REVIEW OF JANUARY.

The great speculation arising out of the defeat of Bryanism which distinguished the closing months of 1900 attained a still greater height in the early part of January, new records being made for activity and strength. The movement, however, culminated for the time being in these extraordinary transactions. Subsequently considerable irregularity developed, and a more or less general reaction in prices ensued; at the same time the volume of business, as would be expected, also fell off. The inherent strength existing was shown in the fact that this reactionary tendency did not prevent extensive movements in special stocks, in some of which dealings were continued on an enormous scale. In such stocks further large advances in prices were established, notwithstanding the decline in the general market.

Passing in review the events of the month of most importance, we may note (1) the purchase by Mr. J. P. Morgan of a controlling interest in the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the tender of the same to, and its acceptance by, the Reading Company; (2) the prevalence of rumors of other purchases, combinations and consolidations, the most of these rumors resting on a very slender foundation, or having no basis at all; (3) the development of considerable friction among large rival industrial corporations in the steel trade; (4) the rather unexpected advance at the beginning of the month in the Bank of England rate of discount after a rise the previous month had been avoided; (5) the resumption of gold exports to Europe; (6) the sudden sickness and quick death of Queen Victoria, who had sat upon the English throne so long.

The purchase of the Central of New Jersey by Mr. J. P. Morgan was the greatest stimulating influence upon speculation. Following so quickly upon the purchase of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, it was accepted as meaning the complete harmonizing and solidification of the anthracite coal interests, and a state of great excitement ensued. The announcement came on Saturday January 5. Events had been gradually leading up to a climax. Rumors of all sorts of combinations among the railroads in various parts of the country were afloat, the foremost of these being the quite positive declarations that the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul were about to be united in some way. Nothing tangible grew out of these rumors, but Mr. Morgan's achievements had put the public in a frame of mind where such stories found ready acceptance. As a result, Milwaukee & St. Paul common on Friday the 4th suddenly moved up from 145 to 158½ and the next day got as high as 162. Dealings in all the active properties were on an enormous scale, and sales on the Stock Exchange on this Friday reached 1,808,413 shares, far exceeding the largest previous day's business up to that time in the history of the Exchange; but a still higher total was to be attained.

It was under such surroundings that the announcement of the purchase of the Central of New Jersey was made the next day, Saturday the 5th. As a consequence speculation ran wild, and the price fluctuations were exceedingly wide. The sales for the two hours (Saturday being a half holiday) amounted to 1,152,793 shares, a total which had not even been approached on any previous Saturday half-day. The following Monday, the 7th, proved even more active. On that day the recorded transactions actually passed the two-million mark, the sales reaching the phenomenal total of 2,127,503 shares. The changes in prices were on a par with the magnitude of the dealings.

This proved the turning point. On Tuesday the 8th the sales were 1,452,602 shares and on Wednesday the 9th 1,670,882 shares, but thereafter for the rest of the month they never got much above a million shares on any day, and frequently dropped far below that amount. Business was not only less active, but was at a lower level of prices, the fluctuations being extremely erratic, the high figures reached when the speculation was at its height being in some instances left far behind. Milwaukee & St. Paul common was a sort of pivotal stock. It touched 162 on the 5th and again on the 7th; by the 21st it was down to 142½; the close on the 31st was at 151½. There were some favorable developments, such as the increase in the dividend on Louisville & Nashville stock from 4 per cent per annum to 5 per cent, and in that on Delaware & Hudson stock from 5 to 7 per cent. Such incidents were often attended by sharp upward spurts in the stocks affected, Delaware & Hudson stock, for example, rising on Friday the 11th (when the dividend was enlarged) from 146 to 159½. The course of the general market, however, remained irregular, days of great strength being interspersed with days of great weakness.

The downward reaction was occasioned by the fact that so many of the rumored deals had failed of accomplishment, by the development of weakness among the shares of the iron and steel properties, and also it is believed by a change of position from the bull side to the bear side on the part of some leading operators. The weakness in the iron and steel shares was due mainly to the announcement by President Schwab of the Carnegie Company that the latter intended to erect a large plant at Conneaut, on Lake Erie, for the manufacture of merchant pipe. This step would mean direct competition with the line of goods made by the National Tube Company, and accordingly the common stock of the latter sold down to 53½ on the 14th, against 70 on the 2d. Federal Steel and American Steel & Wire shares were no less affected. Considerable recovery subsequently ensued when reflection showed that it would take about two years before the competition threatened could become effective, and that in the meantime the rival interests might come together and avoid trouble; indeed, there were rumors that negotiations were on foot to bring about immediate peace.

The illness and death of Queen Victoria did not actually prove a disturbing factor in the market; but it came at a time when the market was in a state of reaction, and naturally it did not prove a steady influence. The latter part of the month the tone of the market was again strong, influenced by an active speculation at higher prices in the Gould shares and other Southwestern properties, namely Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri Kansas & Texas, the Wabashes, Texas Pacific, etc. The share sales for the month were 30,285,055 shares, which compares with 24,251,983 shares in January 1899, the previous largest monthly total on record.

In the money market very easy conditions developed. The return flow of currency from the interior was on a large scale, and at the same time U. S. Treasury disbursements were in excess of receipts. Under such circumstances the exports of gold had no effect in checking the downward course of money rates.

With money here steadily growing easier, and money abroad firm, our exchange market naturally showed great strength, and exports of gold ensued. The Bank of England minimum was advanced from 4 to 5 per cent on the 3d of the month. The first shipment of gold was made on Thursday, the 17th, and further amounts went on the two succeeding Thursdays. The gold all went to Paris.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1900. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS —OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of January. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus ($) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (+) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M." for mortgage; "g." for gold; "g'd." for guaranteed; "end." for endorsed; "cons." for consolidated; "conv." for convertible; "s. f." for sinking fund; "l. g." for land grant.

~~IF~~ We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is ($).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Prices marked (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition. In all other cases accrued interest must be added to the price.

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the security, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

It should be borne in mind that municipal bonds are not subject to such decided fluctuation as form a basis for speculation.
