THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The markets have been in a very unsettled state during the week. This has been the work of a combination of unfavorable circumstances, most of them merely temporary and all of them exaggerated by those who are interested in lower prices at the Stock Exchange. No class of operators could have power to arrest the favorable course of events were it not for the nervousness which prevails so widely in financial circles on account of the constantly advancing rates for foreign exchange. With the anxiety respecting the currency which that movement excites, with new legal tender notes given for the monthly purchases of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  million ounces of silver forced into circulation in weekly regularity notwithstanding the banks are so full of idle money, and with the agitators in Washington advocating, devising and actually pushing new plans for disturbing our currency stability, who can wonder when each week also brings added signs of another export movement of gold, that every unfavorable whisper should not only find ready belief, but quickly assume an exaggerated form.

Apparently a substantial setback to the progress making in railroad affairs has been the smaller earnings reported from so many districts. Those from the South have been anticipated all along, as being sure to occur as soon as the smaller cotton crop should begin to disclose its decreased proportions by a smaller movement. Unfortunately, however, a decline in shipments of cotton came concurrently with loss to the railroads from heavy rains and floods and less favorable planting and business conditions which have lessened the volume of all traffic. But rains and floods are only a temporary interference, and in a month or two such of the influences mentioned as are of a more permanent character will in good part have lost their severity, for in earnings we shall be comparing with a corresponding smaller movement a year ago. Then, too, it would be a wonder were cotton values not to advance as the season progresses. If we can put confidence in Mr. Ellison's estimates of the world's supply and consumption for future months, which we have received by cable and give in a subsequent article to-day, there will be a substantial loss in the amount of cotton in sight on the first of October 1892 compared with October 1891. Then if the iron market should improve too with the opening of spring, when the railroads will again be able to go to work in the North laying rails, affairs in the South would take on a very different aspect.

As to the reduced railroad earnings in other sections, especially in the West, it is a very temporary affair and has been fully explained by us on previous occasions, so that we need not stop here to remark upon it. Much has been made of a small decrease reported one week in Atchison (a week during which part of the road was snowed in), and it illustrates how sensitive the feeling is in financial circles that this small decrease, especially under the circumstances which existed, could have helped to give currency to a rumor that Atchison had defaulted on its Colorado

Midland guaranty (calling on February 1 for only a little over ninety thousand dollars) and that the traders should have been enabled through such rumors to depress some of its securities two or three points. When we remember that the Atchison is a road that has averaged of late  $1\frac{1}{2}$  million dollars net earnings every month, that its December net though only  $1\frac{1}{4}$  millions is still \$312,895 larger than for December 1890, while its net for the last six months of 1891 shows an increase of \$1,580,208 over the same six months of the previous year;—when these facts are remembered one cannot help being surprised even in this sensitive period at the gullibility the public manifested.

The flow of money from the interior has proved to be not quite so much of a feature this week, while the shipments have been heavier. Our banks are paying interest for as large an amount of deposits as they care to, so long as rates for money continue so low, and hence the rivalry to pile up funds has become a trifle less apparent in some quarters than it was. We may assume that this feeling has checked the inflow in some measure. On the other hand, a very considerable demand for money has sprung up from outside cities. From Chicago and other Western banks notes have been sent here, large in the aggregate, for rediscount, while some Eastern corporations, and particularly Eastern cities, are borrowing freely, the latter on municipal obligations given in anticipation of the collection of taxes late in the fall. We hear of some such transactions by Eastern cities for as long as ten months, at as low as 3 per cent; it does not need to be said that the borrower was first-class. It is claimed that money is cheaper in New York than in any other part of the country. Deposits in our Clearing House institutions last Saturday reached $509,514,000; as we said last week, the largest previous aggregate recorded since the resumption of specie payments was on July 6, 1889, when the total deposits were $445,797,500. Last week's return also showed a surplus of $36,020,900, and as five of the larger banks held only $12,161,400, the remainder must have been well distributed. These facts, added to the further fact that loans aggregated but $453,582,700, show why money is cheap.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned during the week at  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent and at 1 per cent, averaging 2 per cent; renewals were made at 2 per cent, and banks and trust companies quote 2 per cent as the minimum, while some obtain  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. Time loans are freely offered and the demand is fair; rates on first-class Stock Exchange collateral are 2 per cent for thirty days,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for sixty days, 3 to  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for ninety days to four months, and 4 per cent for five to seven months. The inquiry for commercial paper is good; rates are  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable,  $3\frac{3}{4}$  to  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for four months commission house names and  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to  $5\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for good single names having from four to six months to run.

The cable reports an excited Bourse at Paris on Thursday, owing to rumors that several banks are in trouble because of recent frauds, but private advices seemed to attach little importance to the rumors. The new Imperial and Prussian loans, together amounting to 340 million marks, will be issued on the 9th, and a syndicate of Berlin bankers is now receiving subscriptions. The issue price is 83 marks 60 pfennigs. A Paris cable reports the negotiation of a new Russian 4 per cent railway loan amounting to £8,000,000, to be floated by a syndicate of St. Petersburg and Paris banks. The issue of an Austrian loan for 200 million florins, in connection with the resumption of gold payments, has been postponed until next year. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. The open market rate at Paris is  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, at Berlin it is  $1\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, and at Frankfort  $1\frac{3}{4}$  per cent. The Bank of England gained £21,000 bullion during the week; this, as we are advised by special cable to us, was due to the import of £130,000, principally from Portugal and China, to receipts from the interior of Great Britain of £207,000, and to exports wholly to Russia and France of £316,000. The Bank of France shows a gain of £671,000 gold for the week.

Foreign exchange has been firm this week, with brief intervals of ease, due to a relaxation in the demand and to offerings of loan bills, the sellers of sixty day sterling expecting to cover the bills at a lower figure before the expiration of this period. There has also been some marketing of maturing drafts, which were bought less than sixty days ago to secure interest, but these offerings have made only a temporary impression upon the market because of the scarcity of other bankers' and commercial bills and the good inquiry to remit for stocks sold for European account. Compared with Friday of last week the market opened unchanged, with all drawers posting 4 85 for sixty day and 4 87 for sight. Brown Bros. advanced their rates to 4 85½ for long and 4 87½ for short on Monday morning, and on the following day the other drawers posted the same figures. On Thursday Brown Bros. advanced sixty-day to 4 86 and sight to 4 88, although the concessions they made caused the bills to net about half a cent per pound sterling less for each. In the afternoon the Bank of Montreal advanced to 4 86 for long and 4 88 for short, and yesterday the Bank of British North America posted the same figures. The market closed firm at 4 85½@4 86 for sixty days and 4 87½@4 88 for sight. Rates for actual business were 4 84½ to 4 85 for long, 4 86½ to 4 87 for short, 4 87 to 4 87½ for cable transfers, 4 83½ to 4 84 for prime and 4 83½ to 4 83½ for documentary commercial bills. The La Bourgogne arrived on Thursday with $250,000 gold in transit.

The state of trade remains about the same as heretofore—not quite satisfactory and rather below expectations—and on the whole the tone is perhaps somewhat less confident, in the absence of the revival which had been so generally looked for. We have prepared this week our statements of bank clearings for January, and they reflect quite clearly the ruling conditions—that is, while there is improvement in the aggregate, certain special cities and sections show marked depression, and, moreover, the increased speculation on our New York Stock Exchange has played an unusually prominent part in affecting the results. Taking the total of all the cities, including New York, there is an increase of 686 million dollars, or 13·8 per cent, over the same month in 1891, when there had been a decrease from 1890 of 288 million dollars. Outside of New York, however, the increase is only 4·7 per cent, following a small gain in the year preceding, and this confirms what has been said as to the effect of the Stock Exchange speculation at New York. The following furnishes a summary of the totals both with and without New York, for each month since last June. It will be observed that the comparisons for December and January have been on the whole much better than those for the months preceding.

Before proceeding further it will be desirable to see just what the aggregate of the Stock Exchange sales was in January. It appears that the sales reached nearly 10 million shares (9,992,043 shares). This is below the amount for September, but otherwise is the largest total of any month since May 1890. In January of last year the sales reached only 5,618,789 shares, so that the increase has been over 4½ million shares. The market value of the sales was just about double that of last year, as will appear by the subjoined statement.

Thus the value of the share transactions in January 1892 was 533 million dollars, against only 268 million dollars in January 1891, being an increase of 265 million dollars. On the basis of our usual allowance of an average of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  checks to each transaction, this 265 million dollars increase in stock sales would represent an increase in clearings of 662 million dollars. The entire increase in clearings we have seen is 686 million dollars, and hence it is evident that except for the larger stock speculation the increase in clearings would have been comparatively trifling. At New York, with the Stock Exchange business eliminated, the clearings would show a loss. In view of this fact, it is important to see how the clearings at other leading cities compare. For all the cities outside of New York, it was shown above, there is an increase of 4·7 per cent over 1891; the following table, however, furnishes a separate comparison for some of the more prominent centres.

This on the whole presents a satisfactory exhibit. Out of the eleven points given, San Francisco and New Orleans are the only ones showing losses from 1891; most of the others not only have gains as compared with last year but record the largest clearings of all the years given. The loss at New Orleans and San Francisco is typical of the sections which those points represent. This will appear more clearly from an examination of our detailed statement given on a preceding page. That statement shows that when arranged by geographical groups the Pacific Coast and the South are the only two divisions recording a falling off, the loss in the one case being 5.9 per cent and in the other 10½ per cent, and in both cases the clearing houses reporting a decrease greatly outnumber those reporting an increase. For the period since the close of January—that is for the week ending to-day—the results so far as we have been able to get the returns by telegraph in our usual manner, indicate quite noteworthy gains as compared with last year. The statement is as follows. It has been crowded out of its customary place on the page preceding the present article, and the method of preparing it has been explained on previous occasions.

It will be observed that while New Orleans again has a decrease, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis all show enlarged totals.

Our review of railroad gross earnings for January will be given next week. We have prepared this week a preliminary summary to show the comparison for the 48 roads that have thus far reported their figures for the month. Aggregate earnings for these 48 roads are $21,244,339 for January 1892, against $20,147,749 for January 1891, being a gain of $1,096,590, or 5.44 per cent. For the fourth week of January our tables on another page show 4.33 per cent gain on 37 roads, and for the third week a loss of 2.66 per cent on 87 roads. Some strikingly good returns of net earnings for December have come to hand this week in addition to those previously received, the Atchison and the Burlington & Quincy being especially conspicuous in this respect. The Quincy reports an increase in gross for the month of over seven hundred thousand dollars and an increase in net of nearly a quarter of a million. For the calendar year, notwithstanding the heavy losses in the early months, there is a gain of $221,789 in gross earnings and of $931,925 in net earnings. The Atchison (including the San Francisco) has gained $312,895 in its net for the month, and this makes the gain for the first half of the current fiscal year $1,580,208. The Ohio & Mississippi for the month has net of $96,460, against $56,146; the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg, $72,894, against $29,734; the Western New York & Pennsylvania, $106,525, against $67,889; the Philadelphia & Erie, $122,298, against $102,567; the Norfolk & Western, $271,761, against $209,254; the Colorado Midland, $57,733, against $54,106; the New York Ontario & Western, $55,074, against $42,363; the Elgin Joliet & Eastern, $30,894, against $8,092; the Chicago & West Michigan, $21,164, against $17,286; and the Northern Central net of $8,905, against a deficit of $38,555. The Oregon Improvement has net of $40,282, against $53,636; the Denver & Rio Grande, $288,131, against $324,383; the Rio Grande Western, $87,059, against $117,035; and the Louisville & Nashville, $605,895, against $626,009.

CHANGES IN GOVERNMENT DEBT AND CURRENCY HOLDINGS.

There are several facts which the Treasury reports disclose this month that are of general interest. In the debt changes we find another reduction made in the old refunding certificates issued under the act of February 26 1879. The inquiry has been raised as to the occasion of the issue of this peculiar form of interest-bearing debt. We supposed all our readers were familiar with the facts; but events crowd upon one another so rapidly now-a-days that the past gets easily obliterated. A brief summary will no doubt recall the entire transaction to any who have forgotten it.

The purpose of the law which authorized the issue of the refunding certificates was the distribution as far as practicable of the funded debt among the people. Hence the certificates were restricted to the denomination of $10, to bear interest at the rate of four per cent from April 1 1879, and were convertible whenever desired in sums of $50 or its multiples into 4 per cent bonds. After the five-twenties had all been funded there remained $194,566,300 of ten-forties bearing 5 per cent interest to be converted. To secure the funds for that purpose, on the 16th of April 1879 four per cents were offered at a premium of one-half of one per cent, these certificates being at the same time put on the market at par as the law required. The bonds offered were more than subscribed for, while the premium they bore made the certificates eagerly sought after, and hence quite a struggle ensued between the public and the Government in the latter's endeavor to get the certificates widely distributed. Depositories for their sale had been designated in all parts of the country, and after April 18 sales were restricted to sums not exceeding $100 at one time, while on April 28 the officers making the sales were directed to refuse applications wherever it was supposed they were made with the purpose of immediate conversion, the right of conversion being also postponed until July 1 1879. Notwithstanding these precautionary efforts, out of a total of $40,012,750 refunding certificates which were subscribed for, there had been converted on October 31 of the same year $37,203,350, showing that at that early date after their issue only $2,809,400 were left outstanding, and hence that the aim of the law and of the Department had been substantially frustrated.

The reader will see from the above what an excellent investment the man of small capital has had in these certificates; and he will at the same time also see an inducement to such a holder for delaying the period of redemption, growing out of the fact that he finally gets a 4 per cent bond at par for the accumulations of interest as well as for the principal. In the month of January $1,440 of these certificates were presented and canceled. Interest on this amount from April 1 1879 to say the middle of January 1892 would be $736 80, which would bring the value of the investment up to $2,176 80 if the redemptions averaged the middle of the month. We see that the 4 per cents increased in the same period $2,150, whatever balance there was being paid in cash. As the four per cents are now selling at, say, 116, the owner, if he elects to sell, would get a premium of $344 on his bonds. Adding this premium and the $26 80 cash he is assumed to have received to the principal of his bonds, and it will be found that the investment has netted the owner from April 1 1879 very nearly 6 per cent simple interest.

As a matter affecting, in the month of January, the total of the Government debt, the foregoing transaction has increased the interest-bearing obligations only to the extent of the interest funded ($710), the face or principal of the 4 per cent certificate ($1,440) having figured in the debt statement previously. Other changes during January were caused (1) by the redemption of $666,900 of the 4½ per cents which matured September 2 1891 (leaving only $2,372,250 of these 4½ per cents still outstanding), (2) by the redemption of $540 of matured debt of a previous date not given, and (3) by the decrease of $1,328,922 50 in the national bank note redemption fund, which fund, as our readers well know, was by the act of July 14 1890 turned over to cash and the account thereby made a part of the Government debt. Putting all these items together (the $710 increase in funded debt with the decreases of $666,900 in the 4½ per cents matured September 2 1891, of $540 in other matured debt and of $1,328,922 50 in the bank note redemption fund) the net decrease in the debt in January has amounted to $1,995,652 50.

Surprise has been expressed that the old matured debt obligations should keep coming into the Treasury for redemption, some of them, too, after being called and interest stopped for a great many years. The truth is, a Government or corporation bond, or in fact any interest-bearing obligation, is seldom lost; at times by fire or in some such way loss may occur, but then the owner knows of the occurrence, proves the loss and recovers the money. Of course currency, which is carried on one's person or is all the time in active circulation, is liable to destruction in various ways; but any bond or interest-bearing obligation is put away so safely that some day it inevitably comes to the light. An interesting incident bearing on this point was called to our notice two or three weeks since by the Boatmen's Bank of St. Louis. That bank on Feb. 27 1858, when it was the Boatmen's Savings Institution, issued a certificate of deposit to Stephen Moriarty for $75, bearing interest at 6 per cent for three months and 5 per cent for "all time after maturity until presentation." The certificate came in and was renewed May 27 1858, but from that date until the day it was paid, December 31 1891, over thirty-three years, the bank never saw the certificate. In the meantime the principal officers of the institution had died and in fact the original bank had gone out of business, the present Boatmen's Bank being the successor; and yet the obligation lived to be presented and paid, the administrator receiving $202 09 for the $75 which had been outstanding ever since 1858.

As a matter of practical concern, the reduction in the debt to the amount of $1,995,652 50 has considerable importance, for it has added just that sum to the drafts upon the Treasury. In January too there was 7½ millions of dollars interest which fell due the first day of the year. Altogether therefore the ordinary disbursements were augmented in that month about 9½ millions of dollars. This explanation will help to render more intelligible the following comparative statement of the Treasury cash on the first day of January and the first day of February.

* Deficiency.

Attention has been called to the loss the gold item shows. That is in large part explained by the interest payments already referred to. The congested state of the money market and the accumulations of currency at New York are a further explanation, for when such a condition prevails there is no absorption by the country of the 4½ million monthly additions to the currency, and the notes consequently return to the Treasury in payment of customs duties. Comparing the above totals we find the loss of cash in the month was only $7,456,991, or just about the amount called for to meet the maturing interest. It is to be said, however, that the actual interest payments in January are reported at $6,673,000, showing that a considerable portion of the amount falling due was not presented during the month. But at the same time it is noteworthy that the Treasurer was able to pay all ordinary disbursements besides $6,673,000 of interest and $1,995,652 50 of matured debt, while his cash decreased less than 7½ million dollars. This is the more remarkable when it is found that the Government revenue was only $30,542,000 in January 1892 against $37,056,000 in January 1891.

THE REDUCTION IN KANSAS RATES.

In the action of the Kansas Board of Railroad Commissioners in reducing fifth-class freight rates, which reduced rates the roads this week put in force—at least temporarily—we have another illustration of the difficulties attending transportation operations in the West and of the conflict of interests between different trade centres, under which the carrying industry is invariably made to suffer. The action has excited considerable criticism and comment, and until the last moment it seemed doubtful whether the order of the Commission to reduce rates would be obeyed, most of the roads being apparently in favor of disregarding it. Finally, however, the rates were put into effect, application being at the same time made to the Commissioners for a rehearing of the case, which application has been granted.

Beyond the mere fact that rates have been reduced and that the roads have opposed the reduction, very little appears to be known about the matter in this part of the country. The nature and significance of the action, its merits or demerits, and the reasons influencing the Commissioners in the course taken—these have received very little elucidation. On examination it appears that the affair presents simply a new phase of an old and rather familiar problem. In an article on National and State legislation published by us some two or three years ago, we pointed out that hostility to railroad interests since the enactment of the Inter-State Act had come not so much from farmers and those engaged in agriculture, as from interior jobbers and manufacturers who had by the new act been deprived of the preferences and advantages which they had previously enjoyed in their competition with the larger centres. We also noted that the National and State laws were really antagonistic in the theories on which they were based. The National law sought to abolish all preferences and advantages, not based on natural conditions, between different localities, whereas the States were interested in retaining these preferences and advantages, each State desiring to favor its own people and its own locality. The Federal law said in effect, if you give one section or locality a preference, then you must give other sections and localities a like advantage, and re-adjust your whole fabric of rates. The law also said that the charge for the short haul must not be greater than that for the long haul. The roads changed their methods accordingly and entirely rearranged their rates, the re-adjustment as is known being effected as a rule by scaling down rather than scaling up. But the interior jobbers and manufacturers were not satisfied with merely low rates—it was preferential rates, allowing them to make a profit in competition with the larger markets, they wanted, and since they could no longer get this in the ordinary way they undertook to get it through the aid of the State in reducing local and short-haul tariffs. Thus the carriers were hit in a number of different ways, and the large loss of revenue which followed was the result.

We make these general observations bearing on the position of interior jobbers under the Inter-State law, because in the present case the reduction of fifth class rates by the Kansas Board raises considerations of a very similar nature. This reduction is made purely and simply so that wholesale grocers in the interior of Kansas, some 200 to 250 miles from the Missouri River—say at Hutchinson, Wichita, &c.—shall be able to sell to local retailers as advantageously as Missouri River dealers shipping direct to the retailers without the intervention of the interior Kansas jobber. It is easy to see that under ordinary conditions the interior jobber must be at a disadvantage as compared with the Missouri River dealer. The Kansas Commission seek to remove this disadvantage by compelling the carriers to reduce their rates—that is, the idea is to give the interior dealer rates low enough to admit of his buying his goods at the Missouri River, have them transported to his store, broken up into small lots, and then shipped in these small lots at small-lot rates to retail dealers in the surrounding territory—the idea is to admit of the interior dealer doing all this, and yet sell to the retailer as cheaply as a Missouri River dealer sending his goods direct and without break to the retailer. Most of the Missouri River points, with which the interior points are obliged to compete, are outside of Kansas, and this seems to be thought an added reason for compelling the carriers to make rates which will place the interior jobber on a plane of equality with or give him a preference over the Missouri River jobber, so that Kansas may get the trade which the outside points are now getting.

One or two illustrations of the way the old rates worked, taken from the decision of the Commission, will serve perhaps to show more clearly the actual situation of the interior jobber. From the Missouri River to Nickerson in Kansas is 231 miles. It appears that the River dealer can ship to that point in small quantities (that is, less than car load lots) at fourth class rates for 41 cents per 100 lbs. The Hutchinson dealer is 11 miles from Nickerson and 220 miles from the Missouri River, according to the Commissioners. This Hutchinson dealer of course gets his goods in large quantities (car load lots) at fifth class rates, and thus pays only 36 cents per 100 lbs. In selling to the Nickerson retailer, however, he is obliged to make a reshipment from Hutchinson to Nickerson, and the charge on this, which goes in small quantities and therefore takes 4th class rates, is 9 cents. The result is, that the total charge to the Hutchinson dealer is 45 cents, whereas the Missouri River dealer shipping right through without break can have his goods carried for 41 cents. In tabular form the showing is as follows.

	Per 100 lbs
Missouri River to Hutchinson (220 miles) in car load lots (fifth class rates).....	36 cents
Hutchinson to Nickerson (11 miles) in less than car load lots (4th class rates).....	9 "
Total charge for 231 miles to Hutchinson dealer.....	45 "
Missouri River to Nickerson direct in less than car load lots (4th class).....	41 "
Difference in favor of Missouri River jobber.....	4 "

There seems nothing unnatural, unreasonable or unjust in a somewhat higher charge as the result of two separate shipments than for a continuous shipment over the same aggregate distance. In other words, the sum of the locals—especially where the one local represents a comparatively short haul on small shipments—must be expected to be higher than a through rate between the same initial and the same terminal point. This may be affirmed to be the rule, too, all over the country, the exceptions where the sum of the locals is no greater than the through rate being very rare; and there seems no reason why the rule should not hold good even where, as in the present instance, comparison is between a through shipment in less than car load lots on the one hand and a local shipment part in car load lots and part in less than car load lots on the other hand. But the Kansas Commissioners speak of the territory "naturally tributary" to the interior jobber and seem to think that this belongs to him and should be secured to him, and the outside jobber be barred out; they also see, as they think, an opportunity for promoting the interests of the Kansas jobber and trade centres at the expense of the outside jobber and trade centres, and hence they have taken radical and arbitrary action. They have ordered a reduction in the fifth class or car load rate from the Missouri River to Hutchinson and Wichita from the previous figure of 36 cents to only 29 cents, or no less than 7 cents per 100 lbs. The reduction amounts to nearly 20 per cent, and is made for the sole purpose of lowering the cost of the goods to the interior jobber. Now observe the effect of this change on the position of the latter. With the short haul or distributing rate from Hutchinson to Nickerson 9 cents, the same as before, the new 29 cent rate from the Missouri River makes the total charge to the interior jobber only 38 cents, while the cost to the Missouri River dealer on a continuous through shipment would be 41 cents. Here is the calculation worked out.

	Per 100 lbs.
Missouri River to Hutchinson (fifth class rate).....	29 cents
Hutchinson to Nickerson (fourth class rate).....	9 "
Total charge to Hutchinson dealer.....	38 "
Missouri River rate to Nickerson direct.....	41 "
Difference in favor of Kansas jobber.....	3 "

Thus a wonderful transformation has been effected. The Kansas jobber, who before was at a disadvantage of 4 cents per 100 lbs. as compared with the Missouri River jobber, now has an advantage of 3 cents per 100 lbs. To be sure the 7 cents a hundred pounds which the Kansas jobber gains the Kansas railroads lose, but in the estimation of the Commission that apparently is a matter of trifling importance. It is worth noting, however, as showing the lengths to which the Commission have gone, that as the result of the reduction the sum of the locals is actually less than the rate on a continuous shipment—that is, it is actually cheaper to ship to Hutchinson and then reship in broken lots to Nickerson than to ship direct to the point in question. It is proper to add that to points more remote than Nickerson the same advantage would not exist for the Kansas jobber. For instance, on shipments to Great Bend, 49 miles from Hutchinson, the sum of the locals even after the 7 cent reduction will still be somewhat greater than the through rate, but in this case as in the other the carriers lose the 7 cents per 100 lbs. In discussing the various methods for placing the Kansas dealers on an equality with those on the Missouri River, the Board argued that there were several ways of attaining the end. Either the distributing rates for short hauls could be lowered, they said, or the rates for long hauls could be raised, or the fifth class or commodity rates into the territory could be scaled down. Theoretically this is correct, actually it is not. The only practical method was that of reducing fifth class rates, precisely as the Board have done. It is true that rates for the long haul might be raised, but whoever heard of a Railroad Commission ordering an advance in rates? As for lowering the short haul rates, an alteration in that particular sufficient to effect the purpose sought would in many instances have involved the nearly total extinguishment of such rates. Take the short haul rate to Nickerson, for instance. Had the change of 7 cents per 100 lbs., which has been made in the fifth class rate, been made in this short haul charge, the latter would have been reduced from 9 cents to only 2 cents.

It is to be hoped that the Kansas Board will see their way clear to a modification of their order. The Board has on many previous occasions followed a conservative course. The mere desire to benefit Kansas jobbers should not influence it to persist in a step which will involve the carriers in serious loss. If the Kansas interior points were independent manufacturing or trading centres, and the rates in or out of such centres were greater than the rates at other independent centres, thus rendering competition impossible, there might be some justification for the action. But as the Kansas centres are obliged to get their goods from the Missouri River centres in any event, the action is equivalent to halting the goods on the way to the point of consumption for the purpose of allowing the Kansas jobber to make a profit on the operation.

Moreover, even under the advantage granted, the field of the interior jobber will be comparatively limited. We have seen that at a point 49 miles from Hutchinson his total charge will be somewhat greater than the through direct charge, notwithstanding the 7 cents reduction in his favor. As to points east from Hutchinson, the further east we get the nearer to the Missouri River we are. The Board admit this, and say that the "disparity of relation * * is due "in a measure to natural causes which cannot be overcome." But does not this express the situation generally of the Kansas centres? Why then seek to give an artificial advantage to such centres and put a profit into the pockets of the interior jobbers which comes wholly out of the pockets of the railroads and does not benefit the consumers? It is not contended that these centres had the trade before. On the contrary, it is expressly stated that the jobbing cities of the Missouri have had a monopoly of it hitherto. The effort is to transfer the trade to these centres by special and artificial means, a process which the Inter-State law at least does not sanction. A question of jurisdiction also comes up. Granting that the Kansas Board has authority in the case where the Missouri River point is within the State, the fact is that most of the Missouri River points are outside of the State, making the traffic inter-State business, over which the Board could exercise no control whatever.

RESULTS ON CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN.

The fact that owing to the large crops and the prosperity of the farming industry, railroad operations in the Northwest are attended by very good results just now, gives unusual interest to the returns of the Chicago & Northwestern, which is one of the principal systems in that part of the country and whose management ranks among the best anywhere. The company furnishes regular monthly reports of gross earnings, but net earnings are given out only once a year in the annual report, except when as in this instance we are able to present a special statement. It follows, therefore, that while the course of the gross earnings is known, no information bearing on the net earnings has been available for the period since the close of the company's last fiscal year—that is, since May 31, 1891. We are able to-day to bring this information down to December 31, the close of the calendar year.

While the Chicago & Northwestern is of course deriving great advantages from the excellent grain yield in the country tributary to its lines, it is hardly so well situated as the Milwaukee & St. Paul as regards the spring wheat traffic from Minnesota and the Dakotas, the sections where the wheat crop was quite phenomenal the late season. The St. Paul has an advantage in that its lines run further north than do those of the Northwestern and gridiron the favored district more completely. At the same time the Northwestern has suffered from the falling off in the Lake Superior mineral ore traffic, an influence to which the St. Paul has not been subject. These circumstances will explain why the monthly gains in earnings by the Northwestern have not been quite so heavy as those of the St. Paul. Nevertheless, these gains have been of large proportions. Thus for October the increase in gross receipts was $333,886, for November $248,614, and for December $398,501, making for the three months together nearly a million dollars. The gain by the St. Paul in the same quarter was about a million and three-quarters. It is to be remembered, however, that the Northwest results do not include the earnings of the St. Paul & Omaha, and that this road has made large independent gains, having evidently been favored in a marked degree by the heavy yield of spring wheat. We have prepared a brief statement to show the gains on the combined roads, and find that treated in this way the improvement for the Northwest is hardly less striking than for the St. Paul. In October the Northwest & Omaha combined gained $548,122; the gain for the St. Paul was but little more than that, or $570,885. In November the first-mentioned roads gained only $402,332, while the gain of the St. Paul reached $563,176; but in December, when the St. Paul gained the remarkable sum of $638,770, the gain of the Northwest and Omaha came within $2,500 of the same amount, being $636,297. Here are the figures in tabular form. The comparison is an interesting one.

The exhibit of net earnings for the Northwest which we have obtained does not include the operations of the Omaha, that road, as already said, being operated separately. The Omaha, as a result of the enlarged earnings shown above, increased the dividend on its preferred shares, the last semi-annual payment being made 3 per cent, as against the previous 2 per cent. The Northwest gets the benefit of this increase on its holdings of Omaha preferred shares, but as the higher dividend was not paid till January 1892 it does not count in the income statement to the end of December. Nor does the acquisition of the Milwaukee Lake Shore & Western affect the results any. That transaction is not entirely settled up yet, and, besides, the intention is to keep the accounts of that road separate and distinct, the same as in the case of the St. Paul & Omaha. The figures of net earnings, therefore, which we furnish cover the Northwest system proper of 4,273 miles, and as the mileage for the year preceding was 4,258, the comparison is for practically the same extent of road in both years.

It appears that though expenses were added to, as was natural under the increase in business, there has been a gain in net earnings in every recent month, amounting to $163,055 in December, to $99,411 in November, to $212,831 in October, to $79,466 in September, &c. In the following we show the aggregates of the gross and net earnings for the first six months, and the figures for each month after that to the end of the year.

The change between the first half and the second half of the year is here strikingly brought out. At the end of the first six months both gross and net earnings stood slightly below those for the corresponding six months of 1890. At the end of the year—that is, for the full twelve months—we find an increase in the gross earnings of $1,225,765 and an increase in the net earnings of $573,333, total gross earnings for 1891 being $29,395,791, against $28,170,026 for 1890, and $26,185,281 for 1889, and total net earnings $10,273,156, against $9,699,823 for 1890 and $9,877,571 for 1889. On the basis of these net earnings what was the amount left for the stock after deducting the charges for interest, sinking funds, &c? We have already said that the company's fiscal year ends May 31, but it is always interesting to have the results for a full period of twelve months especially where that period as in the present case covers the calendar year. As compared with 1890 the 1891 charge for interest was heavier on account of the issue of new bonds, and there was also an addition of $210,000 to the sinking fund charges, so that notwithstanding the increase of $573,333 in net earnings the balance for the stock in 1891 does not differ much from the balance for either of the two preceding years, being $4,134,133 against $4,062,526 and $4,130,074 respectively in 1890 and 1889. After allowing for the usual dividends, a surplus of $688,329 remains for 1891, against $616,897 for 1890 and $685,570 for 1889. Here is a comparison for the last four years.

It should be understood that the above does not include the operations of the trans-Missouri lines, nor does it include the income from land sales. The result, then, is that from the operations of its railroad system the Northwest was able to pay in 1891 all its charges, contribute $410,425 to sinking funds, pay the customary dividend of 6 per cent on its common shares and 7 per cent on the preferred shares, and yet have left over a balance or surplus of nearly $700,000.

As the fiscal year of the company ends May 31, the first five months have been covered in the last annual report, where a surplus was shown of $234,759 for the year. It will be desirable to see what the changes have been for the seven months of the new or current fiscal year. The earnings for the six months from July 1 to December 31 are shown in the table first above, so we only need the June figures to make up the seven months, as follows—

Increase in gross earnings for June.....	$159,801
Increase July 1 to December 31.....	1,305,273
Total increase in gross for 7 months.....	$1,465,074
Increase in net earnings for June.....	$104,534
Increase July 1 to December 31.....	685,892
Total increase in net for 7 months.....	$790,426

Stated in brief, gross earnings for the seven months of the current fiscal year record a gain of $1,465,074 and net earnings a gain of $790,426.

COTTON SUPPLY AND CONSUMPTION IN EUROPE

Mr. Ellison's "Annual Review of the Cotton Trade for the Year 1891" was issued in Liverpool on Monday of the current week, and by cable we have obtained all the results of interest it contains. In addition to the statistics of supply and consumption for the calendar year and the first quarter of the new crop season, the circular gives detailed estimates of imports, consumption &c. for the remaining nine months—the period from January 1 to September 30 1892.

With regard to the calendar year 1891 the figures show that there has been only a slight expansion in cotton manufacture in Great Britain, but that on the Continent the increase has been noticeable. The actual results for 1891 in bales of 400 lbs. are as follows :

SPINNERS' TAKINGS, CONSUMPTION AND STOCKS IN 1891.

In 400 lb. Bales.	Gr. Britain.	Continent.	Total.
Stocks January 1 1891.....	204,000	279,000	483,000

Consumption.....	4,175,000	4,564,000	8,739,000
Stocks January 1 1892.....	165,000	319,000	484,000
Weekly consumption.....	80,238	87,769	168,057

It will be observed that the surplus stocks at the mills at the close of the year are estimated at only 1,000 bales (of 400 lbs.) greater than twelve months ago ; in the interval, however, the visible supply has increased over 1,100,000 bales of ordinary weights. The foregoing statement presents the results for the year 1891 only ; to bring out clearly the relation the figures for a number of years bear to each other we have compiled the following, which embraces the seasons from 1885 to 1891 inclusive.

1885.....	555,000	6,473,000	7,028,000	6,641,000	387,000	127,108

The above demonstrates how much more rapid has been the growth in cotton manufacture on the Continent the past seven years than in Great Britain. In 1885 the former consumed 3,291,000 bales of 400 lbs. each, or an average of 62,743 bales per week, while in Great Britain the consumption was 3,347,000 bales, or 64,365 bales per week. Since then consumption has in both cases advanced steadily from year to year, but in greater ratio on the Continent than in Great Britain until in 1891 Continental consumption had risen to 4,564,000 bales of 400 lbs. each, or 87,769 bales per week, against 4,175,000 bales, or 80,238 bales per week, in Great Britain. In other words the Continent manufactured 1,622 bales less per week in 1885 but 7,481 bales more in 1891.

From the point of view of the manufacturer the year has not been a satisfactory one. The results of operations in Fall River as published in the CHRONICLE from time to time during the year furnish evidence of this fact so far as the United States is concerned. Reports from the various centres of manufacture on the Continent are of like tenor, and the exhibit made by the mills in the Oldham district of Great Britain is likewise unfavorable. Our cable states that 93 corporations in the Oldham district show a combined profit of only £10,763, or but £115 per mill, which compares with £376,041 by 90 mills in 1890, or £4,178 per mill. The causes to which this condition of things must be ascribed were set forth in our Annual Cotton Crop Report and need not be repeated here ; but it is well to state in passing that even the small margin of profit shown is due entirely to the result of operations in the first quarter of the year, the returns for later periods being as a rule quite unsatisfactory. The comparison of the profit per mill for 1891 with earlier years is shown in the following.

The exports of yarns and goods from Great Britain were some 42,000,000 lbs. less in 1891 than in the preceding year, and in fact smaller than in 1889. The details by months and quarters for 1891 and 1890 were given in the CHRONICLE of January 23, page 169.

Spinners' takings for the three months of the season since October 1 are as follows :

October 1 to January 1.	Great Britain.	Continent.	Total.
For 1891.

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Europe is 480 pounds per bale to January 1 this season, against 476.4 pounds during the same time a year ago. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for this and last year in bales of 400 pounds each.

The foregoing shows that the weekly consumption is now 171,000 bales, of 400 pounds each, against 171,000 bales of like weights at the corresponding time last year. The total spinners' stocks in Great Britain and on the Continent have increased 165,000 bales during the month and are now 1,000 bales in excess of the same date last season.

The cable also brings us the details of Mr. Ellison's estimate of imports for the full season 1891-92. The results so far as American cotton is concerned are based on a yield of 8,250,000 bales. He allows for the United States and Canada 2,850,000 bales, leaving available for shipment to Europe 5,400,000 bales. The aggregate imports from all other countries are placed at 1,790,000 bales, which is a considerable decrease from the amount received in the previous season. This 1,790,000 bales is made up of 900,000 bales from East India, 271,000 bales from Brazil, West Indies &c., 590,000 bales from Egypt and 29,000 bales from Smyrna &c. Reduced to pounds the foregoing estimates are as follows:

IMPORTS INTO EUROPE 1891-92.

	Bales.	Lbs.	Pounds
American.....	5,400,000	477	2,575,800,000

As stated above these imports are for the full season 1891-92. Three months of the season having passed the actual figures for that time are obtainable, and by deducting them from the above we can arrive at the probable supply of cotton for the remainder of the season. Mr. Ellison has done this and furnishes the subjoined statement for the nine months, January 1 to October 1, comparison being made with the actual results for 1891.

As will be seen above, these estimates make the combined stocks at ports and mills on September 30 next 1,188,000 bales, of 400 lbs. each, a total 365,000 bales less than at the same date in 1891, but heavier than in former years.

COTTON CONSUMPTION AND OVERLAND MOVEMENT TO FEBRUARY 1.

The less rapid movement of cotton this year than last year in January has served to reduce to an appreciable extent the difference between the two years in the amount brought into sight. In fact, the margin, which at the end of December stood at 558,249 bales in favor of the current season, has now been narrowed down to 344,813 bales. Northern spinners have not added to their stocks so largely the past month as in 1891, and in consequence their aggregate takings for the season to date are only 42,319 bales greater than in 1890-91.

OVERLAND MOVEMENT TO FEBRUARY 1.

The gross movement overland during January has been only 188,046 bales, or 52,442 bales less than for the like period in 1891, and contrasted with 1890 there is an even greater falling off—90,241 bales—the totals in these two earlier years having been respectively 240,488 bales and 278,287 bales. For the season to date the excess over last year is 79,852 bales, and compared with 1889-90 it reaches 135,371 bales. The net for the month exhibits a loss of 42,868 bales from a year ago, but for the five months there is a gain of 72,974 bales. Contrastd with 1890 the decrease for the month reaches 54,958 bales, and the increase for the season 143,330 bales. The details of the whole movement overland for three years are appended.

RECEIPTS, EXPORTS AND SPINNERS' TAKINGS.

In common with the overland movement the net receipts at the ports have been of less volume during January than in the same month of the two preceding years. The receipts have been 665,162 bales, which compares with 859,979 bales in 1891 and 700,909 bales in 1890. The falling off has been mainly in the Atlantic States, but Galveston is the only port exhibiting heavier receipts in January this year than last year. Foreign exports for the month have been 660,608 bales against 744,945 bales last year and 595,281 bales in 1890, and the aggregate for the season to date is 3,765,864 bales, or 282 bales less than in 1890-91. Port stocks have suffered a reduction of 71,774 bales during January, but are 363,258 bales greater than the same date last year.

Using the facts disclosed by the foregoing statements, we shall find that the portion of the crop which has reached a market through the outports and overland, and the Southern consumption since September 1, this year and the two previous years, is as follows:

	1891-92.	1890-91.	1889-90.
Receipts at the ports to Feb. 1.....bales.	5,466,464	5,297,925	4,932,423
Net shipments overland during same time.....	861,355	788,381	718,025

Total to Feb. 1.....bales.	6,641,819	6,376,306	5,920,448

The amount of cotton marketed since September 1 in 1891-92 is thus seen to be 265,513 bales more than in 1890-91 and 691,369 bales greater than in 1889-90. To determine the portion which has gone into the hands of Northern spinners during the same period we have prepared the following:

Total receipts to February 1 1892 as above.....bales.	6,641,819

At Northern ports.....	142,160
At Southern ports.....	86,524 — 228,684
At Northern interior markets.....	2,768 — 231,452
Total supply to February 1 1892.....	6,873,271

Taken by Northern spinners same time in 1890-91.....	1,433,190
Increase in takings by Northern spinners this year....bales.	42,319

The above indicates that Northern spinners had up to February 1 taken 1,477,509 bales, an increase over the corresponding period of 1890-91 of 42,319 bales and a gain over the same period of 1889-90 of 73,053 bales.

AMOUNT OF CROP NOW IN SIGHT.

In the foregoing we have the number of bales which has already been marketed this year and the two previous seasons. An additional fact of interest is the total of the crop which was in sight on Feb. 1, compared with previous years.

	1891-92.	1890-91.	1889-90.
Total marketed, as above.....bales.	6,641,819	6,376,306	5,950,450

Total in sight.....bales.	7,155,519	6,810,706	6,251,890

This indicates that the movement up to February 1 of the present year is 344,813 bales more than in 1890-91 and 903,629 bales greater than in 1889-90.

As it will interest the reader to see what has come into sight each month of the season during this and previous years, we have prepared the following, which shows the movement for the last four seasons.

WEIGHT OF BALES.

To furnish a more exact measure of the receipts up to Feb. 1 we give below our usual table of weight of bales. We give for comparison the figures for the same time in the two previous years.

Total.....	6,641,819	3,316,869,521	499.39	503.49	496.65

It will be noticed that the movement up to February 1 shows a decrease in the average weight as compared with the same period of last year, the average this year being 499.39 lbs. per bale, against 503.49 lbs. per bale for the same time in 1890-91 and 496.65 lbs. in 1889-90.

DRY GOODS TRADE IN JANUARY.

The market during the past month has been characterized by a dull tone, owing to the general absence of a spot demand of any consequence, but a considerable amount of business has nevertheless been transacted, orders by mail and wire proving regular if not extensive. Brown and bleached cottons were generally steady in price, some leading makes of the latter being advanced slightly early in the month, making part recovery of the decline in December. Colored cottons have ruled firm and bleached and dyed flat-fold cambrics have, in sympathy with print cloths, improved in value 1-16c. to 1/8c. per yard. Indigo-blue prints and shirtings have also, from the same cause, been advanced 1/8c. per yard for leading makes. Standard prints and ginghams were generally in quiet request at first hands. Print cloths have been in a strong position all the month, with more buyers than sellers as a rule, and 64 squares were in the last week raised to 3 1/8c. per yard. The jobbing trade ruled inactive on the spot, but a large order business has been done in wash fabrics with printed cotton goods toward the close of the month moving more freely. Collections are satisfactory except in some sections of the South, where there is now an accumulation of overdue accounts.

Monetary: Commercial English News

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, January 23, 1892.

The directors of the Bank of England on Thursday reduced their rate of discount from  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, at which it has stood for six weeks, to 3 per cent. The change had been expected for three or four weeks, and apparently the directors hesitated only because they feared that the withdrawals of gold would become inconveniently large. Now, however, the probability of withdrawals has become much less, while the Bank has grown stronger. Its reserve exceeds  $14\frac{3}{4}$  millions sterling, being nearly 40 per cent of its total liabilities, and the coin and bullion considerably exceed  $23\frac{1}{4}$  millions sterling and are likely to increase. Coin is coming back from the circulation in large amounts.

Speculation is very quiet here and trade is inactive; indeed there is depression in several important industries, more particularly in the cotton trade, in the mineral oil trade and in some branches of the iron trade. Therefore the demand for banking accommodation for purely trade purposes is small, and it appears likely in consequence that the return of coin from the circulation, always large in the spring, will be larger than usual this year. The outside market, too, is very well supplied with funds, while bills are exceedingly scarce. On Wednesday the rate of discount in the open market was little better than  $1\frac{1}{4}$  per cent, or just half of the Bank of England rate. Evidently it was useless to keep up the latter at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. It is hoped now that the Bank of England will be able to make the 3 per cent rate effective, for in the present quarter a much larger proportion of the taxes than in any other quarter of the year is got in, with the result that exceptionally large sums are transferred from the outside market to the Bank of England.

The silver market continues very quiet. At the beginning of the week the price of the metal was 43d. per ounce, but on Tuesday it fell to 42 9-16d. per ounce. At the moment there is but little demand either for India or the Continent; but it seems probable that the Indian demand will increase during the next few months. The Indian money market for fully a year has been exceptionally quiet, rates being lower than for a long time. But on Wednesday the Bank of Bombay and the Bank of Bengal raised their rates of discount from three per cent to four per cent. If rates continue to rise there will, as a matter of course, be an increased demand for silver, and that may put up the price considerably.

Business on the Stock Exchange continues very small and very dull. Wednesday being the day fixed for the funeral of the Duke of Clarence the Stock Exchange was closed, and consequently both on Monday and Tuesday operators here were unwilling to increase their risks, the disposition being rather to sell than to buy. In the American market prices continued to decline on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday; and, owing to the alarming rumors from New York of the probability of war with Chili as well as the breaking up of the Western Traffic Association, it was feared here that a great break might occur. In consequence of the recovery in New York, however, on Wednesday, a better feeling has returned, but as yet business has not increased as was expected. If, however, New York continues strong there seem to be grounds for anticipating a considerable increase in business. The payment of interest and dividends during the present month is very large. At last investment business has decidedly increased, and the probability is that speculative business will grow also.

At the same time, fears are returning of difficulties in Paris. For a long time it has been pointed out in this correspondence that Portugal was insolvent, and that before very long she would have either to cease paying interest altogether or to make a compromise with her creditors. Her total debt nearly approaches 150 millions sterling, involving an annual charge of about  $4\frac{1}{2}$  millions sterling, or rather more than half the entire revenue of the kingdom. Her credit being gone, she is unable to borrow abroad; and now that she has disposed of the Tobacco Monopoly, she has no assets to sell, unless she decides upon getting rid of her Indian and African possessions. The revelations concerning the Royal Portuguese Railway first caused the resignation of the late Finance Minister, and then compelled the entire ministry to break up. The new Cabinet has announced that its task will be the reorganization of the finances and the reconstitution of the credit of the country. In a statement made on Monday in the Cortes by the new Prime Minister it was announced that the public creditors will have to make sacrifices. A hope, indeed, was expressed that the foreign bondholders will not have to share in the loss, but very few attach importance to that. It is clear that if there is to be a final settlement of the debt the foreign bondholders will have to make sacrifices. Even the most sanguine do not believe that Portugal can pay more than 2 per cent on her debt, or say three millions sterling annually. As a natural consequence, the price of the bonds has fallen nearly to 28. Portuguese securities are chiefly held upon the Continent, and very large amounts of them are still in the hands of the great bankers of Paris and Berlin, and naturally it is apprehended that the difficulties, both in Paris and Berlin, will be seriously increased. Matters do not look well, either, in Spain; fresh banking failures are continually occurring in Italy, and the famine in Russia is growing worse and worse.

During the week three railway dividends have been announced. The North-Eastern, one of the greatest of our railway companies, declares a dividend three-fourths per cent lower than twelve months ago. Its traffic is chiefly mineral. The two other companies, however, announce increased dividends, one 1 per cent and the other one-half per cent higher than at this time last year. Upon the whole, the dividends so far announced are better than was generally looked for.

Trade in this country continues very quiet. The fall in cotton and the decline in the demand for India and the Far East generally are seriously affecting Lancashire. The mineral oil trade in Scotland is also depressed because of the increased production of the Standard Oil Company. And there are complaints too of some branches of the iron trade. The wheat trade is somewhat stronger, though there is little change in price, owing to the large receipts.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. Goschen's currency proposals were discussed at a meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce. It was unanimously agreed that the metallic reserves of the country are insufficient and ought to be increased, but a motion approving of the issue of £1 notes was defeated by a large majority, an amendment calling for full parliamentary inquiry being carried instead. Here in London there is a very strong dislike of £1 notes, and even if they were issued they probably would not be taken here. But those who are in the best position to judge, think that they would be taken in the great manufacturing districts of the north of England. However, the discussion shows that strong opposition will be offered to the proposals of the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Notwithstanding the easy money market in London, there seems to be occasional realizing on American securities by sales here, and this for the best possible reason, namely, because sellers can make money by the transaction. Ever since the tide turned in August, 1891, New York has been, relatively speaking, the best market in the world for securities; and as prices are now much higher than a year ago there is an inclination to realize on Americans whenever the foreigners wish to strengthen their stock of money. What they are thinking as to our silver situation here we can not exactly tell, but it may be assumed that when silver is very low they are better satisfied to sell securities and take gold or its equivalent than when it is ruling higher.

Among the so-called industrial stocks may be classed the anthracite coal companies in a certain sense, as their prosperity depends much on the sale of coal and its price in the market. Hence whatever advantages or disadvantages pertain to industrial companies in times of inflation or of sharp changes in business which affect prices of merchandise, attach very largely to the anthracite coalers.

The winter is so far rather favorable for the Western railroads, and this is by no means an insignificant point in diminishing their expenses. New York can well remember the actual money damage inflicted by the famous blizzard of March, 1888, and although such storms as that are very rare, the average blizzards of the West with heavy snow falls are sufficiently damaging to the railroads and greatly increase their percentage of operating expenses.

A renewal of wheat exports on a large scale would probably stimulate the financial markets, but the accumulation of grain abroad was so large prior to the close of 1891 that there is yet no sharp demand for our supplies, though to-day export purchases were more active than for some time past.

The open market rates for call loans during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1 to 2 1/2 per cent, the average being 2 p. c. To-day the rates on call were 1 1/2 to 2 p. c. Commercial paper is quoted at 3 1/2 @ 4 1/2 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £21,000, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 42.01, against 40.33 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 16,775,000 francs in gold and 2,650,000 in silver.

The New York Clearing-House banks in their statement of Jan. 30 showed an increase in the reserve held of $6,028,400 and a surplus over the required reserve of $36,020,900, against $33,002,900 the previous week.

Foreign Exchange.—The market for sterling bills has been dull all the week, but rates are notably strong. Commercial bills are in moderate supply and the foreign markets appear to be more willing sellers than buyers of our securities. The high asking prices of some bankers are out of proportion to selling rates. Actual rates for exchange are: Bankers' sixty days sterling, 4 84 1/4 @ 4 85; demand, 4 86 1/4 @ 4 87; cables, 4 87 @ 4 87 1/4.

Posted rates of leading bankers are as follows:

February 5.	Sixty Days.	Demand.
P me bankers' sterling bills on London	4 85 1/2 @ 4 86	4 87 1/2 @ 4 88

State and Railroad Bonds.—State bonds have been more active at the Board in moderate lots, and sales include $10,000 Va. 6s. defd. at 9; $2,500 do tr. rec. at 9 1/4; $5,000 La. consol. 4s at 85; $1,000 Ala. class "A" at 103; $15,000 Al a. cur. fdg 4s at 95 1/2 @ 95 3/4; $2,000 N. Car. 6s, 1919, at 123; $3,000 South Car. 6s, Brown consols, at 95 1/4 @ 96; $9,000 N. Car. con. 4s at 98 @ 98 1/8; $23,000 Tenn. settlt. 3s at 63 3/8 @ 69; $1,000 settlt. 6s at 105 1/4.

Railroad bonds have continued to show a general and well distributed business without as much activity in special bonds. The Atchison incomes have been most prominent for large dealings and have declined several points, closing at 60 1/2. The company makes a handsome exhibit of net earnings for the first half of its fiscal year—the six months July to Dec., 1891—and the weakness in the incomes is not well accounted for. The Richmond Terminal bonds continue strong under the prospect of a reorganization plan which, it is presumed, will fully protect them. Union Pacific gold notes 6s have sold ex-coupon since Feb. 1 and close at 97, equal to 100 last week. There has been less speculative business in bonds, but the Stock Exchange sales show pretty wide investment dealings throughout the general list at prices that are well maintained and in not a few cases higher than before. The fluctuations in stocks have not much affected mortgage bonds and this shows a healthy condition of the current business.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been less satisfactory than in previous weeks, and prices are in some cases lower. There has no doubt been a considerable amount of realizing both for home and foreign account by parties who bought stocks lower and can make a good profit on them at present figures. Add to this the fact that for nearly two months the market has run mostly in the bull interest, and that those who are naturally bearish watch for every opportunity to attack specialties on the first sign of weakness, and these circumstances give a fair diagnosis of the present condition of the stock market. It may also be fairly said that the railroad gross earnings each week are not showing as strongly by comparison with the previous year as they did in the fall, though we have yet had no report of net earnings for January to prove how the new year will show up.

Atchison stock and income bonds have sold quite heavily at declining prices without any apparent cause. The stock, after touching 37 1/2 to-day, recovered to 38 1/2 at the close. Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul and Rock Island have also been weak as compared with their late range, and have shared in the general reaction in Western stocks. Distilling & Cattle Feeding, commonly known as Whisky Trust, has been the most active and weakest of the specialties, selling about ten points lower than a week ago, with the usual losses to outsiders in case of an "industrial" stock of this kind where its real status and prospects are only known to the managers; the reported policy of acquiring other competing properties is one cause for the decline. Louisville & Nashville is among the stocks sold for foreign account, but declined 2 points only for the week. The anthracite coal stocks have been exceptionally strong on good buying and on a reported agreement about the matter of Coxe Bros.' tonnage which prevents a break of harmony on that score. They were the leaders to-day at buoyant prices, with various rumors of a lease or control of one company by another, which were not confirmed. The Edison General Electric Company has advanced sharply on the plan of consolidation with Thomson-Houston.

Sugar and Lead have been quiet and inactive and silver bullion certificates very dull at 91 1/4.

(For the year ending Dec. 31, 1891.)

The annual meeting was held in Columbus, Ohio, on the 2d inst., and a report, with approximate figures submitted by President Waite. As this is some time in advance of the pamphlet report the statistics are presented below in comparison with the actual figures for previous years. The report states that during the year 5 new freight engines of improved design were purchased and charged to maintenance, replacing a like number of smaller engines condemned and sold. Two hundred new coal cars of 25-ton capacity were purchased, and 61 coal cars, 27 flat cars, 1 box car and 4 cabooses were built at the company's shops.

"Eight new standard freight engines were purchased in addition to the five before referred to as having been charged to maintenance, and 500 additional coal cars of 25-ton capacity were purchased under the requirements of our contract with the C. & H. C. & I. Co.

"Under the authority granted at your special meeting of November 12, 1891, $2,000,000 of the 5 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock then authorized has been sold, and nearly all of the second mortgage 7 per cent bonds of the Columbus & Hocking Valley Railroad have been redeemed and canceled, and when all have been presented and canceled the 5 per cent consolidated mortgage bonds receivable therefor will be cancelled. Your board feels that you are to be congratulated on the successful culmination of this transaction, which materially reduces the fixed charges."

Chicago Burlington & Quincy.—The directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable March 15. They also voted that the books should close Feb. 20 and reopen March 5 to give shareholders the right to subscribe at par for 10 per cent of their present stock in 5 per cent notes convertible into stock at par. Interest will be payable in March and September, and the bonds will be dated June 1 and mature with the former issue. Ten per cent of the stock will give about $7,640,000 bonds, the half of which will be required to pay for equipment and the balance for betterments and construction. The outstanding convertible 5s carry a call on the stock, as likewise will the new issue.

Columbus Hocking Valley & Toledo.—The annual meeting of stockholders was held at Columbus, Ohio, on Tuesday, the 2d inst. The following directors were re-elected: C. C. Waite, Charles B. Alexander, George N. McCook, Samuel D. Davis, Thomas F. Ryan, Charles B. Van Nostrand, Charles Foster, P. W. Huntington, James Kilbourne. The Board elected the following officers: President, C. C. Waite; First Vice-President, Samuel D. Davis; Second Vice-President, C. B. Alexander; Secretary and Treasurer, W. N. Cott.

The President was authorized to expend $225,000 in construction and equipment, including the $90,000 already authorized for equipment and contracted for. A portion of this money will be used in reducing the Alveda grade between Nelsonville and Toledo, and which is the last heavy grade remaining on the road.

Edison General Electric—Thomson-Houston Electric.—The Edison General Electric and the Thomson-Houston Electric Companies have agreed upon a basis of consolidation. The Sun money article says: "The stock of the first-named is to be exchanged for that of the consolidated company dollar for dollar, and the Thomson-Houston stock will be turned in on the basis of 60 per cent of its face value. The President of the consolidated company will be Mr. E. A. Coffin, now Vice-President of the Thomson-Houston Company, and Mr. Villard, who has acted as President of the Edison General Electric, although his resignation is said to have been in the hands of the directors for many months, will, it is understood, cease to take an active part in the enterprise." The annual meeting will be held on Monday.

Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy.—A circular addressed to the stock and bond holders by Mr. C. P. Huntington, President, says: "I have agreed to exchange the capital stock of the Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Company owned by me for common stock of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company at the rate of two shares of the stock of the Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Company for one share of the stock of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, and agreed to exchange the debenture bonds of the Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Company owned by me for the like amount, dollar for dollar, of the common stock of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, and agreed to exchange the first mortgage bonds of the Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Company owned by me at par, dollar for dollar, for 4½ per cent bonds to be issued by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company."

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has agreed to make the same exchange with all security holders if they deposit by Feb. 20, 1892. Mr. Huntington says further: "The Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Company has not earned in the last three years the full 6 per cent upon its bonded debt. I have advanced the deficit for others and withheld my own coupons from presentation. Under the new arrangement you will observe that you receive the bonds of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, bearing 4½ per cent interest, which interest charge that company ought to be able to readily earn, especially when it is considered that they are saving a large amount of general expenses, which the company, when operated separately, has been necessarily subjected to. The tendency of all railways is to consolidation, and small companies cannot operate with economy."

"Allow me to say to all that are interested that it is the best that I could do for those holding the securities of the Elizabethtown Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad, and that I shall make the exchange upon the above terms."

Indianapolis Decatur & Springfield.—The General Term of the Superior Court of Indianapolis this week affirmed the decree of foreclosure in the suit of the first mortgage bondholders of the Indianapolis Decatur & Springfield Railway Co. Appeal is allowed, however, to the Supreme Court of the State of Indiana without increase of bonds. This would involve a long delay and it is not improbable that an agreement between the first mortgage bondholders and the junior securities may be effected under the plan of reorganization given in the CHRONICLE of Dec. 26, page 968.

International & Great Northern.—The plan of reorganization published in our last issue has received the formal assent of the two committees representing the bondholders and Mr. Gould. The Missouri Kansas & Texas have not yet formally committed themselves to the agreement. The committee of second mortgage bondholders have issued a call for a meeting of holders of seconds, to be held on February 10th, 1892, at noon, at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., in order to ratify the plan. Printed copies of the agreement are expected to be ready shortly that can be submitted to those interested previous to the meeting and an opportunity to sign presented.

Iowa Central.—Judge Patterson, in the N. Y. Supreme Court, has rendered a decision in favor of the Iowa Central RR. Co., in the suit of R. K. Dow against the company and the Reorganization Committee, dissolving the injunction. The Court holds that the plaintiff had no rights in the case and that the company had exercised due diligence in issuing its notices of assessments, &c. Therefore the stockholders who paid subscriptions in full under the reorganization plan may take the new stock.

National Cordage Company.—The report for the fiscal year ending October 31 1891, was submitted this week at the annual meeting of the stockholders, and may be found at length in this issue of the CHRONICLE. Since the close of the fiscal year large additions have been made to the property, and the Comptroller estimates the profits for the first quarter, ending Jan. 31, as sufficient to pay the full annual dividend of $400,000 on the preferred stock and a quarterly dividend of $250,000 on the common, besides leaving a surplus. This is a statement which will commend to the stockholders the advantages set forth in the report as secured by the acquisition of the new properties. President Waterbury gives the facts regarding the capitalization of the company.

New York & Northern.—A notice to second mortgage bondholders says that as the interest upon the second mortgage bonds of this company has become a fixed charge upon its earnings, a meeting of the second mortgage bondholders is called for Wednesday, March the 2d, to consider the financial prospects of the company, and such plans and statements as may be submitted. The notice in full is published in our advertising columns.

New York Susquehanna & Western.—It is reported that this company has concluded negotiations for property on the Jersey shore of the North River necessary for the establishment of its own terminal facilities. The officers and directors of the company are reticent about the matter. The Herald reports: "The facts of the case, however, appear to be that the contract for the sale of thirty-five or forty acres of shore land just north of the West Shore depot at Weehawken was yesterday [Jan. 30] executed by the owners of the property in question to a syndicate of capitalists representing the interests of the Susquehanna Road."

Ohio & Mississippi.—The London Committee of the English shareholders in the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad Company has appointed William Bull, Edward B. Bell, John Davis and Edgar Welles, of New York, and James Wilson of Wilmington, to co-operate with the London Committee in carrying out the arrangements authorized by the English shareholders at the meeting held in London on October 14.

—At Cincinnati, Feb. 2, the Ohio & Mississippi Railway Company filed in the Circuit Court its answer in the quo warranto proceedings brought by the Baltimore & Ohio Railway interests. The answer attacks the validity of the election of directors on the ground that the proxy votes of the stock of Brown, Shipley & Co., of London, Eng., were illegal, and that there was a secret purpose to issue new certificates in such a manner as to transfer to the Baltimore & Ohio the entire control of the Ohio & Mississippi.

Poughkeepsie Bridge—Central New England & Western—Philadelphia & Reading.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Central New England & Western, held at 115 Broadway on Wednesday, a new board was elected in the interest of the Philadelphia & Reading, and at a subsequent meeting of the board President McLeod, of the P. & R., was elected President. On Tuesday next similar action will be taken by the Poughkeepsie Bridge Company, thus completing the transfer of the system to the Philadelphia & Reading under the plan stated in our last issue. The offices will be transferred to Philadelphia. Some effort was made this week to obtain more favorable terms for the bridge bondholders, but without success. There is a good deal of opposition from this source, but no plan of action has been agreed upon.

Future deposits will be made monthly. This will be acceptable news in London where many of the $7,000,000 bonds outstanding are held.

Reports and Documents.

ST. LOUIS &amp; SAN FRANCISCO RAILWAY.

ABSTRACT OF CONSOLIDATED MORTGAGE DUE 1990.

(Bonds Guaranteed by Atchison by Endorsement.)

DATE AND PARTIES.

The indenture is made the eleventh day of June, 1891, between the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Missouri, party of the first part, and the Mercantile Trust Company, of New York, party of the second part.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE AND AUTHORITY THEREFOR.

It is necessary for the Railway Company to borrow money for the further completion, equipment and repair of its railroads and other property and for the funding and refunding of its debts and for the making of additions and extensions to its railroads and other property authorized by its charter, including laws supplemental thereto. The Board of Directors has deemed it necessary to borrow not exceeding $50,000,000 for the purposes aforesaid, and has resolved that bonds be issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, or multiples thereof, payable in gold in the city of New York or the city of Boston, on the first day of October, 1890, bearing interest from October 1, 1890, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October, at either agency, in like coin or its equivalent, at the rate of four per cent per annum, and have interest coupons thereto attached, with provision for the registration of ownership of the principal of any of said bonds and with right to the holder to exchange any of said bonds for registered bonds of the same issue; and that said bonds be issued and disposed of from time to time in such manner that the bonded indebtedness of the Railway Company shall not be increased to an amount which shall exceed the amount of its authorized capital, and shall be used for retiring the existing bonds and obligations of the Railway Company and of other corporations, the payment of the principal or interest of which has been guaranteed or assumed in whole or in part by the Railway Company; the remainder of said bonds to be used for any lawful purposes of the Railway Company. The consent of the holders of the larger amount in value of the stock of the Company to this increase of its bonded indebtedness and to the issue of the bonds and execution of this mortgage has been obtained, at a meeting of its shareholders duly called for that purpose, and of which due notice was given as required by law.

(FORM OF COUPON BOND.)

If at any time after such entry all interest due on the bonds shall have been fully paid out of the net income of said railroads and other property, and the principal of said bonds shall not be due, the Trustee shall restore said railroads and other property to the company.

WHEN TRUSTEE MAY SELL.

If default be made in the payment of any interest or principal, or in any of the covenants herein set forth, and continue for six months after the Trustee shall have made written demand of payment or performance, the Trustee shall, upon request of the holders of the greater amount of the bonds then outstanding, but not otherwise, and upon reasonable indemnity, cause all of the railroads and other property then secured by this Mortgage, including all shares of capital stock and bonds held in trust, to be sold as one property, at public auction, at the City of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, after giving notice of the time, place and terms of sale by publication thereof in each of the cities of St. Louis, New York, Boston, and in London, England, at least once a week for three successive months, in one of the principal daily newspapers of general circulation. After paying all expenses, so much of the proceeds of said sale as may be necessary shall be applied to the payment of principal and interest of the bonds; and any surplus to the Railway Company or to whomsoever shall be entitled to receive the same.

FORECLOSURE PROCEEDINGS.

If default be made in the payment of the principal or interest, or in any of the covenants herein set forth, and continue for six months, the Trustee may begin foreclosure or other appropriate proceedings, in any proper court, and upon the request of the holders of the greater amount of bonds then outstanding, and upon reasonable indemnity shall proceed to enforce the remedy by foreclosure or other appropriate proceeding.

COMPANY MAY WAIVE THE SIX MONTHS' PROVISION.

In case of default the Railway Company may, by vote of its Board of Directors, waive the provisions herein contained in regard to continuation of default for six months before enforcement of remedies, and the Trustee may, immediately upon the waiver, take action.

RIGHT OF ACTION IN THE TRUSTEE ONLY.

All bonds secured by this mortgage shall be subject to the condition that every right of action at law or in equity, upon any of the bonds or coupons, or growing out of any provision of this mortgage, including the right to foreclose this mortgage, is vested exclusively in the Trustee until the Trustee shall refuse or neglect to begin foreclosure or other appropriate proceeding in a proper court, within a reasonable time after request of the holders of the greater amount of bonds outstanding, with offer of reasonable indemnity.

NO BENEFIT FROM STAY LAWS.

The railway company irrevocably waives all benefit of any valuation, stay, extension or redemption law, and irrevocably waives all right to have the mortgaged property and franchises marshalled upon any sale thereof, and consents that the same be sold as one property.

TRUSTEE MAY PURCHASE AND REORGANIZE

At any sale of the property the Trustee shall, upon request of the holders of the greater amount of bonds then outstanding, and upon proper indemnity, bid for said property. In case the Trustee shall purchase, the Trustee shall also, upon like request, proceed to incorporate and organize a new corporation under the laws of the State of Missouri, upon such terms, conditions and limitations, and with such provisions for all or any of any class of creditors interested in said mortgaged property and franchises as the holders of the greater amount of said bonds shall determine, and as shall be allowed by law. The Trustee shall thereupon convey the property so purchased to said corporation accordingly.

ALL REQUESTS, &c., BY BONDHOLDERS MUST BE ACKNOWLEDGED.

Any declaration, request or objection herein provided to be made by the holders of bonds shall be by instrument or similar instruments in writing, signed by the bondholders or their attorneys duly authorized for the purpose, and proved in each case by the certificate of an officer authorized to take acknowledgments that the person signing the same acknowledged the execution thereof, and made oath before such officer to the ownership of the bonds by the person claiming to own them. With respect to every declaration, request and objection, the Trustee may require all persons claiming to be owners to produce their bonds or give other evidence of ownership satisfactory to the Trustee.

TRUSTEE MAY CALL MEETINGS ON REQUEST OF ONE-FIFTH

The Trustee may at any time call a meeting of the holders of bonds for action under the provisions of this Mortgage, and shall call such a meeting upon the request of holders of not less than one-fifth in amount of bonds outstanding; and such holders may themselves call such a meeting upon failure of the Trustee to comply promptly with such request. Every such meeting shall be held in the City of New York, unless otherwise directed by such bondholders.

RESIGNATION OF TRUSTEE AND METHOD OF NEW APPOINTMENT.

The Trustee may resign by notice in writing to the Railway Company given at least three months before the resignation is to take effect, unless shorter notice be accepted by the Railway Company.

Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Trustee, the Railway Company shall forthwith appoint a new Trustee by a written instrument duly acknowledged and filed with the Trustee so appointed. Notice of the appointment shall immediately be published at least once a week for six successive weeks, in each of the cities of St. Louis, New York and Boston, and in London, England, in one of the principal daily newspapers of general circulation. Unless the holders of the greater amount then outstanding shall, within sixty days from the date of the last publication of such notice, file with the Railway Company an objection made as hereinbefore provided, said appointment shall be considered as confirmed.

If such objection be so filed, the Railway Company shall thereupon apply to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District including the District of St. Louis for the appointment of a new Trustee. If a vacancy in the office of Trustee shall remain unfilled for thirty days, any holder of a bond may, on not less than ten days' notice to the Railway Company, apply to such Circuit Court for the appointment of a new Trustee. Every new Trustee, however appointed, shall be a trust company incorporated under the laws of the State of New York and having its principal place of business in the City of New York, or incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and having its principal place of business in the City of Boston.

The Trustee shall not be liable for any error made by it in good faith, but only for gross negligence or wilful misconduct in its discharge of the duties of Trustee.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, each of the parties hereto has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and attested by its Secretary or Assistant Secretary, and this instrument to be signed by its President, as of the day and year first herein written.

NATIONAL CORDAGE COMPANY.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING OCT. 31, 1891.

To the stockholders of the National Cordage Company:

I take pleasure in submitting herewith the reports of the Financial and Manufacturing Directors for the fiscal year of the Company ending October 31st, 1891:

REPORT OF THE FINANCIAL DIRECTOR.

To the Directors of the National Cordage Company:

I herewith submit the report of the Comptroller for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1891, as follows:

COMPTROLLER'S REPORT

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT FOR THE YEAR.

	$106,313 45

BENJAMIN SEAWARD, Comptroller.

It will thus be seen that, notwithstanding the severe competition during the year and a declining hemp market, which still further reduced profits, the results of the business have been fairly satisfactory.

I should like to call attention to the fact that, up to this time, the officers of the company who are Directors have never received any salary for their services. Being large stockholders and vitally interested in seeing that the company was placed on a sound and substantial basis, they have voluntarily given their entire time to its service. This work has now been satisfactorily accomplished and the business greatly increased and improved by the acquisition of new properties. I therefore think it proper to recommend that, for the current fiscal year, the officers of the company should be paid salaries commensurate with the importance of their duties.

Owing to the present low prices of raw materials and the great economies introduced in the manufacture and distribution of our goods, the present year should be a very profitable one, and while placing no additional burdens upon the consumer should afford the Company much larger returns than previous years.

It is very difficult at this time to give an accurate estimate of the profits of the business for the quarter ending Jan. 31st. I feel safe in stating, however, that, after deducting expenses, rentals and all fixed charges, these profits will be found sufficient to pay the entire annual dividend of $400,000 on the preferred stock and a quarterly dividend of $250,000 on the common stock, besides leaving a large surplus.

E. M. FULTON, Financial Director.

REPORT OF THE MANUFACTURING DIRECTOR.

To the Directors of the National Cordage Company:

I beg to submit to the Board of Directors a report of the physical condition of the properties under its control.

Much care has been devoted to improving the different mills, and to placing all as far as possible upon a plane of equal efficiency. Results have been most flattering in this respect. A large decrease in the cost of production has resulted and constant comparisons of the workings of the different mills have enabled us to adopt the best methods of manufacture to ensure the highest results. This would have been impossible of accomplishment had the various properties now owned by the company still remained in the control of the separate organizations which heretofore managed them. We have now reached the position of being able to manufacture at a much lower cost than ever before. I have been unable to find that any independent mill, previous to our acquisition of that property, was able to manufacture at anything like the low cost of production we have succeeded in securing for the combined properties under your control.

Betterments to the mill properties have placed them in the highest possible physical condition. The buildings are generally in first-rate order, and all machinery—whether in use or idle—has been fully repaired and made capable of running without interruption, thus bringing all the plants up to a state of the highest efficiency.

I have the fullest confidence that the current year will show large additional reductions in operating expenses, and whatever has been accomplished in the short period while the new mills have been in operation under our control, will be improved upon when continuous and uninterrupted running shows their results.

G. WEAVER LOPER, Manufacturing Director.

The Board of Directors fully concur in the views taken of the present condition and future prospects of the corporation by the foregoing reports.

Many of the properties now owned or controlled by the Company, including all the mills in Canada, and several of the largest mills in Boston and in the West and Southwest, came under its control about the 1st of November, 1891. Consequently the profits shown by the Financial Director's report merely represent the profits of the mills formerly owned by the Company, whereas now its manufacturing capacity has been very largely increased and its earnings should be increased correspondingly.

By the acquisition of more properties, three great material advantages were secured for your Corporation.

FIRST.—A large and more economical distributing power.

SECOND.—Lower raw material consequent upon the absence of speculation and competition in the fibre markets by the various concerns, corporate and individual, which have been absorbed by your Company.

THIRD.—Cheaper cost of production: (a). By comparisons and the introduction in all the mills of the best methods found in each. (b). By spreading the fixed charges over a larger output. (c). By concentrating the purchase of the manufacturing supplies for all the mills; thereby securing them at the lowest possible prices. (d). By manufacturing for ourselves the principal supplies used by the Company.

Through these advantages, secured by the control of many mills, and their management under one direction, the Company hopes to be enabled to secure an increased margin of profit without increasing the prices of its product to the consumer.

The properties now owned and controlled by the Company are situated in many States in this country and the provinces of Canada, and are forty-nine in number. Some of the plants are very extensive, as may be judged from the fact that the walks in which the large sizes of ropes and cables are made are nearly one-third of a mile in length, and our largest plants occupy acres upon acres of land which are constantly increasing in value.

The geographical situation of the mills has rendered advisable a division into four general departments of the properties of the Company, viz.: The New England Department, the Eastern Department, the Western Department, the Canadian Department, each division being in the general charge of a department manager, who acts under directions from the main office of the Company. The headquarters of the various department managers are at New York, Boston, Cincinnati and Montreal, and the Company has branch offices at these places.

The other departments of the business, such as the purchasing of the raw materials, the sale of the product, the insurance department and the accounting department, are administered from New York, while the Bureau of Transportation is located at Cincinnati, which was found to be the best point for that purpose.

The many inquiries which have been made about the organization of the Company and its issue of stock seem to require an authoritative statement regarding these matters.

The Capital Stock of the corporation is $15,000,000, divided into 50,000 shares of 8 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock of $100 each, and 100,000 shares of Common Stock of $100 each; all of which has been issued as full-paid stock.

The Company has no bonded or mortgage debt, and the creation of any such debt, except with the consent of holders of record of at least 80 per cent of the Preferred Stock, is prohibited.

The Preferred Stock is entitled to a preferential cumulative dividend of 8 per cent per annum, payable out of the net earnings of the Company before any dividends are paid upon the Common Stock; and the Preferred Stock also has priority over the Common Stock in respect of all property and assets in case of liquidation or dissolution.

After the payment of 8 per cent cumulative on the Preferred Stock and 12 per cent on the Common Stock, any further dividends have to be divided pro rata between the two classes of stock.

The two classes of stock have the same voting power per share.

The dividends on both classes of stock are payable quarterly on the first days of November, February, May and August in each year.

Both classes of stock are registered at the office of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, and are listed on the regular list of the New York Stock Exchange, having passed the scrutiny of the Governing Committee of the Exchange.

The organization of the Company and the legal validity of its stock issue were in October, 1890, submitted by the Bankers who offered for sale the Preferred Stock of the Company to their counsel, and approved, as will appear from the following opinions:

NEW YORK, Oct. 9th, 1890.

To MESSRS. AUGUST BELMONT & Co:

We have, as requested by you, examined the organization of the National Cordage Company, and its issue of preferred stock. It is our opinion that the organization is regular and the stock issue valid; and that the holders of said stock will be legally secure in the rights and immunities set forth in your prospectus of this date.

Signed, LOWREY, STONE & AUERBACH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9th, 1890.

MESSRS. VERMILYE & Co.:

GENTLEMEN: We have investigated the organization of the National Cordage Company, and the proceedings attending its issue of preferred stock.

We advise you that the organization of the company and the issue of preferred stock are valid in law, and that the holders of such stock will be entitled to the privileges and immunities stated in the prospectus.

Very truly,

(Signed) BUTLER, STILLMAN & HUBBARD.

It will thus be seen that the National Cordage Company is not a trust, but a regular corporation, with the protection afforded by the laws of the State of New Jersey; and further its capital stock cannot be increased without the consent of the stockholders, as required by law.

The stock of the corporation is widely distributed, the total number of stockholders being at the last closing of the books nearly one thousand, a considerable amount of stock being held by investors in Europe and Canada.

JAMES M. WATERBURY, President.

—Attention is called to the card of Messrs. Cahoon & Wescott. This firm has been favorably known for the past ten years in Wall Street, both gentlemen being members of the New York Stock Exchange.

—Metropolitan Traction (Broadway Cable) stock is active in the Philadelphia market, selling yesterday at 99½, as against 79½ last month. The rise is said to be due to the maturing of plans by which a cable system will connect the Pennsylvania RR. ferry and the Grand Central Station in New York City.

—The New Jersey Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Jersey City acts as transfer agents, etc., for corporations organized under the laws of New Jersey, and provides rooms for meetings of stockholders, and offices which can be used as a principal place of business in New Jersey.

—Investors in quest of 5 per cent to 7 per cent 1st mortgage railway bonds or 5 per cent guaranteed stocks are invited to notice the advertisement of Messrs. Hollister & Babcock in to-day's CHRONICLE.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Feb. 5, 1892.

We are having pleasant winter weather, and preparations for the opening of active spring trade have made good progress. There have been further and important declines in cotton and wheat, under excessive supplies and unfavorable foreign advices, causing great discouragement among operators for the rise, and involving them in severe losses. There was some recovery in wheat, but the position of cotton seemed hopeless. Congress makes no progress with measures affecting taxation or public finances.

The following is a comparative statement of stocks of leading articles of merchandise at dates given:

The speculation in cotton for future delivery at this market was at declining prices during the week under review, falling at times into a semi-panic and again touching the lowest prices of recent years. Liverpool and New Orleans shared in and contributed to our declines, which were due mainly to the larger receipts at the ports and at interior towns, showing that the smaller movement of the previous fortnight was caused by bad weather and not due to "exhaustion," as the bulls had been inclined to assert. After each sharp decline there was some recovery on a demand to cover contracts, with some buying for investment, but the strength derived from these purchases proved to have no lasting quality such as is needed to support prices. To-day the bulls were greatly discouraged by the further decline in the Liverpool market, and showed for a time not a little demoralization, to which the full interior movement contributed. This afternoon there was a slight and partial recovery on a demand to cover contracts, but the close was tame and spiritless. Cotton on the spot declined 1-16c. on Monday, and much more than this in Southern markets, without leading to any activity of demand. To-day there was a further decline of 1-8c., middling uplands closing at 7 5-16c.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 871,400 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 803 bales, including — for export, 803 for consumption, — for speculation, and — in transit. Of the above — bales were to arrive. The following are the official quotations for each day of the past week—January 30 to February 5.

LARGE IMPORTATION OF EGYPTIAN COTTON.—The steamer Runic, which arrived at New York on Wednesday, Feb. 3, from Liverpool, brought 2,150 bales of Egyptian cotton—the largest importation of the current season.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has been inactive the past week, trading being confined to small parcels. Prices have, however, undergone no appreciable change, the ruling quotations this evening being  $5\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. for  $1\frac{3}{4}$  lbs., 6¢. for 2 lbs. and  $6\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. for standard grades. Jute butts are very firmly held and purchases are gauged by actual requirements. Quotations are  $1\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. for paper grades and  $2\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. for bagging quality. The visible supply of butts at the close of January was about 180,000 bales, against 340,000 bales at the same date in 1891 and 200,000 bales in 1890.

SHIPPING NEWS.—The exports of cotton from the United States the past week, as per latest mail returns, have reached 124,308 bales.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, February 5, 1892.

The market for wheat flour was very dull until Wednesday, when at a decline of 10 cents or more per barrel the transactions were unusually large, including an important line for the West Indies, causing on Thursday a stronger though quiet market. To-day our quotations are revised, but not materially changed from last week, as stocks are held with much more confidence in view of the better prices ruling in the grain markets.

Wheat has fluctuated widely. The decline early in the week was due to discouraging features of the statistical position and weak reports by cable from foreign markets. The export demand was slow and did not improve. On Thursday there was a moderate spot business at \$1.02 for No. 2 red winter and \$1.03 for No. 1 Northern spring. To-day futures were excited and buoyant. The smaller crop movement and adverse crop accounts led to an active buying to cover contracts, on which prices advanced rapidly, closing at some improvement over last Friday's figures. In spot wheat there was a moderate export business, including No. 2 red winter for early arrival at \$1.05 $\frac{1}{4}$ .

Indian corn, after a period of depression, has been advancing for the past two days. The speculation for the rise has shown decided vigor, the sales of futures to-day exceeding five million bushels. The rise is in part due to sympathy with the better wheat market; the demand is largely to cover contracts. The crop movement, however, continues greatly in excess of last season, while the export business is but moderate. Shippers to-day took No. 2 mixed at 50½¢. in elevator and afloat.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, Friday P. M., February 5, 1892.

There has been more business done, in a quiet way, during the past week, than for some time past, the attendance of buyers being full and orders numerous, although of no great extent individually. Agents, while still dissatisfied with what they are pleased to term the entire absence of activity, have less cause for complaint than heretofore. In view of the fact that they are in the majority of instances holding for previous prices, and have in some descriptions actually raised them, while raw cotton has marked another heavy decline, the business transacted must be looked upon as satisfactory. Buyers are not likely to depart from a conservative policy so long as there is no absolute scarcity of goods in sight and the price of cotton is so low that their imperative needs should be as large as the past week's business indicates ought to be regarded as a favorable feature. If it has not been sufficiently large to prevent accumulation of stocks, then there must have been some exaggeration in the many statements made by agents as to the extent their mills were already under contract. Deliveries have been on a considerable scale in domestics, of fair extent in prints, but only moderate in wash fabrics. The jobbing trade has been more active on the spot than for some time, but is still open to a large measure of improvement in this respect, as the bulk of the business passing is the outcome of orders from salesmen on the road. The sale of over 200 cases of white goods at auction yesterday was a feature of the week's business, and the result of it confirmed what has been written for weeks back concerning the poor condition of this branch of the cotton goods business.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending February 2 were 11,167 packages, valued at $521,063, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports since January 1 have been $1,206,273 in 1892 against $1,083,707 in 1891.

There has been a good demand for brown cottons by converters, with a fair inquiry from jobbers, and export orders have proved somewhat larger than of late. Prices are steady at previously ruling low range of values. Sales of bleached shirtings have been moderate only, but an improved request is noted for colored cottons, silesias, satteens, etc. Flat-fold and other cambrics are strong in sympathy with print cloths, and leading makes have been advanced ¼¢. per yard. In printed fabrics, shirtings and indigo blues have been raised ¼¢. per yard, with standard fancies steady and in fair demand. Moderate duplicate orders have been received from jobbers for ginghams and other wash fabrics, the distribution of these at second hands continuing on a free scale. Print cloths have ruled strong throughout the week, advancing 1-16¢. per yard, 64 squares being quoted at 3¼¢.; 60x56s at 2½¢. @ 2¼¢. and 56x60s at 2½¢.

DOMESTIC WOOLENS.—The demand for men's-wear fabrics has again been on a liberal scale. A large number of out-of-town buyers are present, and their operations have been supplemented by a good local demand. In woolen goods, chevots have had the preference, and present indications point strongly to these being the favorite fall style. Worsteds are comparatively neglected outside of a few special lines. Cotton-warp cassimeres and satinets continue in better request than some time ago, but doeskin jeans are still indifferently called for. Overcoatings and cloakings maintain their position, large deliveries being made on previous orders, and a steady business coming forward in the shape of new ones. Flannels and blankets are quiet in both first and second hands. All-wool and worsted dress goods are mostly well sold ahead, current output being taken care of in all desirable lines.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been a healthy business in progress during the week, completed transactions and new orders making up a considerable total. Specialties in dress goods have again led over staple lines, there being a good demand for crepons, chevots, crinkle and other fancy weaves. In silks printed styles, changeables, black brocades and bengalines are in best request, with a good business done in silk ribbons. The linen trade has been thrown into considerable confusion by the customs authorities unexpectedly raising the duty of fringed linens from 35 per cent (under which rate they have been admitted since the enactment of the new tariff) to 50 per cent. Although no change in price has been made so far, this probably implies an early advance in the goods affected.

THE OUTSTANDING BONDS OF THREE LEADING NEW YORK CITIES.

From our experience in dealing with official reports of municipal finances we have learned that in the case of most cities it is a difficult thing to obtain a statement of the bonded debt which shall give the details of each outstanding loan, include the most recent bond issues and at the same time be accurate and convenient for reference. In view of this fact, we are glad to be able to publish below, for the benefit of our readers, a revision of the debt reports (which appeared in our recent SUPPLEMENT) for the cities of New York, Brooklyn and Albany. The statements as now given include the details of all loans issued and outstanding on January 1 1892. In the bond table for New York City the amount held in the city's sinking fund is indicated in the case of each bond issue, and such loans as are secured or payable in a special manner are so designated. The correction of the table in all these particulars has necessitated some change in almost every line. Among other alterations in the Albany statement, the Street Improvement Bonds, which are payable by special assessment, have been separated from the issues which are included under the head of "General Bonded Debt." This is a decided improvement on the former method of arrangement, and was suggested by the Chamberlain of Albany, Mr. Charles A. Hills. We give the New York returns first, and following these are similar details &c. of the debt of Brooklyn and Albany.

NEW YORK CITY.—The consolidation of New York City and New York County took place in the year 1873 and the city then assumed the county debt. In the following statement loans wholly in the sinking fund are distinguished by s.f. prefixed to the amount outstanding. Loans exempt from taxation have a paragraph mark (§) added to the title of the loan. The letters a, b, c, d and e prefixed to the amount outstanding refer to the security which the loans have by reason of sinking funds, as fully explained in the foot notes to the table.

For further information touching the sinking funds, the reader is referred to the abstract of the New York law relating to the same, which is given below, and to the above detailed statement of the city's debt, in which are indicated both the principal holdings of the sinking fund, and the several issues held by the public to which the sinking fund applies.

DEBT LIMITATION.—The Legislature passed a law in 1885 that the indebtedness should not exceed 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of real estate, and this 10 per cent was construed by the Court of Appeals not to include the bonds in the sinking fund as a part of the debt. See full statement under New York State.

BROOKLYN.—Mr. David A. Boody is the present Mayor of Brooklyn. The city covers most of the area of Kings County, and it is therefore indirectly responsible for the county's debt, which county debt on Jan. 1 1892 amounted to $6,475,402 24. Brooklyn has grown with great rapidity, and has consequently been obliged to issue of late years a large amount of bonds for city improvements, water works, etc. In the following statement loans wholly in the sinking fund are distinguished by s. f. prefixed to the amount outstanding, and a paragraph mark (§) added to the title of a loan indicates that it is exempt from taxation.

A large share of the loan was awarded to Blake Bros., who bid 100.03 and L. W. Morrison, of New York, obtained $100,000 at par. It is reported that about $300,000 of the bonds remain unsold.

Chicago, Ill.—(STATE AND CITY SUPPLEMENT, page 98.)—Chicago has sold $3,000,000 of 4 per cent World's Fair bonds to Blair & Co., of New York, and Brewster, Cobb & Esterbrook, of Boston. Port Jervis, N. Y.—Twenty-year 4 per cent sewer bonds to the amount of $35,000 were recently awarded to Jones & Faile, of New York. For a complete financial statement for Port Jervis see item under "Debt Changes" in this Department.

This new loan increases the total debt of Spokane to $1,320,000. The assessed valuation is reported at $32,547,045. The new issue is dated Oct. 1 1891 and the bonds mature Oct. 1 1911 with out option.

Springfield, Mass.—(STATE AND CITY SUPPLEMENT, page 33.)—The City Treasurer has been authorized to borrow, temporarily, $400,000, and he recently advertised for proposals for $50,000 of the loan. A local bank in making a bid for this amount offered also to take the entire $400,000 at 3 per cent, and to pay the same rate on such part of it as the city should keep on deposit with them. The offer was so favorable that it was immediately accepted, although it was not strictly in accordance with the terms of the advertisement.
