REVIEW OF AUGUST.

The cessation of hostilities in the war between the United States and Spain proved a powerful stimulating influence both in developing activity on the Stock Exchange and in promoting a revival of trade. The protocol preliminary to the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the two countries was not signed until the 12th, but all the indications for the ten days preceding that event had left no room for doubt that such an arrangement would be reached. Spain had on the 26th of the previous month formally signified her intention through M. Cambon, the French Ambassador at Washington, to come to an understanding, and on the 30th of that month had received the reply of our Government giving the terms on which the United States would undertake the conclusion of a treaty and terminate the war. The Spanish Government proceeded with much deliberation in acting upon the American reply, thus encouraging reports that the arrangements might fall through; but there never was any serious reason to question that Spain would finally accept the American conditions, though it was natural that she should seek to have these conditions modified as much as possible in her favor. At all events that was the accepted view, and hence from the very beginning of the month the probable termination of the war acted as a stimulus on trade and favorably affected the markets.

Moreover, while the Spanish Government was deliberating on the American conditions the United States forces were achieving new victories. In Porto Rico the army under General Miles took town after town—in most cases without much fighting, the inhabitants receiving our forces with great acclaim—and was fast closing about San Juan when the signing of the protocol put an end to further aggressive movements. In Manila, as it happened, engagements were carried on even after the signing of the protocol, it being impossible to communicate with the American commanders before the engagements took place. The result was that Manila surrendered on the 13th to the combined land and naval forces of the United States. Admiral Dewey and General Merritt had on the 7th sent a joint note to the Spanish commander, allowing 48 hours for the removal of non-combatants, and on the 9th sent another joint note calling attention to the hopeless condition of the Spanish position and demanding surrender, which latter was refused. The attack was then made, and after some desperate fighting the United States troops carried the Spanish works and surrender occurred. Our troops took about 7,000 prisoners of war. General Merritt lost only about 50 men, while Rear-Admiral Dewey had no casualties at all and his ships were not damaged. After the United States troops took possession the cable was repaired, permitting direct communication again with the Philippines; previously messages had to be sent by dispatch boat to Hong Kong, and from there transmitted over the wires.

While the United States was thus gaining an uninterrupted series of victories, the peace protocol by its terms left it in possession of its acquisitions and emphasized the successful issue of the war. The protocol bound Spain to relinquish sovereignty over Cuba, to agree to cede Porto Rico and the other Spanish islands in the West Indies and an island in the Ladrões to the United States, and provided that the United States should occupy and hold Manila pending the determination what disposition was to be made of the Philippines.

Besides the importance attaching to the successes themselves there was from a mercantile and financial standpoint the further advantage arising from the removal of the obstacles and hindrances to trade and commerce which the war had imposed. The execution of the protocol was followed by the raising of the Cuban blockade, by the resumption of mail service and of commerce, not only with Cuba and Porto Rico, but with Spain itself. On the 20th the Postmaster General announced that the provisions of his order of April 26 discontinuing the dispatch of mails for Spain and Spanish colonies were suspended, and on the 22d the Secretary of the Treasury decided that under the new conditions of things there was no reason why Spanish vessels should not enter, load and clear at ports of the United States. In Porto Rico a revised Customs tariff was promulgated, the schedules generally being the minimum ones in force under the Spanish law and which had discriminated in favor of Spain. Besides this, American merchants at once began to prepare to take advantage of the fact that the island was to become a possession of the United States by undertaking to build up trade with that part of the world.

Though it must be weeks and possibly months before peace will be definitely and finally concluded, the Government attested its belief that the war was practically over by dispensing with many of the auxiliary vessels and by disbanding a good portion of the volunteer army. Troops were withdrawn from Cuba and from Porto Rico, and even in the case of the Philippines there was hesitation as to whether the last detachment of 5,000 troops intended for Gen. Merritt should be allowed to go. Gen. Merritt now has 15,000 troops.

To the favorable influence exerted by the practical termination of the war, there was one other important development of an auspicious nature. The crop situation was again made very promising by the fall of needed rains after a period of drought in July which had threatened much damage to corn. The Agricultural Bureau report for August showed less depreciation in this crop than had been expected, the average of condition being reduced only 3.5 points, to 87, leaving it somewhat better even than at the corresponding date last year. The breaking of the drought tended of course further to improve the prospects after the 1st of August. Towards the close of the month there were rumors of some damage from rain in one section and from excessive heat in another, but these reports do not receive much credence. The spring-wheat crop it is agreed will exceed all previous records.

The stock market was very active, the share sales for the month reaching, as will be seen below, 12,105,133 shares. There was an appreciation in values all around, but the leaders in the advance were the granger shares, which rose a great many points. Towards the close of the month evidences of a possible tightening of the money market caused some recessions, but the reaction was short-lived and not important in itself.

In the foreign exchange market an important feature was the reversal by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of his ruling of the previous month, to the effect that checks drawn by a bank here upon its balances abroad were subject to a tax of four cents per $100. Upon the advice of the Attorney-General he now decided that checks drawn in, though payable out of, the United States were subject to the same tax as domestic checks and therefore required only a two-cent stamp, thus sustaining the position assumed by the National City Bank. The effect of this reversal was seen in a reduction in the 'sight rate for bankers' sterling of one-quarter of a cent per pound on the 9th. It also had a tendency to broaden the market for exchange. The previous ruling had stopped trading by bankers in each other's bills and destroyed the occupation of brokers who had acted as intermediaries in the negotiation of bills between bankers. The new ruling made possible the resumption of these operations. There were some fairly large engagements of gold for import the early part of the month; afterward the movement ceased, only to be resumed again at the close of the month. Exchange rates steadily advanced up to about the middle of the month, when a decline set in which continued to the close. Under the new ruling of the Internal Revenue Department, business in sight sterling consists largely of checks.

The money market has shown a hardening tendency, and rates for all classes of loans are distinctly higher. In call money there were some furies unimportant in themselves, but indicative of the firmer tone of the market; early in the month the rate at one time touched 5 per cent, and in the week ending the 27th some money was loaned at 3 per cent, the general average however not getting above 2 per cent. On the 31st the rate for call loans was 2@2½. The causes for the firmer market have been perfectly obvious. In the first place, large amounts of money have been taken out of the market through the payments made on account of the new Government loan. In the second place the growing activity in the Stock Exchange has naturally led to an increase in the demand for loans in that quarter. In the third place the revival of general trade gave promise of an added call. Some inquiry from the interior also was noted, though the drain on that account was held in check by the absence of a supply of currency, necessitating the shipment of gold in some instances to meet the call of correspondents—an operation that adds to the cost of the shipment and frequently precludes it. The surplus reserve of the Clearing House banks was reduced from $41,904,475 July 30 to $21,343,300 Aug. 27

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and for the year 1898. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our reader, and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 3, 1898," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1898.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a record of Boston Stock Exchange transactions in railroad securities for the past month and for the year 1898. Also a record of transactions in mining stocks for the past month and for the year 1898. The railroad securities which are active on the New York Stock Exchange are omitted from this list. We give the securities in alphabetical order under the three general headings, Railroad Bonds, Railroad Stocks and Mining Stocks.

In comparing New York and Boston prices, it should be noted that bond prices in New York are flat prices—that is, the price includes the accrued interest, while in Boston accrued interest must be paid in addition to price. It should also be remembered that New York stock prices are per cent while those in Boston are dollars per share.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.
 2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of August. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.
 3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.
 4. Stock prices marked thus (+) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.
 5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
 6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant.
- Notice Change.—We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Prices marked (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition. In all other cases accrued interest must be added to the price. The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price. It should be borne in mind that municipal bonds are not subject to such decided fluctuations in value as are securities which form a basis for speculation.

Prices are per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City and Brooklyn bank stocks. Prices marked thus (*) are last sales.

The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

The double dagger (‡) prefixed to the capital stock indicates that only part is paid in.

The section mark (§) prefixed to surplus indicates that undivided profits are included.
