REVIEW OF FEBRUARY.

The progress in financial legislation at Washington and the successes achieved by British arms in South Africa were the distinguishing events during February. For the first time since the Anglo-Boer war broke out, the conflict took a favorable turn for Great Britain. Gen. Roberts assumed personal direction of the British movements, and inaugurated practically a new plan of campaign, beginning that central march upon Bloemfontein and Pretoria, through the Orange Free State, which has been pointed out by military critics as the correct line of policy for the British commanders to pursue. By a series of quick movements he invaded the Orange Free State, secured possession of a number of strategic points and effected the relief of the long-beleagured garrison at Kimberley, the British forces entering the city on the 16th. This was accomplished so rapidly that the Boers apparently had little chance to offer much opposition. The capture of the Boer army under Gen. Cronje, who evidently determined to retire towards Bloemfontein when he learned what had happened, was a more serious task. But the army was finally surrounded, and after a very determined resistance, lasting over a week, was on the 27th forced to surrender.

The gold standard and currency bill passed the United States Senate on Thursday, the 15th, by a vote of 46 to 29. That body substituted (with some amendments) the bill reported by the Senate Finance Committee in place of the measure which came from the House of Representatives the previous December. The matter then went to a Conference Committee of the two houses. The conferees concluded an agreement on the 23d and their report was submitted to the Senate the same day. They made a great many changes, some of the features of both bills being retained. As in the case of the separate bills however, there is a plain and unequivocal declaration in favor of the gold standard—in language so clear and direct that it will not be possible for the silver advocates hereafter to attempt to dispute the point or to raise any question as to what constitutes the legal standard of value.

The new measure contains decided possibilities of inflation, as has been pointed out in the CHRONICLE. But this is a consideration that had no influence upon the money market during the month under review. Except in the case of call loans, money rates developed a trifle more firmness during February. One feature was a striking and very noteworthy expansion in the loans of our Clearing House banks. This attracted a great deal of attention, and its precise significance was not fully explained. The movement excited the more interest as the latter part of the month it was coincident with a decrease in the money holdings of the banks. The operations of the U. S. Government (the transfer of internal revenue receipts to the depositary banks having come to an end) again took money out of our Clearing House institutions; at the same time and probably for the same reason the interior movement of currency was also reversed, so that the flow was away from New York, instead of, as in January, towards New York.

During January, when the Clearing House banks added very materially to their money holdings, the increase in loans was comparatively light. Thus, between December 30 and January 27 the item of loans rose less than fifteen million dollars. During February the addition to the loan account averaged nearly as much as that each week. In the week ending on the 3d of February an increase of $11,249,800 was recorded; in the week ending the 10th the expansion reached the extraordinary amount of $21,152,400; in the week ending the 17th the augmentation was $13,684,200, and in the week ending the 24th the item was further enlarged $11,035,900. In the four weeks, therefore, the total addition was $57,122,300, raising the aggregate from $688,332,800 to $745,455,100. In the same interval the deposits rose from $780,526,100 to $826,866,600, an increase of only $46,340,500. The money holdings were slightly heavier February 24 than January 27, standing $226,395,200, against $224,409,500, but this followed from the gain in the weeks ending on the 3d and on the 10th; in the remaining weeks there was a loss each week.

With increased reserve requirements on account of the expansion in the deposit line, and with the money holdings shrinking, surplus reserves naturally fell off. In the first week there was an increase of $1,593,300, to $30,871,275, but the next week there was a drop of $2,973,700, to $27,897,575, the following week a drop of $3,881,900, to $24,015,675, and the last week a further decrease of $4,337,125, bringing the amount of the surplus down to $19,678,550. The shrinkage was not without its effect upon the money market, for it led lenders to take more confident views as to rates in the future. In the case of call loans the condition remained one of decided ease, and at the Stock Exchange the range for the week ending the 23d was only from 1½ to 2½ per cent, the average being no higher than 2¼ per cent. Banks and trust companies quoted 2½ per cent as the minimum, though large loans were made by some of the banks at 2 per cent. But on time there was a noticeable stiffening of rates. On the 2d the quoted rates were 4 per cent for sixty days to four months and 4@4½ per cent for longer periods. On the 23d quoted rates were one-half of one per cent higher, at 4½ per cent for sixty to ninety days and 4½@5 per cent for four to six months. In the same way rates for commercial paper rose, being reported 4@4½ per cent for sixty to ninety days endorsed bills and 4½@5 for prime single names at the earlier date, and 4½ per cent for endorsed bills and 4¾@5¼ per cent for prime single names at the later date. The following is the record by weeks for all the various classes of loans.

In the European money markets there were some further reductions in official discount rates, but mostly on the part of the less important banks. On the 5th the Bank of Austro-Hungary lowered its rate from 5 per cent to 4½ per cent, on the 6th the Bank of the Netherlands reduced from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent and on the 7th the Bank of Belgium marked its rate down from 4½ per cent to 4 per cent. The Bank of Germany made no change from 5½ per cent, the Bank of France none from 3½ per cent and the Bank of England none from 4 per cent. In the outside markets there was a perceptible hardening of rates after the 10th of the month, except at Paris, where the quotation closed at 3¾@3½ per cent. At London rates for sixty to ninety-day bank bills advanced from 3¾@3½ per cent on the 9th to 3¾@3½ per cent on the 23d, the close on the 28th being 3¾@3½ per cent, and at Berlin and Frankfurt there was a rise from 3¾@3½ per cent to 4¾ per cent, the close on the 28th being even higher at 4¾@5 per cent.

This hardening of discounts abroad had some influence upon the course of our foreign exchange market, but the latter was, on the whole, without important feature. Sterling fluctuated within a narrow range, the tendency of the market the latter part of the month, however, being decidedly downward. The downward course was influenced in part by offerings of security bills, but mainly by a more liberal supply of cotton bills. European consumers who had been holding off began to buy cotton very freely the latter half of the month, notwithstanding the further rise in the price of the staple. For the week ending the 23d the shipments aggregated 224,647 bales, against 115,458 bales in the corresponding week of last year, and owing to the higher price the difference in the market value of the shipments was still greater.

In the stock market there were some strong features and also some elements of weakness. The features of strength were the new or increased dividend declarations by a number of important railroad companies. The Union Pacific declared its first dividend on the common stock, the Baltimore & Ohio its first dividend on the preferred stock, the Reading its first dividend on the 1st preference shares and the Canadian Pacific raised the rate of distribution on its common stock. The break in Third Avenue RR. stock, on the difficulties attending the taking care of the company's floating debt, the downward tendency of American Sugar Refining stock, owing to the continued warfare with the independent refiners, and the drop in Peoples' Gas, U. S. Rubber, etc., for various special reasons, were some of the elements of weakness. Bituminous coal shares, as also stocks of Southern roads, were prime favorites on the activity of the iron and coal trades and the advance in the price of cotton. Norfolk & Western was a very conspicuous feature, the common stock rising from 22½ Jan. 10 to 33¼ Feb. 26. The British successes in South Africa did not appear to exert a very great amount of influence on speculation. The general tone of the market was strong the first half of the month, but somewhat of a sagging tendency developed later, owing to the continued break in Third Avenue stock. The unfavorable bank statements also induced some speculative selling. The close was firm on the 28th, notwithstanding the weakness in the specialites.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The railroad securities which are active on the New York Stock Exchange are omitted from this list.

In comparing New York and Boston prices, it should be noted that bond prices in New York are flat prices—that is, the price includes the accrued interest, while in Boston accrued interest must be paid in addition to price. It should also be remembered that New York stock prices are per cent while those in Boston are dollars per share.

STOCKS. BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE. Table with columns: Stock Name, Par, Shares, Sales in February, Price about January 2, 1900, and Prices in February (Feb. 1, Feb. 27, Lowest, Highest), and Range since Jan. 1 (Lowest, Highest). Includes sub-sections for RAILROAD and MINING.

1 Assessment paid. § Less than 100 shares. † 50 per cent paid.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of February. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M." for mortgage; "g." for gold; "g'd." for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant.

Notice Change.—We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

Table of stock quotations with columns for Stocks, Par, Bid, Ask, and multiple sections for different cities like Hartford, Hoboken, Holyoke, Indianapolis, etc.

† Prices per share not per cent.

x Ex-dividend.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Prices marked (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition. In all other cases accrued interest must be added to the price.

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

It should be borne in mind that municipal bonds are not subject to such decided fluctuations in value as are securities which form a basis for speculation

Table of state and municipal bonds with columns for Bonds, Bid, Ask, To Net, and multiple sections for different states like Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, etc.
