REVIEW OF DECEMBER.

The improvement in the situation which occurred in November as the result of the triumph of the Sound-Money cause at the polls was not fully maintained in December; or perhaps it would be more accurate to say that the hopes so confidently entertained of further decided development in the direction of business revival were in great measure disappointed. Possibly the expectations of a sustained expansion in industrial activity were in any event pitched too high, seeing that we were near the end of the year, when it is customary to close accounts for the twelve months and when also temperature and weather conditions usually impose obstacles to out-door work and thus reduce to a minimum operations in many lines of trade.

In the main, however, the fact that trade recovery failed to make the progress expected may be ascribed to the occurrence of a number of special retarding influences and set-backs. Congress, as usual, has proved a disturbing factor. It quickly became apparent, after the members assembled, that notwithstanding the emphatic popular verdict given at the election, nothing would be done at this session to correct the evils of our currency system, nor anything to remove the inequalities between Government disbursements and Government revenues; while both in and out of Congress, even among those high in party councils, there were manifestations of a spirit which suggested a willingness to encourage renewed temporizing with the silver issue.

Worst of all, the attitude and action of the Senate in the matter of the Cuban insurgents introduced an element which has proved thoroughly disorganizing to business. Quite a number of radical bills were presented in that body, one going so far as to direct the President to take possession of Cuba by military force, and on Friday the 18th the Committee on Foreign Relations made a report said to be unanimous tending to at once disturb our relations with Spain. Among the resolutions which had been referred to that committee was one by Senator Cameron recognizing the independence of the "Republic of Cuba." Unexpectedly the committee reported this resolution favorably on the 18th, causing an immediate sharp break in the stock market and creating a feeling of anxiety and uneasiness throughout the whole country. Fortunately Secretary of State Olney met this move the next day by the announcement that Congress had no power to bind the President in a matter of this kind, that the recognition of a foreign State was an Executive function alone. It also became apparent that public opinion did not sustain the step proposed, and when the report came before the Senate on Monday the 21st action on it was postponed until after the holidays. Nevertheless the affair induced timidity and fear and thus imposed a check on enterprise.

As showing the unsettling effect caused by the doings of Congress, an interview with Mr. Chauncey M. Depew published in the "New York Times" of the 31st is pertinent. Speaking with reference to the relations between Washington and the business interests of the country Mr. Depew pointed out that the conditions now are excellent and ripe for good times. Nearly every doubtful scheme, enterprise, firm and corporation which could affect credit by failure has been forced to liquidate and business has not for a quarter of a century been in so conservative a state, and so near a cash basis, as at present. The distrust existing during the past three years has given a shock to credit and has made it abnormally sensitive. What is mainly needed, therefore, is to cultivate confidence, without which there can be no great activity in trade. Congress holds the key to the situation. Uncertainty as to its action upon the Cuban question, coupled with a possibility of a war with Spain; uncertainty as to its action on the tariff, on the currency, and upon the revenue and expenditures, keeps foreign capital from coming to this country. Such capital would be invested in new railroads, mining and irrigation developments and manufacturing enterprises, all of which are now waiting. Mr. Depew then states that the effect of the Cameron resolution was felt instantly in the falling off of the traffic of the railroads of about 15 per cent.

Another unsettling influence during the month was the occurrence of quite a number of bank failures in various parts of the country. The most important of these was the closing of the National Bank of Illinois at Chicago with liabilities of about 11 million dollars. The failure of this institution pulled down a number of concerns which had depended on it for assistance and were the cause of its collapse. Subsequently there were failures of banks or banking institutions in other parts of the Northwest—at St. Paul, Minneapolis, West Superior, etc., and likewise some failures in the South and Southwest. As far as can be judged, these embarrassments were the result of unsound banking methods rather than of unsound trade.

In consequence of the return to the channels of circulation of money previously hoarded, or which had been held in reserve out of caution against the possibility of a change of monetary standards, there were further large accumulations of currency at this center, keeping money easy; and of course the fact that there was no considerable demand for currency for trade purposes contributed to the same end. On November 7 both the loans and the deposits of the New York Clearing House banks were at the lowest point of the year. On December 26th both were at their highest points. The deposits between these two dates rose from $438,437,600 to $525,837,200, the addition thus being over 87 million dollars. The loans in the same interval increased only 45½ million dollars. It is needless to say that money rates ruled low throughout the month. Even the special call on this center from the West, arising out of the bank failures in that section, had only the effect of slightly stiffening the market. The following shows the rates for the various classes of loans for each week of the month. We may say that a feature in the market was the making of loans on sterling exchange as collateral. Some of these loans, running from 75 to 100 days, were placed at 2½ per cent.

Our foreign trade remained in a highly favorable state, showing a very large balance on the side of the merchandise exports. The price of wheat, after tending downward for a time, again advanced, cash wheat in New York commanding over a dollar a bushel. The price of cotton sharply declined, and low middling uplands closed on December 31 at 6 13 16 cents per pound, against 7 5 16 cents November 30. The Treasury continued to gain gold, and December 31 the reserve was reported at $137,316,544.

The course of the exchange market furnished evidence of the favorable conditions ruling in the foreign trade. From the 8th to the 18th the tendency of sterling was strongly upwards, and while the rates did not justify gold exports to Great Britain, it was thought that some amounts might go to Berlin. But subsequently the market decidedly weakened again, thus for the time being precluding the possibility of any outflow. This weakness at the period when such large remittances have to be made to meet January interest payments on the other side was significant and remarkable. The following gives the rates for sterling on actual business for every day on which a change in any class of bills occurred:

The stock market was weak most of the month, on a small volume of business. The returns of railroad earnings for November were very unfavorable as a rule, and while some improvement occurred in this respect in December, it did not meet expectations. The roads in the spring-wheat sections particularly made poor comparisons, because the wheat movement the previous year had been of extraordinary magnitude. The action of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations on the 18th proved a wholly unexpected blow, prices falling away several points and the market becoming almost panicky. There was some recovery subsequently from the lowest figures, but transactions were on a limited scale. Below we furnish a record of the bond and stock sales at the Exchange for the month and year, in comparison with the three years preceding; and also the sales of cotton at the Cotton Exchange and of grain on the Produce Exchange.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a record of Boston Stock Exchange transactions in railroad securities for the past month and for the year 1896. Also a record of transactions in mining stocks for the past month and since January 1st. The railroad securities which are active on the New York Stock Exchange are omitted from this list. We give the securities in alphabetical order under the three general headings, Railroad Bonds, Railroad Stocks and Mining Stocks.

☞ In comparing New York and Boston prices, it should be noted that bond prices in New York are flat prices - that is, the price includes the accrued interest, while in Boston accrued interest must be paid in addition to price. It should also be remembered that New York stock prices are per cent while those in Boston are dollars per share.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS.

—OF—

BONDS AND STOCKS.

☞ Subscribers ought this month to notice particularly Explanation No. 2 given below.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of December. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

4. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

5. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant.

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It should be borne in mind that municipal bonds are not subject to such decided fluctuations in value as are securities which form a basis for speculation.

Prices marked (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition.

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.
