and personal property at $70,000,000.

Jersey, City:								A report made by citizens, Dec., 1872, states the total debt of the city at $6,919,820, an increase of $3,679,000 over the amount nominally held against the city at the time of the consolidation, two years and a half ago. Of the increase, however $2,165,000, arose under contracts adopted before the act of consolidation, and $500 000 has been made by the funding of the former floating debt. These with the cash now in the treasury reduce the actual amount of increase under the present city government to $1,174,000.

NOTE.—The figures sometimes given in brackets, at the end of remarks, refer to the volume and page of CHRONICLE containing fuller information. The letters s. f. mean "sinking fund," and l. gr. "land grant." Companies consolidated with, or leased to others will often be found under the consolidated or lessee's name.

* For stocks, this means the miles of road operated; for bonds, the miles covered by the mortgage.

† These figures are dollars, showing the denominations or par value of each issue of stocks and bonds.

‡ The interest per annum is given on bonds, but the last dividend on stocks; g means gold; f, free of U. S. tax; x, extra; s, stock or scrip.

‖ J. & J. stands for Jan. & July; F. & A., Feb. & Aug.; M. & S., Mar. & Sept.; A. & O., April & Oct. M. & N., May & Nov J. & D. June & Dec. Q.—J. quarterly from January; Q—F., quarterly from Feb.; Q.—M., quarterly from March.

§ These dates show the period when the principal falls due of bonds; but the time when the last dividend was paid on stock

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 28, 1873.

But little progress has been made during the past week in the resumption of spring trade. The weather has been very cold and unseasonable, and there have been severe snowstorms in the North and West, causing some obstruction to railway transportation, and preventing any increase of inland navigation. Owing, however, to a variety of influences, to which reference is made in other columns, prices of most of the leading staples of domestic produce have had an upward tendency, and the week shows some advance; while foreign merchandize is generally no higher, and, with few exceptions, has not been in much demand.

In provisions there has been a good degree of activity, and prices have advanced for most descriptions of hog products, though with some irregularity. The advance and activity in prime mess pork will be noted as the result of a small supply, and pressing export orders. In box meats there has been something of a speculative "corner," with a decided advance in prices, long clear bacon showing the most advance, but the business being principally in short clear. Lard has also decidedly advanced. The "season" for slaughtering swine at the West closed upon comparatively small stocks of the "product," while Germany and Great Britain are competing actively for supplies, and hogs are scarce and high.

Pork has remained steady, and late sales include new mess, for April, at $16 10@$16 15. Extra prime has sold at $13. Lard has ruled higher, with a pretty good demand; Western has sold at 8⅝@8 11-16c. for short delivery, 8⅞@8 15-16c., for May, and 9 1-16@9⅛c., for June. Bacon has shown a decided advance, a demand from the "shorts" causing higher prices; long clear has sold at 8½@9c. (the latter for city), and short clear at 8¾@9c., for early delivery. Drysalted shoulders have been in fair demand, and have sold at 6½c.; while hams, with a moderate sale, have brought 13c. for long cut, and 11½c. for short cut. Beef has been in moderate demand and steady. Butter has been in good demand and firm, with the stock of old becoming quite reduced. Cheese has been in demand for the lower grades, which have been wanted for export, and sold at 10@14c., with prime to choice factory quoted at 16@17c. To-day pork was quiet. Lard was weak for early delivery, but June sold at 9 3-16c. Bacon was firm, with sales of Cumberland at 8¾c.; long clear at 9c., on spot, and 8¾c., to arrive, and short clear, 9c. for both spot and arrival; drysalted shoulders held at 7c., with a sale in Chicago at 6c.

Freights have been only moderately active, but there has been some improvement in berth rates. The arrivals at this port have been larger, it is stated, than in any previous week in the history of our commerce, including 20 steamships, 25 ships, 76 barks, 43 brigs, and 31 schooners, or 195 craft in all from foregn ports. But many of the sail vessels were chartered before arrival, and there is no material addition to the room seeking employment. There is some advance in rates, but the higher prices of domestic products are a check upon business. Yesterday's engagements embraced grain to Liverpool by steam at 7¼d. for corn, and 7¾d. for wheat. Cotton at 7-16d.@½d., and bacon 40s. Wheat to London by sail 8½d. from store; grain to Cork for orders at 6s. 9d.; petroleum to Bristol, 6s. 9d., and to the Baltic 7s. To-day, to Liverpool, by steam, 1,500 bales cotton at ⅜@7-16d., which is easier, and 750 boxes bacon 40s.; also, by sail, 1,200 bales cotton at the same rates as by steam.

Petroleum was tending upward all the week, and yesterday morning holders were firm, at 21c. for refined in bbls., 26c. for do. in cases, and 10c. for crude in bulk, but there was some reaction. It is stated that a new well has been struck, yielding 600 bbls. per day. The close to-day was at 19½c. for refined in bbls. and 9½c. for crude in bulk. The following is a statement of the exports of petroleum from the United States:—

Since Jan. 1—		1873.	1872.
From New York	galls.	18,384,751	13,060,703
Other ports		8,080,390	9,104,500
Total	galls.	26,465,141	22,165,203
Same time 1871	galls.		23,893,820
Same time 1870			18,357,414

—and a late statement shows that there were 199 vessels loading, or chartered to load, petroleum at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Strained rosin has been variable, closing quiet at $3 35@$3 40. Spirits turpentine declined to 55c., advanced to 61c., and closed at 59½c. Tallow active at 8 15-16c. for prime. Whiskey advanced to 92c., but closed dull, at 91½c. Wool has been quiet; prime domestic fleece sold at 54@55c. California fall, free of burrs, 22@23c., and Cape 30@35c.

Tobacco has shown rather more activity in Kentucky leaf, the sales of the week aggregating 450 hhds., including 200 hhds. for consumption and 250 hhds for export. Prices remain firm, new crop 7½@8c. for lugs, and 9@13c. for leaf. Seed leaf has been only moderately active, and prices nominally unchanged. Sales, crop of 1871, 300 cases Connecticut at 50@65c.; 80 do. Pennsylvania on private terms, and 100 do. sundries 15@50c.; crop of 1870, 100 cases sundries, 9@10c., and crop of 1872, 60 cases Wisconsin at 6½c. Spanish Tobacco at a material decline, rendered necessary by the large and increasing stock, has been more active; sales 2,000 bales Havana at 80c.@$1 05.

In oils we notice the sale of 1,000 bbls. crude sperm in New Bedford for export, on private terms.

Exports of Leading Articles from New York.

The following table, compiled from Custom House returns, shows the exports of leading articles from the port of New York since January 1, 1873, to all the principal foreign countries, and also the totals for the last week, and since January 1. The last two lines show total values, including the value of all other articles besides those mentioned in the table.

COTTON.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 28, 1873.

By special telegrams received to-night from the Southern ports, we are in possession of the returns showing the receipts, exports, &c., of cotton for the week ending this evening, March 28. It appears that the total receipts for the seven days have reached 56,015 bales against 74,195 bales last week, 83,433 bales the previous week and 82,307 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the first of September, 1872, 3,011,056 bales against 2,427,947 bales for the same period of 1871-72, showing an increase since September 1, 1872, of 583,109 bales. The details of the receipts for this week (as per telegraph) and for the corresponding weeks of the five previous years are as follows:

The exports for the week ending this evening reach a total of 47,088 bales, of which 29,895 were to Great Britain, 3,923 to France, and 13,270 to rest of the Continent, while the stocks as made up this evening, are now 526,045 bales. Below are the exports and stocks for the week, and also for the corresponding week of last season:

The market the past week has been without any special feature of importance. Prices here now appear to be almost wholly under the influence of Liverpool, and the Liverpool market indicates a pretty close following of the receipts at our ports—increased activity when they are small, and a corresponding depression when they are large. Under these influences we have had a variable and uncertain market during the week. Saturday and Monday there was a decidedly better tone, and at the close of Monday's exchange prices as compared with the previous Friday showed an advance of ⅛c. for cotton on the spot, and 3-16c. for futures. But on Tuesday there was again a panicky feeling, and the advance of the previous day was more than lost. Wednesday was active for both spot and future, and on Thursday the receipts began to indicate a very considerable falling off for the week as compared with the previous week, when, with a large export demand and increased buoyancy for April, May and June, quotations on the spot were advanced ⅛c., and futures brought 3 16@⅜c. over the closing prices of Wednesday; most of this advance, however, was lost towards the close, especially April contracts, which sold at Wednesday's price, after selling at 18 13-16c. To-day the market was stronger for cotton on the spot, but quotations were not advanced, the higher prices asked resulting in a limited business being done. For future delivery the weaker tone developed last evening was entirely recovered, the close being at about the top prices of the day, and October selling after 'Change at 17⅝c. The prices for futures last reported were (basis low middling) 18¾c. for April, 19⅜c. for May, 19⅝c. for June, and 19 13-16c. for July. The total sales of this description for the week are 157,050 bales, including .... free on board. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 12,921 bales, including 8,158 for export, 3,539 for consumption, 917 for speculation, and 307 in transit. Of the above 964 bales were to arrive. The following are the closing quotations to-day:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather the past week has been remarkably cold throughout the South, and in most cases accompanied with considerable rain. It has been showery two days at New Orleans. At Mobile it has rained three days, and our dispatch adds that it is too cold for farm work, though it is said that planting has made good progress. It has also rained three days at Selma, and it has been so cold that they have had frost. At Montgomery, Columbus and Augusta it has rained on two days, while at Savannah and Charleston there has been no rain. Our Charleston telegram states that it has been cold and dry all the week. It has rained on three days at Memphis, on one of which days they had snow. They are having so much rain that plowing is backward. At Nashville it has rained on two days, with considerable snow on one day. The thermometer at Memphis has averaged 48; at Charleston, 55; Mobile, 57; Savannah, 58; Selma, 61; Montgomery, 53; and Columbus, 56.

THE COTTON CROP.—Very interesting compilations are just now being made, on the basis of the receipts thus far, to show how large or how small the present cotton crop is likely to be. We have received no new returns since our review published on the 15th of February, when we stated that the total would not in any event be less than 3,732,000 bales, intentionally leaving the impression that although the crop might not reach a higher figure the reports we had received justified a somewhat larger result. At that time we made our examination as thorough as we could, and do not propose to reopen the subject. Our figures, however, were simply a reflex of the views of correspondents who have proved themselves to be very reliable, accepting no person's opinion of any section other than that of which he is personally acquainted with. Hence deductions made by comparing the movement of previous crops although they carry with them much less weight, and are often delusive, are always interesting and frequently instructive.

For instance, a correspondent takes the receipts of the seven inland markets for the last four weeks (the actual quantities and the percentum, giving those of 1870-71, the year of the great crop, at 100) and reaches the following results:

Week ending	1870-71		1871-72		1872-73
	Receipts.	P.C.	Receipts.	P.C.	Receipts.	P.C.
Feb. 28....	27,424	100	16,093	59	20,003	73
March 7..	21,548	100	13,284	62	19,176	89
March 14..	16,094	100	12,011	75	20,429	128
March 21..	13,321	100	9,060	68	18,214	137
Four weeks.	78,387	100	50,448	64½	77,822	99¼

The reason given for making this comparison is to show that, "although the impression was common the last of February that the region accessible to railways had at that time been quite thoroughly drained, yet we here see the movement, even in those sections, is very well sustained. And these statistics, taken in connection with the general admission that there is far more cotton to be received in the Southwest than there was last year, seem to justify the opinion that at least an average of the two last years can be expected for the balance of this season, and the following would then show the result of the year:

		Bales.
The receipts at ports after March 21, 1871, were......		802,000
The receipts at ports after March 21, 1872, were......		358,000
And the average of both is..........................		580,000
The receipts at ports this year to March 21, were......		2,955,000
Suppose the "overland" cotton shall be......	135,000
And the Southern consumption..............	145,000—	280,000
That would make this crop, estimating the cotton to come in no more than the average of the last two years, amount to..............................		3,815,000

If in like manner we make a comparison of receipts at the ports up to March 21, the last three years, those of 1870–1 being 100, same as above, the result will be as follows:

	1870–1.	1871–2.	1872–3.
Sept. 1 to March 21...............	100	74	91
Sept. 1 to Nov. 8..................	100	83	*115
Four weeks, Nov. 15 to Dec. 6, inc.	100	81	93
Four weeks, Dec. 13 to Jan. 3, inc..	100	88	†83
Four weeks, Jan. 10 to Jan. 31, inc.	100	71	89
Four weeks, Feb. 7 to Feb. 28, inc.	100	58	83
Three weeks, Mch. 7 to Mch. 21, inc.	100	43	75
One week, ending March 14.......	100	49	81
One week, ending March 21.......	100	48	92

* Period of early and large movement of this crop—exceptionally large receipts. † Period of the epizootic disease—exceptionally small receipts.

Last year there was a continual falling off from the rate of the previous year, except a slight rally in March, while this year there is a gain in the proportional rate, increasing from its lowest (75 to 92) in the last week."

In connection with the foregoing figures, an interesting indication of public opinion in the Atlantic cotton States is given in the Augusta Constitutionalist of the 24th instant, which states that three hundred and fifty-seven estimates were received for the cotton pool of Augusta Exchange, and the average of them all was 3,764,880 bales.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received to-day, there have been 16,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week and 10,000 bales to the continent, while the receipts at Bombay, during the same time have been 43,000 bales. The movement since the first of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, March 27:

	Shipments this week to			Shipments since Jan. 1 to
	Great Britain	Continent.	Total.	Great Britain.	Continent.	Total.	Week's receipts.
1873....	16,000	10,000	26,000	196,000	67,000	263,000	43,000
1872....	20,000	21,000	41,000	262,000	128,000	390,000	33,000
1871....	....	19,000	19,000	151,000	66,000	217,000	52,000

From the foregoing it would appear that compared with last year there is a decrease this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to all of Europe of 15,000 bales, and that the total movement since Jan. 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 133,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1872.

Our dispatch to-night states that the reports received at Bombay with regard to the crop are less favorable.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &C.—Bagging has ruled quiet and firm the past week, and but few sales have occurred since our last issue. We note a sale of about 600 rolls not quite standard in store here at 13c. cash, and 500 rolls more on private terms. We quote holders' prices at 13¼@13½c. cash spot; 14@14¼c. April and May, and 14½@15c. summer delivery. India bales are very dull and neglected. Bags remain about the same, with some inquiry. The prices asked here are 15½c. currency, duty paid. We note a sale in Boston of 250 bales at 9½c. gold, in bond; 250 bales at 15½c. currency, duty paid. Butts have ruled quiet at declining prices. We note sales 1,500 bales in Boston at 2 1-16c. cash, and 1,000 bales here reported at 2c. cash. During the week sales have been made of several lots of 250@300 bales each at 2⅛c. cash, and 2 3-16c. time.

VISIBLE SUPPLY OF COTTON MADE UP BY CABLE AND TELEGRAPH.—By cable we have to-night the stocks at the different European ports, the India cotton afloat for all of Europe, and the American afloat for each port as given below. From figures thus received, we have prepared the following table, showing the quantity of cotton in sight at this date (March 28) of each of the two past seasons:

	1873.	1872.
Stock in Liverpool................ bales.	592,000	684,000

Exports from United States this week...	47,088	56,309
Total....	2,459,323	2,464,067

These figures indicate a decrease in cotton in sight to-night of 4.744 bales compared with the same date of 1872.

MOVEMENTS OF COTTON AT THE INTERIOR PORTS.—Below we give the movements of cotton at the interior ports—receipts and shipments for the week, and stock to-night and for the corresponding week of 1872:

	Week ending March 28, 1873			Week ending March 29, '72
	Receipts.	Shipments.	Stock.	Receipts.	Shipments.	Stock.

	.10,997	12,197	105,440	7,519	13,586	70,967

* A count of stock at Nashville to-night reduced the running count 1,571 bales.

The above totals show that the interior stocks have decreased during the week 2,771 bales, and are to-night 34,473 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts have been 3,478 bales more than the same week last year.

The exports of cotton this week from New York show a decrease since last week, the total reaching 9,360 bales, against 9,713 bales last week. Below we give our table showing the exports of cotton from New York, and their direction for each of the last four weeks; also the total exports and direction since September 1, 1872; and in the last column the total for the same period of the previous year:

Shipping News.—The exports of cotton from the United States the past week, as per latest mail returns, have reached 70,316 bales. So far as the Southern ports are concerned, these are the same exports reported by telegraph, and published in The Chronicle last Friday, except Galveston, and the figures for that port are the exports for two weeks back. With regard to New York, we include the manifests of all vessels cleared up to Wednesday night of this week:

Below we give all news received, during the week, of disasters to vessels carrying cotton from any port of the United States:

In the case of ship Gettysburg, from New Orleans for Havre, which was taken into Key West, March 3, after being ashore, the U. S. Judge has awarded $20,000 to the salvors.

Key West, March 15.—The case of ship Nor Wester comes before the Court for a hearing on Monday next. About 1800 bales cotton have been saved from this vessel.

Europa (of Bath), Fulton, from New Orleans March 12 for Havre, with 3476 bales cotton, 500 tcs lard and 2000 staves, was totally destroyed at sea by fire, March 15; captain and crew saved by British ship Sparkenhoe and brought to S. W. Pass, 19th. The E. was burned 300 miles from the Southwest Pass. Ship and cargo valued at $425,000. Eight hours after the fire was discovered in the fore hold it broke through the deck near the foremast, which was tottering, when the ship was abandoned so suddenly that the captain left his chronometer and watch, and he was badly singed, the flames then licking the mainmast.

John Parker (Br.), from New Orleans for Liverpool (before reported scuttled at SW Pass), was again discovered to be on fire March 15, but it was soon extinguished. Two hundred bales cotton lightered and taken to New Orleans. She has been raised, and arrived at New Orleans March 20. The damage is ascertained to be all above water on the starboard side, forward of midships; decks ripped up and burned; deck beams and cabin badly burned. She is an old ship, and will probably be condemned to the underwriters. Her cotton damaged by water.

Bertha Temple (Br.), McFee, from Galveston Feb. 26 for Liverpool, with 1,800 bales cotton, put into South West Pass March 20, leaking badly.

Tiger (Br.), Miller, from Galveston, which arrived at Liverpool March 4, dismasted, &c., reports that the vessel with which she was in collision was a large bark, of which nothing was seen or heard after clearing the Tiger The collision occurred at 2 A. M. of Feb. 26, in about lat. 50 N., lon. 9 W.

Gold, Exchange and Freights.—Gold has fluctuated the past week between 115½ and 116⅜, and the close was 116½. Foreign Exchange market is weak. The following were the last quotations: London bankers', long, 108@109¼; short, 109@109½, and Commercial, 107⅜@107¾. Freights closed at 7-16d.@½d. by steam and ⅜d.@7-16d. by sail to Liverpool, 1¼@1½c. gold by steam and 1c. by sail to Havre, and ½d. by steam to Hamburg.

By Telegraph from Liverpool.—

Liverpool, March 28—5 P. M.—The market has ruled steady to-day, with sales footing up 15,000 bales, including 8,000 bales for export and speculation. The sales of the week have been 88,000 bales, of which 9,000 bales were taken for export and 8,000 bales on speculation. The stock in port is 592,000 bales, of which 252,000 bales are American. The stock of cotton at sea, bound to this port is 579,000 bales of which 289,000 bales are American.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday P. M., March 28, 1873.

Flour has been moderately active the past week, but prices have been somewhat irregular. The trade bought fairly early in the week, but latterly this demand has fallen off, and all grades worth more than $8 have become dull. The shipping grades, including No. 2 superfine, and Western, State and city common extras, have been wanted for the British Provinces and the West Indies, mainly at $6 25 for fair superfine, $7 25@$7 40 for good round hoop Western extras, and $7 75@$8 for "fancy" State. Some business for South America was done in Western and Southern extras, from winter wheat, at $8 25@$9. There has been some demand for Great Britain, but at low prices, and as receipts have been moderate, the limits of these orders have not been readily met, though a few lots of common Western extras have been offered as low as $7 from the wharf. To-day there was an inactive but steady market.

The wheat market has ruled dull for several days. Early in the week half a dozen or more loads of No. 2 Spring wheat were taken for export and milling at $1 62½@$1 65 for Chicago in store and afloat, and $1 70@$1 71 for Milwaukee afloat. But buyers could not go on at these prices, and business was reduced to small lots of spring received by rail, and broken parcels of winter in store, including rejected spring as low as $1 38, and No. 1 as high as $1 80, with winter wheats from $1 62½ to $2 20 for red and white. The receipts of wheat at the West have for some time been largely in excess of 1872, but the visible supply is much smaller now than a year ago. To-day the inactivity continued, but a boat load of No. 2 Milwaukee sold at $1 68 in store and some amber Canada at $1 72½ in bond.

Indian corn has gained strength, but a slight advance has been sufficient to check the demand. The improvement was caused by better advices from Liverpool, and a falling off in receipts of new corn, especially from the South. Late sales embrace prime old mixed Western at 64½c. in store, and 66¾c. afloat; new yellow Jersey and Southern at 66@66½c. afloat, and new Western mixed at 66@66½c. afloat. The receipts at the West continue heavy, but stocks are nowhere large, except at Chicago. To-day the market was very quiet; prime old mixed Western brought 65c. in store, but bids were generally limited to 64½c, and fair new sold at 66c. afloat.

Rye has remained dull. Barley has ruled firm, with sales of prime to choice Western at $1 10@1 15, and prime Canada West, $1 30@1 32. But the close is quiet owing to the slow trade in malt.

Oats have been fairly active, and prices have advanced, especially for the better qualities, including white, of which the offerings have been comparatively small; but the close is barely steady, good new mixed selling at 49c., afloat, and white Western 53@54c, and the latter price paid for prime old Western mixed afloat.

GROCERIES.

FRIDAY EVENING, March 28, 1873.

There has been some improvement in coffee this week, and prices on Rio are much stronger than at the time of our last report, with a slight advance on some of the lower grades. The sugar market has been rather quiet, but we repeat our last quotations on raws, and note more steadiness at the close. Refined sugar has been easier. Molasses has been quiet, and only grocery qualities are wanted. Tea is dull and unchanged. Fruits are quiet and without essential change. Nearly all of the markets have been strengthened during the past week by the advance and firmness in gold.

TEA.

The condition of our market is much the same as last reported. Holders of tea, with very few exceptions, do not press their stock upon buyers, and the market remains quiet, with quotations about as before. The sales of lines have been on a limited scale, and invoices have not moved with freedom. Some of the weaker holders are willing to concede a fraction for the purpose of moving stock, and these dealers have succeeded in effecting moderate transactions. The supply in the country is not heavy, and buyers are delaying their purchases only in the hope that a further prolonged dulness may result in still greater depression in prices. It will require remarkably depressing influences to bring about any further decline, however, as the present rates are so low that holders can better afford to take their chances on the future course of the market, loss of interest and other expenses of carrying teas to sell. The transactions embrace 3,800 half chests Greens, 1,500 do. Japans, and 1,600 do. Oolongs.

Imports the past week have included 70,201 lbs. Black, 995,169 lbs. Green and 47,393 lbs. Japan, per "Sarah Nicholson," from Shanghai; 26,900 lbs. Green, per "Midnight," from Hong Kong; and 103,250 lbs. Black, per "Per Ardna," from Hong Kong. The indirect importations have included 100 pkgs. by steamer, and 357 do. by rail overland.

The following table shows the imports of Tea into the United States from January 1 to date, in 1873 and 1872:

	Black.	Green.	Japan.	Total.
Atlantic ports, 1873...lbs.	7,880.055	9,060.960	6,433,955	23,374,970
Atlantic ports, 1872.......	6,774,725	8,615,734	2,636,454	12,076,91

The indirect receipts at New York, principally overland receipts from San Francisco, have been 15,874 pkgs. since January 1, against 54,002 last year.

Imports at San Francisco from Jan. 1 to March 1, were 121,165 lbs. of China and 500,430 lbs. of Japan tea.

COFFEE.

Following our last report the market ruled dull and soft until Tuesday, when the receipt of a Rio telegram, dated March 4, had a stimulating effect. The dispatch quoted the market up 100 rs, with exchange further advanced, and a decrease of about 25 per cent in the daily receipts. The stock of Rio was still reported pretty full, but the transactions on American account were not excessively heavy, and our market responded at once to the favorable report. Holders withdrew their offerings, and quotations became nominal, although buyers at once showed a disposition to purchase at the previously quoted figures. The receipts of Rio have been free during the week, and a good business has been in progress toward the close, at about our last quotations, holders showing more readiness to sell than on Tuesday, but still manifesting a very strong feeling; which is aided by to-day's telegram from Rio quoting another advance of 100 rs., and a further falling off in receipts. The India grades have been in fair request, and a very strong feature of the market is a sale of 3,250 bags Laguayra and 831 bags St. Domingo on export account for Hamburg. The stocks of all grades are pretty well run down, and prices close very firm, with few essential changes. We note sales of 3,498 bags Rio, ex "Flamsteed;" 2,493 do., ex "Ontario;" 3,000 do., ex "Talisman;" 5,001 do., ex "Merrimack;" 3,310 do., ex "Tertius;" 3,418 bags Laguayra, ex "John Bolton;" 500 do. Ceylon, 200 do. Laguayra, 143 do Curacoa, 3,250 do Laguayra, ex "Christine;" 831 do. St. Domingo, shipped to Hamburg by first hands. At Baltimore sales of 5,000 bags Rio, per "Adelaide;" 772 per "Paladin," and 2,003 ex "C. R. C."

Imports at this port the past week have included 16,001 bags Rio, per "Flamsteed," 7,936 do do, per "E. C. SUGAR.

The receipts afford better selections for refiners to stock up from, and the demand for raw sugars during the past week has been fair. The concession granted at the close of last week brought raw sugars down to a point where operations could be carried on more profitably by refiners, and although their goods continue to show depression, there is more disposition evident on their part to take hold of raws. Centrifugals continue to be chiefly in request, but there is an improvement perceptible in muscovados, on a basis of 8@8¼c for fair to good refining. At this time last year the basis of quotations was 8⅜@8⅝c, with gold at 110⅛. Now we have gold up to 116, and sugar ½c below last year's prices. Refined sugars are ¼c below last year. The market has dropped off a fraction on these grades during the past week, and at the quotations given in our revised list there is more steadiness. Soft sugars are still rather easy, but the feeling is better than at the time of our last report. The transactions since our last have been 4,435 hhds. and 5,039 bxs. at 7⅞@8⅛c. for Muscovadoes; 9⅛@9⅜c. for Centrifugals; 7⅛@9⅛c. for Havana boxes; 1,904 baskets Batavia, ex "Nancy;" 4,619 bags Manila, ex "Horatio," and 8,552 ex "Endeavor," both at 8c.

Imports at New York and stock in first hands March 27, were as follows:

MOLASSES.

There has been but very little change in the market since our last report, and the position of affairs is destitute of remarkable features. An absence of stock suitable for boilers still restricts their purchases and prevents any activity in the trade in these grades. There is some demand, however, and increased offerings would result in a fair business. There is no call for distilling grades, and quotations on these qualities are still somewhat nominal. The market for grocery grades is moderately active, and the trade is running largely on the prime and choice grades. The supply of Porto Rico is some 600 hhds, and the finer grades are readily selected at very full rates. The stock of English Islands is 174 hhds, with a quiet tone prevailing. Sales of domestic have been on a fairly liberal scale, and the supply has been reduced to 4,200 bbls. Prices are very fully maintained, with only a moderately active call at the close. The syrup market shows no essential changes since our last, and prices are steady, as last quoted. Grades under 50c are most in request, but the offerings remain rather light. The sales of molasses since our last have been 26 hhds. Demerara at 53c.; 250 do., 35@40c.; 125 do. Porto Rico in trade lots, mostly at 60c.; 450 bbls. New Orleans within the range.

The receipts at New York, and stock in first hands March 27, were as follows:

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 28, 1873.

There was less activity in the market during the past week than was expected, though the jobbing transactions have been on a fairly liberal scale in the aggregate, and the feeling among jobbers is still fairly firm. Agents are selling only moderate amounts of goods, the dulness during the week having been rather more marked in first hands than among jobbers. The stocks held by the latter are ample to meet all their running requirements for the present, and they naturally shrink from entering into further engagements at the moment. The trade just now is susceptible to the slightest changes in the weather, and while a few warm days will do much toward improving the condition of the trade the return of unpleasant weather again exerts a check upon sales, and the trade relapses into dulness. There have been a large number of buyers in the city from different localities in the West and South, but their purchases have been on a limited scale. The near by and local demand has been light, the disagreeable weather that has prevailed during the greater portion of the week having done much toward curtailing the local distribution. Money remains stringent, and the effects are apparent in the quietness which is prevailing in almost all of the markets. Values remain remarkably steady, all things considered, and there are few quotable alterations.

Domestic Cotton Goods.—The decline in the cotton market has begun to affect goods, and there is a softer feeling prevailing on lines of which there is any accumulation. The lower grades of brown fabrics have weakened somewhat and are lower in some cases, although there are very few quotable changes. There is a full supply of these lower qualities, but the stock of the better grades of brown cottons remains light, and the market is very strong on these descriptions. Standards and fine browns are sold ahead in some cases, and none of the principal brands show any accumulation. The range of prices is fully sustained by the good demand and limited stocks. Bleached goods are also firm on all of the better makes, with some weakness on the lower grades, but no absolute decline. Fine 4-4 goods are a shade higher in a few instances. Drills have sold to a fair extent in browns for home consumption, and there is some little call for blue goods for export. Colored cottons have been in very fair request and most grades are firmly held. There is an especially strong feeling on stripes of the newer patterns and demins, while ticks and other goods continue to move in limited assortments. The print trade has been restricted by the unfavorable weather that has prevailed during the week, but the distribution has still been fairly liberal and the stocks continue very light. All of the more popular brands are largely sold ahead on their best styles, and these goods, while remaining strong, are without quotable alteration.

Domestic Woolen Goods.—There has been a better inquiry for light weight woolens in a jobbing way, and the supplies of fancy woolens in the finer grades has been considerably reduced during the week. From first hands the business has been light, and the market is wholly unchanged. Low grades of woolens are weak, in consequence of the accumulation of stock. There has been a moderate call from clothing manufacturers here and elsewhere for heavy goods, but their purchases have not become at all spirited as yet. The demand for flannels has been light, although jobbers continue to sell moderate amounts of whites and blues. Beavers, doeskins and overcoatings are quiet at unchanged figures. American dress goods sell to a fair extent in all of the principal brands and remain very firm. Hosiery is in good request and steady.

Foreign Goods.—The dulness in trade has been instrumental in curtailing the orders from our importers for fresh lines of goods, and the arrivals show a very marked decline. Our supplies of imported fabrics are therefore running low, and there is a prospect that, notwithstanding the backwardness of trade, the season will close with the market in a fair condition. There is a moderate call for goods from first hands, and the jobbing trade shows considerable animation. The foreign markets remain very firm, and prices are pretty well maintained here. The auction houses continue to be well supplied with goods, and the sales pass off with considerable animation.

We annex a few particulars of leading articles of domestic manufacture, our prices quoted being those of leading jobbers:
