REVIEW OF DECEMBER.

The close of the month on the Stock Exchange and in financial circles was in marked contrast with the situation the early part of December. Up to the end of the second week of the month the course of prices was sharply downward. Renewed liquidation, even severer than that experienced the previous month, had broken out, and prevailing views were decidedly gloomy. Large numbers of the most active speculative stocks touched the lowest figure of the year on the 12th and 15th of the month. The list included among others such stocks as Baltimore & Ohio, Erie, Chicago & Alton, Denver & Rio Grande, Southern Pacific, Missouri Kansas & Texas, St. Louis Southwestern, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, United States Steel Corporation, etc. With these and many other shares at the low point of the year, no one could have seriously supposed that within two weeks the whole aspect of the market would be changed, that a pronounced upward movement would be under way, and that on the last day of the month and year the feeling would be akin to buoyancy. But this is precisely what occurred.

The early depression was largely due to apprehensions as to the future of money. There was also a feeling that the pools in certain stocks were still carrying pretty heavy lines, and that unless they could be forced to lighten their loads their situation might become a menace to the market. The Venezuelan developments, as it happened, came in to further disturb values. Great Britain and Germany had determined upon united action to enforce certain claims against Venezuela and had given the Castro Government very short notice to comply with the demands made. The Venezuelan Government having failed to come to terms, the war-ships of the two European Powers which had been sent to the scene seized and destroyed such of Venezuela's poor outfit of war vessels as were within sight, and then undertook to enforce a blockade of the ports of the Republic. The two Powers were later joined by Italy, and most of the other European Governments also announced claims of one kind or another. For a time the situation looked serious, and in view of the position of the United States with reference to the Monroe Doctrine considerable anxiety prevailed lest this country become involved in the imbroglio.

But all misgivings on this point were finally dispelled. Both the British and the German Governments agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. It was their desire that President Roosevelt should act the part of arbitrator, but the President being reluctant to fill this office they agreed to accept instead the International Court of Arbitration at The Hague. The close of the month found some minor details still to be arranged, but all doubt as to a satisfactory outcome removed.

Another development that served to change the aspect of things was the formation of a fifty-million-dollar money pool. On Monday the 15th the opening rate for call money on the Stock Exchange was 10 per cent, and severe stringency then seemed imminent. Shortly after noon on that day, however, the announcement came that J. P. Morgan, James Stillman, President of the National City Bank, and George F. Baker, President of the First National Bank, had formed a pool to loan $50,000,000 should emergency arise to make such action necessary. J. P. Morgan & Co. subscribed $5,000,000, and so did the National City Bank, the National Bank of Commerce, the Hanover National, the Western National, the Chase National, the First National and the National Park Bank; the Corn Exchange subscribed $2,500,000, the Chemical and the Bank of New York each a million, and various other banks smaller amounts. The pool was not called upon to loan any money, as rates did not rise high enough to make action on its part necessary; but the existence of the pool was a guaranty that no severe stringency could occur, thus allaying fear on that account.

There were some other circumstances that tendered to rehabilitate confidence in Stock Exchange circles. Rates of foreign exchange weakened considerably, and for the time being the likelihood of gold shipments to Europe disappeared. Furthermore, the opinion gained ground that liquidation on the Stock Exchange had not only been thorough but had been practically completed. It was argued likewise that the Street had passed through a trying time in a very creditable way, showing an underlying basis of great strength. Some minor incidents also contributed to promote the upward reaction. Among these were rumors—which, however, were not substantiated—that a settlement in the copper warfare between the Amalgamated Copper people and the Heinze interests was under way; these rumors caused a rise of several points in Amalgamated stock.

On the 31st the sales of stocks reached 1,008,141 shares, making that one of the heaviest day's business for the month, and the tone was almost uninterruptedly strong. For the month the sales were 15,718,667 shares.

The course of money rates the last half of the month was controlled very largely by the action of financial interests in forming the $50,000,000 money pool referred to above. There was no superabundance of loanable funds—in fact, the banks were not inclined to encourage a very venturesome spirit; the existence of the pool, however, was assurance that there would be enough money to meet all essential requirements. Call money on the Stock Exchange on the 29th, the 30th and the 31st got as high as 15 per cent, but that was simply in preparation for the large 1st of January disbursements, and the pool found no warrant for action on its part.

Foreign exchange rates, as already stated, tended downwards and prices December 31st were close to the lowest figures of the month. Up to about the 10th the market was strong, but after that a sharp break occurred. Quite liberal offerings of sixty and ninety-day bills, representing sterling loans, were reported. On more than one occasion, too, there were offerings of bankers' bills against purchases of securities on London account. The latter part of the month an unusual difference between the rates for cables and for sight bills developed. This was explained as due to the fact that bankers having remittances to make before the end of the year preferred to employ their money here as long as possible instead of buying demand bills. No shipments of gold to Europe occurred, but there were several shipments the first two weeks to the Argentine Republic, aggregating $2,018,000 for the month.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1902. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1902," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1902. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

- In the following twenty-eight pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.
 - Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of December. Of course the coupon if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.
 - Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.
 - Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.
 - It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
 - The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M." for mortgage; "g." for gold; "g'd." for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant; "op." for optional.
 - The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest periods indicates in each case the month when the bonds mature.
- § We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
