REVIEW OF SEPTEMBER.

The money market dominated the course of affairs during September. Severe stringency developed, entailing extensive liquidation in the stock market, which finally led on the 29th to the most severe break in prices experienced since the panic in May of last year. The reason for the monetary tension was that our New York Clearing House banks were obliged to meet the usual autumn demand for currency (the demand being exceptionally active owing to the extreme abundance of the harvests), while at the same time the United States Treasury kept drawing money from the banks in considerable amounts. Customs receipts were very heavy, and as a consequence Government receipts largely exceeded Government disbursements, notwithstanding the reduction in internal revenue taxes which went into effect on the first of July.

As indicating the extreme tension prevailing, it may be noted that on call on the Stock Exchange the rate repeatedly touched 10, 15 and even 20 and 25 per cent, and that the average figure at which loans were made was 6 per cent the first week, 8 per cent the second week, 10 per cent the third week and 16 per cent the week ending September 26. The climax was reached on Monday, September 29, when as high as 35 per cent was paid. On the 30th the situation was greatly improved under the action of the Secretary of the Treasury noted below, and the range was 18@3 per cent, the close being 4 per cent. Time loans were hard to get the latter part of the month, and it was needful in most cases to pay a commission of from one-quarter of one per cent to one per cent in addition to the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The banks were obliged repeatedly to curtail accommodation to borrowers, and loans of the Clearing-house banks September 27 were only $874,181,800, against $910,040,000 on August 30.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Leslie M. Shaw, resorted to various expedients to prevent further accumulation of cash in the Treasury and to restore some of his hoards to the channels of trade. On Saturday September 13 he sent notice to all the national banks throughout the country holding United States bonds not pledged as security for public deposits or for bank note circulation, that if such banks would forward their bonds to the Treasurer in sums of $50,000 or more, he would designate these institutions as temporary public depositaries and place with them Government funds to the par value of the bonds so deposited. It was estimated at the time that about $4,000,000 would be thus released. He also decided to anticipate the payment of the October interest on the public debt, amounting to about $4,200,000.

These measures of relief having proved insufficient, and the statement of the Clearing House banks on September 20 having shown a deficiency of $1,642,050 below the required reserve, the Secretary took further action with the same end in view. He stated that he would continue to divert to the depository banks the full amount of the internal revenue and miscellaneous receipts, amounting to about half a million dollars a day, for 30 or 60 days, or longer if necessary. On September 25 he also issued a circular announcing that the Department would prepay, beginning October 1, the interest maturing on Government bonds after October 1 1902 up to and including July 1 1903 at a rebate of two-tenths of one per cent per month—the offer to remain open until November 30 1902. On Friday, September 26, notice was likewise given that the Secretary would purchase on or before October 15 any of the United States 5 per cent bonds of 1904 at 105 flat. There were only $19,410,350 of these bonds outstanding on September 1, and the price fixed by the Secretary was not considered attractive.

The bank statement September 27 made a much better showing, recording a surplus of $3,236,625 in place of the previous week's deficiency, but money rates the following Monday (September 29), as already noted, rose to 35 per cent. It was then that the Secretary took action which was effective in restoring confidence. He announced his determination to accept, if necessary, securities other than United States bonds to secure Government deposits in the banks, taking the same general class of bonds permissible as investments for savings banks in the several States, each case to be considered by itself, and the deposits on such collateral to be in no case in excess of 65 per cent of the par value. He also declared it to be his purpose to allow the substitution of such bonds for part of the 2-per-cent Government bonds now held as security for Government deposits, but only on condition that the U. S. bonds thus released should be used as a basis for the taking out of new circulating notes. The object of this proposition was to increase the volume of circulation 20 to 25 million dollars, the Secretary having had a supply of notes printed in advance, so as to be prepared for an active demand this autumn. As part of the same general plan of relief, the Secretary also stated that hereafter banks would not be required to carry any cash reserve against Government deposits secured by U. S. bonds. With Government deposits roughly 130 million dollars, this privilege, it was urged, would open to the banks the possibility of enlarging their general credits to the same extent.

The stock market, very naturally, under the conditions narrated above, was weak most of the month, the high money market rates inducing extensive liquidation. The downward movement reached its climax on the 29th, when the market, particularly in the last hour, became utterly demoralized. The added steps of relief narrated above and announced in the papers Tuesday morning, Sept. 30, fortunately tended to revive confidence, and an upward reaction occurred on that day which was almost as pronounced as the previous day's decline. The continuance of the anthracite coal strike was an adverse element throughout the month, and doubtless the accident to President Roosevelt (which necessitated a slight operation on the 23d and another on the 28th) also led to some selling of stocks, particularly in the general confusion on the 29th. Louisville & Nashville suffered an exceptionally severe break because of fears that minority holders of the stock would not be included in the provisions for the majority stock.

The foreign exchange market, under the influence of the monetary conditions prevailing, was of course weak. About the middle of the month engagements of gold for import from Europe were announced after a movement of the metal had previously been started from Australia for San Francisco. The total amount taken, however, from Europe was not large, the aggregate being only $4,250,000, including 2 1/2 million of South African gold in transit to London which the National City Bank had intercepted. The last week the high money rates seemed no longer potent in influencing the flow this way. There was a rise in the price for gold bars in London and money rates at all the leading European centers sharply advanced. At London open market discounts September 30 were 3 1/2 @ 3 3/4 per cent, though the official minimum of the Bank of England remained at 3 per cent. At Berlin and Frankfurt there was an advance to 2 1/4 and at Paris to 2 3/8 per cent.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past months and the year 1902. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1902," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1902. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

that about $4,000,000 would be thus released. He also decided to anticipate the payment of the October interest on the public debt, amounting to about $4,200,000.

These measures of relief having proved insufficient, and the statement of the Clearing House banks on September 20 having shown a deficiency of $1,642,050 below the required reserve, the Secretary took further action with the same end in view. He stated that he would continue to divert to the depository banks the full amount of the internal revenue and miscellaneous receipts, amounting to about half a million dollars a day, for 30 or 60 days, or longer if necessary. On September 25 he also issued a circular announcing that the Department would prepay, beginning October 1, the interest maturing on Government bonds after October 1 1902 up to and including July 1 1903 at a rebate of two-tenths of one per cent per month—the offer to remain open until November 30 1902. On Friday, September 26, notice was likewise given that the Secretary would purchase on or before October 15 any of the United States 5 per cent bonds of 1904 at 105 flat. There were only $19,410,350 of these bonds outstanding on September 1, and the price fixed by the Secretary was not considered attractive.

The bank statement September 27 made a much better showing, recording a surplus of $3,236,625 in place of the previous week's deficiency, but money rates the following Monday (September 29), as already noted, rose to 35 per cent. It was then that the Secretary took action which was effective in restoring confidence. He announced his determination to accept, if necessary, securities other than United States bonds to secure Government deposits in the banks, taking the same general class of bonds permissible as investments for savings banks in the several States, each case to be considered by itself, and the deposits on such collateral to be in no case in excess of 65 per cent of the par value. He also declared it to be his purpose to allow the substitution of such bonds for part of the 2-per-cent Government bonds now held as security for Government deposits, but only on condition that the U. S. bonds thus released should be used as a basis for the taking out of new circulating notes. The object of this proposition was to increase the volume of circulation 20 to 25 million dollars, the Secretary having had a supply of notes printed in advance, so as to be prepared for an active demand this autumn. As part of the same general plan of relief, the Secretary also stated that hereafter banks would not be required to carry any cash reserve against Government deposits secured by U. S. bonds. With Government deposits roughly 130 million dollars, this privilege, it was urged, would open to the banks the possibility of enlarging their general credits to the same extent.

The stock market, very naturally, under the conditions narrated above, was weak most of the month, the high money market rates inducing extensive liquidation. The downward movement reached its climax on the 29th, when the market, particularly in the last hour, became utterly demoralized. The added steps of relief narrated above and announced in the papers Tuesday morning, Sept. 30, fortunately tended to revive confidence, and an upward reaction occurred on that day which was almost as pronounced as the previous day's decline. The continuance of the anthracite coal strike was an adverse element throughout the month, and doubtless the accident to President Roosevelt (which necessitated a slight operation on the 23d and another on the 28th) also led to some selling of stocks, particularly in the general confusion on the 29th. Louisville & Nashville suffered an exceptionally severe break because of fears that minority holders of the stock would not be included in the provisions for the majority stock.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE. Table with columns for Month of September, 1902, 1901, 1900, 1899. Rows include Stock sales (Number of shares, Par value), Bond sales (Railroad & misc. bds., Government bonds, State bonds), and Total bond sales.

The foreign exchange market, under the influence of the monetary conditions prevailing, was of course weak. About the middle of the month engagements of gold for import from Europe were announced after a movement of the metal had previously been started from Australia for San Francisco. The total amount taken, however, from Europe was not large, the aggregate being only $4,250,000, including 2 1/2 million of South African gold in transit to London which the National City Bank had intercepted. The last week the high money rates seemed no longer potent in influencing the flow this way. There was a rise in the price for gold bars in London and money rates at all the leading European centers sharply advanced. At London open market discounts September 30 were 3 1/2 @ 3 3/4 per cent, though the official minimum of the Bank of England remained at 3 per cent. At Berlin and Frankfurt there was an advance to 2 1/4 and at Paris to 2 3/8 per cent.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past months and the year 1902. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1902," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1902. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of September. Of course the coupon if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (+) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant; "op." for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest periods indicates in each case the month when the bonds mature.

☞ We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
