OUR SUPPLEMENT.

We issue our SUPPLEMENT to-day, further enlarged, containing now, including cover, just one hundred pages. The improvements and extensions introduced the past few months in the tables and remarks, the renewal of the type, and the substitution of full-face head lines for the titles of the companies, add greatly to its usefulness as well as its appearance.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The year closes with our industrial interests in a peculiar situation. Without any panic or special shock, with crops good, mercantile transactions in the aggregate undiminished, loanable funds all the time in abundance, values have for nearly two years steadily dropped as if the country was affected with a kind of commercial dry-rot. To-day the outlook is from a lower level of prices than it was a year ago, and therefore with an increase in failures occurring, but otherwise the change in conditions is immaterial, nothing being apparent (except it may be the uncertainty the silver dollar coinage introduces) which is inconsistent with a healthful development of trade as the new year progresses.

Some are inclined to look upon the movement in Congress to revise the tariff as a disturbing influence during coming months. We can see little in that direction that ought unfavorably to affect our manufacturing industries for any length of time. In fact the majority of them may be benefited, as the proposed reductions are likely to fall largely upon raw materials. Besides, ruling prices for merchandise are in most cases to-day below the limit of protection the existing duties afford, and a reduction of duty could be made without disturbing these relations, and therefore without any further decline in price. For these reasons it seems fair to conclude that tariff revision, if effected, is not of itself likely to prolong the prevailing depression.

Another source of uneasiness just now, with not a few, is the fact that Mr. Carlisle, in the appointment of his committees, has not wholly met the hope of the financial public. His election was the declaration of principle by a political party, and gave promise that a higher rule than expediency would govern his action throughout. On the question mainly at issue he has fully answered expectations, but in constructing the Banking and the Coinage committees it appears as if a lower level had been taken, at least if we are to judge from the former opinions of their chairmen. Perhaps, however, with regard to bank currency, even with that committee as it stands, all that could be expected at this session will be secured, since no Congressman can reasonably object to enlarging the note issues to within ten per cent of the market value of the bonds held; besides, it looks now as if we were to have the surplus revenue wiped out, and therefore bond redemptions stopped by tax reductions.

But with Mr. Bland at the head of the Coinage Committee there seems very little room for hope that our silver-dollar coinage will be suspended. Possibly—though the reports in the daily press discourage the belief—the chairman may, like Mr. Kelley, have experienced a change of heart, for the position Mr. Kelley takes is so obviously correct that no surprise could be felt at seeing the whole silver army falling into line behind him. That, too, would be consistent with the new departure Mr. Bland's party is now making, for how can a body of men that proposes to take away protection from wool and iron and sugar production, consent to a continuance of the royalty now given to those rich silver-mining monopolists! Our readers have seen in the columns of the daily press this week a telegraphic account of a Mexican mob, growing out of a currency evil, and having for its cry "Down with the nickles." Perhaps that incident has a meaning for us. Of course nickle is less valuable than silver, and Mexico is less wealthy than the United States, but the differences seem to be simply of degree. The underlying truth is the same in both cases, that if a country in its coinage laws gives to a metal a fictitious value, its popularity will continue only so long as the deception lasts, and its position is never secure, for no one can tell the amount of such currency credulity will absorb, or the day the mask will drop off.

Another fact which has in some degree disturbed trade circles this week has been the announcement of the important failure of Amos D. Smith & Co., of Providence. That event is however special, and should not and will not permanently affect in any degree general mercantile credits, as the concern in question has been known to be struggling for years under a heavy load of debt, even preventing, as we understand it, the making of necessary renewals and improvements in machinery, which are effective helps in lessening cost of production. Of course the present low prices for cotton goods try firms severely which are so unfavorably situated, for old machinery and deficient capital make poor competitors in times like these. Nor is it presumable that the Providence banks will be inconvenienced by the failure, though it is claimed that they hold about seven or eight hundred thousand dollars of the paper; but their very considerable surplus will easily bring them through, even if the debt proves a total loss. What security they have, if any, is not known.

A favorable feature this week has been a decline in foreign exchange, though there was a partial recovery yesterday. Any decline was unexpected at present, as there is always an unusual demand for bills towards the close of the year. Besides, it was thought that the high rates of interest in London, nearly or about 3 per cent in the open market, would, under the circumstances, serve to keep exchange steady for the present. These higher interest rates in Europe are, however, probably quite temporary. There has been no revival of business to produce such a change. It is rather the natural effect of the usual preparations for money towards the close of the year, added to a special demand from Germany and Paris, and in some degree also is due probably to the two important colonial loans, for which deposit money is just now required. Should there be a drain of gold this way the high rates would of course be prolonged, for the London market is very sensitive to a loss of gold. But bankers are not at the moment anticipating a sufficient drop in sterling to permit such a movement, though it would be hastened by any special shipments of produce. From California we notice that the exports of wheat are now free, the extremely low rates for freight tending to produce that result. In the meantime the stock of wheat in sight this side of the Rocky Mountains continues to increase.

The movements in the stock market this week have been the result of speculative manipulation aided in good part by the contradictory rumors regarding the attitude of the Northwestern and the Burlington & Quincy roads with respect to the Iowa pool, by the reports which have been circulated regarding the financial condition of the Oregon & Trans-Continental Company, and by the rumors affecting the trunk lines. So far as the properties recently controlled by Mr. Villard are concerned, all doubt respecting their value should soon be set at rest by the publication of the report of the investigating committee, which it is stated will be full and complete. As to the trunk line roads, the unsettled condition of their affairs grows out of the appeal from the award by the Commissioner as to the percentages on east-bound business. The decision of the arbitrators cannot long be delayed and as it is, when made, final, there seems little room for anticipating any further contest.

With regard to the Western pool difficulty, there was a meeting at Omaha on Thursday between the managers of the roads parties to the tripartite agreement on the one hand, and the Northwest and the Gould roads on the other, but nothing definite appears to have been done and a postponement took place. The Burlington & Quincy road was not represented at the meeting, and the managers of some of the lines allied with the Union Pacific profess to be greatly alarmed at the attitude assumed by that road. But if current rumor is to be believed, one of the conditions to which the Burlington road is asked to subscribe is that it put its Nebraska business into the Iowa pool, and such a concession it seems almost certain the road can not make. It is to be remembered that the Burlington & Quincy has spent large sums of money in extending its line to Denver and in building branches and feeders in Nebraska, and having made these investments, it is entitled to retain any benefits now accruing, the same as it alone would have to bear any loss which might result. The proposition, therefore, seems wholly unreasonable that it should take no more of this business which it has thus spent millions to obtain, than the other lines which have spent not a cent in that way, for neither Rock Island nor St. Paul has any interest in the territory west of Omaha, although they thus propose to pounce upon the Burlington's business, saying virtually this belongs to us equally with you and we insist that you share it.

The Burlington people probably think that they made all the concession they can afford to make, when a year ago, on the completion of the St. Paul's Omaha line, they at once admitted the St. Paul to full fellowship in the Iowa pool. The position of the Northwest is somewhat different, for that road has comparatively little interest in Nebraska, and might, therefore, be disposed to assent to the tripartite agreement, as it seems to be generally supposed it will do. Indeed, hardly any other course is open to it, for, unlike the Burlington, its line does not extend beyond Omaha, and the road would find itself completely isolated if it held out against the allied lines. While it is clear, however, that the Burlington cannot be expected to come into the alliance, it is also clear that this does not necessarily presage a war of rates. The Burlington could work independently of the other lines, but at the same time strictly maintain the tariff. It is not unlikely that this will ultimately be the outcome of the whole affair. At present, certainly, the indications would seem to point that way.

Railroad returns are, on the whole, still indicative of progress. We have this week the November statement of that greatest of our railroad corporations—the Pennsylvania. This company earns on its lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie over 50 millions a year, and such is the variety of traffic it commands, that it may fairly be taken as reflecting the condition of industrial interests in that section of the country. The road had a very heavy gain in earnings a year ago—over half a million dollars—yet this November, despite the depressed state of trade, it records a further gain of $100,000. This gain has been continuous, too, for many years past—both in gross and net. A point worthy of note in the figures for this year is that the increase is accompanied by a decrease in expenses. To be sure, expenses were very heavy last November, and the present falling off, therefore, may be merely temporary. But it is significant all the same as showing that a limit has been reached in the upward movement of expenses, and taken in conjunction with a similar decrease on the Lake Shore and some other roads recently reporting, suggests whether, in view of the very great increase in expenses since 1879, the railroads have not now a hopeful feature for the immediate future in the possibility of a smaller total for this item. How largely expenses have risen during the last five years, and also how great the augmentation in earnings has been in the same period, is shown in the following statement.

Lines East of Pittsburg.	1883.	1882.	1881.	1880.	1879.

On the lines west of Pittsburg the exhibit is, as heretofore, unsatisfactory. These lines run through a section of country not favored with very good crops of late years, and as the prosperity of the whole section depends so largely upon that of the agricultural interests, the business of the railroads is adversely affected first by the diminished supply of grain traffic, and secondly by the diminution in the volume of general traffic, resulting from the disaster to the farming interests. Still, we have no definite data on this point, since the returns furnished on these lines give no particulars, not even the gross or net receipts, but simply the surplus remaining after allowing for all charges. As thus prepared, however, we find that there was a deficit in November this year of $54,000, while in 1882 there was a surplus of $330,000, in 1881 a surplus of $161,000, and even in 1879 a surplus of $380,000. For the eleven months of the year there is a surplus in 1883 of $1,114,000, but this is nearly $800,000 below the surplus of 1882, which in turn was $800,000 below the surplus of 1881. The present surplus is the smallest since 1879, which was about $30,000 less.

The trading in securities between here and Europe still appears to be confined to the arbitrage brokers. The following shows relative prices in London and New York at the opening each day.

‡ Ex-interest.

Money on call has been a little firmer this week, as is natural toward the close of the year, but the supply is still abundant. The following statement made up from returns collected by us exhibits the week's receipts and shipments of currency and gold by the New York banks.

Week Ending Dec. 28, 1883.	Received by N.Y. Banks.	Shipped by N.Y. Banks.	Net Interior Movement.

Total gold and legal tenders.....	$1,067,000	$1,698,000	Loss. $831,000

* $1,220,000 of this was transferred in the shape of silver certificates by a deposit of gold in the Sub-Treasury.

The above shows the actual changes in the bank holdings of gold and currency caused by this movement to and from the interior. In addition to that movement the banks have lost $800,000 through the operations of the Sub-Treasury. Adding that item, therefore, to the above, we have the following, which should indicate the total loss to the N. Y. Clearing House banks of gold and currency for the week covered by the bank statement to be issued to-day.

Total gold and legal tenders.....	$1,067,000	$2,498,000	Loss. $1,431,000

The Bank of England return shows a decrease of £532,000 bullion for the week, which comprises a loss of £297,000 on account of the movement to the interior, and a loss of $235,000 on account of the export movement out of the country. The Bank of France reports a loss of 1,900,000 francs gold and of 1,650,000 francs silver, and the Bank of Germany since our last shows a decrease of 10,320,000 marks. The following indicates the amount of bullion in the principal European banks this week and at the corresponding date last year.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL AND LAKE SHORE REPORTS.

The preliminary returns (partly estimated) of the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central companies for the calendar year just closing have been issued this week, and are being closely studied. Michigan Central's exhibit must be considered very good, while that of the Lake Shore is not quite so favorable, though considering the circumstances in which the company finds itself placed, it is not unsatisfactory.

Like the Michigan Central, the Lake Shore had an increased number of competitors to contend with on through business, but in addition it has, by purchase of one of these competitors, assumed new obligations. The control of the Nickel Plate road cost the Lake Shore $6,527,000 in its second mortgage bonds, and as the stock acquired will of course yield no return, this at once increased the fixed charges $456,890 per annum. So the company suffered in a double way. It had this increased amount of fixed charges to take care of, and at the same time the new roads could not be deprived of a portion at least of the business they were built to get. Hence its position has not been deemed very strong, and its future regarded as somewhat problematical.

In the light of such circumstances, the present report is encouraging. It shows that in a year of general business depression the road has managed, despite the multiplication of rival lines, to provide for its increased charges, and yet earn enough to meet the 8 per cent dividends which it has paid on its stock. The gross earnings have reached $18,550,000, or only about $200,000 less than the largest ever made, and the net earnings are $7,575,000, out of which latter sum $3,550,000 had to be paid for interest and rentals, leaving for the stock

$4,025,000, or $67,680 more than the amount required for the dividends. In the previous year the balance remaining was $183,512, but in that year the call for interest, &c., was $523,000 less than in the present year. It should be said that in neither year has any allowance been made for the $250,000 required annually for sinking funds on the first mortgage bonds. Were this taken into account there would be a deficit of small amount in both years. But the sinking fund operation is really a process of debt reduction, and there are many companies who decline to consider it a charge against income. The following table will show how the income and earnings of the present year compare with those of the thirteen years preceding.

1883.....	18,550,000	10,975,000	7,575,000	3,550,000	8 14	8 00

Both gross and net earnings, it will here be seen, are larger than in any other twelve months except 1880, which was the most prosperous year ever enjoyed by the railroads, all the conditions then being favorable. It will also be observed that the increase in fixed charges has become quite an item. The debt had been augmented somewhat, even before the purchase of the Nickel-Plate road, on account of new construction and equipment, and there was also an increase in rentals on account of the lease of some additional lines in Michigan; so we find, that, compared with 1881, only two years ago, the requirement for interest, &c., has risen \$825,000 per annum. This is really a more unfavorable feature than any fact yet developed in the business of the road. Except for this addition to the fixed charges, the amount remaining for the stock would have been equal to $9\frac{3}{4}$ per cent, instead of about $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

The company has this year, as in 1882, made up during the last six months the deficiency of the first six months, the former being usually the more profitable period. But nevertheless that period this year falls behind the corresponding period of the previous year, which however was the most profitable half year that the company has ever had. The company then earned at the rate of one per cent a month, or 6-10 per cent for the six months. This year there is a falling off from the heavy totals then recorded of about \$930,000 in gross earnings and \$540,000 in net, and fixed charges having meanwhile increased, the surplus remaining for the stock amounted to only about $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. This loss contrasts with an even heavier gain made in the first half, earnings then exhibiting an increase of over \$1,250,000 in gross and almost \$950,000 in net. The net result of these varying movements on the figures for the whole year, is seen in the table above, showing a moderate gain on 1882 in both gross and net.

The falling off from 1882 in the last half year, it would seem, must have been in progress during the whole of the period. We have not the figures separately by months, but from the report before us and that prepared for the State Railroad Commissioners for the fiscal year ended September 30, we are enabled to make up the totals for the three months from October to December, and give the result below. We also give for comparison the figures for previous years, taken from the company's reports.

L. S. & M. S. EARNINGS AND INCOME LAST QUARTER OF YEAR.

Excepting 1881, when the railroad war was being waged and the crops were short, the balance this year is smaller than in any year of the five. This however, as we have before said, is largely due to an increase in fixed charges, the augmentation here being over $200,000. Gross and net fall considerably below 1882, when the business was exceptionally heavy, but as compared with the other years given the exhibit is fairly favorable. An encouraging feature to be noted in this statement, as well as (to a minor degree) in the table for the full year further above, is the reduction being accomplished in expenses. The total for the three months this year is materially below that of either 1882 or 1881, and is but a trifle above that of 1880. This discloses a way in which a falling off in business, in times like these, may in part be offset.

The report of the Michigan Central will command hardly less attention than that of the Lake Shore. A very close union has been effected between it and the Canada Southern, amounting virtually to consolidation, and the Michigan Central now transfers the whole of its traffic to the Canada Southern lines, instead of in part to the Great Western of Canada. There is naturally therefore not a little curiosity to see how the roads are faring under this change in policy. The statement given out this week does not furnish any comparison with back years, nor does it give the figures of the two roads separately. By combining the totals, however, for past years (Canada Southern and Michigan Central) we get aggregates which may fairly be used in comparison with the results furnished this year on the united system. The following is a table so made up.

COMBINED EARNINGS OF MICHIGAN CENTRAL AND CANADA SOUTHERN.

Years.	Gross Earnings.	Operating Expenses.	Net Earnings.	Interest and Rentals.	Surplus.
1878.....	$9,472,631	$6,437,497	$3,035,134	$2,003,297	$1,031,837
1879.....	10,410,795	7,147,683	3,263,112	2,013,155	1,249,957
1880.....	12,791,428	8,215,092	4,576,336	1,994,210	2,582,126
1881.....	12,303,591	9,404,443	2,899,148	2,371,551	527,597
1882.....	12,457,991	9,268,906	3,189,085	2,481,602	708,483
1883.....	14,002,000	9,700,000	4,300,000	2,475,000	1,825,000

This exhibit is a very good one. Gross earnings are larger than ever before, while net have been exceeded only once—in 1880. The surplus, too, has been but once exceeded, though very largely then. The surplus this year was divided according to agreement, one-third going to the Canada Southern and two-thirds to the Michigan Central company. Out of its proportion the latter declared two dividends of 3 per cent each, and the Canada Southern declared two of 2 per cent each out of its proportion, a small surplus remaining in both instances. As in the case of the Lake Shore, the first half of the year was conspicuous for its improvement on 1882, but the last half also showed some improvement, though on the Lake Shore we had a loss.

The relatively better exhibit made by the Michigan Central than by the Lake Shore is no doubt in part due to the closer union effected with the Canada Southern road, but in part it may also be due to the fact that a larger proportion of the total traffic of the Michigan Central is through traffic—that is to say, local traffic is a more important item on the Lake Shore than on the Michigan Central and Canada Southern; on the latter, indeed, the traffic has heretofore been almost entirely through. Through traffic has been very good this year, while local traffic may have been affected somewhat by the existing business depression. In this way it is possible that the Lake Shore might lose quite a little business, while the Michigan Central was sustaining only trifling losses, which the gain in through business enabled it to overcome. It was because of their large preponderance of through business that the Michigan Central and Canada Southern suffered so much more from the railroad war of 1881 than did the Lake Shore.

As bearing upon the immediate future, this distinction between through and local business should be carefully borne in mind. The outlook for through business at present is good. The stock of grain at all interior markets is very large, and if a demand should arise for it before the opening of the canals, the trunk-line railroads seem sure to get a heavy tonnage as a result. For instance, the stock of all kinds of grain at Chicago on the 22d was 16½ million bushels, or twice what it was a year ago. Taking 56 lbs. as the average weight of a bushel, if 10 million bushels should go forward before the resumption of canal navigation, this would give 280,000 tons of freight, or full seven weeks' tonnage (say 40,000 tons a week), without any allowance for additional grain from farmers' hands to be received after this date. It is clear, therefore, that the railroads have a very favorable prospect before them in this respect, though on the other hand local traffic may not prove so encouraging.

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, Dec. 15, 1893.

As the year approaches its termination a better feeling is manifesting itself, both in commercial and financial circles. The value of money has a hardening tendency, and the open market rates of discount are now only about one-quarter per cent below the official quotation of three per cent. This upward movement is, no doubt, largely due to the augmented requirements of the country, which are usual when the close of the year is not far distant; but apart from this circumstance, there seems to be a more general and substantial demand for money and a better feeling is apparent. The threatened strikes in the cotton and coal trades are likely to be averted, and, as we are assured by Government that our relations with foreign countries are satisfactory, a favorable movement in business is looked forward to early in the new year.

With regard to foreign affairs, however, there is some dissatisfaction with the Government in consequence of its dilatoriness in connection with the position of things in Egypt. We have, as is well known, large interests in Egypt, and the well-being of that country is of great importance to us. Trade with Egypt is now materially curtailed, owing to the uncertainties which prevail, and the value of Egyptian stocks has been depressed. During the last few days, however, more confidence is felt on unconfirmed rumors that the military forces in Egypt were to be strengthened. It was rumored at one period that Indian troops were to keep order on the frontier, and it is now said that Turkish troops will be employed, or that the British forces will return. That the matter is one of urgency cannot be doubted, and it is evident that what is to be done should be done promptly.

Our colonies continue to be large borrowers, and next week two loans will be tendered for, viz., the Cape loan £1,837,500 and a New South Wales loan for £3,000,000. The New South Wales loan, which is to be issued in 5 per cent bonds at a price not below par, will no doubt be fully taken up, but there are some doubts regarding the Cape loan. The prosperity of the former colony is far in advance of the latter, and the country is free from disturbance. Its capacity for development is great, and nothing seems to be left undone tending to increase its prosperity. The Cape of Good Hope has, however, long worked under difficulties, and further borrowing to the extent of nearly £5,000,000 is an operation of considerable boldness. Furthermore, the New South Wales loan, which is to be tendered for only a few days later, is calculated to militate against its success, notwithstanding that the Cape loan is offered at 98, and the latter at 100, per £100 bond. Both loans are to bear 5 per cent interest per annum, and many consider that the Cape loan is too dear.

The Bank of England return published this week is favorable, and the proportion of reserve to liabilities is now 43.82 per cent, against 42.27 per cent last week, showing an increase of about 1½ per cent. The supply of bullion has been augmented to the extent of £118,506, against a recorded efflux of £187,000, which indicates that about £255,000 has been returned from provincial circulation during the week. As there is a diminution of £368,970 in the note circulation, the total reserve has been augmented by £437,476, and now stands at £12,934,561, against £11,262,759 last year. The supply of bullion amounts to £22,066,711, against £20,851,289 in 1882. There has been a moderate increase in the demand for money at the Bank, viz.: of £275,136; but the total of "other securities" is not more than £19,755,161, against £22,197,963 in 1882.

Annexed is a statement showing the present position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, the average quotation for English wheat, the price of middling upland cotton, of No. 40 mule twist, fair 2d quality, and the Clearing House return for the past week, compared with previous years:

As already stated, the demand for money has been increasing during the week, but there has been no pressure. The quotations for short loans have hardened, and the rates of discount have had an upward tendency. We may fully expect that in a few days three per cent will be the minimum quotation for money, both at the Bank of England and in the open market. The value of money in Germany has been rising, and at Calcutta the Bank rate has been advanced to 7 per cent.

The following are the quotations for money and the interest allowed by the discount houses to-day and same day of the previous five weeks:

In reference to the state of the bullion market Messrs. Pixley & Abell remark:

Gold.—There has not been much inquiry for bar gold during the week, but sovereigns to the value of £175,000 have been taken from the Bank for transmission to Egypt, Lisbon and South America; on the other hand, amounts have been received from Australia aggregating £33,000, and these have been sent to the Bank. The "Malwa" has brought £28,500 from Melbourne, the "Para" £4,800 from the West Indies and the "Dalton" £3,510 from Buenos Ayres. The "Tagus" has taken £70,200 to the Brazils and the "Ganges" £5,000 to Bombay.

Silver.—Our quotation of last week, 50 13-16d. per oz., was maintained until yesterday, the amounts on offer having been but small. When the result of the tenders for the Council drafts became known, the market became slightly weaker, and 50 3-4d. was the best rate that could be obtained. The arrivals to be dealt with in the next day or two are £20,000 from the West Indies and £29,000 from Chili. We have received since our last £48,300 from New York and £20,000 from West Indies; total, £68,300. The P. & O. steamer has taken £27,900 to Bombay.

Mexican dollars are tolerably steady, and 49 3-4d. has been obtained for a few small parcels that have come to hand. The "Para" has brought £20,000 from the West Indies, and the French steamer is due with about £60,000 on board. These amounts are not yet dealt with.

The payments into the Treasury from April 1 to December 8 amounted to £55,312,136, against £54,449,123 last year, and the Government expenditure was £55,318,991, against £57,953,466.

Notwithstanding the inactivity of trade, the savings banks' return for the past four weeks shows favorable results. The total fund, including the Post-Office savings banks, is now £86,794,177, against £85,999,791 last month, and £83,989,817 last year. The nation is not, therefore, a tariffless one, and there is every reason for believing that these funds will increase more rapidly as the temperance cause makes progress. The success which has attended that movement has affected the interests of the licensed victuallers to a very considerable extent.

A further evidence of the fair condition of business is the traffic receipts of 21 railways in the United Kingdom, which, during the week ended December 9, amounted, on 14,777 1/2 miles, to £1,143,020, against £1,078,120 last year on 14,616 1/2 miles, showing an increase of 161 miles, or 1.1 per cent, and of £64,900, or 6 per cent.

Tenders for £100,000 5 per cent debentures of the Timaru Harbour Board (New Zealand) were opened on Monday at the Bank of New Zealand. They amounted to only £21,100, at prices ranging from the minimum of £98, to £101 per £100 debenture. The balance was subsequently taken up.

The failure is announced of Messrs. Peyton & Peyton, metallic bedstead manufacturers, of Bordesley Works, Birmingham, with liabilities estimated at fully £100,000. The firm, which had been established over thirty years, had branches in London, Dublin, Glasgow and elsewhere, and at one period was doing the largest business of any house in the trade, more especially with South America.

The wheat trade remains in a very dull and inactive state. The weather has become quite mild, but there is no expectation of additional supplies from Russia, as the prices current here are not sufficiently remunerative to induce merchants to forward produce to ports more distant and still open to navigation. We are, in fact, so heavily weighted with supplies that there is [no prospect of immediate] improvement. The stocks of foreign wheat and flour in granary here are still about three million quarters, and there are nearly 2,000,000 quarters afloat. These important supplies, together with the fact that the visible supply in the United States is unprecedentedly large, are quite sufficient to account for the reserve and caution which millers display, and for the dulness of the trade.

The following are the quantities of wheat, flour and Indian corn estimated to be afloat to the United Kingdom:

	At present.	Last week.	Last year.	1881.
Wheat.....	qrs. 1,825,000	1,773,000	2,135,000	2,717,000

Indian corn.....	263,000	205,000	90,500	237,000

The prominent features in the import returns of grain for the past three months are a very considerable reduction in the receipts of wheat from the United States, while on the other hand the arrivals of flour from that country have been very large, and of wheat from Russia, British India and Australia also upon a very extensive scale. The falling off in the imports of wheat from America in September, October and November, compared with the corresponding period last year, was as much as 6,179,411 cwt. viz. from 11,492,752 cwt. to 5,313,341 cwt., but the receipts of flour have been fully maintained, the total for the current season being 2,499,750 cwt., against 2,291,258 cwt. in 1882. From Russia the imports of wheat have been as much as 4,505,341 cwt., against 2,519,248 cwt., being an increase of 1,986,093 cwt.; those from British India have amounted to 4,123,633 cwt., against 1,507,283 cwt., an increase of 2,616,350 cwt.; and from Australia, 1,153,129 cwt., against 601,096 cwt., an increase of 552,033 cwt. While therefore America has sent us 6,179,411 cwt. of wheat less, Russia, India and Australia have contributed 5,154,476 cwt. more, than in the first three months of last season. Turkey, Roumania and Egypt have been furnishing us with larger supplies, especially the latter country.

The extent of the sales of home-grown wheat, barley and oats in 187 leading markets of England and Wales during the first fifteen weeks of the season, compared with the three previous seasons, is shown in the following statement:

	1883.		1882.		1881.		1880.

Oats.....	20 0	20 9	20 11	21 1

Converting qrs. of wheat into cwts., the totals for the whole kingdom are estimated as follows:

	1883.	1882.	1881.	1880.
Wheat.....	cwt. 15,559,260	12,958,000	12,424,710	11,154,500

*This aggregate is arrived at by multiplying the sales in the 187 markets above by 3 1/2, and that result is reduced to cwt. by multiplying it by 4 1/2. This proportion between the 187 markets and the totals for the kingdom is adopted by the London grain trade and is accepted by it as producing a result approximately correct.

Annexed is a return showing the extent of the imports of cereal produce into the United Kingdom during the first fifteen weeks of the season, the average price of English wheat, the visible supply of wheat in the United States, and the estimated supplies of wheat and flour afloat, compared with previous seasons:

Pittsburg & Western.—A dispatch from Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 27, said: The negotiations looking to the lease of the Pittsburg & Western Railroad to the Jewett interest are stated positively by a stockholder of the former to have fallen through. He also states that if the Pittsburg & Western road is leased at all the Baltimore & Ohio Company will be the lessee.

Washington Cincinnati & St. Louis.—The sale of this railroad to a syndicate composed of A. H. Martin, of New York, H. D. Cooke, of Washington, U. L. Boyce, Vice-President of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, and others, was completed at Harrisonburg, Va., this week. The road is to run from the Shenandoah Valley Railroad in Rockingham County, Va., via Harrisonburg, to the West Virginia line; thence through Pocahontas and Webster counties, West Virginia. The work is to be begun within sixty days.

—The American Savings Bank has been opened at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street. This bank embraces in its list of trustees the names of many business men who are among the best known in New York, including Jos. W. Drexel, Elliott F. Shepard, Judge Brady, Frederick Billings, William H. Fogg, E. D. Morgan, and others. The management of the Bank should undoubtedly be of the best character, and one feature of its operations is the remaining open on Tuesday and Saturday evenings, as well as daily.

—The interest on bonds of the St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba Railroad due January 1, 1884, will be paid at the office of the company, 63 William Street.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, DEC. 28, 1883-5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—With such a year of declining prices as the one now closing, the increase of failures is a natural consequence not at all unexpected. Many weak concerns have kept afloat for months in the hope that a revival of trade would carry them through, but this failing to come, are now forced to succumb. The depression in the iron and cotton goods trades, though no worse than a month ago, remains unabated. Manufacturers in almost every line of industry are being compelled to make reductions in wages in order to bring the cost of their goods down to the market prices, and even with these reductions find it difficult in many cases to go on.

The most important failure in the past week was that of A. D. Smith & Co. of Providence, R. I., who were operating two cotton mills, and whose liabilities to the banks of that city are said to be in the vicinity of $1,000,000. It is to be noted that besides the natural influences of an unfavorable character that have weighed heavily on the firm, there were certain elements of weakness inherent in the concern itself, which really played as much part in causing the failure as the existing depression in business.

In addition to these unfavorable features of the general situation, there is evidently less disposition on the part of capital to seek investment in railway stocks or railway bonds. The markets for stocks, where not in control of those operating for a decline, are being left mainly to the manipulation of large operators, who are compelled to maintain as nearly as possible the prices of the stocks and bonds of the enterprises of which they are the promoters, and which they have in many instances used as collaterals for loans. The theory of the "bears" appears to be that some operators of this class, whether as individuals or construction companies, will be compelled to liquidate, and not a little stock is sold on this supposition, with the effect of furthering the downward descent of prices. The redeeming feature in the situation is that everybody being prepared for the worst, the effects of further unfavorable developments have been largely anticipated and discounted.

At the South business is reported active, and all the Southern railroads appear to be doing a large business. At the West business is less active, and there is a general complaint among merchants of small profits, though collections are being satisfactorily made. Speculation in grain is still causing an accumulation of stocks at the principal Western points. The total stock in Chicago December 22 was 16,600,000 bushels, of which 11,416,000 was wheat, against 8,900,000, of which 5,021,000 was wheat, on December 23, 1882. The present accumulation of grain at that point represents about $13,000,000 or $14,000,000 of capital. Money at the West continues in active demand at 6 and 7 per cent on good collaterals.

The New York money market is still superabundantly supplied with capital. The rate for call loans in the past week has not varied from 2 and 2½ per cent. The rates for time loans on collaterals remain at 4½ and 5½ per cent for four months. Rates for mercantile discounts continue unchanged at 5 and 5½ per cent for first-class double names for sixty days and four months, and 6 and 6½ per cent for single names.

The last weekly statement of the New York banks reflected the plethora of the money market by an increase of $1,688,175 in the surplus reserve of the banks, and at the same time showed a noticeable increase of $3,199,000 in deposits and an increase of $3,060,000 in specie.

The great foreign banks all reported losses of specie at their last weekly statements, viz.: The Bank of England £532,000; the Bank of France 1,900,000 francs in gold and 1,650,000 francs in silver; and the Imperial Bank of Germany 10,320,000 marks. The reserve of notes and specie in the banking department of the Bank of England was reduced this week to 39 13-16 per cent, from 43 3-16 per cent last week, though the Bank rate of discount remains unchanged at 3 per cent.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with the two preceding years in the averages of the New York Clearing House banks.

Exchange.—The New York market for sterling has been somewhat unsettled by the settlements incident to the close of the year, though the current transactions in trade and securities have been on a small scale. The posted rates a week ago were 4 83 and 4 88, since which they have been down to 4 82 and 4 85, and on Friday, the 28th, were advanced to 4 82½ and 4 85½, the rates for actual business being as follows, viz.: Sixty days, 4 81½ @ 4 81¾; demand, 4 84½ @ 4 84¾; cables, 85 @ 4 85½. Commercial bills sold on Friday at 4 80 @ 4 80½.

United States Bonds.—A large demand, a small supply, and steadily-rising prices have been the features of the Government bond market for many months past, and the present week has been no exception to the rule. The 4½s are ¼ higher than a week ago and the 4s ¾ higher.

State and Railroad Bonds.—There has been less business in railroad bonds in the last week and the market has been somewhat feverish, though on the whole prices have been firm for all the best class of investment bonds, the only declines of importance being in the class largely governed by speculative influences. The following shows the range of prices for the principal issues: New York West Shore & Buffalo 5s at 68¾ @ 69½; Texas & Pacific—Rio Grande division—firsts at 74 @ 70 @ 72 @ 71¾; Burlington & Quincy debenture 5s at 91¼ @ 92 @ 91 @ 91¾; Central Pacific gold bonds at 113½ @ 114¾; East Tennessee 5s at 74¼ @ 74 @ 74¾; do. incomes at 28½ @ 28; Kansas Pacific consols at 98 @ 96; New Orleans & Pacific firsts at 88¾ @ 89 @ 88 @ 88¾; Northern Pacific firsts at 105¾ @ 105 @ 105½ @ 105¾; New York Chicago & St. Louis firsts at 102¾ @ 102¾ @ 101¾; Erie second consols at 93 @ 92½ @ 93; Oregon & Trans-Continental firsts at 79¾ @ 80 @ 79¾ @ 80; Richmond & Alleghany 6s at 66¾ @ 65 @ 70; Rome Watertown & Ogdensburg 5s at 67 @ 68½; Atlantic & Pacific incomes at 22½ @ 21 @ 22½; Fort Worth & Denver City 6s at 69 @ 68 @ 69¼; Ohio Central incomes at 10¾; Ohio Southern incomes at 20; Oregon Railway & Navigation firsts at 107¾ @ 108 @ 107½; Wabash general mortgage 6s at 69¼ @ 68.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has again been unsettled and depressed during the week, there being only a few exceptions to the general decline, viz.: Canadian Pacific, Lackawanna, Louisville & Nashville and Rock Island, all of which show fractional advances; but against these, twenty-five of the leading active stocks show declines ranging from ½ to 2½ per cent with exceptional declines ranging from 2½ to 8 per cent on the Northern Pacific group. Mr. Gould's stocks have not been so well supported this week, and show declines ranging from 1½ to 2½. The stocks of all the roads in the Iowa and Nebraska pools have been depressed by the still-pending questions at issue, but on Friday there was a covering of shorts in those stocks, which makes their declines for the week smaller than they otherwise would have been. The Northern Pacific stocks have fluctuated, and declined, owing to reports about the condition of Oregon & Trans-Continental. Another cause of fluctuation is the reported and probable resignation of Mr. Villard from the presidency of the Northern Pacific.

The gross earnings of the Delaware Lackawanna & Western for the eleven months to November 30 were $29,781,735; operating expenses, $21,799,208; net earnings, $7,982,527; deducting $4,523,937 for rentals of leased lines and interest on bonds, leaves $3,458,590, or equal to 13 per cent on the stock.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Richmond & West Point Terminal Railway & Warehouse Company.

(For the year ending Sept. 30, 1883.)

From advance sheets of the annual report, not yet issued, the following abstract is made:

"On Nov. 30, 1882, the total mileage owned, controlled and in operation, amounted to 1,541 3-10 miles; since that date the Georgia Pacific Railway has been extended 152 miles, and there are now under contract and rapidly approaching completion, the following extensions:

"Georgia Pacific Railway, 11 miles; Western North Carolina Railroad, 68 miles; Richmond & Mecklenburg Railroad, 14 5-10 miles; Chester & Lenoir (narrow-gauge) Railroad 17 miles; total, 110 5-10 miles.

"Upon the completion of this work the railroad properties owned, controlled and in operation will be 1,803 miles, as follows, viz.:

"Virginia Midland Railway, 405 5 miles; Western North Carolina Railroad, 274 miles; Georgia Pacific Railway, 313 miles; Charlotte Columbia & Augusta Railroad, 191 miles; Chester & Lenoir Narrow-gauge Railroad, 90 miles; Chester & Cheraw Narrow-gauge Railroad, 29 miles; Atlantic Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, 47 miles; Columbia & Greenville Railroad, 197 miles; Laurens Railway, 31 miles; Spartanburg Union & Columbia Railroad, 68 miles; Asheville & Spartanburg Railroad, 50 miles; Northeastern Railroad of Georgia, 60 8 miles; Knoxville & Augusta Railroad, 16 miles; Richmond & Mecklenburg Railroad, 31 5 miles; total, 1,803 8 miles.

"No construction other than the completion of the extensions above enumerated has been undertaken or is at present projected. The traffic of the various controlled properties during the year has shown a satisfactory increase, and, in case of two of the most important, viz., the Georgia Pacific Railway and the Western North Carolina Railroad, the results have been most gratifying and encouraging.

"The condition of the Virginia Midland Railway during the year has been very materially improved, and, under recent alliances made by the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company, this road now forms a part of the shortest and fastest line from New York to the South and Southwest, with a through service by way of Atlanta to New Orleans.

"The local and through traffic, both of freight and passengers, have largely increased, and show every indication of continued and rapid development. The company failed to declare the interest upon its income bonds, payable 1st July, 1883, in consequence of needed improvements, but has since declared payment of this interest, payable 3 per cent on 1st January, 1884, and 3 per cent additional, payable 1st July, 1884. The earnings give reason to anticipate continued payment of interest upon the income bonds of the company, and a surplus applicable to dividends in the not distant future.

"The Western North Carolina Railroad has shown a surprising increase of gross earnings from the rapid development of local business within the territory it penetrates and controls. The net earnings for the coming year from present traffic will doubtless be sufficient to meet the interest charge upon the $3,090,000 consolidated first mortgage bonds upon the road at present completed; and pending negotiations are expected to result in a large increase of through business from its Western connection." * * *

"The Georgia Pacific Railway has recently been completed from Atlanta to Birmingham and the adjacent coal fields, 185 miles. The Columbus division of this road has also been extended from Columbus, eastward, to a total length of 65 miles, and the construction of 11 miles additional, now nearing completion, secures to this division a heavy coal traffic for Southwestern markets." * * *

"The Charlotte Columbia & Augusta Railroad and leased lines have shown satisfactory results during the past year, as have also the Columbia & Greenville Railroad and leased lines. Both of these railroads are, however, now suffering a reduction of revenue from the legislation of South Carolina, which has imposed most onerous conditions in the act establishing a Railroad Commission and regulating rates" * * *

"On January 1st, 1883, the Terminal Company issued its obligations in the form of trust notes, amounting to $2,000,000, payable January 1st, 1885, bearing 6 per cent interest, and secured by mortgage upon securities. From proceeds of these notes, whereof $1,875,000 have been sold, the indebtedness existing on 30th November, 1882, has been largely funded, and the deferred payments completed upon the purchase of Virginia Midland Railway Company securities, involving the control of that property.

"Inasmuch as the only considerable work remaining to fulfill all previous and existing engagements is the completion of the Pigeon River Branch of the Western North Carolina Railroad, it is to be expected that a conservative policy, involving no new expenditure, will result in increasing revenues from the investments of the company, consequent upon the rapid development of the properties owned and controlled."

Wilmington Columbia & Augusta Railroad Company.

(For the year ending Sept. 30, 1883.)

"The gross earnings are $718,599, being an increase of $25,970 over the previous year. The total expenses are $513,307, leaving a balance of $205,291. There has been an increase in passenger receipts amounting to $25,734, and in through freight transportation of $4,831. In local transportation a decrease of $26,153. This latter decrease is due to a diminution of rates more than any other cause, and at one time there was an indication that there would have to be a still further decrease of rates. The deficiency has been made up in through freight and passenger service, principally "through" travel.

"It is well known to the stockholders that this road, not being able to pay interest on its actual cost to them, had the bonded debt and stock reduced, at the reorganization after sale under an order of foreclosure. The owners now are nearly the same as before the foreclosure sale. This was the only practicable method by which they could reduce the liability of the company. Even thus reduced, it will depend entirely on the rates that may be given to it by the Commissioners of the State of South Carolina, as to whether they can continue to pay interest on its liabilities, reduced three-eighths below its actual cost to the owners. * * *

"The Central Railroad of South Carolina has earned $94,190. After paying rental and deducting all expenses, there has been divided between this road and the Northeastern Railroad Company the sum of $4,502 as the profits since April, 1882. The road is in first rate condition.

The President's report states that the earnings and expenses and income account were:

Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company.

(For the year ending Sept. 30, 1883.)

"While there has been an increase in gross receipts of $14,103 there has been an apparent decrease in net earnings of $13,592. This apparent decrease comes from the purchase of new engines, building new shops and warehouses at Wilmington, and 'betterments' on the road. There being no construction account, all is charged in operating expenses. There has been a diminution in through freights of $7,008; an increase in local freights of $3,204; an increase in through passengers of $18,383; and a decrease in local passengers of $6,974. It has been customary to set aside a certain amount of unexpended money for the purchase of rails, of which $41,639 remains, which properly belongs in net earnings, as so much money was not needed for renewal of rail.

"There are about fifty miles of old iron still in the track, and it will require a greater outlay for rails in the next year than the past. The track has been very much improved, and the improvement will be continued by pressing forward the work of ballasting, for which we have very fine material. The improved condition of the track and rolling stock (which compares favorably with any in the South) is due in the main to the fact that the stockholders have done without dividends a great part of the time for the past eighteen years, and have put the net earnings to the improvement of the property and betterments, instead of dividends. While it was hard on the shareholders at the time, the wisdom of this policy stands verified. Had not this been done, in our hard competition for business, with reduced rates, the receipts of the road instead of gradually increasing, would have diminished."

The earnings, expenses, &c., for three years have been:

Fitchburg Railroad.

(For the year ending Sept. 30, 1883.)

The directors make the forty-second annual report of the business of this railroad.

"The passengers carried over the Troy & Greenfield Railroad have increased from 122,255 in 1882 to 123,553 in 1883; and the tolls paid the Commonwealth for passengers, express and mails have increased from $47,868 in 1882 to $50,490 in 1883. The freight over the same road has increased from 893,712 tons in 1882 to 1,068,534 tons in 1883; and the tolls paid therefor have increased from $117,970 in 1882 to $160,276 in 1883. The total tolls paid the Commonwealth on freight and passenger business have increased from $165,839 in 1882 to $210,767 in 1883, or $44,928. The above payments have been made in accordance with our contract with the State; but in February next they will be revised by the Railroad Commissioners, acting as auditors, and permanently adjusted for the year. The total amount of expenditures for permanent additions and improvements has been, on the Fitchburg Railroad, $40,926; on the Vermont & Massachusetts Railroad, $350,252; for real estate, $9,340, and for new equipment, $40,096; making in all, $440,615." * * *

"In pursuance of the vote of the stockholders at their last annual meeting, the directors have requested the Vermont & Massachusetts Railroad Company to issue its bonds to the extent of $1,000,000 for the purpose, in part, of retiring the outstanding mortgage bonds of said company, and in part of reimbursing this company for expenditures on the Vermont & Massachusetts Railroad; and the same have accordingly been issued at the rate of interest of five per cent per annum."

Utica & Black River Railroad Company.

(For the year ending Sept. 30, 1883.)

The report of Mr. John Thorn, the President, states that the increase in earnings is gratifying, and while that in the passenger account is but slightly in excess of last year, it is all that could reasonably be expected, owing to the reduction in fare instituted by the Legislature of last spring, which, taking effect June 1st, 1883, materially lessened the earnings from this source during the four closing months of the fiscal year. "The amount of expenditures for operating the road is $541,997, and is an increase of $98,545 over those of last year; this increase is partially accounted for by the payment of the several items mentioned in the report of one year ago as being previously contracted for; and we have also put in one thousand tons of steel rails in addition to what was therein enumerated.

"During the year we have been enabled to pay to our stockholders two semi-annual dividends, one of 3 and the other of 4 per cent, from earnings; and also a special distribution of 12 per cent from surplus fund. This last-named amount was derived from the realization of funds expended prior to the year 1880, to aid in the completion of a portion of our connecting lines, and of which $143,000 was from the sale of the bonds issued by the Ogdensburg & Morristown Railroad Company."

"The consolidation of this company with the Black River & Morristown Railroad Company is practically accomplished, the articles of agreement having been ratified by both the companies interested, and which became operative on the first day of October, 1883; by this arrangement we become the owners of thirty-six additional miles of road, involving an increase of about capital stock issued $275,000 and subject to a mortgage of $500,000, the bonds for which have heretofore been guaranteed by this company. The capital stock issued and bonded indebtedness of the company, dating from October 1st, 1883, and representing 134 miles of road, viz., from Utica to Ogdensburg, will be as follows: Capital stock, $2,047,000; bonded debt, $1,750,000."

Central Vermont.—At St. Albans, Chancellor Royce has filed the following decretal order in the Franklin County Clerk's Office in the matter of the petition of the Central Vermont Railroad and the Consolidated Railroad Company of Vermont, recently heard in Chambers at St. Albans: "It is ordered and decreed that the action of the Vermont & Canada Railroad Company and the Consolidated Railroad Company of Vermont, in executing the mortgage described in said petition to secure $7,000,000 of bonds, is hereby ratified and approved, and said mortgage is hereby established as a valid security according to its terms, provided that said mortgage shall in no way impair or lessen the rights of the Rutland Railroad Company, secured by them by the lease heretofore executed by them to the trustees and managers of the Vermont Central and Vermont & Canada roads. In the matter of the petition of the Central Vermont and Consolidated companies, that the Central Vermont Railroad Company may be discharged as receivers and managers, so far as the possession and management of the Vermont Central and Vermont & Canada roads are concerned, the Chancellor orders a hearing on the petition to take place on the 17th of January next. Pending this hearing the Vermont & Canada Railway meeting stands adjourned to January 18.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul.—This company has completed its line from Sigourney into and through Ottumwa. On and after Jan. 1 trains will be running on this part of the line between Ottumwa and Sigourney, and by the 1st of May next the entire line from Cedar Rapids to Ottumwa is expected to be completed and in operation, a distance of about ninety miles. This is the most important and extensive line of railway construction under way in Iowa during the current year. This is intended to give to the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul a southwestern connection for its two roads entering at Cedar Rapids.

East Tenn. Va. & Georgia—Norfolk & Western.—The circular of Messrs. John H. Davis & Co. Dec. 28 had the following: "Important action by the directors of the East Tennessee company was taken this afternoon. It was voted to turn over to the Western North Carolina road of the Richmond & Danville system the business of the Memphis & Charleston road formerly given to the Norfolk & Western Company. A committee of three was appointed to confer with Norfolk & Western to see if terms could be agreed upon for a consolidation of Norfolk & Western with East Tennessee. It is considered unlikely that any consolidation will be arranged. The traffic agreement with Richmond & Danville will increase the earnings of that road materially. The West Point Terminal Company is a large holder of the securities of the Western North Carolina road which will receive the traffic from the East Tennessee lines."

Evansville & Terre Haute.—The directors of the Evansville & Terre Haute Railroad Company have declared a 20 per cent stock dividend. The capital stock of the company is $3,000,000, $500,000 of which has been in its treasury since its organization, and has long since been listed at the Stock Exchange. The action of the directors, therefore, is not an increase of the capital stock.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.—The following is the statement for the years 1882 and 1883 presented at the Lake Shore meeting, the earnings for December, 1883, being partly estimated:

Gross earnings.....	$18,225,639	$18,550,000
Operating expenses and taxes.....	11,057,807	10,975,000

Increase in gross earnings.....		$324,361
Decrease in operating expenses.....		82,507
Increase in net earnings.....		$407,168

For the full year 1883 the net earnings were $407,168 larger than in 1882, while interest charges, &c., increased $523,000.

The money article of the New York Tribune analyzes the earnings for each half of the year and for the past three months as follows. "The net earnings of the first six months—January 1 to June 30—showed an increase of $948,792, so that the net earnings of the last six months—July 1 to December 31—show a decrease of $541,624. The following statement divides the year's business between the periods of the first and last six months; and compares it with that of the same periods of 1882:

LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN.

Surplus for the year..	$183,512	$67,680	Dec. $115,832

"It will be observed that while the total net earnings for the whole year of 1883 are set down at $407,168 more than for 1882, the first charges of 1883 are $523,000 greater than for 1882, so that the balance is $115,832 less than in 1882, or, after paying dividends of 8 per cent, is only $67,680. A statement of the business of the last three months—October 1 to December 31—however, presents more immediate interest, in that, as compared with the same three months of 1882, it shows very important differences. The comparison is as follows:

Oct. 1 to Dec. 31—

Manhattan Elevated.—The annual dividend has been declared on the first preferred stock and the following notice is published.

I have arranged with the Mercantile Trust Company to purchase from the first preferred stockholders of the Manhattan Railway Company, in whose favor a dividend was declared payable on 2d prox., their claim to said dividends, upon their assignment to me of such claims, accompanied by an assignment of their claims to a dividend from the New York Elevated Railroad Company for like amount, in case the merger agreement between the three elevated railroad companies should be adjudged invalid.

The New England connection is over the Boston Hoosac Tunnel & Western Railway, which has been extended to a connection with the West Shore at Rotterdam Junction. The West Shore has obtained equal rights over the Niagara Falls & Suspension Bridge Division of the Erie, and will use that line as the connecting link between the West Shore at Buffalo and the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk Railway at Suspension Bridge. Through cars will be run over the Great Western & Chicago and Grand Trunk railways.

Norfolk & Western Railroad Company.—The statement of earnings and expenses for November, and for the 11 months from January 1, have been as follows:

—November—
	1883.	1882.
Gross earnings.....	$271,278	$261,234

Net earnings.....	$1,217,215	$1,005,980

—The board of directors of the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company has authorized the issue of a dividend of $3 50 per share upon the preferred stock, payable in scrip on and after Jan. 15. The scrip is convertible into what is called a convertible debenture bond, maturing in 10 years, or may be exchanged for stock at par at any time within that period. The amount of the dividend, calculated from the present outstanding stock, is $525,000. The directors also approved contracts for the construction of the Cripple Creek extension of the New River Division, and for important terminal facilities at Norfolk.

Oregon Improvement Company.—The Treasurer of the Oregon Improvement Company writes to the Boston Transcript to correct some misstatements. He says: "Referring to the statement in your financial columns, in a recent number, that the Oregon Improvement Company had a floating debt of $1,000,000, permit me to say that, as an offset to this debt, the company has acquired, since the last annual report, productive property costing over $1,400,000, the bulk of which is represented by the Pacific Coast Railway (65 miles, newly built), by additions to the Columbia & Puget Sound Railway, by a new iron steamship, and by the purchase of additional coal lands in Washington Territory. The exact cost of the properties acquired and the improvements made is $1,431,958. Your statement that Boston parties took the $2,000,000 of new stock of the company issued last summer is in part incorrect. One million was taken by Mr. Henry Villard, who now holds the same. The company has earned during the year a surplus of more than $400,000 over and above the interest on its bonded debt and dividend (7½ per cent) on its stock."

Pennsylvania Railroad.—The gross and net earnings in Nov., 1882 and 1883, are specially compiled for the CHRONICLE in the table below. In November, 1883, there was an increase of $99,654 in gross earnings and an increase of $254,515 in the net. For the eleven months there was an increase in 1883 of $2,320,077 in gross and $905,299 in net earnings.

Phila. & Reading—Susquehanna & Tidewater Canal.—Ex-Attorney-General Charles J. M. Gwinn, as counsel for the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, appeared before the Board of Public Works at Annapolis, Dec. 13, in reference to the adjustment of the mortgage debt on account of the Susquehanna & Tidewater Canal. The railroad company has possession of this canal under a lease in which the company stipulates to pay the State an annual interest of $60,000 on the mortgage of $1,000,000. The mortgage continues among the unproductive assets of the State, the unpaid interest amounting to $354,000. The act of 1880, chapter 440, authorized the Treasurer of the State to accept the debenture guaranteed scrip, with interest coupons attached, for arrears of interest to July 1, 1879, which, however, was not paid.

After an interchange of views it was agreed that Mr. Gwinn, after a correspondence with President Gowen, should submit a definite proposition for settlement to the Board of Public Works of Maryland. This was done by Mr. Gwinn, and after an informal discussion the Board submitted other proposals for the consideration of the Reading managers. The terms offered by either party have not been made public.

Texas & St. Louis.—The St. Louis Missouri Republican says: "The stock and bond re-adjustment scheme of the Texas & St. Louis seems fairly bound to carry. Of the bondholders representing $600,000 in bonds, who recently met at New York, and were at first somewhat opposed to the plan, quite a large proportion have signed the re-adjustment agreement. One St. Louis party, owning $10,000 in bonds, is still holding out, but, with these exceptions, the project has been assented to by the greater proportion of the different classes of bondholders. It is not necessary to the success of the plan that these other parties should come in, as the great majority of security-holders have already signed the agreement; but if the present outstanding bonds are brought into the scheme, the cost of technical foreclosure proceedings is rendered unnecessary, as even a friendly foreclosure involves considerable expense."

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Dec. 23, 1883.

To the quieting effect upon trade of the holiday season has been added a heavy snowfall throughout the West and North, obstructing railroad trains and making our streets nearly impassable to loaded vehicles. The Committee of Ways and Means has been announced in the Lower House of Congress, and gives assurance of a strong effort to reduce the burden of taxation which is weighing down the business of the country. Failures of importance continue to be announced, but, it is thought, early in the new year the state of mercantile affairs will be cleared up somewhat, and credits assume a sounder basis. All classes of merchandise are so cheap that changes will probably be for the better.

There has been a larger speculation in lard during the week and values have been advanced. The market has sympathized with the West and the pronounced strength in corn. Latterly a realizing movement, caused by advices from France that the admission of products of American swine is to be delayed, has depressed values. Pork here has been quiet, but in Chicago the speculation has been liberal and prices advanced. To-day lard here re-acted downward; there were free sales to realize and a "short" interest was also created. January sold at 9 05@9 12c.; February 9 10@9 20c.; March 9 28@9 30c.; April 9 36c.; May 9 46c. January closed weak 9 03@9 05c.; February 9 10@9 12c.; March 9 20@9 21c.; April 9 29@9 31c.; May 9 37@9 40c. On the spot Western prime sold at 9 07½@9 10c.; refined for the Continent 9 35c., and South America 9 65c. Mess pork was easier and dull at $14 75@ $15 25; clear-back sold at $18. Beef hams were quiet at $23 50@$24 for Western prime. Beef remains quiet at $24@ $26 for city extra India mess. Tallow was quiet at 7½@7½c. for prime and stearine was still quoted at 9½@9¼c. for prime and 9@9½c. for oleomargarine. Butter and cheese remain quite firm.

Rio coffee on the spot has been more active at an advance to 12¼c. for fair; options have sold very freely, and with higher prices in Europe and smaller receipts at Rio de Janeiro, the market here has continued to advance. The closing prices were firm at 10 50@10 55c. for January, 10 75@10 80c. for February, 10 85@10 90c. for March, 10 90@10 95c. for April and 10 95@11c. for May. Mild grades have been rather more active at steady prices. Tea has been firm but quiet as a rule, though to-day there was a better business for future delivery, the sales reaching 150,000 pounds at 22½c. for Japan for March, 22¼c. for do. for April, 31c. for black for April and 31½c. for do. for May. Rice has been firm, with a fair demand. Molasses has been steady and moderately active. Raw sugar has been quiet and to a great extent nominal at 6½c. for fair refining muscovado, and 7c. for 96-degrees test centrifugal; refined has sold moderately only; to-day standard "A" for July sold at 7 75c. The closing quotations on the spot were 8¼c. for crushed and cut loaf, 8½@8½c. for powdered, 7½@7 15-16c. for granulated and 7½@7½c. for standard "A."

Kentucky tobacco has continued dull, alike for export and home consumption; sales are only 100 hhds; lugs are quoted 7@8c. and leaf 8½@11½c. Seed leaf has also been dull, but recent prices are maintained. The sales embrace 650 cases, including 300 cases crop 1882, Pennsylvania, 10@20c.; 100 cases crop 1881, Pennsylvania, 8½@11c.; 100 cases crop 1882, Wisconsin Havana, 13@20c.; 50 cases crop 1882, New England, 11@13c., and 100 cases sundries, 4@18c.; also 350 bales Havana, 80c.@$1 15, and 150 bales Sumatra, $1 30@1 50.

In naval stores little of interest has occurred; spirits turpentine is quoted at 34½@35c., and strained to good strained rosins at $1 50@1 55, though business is very slow. Refined petroleum has been further advanced to 9¼c. for early, and 9½c. for late, January delivery of 70 abel test. Crude certificates have been without marked changes; the fluctuations have been small and the speculation limited. To-day the opening figures were $1 13½, highest $1 13½, lowest $1 13, closing at $1 13¼.

Ocean freight room has been depressed and very dull. There is a large fleet in at this moment seeking charter, and an unsatisfactory tone prevails. The feature of the week has been the charter of an iron steamship to Fiume, Austria, with 10,000 bbls. crude petroleum at 1 per cent less insurance risk than that required for wooden ships. This is a new departure, and if successful will tend to further displace wooden carriers from the ocean. To-day grain to Liverpool by steam was taken at 1½d.; flour, 10s; bacon, 15@20s.; cheese, 20@25s.; cotton, 3-16@13-64d.; grain to London by steam, 3¼d.; do. to Glasgow by steam, 2¼d.; crude petroleum to Cetta or Marseilles, 3s. 9d.; refined do. to the United Kingdom, 3s. 9d.; cases to Calcutta, 20c.

Cotton for future delivery at this market further advanced on Saturday last. Liverpool advices were better, New Orleans active, and the receipts at the ports materially reduced. Confidence of speculators for the rise was very strong; there were some buying orders from the South, and the members of our Cotton Exchange were generally "long" of the market at the close. But on Wednesday, after the close for Christmas, the market opened weak, and closed 7@9 points lower. The receipts at the ports in the interval had been pretty full, stocks showed an uncomfortable accumulation and discouraging reports had been received regarding the progress of labor troubles in the Lancashire district, while the failure of Amos D. Smith & Co. of Providence, announced that day, shows an unfavorable state of the trade in this country. There was consequently a good deal of selling to realize profits. On Thursday the opening was depressed. Liverpool accounts were weak, but the receipts at the ports were small. New Orleans reported an advance in futures, and confidence revived, causing not only a recovery of the early decline but a slight advance in the distant futures. The feature of the day, however, were the dealings in January options. There were very free notices for delivery on contracts for that month, and they were freely sold or exchanged for the later months a heavy premium being paid in the latter cases by the holders of January contracts. To-day Liverpool and New Orleans were reported active and buoyant, and our market fully responded, with a brisk demand to cover contracts, and the speculation for the rise stimulated by the reduced receipts at the interior towns; but the close was quieter, with part of the advance lost. Cotton on the spot has been dull and weak until to-day. Only a limited business for home consumption has been reported. To-day the business continued small, but holders were firmer and quotations were advanced 1-16c., middling uplands closing at 10 7-16c.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 509,000 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 1,007 bales, including 10 for export, 755 for consumption, 242 for speculation and — in transit. Of the above, — bales were to arrive. The following are the official quotations for each day of the past week.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY OF COTTON to-night, as made up by cable and telegraph, is as follows. The Continental stocks, as well as those for Great Britain and the afloat, are this week's returns, and consequently all the European figures are brought down to Thursday evening. But to make the totals the complete figures for to-night (Dec. 28), we add the item of exports from the United States, including in it the exports of Friday only.

The imports into Continental ports this week have been 45,000 bales.

The above figures indicate an increase in the cotton in sight to-night of 314,739 bales as compared with the same date of 1882, an increase of 348,365 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1881 and an increase of 634,421 bales as compared with 1880.

AT THE INTERIOR TOWNS the movement—that is the receipts for the week and since Sept. 1, the shipments for the week, and the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding period of 1881-82—is set out in detail in the following statement:

* This year's figures estimated.

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have increased during the week 1,946 bales, and are to-night 48,994 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 66,670 bales less than the same week last year, and since September 1 the receipts at all the towns are 206,933 bales less than for the same time in 1882.

RECEIPTS FROM THE PLANTATIONS.—The following table is prepared for the purpose of indicating the actual movement each week from the plantations. Receipts at the outports are sometimes misleading, as they are made up more largely one year than another at the expense of the interior stocks. We reach therefore, a safer conclusion through a comparative statement like the following. In reply to frequent inquiries we will add that these figures, of course, do not include overland receipts or Southern consumption; they are simply a statement of the weekly movement from the plantations of that part of the crop which finally reaches the market through the out-ports.

The above statement shows—1. That the total receipts from the plantations since September 1, in 1883, were 3,789,504 bales; in 1882 were 3,824,832 bales; in 1881 were 3,654,274 bales.

2.—That, although the receipts at the out-ports the past week were 201,686 bales, the actual movement from plantations was only 200,419 bales, the balance being taken from the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 294,785 bales and for 1881 they were 210,186 bales.

AMOUNT OF COTTON IN SIGHT DECEMBER 23.—In the table below we give the receipts from plantations in another form, and add to them the net overland movement to December 1, and also the takings by Southern spinners to the same date, so as to give substantially the amount of cotton now in sight.

Receipts at the ports to Dec. 23	3,416,350	3,461,462	3,233,113	3,454,099

Total in sight December 23..	4,137,756	4,158,944	3,945,184	4,033,230

It will be seen by the above that the decrease in amount in sight to-night, as compared with last year, is 21,188 bales, and that the increase as compared with 1881 is 192,572 bales, and with 1880 is 104,526 bales.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock December 27, 1883, and December 28, 1882.

New Orleans reported below high-water mark of 1871 until Sept. 9, 1874, when the zero of gauge was changed to high-water mark of April 15 and 16, 1874, which is 6-10ths of a foot above 1871, or 16 feet above low-water mark at that point.

INDIA COTTON MOVEMENT FROM ALL PORTS.—We have re-arranged our India service so as to make our reports more detailed and at the same time more accurate. We had found it impossible to keep out of our figures, as cabled to us for the ports other than Bombay, cargoes which proved only to be shipments from one India port to another. The plan now followed relieves us from the danger of this inaccuracy and keeps the totals correct. We first give the Bombay statement for the week and year, bringing the figures down to December 27.

BOMBAY RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS FOR FOUR YEARS.

Year	Shipments this week.			Shipments since Jan. 1.			Receipts.

According to the foregoing, Bombay appears to show a decrease compared with last year in the week's receipts of 7,000 bales, and an increase in shipments of 5,000 bales, and the shipments since January 1 show a decrease of 126,000 bales. The movement at Calcutta, Madras and other India ports for the last reported week and since the 1st of January, for two years has been as follows. "Other ports" cover Ceylon, Tuticorin, Kurrachee and Coconada.

The above totals for the week show that the movement from the ports other than Bombay is 9,600 bales less than same week last year. For the whole of India, therefore, the total shipments since January 1, 1883, and for the corresponding periods of the two previous years, are as follows.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S ESTIMATE OF THE COTTON CROP FOR 1883.—Mr. Dodge, in a report on the crops, just issued, says that the cotton product as shown by the December returns is about 6,000,000 bales. He further states that there will be another investigation after the close of the cotton harvest, and the shipment of a large portion of the crop, when precise results can be approached more nearly than has hitherto been possible.

LIVERPOOL COTTON EXCHANGE AND MR. RANGER.—That Mr. Morris Ranger has been expelled by a large majority from the Liverpool Cotton Association cannot perhaps occasion any great surprise, yet it seems to be a somewhat harsh measure. So long as the great speculator was successful and paid large commissions, he was of high repute; nevertheless his colossal operations did great mischief and ruined many. But wherein lies the main fault? Without bad laws this last crisis could never have occurred. The association, smarting under the disgrace, endeavors to throw the responsibility from itself and expels Mr. Ranger; yet it is not so very long since, when a system of margins was urged before the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, that the proposition was voted down, after the President had expressed himself to the effect that such a measure would be derogatory to the Liverpool Cotton Exchange, inasmuch as it would show a want of confidence that was utterly undeserved. The unsafe manner of conducting the future business was consequently continued. Without the payment of margins it could be kept, and was kept, in few hands, until, lulled into undue security, the crisis came at last. Even now there seems to be but a comparatively small number in favor of fortnightly settlements, though without margins. After the late bitter experience, such a measure may be expected to work satisfactorily for a time; but does it not occur to speculators that they ought not to be exposed to extraneous risks, and that these cannot be avoided without margins?

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—There has been a fair jobbing business transacted since our last report, and the market is steady, holders not forcing goods, and it is only on large parcels that any concession will be made. We do not hear of any transactions of importance, the inquiry being for present wants, and the market closes at 9 1/4c. for 1 1/2 lbs., 9 1/4c. for 1 1/4 lbs., 10 1/2c. for 2 lbs. and 11 1/4c. for standard grade. Butts are rather neglected at the moment, and beyond a few small orders the market is quiet. Prices are nominal in the absence of business, and at the close dealers are quoting 2 1/4 @ 2 1/2c. for paper grades and 2 9-16 @ 2 3/4c. for bagging qualities.

COMPARATIVE PORT RECEIPTS AND DAILY CROP MOVEMENT.—A comparison of the port movement by weeks is not accurate as the weeks in different years do not end on the same day of the month. We have consequently added to our other standing tables a daily and monthly statement, that the reader may constantly have before him the data for seeing the exact relative movement for the years named. The movement each month since September 1, 1883, has been as follows.

Monthly Receipts.	Year Beginning September 1.
	1883.	1882.	1881.	1880.	1879.	1878.

Percentage of tot. port receipts Nov. 30..	39.90	47.81	41.42	43.27	39.51
This statement shows that up to Nov. 30 the receipts at the ports this year were 18,347 bales more than in 1882 and 163,239 bales more than at the same time in 1881. By adding to the above totals to Nov. 30 the daily receipts since that time, we shall be able to reach an exact comparison of the movement for the different years.

QUEEN, steamer (Br.), before reported, from Charleston for Reval, ashore at Nargan. A steamer arrived at Reval, Dec. 10, from steamer Queen (Br.), with 105 bales cotton. Total salvaged, 1,250 bales; three salvage steamers were at work on above date.

YUCATAN, steamer (Br.), before reported, at Liverpool: The 12 bales of cotton picked up by steamer Yucatan (Br.) were in the custom house at Liverpool Dec. 7. They were found on Nov. 19 in lat. 24° 20' N. lon. 81° W., and are marked as follows: One "F.H.B.," one "E.A.T.," two "O.B.P.D.," two "S.F.E.," one "L.," in a circle "C.," the remaining five have no marks.

SAMPO, bark (Russ.), Galenus, at Liverpool, Dec. 23, from Norfolk, had bulwarks considerably damaged.

VIRGINIA, bark (of Bath, Me.), from New Orleans, Oct. 25, with 90 bales cotton and other cargo, for Bremen, put into St. Thomas Dec. 20, on her beam ends, leaking badly, rudder twisted, hull seriously strained, and other damage.

A dispatch from Key West, Fla., Dec. 27, says: About 350 bales of cotton have been picked up by wreckers and brought to this port, and it is thought that an unknown steamer grounded on the Florida Reefs about Dec. 5. The steamer Egyptian Monarch (Br.), which arrived at Liverpool Dec. 4, reported having jettisoned about 300 bales in the Florida Gulf (as before reported), but as the number of bales recovered is considerably in excess of this, and more is being brought in every day, it gives credence to the supposition that another vessel grounded.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, P. M., Dec. 28, 1883.

Flour has been quiet both for export and home consumption. The receipts of most kinds, whether from spring or winter wheat, have been liberal, though such cheap grades as No. 2 and superfine have been in only moderate supply. Of most descriptions, however, the supply is more than ample, and, while the domestic trade is trifling, the unfavorable state of foreign markets acts as a check on export business. The tendency of prices has, therefore, been downward, though no marked changes have taken place. To-day the market was dull and weak.

Wheat has been very dull for export, and the speculative business has, as a rule, also been light. There has been an increase of 413,038 bushels in the American visible supply, and this fact, together with the dulness of trade and declining prices in Chicago, has had a depressing effect on quotations here. The heavy snows at the West, being beneficial to the winter wheat, have also had a tendency to depress prices, though their effect would be more immediately helpful in such a month as March. The interruption of two holidays during the week has naturally had a tendency to reduce the volume of transactions, but the fact that the foreign markets are over supplied and that prices are relatively higher here than abroad, has had even a more unfavorable effect upon business. Towards the close of the week, however, though options were weak, cash wheat showed more steadiness, since, notwithstanding the increase in the visible supply, the receipts at the West were not so large as had been expected, while it was reported that some former "bears" at Chicago had taken the bull side of the market. To-day cash was firm, but options were a fraction lower, with moderate trading. No. 2 red sold at $1 14½ in elevator, $1 11¼@1 11½ for January, $1 13¼@1 13¾ for February, $1 15½@1 15¾ for March and $1 18½@1 19¼ for May. Options closed steady at $1 11½ for January, $1 13½ for February, $1 15½ for March and $1 19 for May. These prices show a decline for the week of 1½ to 2c.

Indian corn has been dull on foreign account, and at times the speculative transactions have been trifling. Latterly, however, the trading in options has increased. Much of the corn arriving is of inferior grade, and as a result that which will be readily received on contracts has been firm. January corn is at a material premium in Chicago compared with other months, and it is expected that this fact will result in a somewhat more rapid marketing of the crop at that point, though it is also stated that that month is so heavily oversold that a corner is almost inevitable. The recent warm and rainy weather, it is contended, did not a little to still further injure the yield, but the present cold and clear weather, it is considered, will in a measure offset this fact. Meanwhile the market is, as usual at the close of the year, in a somewhat sluggish state, and the fluctuations in prices are within a comparatively narrow range. To-day cash corn was quiet but firm, while options sold moderately at a decline of ¼ to ½c. No. 2 mixed in elevator sold at 65c., and No. 3 at 59@59½c. New Western white was quoted at 60@65c., but old was considered worth 67@70c. No. 2 mixed closed at 64½c. for January, 65½c. for February and 68c. for May; these figures being 1 to 1½c. lower than those of a week ago.

Rye and barley have not sold at all freely, and have shown little change in price. Oats have been quiet in the main, and latterly have declined in sympathy with the depression in corn. To-day the market was quiet and slightly lower. No. 2 mixed sold at 40½c. for January, 41½@41½c. for February and 44@44½c. for May.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., Dec. 28, 1883.

The past week has witnessed a continuation of the dullness usually experienced in the wholesale branches of the dry goods trade during the holiday season. The demand at first hands was exceedingly light, jobbers having held aloof from the market in order to take account of stock and close up the transactions of the year. Some package buyers from the South and Southwest have already appeared in the market for spring supplies, but they have thus far done little more than make memoranda as a basis for future operations. The late depression in cotton goods has led to the failure of a prominent manufacturing concern in Rhode Island (Messrs Amos D. Smith & Co.) running 87,000 spindles. The liabilities are very heavy, and will probably reach $1,700,000, but no definite information on this point has been ascertained, nor is the amount of assets known as yet.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods for the week were 3,412 packages, including 969 to Great Britain, 872 to China, 532 to Brazil, 272 to Venezuela, 158 to U. S. of Colombia, 157 to Sandwich Islands, 116 to Santo Domingo, etc. Business was very light with the commission houses, jobbers having restricted their purchases to such small assorted lots of plain and colored cottons as were actually required for filling orders, while there was a very limited demand by converters and the manufacturing trade. Prices are without quotable change, but some readjustment of values will probably be made in the early part of next month. Print cloths were in moderate demand at last quotations, and the year will probably close with a stock of nearly one million pieces in the hands of manufacturers and speculators. Prints have met with a little more attention from early buyers, and some fair orders were placed for dress ginghams, chambrays, seersuckers and cotton hosiery for future delivery.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—There was a continued light demand for men's-wear woollens at agents' hands, buyers having seemingly determined to defer operations until the opening of next year. Some orders have, however, been placed for worsted coatings, and there was rather more inquiry for spring cloakings, ladies' cloths and Jersey cloths by the manufacturing trade. Jobbers have experienced a slightly improved demand for small parcels of flannels and blankets, the prevailing cold weather having enabled retailers to place fair quantities of these goods with consumers. Cashmeres, buntings and all-wool and worsted fabrics (adapted to the spring trade) were in fair demand for future delivery, and there was a steady inquiry for carpets resulting in a pretty good business. Wool hosiery and knit underwear, also fancy knit woollens, ruled quiet in agents' hands, but fair sales were reported by jobbers.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS have been very quiet in the hands of importers and jobbers, and but little improvement in the demand is looked for until new importations for the spring trade arrive. Some inquiry has been made for Hamburg embroideries and certain makes of white goods by manufacturers, but thus far few transactions are reported in this connection, a good deal of caution having been manifested by intending buyers.
