REVIEW OF OCTOBER.

The chief features during October were (1) the pronounced revival in the iron and steel trades, (2) the activity and buoyancy of the stock market, (3) the improved reports regarding this season's crops, (4) the further large loan negotiations, (5) the developments and incidents growing out of the Russo Japanese War and (6) the resumption of gold exports.

The monthly report of the Agricultural Department at Washington, issued on the 10th, pointed to a wheat crop of about 550,000,000 bushels and a corn crop of about 2,400,000,000 bushels. Both these totals were in excess of current estimates, and they showed that comparatively little harm could have been done to corn by the frosts which occurred in September. The Bureau's report regarding the cotton crop came somewhat earlier, and also pointed to a large crop. Thus it became apparent that wheat was to be the only important crop with a deficient yield—not as short as rumors in September had suggested but nevertheless considerably below the average. It appears also that a portion of the spring wheat crops is of poor quality; as a consequence the mills at Minneapolis have been buying wheat from the Pacific coast and also from Manitoba. As illustrating the difficulty in obtaining supplies of the right grade, several of the largest flour-manufacturing establishments at Minneapolis applied to the Treasury Department at Washington to have their plants bonded, so that they might use Canadian wheat and then export the flour made from the same and get the rebate of the duty of 25 cents per bushel imposed on Canadian wheat imported into this country. After some decline in the early part of the month there was a renewed advance in the price of wheat, the December option in this market rising from 111½ on the 7th to 120 on the 24th. This advance, however, was not maintained, and the close Oct. 31 was at 115¾. The price of cotton tended strongly downward; the quotation for middling uplands in this market dropped from 10.60 cents Sept. 30 to 9.90 cents Oct. 27, with a recovery to 10 cents Oct. 31.

In the conflict in the Far East, a battle of huge dimensions took place before Mukden. Early in the month General Kuropatkin issued a pronouncement to the Russian troops announcing that he at length had sufficient forces to take the offensive and that he would proceed at once to the attack. The Japanese were apparently ready for him, and a battle began on the 9th which lasted until the 18th, resulting in terrific slaughter on both sides. The Japanese succeeded in beating the Russians back at numerous points, but finally the two armies fought each other to a standstill, and the battle ceased only from the sheer exhaustion of both sides. The Russian losses alone in killed and wounded were officially stated at 45,800.

The most disturbing event, however, to the world at large was the news received on the morning of Monday, October 24, that the Russian Baltic fleet, while on its way to the Far East, had encountered an English fishing fleet in the North Sea, and, for some unexplained reason, had fired on the same, killing some of the fishermen and sinking one of the trawlers. The act aroused great indignation throughout Great Britain and excitement ran so high that it appeared for a time as if war between Great Britain and Russia was the inevitable outcome. The English Ministry immediately made representations to the Russian Government and asked for an explanation. The Czar, without waiting to hear the Russian Commander's version of the affair, personally expressed his deep regret over the occurrence; but English public opinion was not in a mood to be appeased by mere words. When the Russian Commander's account of the occurrence was at length received, and he declared that he had repelled an attack by Japanese torpedo boats, the statement appeared so incredible that it tended to inflame the public mind still further. Fortunately, on Friday, the 28th, at the instance, it is believed, of the French Ambassador to England, it was agreed to constitute a court of inquiry under the Hague Tribunal to investigate and determine the exact facts. Thus, it seems likely that a peaceable outcome is assured.

On the Stock Exchange, as already stated, extraordinary activity and buoyancy developed. The volume of business kept steadily growing and the latter half of the month stock sales on several days reached close to 2,000,000 shares. For the month the aggregate of sales was no less than 32,574,449 shares. The advance in prices ranged from 5 to 39 points, the latter in the case of Delaware Lackawanna & Western stock. The marked improvement in the iron and steel industry and the assured favorable outcome of the crops as a whole were prime factors in the speculation. There were also rumors, which however were not confirmed, of the likelihood of an early termination of the Northern Securities litigation. So violent was the upward movement at times that Milwaukee & St. Paul common stock on one day advanced as much as 7 points. There were sharp breaks every now and then, but the market on each occasion quickly recovered and the rise was carried still further. The last week the North Sea incident and the resumption of gold exports from the United States caused a setback, and the close was at some recession from the best figures. One of the events of the month was the acquisition of a controlling interest in New York Ontario & Western by the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. and another was the announcement of the call for redemption on Feb. 1 1905 of the entire issue of Oregon Short Line 4 p. c. and participating bonds of 1902, of which $82,491,000 are outstanding. A local event was the opening to traffic of the Subway or Underground Railroad in this city.

The course of the foreign exchange market was completely reversed. At the end of September early imports of gold appeared probable. The close of October saw an outflow of the metal under way, $3,283,376 being exported in the week ending October 29, with further engagements of the metal at the beginning of November. Up to about the 10th exchange rates see-sawed a good deal, but thereafter the movement was upward. On the 11th the Imperial Bank of Germany raised its rate of discount from 4 to 5 per cent and considerable monetary tension developed at the German financial centers. It was stated that this tension was the result of the negotiation of a joint issue of 150,000,000 marks Treasury bonds by the Imperial and Russian governments. All through the month there was a demand for gold at London for Paris and Berlin, and the price of gold bars was repeatedly advanced, so as to prevent withdrawals from the Bank of England.

With the object of encouraging gold imports from New York, the German and French banks agreed to allow interest at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum for ten days on shipments of the metal. The supply of commercial drafts in this market was confined mainly to those against cotton exports, there being few grain bills. There was at the same time an urgent demand for remittance to cover maturing obligations and to pay for stocks sold for European account, the rise on our Stock Exchange having induced quite extensive selling. Finance bills were taken up as they matured and not renewed, bankers finding it more advantageous to transfer their balances abroad so as to get the benefit of the higher rates ruling there. The latter part of the month the demand for remittance was also increased as the result of the Anglo-Russian incident.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1903. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1904," were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1903. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.
2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of October. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.
3. Bond prices marked ($) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the price flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.
4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.
5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz: "M." for mortgage, "g." for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end." for endorsed, "cons." for consolidated, "conv." for convertible, "s.f." for sinking fund, "l.g." for land grant, "op." for optional.
7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value. Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
