REVIEW OF AUGUST.

The great advance in the price of wheat may be said to have been the controlling factor in the situation during August. Under the quickening and stimulating influence of that fact, and a coincident but more moderate rise in the prices of other agricultural products, the improvement in business and revival of confidence, which were such a marked feature of affairs during the two months preceding, made further decided headway. Not for many years has the tone been so confident in trade and financial circles, or the future been regarded so hopefully.

The rise in wheat reached extraordinary proportions. We noted in our review of July that the September option on the Produce Exchange closed at 81½ cents on July 31, against 70½ cents on June 30. During August the price at one time (on the 23d) touched 106½ and the close on the 31st was at 96½. Thus in two months there has been an absolute advance of 26 cents a bushel. Cash wheat of course sold higher, closing at 104½. The December option sold up to 104½ (on the 23d) and closed at 94½. While, as is usual on such occasions, speculation has played a prominent part in the upward movement, carrying it further than seems prudent thus early in the season, there has of course been a substantial basis for better prices in the unfortunate crop situation abroad. For there can no longer be any doubt that there is a large crop shortage in Europe; and the export shipments of wheat from this country have been very heavy, amounting from the Atlantic seaboard alone in some weeks to 5 million bushels.

Fortunately for us and fortunately for the world, our own favorable crop prospects have only been slightly impaired. There were reports after the middle of the month of serious injury to the spring-wheat crop of the Northwest from rains, and these reports account for the extreme advance in price reached about the 23d. But this exceptional advance, as we have seen, has since then been in good part lost, and it is now admitted that the amount of damage done has been greatly exaggerated. The crop will not come up to the earlier estimates, and the quality will not be so good, but the yield will be abundant and in excess of that of last year. The Agricultural Bureau at Washington placed the condition of spring-wheat at the beginning of the month at 86·7, which, though lower than at the beginning of the previous month, compared with 78·9 on August 1 last year. The condition of oats was reported 86 against 77·3 in 1896, cotton 86·9 against 80·1, but corn 84·2 against 96.

As concerns the last cereal, there can be no doubt that the corn crop is backward. The weather during August was unusually cool, and hence the crop has matured slowly, and frost will have to be delayed much later than usual to prevent serious loss. On the other hand the damage done in July by hot winds in Nebraska and Kansas is found to have been much smaller than expected. A full yield of corn is not especially important this season, as the country produced 2,283 million bushels in 1896 and 2,151 million bushels in 1895, and large supplies out of these two extraordinary crops are still on hand. The export demand for corn has been very heavy, and the shipments from the Atlantic ports in some of the weeks have been in excess of 4,000,000 bushels. As in the case of wheat, there has been an active speculation in the cereal on the Produce Exchange and in Chicago. The September option here touched 38 on the 23d and the December option 40½ on the same day. The close on the 31st was at 35½ cents for the former and 37½ for the latter, against 33½ cents and 34½ cents for the respective options on July 31.

As if to emphasize the fallacy of the Populist notion that values of agricultural products are controlled by the price of silver, there was a further sharp downward plunge in silver, while wheat was soaring steadily upward. The metal was quoted at 23½ d. per ounce in London on the 25th, making the bullion value of the United States silver dollar only about 40 cents, and closed at 24d. on the 31st. There was nothing to explain the decline further than the absence of any considerable demand from any quarter. The depreciation increased the difficulties of the silver-standard countries having obligations to meet in gold, and towards the close of the month there were reports that propositions looking to the adoption of a gold standard were finding favor in Mexico.

The strike of the bituminous coal miners continued throughout the month. In the Pittsburg district the operators announced their intention to resume work, but apparently no active efforts were made to carry out this determination. On the other hand the strikers continued their tactics of marching in large bodies from place to place, endeavoring to prevail upon the men still at work to join in the movement. The effectiveness of the proceeding was spoiled by several court injunctions restraining the strikers from trespassing upon the property of the mine owners. In West Virginia efforts to get the miners to quit met with poor success. No coal famine developed anywhere. Where home supplies were insufficient, neighboring districts evidently were able to make good the deficiency.

Aside from the coal strike, and a somewhat larger excess of Government disbursements over Government receipts than had been expected, the developments during the month were generally very favorable. Increased activity was noted in nearly every line of business. The improvement was reflected in the steady expansion in the volume of bank clearings, and in large gains in the earnings of our railroad transportation systems. In the first week clearings increased 32 per cent over last year, in the second week 40 per cent, in the third week 34.5 per cent and in the fourth week 41 per cent. In railroad earnings the improvement (on the roads making weekly returns) the first week was 8.4 per cent, the second week 11.44 per cent and the third week 13.00 per cent. The price of print cloths was advanced from 2½ cents per yard to 2¾ cents, and in many other articles and commodities there were also advances.

It is a noteworthy fact that notwithstanding the great improvement in affairs manifest on every side, European investors and capitalists as a rule have shown no inclination to engage in new enterprises here or send their money this way. The great rise in prices on the Stock Exchange has served as an inducement for the sale of foreign holdings of our securities, instead of leading to new purchases. The explanation is that foreigners have no confidence in the permanence of prosperity in the United States so long as our currency system remains unchanged. At the same time the new tariff law and the attitude assumed by the country in its relations with certain foreign nations is deterring foreign investments. The last-mentioned cause, we learn in well-informed quarters, is a more potent factor in creating distrust than might be supposed.

Not much demand for money for the interior sections of the country developed until the latter part of the month, but money rates on time were a little higher.

Brown, Ship

In the foreign exchange market a sharp break in rates occurred. The decline amounts to 2½ cents per pound sterling in 60 day bills, to 1¾ cents in sight and to 1½ cents in cable transfers. The fall was due to large offerings of bills against grain shipments and also to offerings of bankers' sixty and ninety days sterling drawn in anticipation of covering with grain and cotton bills later in the season. The much greater decline in long bills than in sight and cable transfers is explained in part by the rise in the discount rate in London, in part by the relatively greater pressure of this class of bills. The lowest figures were reached on the 13th, and then prices remained stationary until the 20th, when there was an advance of one-quarter cent all around on a demand to remit for securities sold for European account; but on the 24th this advance was lost again. On the 31st cable transfers were marked up one-quarter cent. There were no gold exports except such as were made at the beginning of the month on previous engagements. With the decline in rates there was some talk of gold imports.

On the Stock Exchange the buoyancy noted in previous months continued, and a further decided advance in prices was established, so that in a good many instances not only the highest points of the year but the highest figures for several years were recorded. There were periods of reaction and hesitation (particularly when the wheat market was being rushed upward on stories of crop damage in the Northwest), but these were of short duration. Sales of stocks during the month reached $11,435,248 shares, the largest for any month since December 1886, and the sales of railroad bonds $73,109,400, the largest since May 1895.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and for the year 1897. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 2, 1897," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1897.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks
