REVIEW OF MARCH.

The financial markets during March felt the influence of rather unfavorable trade conditions. Our industries seem to have got into an inactive state during the month, and there was much complaint of poor business and also of low prices. A variety of causes account for this unsatisfactory trade situation. Congress has been a disturbing factor in industrial affairs ever since it began its session last December, and during March the discussions on the bills proposing to grant belligerent rights to the insurgents in Cuba introduced a new disquieting element. Then also the question of monetary standards was again brought prominently to the front by the holding of State Conventions for the selection of delegates to the National Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President, and a feeling of anxiety was caused by the uncertain attitude on this question assumed by at least one of these State Conventions.

In addition the weather was bad nearly all through the month. We do not mean that our railroads were blocked with snow and ice, interrupting the business of transportation to a great extent, as sometimes happens in this month. There were obstructions of that kind in a few instances, but they were temporary and on the whole unimportant. The adverse influence exercised by the weather was of a different nature. The weather was of a character to keep people indoors as much as possible, there being high winds, rain, snow, sleet or ice almost the whole time. As a consequence the retail trade suffered very severely, and dealers found stocks of goods accumulating on their hands. This applies not merely to New York and the immediate vicinity, but to a good part of the whole country, similar conditions having prevailed in many other sections. While retail dealers were thus adversely affected by the weather, it happened that there were also quite a good many failures of prominent houses in the wholesale trade in various parts of the country, these latter unsettling the market for commercial paper. In financial circles the appointment of receivers for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, which occurred on the last day of February, likewise exercised a depressing effect. At the same time a rise in the rates for foreign exchange towards the close of March presented the possibility of a renewal of the export movement of gold.

As regards the discussions in Congress, the United States Senate on the 28th of February, as was noted in our review of that month, passed a resolution declaring in favor of the recognition of the Cuban insurgents as belligerents. The House of Representatives passed a similar resolution on March 2nd, but couched in somewhat different language. This action of Congress caused a deep feeling of resentment against the United States in Spain, and riotous demonstrations against this country and our consular representatives occurred at a number of points. The earlier of these demonstrations took place on Sunday, March 1, and for these the Government of Spain promptly expressed its regrets; the demonstrations were subsequently repeated however. The resolutions of the two houses were referred to conference committees, and the Senate Committee agreed to accept the House resolution and so reported to the Senate. The continued agitation of the matter during the discussions proved very depressing to business, and on the 18th the Board of Trade and Transportation of this city adopted an appeal to Congress asking it to drop the consideration of this and other foreign questions, which were doing so much harm to trade. During the debate on the Conference report it became evident that the sentiment against the course of Congress was growing, and some striking speeches in opposition to its attitude on the whole Cuban question were made by several of the Senators—notably by Senator Hale of Maine and Senator Hoar of Massachusetts. To end the matter the Conference report was withdrawn, and the House conferees reported in favor of the Senate resolution.

Abroad the Italians suffered a great reverse in their campaign against Abyssinia, the Italian army being almost annihilated in a battle on March 1. The immediate consequences of this event were a change of ministry in Italy, and the action of the British Government in deciding to send a British Egyptian army up the Nile to Dongola, in part to aid the Italians if necessary, in part to resist the movement of the Mahdists in the Soudan, who showed great activity after the Italian defeat and threatened to advance into Egypt. The action of the British Government did not meet with the support of France and Russia, who opposed the payment of the expenses of the expedition out of the Egyptian Reserve Fund; the votes of the English, German, Italian and Austrian members, forming a majority of the Egyptian Public Debt Commission, were recorded in favor of the proposed appropriation of £500,000, thus carrying the proposition.

The anxiety concerning our money standard in connection with the meeting of the various State conventions arose mainly out of the action of the Republican Convention in Ohio. In the platform of principles enunciated in that State the plank devoted to the silver question was not considered as definite and unequivocal as it should be by business classes. But the effect was beneficial in the end, for it stimulated the believers of an honest currency to vigorous action in order to get a clear and unmistakable expression of views on this most important of questions. Three other Republican conventions were held subsequently, namely in New York, Minnesota and Massachusetts, and the platforms in these cases left nothing to be desired in that regard, they declaring plainly and emphatically in favor of the gold standard.

There were several favorable developments during the month. The Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul increased its semi-annual dividend from 1 per cent to 2 per cent, the Lehigh Valley restored to its employees the 10 per cent reduction in wages made in 1893, and the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company reached an agreement for the joint use of patents and the abatement of the ruinous rivalry which had previously existed between them. Another favorable event was the appearance of a reorganization plan for the Northern Pacific, which had the endorsement of all interests and thus had its success insured in advance. A feature of the plan is that it provides for a guarantee syndicate of $45,000,000 to take care of the financial part of the arrangements. In the matter of the receivership complications of the property, Judges Gilbert and Hanford, in the Circuit Court at Seattle, distinguished themselves by, in effect, refusing to carry out the instructions of the Supreme Court Justices, who by their joint action a few weeks before had, it was supposed, finally settled the question of the conflict of jurisdiction between the different Circuit Courts.

A report gained currency the latter part of the month that the anthracite coal roads had decided to abandon the agreement entered into between them towards the close of January. This turned out to mean simply that they had abandoned the idea of having a signed agreement. The companies are working in harmony and no desire exists to return to the policy which proved so disastrous to them all last year.

Payments were continued during March on account of the Government bond subscriptions made in February, and at the close of the month only about five million dollars remained to be paid for, the aggregate of the payments up to March 31 having been $106,230,186—$95,456,750 being on account of principal, $10,624,290 for premiums and $149,146 for accrued interest. The Treasury gold balance was reported at $123,962,979 March 1 and at $128,646,146 March 31. On the 16th the Secretary made a call upon the depository banks for 20 per cent of the deposits held by them on bond subscription account, and by Friday the 20th $4,578,000 had been turned over, or practically the whole amount of the call; the payments were voluntarily continued after that and by the end of the month $5,890,000 altogether had been paid over, leaving about $17,000,000 on deposit with the banks.

The foreign exchange market was dull but easy until about the 19th; after that, successive advances in rates occurred, amounting in the aggregate to 1½ cents per pound sterling. This brought the rates close to the gold-export point, though no outflow of the metal actually occurred. Early in the month the price for gold bars in London advanced to 77s. 10d. per ounce, but at the end of the month it was reported at 77s. 9d. The Secretary of the Treasury raised the charge for gold bars from 1-16 of one per cent to 3-16, making this also the charge for jewelers' bars, which are usually sold a little lower. The following shows every change in the rates for actual business in sterling which occurred during the month.

The stock market was dull and irregular on a small volume of business. General Electric was strong on the agreement with the Westinghouse Electric, but subsequently lost part of the advance. The reorganization plan of the Northern Pacific advanced the bonds of the road but weakened the stocks. The general list was depressed at times. The latter part of the month the good February statement of earnings of the Burlington & Quincy had the effect of strengthening the market and infusing a little more activity into it.
