REVIEW OF MARCH.

Severe liquidation was again experienced on the Stock Exchange. Many different circumstances tended to promote this liquidation. Congress adjourned on the 4th without having taken action on Senator Aldrich's financial bill, which was intended to add to the scope of the powers of the Secretary of the Treasury for preventing money accumulations in Treasury vaults, and operators on the Stock Exchange took a decidedly unfavorable view of the effects of the failure of this measure. At the same time labor troubles continued decidedly prominent and current railroad returns showed that higher wages and enhanced cost of material and supplies were adding very materially to the cost of operating the railroads. It was urged, too, that financial interests were carrying considerable lines of new securities which they had as yet been unable to float. The large borrowings by some leading corporations for the moment also had an adverse effect, although these borrowings followed in considerable measure from attempts to provide additional means for handling the enormous amount of traffic offering for shipment.

So far as underlying conditions controlling values are concerned, there was no occasion whatever for distrust, the only unfavorable feature being the labor situation. Some rumors of embarrassment in mercantile circles were circulated, but it subsequently appeared that the only basis for the same was the fact that the firm of Dresser & Co. found itself involved in difficulties by reason of special causes. Trade as a whole remained sound and of large volume.

Some special circumstances likewise operated against special stocks. Among these may be mentioned the differences that developed between a pool in Southern Pacific stock engineered by Mr. James R. Keene and the controlling interests in this property held by the Union Pacific. A determined attack was made on Metropolitan Street Railway stock, and rumors of unfavorable developments in this property were circulated with great persistency. It finally appeared that a former official of the Third Avenue Railroad Company had discovered, as he thought, discrepancies in the reports of the company and had brought these discrepancies to the attention of certain people usually identified with Wall Street operations.

Though the Street was taking an unfavorable view of the effect of the failure of the Aldrich bill in Congress, the Secretary of the Treasury soon made it apparent that he had no intention of letting Treasury operations produce serious embarrassment in the money market. On the 26th he issued a circular giving to the holders of U. S. 4s of 1907 and U. S. 3s of 1918 another opportunity to convert their bonds into the new 3 per cent consols. In other words, he resumed refunding operations, which were suspended at the close of 1900. The favorable aspect of the matter was that to the extent to which the offer is availed of the Secretary will be obliged to make payment in cash for the premium allowed on the old bonds, thus releasing a corresponding amount of cash from Treasury vaults. The U. S. Senate, which had been convened in extra session, approved the treaty with the Republic of Colombia, bringing correspondingly nearer the time when the Treasury will be obliged to pay out 50 million dollars in settlement for the purchase of the canal.

The Anthracite Coal Commission rendered its report and made its awards. The miners were given an increase of 10 per cent in wages, but the sliding scale as a basis for future changes was adopted as recommended by the operators, and emphatic condemnation was expressed of the persecution to which non-union men had been subjected, besides which the Commission declined to recognize the Mine Workers' Union. The report of the Commission was without influence, but from many different directions came evidences that the labor situation still constitutes a very troublesome feature in affairs. The New Haven Railroad was threatened with a strike. There was also talk of a strike on the Manhattan Elevated Railroad, and much attention was given to the disgraceful features attending the trolley strike at Waterbury. The American Bridge Company, one of the constituent companies of the United States Steel Corporation, also had trouble with some of its men.

The Pennsylvania Railroad shareholders sanctioned the increase in the authorized amount of stock of the company from $251,701,000 to $400,000,000. The management thereupon issued a notice giving stockholders the right to subscribe at 120 for new shares to the extent of 33 1/3 per cent of their present holdings. It was calculated that this would add 70 to 80 million dollars to the outstanding amount of stock. Payments, however, for the new shares are extended over a long period of time.

With occasional interruptions, the decline in the stock market may be said to have continued throughout the month. The fall in prices amounted to from 10 to 15 points, even in the case of some of the better class of properties, New York Central and Pennsylvania being especially prominent. In the great majority of cases the lowest prices of the year were reached. Practically no support whatever was accorded to the market, leading interests evidently favoring the liquidation as a means for placing stock values (which by many had been considered unduly high) on a sounder basis. Some recovery occurred on the last day of the month on the publication of an interview with Mr. J. P. Morgan taking a bright view of the future.

The foreign exchange market sharply declined the early part of the month, under the influence of higher money rates. There was a pressure of loan bills and the decline was greatest in long sterling, this class of bills being directly affected by a liberal supply of 60 and 90-day drafts representing foreign loans. About the 10th of the month a sharp recovery in exchange occurred. The reason assigned was that there was a considerable inquiry for remittance for the settlement through arbitrage operations of loans maturing in Berlin. There was at this time, also, a demand for exchange for future delivery, apparently in expectation of higher rates in May and June, and it was suggested that much of this inquiry might be due to a desire to make provision against an expected scarcity of bills as the result of possible absorptions for remittance in connection with the 50-million-dollar payments to be made for the Panama Canal. Towards the close of the month exchange rates fell off, influenced in part by offerings of loan bills encouraged by the relatively firmer rates for money here than abroad, and especially on the Continent. Considerable selling, however, of stocks by arbitrage houses for London account was also in evidence, and on the 25th a shipment of $500,000 gold coin to Buenos Ayres was announced.

The money market showed more or less tension throughout the month, but money on call did not get above 8 per cent until the last of the month. On the 31st some loans were made at 15 per cent. Surplus reserves of the Clearing House banks were reduced to $666,975 March 7th, but recovered to $6,280,900 March 28th, the improvement, however, being effected mainly through a contraction in loans with a corresponding shrinkage in deposits. Loans March 28th were only $904,599,200, against $950,156,300 February 28th.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1903. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1903," were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1903. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

—OF—

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of March. Of course the coupon if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M." for mortgage; "g." for gold; "g'd." for guaranteed; "end." for endorsed; "cons." for consolidated; "conv." for convertible; "s. f." for sinking fund; "l. g." for land grant; "op." for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest periods indicates in each case the month when the bonds mature.

§ We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

Syracuse—

Table of Municipal Bonds with columns for Bonds, Bid, Ask, Net, and To Net. Includes sections for Virginia, Texas, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Middlebury, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

* Flat price. † Sale price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
