THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The public has been getting impatient of late over the slow progress making towards a definite end of the Russo-Japanese war and the large sacrifice of life which marks every victory. This week we have had the news of the success of the Japanese attack on 203-Metre Hill, which position, it is claimed, commands the Port Arthur harbor and on the summit of which guns can be mounted that will force what is left of the Russian squadron out into the open or will enable the Japanese to destroy it at its anchorage. As the Russian advices admit the commanding importance of the position taken, it is a fair conclusion that it marks the beginning of the end. Since Port Arthur has been constantly claimed impregnable, the taking of any dominating position could not be otherwise than accompanied with a large loss of life. It is quite remarkable that not long after a position has been pronounced by the Russians as absolutely safe from attack news comes of its capture. This has been the history not only of the siege of Port Arthur but in Manchuria as well. Moreover, it is an interesting fact that although the public is constantly hearing in great detail of little successes of the Russians, every real battle that is fought ends in a victory for the Japanese.

The Fall River mill managers appear to be somewhat encouraged, there having been material gains in the number of employees reporting for work the current week. It is well known to our readers that two weeks ago these mills opened their doors again and set their machinery in motion, inviting their employees to return to their positions at the reduction of  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in wages—the stumbling block which precipitated the inauguration of the long idleness. In writing in this column on the subject at the time of the reopening of the mills, we showed that the drop in the pay of the men was a requirement of a notable change in the price of cotton affecting chiefly the heavier makes of cotton manufactures, under which those mills were not free to do what the men demanded; that is, allow them to return on the old terms as to rates of pay. Competition is so sharp, mainly due to the rapid growth of the industry in the South because of the advantage Southern factories have over the less advantageously situated mills in the North, as to have made it impossible to pay the old wages, since the price of cotton has been ruling abnormally high. Obviously the greater the cost of the raw material that goes into cotton goods the greater is this disparity. Northern mills working on fine goods have been making money all the time while those on coarse goods have suffered.

What has helped to make mill managers more hopeful has been a growing belief that the gains some of the mills are making in the number of employees at work is due to the fact that the hands are beginning to appreciate the real situation. When they come to recognize that what they demand cannot be secured, because, if long continued, that course would bankrupt even the strongest concerns, they cannot fail to go to work on the only basis possible. This is the argument and the ground of the better feeling. New proof of this unfortunate position has been brought out with the filing at the State House of the annual reports by the mill treasurers at the close of the companies' financial year and the efforts of the managers to present to the operatives through their appointed leaders what these reports teach.

Of course employees are slow to understand what such facts and balance sheets really mean. Besides, their judgment is clouded by the circumstance that so many mills still pay dividends. Dividends prove nothing; they may be paid out of accumulations of previous years or the mills may borrow money to pay them, or there may be special reasons why they can pay them, as for instance that such mills are working on fine goods or bought their year's supply of cotton when it was low, which all cannot do, for their working capital is not large enough; besides that, laying in raw material to cover anticipated orders is a species of speculation, and therefore a risk that not every mill manager would feel authorized to take. Besides, it is needful to bear in mind that exceptional cases prove nothing. There are always individual mills in every class of manufacture which—because of superior advantages or plant, say perhaps of machinery, of larger capital, or better management—show always a low unit of cost, and are thus able to squeeze out a profit where others are less fortunate. Consequently, it is the average mill that reflects the true situation; when that shows an unfavorable result, it must be accepted as the only correct guide. These annual reports, thoroughly studied, will, we think, prove that the Fall River mills cannot continue operations on the old basis of wages.

Argentina might almost be called the storm-centre of the wheat speculation at present. That source of the world's supply, coming to maturity at this time, always acts as an opportune help towards filling up in some measure any gap a United States shortage may make. Of course the current year even a partial failure there would prove a more serious loss than it would ordinarily be. For this reason, at the moment any favorable or unfavorable change in weather happenings in that quarter, or any rumor reflecting a better or poorer prospect as to shipments there, attracts special attention and disturbs the serenity of operators on one side or the other in our market. The last three or four weeks the delicacy of this situation has had a notable illustration. Previously the wheat crop in Argentina had been in a prosperous state. But about four or five weeks ago it began to rain, and from that time to this the rumors as to condition coming over the wires have alternated from good to bad, and the reverse, with great regularity. Unfortunately there have been contributory causes to the nervousness felt. Russian shipments have likewise been fitful, that is somewhat irregular, and rumors have been put afloat of a speedy close to the outflow, the belief in those rumors being encouraged or discouraged as the movement turned out large or small. Then, too, the serious drought in our winter-wheat belt has done important service as an advancing factor.

Amid all these rumors and events there was a movement going on, not very slowly either, but in that regular, irresistible way which results assume when propelled by natural influences. Prices of wheat had been pushed up to a phenomenal point. The speculators had based their idea of domestic needs for that grain on home consumption at last year's and the previous year's price. That is working over factors unlike in almost all particulars, and yet drawing conclusions from them as if like in every respect. For instance, a highly important fact in differentiating capacities for the consumption of any article is the relative price of that article; another condition is whether there is any article held at a relatively lower price that would make a fair substitute for the higher-price commodity; still another is whether the article advanced is a subject of general consumption, and so including among its consumers men of small incomes as well as large, or whether it is a luxury within the reach of the rich alone. These are a few among the incidentals affecting the problem, and must be allowed for before a common basis can be reached on which one can work out the relative consuming capacity in the United States of wheat flour between 1902-3 or 1903-4 and 1904-5.

Including as a part of the home consumption problem these special differences in the regulating forces between 1904-5 and previous years, it will be found that very nearly what one would expect to happen has happened. Speculators have over-estimated the wheat flour consumption for the current year; or, in other words, they have put a prohibitive value, so far as a very considerable class of our people is concerned, on the use of that commodity; and have consequently shut them out from being consumers. As a result of this forced economy in the use of wheat, the visible supply is accumulating with a good deal of rapidity in the United States.

It would appear as if the last vestige of the mining troubles in Colorado, which for over a year have so deeply disturbed industrial affairs in that State, had now been removed. It will be recalled that the strike began on September 1 of last year and that scenes of the greatest violence at times attended the course of the movement. The mine-owners gradually gained the upper hand over the Western Federation of miners through the employment of non-union Miners. Nevertheless, it was not until July 26 1904 that Governor Peabody—who is entitled to so much credit for his stand against lawlessness—found it possible to withdraw all the military from the Cripple Creek district. The Governor himself then stated that this was the first time since the previous 4th of September that not a member of the National Guard of the State remained in active service.

The fact that the military could be dispensed with was evidence that the strike was rapidly becoming a thing of the past. This week the concluding act in the affair has been taken in the action of the District Miners' Association in session at Ouray in definitely terminating the strike. President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners is quoted in the press dispatches as having made the following statement concerning the action of the Miners' Association: "We have called the strike off because we take the position that the issues involved have been conceded by the mine owners and operators in the Telluride District in that they recently posted notices to the effect that after December 1 they would grant an eight-hour work day both for their mills and smelters and a minimum wage scale of $3. These were the demands we made over one year ago. I believe that within sixty days every mine and mill at Telluride and Ophir will be running to its full capacity, with the best workmen in the West employed."

We are not disposed to attach much importance to the reasons here assigned for officially ending the strike. To us it appears more likely that the Federation of Miners recognized that the places of the striking union men were gradually going to non-union miners, and was glad to find some pretext for withdrawing from the contest. However, it is a satisfactory feature that the conflict has now been definitely brought to a close. All industrial affairs in Colorado have been suffering for fifteen months because of the blight imposed by this labor struggle. Trade and business should now enter upon a new era of prosperity. Indeed, the revival may be said to have been fully under way even before this action of the Federation of Miners. Thus the Denver & Rio Grande, which for fully a year up to the second week of October had been reporting almost uninterrupted decreases in earnings week by week, began in October to show increases. And these increases have continued ever since, gradually gaining in magnitude, until for the latest week, namely the third week of November, an improvement of $77,500 was recorded, this being larger than the loss experienced in that week of 1903, which had been only $59,900.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission has met with another reverse in the courts. This of course is no novel experience for that body and we allude to the matter only because of its bearing on the attempts that are being so persistently made to endow the Commission with rate-making powers. The present ruling also attracts attention by reason of the fact that the case was a long standing one. The action was that of the Commission against the Southern Pacific Company, the receivers of the Union Pacific Railway and the Union Pacific Railroad Company. From the circumstance that the receivers of the Union Pacific Railway are mentioned, the reader can judge how old the case must be, for the Union Pacific property has not been in receivers' hands since 1897. The point at issue was the right of the Commission to declare unjust a rate on sugar from San Francisco to Kearney, Neb., as compared with the lower through rate to Omaha, Neb. On Tuesday of this week Judge W. W. Morrow in the U. S. Circuit Court at San Francisco handed down a decision of the usual order in cases where the Inter-State Commerce Commission is a party. The Court found, according to the telegraphic dispatches, that the rate established by the railroads was not unjust. The Court also said that the Commission had no right to legislate, and that the Union Pacific Railroad Company as successor to the Union Pacific Railway Company could not be bound by the order of the Commission, since it had not been a party to the original suit. The question whether a given rate is just or unjust is obviously a question of fact, not a question of law. If the Commission were simply deficient in legal knowledge, the matter would not be so bad. But that it is continually being found in error as regards findings of facts, is one of the strongest indictments that could be brought against it. Yet it is seriously being proposed to give the Commission the power to fix rates and to let those rates stand until the final adjudication of a case, which, like the present, may drag through the courts for years. In such a situation the carriers would have absolutely no means of redress. The mere suggestion of such a thing ought to be sufficient to condemn the proposal.

The Pennsylvania returns of earnings are growing better each month. In previous months we have noted that the losses in gross earnings were gradually becoming smaller. Now the statement for October is at hand, and in place of a decrease there is this time an increase. The increase is of trifling proportions, being only $3,100 on the lines East of Pittsburgh and Erie and $9,100 on the lines West of Pittsburgh. But this is the first occasion, with one exception, that an improvement of any kind in gross earnings has been recorded since November of last year. At the same time the economies in expenses were continued, and as a consequence there was a saving of $355,700 on the Eastern lines and of $327,200 on the Western lines. The final result, therefore, was a gain in net of $358,800 on the Eastern lines and of $336,300 on the Western lines, or $695,100 together. Lest it be supposed that the increase in gross earnings the present year follows a loss in that month last year, we will say that actually gross in October 1903 recorded a gain of $580,500 on the combined lines, though this was then attended by an augmentation of $686,900 in expenses, leaving a small loss in net at that time, namely $106,400. The following table shows the gross and net earnings for the last six years on the lines East of Pittsburgh, being the only portion of the system for which we have the data for such a comparison.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week and unofficial or open market rates were, compared with last week, steady at London and easier at Paris, Berlin and Frankfort.

The bank statement of last week showed, as the most important features, a reduction in loans of $10,289,800, making $39,865,700 since October 29, a loss of cash amounting to $5,124,600, a total of $23,467,700 in this interval, and a decrease in deposits of $15,665,100 during the week, making $60,221,700 since the above date. The surplus reserve was decreased $1,208,325, and it now stands at $8,381,375, the lowest of the year. The statement of this week should reflect, among other items, the transfer to New Orleans of $600,000, to San Francisco of $250,000 and to Chicago of $200,000.

Money on call representing bankers' balances loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 4 per cent and at 2½ per cent, averaging about 3½ per cent. Banks and trust companies early in the week loaned at 4 per cent as the minimum; after Wednesday such loans were principally at 3½ per cent, although some money was placed at 4 per cent. On Monday transactions on the Exchange were at 4 per cent and at 3¼ per cent, with the majority at 3½ per cent. On Tuesday, owing to liberal offerings by near-by banks and by private bankers, loans were at 3½ per cent and at 3 per cent, with the bulk of the business at 3½ per cent. On Wednesday preparations for the December payments of dividends and interest caused 4 per cent to be recorded in the afternoon after transactions had been made at 3¼ and at 3½ per cent. On Thursday loans were at 4 per cent and at 3 per cent, with the bulk of the business at 3½ per cent. On Friday transactions were at 3½ per cent and 2½ per cent, with the majority at 3¼ per cent. Time loans were in only fair demand and chiefly for the shorter dates of maturity. Rates on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were 4 per cent for sixty to ninety days, and 3¾@4 per cent for four to six months until Thursday and thereafter, when 4 per cent was quoted for all periods. Commercial paper was in good request, principally by out-of-town buyers, and rates were 4@4½ per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 4¼@4¾ per cent for prime and 5@5½ per cent for good four to six months single names.

The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 3 per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 2¼ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¾@4 per cent. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £305,434 bullion during the week and held £32,550,219 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to imports of £14,000 (£8,000 from Australia and £6,000 from Paris), to exports of £450,000 (of which £90,000 to South America, £350,000 to Egypt and £10,000 to various countries), and to receipts of £131,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The tone of the foreign exchange market was easy this week influenced by a good supply of commercial bills against cotton and by a lighter demand, indicating that the short interest had been very largely reduced or entirely closed out; the inquiry for remittance seemed to be confined to that for mercantile settlements. A relaxation in the tension at Continental centres was indicated by easier discounts and the apparent absence of urgent demand at Paris and at Berlin for gold from London. This was shown not only by the higher rates for exchange at those centres on the British capital but by the decline of 7 of a penny per ounce in the market price of bars and of American Eagles at London, to 77 shillings 10½ pence for the former and to 76 shillings 5½ pence for the latter. These improved conditions abroad affected our market for exchange, causing offerings of bills which had been accumulated in the expectation of a possible recovery in rates to figures near the gold-export point. After a sharp decline early in the week in consequence of these offerings, the market became steadier and then dull, but the undertone was easy. Gold received at the Custom House during the week $617,955.

Nominal rates for sterling exchange are 4 84½ for sixty day and 4 87½ for sight. On Saturday of last week the market was active, and, compared with rates on the previous day, there was a fall in short of 5 points, to 4 8685@4 8695, and a rise in cables of 5 points to 4 8725@4 8735; long was unchanged at 4 8410@4 8420. On Monday the market was weak, influenced by liberal offerings of bills, with a decline of 50 points in long to 4 8360@4 8375, of 35 points in short to 4 8650@4 8665, and of 25 points in cables to 4 87@4 8710; there was a firmer tone at the close. On Tuesday long recovered 10 points to 4 8370@4 8380, short 10 points to 4 8660@4 8665, while cables fell off 5 points to 4 87@4 8705. On Wednesday the tone was easy and long was 10 points lower at 4 8360@4 8370, short declined 10 points to 4 8650@4 8660, and cables 10 points to 4 8690@4 87. On Thursday there was a recovery in long of 15 points to 4 8375@4 8380, in short of 5 points to 4 8655@4 8665, and in cables of 5 points to 4 8695@4 8705.

The market was easy on Friday at a decline of 5 points for long, of 10 points for short and of 15 points for cables.

MR. MORLEY ON ENGLISH AND AMERICAN POLITICS.

In his recent speech at Pittsburgh, Mr. John Morley touched on the lines of distinction between our system of government and that of his own country, and incidentally brought up some questions bearing pertinently on recent political developments in both countries. Mr. Morley cited the familiar criticisms against each of the two systems—against the American plan of fixed tenure of executive office, because such an administration may with impunity be quite irresponsible, once installed in power, to the real outside forces of public opinion; against the English plan of a ministry dependent on a majority in the House of Commons, because such dependence may, as he puts it, keep public men incessantly performing like dancers on a tight rope, or may expose the Executive to sudden gusts of popular passion without giving time for sober second thoughts to prevail. The two views have a present interest in the light, on the one hand of the huge majorities by which our own Presidential candidates have in the last few elections been returned, and on the other hand of the remarkable British situation, whereby a Ministry, almost certainly out of sympathy with the popular majority on the most important question of the day, still retains office. The non-political nature of the occasion on which Mr. Morley spoke prevented him from following out the train of thought suggested; it may be profitable to do so here.

The Balfour Ministry's singular position on the fiscal question is, in its way, an answer to the argument that the English system necessarily leads to servility to the public. It suggests, in fact, that the public may be slow to exercise its power, even when it has abundant motive. One reason for this attitude, perhaps, lies in the growing complexity of modern public questions. An electorate which, were a single public question hanging alone in the balance, would not hesitate to oust a ministry at once, may hesitate where half a dozen other questions are involved, whose issue on a change in ministry may not be so certain. The divided and vacillating attitude of the Liberal-Unionists is a case in point. Acting and voting in a body, this faction of the English Parliament and people could unseat the ministry to-day, and that its sympathy is largely adverse to the Government's position on the import tariff question there is no doubt whatever. But the persistent revival of the Irish home-rule problem, on which issue the Unionists originally abandoned their Liberal allies, has quite prevented unity and has kept the majority of the faction in line with the Government at every critical division. Mr. Morley goes still further, arguing that the unseating of a ministry through "gusts of passion" has been almost unknown in recent British history. For a case in point, he added, "I can only recall the overthrow of Lord Palmerston in 1858 for being thought too subservient to France."

Theoretically free from such restrictions on his action, an American Executive is in reality exposed to them in a way which actually does not at all confront a British Premier. During at least four years of office, the American President has his eye on renomination and re-election. In principle he is so free from outside influences, so secure in his Constitutional tenure of his office, that he may snap his fingers at the public's wishes. But constant consideration of that time approaching for another appeal for the public's suffrages affects, in the great majority of cases, every important act of a first Presidential term. It will be said, perhaps, that at any rate a second term frees the Executive from these restrictions on his action.

But they are instantly replaced by others of a different sort. There was probably no President in our history who more resolutely refused to bend his judgment to the gusts of feeling, either in Congress or among the voters, than did Mr. Cleveland in his second term. Yet in so doing he was confronted with an obstacle more serious than could possibly confront a British ministry. Unsupported by his party majority in Congress, measures and policies of the Executive were bound to end in defeat or deadlock; yet the requisite support had to be solicited from Senators and Congressmen who themselves were bending before the popular feeling in their several constituencies. They had to look to this public for their return to office even if the President did not; the result is fresh in the memory of every one. The high place which Mr. Cleveland holds to-day as a historic figure in the esteem of his countrymen is based first on the one great public measure which he carried to success only through co-operation of his political opponents, but chiefly on the numerous policies and acts which he prevented. Constructive legislation under such circumstances was virtually impossible, and the inevitable end of the Administration was a disrupted party. It is not difficult to see that the line of action which Mr. Cleveland rejected, but which to many other occupants of his place would have offered irresistible temptation to compromise or surrender, was this very deference to "gusts of popular opinion" from which his situation would have seemed to render him secure.

We should hesitate to draw from these considerations any final conclusion as to the relative merits of our governmental system and Great Britain's. Like everything in government, both are largely makeshifts, and each has particular elements of adaptability to a given emergency or a given community. The English system has unquestionably one very great advantage in the complete divorcing of the civil service from the whirl of party politics. It has also an advantage as regards the personal attitude of a public leader in the fact that a Prime Minister's defeat after incumbency in office not only does not relegate him permanently to private life, but leaves him still the leader of the Opposition and in line to resume his office when his party and its policies again prevail. To a public officer thus placed temptation to defer to sudden and hasty movements of popular opinion is in reality much less than is the same temptation even with our own Executive. Against this must be set the remarkable opportunity which our own system of Presidential nominations and elections gives, but which the British plan does not, of arraying publicly at intervals the definite policies and acts for which each party stands, so that the public as a whole may choose not only its attitude on a given question, but the question which most appeals to it for decision.

THE WHEAT AND FLOUR SITUATION.

The wheat situation as regards exports, supplies and market values is such as to challenge wide attention. In the agricultural harvests of 1904 wheat is the one leading crop the yield of which has been deficient. In every other particular the season has been one of plenty. No one seriously argues now that the United States has raised no more than 500,000,000 bushels of wheat (winter and spring combined), which it was urged at one time (two or three months ago) was all that could be counted upon. Probably 550,000,000 to 570,000,000 bushels would be nearer the mark. But even at these latter figures the crop will show a large reduction from other recent years, comparing with 638,000,000 bushels raised in 1903, 670,000,000 bushels raised in 1902 and 748,000,000 bushels raised in 1901.

If this fact of a short crop of wheat be conjoined with the further fact that stocks and supplies had been reduced to an unusually low basis when the new crop year opened, it will be seen that there has been a real, substantial basis for a higher level of values. But while this is true, it by no means follows that in an upward movement such as has distinguished the current season prices may not be carried to a point far above that warranted by intrinsic facts and circumstances.

Indeed, unless all the signs which have in the past been found reliable on such occasions shall in this instance prove misleading, it would seem as if we were at the present moment in precisely that predicament. In an article in these columns two weeks ago devoted to setting out the difficulties under which manufacturers of flour labor by reason of the Onstons duty of 25 cents a bushel imposed upon foreign wheat, we showed that on the other side of the northern frontier of the United States, in Manitoba, there was wheat in plenty to supply the mills at Minneapolis and elsewhere, but which was unavailable by reason of the Customs tax referred to. We also quoted from an interview with Mr. James S. Bell, the President of the Washburn-Crosby Co. of Minneapolis, reported in "The Journal of Commerce & Commercial Bulletin" of this city, to the effect that wheat could be bought in Manitoba at 18 to 20 cents a bushel less than had to be paid for it in the United States. We likewise adverted to a statement made by Mr. A. Ruyter, Manager of the Hecker-Jones-Jewell Co., saying that he had been offered Argentine, Indian, Russian and Australian wheat laid down in New York with the duty paid at only 5 cents over the cost here of American wheat.

Such circumstances certainly make plausible the suggestion that the existing basis of values in this country is in a measure an artificial one. During the month just passed (November) market quotations have ruled as high as at any time the present season—as high as (in fact higher than) when the rumors suggesting a crop of only 500,000,000 bushels were being circulated and were credited. The range for the December option in this market during November was from 114½ to 121½. The latter part of the month there was some manifestation of weakness and the close November 30 was at 115¾. Looking back a year we find that at the corresponding date in 1903 the price was less than 90 cents. In other words, as contrasted with twelve months ago wheat in this market is commanding 25 cents a bushel more and this compared with a figure which was itself high—and deemed so by agricultural interests. Though the crop is very short, reducing our exports will obviously serve quickly to restore the equilibrium between supply and demand. No one contends that the crop will not be large enough to meet domestic requirements. But contraction in our wheat and flour exports has been the most conspicuous feature in our foreign trade statistics the present year. Our readers are sufficiently acquainted with the general fact of a shrinkage; to show, however, the extent and magnitude of this shrinkage we have brought together in tabular form the following figures, covering the ten months ending Oct. 31 in 1904 compared with the corresponding ten months of 1903:

From the foregoing it appears that of wheat and flour combined (the latter reckoned at its equivalent in wheat) the shipments in 1904 have been less than 56,000,000 bushels, against over 132½ million bushels in the ten months of 1903 and 178¾ million bushels in the ten months of 1902. The figures given reveal another feature which in its bearing on the situation is hardly less important or significant than the falling off in the exports. We refer to the small advance as compared with both 1903 and 1902 shown in the average export prices of the shipments. While market quotations in New York are now 25 cents above those ruling a year ago and 35 cents a bushel above those prevailing two years ago the export prices here given show relatively insignificant advances, the average for the ten months of 1904 on shipments of wheat as wheat having been 81.7 cents, against 80.9 cents in the corresponding period of 1903 and 74.8 cents in 1902. The conclusion seems inevitable that what wheat went out had to go at low average figures or not at all. It is true these data relate to the whole ten months, but even for October standing by itself the difference in favor of the present year is small. In brief, the average price on the wheat exports for October 1904 was 85.8 cents and for October 1903 it was 81.4 cents, an advance of less than  $4\frac{1}{2}$  cents per bushel. In the case of flour, the disparity is larger, the average per barrel for the ten months of 1904 standing at \$4 33, as against \$3 82 for 1903, an advance of 51 cents a barrel; but on the basis of present market quotations for wheat an advance of considerably more than double this amount would be called for.

The truth seems to be that foreign consumers are unwilling to pay appreciably more than they have been paying—considering this high enough. Producers and speculators in this country are too prone to overestimate Europe's dependence upon the United States. When values here are low, foreign purchasers stand ready to take apparently unlimited quantities of our grain and also of other food stuffs. But when prices rise to a high or unnatural basis, European consumers quietly but quickly have recourse to other markets for their needed supplies and usually are able to satisfy their wants there. We have had the curiosity to examine the British trade statistics on the point here raised, and they are absolutely conclusive, both as to Europe's unwillingness to pay any great advance in price and its ability to obtain such supplies on those terms. The following shows the importations into the United Kingdom of wheat and flour, both for the month of October by itself and for the ten months ending with October. The figures are given in hundredweights of 112 pounds.

It will be seen that while Great Britain obtained only 6,541,100 cwts. of wheat as wheat from the United States in the ten months of 1904, as against 20,405,726 cwts. in 1903 and 37,292,375 cwts. in 1902, she obtained 20,469,100 cwts. from British India, against only 12,960,242 cwts. in 1903 and 7,340,924 cwts. in 1902; 16,827,100 cwts. from Russia, against 13,036,202 and 4,118,684 cwts. respectively in 1903 and 1902; 18,466,700 cwts. from Argentine, against 13,558,855 cwts. and 4,185,880 cwts.; and 8,959,800 cwts. from Australia, against only 26 cwts. in 1903 and 4,168,941 cwts. in 1902; "all other" countries, like the United States, supplied less, the falling off being due chiefly to diminished importations from Canada. Altogether the British Isles took more wheat in 1904 than in either 1903 and 1902, notwithstanding the reduction in the contribution from the United States and Canada. And this statement holds good also when the flour importations reckoned at their equivalent in wheat are taken into account. The United States, of course, sent greatly diminished amounts of flour and the loss here was made up only in part by increased importations of flour from other countries; but owing to the enlarged amounts of wheat imported as wheat the purchases of wheat and flour combined for the ten months of 1904 amounted to 97,558,746 cwts., against only 95,030,273 cwts. in the ten months of 1903 and but 90,523,412 cwts. in the ten months of 1902.

Evidently Great Britain got all the wheat she wanted. What is more, she got it at about the old level of prices while here in the United States we are asking about one-third more. The almost unchanged level at which British import prices have held during the three years is the most striking feature in the whole situation. On wheat the average for the ten months of 1904 was 6s. 11d., against 6s. 10d. for 1903 and 6s. 8d. for 1902, showing even as compared with two years ago a difference of no more than 3 pence per cwt. The result is the same in the case of flour, the average per cwt. for the ten months of 1904 being 9s. 9d., as compared with 9s. 4d. in 1903 and 9s. 2d. in 1902. That is, Great Britain paid only 5 pence more per cwt. for its flour than last year and 7 pence more than two years ago, which, expressed on the basis of barrels, would be about 18 cents per barrel more than in 1903 and about 25 cents more per barrel than two years ago. For October by itself, the differences are somewhat larger than for the ten months, and yet surprisingly small considering the enormous advance in prices established in the United States.

As far, therefore, as the situation has developed up to the present time, there appears to be little to encourage the thought that Europe can be induced to buy much wheat of us at prevailing prices. Moreover, with the foreign markets cut off, the high prices have at the same time checked domestic consumption. The inevitable result has been accumulating stocks. Since the last week in August visible stocks have shown an increase in each and every week, and, what is hardly less noteworthy, a large proportion of the increase has occurred at Duluth and Minneapolis, which derive their supplies exclusively from the spring-wheat districts of the Northwest. The following shows the changes week by week.

Aggregate visible supply for the whole country has risen from 11,988,000 bushels August 27 to 35,595,000 bushels November 26, and while Duluth and Minneapolis combined at the earlier date held only 2,947,000 bushels of wheat, the two points now hold 13,890,000 bushels. The aggregate supply has for some weeks now been larger than at the same dates in 1903; at 35,595,000 bushels for November 26 comparison is with only 30,150,000 bushels in the corresponding week of last year. It so happens, too, that the quantity of wheat on passage for Europe is also considerably heavier than twelve months ago, being reported 39,600,000 bushels November 26 1904, against 25,632,000 bushels November 28 1903. Visible stocks and amount afloat combined hence foot up now 75,195,000 bushels, as against only 55,782,000 bushels a year ago. Obviously, therefore, the situation is such as to suggest extreme caution.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTHERN SECURITIES PROPERTIES.

No decision has yet been rendered in the suit of the Harriman-Union Pacific interests against the Northern Securities Company, though such decision is now looked for any day. Whatever the determination of the Court, the status of the Northern Securities Company itself will not be changed. That combination has been condemned by the United States Supreme Court as illegal, and it must soon, therefore, pass out of existence. The present controversy relates simply to the method of distribution to be followed in the liquidation of the company—Mr. Hill contending that the respective holdings of Northern Pacific and Great Northern shares should be distributed on an equal pro rata basis among all the stockholders of the Securities Company, while the Union Pacific people insist that each stockholder should have returned to him the identical shares turned in by him at the time the Securities Company was formed, which in their case would be exclusively Northern Pacific shares, thus giving them control of the last-named company.

Before the Northern Securities Company disappears from the scene of action, it seems desirable to take a glance back over the three years during which it has been in existence and note some of the benefits that have accrued because of the part performed by it. It must be remembered that the purpose for the carrying out of which the Northern Securities combination was conceived antedates by a considerable time the date of the creation of the company. This purpose was to unite the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Chicago Burlington & Quincy—three large, separate systems—in such a way as to facilitate the interchange of traffic between them and thus foster their growth and development, and at the same time aid in the building up of the vast stretch of country which they drain and whose interests they serve.

To this end, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern jointly acquired control of the Burlington & Quincy early in 1901. As joint owners of the Quincy, the interests of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern now became identical. It was supposed that the interchange of traffic between the three systems could be effected with the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern remaining as separate entities. Later there came the contest for the control of the Northern Pacific, induced mainly by the recognition of the value of the Burlington & Quincy as a feeder and auxiliary to any one dominating its affairs; to smooth over the differences which arose on that occasion between the conflicting parties and to promote the original purpose of having the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Burlington & Quincy operated under harmonious arrangements for their joint advantage, the Northern Securities combination was devised, the better to attain the ends sought.

This and this alone was the object in view. There was no thought of stifling competition or of creating a monopoly in restraint of commerce and trade. Indeed, Mr. James J. Hill is the last person in the world who could justly be accused of harboring the thought of a monopoly under the conditions existing in the present instance. The Northern Pacific originally had a monopoly of the traffic, since it was the only line running across the continent from the head of the Great Lakes to the North Pacific Coast. It was Mr. Hill who broke the monopoly through the extension of the Manitoba system to the Pacific Coast. Except for Mr. Hill's energy, skill, perseverance and boundless faith, the Northern Pacific might to-day be still in undisputed control of that part of the country.

What, then, has been accomplished through the union of the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Burlington & Quincy? For one thing, the traffic of the three systems has been developed as it could have been developed in no other way—precisely through the interchange of traffic already referred to. The fiscal year ending June 30 1901 may be considered as having been the last under the old conditions. In the three years which have elapsed since then important results have been achieved. We have on previous occasions shown how the traffic and earnings of the separate systems have grown, but it is only by combining the three that one gets a proper idea of the extent and magnitude of the growth effected in this short period of time. The following is a statement which we have prepared to bring out the exact facts.

YEAR ENDING JUNE 30—	1904.	1903.	1902.	1901.
Gross Earnings—
Chic. Burl. & Quincy .....	$65,228,192	$62,633,379	$53,795,243	$50,051,989
Great Northern system .....	41,414,801	42,137,690	32,553,513	30,564,397
Northern Pacific .....	46,524,574	46,142,105	41,387,387	32,560,934
Three properties.....	$153,167,570	$150,918,174	$134,041,139	$112,177,360
Net Earnings—
Chic. Burl. & Quincy.....	$20,649,250	$22,095,906	$18,112,370	$15,933,031
Great Northern system .....	18,518,854	19,728,519	17,281,198	12,287,905
Northern Pacific.....	20,827,256	20,688,578	17,949,076	15,400,483
Three properties.....	$59,995,360	$62,513,003	$53,342,644	$43,621,419

In 1901, it will be seen, the gross earnings of the three properties were only $112,177,360. The very next year there was an increase to $134,041,139; in 1903 there was a further increase to $150,918,174; while in 1904, notwithstanding the unfavorable traffic conditions encountered, the total was $153,167,570. Thus in three years the addition has been 40 million dollars; indeed, the bulk of the increase occurred in two years, traffic conditions during 1904, as just stated, having been unfavorable. Some growth would doubtless have taken place even if there had been no union and no specially close arrangements for the interchange of traffic. The great prosperity enjoyed by the whole United States afforded assurance of that. But it hardly needs to be argued that the growth could not have attained the proportions now actually recorded. It should perhaps be stated that very little of the gain in traffic can be attributed to the building of extensions and the opening of new mileage. The increase in the average length of road operated by the three systems during the three years has been only 5 per cent. In the net earnings there was also noteworthy expansion the first two years, the amount of the same rising from $43,251,474 to $62,513,003. But 1904 saw the total reduced again to $59,995,360.

As showing the way in which new traffic has been built up, it may be recalled that when the purchase of the Burlington & Quincy was made Mr. James J. Hill gave as one reason for the acquisition a desire on his part to find a market for Pacific Coast lumber in the territory of the Quincy. There are no data in either the Great Northern or the Burlington & Quincy report permitting one to judge whether Mr. Hill has been successful in this particular effort. The statistics, however, in the Northern Pacific report concerning that road's tonnage in lumber and forest products reveal some decidedly significant changes bearing on the matter. As we have pointed out on a previous occasion, in 1901-2 the shipments of lumber and forest products over the Northern Pacific system aggregated 3,694,694 tons. In 1902-3 there was an increase to 5,090,387 tons and in 1903-4 a further increase to 5,285,077 tons. Thus in the two years there was an addition in this class of tonnage in amount of almost 1,600,000 tons, the increase being about evenly divided between the east-bound and the west-bound movement. There seems, hence, reason for thinking that Mr. Hill has been successful in his desire to find a wider market for the timber of the Pacific Northwest.

But there have been other advantages to the communities served. Lower transportation charges have attended the operation of the three systems under common control. Instead of advances in rates there have been repeated reductions—in many important items of traffic, too. Furthermore, the increase in the revenues of the three properties has been in itself of tremendous benefit, for the greater part of the increase has been paid out again in the shape of enlarged expenses along the lines of the different systems. On that point it is only necessary to say that while in 1901 aggregate operating expenses of the three roads were but $69,925,886, in 1904 the corresponding total was $93,172,210. It would be difficult to exaggerate the benefits to local enterprises that must have resulted from this addition of over 33 million dollars to the annual expenses of the three roads. Whatever the method of distribution of the shareholdings of the Northern Securities Company to which the Court may give approval, it is to be hoped that none of the benefits that have followed from the operation of the three roads through unity of control will be lost.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 321 shares, of which 106 shares were sold at the Stock Exchange and 215 shares at auction. The transactions in trust company stocks, all auction sales, reach a total of 197 shares. National City Bank stock sold at 809, as against 285 early in November, when the last previous sale was made. Several trust company stocks show considerable advances in price, the largest gains being Washington Trust Co. 80 points, Morton Trust Co. 25 points and Metropolitan Trust Co. 22 points. The table below, given in our usual form, shows the actual sales of New York City bank stocks made during the week at auction and at the Stock Exchange. Extensive tables showing the bid and asked quotations, deposits, surplus, &c., of banks and trust companies in all important cities of the United States are published monthly in the BANK AND QUOTATION Section, the December issue of which accompanies to-day's CHRONICLE. Bid and asked quotations for all New York City bank and trust company stocks are also published weekly in another department of the paper, and will be found to-day on pages 2572 and 2573.

—The New York Produce Exchange Bank, 2 Broadway, this city, of which Mr. Forrest H. Parker is President, will open another new branch on the corner of Amsterdam Avenue and Manhattan Street about the middle of this month. This will make the seventh addition to the institution's established chain of branch banks throughout the City of New York, the others being located at Columbus Avenue, corner 93d Street; Central Park, corner 58th Street and 7th Avenue; Broadway, corner 86th Street; Madison Avenue, corner 60th Street; Harlem, corner 116th Street and 8d Avenue, and the Harlem Market, 103d Street and 1st Avenue. Work on the bank's new home now building at Broadway and Beaver Streets, is progressing rapidly and it is expected that it will be completed by next spring. The directorate is composed of Alexander E. Orr, James McMahon, Charles W. Morse, Alexander Munn, E. S. Whitman, Albert S. Roe, Adelbert H. Alden, Forrest H. Parker and John E. Weeks, M. D.

—Gen. Alfred C. Barnes, President and founder of the Astor Place Bank of this city, now a branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, died on Monday. Gen. Barnes was born in 1842 and was a son of A. S. Barnes, the publisher.

—The deposits of the Irving National Bank, corner of Chambers Street and West Broadway, this city, have increased more than 50 per cent during the last two years. Since Dec. 1 1902 the total of the same has risen from $5,249,600 to $7,978,000, a gain of $2,728,400. Charles H. Fancher is President of the bank, Charles F. Matilage and Samuel S. Conover are Vice-Presidents and Benjamin F. Werner is Cashier.

—It has been decided to apply for a renewal of the charter of the Phenix National Bank of this city at the date of expiration next year, the necessary two-thirds vote having been secured at Thursday's meeting of the stockholders. Several previous meetings, it will be remembered, were called for the purpose of acting on the renewal, but, owing to the absence of some of the principal stockholders, adjournments were taken.

—Mr. John Munroe, head of the Paris branch of the banking firm of John Munroe & Co., died in France on Thursday. Mr. Munroe had been in ill-health for a year past, and his death was not unlooked for. He was in his fifty-fourth year. Since the death in 1871 of his father, who also bore the name John Munroe, the deceased had had charge of the Paris house, which was established by the elder Munroe in 1836. Mr. Henry Whitney Munroe is at the head of the firm's New York house, while Mr. George Munroe is associated with the management of the Paris branch.

—A slight run was started on the German-American Bank of Buffalo on Thursday, precipitated, it is reported, by the withdrawal of the accounts of some large depositors following a contest for control of the institution. At the close of the day's business, the directors issued the statement below:

"It has come to the knowledge of the officers of the German-American Bank of Buffalo that certain persons formerly connected with the management have been disseminating rumors tending to impair its credit. The same persons have just recently demanded that the controlling interest in the bank be sold to them at their figures. The bank is perfectly solvent, able and willing to meet any demand upon it in full, and ready to submit its entire affairs to the examination of the Clearing House at any moment."

It was also announced on Thursday that Cashier Edward A. Weppner had severed his connection with the bank on that day. Mr. Richard Emory, the present head of the institution, became President last June, when a change in the ownership of the bank occurred. Advice from Buffalo yesterday stated that but few deposits were being withdrawn, and it seemed practically certain that the run would soon be spent.

—Mr. Francis Buell Cooley, Vice President of the National Exchange Bank of Hartford, Conn., died in that city on the 25th ult., aged eighty-two years. Mr. Cooley was quite as well known in Chicago as in Hartford. While still a young man, in the latter part of the forties, he went to Chicago where he established the dry goods house of Cooley, Wadsworth & Co., subsequently Cooley, Farwell & Co. In 1865 Mr. Cooley took up his residence in Hartford, and was elected President of the National Exchange Bank there. This office he held until 1886 (twenty-one years), when he resigned and became the Vice-President, in which position he continued until his death.

—After an existence of less than two years the Copley Trust Company of Boston, Mass., went into liquidation on Wednesday, the 30th ult. The company's business has been taken over by the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, Mass., an offer to purchase the assets of the Copley Trust recently made by the former having been accepted. Its capital was $500,000. In its last statement to the Bank Commissioners the company showed total resources of $754,594; deposits were $124,942, while the surplus was $100,000.

—It is reported that two memberships in the Boston Stock Exchange were transferred this week, the consideration in one case being $20,500, while the other seat is said to have brought $21,000.

—The North Adams Trust Company of North Adams, Mass., began business on the 22d ult. in the quarters formerly occupied by the Berkshire National Bank, whose business it has taken over. The company has $200,000 capital and $50,000 surplus. The voluntary liquidation of the bank went into effect on the 21st ult.

—In an effort to reorganize the Hampden Trust Company of Springfield, Mass., the directors of that institution have addressed a letter to the depositors asking that they agree to waive all claims for interest. The possible demand for interest, they state, presents the most serious obstacle in the company's reorganization. While the amount on each claim is comparatively small (about 3 per cent), the aggregate is of such size as to render reorganization practically impossible unless the waiver of the same is assented to. Accompanying the directors' circular is a statement from the receivers concerning the company's prospects. As was noted in this department last week, dividends of 70 per cent have already been paid to the depositors. The reopening of the company, the receivers state, is equivalent to the immediate offer of the 80 per cent balance. While it is hoped that, in case the reorganization is not effected, a 10 per cent dividend will be paid in January, future dividends, it is stated, are liable to be long delayed. In view of the uncertainty as to the amount which may eventually be paid under receivership, the receivers believe it to the best advantage of the depositors to waive their claims for the interest and further the company's reorganization.

—Control of the City Trust, Safe Deposit & Surety Company of Philadelphia has passed into new hands, and Mr. Henry M. Jenks has been elected President to succeed Mr. Michael P. Heraty. New York capitalists, it is said, now hold the controlling interest. Eight new directors have been elected to the board of the institution, seven replacing retiring members and one filling a vacancy. The new members are Mr. Henry M. Jenks, the new President; Joseph W. Wilson of the First National Bank of Camden; A. A. Rutis; P. J. Ferguson, President of the First National Bank of Shenandoah; George B. Appleton, President of the National Metropolitan Citizens' Bank of Washington, D. C.; W. C. Mason; H. G. Hollinger of Camden and Samuel Lewis.

—Through the declaration of an extra dividend of 100 per cent, the Drovers' & Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore proposes to increase its capital from $300,000 to $600,000. The stockholders are to ratify the issuance of the additional stock at the annual meeting on January 10. The $300,000 to be added to the company's capital represents its present surplus fund. It has besides undivided profits of over $200,000. Cash will be paid, it is announced, to any of the stockholders preferring the dividend in that way. In an item published in our issue of November 19 we referred to an unsuccessful effort, made through Messrs. Townsend Scott & Co. on behalf of a syndicate, to secure control of the bank. The price offered was $400 per share. The bank pays a regular dividend of 15 per cent on its stock; while the amount will be reduced with the doubling of the capital, the return to the stockholders taking the 100 per cent of new stock will average about the same amount as at present.

—The directors of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange have made a ruling which provides that transactions in bank, trust company and insurance stocks of less than 10 shares will not be quoted, posted, or sent out over the ticker.

—The meeting of the stockholders of the Cosmopolitan National Bank of Pittsburgh for the purpose of voting on the proposition to increase the capital from $200,000 to $500,000 will be held on the 30th inst. The proposed increase was referred to in these columns on November 5.

—An application to organize the Union National Bank of McKeesport, Pa., with $150,000 capital, was approved on November 26.

—Mr. William J. McQuaide has succeeded Mr. D. C. Muir, resigned, as Cashier of the Monongahela Valley Bank of Duquesne, Pa.

—A letter embodying a plan for bank burglary insurance has been sent by Mr. S. B. Rankin, Secretary of the Ohio Bankers' Association, to bankers within that State. The assurance of at least three hundred banks to contribute $20 each to the guaranty fund is being sought as a preliminary to putting the plan into operation.

—The Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin, Ohio, failed to open its doors on Monday, and National Bank Examiner L. L. Miller is now in charge of its affairs. The closing of the bank is attributed to loans made by it to Mrs. Chadwick, the Cleveland society woman, whose name has figured prominently in the papers the past week. The statement is made that following a slight run on Saturday last, as a result of the charges against Mrs. Chadwick and a rumor that she had borrowed from the bank, a meeting of the directors was held, at which President C. T. Beckwith announced that the institution was so heavily involved in Chadwick paper that unless immediate settlement were made, it could not survive. To prevent a serious run, it was decided that the institution should remain closed on Monday and an examination of its affairs be made. The extent of the loans which, it is stated, were made without the knowledge of the directors, has not been disclosed. It is reported, however, that President Beckwith has admitted that a personal loan of $100,000 was made by him to Mrs. Chadwick. The Citizens' National has a capital of $30,000. It is the oldest bank in that city.

—The Wade Park Banking Company of Cleveland, which also holds a portion of the Chadwick paper, in view of the withdrawal of some of the savings accounts, this week announced that it had decided to take advantage of the sixty-day notice allowed by law, issuing the following statement in regard to the matter:

"Owing to the circulation of certain rumors affecting the Wade Park Banking Company and the consequent withdrawal of some savings accounts, the directors have decided to take advantage of the sixty days' notice for the withdrawal of savings deposits. At a meeting of the directors of the bank, held Tuesday, this step was taken, though conscious of the soundness of the bank, and being certain that the statement of the finance committee that the total indebtedness of Mrs. Chadwick is less than seventeen thousand dollars and that the same is largely secured by the best of collateral, is absolutely correct. Yet further, to satisfy all interested, the directors authorized and directed the employment of independent public chartered accountants to make an examination of the condition of the bank and its assets, the report of which will be completed and published in the daily papers at the earliest possible date.

"THE WADE PARK BANKING COMPANY,

"By CALEB DAVIS, Vice-President."

—The National Commercial Bank of Cleveland, capital $1,500,000, began business on the 1st inst. as successor to the Mercantile National and the Commercial National banks of Cleveland. The stockholders of the respective institutions had previously ratified the proposition at special meetings—those of the Commercial on November 14 and those of the Mercantile on November 25. The particulars concerning the new bank were given in our issue of October 29, when the names of the officials were also announced.

—Through the resignation of Mr. G. W. Sinks, Mr. John G. Deshler has become President of the Deshler National Bank of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Sinks, it is reported, has disposed of his holdings in the bank, amounting to 600 shares, to a syndicate composed of John G. Dashler, William G. Dashler, R. S. Warber and Frederick W. Sinks. The office of Vice-President, previously held by the new President, has, it is stated, been abolished.

—The Old National Bank of Evansville, Ind., went out of business on the 1st inst., being succeeded on that date by the Old State National Bank. The latter has a capital of $250,000. Subscriptions to the stock were at $120 per share.

—December 8 will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the State Bank of Chicago, and its management has every reason to be proud of its successful career. Especially since 1890 has the growth of this institution been noteworthy. In December of that year the total deposits were less than one million dollars ($831,747); in 1892, a little over two millions; in 1896, two and a quarter millions; in 1898, four and a half millions; in 1900, more than seven millions; in 1902 ten million four hundred thousand dollars; and Nov. 11, 1904, twelve million two hundred thousand dollars. The dividend rate, now 1½ per cent quarterly, will, it is believed, be increased to 2 per cent quarterly at the next directors' meeting. The rapid but steady growth of the State Bank is due to its aggressive, yet always conservative and careful, attitude.

—The First Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago will soon move into permanent quarters, which are now being fitted up for it on the ground floor of the new addition to the First National Bank Building. The banking room will be spacious and equipped with every modern convenience, and will have direct entrances from both Dearborn and Monroe streets. The growth of the First Trust & Savings during the first year of its existence has been phenomenal; in ten months after its organization having accumulated fifteen millions of deposits.

—The National Bank of the Republic of Chicago, to whose attractive advertising literature we took occasion to refer last week, prides itself on its adherence to the principle of individuality. A strikingly attractive card which the bank has issued concerning the subject, is well worthy of quoting, and is as follows:

"Organized, developed and conducted on the principle of conservative banking along progressive lines, the National Bank of the Republic of Chicago has preserved the integrity of its individuality in tact during a period in which the tendency to consolidation has been general and on this basis has gained a little each day in strength, in scope and in the confidence of the public. Governed by the same principle, and entertaining a reciprocal confidence in a public which recognizes the right relationship between service and recompense, this bank expects to continue to grow both in its capacity and in its opportunity to serve, and to that end invites the patronage to which it believes it has proved itself entitled."

—Mr. Julius S. Pomeroy, it is announced, is to become Cashier of the Security Bank of Minnesota at Minneapolis, to fill the vacancy caused by the death in September of Mr. Thomas F. Hurley. Mr. Pomeroy was formerly Cashier of the National Bank of North America of Chicago.

—Over half a million dollars was added to the deposits of the American Exchange Bank of Duluth, Minn., in the nine weeks intervening between the dates of the last two calls of the Comptroller. On November 10 the amount recorded was $4,455,112, whereas the figures stood at but $3,780,195 on September 6. Surplus and undivided profits of $348,195 on the 10th ult. compare with $320,127 in September, while aggregate resources have risen in the two months from $4,600,821 to $5,303,307. The bank is under the management of Mr. Hamilton M. Peyton, President; C. A. Congdon, Vice-President; James C. Hunter, Cashier, and William G. Hegardt and Isaac S. Moore, Assistant Cashiers.

—Notice of the increase in the capital of the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Company of St. Louis, from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 was filed on the 13th ult. The company was recently formed by the consolidation of the Missouri and Lincoln trust companies.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Through the courtesy of the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, we have received this week the details of imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of October, and they are given below in conjunction with the figures for preceding months, thus completing the results for the ten months of the calendar year 1904. The imports of gold were of important volume, reaching $3,921,004, of which $3,693,172 was in coin. Of silver there came in $262,972, wholly bullion and silver in ore. During the nine months there was received a total of $88,298,811 gold and $2,692,493 silver, which compares with $8,163,123 gold and $2,236,057 silver in 1903. The shipments of gold during October were small, reaching only $6,730, all coin, and the exports of silver were $527,937, of which $522,291 was bullion. For the ten months the exports of gold reached $99,151, against $1,775,743 in 1903, and $6,483,710 silver was sent out, against $1,683,192 in 1903. The exhibit for October and for the ten months is as follows:

Monetary and Commercial English News

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, November 19, 1904.

Alarmist rumors have been in circulation throughout the week. A Moscow paper set afloat the report that a collision had taken place between the Russian and Afghan troops. St. Petersburg papers and St. Petersburg correspondents of Paris journals have been busy all the week in declaring that a serious hitch has occurred in the negotiations between the British and Russian governments, and that the Russian Government has gone the length even of intimating that it will not agree to punish its officers if they are found guilty by the International Tribunal. Therefore, there has been a setback upon the Stock Exchange and a general decline in prices.

Even in Paris, though the rumors are quite discredited, there is no disposition to engage in new risks. The feeling in Paris is accentuated by the uncertainty that prevails as to the fate of the Combes Ministry. It seems that the resignation of General Andre has not in the least satisfied the opponents of that Ministry, and that they are resolved upon pushing to the utmost the advantage which they have obtained. The general opinion is that even if the Combes Ministry falls, its successors will be compelled by public opinion to continue its policy. Nevertheless, the threatened fall has added to the nervousness in Paris, for the loss of M. Delcasse would be a very serious matter to France at the present time.

This uneasiness in France has added to the unwillingness here to engage in new enterprises. Indeed, many French operators have been selling in this market, and these sales have contributed to bring about the fall. There are also fears of dear money, which, for the present at all events, are not justified. At the beginning of the week there was a hopeful feeling, and prices continued to rise, but the uneasiness on account of the alarmist rumors sprang up, and since then the market has declined.

Nevertheless the new Japanese loan has been a great success. Six millions sterling were offered here and the applications amounted to 80 millions sterling. In other words, the loan was covered more than 13 times. Applications for the loan had to be accompanied by deposits of 5 per cent, so that about 4 millions sterling was locked up in the three banks which brought out the issue. They, however, took proper measures to prevent the withdrawal of so large a sum from disturbing the market. As fast as the money came in they lent it out on reasonable terms, and therefore the market was hardly affected. It is understood that the Japanese Government also lent considerable sums. As the week is drawing to a close, people are beginning to believe that the alarmist rumors have been grossly exaggerated, and they are looking forward to an early settlement of the difficulty. In trade proper there are further indications of revival. The rise in copper, which is due largely to the consumption of that article in ships and war materials, and also to the large consumption for electrical purposes, shows that the recovery has now extended to the metal market.

Money has been fairly plentiful during the week, partly because the banks that brought out the Japanese loan took proper measures to prevent scarcity and partly because the Bank of England has continued to do a considerable business, both in lending and discounting. Still, there is a very general impression that the Bank of England will have to raise its rate before long to 4 per cent. On Thursday gold to the amount of £580,000 was taken out of the Bank for Buenos Ayres. To-day it is expected that a considerable sum will be taken for Egypt, and it is feared that other shipments will have to be made. Germany and France are buying all the gold that is offered in the open market, and the large shipments from New York to France and Cuba are raising apprehensions that money will become scarce and dear in New York. In spite of all this, however, it is by no means certain that the Bank of England will have to raise its rate. Of course, if the gold shipments from New York to Paris and to Cuba raise the value of money so much in New York that gold will be withdrawn from London, the Bank will have to take measures to protect its reserve. Similarly, if the Russian Government withdraws large amounts from London, the Bank rate will have to be put up. The chief uncertainty is connected with Russia. Last week negotiations were begun between the Russian Government and the leading French banks for a new Russian loan. The alarmist rumors this week have made the French banks unwilling to go on with the negotiations for the present. And therefore it is understood that the negotiations are put off until the new year. If that be true, it is possible, of course, that the Russian Government may be in need of money and that it may withdraw a considerable portion of its balances from London. On the other hand, the French Government intends to borrow at a very early date. It is clearly to its interest, therefore, not to disturb the London money market, and as its credit in Paris is most excellent it would have no difficulty in obtaining temporary assistance if it really needs it. Upon the whole, therefore, the best opinion in London is that the three-per-cent rate will be sufficient for the remainder of the year.

Meantime the India Council continues to sell its drafts well. It offered for tender on Wednesday 120 lacs, and the applications exceeded 753 lacs, at prices ranging from 1s. 4 1-16d. to 1s. 4 13-16d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 4 1-16d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 4 8-32d. per rupee were allotted about 13 per cent of the amounts applied for.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of November 17, 1904:

Gold—There has been a keen renewal of the Berlin demand for gold this week, and the market supplies, amounting to nearly £700,000, have all been taken for that quarter at an advance of 1/4d. on last week's price. In addition the Bank has lost £450,000 for Egypt, and a further £580,000 has been withdrawn to-day for Argentine. Arrivals: Cape Town, £356,000; Bombay, £65,000; Australia, £255,000; Straits, £2,000; New Zealand, £13,000; West Indies, £26,000; total, £717,000. Shipments: Bombay, £48,500.

Silver—The market has kept remarkably steady, with only 1/4d. variation. India has been a regular buyer, but the chief reason of the steadiness is the smallness of the supply, owing mainly to which spot is worth 1/4d. more than forward. The Indian price is quoted at Rs. 68 1/2 per 100 Tola. Arrivals: New York, £117,000; Australia, £5,000; West Indies, £2,000; total, £124,000. Shipments: Bombay, £75,600; Hong Kong, £21,165; Madras, £2,500; total, £99,265.

Mexican Dollars—There have been a few transactions in dollars at about 74d. under the price of silver. Arrivals: Hong Kong, £30,000.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, DEC. 2, 1904.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—There has been almost no change in the general characteristics of the security markets. The general trend has continued to be towards higher prices and new records have been established in many cases, with occasional temporary yielding of the market under profit-taking sales. Expectations of an early decision in the Northern Securities injunction suit caused a sharp advance in issues directly affected and some other railway stocks have been strong under favorable traffic reports. The latter are one of the noteworthy features of the week. Another is a decline in the price of cotton on the prospect of a larger yield than has in conservative circles generally been expected.

Reports of weather conditions in Argentina and in our own winter-wheat belt have attracted attention in the grain market this week, as has also the fact that the visible supply of wheat is increasing. The foreign exchange market has remained generally steady and no exports of gold have been reported. The shifting of balances incident to the opening of another month caused no disturbance in the money market. Call-loan rates have on two or three occasions been quoted at 4 per cent, but little actual business was done at that figure.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 2½ to 4 p. c. To-day's rates on call were 2½ to 3½ p. c. Prime commercial paper quoted at 4¼ to 4½ p. c. for endorsements and 4¼ to 4½ p. c. for best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £305,434 and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 45·30, against 50·51 last week, the discount rate remaining unchanged at 3 per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 17,625,000 francs in gold and a decrease of 350,000 francs in silver.

NOTE.—Returns of separate banks appear on the preceding page.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8370@4 8375 for long, 4 8645@4 8655 for short and 4 8680@4 8690 for cables. State and Railroad Bonds.—No sales of State bonds have been reported at the Board this week.

Business in the railway bond department has been largely increased by a very heavy movement of the American Tobacco issues represented by Morton Trust Co. certificates.

The 4s have been exceptionally active and steadily advanced from 70 at the opening on Monday to 75¼ and the 6s sold 2½ points above last week's closing price. Consolidated Tobacco 4s also advanced, moving up 4½ points.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $15,000 4s, coup., 1907, at 104½; $500 4s, reg., 1907, at 107; $10,000 4s, coup., 1925, at 130¾; and $5,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 104¾. Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been again more active and in most cases decidedly strong. There has been an unusual advance in some of the high-priced issues, but the upward movement has not been uniform—a reactionary tendency having developed on Tuesday and again on Thursday.

The highest prices of the week and of the year were in many cases recorded on Thursday, when in the railway list North West, showed an advance from last week's closing price of 14½ points, Michigan Central 10 points, New York Central 6½ points, Illinois Central 6¾ points, Lackawanna 11 points, St Paul nearly 4 points, Louisville & Nashville 8 points, Pennsylvania 3¾ points, and other issues from 2 to 3 points. Great Northern was conspicuous for an advance of 12 points above its previous highest record.

United States Steel has been the prominent feature of the industrial list. It was strong during the early part of the week, the common selling up to 32¾ and the preferred above 95, but both reacted under heavy offerings. Colorado Fuel & Iron sold 7½ points above its previous highest.

For daily volume of business see page 2580.

The following sales have occurred this week of shares not represented in our detailed list on the pages which follow.

New Orleans &amp; North Eastern Railroad.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1904.)

President C. C. Harvey says in part:

PHYSICAL PROPERTIES.—Of the 195.52 miles of main track, 195.09 miles are laid with 75 lb. steel rails and 0.43 miles, in Meridian yard, with 60-lb. steel rails. There are 2,565 lineal feet of iron bridges and 59,907 lineal feet of wooden trestles—in all 11.83 miles of bridge structure in the main line. This includes Lake Pontchartrain erected trestle, 5.72 miles. Since January, 1894, the number of trestles has been reduced by 64 and the length by 80,793 feet (15.30 miles). The company owns 51 locomotives, 38 passenger, mail and baggage cars and 2,284 freight and other cars. During the ten years ending June 30, 1904, the freight equipment in carrying capacity has been increased from 32,929 tons to 61,370 tons, an increase of 86 p. c. The expenditures for account of capital during the year were $134,016, viz.: Additional rolling stock, $127,276; land purchased, $6,740.

DIVIDEND.—A dividend of 3 p. c. on the common stock was paid Nov. 2, 1903, from the net earnings of 1902-03. (See also page 2588.)

GENERAL RESULTS.—There is an increase in gross earnings of $131,931, or 5.77 p. c., an increase in operating expenses and taxes of $130,954, or 7.90 p. c., and an increase in net earnings of $977. The operating expenses include a liberal expenditure towards improving the physical condition and equipment of the property. Maintenance-of-way expenses include $70,273 for new steel bridges, $39,588 for additional sidings, $20,187 for Lake Pontchartrain revetment, $6,096 for additional buildings at Poyasune, $3,030 for additional cotton platform at New Orleans and $7,669 for viaduct at Meridian.

The cost of conducting transportation increased by 14.11 p. c. compared with an increase in train mileage of 5.94 p. c. This is partly owing to an increase of 30 p. c. in south-bound empty-car mileage consequent upon a considerable decrease in south-bound shipments and an increase in north-bound shipments. The wages paid to employees were also on a higher scale than in the previous year.

Statistics.—Earnings, expenses and charges were as follows:

Alabama &amp; Vicksburg Railway.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1904.)

President C. C. Harvey says in substance:

OPERATIONS.—There is an increase in gross earnings of $136,548, or 11.87 p. c.; an increase in operating expenses and taxes of $145,444, or 17.13 p. c., and a decrease in net earnings of $3,896, or 2.9 p. c. Passenger earnings show an increase of $36,797, or 11.72 p. c. Freight earnings show an increase of $93,649, or 12.99 p. c.; the principal increases being $37,252 in merchandise, $22,125 in lumber, $23,274 in coal, $22,962 in provisions and $7,215 in fertilizer. There were decreases of $16,566 in grain and hay and $5,803 in flour and meal.

The operating expenses include a liberal expenditure towards improving the physical condition and equipment of the property. Maintenance-of-way expenses include $3,914 for permanent culverts and replacement of trestles; $22,030 for replacing 60-lb. rails with 75-lb. rails; $18,965 for additional sidings; $9,744 for ballasting. The cost of conducting transportation increased by 38.06 p. c. compared with an increase in train mileage of 28.85 p. c. The expenses include $28,324 for judgments rendered against the company for cotton destroyed by fire at Vicksburg in January, 1901, and also the sum of $27,790 for cotton in transit destroyed by fire in the fiscal year under review. The large increase of 28.85 p. c. in train mileage is owing to a third passenger train having been put on Sept. 3, 1903, between Meridian and Vicksburg, to accommodate the increasing local travel, and to additional fast freight service for Texas traffic via Shreveport. The wages paid to employees were also on a higher scale than in the previous year.

PHYSICAL PROPERTIES.—Of the 112.78 miles of main track, 103.71 miles are laid with 60-lb. steel rails and 37.07 miles with 75-lb. steel rails. During the year there were laid in main track 9.31 miles of 75-lb. steel rails in replacement of old 60-lb. rails. There are 20.06 lineal feet of bridge structure, of which 1,487 lineal feet are iron and 18,599 lineal feet are wooden trestle. During the year two trestles were extended an aggregate of 21 feet, and 325 feet was replaced by permanent embankment.

Since 30th June, 1886, the length of wooden bridges and trestles has been reduced from 27,381 lineal feet to 18,599 lineal feet, and 235 trestle openings closed. The company owns 26 locomotives, 22 passenger, baggage and mail cars and 958 freight and other cars. During the ten years ending June 30, 1904, the freight equipment has been increased from 475 cars to 942 cars, an increase of 98 p. c., while the carrying capacity has been increased from 11,120 tons to 27,425 tons, or 147 p. c.

LANDS.—There were sold during the year 5,800 acres of land for $23,630, of which $13,311 was paid in cash and $10,319 in notes.

Earnings, Etc.—Following is a statement of earnings, etc.:

Vicksburg Shreveport &amp; Pacific Railway.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1904.)

President C. C. Harvey says in part:

PHYSICAL PROPERTIES.—Of the 171.47 miles of main track operated, 32.66 miles are laid with 75 lb. steel rails and 138.81 miles with 60-lb. steel rails. During the year there were laid in the main track 15.45 miles of 75-lb. steel rails in replacement of 60-lb. steel rails. There are 36,977 lineal feet of bridge structure on the line between Delta and Shreveport, of which 2,502 feet are in spans, 213 feet wooden truss bridges and 34,262 feet wooden trestles. Since June 30, 1888, the length of wooden trestles has been reduced from 56,778 lineal feet to 34,262 lineal feet and 278 trestle openings closed.

EQUIPMENT.—The road is equipped with 30 locomotives, 26 passenger, mail and baggage cars and 1,032 freight and other cars. During the year 4 engines were purchased on capital account for $17,862 and 2 engines were purchased on renewal account; 200 box cars were purchased on car-trust plan to be charged to maintenance of equipment over a period of three years. Since May 1, 1901, the freight equipment carrying capacity has been increased from 14,470 tons to 21,840 tons, or 71.67 p. c.

DIVIDEND.—A dividend of 2½ p. c. on the common stock was paid Nov. 30, 1903. There is an increase in gross earnings of $154,229, or 12.47 p. c.; an increase in operating expenses and taxes of $149,351, or 16.64 p. c., and an increase in net earnings of $3,878. The decrease of 10.78 p. c. in tons per train mile is owing to the addition of a through fast freight train to provide for the handling of perishable freight. It is anticipated that with this service the traffic can be largely increased.

The increase in business during the past four years has been very marked. Compared with the year ending June 30, 1900, there is an increase in passenger earnings of 134.48 p. c., in freight earnings of 106.31 p. c.; in gross earnings of 107.32 p. c.; in net earnings of 107.33 p. c.; in the number of passengers hauled one mile, 133.64 p. c.; and in tons hauled one mile, 13.11 p. c.

EXPENSES.—The operating expenses during the year include a very liberal expenditure towards improving the physical condition of the property and equipment. Maintenance of way expenses include $2,717 for permanent culverts and embankment in replacement of trestles; $23,470 for replacing 15.45 miles of 60-lb. rails with 75-lb. rails; $33,266 for additional sidings and passing tracks; $2,523 for new station at Tremont; $3,789 for coal chute and storage platform and $8,198 for water station at Sibley; $5,448 for engine pits and new turn table at Delta; $2,774 for overhead bridge at Ruston, and the cost of other small improvements.

The cost of conducting transportation increased by 9.01 p. c. compared with an increase of 13.19 p. c. in train earnings and 5.47 p. c. in train mileage. The scale of wages paid was also higher than in the previous year.

Alabama Great Southern Railroad.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1904.)

President Samuel Spencer says in substance:

FINANCIAL.—There has been no change in the amount of capital stock or funded debt outstanding. The total charges to capital account were $189,426, representing cost of 4 consolidation locomotives, part cost of new and additional terminals at Meridian, Miss., new yards at Birmingham, Ala., and Irondale, Ala. Equipment obligations were incurred covering, in part, the cost, with interest, of 200 coal cars of 80,000 pound capacity, $163,472. Equipment trust notes paid during year $143,869.

OPERATING EXPENSES.—The increase of $58,111, or 12.92 p. c., in maintenance of way and structures was due to increase in cost of renewal of rail and cross ties. Maintenance of equipment shows an increase of $125,540, or 26.30 p. c., due to increase in wages of employees and in cost of materials, and to the retirement of an unusual number of freight cars which had become unfit for service. Conducting transportation increased $202,563, or 20.79 p. c., due principally to increase in wages, higher prices of materials, oil, fuel, and to the large increase in train mileage.

TRAFFIC.—There was an increase in revenue from freights of $318,818, or 18.24 p. c. The number of tons of commercial freight carried one mile increased 19.49 p. c. The average length of haul per ton was 111.77 miles, as compared with 118.93 miles during the previous year, a decrease of 6.06 p. c. The average rate per ton per mile was 0.70 of a cent, as compared with 0.71 of a cent for the previous year, a decrease of 1.41 p. c. The average earnings of freight trains per mile run were $2.10, as compared with $2.35 for the previous year, a decrease of 10.78 p. c., due chiefly to the decrease in the average haul per ton of freight. The revenue train miles were 1,751,311, an increase of 271,079 miles, or 18.31 p. c. The average number of tons of freight in each train (including company's material) decreased from 342.16 in 1903 to 307.53 in 1904, or 10.12 p., due chiefly to decreased average haul.

The company's rolling stock (all owned except 300 freight cars) and the character of its rails, ballast, etc., are shown below:

Rolling Stock—		Road Owned (Miles).		Trestles—
June 30.	Loco- Pass. Fr. Cars.	Rails— 5-lb. 60-lb.	Ballast— Slag Cln's.	Wood.	Iron.

1903.....	58 45 3,497	172 118	199 91	7:59	0.42

Average number of cross-ties renewed in year 1903-04 per mile of track 511, against 576 in 1902-03, and 381, the average for last 11 years.

Earnings.—The earnings, balance sheet, etc., of the American company are as follows:

Buffalo Gas Company.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending Sept. 30, 1904.)

President Alex. C. Humphreys says in substance:

The [Buffalo] Natural Gas [Fae] Co. continues to furnish gas at 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, and as the gas is used for fuel and also for illumination through Welch burners, the competition continues to be most difficult to meet. Our sales of gas for the year decreased 2.02 p. c. in the preceding fiscal year there was an increase of 3.55 p. c. While there were many new meters connected to our lines, especially in outlying districts, there was a net decrease of 243; in the preceding fiscal year there was a net increase in meters of 385. There was a net increase in cooking stoves and other appliances of 300; in the preceding fiscal year there was an increase of 783.

During the preceding fiscal year the Natural Gas Company secured additions to its natural gas supply and laid many additional miles of mains. These facts account for our losses in gas sales. The falling off in profits was chiefly due to increased price paid for coal and decreased prices received for residuals. While a much more favorable coal contract was secured some months ago, the stock on hand was charged up to this last year's cost at the former higher contract price. During the year $32,403 was expended for extension and renewal of plant.

There is a surplus of quick assets over floating debt of $136,910. There are in the company's treasury $95,000 in bonds taken out some years ago to cover expenses and improvements to plant, which are available as additional working capital whenever a sale is advisable.

No decision has been arrived at as to the Ford franchise tax. We have continued to include in the year's expenses an amount equal to the taxes previously paid.

The results for four years compare as follows:

General Asphalt Company.

(Official Statement of June 29, 1904.)

The company's statement to the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, upon the listing of $13,139,663 preferred stock trust certificates and $9,753,000 (now $3,833,000) common stock trust certificates, affords the following:

STOCK AND VOTING TRUST.—Pursuant to a plan of reorganization of the Asphalt Company of America and the National Asphalt Co., dated July 18, 1902 (V. 75, p. 18-), all of the $14,000,000 preferred stock and $16,990,000 common stock, being the entire amount of the latter except ten shares (par $100), to qualify directors, are held by five trustees, viz: Rudolph Ellis, William F. Harrity, Alvin W. Krech, Henry Tattall and George R. Turnbull, under a trust agreement dated May 19, 1903, of which the original is deposited with the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

Said agreement provides that $7,000,000 of the said common stock be held by the trustees upon a separate trust to secure to the holders of the preferred stock the right as provided in the plan to exchange their preferred stock for common stock at any time when the transfer books are open at the rate of $150 common stock for each share of preferred surrendered. It is contemplated by the stock trust agreement that any such conversion should be accompanied by the exercise by the trustees of their corresponding right to convert preferred stock into common stock at the same rate and in like amounts. But as the trustees have agreed for the present to suspend the exercise of this right on their part, an agreement has been signed by such trustees stipulating that they will not at any time permit to be issued common stock trust certificates exceeding the $9,999,000 now asked to be listed without notice in writing to the Stock Exchange of such intended action. [Of the aforesaid $9,999,000 common stock trust certificates, $240,000 was held by the Commercial Trust Co. of Philadelphia, upon a special trust to meet any obligations of the reorganization committee remaining unperformed and was not immediately listed.]

The powers and trust created by the stock trust agreement in respect to all shares of stock represented by stock trust certificates will cease on June 15, 1913, but the trustees may, at the discretion of a majority of their number, at any time after May 19, 1910, dissolve the trust.

The preferred stock is limited to 140,000 shares, and it is entitled to receive, when declared by the board of directors, dividends at not exceeding 5 p. c. per annum from June 15, 1903. Such dividends are cumulative after June 15, 1903, and if the profits of any one year after said date declarable as dividends should not be sufficient to pay such dividends for such year at the rate of 5 p. c. per annum upon such preferred stock, then the same are to be made up from profits of a later period until the full amount of dividends herein specified without interest shall have been paid or set apart before any dividend is declared on the common stock. The remainder of the net profits declarable as dividends may be distributed among the holders of the common stock at such times as may be fixed by the board of directors. The par value of the preferred stock and accumulated dividends is also, in event of dissolution, to be paid in full before any sum is paid on the common stock.

The preferred stock is subject to redemption at any time after three years from the issue thereof at 110 on 90 days notice, and during such 90 days the holder will have the option to convert the same into common stock, notwithstanding such notice of redemption.

"The directors shall not incur or authorize any unsecured or floating indebtedness of the company exceeding 15 percent of the capital stock outstanding without the consent, expressed either by vote or in writing, of the holders of the majority of all the stock of both classes capable of being voted on. Any indebtedness incurred or authorized by the directors exceeding said limit shall be binding upon the corporation providing the corporation would, in the absence of such limitation, be liable therefor; but each and all of the directors assenting thereto shall be personally liable to the corporation for the amount of such excess."

Improvements in Jersey City.—General Manager J. C. Stuart, under date of Nov. 22, writes to the "Evening Journal" of Jersey City bespeaking fair treatment for his company by the municipality and saying in part:

The Erle RR. has in contemplation improvements in Jersey City which aggregate an expenditure of $3,000,000 for the purpose of increasing its facilities. Propositions have recently been submitted to the Erle RR. to join with another important line in the development of a passenger terminal in New York City. This would deprive Jersey City of an enormous benefit, and while, owing to our present investments, it is preferable to develop in Jersey City, yet, in view of the hostile feeling that has been developed over so small a matter as the elimination of Barnum and Ninth streets, it certainly is advisable to consider carefully the proposition above mentioned. There are also in contemplation certain improvements necessary to care for an increased freight business through Jersey City, but if it is found impossible to proceed with said developments, the increased business will be disposed of at Edgewater and Weehawken, where the Erle RR. has large and ample terminals.—V. 79, p. 2455, 2205.

Forest City St. Ry., Cleveland, Ohio.—Franchise Held Void.—The Circuit Court at Cleveland on Nov. 28 decided that the franchise of this proposed 3-cent fare line on Denison Ave. was invalid because the company did not have the consent of the property owners representing more than half of the foot frontage.—V. 77, p. 1294.

Grand Trunk Pacific Ry.—Sale of Bonds.—Speyer Bros., the London house of Speyer & Co. of this city, has contracted to purchase and will shortly offer for sale $3,600,000 first mortgage Lake Superior Division and $8,000,000 Prairie Division 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds, guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada. The sale of these bonds will enable the Grand Trunk to undertake the immediate construction of its proposed extension to the Pacific Coast in accordance with the contract entered into a few months ago with the Canadian Government. Compare V. 78, p. 1109; V. 77, p. 400, 1533.—V. 79, p. 269; also p. 1798 of the RAILWAY & INDUSTRIAL Section.

The limit of the authorized issue of "purchased line bonds" is $20,000,000. They cover the following subsidiary roads, 631 miles, recently merged in the Illinois Central, and will cover 102.76 miles additional if and when merged, viz.:

Illinois Tunnel Co.—Offer for Minority Shares—The Chicago Subway Co. (V. 79, p. 2454), having purchased two-thirds of the $30,000,000 capital stock of the Illinois Tunnel Co., has offered to buy the minority shares, provided the certificates, duly indorsed for transfer in blank, shall be delivered to J. B. Russell & Co., 68 William St., New York, on or before Dec. 31, 1904. Each shareholder will receive for one-third of his $100 shares $30 each in cash and for the remaining two-thirds of his holdings three shares of the capital stock of the Chicago Subway Co. for each four shares of Tunnel Co. stock. In other words, the holder of each 100 shares of Illinois Tunnel Co. stock will receive $1,000 in cash and 50 shares of the par value of $100 each of the stock of the Chicago Subway Co.

J. B. Russell & Co., representing the security-holders of the Illinois Tunnel Co., have addressed a circular to the minority shareholders, saying:

The Chicago Subway Co. is a New Jersey corporation with an authorized capitalization of $50,000,000, of which $10,000,000 will be held in the treasury for the benefit of the company. It has been formed by a number of the most prominent financial men of this country, all of whom are prominently identified with the most extensive railroad systems, the large financial and banking institutions, and the leading commercial concerns of the United States. We look upon this transaction as being a very advantageous one for our security-holders, inasmuch as it makes absolutely certain the value of our investment and provides for the expenditure of a very large amount of money for the future of the company.

The existing bonds are left for the time being. The consummation of the plan above outlined will undoubtedly largely increase the value of the bonds, and it is our firm conviction that these bonds will be worth fully their call price, namely, 105, and should be held for that figure. We also believe that before long this property will become so extensive in character that a refunding of the present existing bonded indebtedness will be imperative. Every shareholder of the Illinois Tunnel Co. has been dealt with on absolutely the same basis, without commissions paid to any one associated with the "Tunnel" Co., nor to our firm. In this transaction, our firm's profit being derived in the same manner as that of each stockholder.

The bond issue of the Illinois Tunnel Co. is limited to $30,000,000, of which $15,000,000 was sold in February, 1904 (V. 78, p. 820), to J. B. Russell & Co., who are just issuing the last $2,000,000 of this first block, at 97½. It is a notable fact that this one firm, without the backing of any large financial interests, has raised all the funds expended for construction to date through its country offices, from a few hundred of its customers, chiefly in New York State and Pennsylvania, more especially the latter, in the coal regions—Scranton, Carbondale, etc. There are about 27 miles of road in operation.

The Chicago Subway Co., we are informed, will have as directors the "greatest list of railroad presidents ever in any board," J. B. Russell & Co. will act as its financial selling agents.—V. 79, p. 2455.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co., New York City.—Dividend Increased.—The directors on Wednesday declared a dividend (No. 2) of 3 p. c., payable Jan. 8 to stockholders of record Dec. 10. The first dividend, 2 p. c., was paid last July. The board also adopted resolutions that dividends hereafter should be paid quarterly on April 1, etc., but the quarterly rate has yet to be determined.

(1) At the rate of 22.54 p. c., less income-tax, on the 4½ p. c. second debenture stock, making, with the interim payment of 22.54 p. c. made on May 30 last, 4½ p. c. for the year; (2) at the rate of 6 p. c., less income-tax, on the 7 p. c. "B" debenture stock.—V. 78, p. 287.

Lake Superior & Ishpeming Ry.—Called Bonds.—A block of $45,000 first mortgage bonds called for payment is redeemable at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. on Jan. 1, 1905, at 105 and interest.—V. 78, p. 229.

Los Angeles Interurban Ry.—Acquisition.—This company recently acquired by deed from the Southern Pacific Ry. Co. of California the property and franchises of the old San Gabriel Rapid Transit Ry., extending from the junction of Anderson and Aliso streets, Los Angeles, to Ramona and Shorb.—V. 79, p. 627.

Manhattan (Elevated) Ry.—Trains To West Farms.—Train service on the Elevated portion of the Subway system from 149th Street and 3rd Ave. to West Farms in connection with the East side lines of the Manhattan Ry. began on Nov. 26, through trains being run from the Battery to the terminals at West Farms, near the Eastern entrance of the Bronx Park Zoological Gardens. See V. 79, 2456, 2205.

Manistee & Grand Rapids RR.—New Management.—The following directors (and officers) are announced:

President, John Crocker; Secretary, W. M. Simpson; Treasurer, B. C. Sammons; W. T. Joyce, Edward P. Vail and Charles E. Palm, all of Chicago, and Vice-President and General Manager Max Folz, of New York.—V. 79, p. 1642.

Metropolitan Street Ry.—Transfer Decisions.—The Court of Appeals, in unanimous decisions in the cases of William Griffin and Frank S. Scudder against the Interurban Street Railway (now the N. Y. City Ry.) and Luke O'Reilly against Brooklyn Heights RR., held that street surface railroad companies in cities of over 800,000 population are compelled to give free transfers at intersecting points, so as to carry passengers to their places of destination over all the lines of their system, owned, leased or operated, for a single five-cent fare. In the Interurban cases, transfers were refused at Lenox Ave. and Amsterdam Ave. and 125th St., and more than one penalty of $50 for separate refusals was sued for, but only one penalty in each case was allowed. Judge Bartlett, who wrote the opinion, says in part, on this point, after condemning in strong language speculative litigation for the recovery of cumulative penalties:

It is quite obvious that the legislative intention to permit the recovery of cumulative penalties for the refusals of the defendant to comply with the provisions of the railroad law in regard to the transfer of passengers is as clearly manifested as in any of the cases cited. Notwithstanding this fact a majority of my brethren are of the opinion that while the rule for the recovery of cumulative penalties already adverted to is finally established by the earlier decisions of this Court, yet the changed conditions in our modern life in great cities render its modification imperative. The Court is of opinion that if cumulative penalties are to be permitted, the Legislature should state its intention in so many words. A sound public policy requires that only one penalty should be recovered in a single action, and that the institution of any action for a penalty is to be regarded as a waiver of all previous penalties incurred.

President Vreeland is quoted as saying: "The decision will not materially affect the practice of the company, although, of course, it may be required to grant transfers at a few points where, in the interest of the effectual handling of its traffic, we would prefer not to grant them."

The stand of the Court against cumulative penalties will result in saving the companies a large amount of money in cases pending.—V. 79, p. 2456, 2147.

Mexican Central Ry.—Return of Deposited Bonds.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. of New York and Speyer Brothers of London on Tuesday made the following announcement to depositors of securities under their circular of May 12, 1904: "In response to our request for the deposit of securities, there were deposited an amount of bonds which together with those owned by the Securities Company, at whose request we had acted, largely exceeded a majority of all the bonds the deposit of which had been requested by us. In view, however, of conditions which have arisen since the issue of our circular of May 12, 1904, and in order that depositors may be in a position to avail themselves of the present market for their bonds, in case they so desire, we are of the opinion that it is proper that we should offer to all depositing bondholders, as we now do, the right to withdraw their deposited bonds, free of expense, against surrender of the certificates issued upon their deposit."—V. 79, p. 2456, 963.

Mississippi Central RR.—Proposed Change of Name.—This company, with road in operation from Hattiesburg to Silver Creek, 55 miles, has given notice of its intention to change the name to the St. Louis Pascagoula & Panama RR. Compare V. 79, p. 152.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Electric Equipment.—The technical papers have recently devoted much space to descriptions of the new electric locomotive which was built for this company by the General Electric Co. and the American Locomotive Co., and exhibited at Schenectady, N. Y., on Nov. 12. The New York Central is now electrically equipping the main line from the Grand Central Station to Croton, a distance of 84 miles, and the Harlem division as far as White Plains, 24 miles. It is proposed to handle all passenger traffic within these limits by electric locomotives. Although only a portion of the track used for testing was available on Nov. 12, eight-car trains, weighing, including locomotive and passengers, 481 tons, reached a maximum speed of 63 miles per hour. The actual reduction in the expense of maintaining the rails and road-bed, due to the absence of pounding and rolling, it is believed, will effect an important saving.—V. 79, p. 2148, 1955.

New York & Ottawa RR.—Sale to New York Central.—The report that the New York Central has secured control of this company and will buy in the property at foreclosure sale on Dec. 22 is believed to be correct.—V. 79, p. 2206.

Northern Ohio Traction & Light Co., Akron.—Bonds Change Hands.—The Citizens' Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland, trustee under the mortgage, has purchased from the Everett-Moore syndicate $600,000 first consol; 4s of 1933 and, it is said, will hold part as an investment. A syndicate has also purchased $60,000 treasury bonds of the Northern Ohio Traction & Light Co., which will use the proceeds to pay floating debt, reducing the same to $50,000. Total consols now outstanding $1,000,000 of 5 per cents and $1,800,000 of 4 per cents.—V. 79, p. 904.

Ottawa (Ont.) Electric Ry.—Negotiations with the City.—The City Council of Ottawa, having made a move looking to the purchase of the property, the company has proposed to sell the capital stock ($1,000,000) on the basis of $250 per share (par $100), payable in City of Ottawa 4 p. c. bonds. There are outstanding $500,000 first mortgage 4s, due 1932; interest payable January and July; trustee of mortgage, Ottawa Trust & Deposit Co. Compare V. 79, p. 786.

Queen Anne's RR.—Foreclosure.—Judge Morris in the United States Circuit Court at Baltimore, on petition of over 50 p. c. of the outstanding bonds, has granted the International Trust Co., as mortgage trustee, permission to file a suit for foreclosure of the mortgage of 1901. The property will be sold, subject to the $380,000 first series bonds, for the satisfaction of the outstanding $865,000 second series bonds. Compare V. 79, p. 1842.

The mortgage covers terminal property in the Savannah River, at Savannah, consisting of 940 acres, improved with docks, warehouses, cotton presses, etc., constituting the terminals of the Seaboard Air Line at that point.—V. 79, p. 2143, 1932.

Allegheny Coal Co.—New Bonds.—The shareholders will meet at the office in Springdale, Pa., on Jan. 25 to vote on increasing the indebtedness from $300,000 to $450,000. W. D. B. Alexander is President and E. R. Fancher is Secretary. Compare V. 77, p. 197; V. 73, p. 288.

American Malting Co.—Decision.—Justice Clarke, in the Supreme Court in this city on Tuesday of this week, handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Archibald A. Hutchinson and Victor K. McElheny, on behalf of themselves and other stockholders, against Alexander M. Curtiss of Buffalo, which was tried some time since. (See V. 78, p. 770.) The defendant is held liable for $1,087,074, the amount of dividends declared at meetings at which he was present in July, 1898, to October, 1899, both inclusive, in excess of net profits, namely, out of capital, as stated by the Court, together with interest, amounting in all to about $1,400,000. The amount of the dividend paid in April, 1899, $352,700, is excluded, the defendant having been absent from the meeting at which the declaration was made.

The action is based on Section 23 of the Stock Corporation Law of New York State, which provides that directors shall be jointly and severally liable for the amount of dividends paid other than out of surplus or net profits, and Section 60 of the same law, which extends the operation of the statute as to liability for unauthorized dividends to foreign corporations, the Malting Company having been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey. In figuring the profits the estimated future profits on contracts for future deliveries running over many months were excluded, such profits being confined to the actual realized profits in hand. While the plaintiff claimed that the action could be maintained under the common law alone, the decision is based on the letter of the statute above cited.

See decision in full in New York "Law Journal," Nov. 30, 1904. Similar actions are pending against the other six directors involved, none of which has yet come to trial. It is reported that a movement has been started to amend the New York law at the coming session of the Legislature so as to limit the liability in such cases and relieve directors from a portion of the responsibility that the present law makes them bear. Some doubt is expressed, however, as to whether such a measure could be made retroactive.

Promoters' Suit.—The action brought against the promoters to recover what are claimed to be exorbitant profits (see V. 78, p. 1225) is now pending on appeal to the Court of Appeals from the decision rendered in favor of the defendants.—V. 79, p. 2149, 2083.

American Soda Fountain Co.—No Report.—At the annual meeting on Nov. 30 no report was submitted to the stockholders. An official is quoted as saying: "Owing to the sharp competition in the trade, it is thought advisable not to issue a statement. In the future the only evidence of our profits will be in the declaration of dividends on our stock."—V. 77, p. 2035.

Aultman Co., Canton, Ohio—Liabilities.—Receiver J. J. Sullivan filed in the United States Court at Cleveland on Nov. 25 a statement showing the total assets at $1,644,070, and total liabilities, direct and contingent, as $4,660,436, viz.:

 Miscellaneous trade paper regarded as absolutely good and sure to be taken care of by the makers thereof..... 435,132
 —Compare V. 79, p. 2207, 1643.

Bon Air Coal & Iron Co.—Sale of Bonds.—This company has sold to the Fourth National, the American National Bank and the Union Bank & Trust Co., all of Nashville, a block of $850,000 new general mortgage 5 p. c. gold bonds. Of the authorized issue $500,000 is reserved to retire at or before maturity $410,000 bonds of the consolidated companies, viz., Bon Air Coal, Land & Lumber Co., $170,000; Buffalo Iron Co., $240,000. The company operates and owns in fee three coal mines with a daily capacity of 2,000 tons of coal, also 200 coke ovens making coke for its two iron furnaces, which have a daily capacity of 200 tons pig iron. The property includes 125,000 acres of coal and iron lands, and is reported "in first-class condition and very valuable." Of the capital stock consisting of $2,500,000 each of common and 6 p. c. cumulative preferred in shares of $100 each, there is outstanding $1,850,000 of each class. The preferred has paid regular quarterly dividends of 1½ p. c. for several years and is selling at 83½ to 84. The common is quoted at 28 to 29. John P. Williams, President, Nashville, Tenn.—V. 75, p. 668.

The report for the year ended Oct. 1, 1904, showed net profits from sales practically the same as a year ago, $104,000. The reserve fund now amounts to $800,000, invested in bonds, the same as a year ago. The regular quarterly dividend of 2 p. c. is payable Jan. 2 to stockholders of record Dec. 15.—V. 79, p. 2088.

Bryant & May, Limited.—Stock Offered—California Property.—This English corporation, controlled by the Diamond Match Co., is offering in London at 102 the remaining £150,000 of the total authorized issue of £250,000 4 p. c. debenture stock. This stock, or any part thereof, may be redeemed at the option of the company on 6 months' previous notice at any time after Dec. 31, 1910, at the rate of £105 p. c. An advertisement says:

The issue of £250,000 debenture stock was authorized in Jan., 1903, and of this £100,000 was issued in February last year, the proceeds being applied to general purposes and towards the purchase, on equal joint account with the Diamond Match Co. of Illinois, of certain timber lands in California, and the erection thereon of sawmills and other works for dealing with pine and other lumber; and the total amount expended by the company to date in connection with this undertaking has been £154,164.

The present issue will, it is estimated, suffice to complete all works in hand in relation thereto, and also provide moneys that are required in connection with the extension of the company's interests in South Africa.

The development of the California lands and works has continued to progress very rapidly. The logging roads and sawmills are already in active operation, and the directors confidently anticipate from the latest reports received that the investment will be producing substantial revenue within the next six months.

The properties upon which the debenture stock is secured by a mortgage and floating charge comprise: Freehold and leasehold premises at London and Liverpool, plant and machinery in those works, and the goodwill, patent rights, trade marks, stocks-in-trade, investments, book debts and cash in hand, which stood in the books June 30 last at £1,297,793, after deducting £13,600, since paid, in respect of dividends accrued to that date.

Share capital, "all issued and full paid," is £850,000, viz.: 93,000 preferred shares of £5 each, £465,000; 400,000 deferred shares of £1 each, £400,000. Compare Diamond Match Co., V. 76, p. 656. [A majority of the deferred (common) stock and some amount of the preferred are owned by the Diamond Match Co., which thus holds control, the preferred shareholders not being entitled to vote except on matters directly affecting their interests or in case of their dividend being two months in arrears. Ed.]

The company is paying 14 p. c. per annum on its preferred shares and 5 p. c. on its deferred shares, the net profits applicable to dividends having been £97,688 for year ending June 30, 1904, against £100,618 for the year 1902-03.—V. 77, p. 351.

These elevators, known as "C," "C annex" and "D," are located at 93rd Street on the Calumet River, and have a total storage capacity of 4,500,000 bushels. The purchaser made a mortgage to the First Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, as trustee, to secure $1,000,000 of 5 p. c. 20-year bonds of $1,000 each, and then sold the property to the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry., which contracted to pay the interest on the bonds as it matures and at least $50,000 of the principal of the issue each year.

Bonds dated Oct. 1, 1904, and due Oct. 1, 1924, but subject to call for payment at par and interest on any interest day on 60 days' notice; interest payable April 1 and Oct. 1. The mortgage covers the entire property and an assignment of a contract between John C. Shaffer and the C. R. I. & P. Ry. Co., by which the former covenants to buy the elevators and turn them over to the Elevator Company for sale to the Railway Company, and the latter agrees as consideration therefor to pay the principal and interest of the bonds and to meet all taxes, assessments, cost of repairs, etc.

Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.—New Mortgage.—The new mortgage to secure the $45,000,000 of 5 p. c. 80-year gold bonds authorized under the reorganization plan (V. 77, p. 2341) has been made by the Colorado Industrial Co. to the New York Security & Trust Co., as trustee. The bonds are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. Series A, $14,000,000, are in denominations of $1,000 each, and by their terms are exchangeable for common stock of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. at any time at the option of the holders. A circular is being prepared offering the first right to subscribe to the $17,000,000 bonds with 20 p. c. in stock to the shareholders. It is stipulated that the Industrial Company may call in and redeem all or any of the bonds before maturity at 105.

The mortgage covers all the coal and iron lands, iron and steel works, and other property, of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.; also the following securities:

The local interests have parted with their entire holdings and have no knowledge of the purchasers' plans." The purchase price is $83 a share (par $100) ex dividend and free of commission.

Berton, Storrs & Griscom, say: "The purchase is made for our own account, and no other properties are involved. No detailed plans for the future have yet been determined. The bonds are dated Dec. 1, 1889, and due Dec. 1, 1919; interest payable June 1 and Dec. 1 at Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., New York. The property is located in Armstrong County, Pa., being closely allied with the Western New York & Pennsylvania Ry. Co., with which it appears to have passed to the Pennsylvania RR interests, the main office now being at the Pennsylvania offices in Philadelphia, and Robert Smith being one of the officers. This is not the Fairmount Coal Co., which is controlled by the Consolidation Coal Co. of Maryland.

Fall River (Mass.) Automatic Telephone Co.—Change in Control.—A majority of the company's $135,000 capital stock has been acquired by John T. Swift and associates, but not, it is claimed, in the interest of the Bell Telephone Co. General Metals Co., Colorado Springs.—Meeting of Creditors Dec. 7.—Judge Kerr, referee in bankruptcy, has called a meeting of the creditors, to be held at Colorado Springs on Dec. 7. The referee, it is stated, believes that if there is no delay, all liabilities can be met.

The property was placed in receiver's hands in September last on the application of creditors, it having been found impossible at that time to obtain subscriptions for more than a part of its $350,000 bonds, which were secured by mortgage to the Guardian Trust Co. as trustee. The company, owning the Telluride mill at Colorado Springs, was incorporated on Aug. 23, 1903, with an authorized capital stock of $1,500,000, of which $900,000 is outstanding. Charles E. Finney was President, John A. Hannan Vice-President, and Henry B. Balch Treasurer.

Indianapolis Gas Co.—City Orders Reduction in Price of Fuel Gas.—Mayor Holtzman has signed the ordinance passed by the City Council on Nov. 21 fixing the price of artificial gas used for fuel purposes at 50 cents a thousand cubic feet. This action does not affect the rate of 90 cents which the Indianapolis Gas Co. is permitted to charge for illuminating gas under its present franchise. General Manager Pearson says:

This measure regulates the price of fuel gas. We do not sell fuel gas. We sell illuminating gas and have a franchise to do so. The gas company does not care what any one uses the gas for after one gets it. Our business is confined to illuminating gas.—V. 78, p. 2445.

International Salt Co.—Called Bonds.—Twenty bonds issued in 1892 by the Kansas Salt Co. (Hutchinson-Kansas Salt Co.) have been called, and will be paid at 102 and interest at the Merchants' Trust Co., 340 Broadway, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1905.—V. 78, p. 2014.

company's conduits had been rejected as inequitable. Subsequently President John M. Mack announced that the projected Commonwealth Electric Co., in which he is interested, would purchase the Keystone Telephone conduits for $3,000,000, an advance of $50,000 over the price offered by Philadelphia Electric, the Telephone Co. to pay a minimum rental of $100,000 per annum for the right to use the same. On Dec. 1 an ordinance granting the Commonwealth Company an electric light and power franchise was introduced in the City Council. (Compare V. 78, p. 2445).—V. 79, p. 1706, 1464.

Knoxville (Tenn.) Water Co.—Appeal.—See page 2599 of "State and City Department."—V. 79, p. 2150, 757.

Capitalization: First mortgage 6 p. c. bonds, due 1920 ($1,200,000, less redeemed by sinking fund, $98,000), $1,102,000; common stock, $1,600,000; preference stock (present issue) exchangeable at any time, at option of holder, for common stock at par, $1,200,000. The proposed issue will pay cost of enlargement of company's paper mills, for the purpose of converting all of its sulphite and ground wood pulps into paper and provide additional working capital. The enterprise has been profitable from the beginning. For the past five years dividends aggregating 37 p. c. on the present ordinary stock have been paid. The enlarged works have been in operation since 1st August, and the profits for the first three months' working, after providing for all charges, including sinking fund, and allowing for dividends on the preference stock now offered, have been $36,813, or about 16 p. c. on the ordinary stock.

The company's name was changed in June, 1903, from Laurentide Pulp Co. to Laurentide Paper Co., upon the extension of its business to include paper-making.—V. 79, p. 630.

Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co.—Negotiations.—The price of the company's shares, par value $50, has advanced this week on large transactions from $100 per share to $131.50. Negotiations for the control of the road by the Central R.R. of New Jersey are believed to be in progress, possibly to prevent it from falling into the hands of some outside system.

George H. Earle Jr., President of the Finance Co. of Pennsylvania, who controls a large block of the stock, on Thursday invited the shareholders to co-operate with him in order to secure the full value of their holdings. He suggests that for a period of, say, 30 days from Dec. 5 they act together, and that he be given during that period authority to sell all the stock so bound together at not less than $135 a share. He says he was prompted to this action by the suggestions of holders of upwards of 60,000 shares of Lehigh Coal & Navigation stock.—V. 79, p. 2460, 2150.

Milwaukee Gas Light Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $1,000,000 first mortgage 4s of 1927, sold in January last on account of the new gas plant, which is nearing completion. This makes a total of $7,000,000 bonds listed. Compare V. 79, p. 631, 215.

National Automatic [Self-threading] Needle Co.—Bankruptcy.—A petition in bankruptcy was filed against this company on Monday by employees and others holding claims for salaries, etc.

The company was incorporated in New York State late in 1901 with $200,000 authorized capital stock, which was afterwards increased to $1,000,000; par value of shares $10. Manufacturing operations were at one time carried on in Springfield, Mass. One of the claimants in the aforesaid bankruptcy suit holds an assigned claim for $330 of a former Treasurer of the company and a note secured by 5,000 shares of stock of the company and 1,000 gross of needles in process of manufacture at Alcester, England, "but he says the collateral security is worthless."

Nebraska Lighting Co., Plattsmouth, Neb.—Reorganized Company.—This company has been organized in Nebraska with $100,000 capital stock, and has acquired by deed the property of the bankrupt Plattsmouth Gas & Electric Light Co. (V. 74, p. 530). Charles C. Parmele is President.

New York Transportation Co.—New President.—Director Richard Worsam Meade, the son of Admiral Meade, and for fifteen years past in the railway and transportation business, will on Jan. 1, 1904, become President, succeeding Henry Sanderson, who enters the Wall street firm of Edy, Brown & Sanderson. Mr. Sanderson continues a director. On Wednesday, when acknowledging a testimonial from the executive staff and employees, he said:

Five years ago the company's total station capacity was 72,000 square feet, and the vehicles in the course of a year covered 350,000 miles. To-day the combined floor area of the company's four stations aggregates 222,000 square feet—over five acres—and these stations contain over 500 vehicles, which in the course of a year covered nearly 2,000,000 miles.—V. 79, p. 155.

Niagara Lockport & Ontario Power Co.—New Stock.—The company has filed a certificate of increase of stock from $1,000 to $10,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is common and $5,000,000 6 p. c. non-cumulative preferred stock. Rumors are current that control has been acquired by the Vanderbilts, who will use the electricity from the proposed power plant to operate their electric railways in the Western part of the State.—V. 79, p. 737, 155.

Philadelphia Electric Co.—Purchase Reported Off—Opposition Company Proposed.—See Keystone Telephone Co. above.—V. 79, p. 1706.

Plattsmouth (Neb.) Gas & Electric Light Co.—See Nebraska Lighting Co. above.—V. 74, p. 530.

Seattle-Tacoma Power Co.—New Name—New Stock and Bonds.—The Snoqualmie Falls & White River Power Co.

(V. 75, p. 1043) on Oct. 22 filed amended articles of incorporation, changing its name to the Seattle-Tacoma Power Co., and increasing its capital stock from $3,000,000 to $3,500,000; par of shares $100. N. W. Harris & Co. are to have the voting power on the stock for five years in consideration of a loan to the company. We have been favored with the following:

The Seattle Tacoma Power Co. has acquired all of the properties heretofore owned and controlled by the Snoqualmie Falls & White River Power Co., Seattle Cataract Co. and the Tacoma Cataract Co. The new company has an authorized bond issue of $3,000,000. Sufficient capital has been paid in to place the company on a cash basis and to add 9,000 H.P. additional to its capacity at Snoqualmie Falls, which will be completed by April 1st.

The individuals who own a majority of the stock of the Seattle Tacoma Power Co. also own and control the stock of the White River Power Co., which is a property in course of development, and which will produce about 66,000 H.P. This latter-named company, however, will be maintained as an entirely distinct and separate company.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME

FRIDAY NIGHT, December 2, 1904.

A good volume of business is being transacted in many lines of merchandise, the near approach of the holiday season and the close of the calendar year exerting comparatively little influence. The reports from the iron and steel trades have continued especially encouraging, steady buying for both current and future requirements being experienced, with prices tending towards a higher basis. In the speculative markets the feature has been a sharp break in cotton values, based on a growing belief that the yield of the present crop will be in excess of all previous records.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been active but at a sharp break in prices, they showing a decline for the week of close to  $\frac{3}{4}$  c. per pound for the active deliveries. The weakness of the market has been due to a growing belief in a large crop. The complete returns of the ginner's report showed that to Nov. 14 there had been 9,786,646 commercial bales ginned, against 8,810,771 bales for the same period last year. Several private estimates from well-informed interests, placing the yield of the crop at about 12,000,000 bales, were announced during the week. The estimate of the Agricultural Bureau will be made public on Saturday, and the trade is on the qui vive as to what it will show. It is understood that the more conservative members of the trade are looking for an estimate of about 11,800,000 bales, but the trade generally is believed to be expecting an estimate of about 11,600,000 to 11,700,000 bales. The large crop ideas now current have had the effect to discourage the bull interest in the market, and there has been heavy selling for the account of speculative holders of cotton to liquidate their accounts. There also has been considerable selling by the South as hedges against cotton. Southern markets have declined sharply, and planters who have been holding cotton have been freer sellers. At the lower prices business in actual cotton has been active, both domestic spinners and exporters being good buyers. To-day the market opened steadier, with shorts buyers to cover contracts, but during the day prices turned weaker. The close of the market was steadier, with prices  $\frac{3}{4}$  to 6 points higher for the day. Cotton on the spot has declined, closing at 9c. for middling uplands.

Offerings of spring-wheat flour have been fairly free. It is pointed out that mills which two weeks ago would not shade $6 15@6 25 for patents are now looking for buyers at $6 00@6 10. The demand for flour has been quiet. The trade has appeared to be fairly well filled up for the present and has been holding off, preferring to await developments before making additional purchases of importance. Winter-wheat flour has been unchanged and steady. City mills have sold at lower prices. Rye flour has been quiet but steady. Buckwheat flour has had a limited sale at steady prices. Corn meal has been quiet.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been moderately active but the tone has been unsettled. Early in the week prices showed a downward tendency, influenced by bearish statistical developments. The world's exports to European importing ports proved to be heavy, and there was a large increase in the American visible supply of wheat. European markets were dull and lower, and this, too, operated against values. Predictions of the fall of needed rains in the winter-wheat belt also had a bearish influence upon values. Subsequently, however, the market turned firmer. Weather conditions in Argentina continued to be stated as unfavorable for the wheat crop, excessive rainfall being reported and the predicted rains in the winter-wheat belt failed to materialize. One authority in commenting upon the situation in the winter-wheat belt says no relief is reported to the dry weather conditions, but the time has not been reached when a positively discouraging view is called for. The movement of the spring-wheat crop has shown a sharp falling off, and during the latter part of the week this operated in favor of values. Business in the local spot market has been quiet and prices have been easier. To-day the market was fairly active on continued unfavorable weather reports. The spot market was quiet.

Indian corn futures have received a moderate amount of speculative attention, but the changes that have occurred in values have been towards a slightly lower basis. Weather conditions in the corn belt have been highly favorable for the curing and marketing of the corn. Offerings of new-crop supplies have been steadily increasing and the movement of corn to market has increased to fairly full proportions. With the freer offerings demand has been rapidly broadening, exporters in particular being large buyers for December and January shipments and at a steady basis of values. To-day there was a steady market. Business in the spot market was active; sales for export here and at outports were 425,000 bushels.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M. December 2, 1904.

Conditions in the cotton goods market during the week have been governed almost entirely by the decline in the price of raw cotton, and the signs of a broadening tendency which last week were everywhere apparent have now disappeared. Whereas this time a week ago buyers were perfectly willing to purchase their necessary supplies at current rates, and even to anticipate their future wants to a certain extent, at the present time they have withdrawn from the market, believing that in the near future they may be able to purchase at lower prices what they may require. During the week, therefore, business has been extremely dull, but this has not resulted in any weakening on the part of sellers, who continue to base their faith in the future on the strong statistical position of the market. On certain classes of goods prices have even shown an advancing tendency, owing to the difficulty that is experienced in obtaining deliveries, but on others that have not been in such good demand a certain amount of irregularity has been noted. The export demand during the week has been small, and it would seem that it is likely to continue in the same condition for some time to come, owing to the large purchases ahead that were made two months or so ago. In the woolen goods division some lines of new heavy-weight men's wear fabrics have been shown, but there is a good deal of adverse criticism on account of the comparatively low prices that are being asked.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Nov. 28 were 8,129 packages, valued at $480,103, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

NEW YORK TO NOV. 28.	1904.		1903.

Other Countries.....	488	19,373	50	9,378
Total.....	8,129	225,776	2,607	284,624

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $13,532,819 in 1904, against $14,070,985 in 1903.

A reduction of  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. to  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. in the price of staple prints has been one of the principal features of the week, but its effect on other classes of goods was considerably lessened by the fact that it had been anticipated by certain manufacturers. Prints also have been among the least fortunate of all goods of late, and the present reduction, therefore, scarcely came as a surprise. Fancy prints were also reduced in proportion. Heavy brown drills and sheetings have been among the firmest of any lines but the demand has not been heavy. Converters have almost entirely withdrawn from the market, believing in lower prices later on, and all the business that has been done has been for goods for immediate delivery. For these full prices have been asked and paid. Light-weights have not been active, but prices have held firm. There has been some export inquiry for 3 and 3-25 yard sheetings, and orders for these have been placed at rather better than recently prevailing rates; but apart from this there has not been much doing in the export line. There have been some inquiries for ducks and also for Canton flannels and cotton blankets, but the aggregate business has not been large. Bleached goods have been quiet, but low grades continue in small supply, and buyers of high grades are awaiting the action of the prominent handlers as to prices. Colored goods have been in good demand, particularly ticks and denims, which have been well sold for delivery during the first three months of 1905. Gingham have been dull but unchanged. Print cloths have been very quiet at recent figures.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The principal feature of the woolen goods division during the week has been the opening of certain lines of the new heavy-weight men's wear fabrics at prices which are disappointing to the majority of manufacturers. The reason for this seems to be that certain mills were fortunate enough to purchase their raw material some time ago when prices were considerably lower than they are now. Having done this they are able to offer goods now at prices which those who were not so far-sighted are unable to compete with. It would seem, therefore, that prices must either advance or that goods will have to be sold at a loss. The goods that have already been shown, however, cannot be taken as representative of the market, as they are for the most part low-grade goods and do not therefore contain the same proportion of wool that the better grades will. Certain lines of light-weight goods have been withdrawn from the market during the week and others have been advanced in price, but duplicate orders continue to be received and are filled without difficulty at prevailing prices. Dress goods have again been active and the season bids fair to be an excellent one in every way. A few lines of blankets have already been opened but it is as yet too early to judge of the season.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods have continued in good demand during the week and prices have held firm. There are a few complaints of slow delivery but apart from this conditions are satisfactory. Silks and ribbons have been firm but quiet and linen has been rather disappointing. Burlaps have been strong with an advancing tendency.

News Items.

Columbus, Ga.—Amended Report of Master.—The Master in Chancery appointed by Judge Newman of the U. S. Circuit Court to investigate the matters raised in the suit brought by the Columbus Water Works Co. against the city, to prevent the building of a municipal water plant, has agreed to modify somewhat the report which he proposed to make several weeks ago. The Master will find that the city should be ordered to buy the available portion of the plant from the company, but will not fix a specific amount to be paid for the same, leaving that to be ascertained later. It had originally been proposed to fix $176,562 62 as the amount to be so paid. See V. 79, p. 2163.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Case Appealed.—An appeal has been taken by the Knoxville Water Co. from the decision of Judge Clark handed down on Oct. 8 in the United States District Court sustaining the city's right to issue $750,000 water bonds, as authorized at the election held July 9. See V. 79, p. 1659.

Missouri.—Amendments Defeated.—Five amendments to the State Constitution were voted upon and defeated at the recent election. They were as follows:

Pensions for disabled policemen in cities of 100,000 and over. Vote, 113,542 for and 184,796 against.
Initiative and referendum. Vote, 115,741 for and 169,281 against.
For freer text books. Vote, 129,565 for and 182,760 against.
Railroads to furnish free transportation to members of State Legislature and State officials. Vote, 86,859 for and 209,910 against.
Creation of fund for new State House. Vote, 91,912 for and 205,822 against.

Oak Park, Ill.—Decision Affecting Assessment Bonds.—The following is taken from the Chicago "Inter-Ocean" of Nov. 29, 1904:

Affecting many millions of dollars' worth of bonds issued for public improvements in Illinois, Judge Dunne yesterday granted a permanent injunction to several Oak Park property owners restraining the Board of Local Improvements of the village from continuing with the paving of Menominee Street. The property owners objected to the assessment, under the recent decision of the Supreme Court, and Judge Dunne granted a temporary restraining order several weeks ago.

The village to take an appeal from the decision and the matter will again be taken before the Supreme Court.

The result of this decision, it is declared, will be anxiously awaited by bankers and capitalists throughout the country for if the decision of Judge Dunne is sustained, it will make the large amount of bonds issued under similar circumstances illegal and practically worthless.

Wisconsin.—Constitutional Amendment Not Voted Upon.—We are informed by the Secretary of State that the proposed amendment to Section 1, Article 8, of the State Constitution, was not submitted to a vote at the recent election, but that in order to meet Constitutional requirements mention was made in the election notice to the effect that the proposed amendment would come up for action at the next session of the State Legislature, members of which were to be voted for at the election. The proposed amendment grants the State Legislature authority to "provide for a graduated income tax."
