We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, Dec. 24, and the results for the corresponding week in 1903, 1902 and 1901 are also given. Contrasted with the week of 1903 the total for the whole country shows a gain of 52.6 per cent. Outside of New York the increase over 1903 is 38.7 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

There have been various influences at work the past week affecting affairs. As a rule they have tended to give strength to security values; but among them there have been some of an important character which have had a seriously adverse import. The most prominent, as a disturbing element, is the situation which has developed in the cotton market. After an abnormal rise for any product an abnormal decline is invariably due. The extreme rise leads to conditions which naturally reverse the market situation. In this case the record figures for cotton values were followed by a spring of immense planting of that staple and an enlarged use of fertilizers. Information indicative of the real result as to the season's production was slow in making itself fully felt on the market because the world needed a pretty liberal crop to supply the demands of spinners for current use and shortened stocks. The question, consequently, as to the crop outcome was not so much whether the yield was a very large one. That inquiry was lost sight of under the effect of this fact, that a very considerable enlargement over the yield of any one of the last five or six crops was required to meet the actual world's consumption then and still in progress. Besides, many exaggerated rumors put afloat of the harmful agencies like weevils, rust, shedding, etc., were so far credited as to help to quiet and keep at rest all fears of danger ahead from too bountiful a harvest.

It was not until the ginning report in November was made public that the trade really began to accept as possible the belief in a cotton product larger than the world's wants called for. Soon thereafter the Agricultural Department's figures of December 3 made their appearance, estimating the crop at 12,162,000 bales. From that moment facts have been tending towards the acceptance of a very full aggregate of the product, while sentiment gradually got running in the same channel. Wednesday (Dec. 28) the December ginning report bringing its facts down to Dec. 13 was published, indicating that not only were the agricultural results warranted, but that at the date mentioned (December 13) there had been already ginned (in 737 cotton-producing counties in the South out of a total of 814 counties) 11,971,477 bales. The market as soon as these figures were issued became thoroughly demoralized, the selling movement turning into a heedless scramble, each seller striving to be first in getting rid of his load, the market at New York closing on Wednesday at 6.49 to 6.51 for December and January delivery. The truth is that although the trade had been prepared for a pretty full result, it did not anticipate such a bottomless affair as the actual result indicated.

In the light of this situation, what would be a conservative non-speculative estimate as to the future of cotton? Of course in making any forecast one must take some facts not yet revealed as granted. First of all there are various additions to be made to the results already declared—additions secured in reaching the year's full production. Without being over-exact, ginners' figures do not include, as we said in this column December 10 (p. 2606), cotton linters—aggregating probably from two to three hundred thousand bales—which cannot be procured until the end of the year, when the cottonseed mills make up their returns; again, the figures issued this week do not allow for counties the returns from which had not at the issue of that report been received, nor for cotton ginned after December 13. Including these omissions, it does not seem safe to draw conclusions based on a crop aggregating less than 12,750, 000 bales. If raw cotton does not average over 7 cents a pound during coming months, the world's consumers can be relied upon to take out of the market 11 million bales of American cotton in 1904-5. With raw material at that price during the next four months, a maximum production for 1905 would not net more than $10\frac{1}{4}$ million bales. This year's crop shows that we have plenty of land suitable for cotton-raising (if the ruling price pays the planter) to even increase the yield in excess of the current season's crop; but at 7 cents a pound, unless extensive floods fertilize the richest lands as in two years of 1897 and 1898, $10\frac{1}{4}$ million bales would seem to be the extreme possibility.

With these facts as the conditions of the problem, is it reasonable to count upon any large hoarding of cotton so long as the price rules at 7 cents or lower? Mr. W. P. Brown of New Orleans, the pioneer, as it were, in the recent bull movement, issued a proposition December 26 that the South should unite in a general combination to hold the surplus of the present crop off the market and restrict the planting the coming spring to much more moderate limits. Is it possible to carry out that policy? We gave a compilation in this column Dec. 10 1904, page 2606 (in average net bales of 500 lbs. each), indicating the United States production, the world's consumption and the highest, lowest and average prices each year since 1877-78. The table referred to shows clearly enough that there is no profit in cotton at 61 cents per pound. The late speculation was consequently in its start a legitimate outcome. For years the conditions which made it legitimate were accumulating. Had it been kept within moderate bounds, a price could have been reached which would pay the South well to raise enough cotton to meet a gradually increasing consumption. But this "glorious" country can never treat any situation with discretion. Even now bears are selling cotton freely at 61 cents and spinners are neglecting to buy it. Our opinion is that every mill ought to lay in at present prices as large a portion of this year's needs as it can afford to.

The rain and thaw which has put an end to the drought that has prevailed in the Middle States, particularly in the Ohio Valley and Pennsylvania, was a favorable incident, as the lack of water had become serious, interfering materially with the working of industrial plants of various kinds. Since that development low temperature has been a feature which has arrested the thaw and prevented a flood that was threatened in some districts. The rain and subsequent snow-storm have also benefited winter wheat. It needed moisture and it needed a cover afterwards. It secured both. So it has been with every other of the week's events of a substantial nature-they have all tended to advance confidence and enterprise, and thereby to conserve and build up legitimate business interests. Iron and steel still keep the lead of all others and the outlook for the future in those trades and their allied industries is highly encouraging.

te cottons issued ns from eccived, Includ-The declaration last week of the first dividend (1½ per cent, payable Feb. 1 1905,) on the common stock of the Reading Company has been followed the present week by the appearance of the company's return of earnings Includ-able showing. Anthracite coal production for that month increased more than 1,000,000 tons as compared with the corresponding month last year, and of this increase 185,701 tons fell to the share of the Reading. But this in itself alone will not explain the great gain in earnings recorded for that month. It is evident that the company is enjoying great general prosperity, while at the same time the property is being operated with increasing efficiency and economy. The Railway Company shows at once enlarged receipts and decreased expenses. The addition to receipts was $376,647 and the reduction in expenses $248,020, furnishing together an improvement in net for this one month of $624,667. Furthermore, the operations of the Coal & Iron Co. yielded an improvement in net of $159,352, and the net income from other sources was also slightly larger, while fixed charges were somewhat smaller. Altogether there is a surplus above charges for November 1904 in amount of $1,254,083, as against a similar surplus in November 1903 of only $448,997. For the five months of the new fiscal year to Nov. 30 the surplus above charges is larger by over a million dollars than in the corresponding period of 1903, being $4,256,241, against $3,232,028.

The payment of the dividends now begun on the common stock can unquestionably be made with ease. For the late fiscal year ending June 30 1904, as we showed in reviewing the report in our issue of Sept. 17, there was a surplus of $7,757,538 above the year's fixed charges and above allowances for improvements and This would be reduced to $7,282,538 by betterments. deducting $475,000 as the contribution required towards the general mortgage sinking fund. The call for the 4 per cent dividends on the first and second preferred stocks is $2,800,000, leaving, therefore, $4,482,538, equivalent to over 6 per cent on the $70,000,000 of Reading common stock. For the current fiscal year the showing will be still better to the extent of the further improvement that may occur over 1903-4. As yet only five months of this new fiscal year have elapsed, and for these five months, as we have seen, the surplus is a million dollars larger than the corresponding surplus for the same five months of 1903.

It was a foregone conclusion that new railroad construction during 1904 would not be large. Conditions were not such as to warrant the undertaking of any extensive new enterprises, even though the railroads did not have the difficulty in floating new capital issues that they had during 1903. Yet a considerable amount of new mileage is sure to be added even in unfavorable years, representing small additions made by existing companies who find the same justified by the exigencies of their situation. The records kept by the "Railway Age" of Chicago have been made public this week, and they show that 4,168 miles of new track has been laid during the twelve months of 1904. The figures are subject to revision, of course, and compare with 5,786 miles of new road reported by the "Age" for 1903, though it is only proper to say that other compilations made the total for that year much smaller. The 4,168 miles added in 1904 covers work done on 299 separate lines; nearly one-half the amount was supplied by Southwestern and Gulf and Mississippi Valley States, these having contributed 1,921 miles. We agree with our contemporary that while the day of parallel railroad building is practically over, there with the bulk of the business at 23 per cent.

are many extensions and feeders projected which are needed to develop new territory and much important work designed to shorten main lines and to reduce grades and curves. In this way fairly large additions are certain from year to year.

In alluding in these columns three weeks ago to the action of the Western Federation of Miners in officially terminating the strike which had existed for a year in the metalliferous-ore districts, we stated that though the trouble concerning that other labor difficulty (the coal miners' strike) was also practically over, yet action to that end had not been definitely taken by the miners' organization, the United Mine Workers. In this last it appears we were in error. We are indebted to Mr. G. F. Bartlett Jr., the Vice-President of the Victor Fuel Co., for the facts in the case. He tells us that the strike was called off about the 1st of September, a circumstance which had escaped our notice. He says that as far as the National organization is concerned, defeat was confessed as far back as June, the local officials being then directed to call a meeting for the 20th of June and vote to end the contest. The local body, however, refused to discontinue the struggle, although they were notified that the National organization would not extend aid after the 1st of July. The local officers of the Union were desirous to continue the contest until the 1st of September, and did so. Their action finally, however, was not of much consequence, as not a great many miners remained who still adhered to the strike. The coal industry in Colorado has for some months been on a normal basis, and we are informed that the production of coal is more than ample to take care of all demands.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week, and, compared with last week, open market or unofficial rates were easier at all centres.

A London cable of to-day in the New York "Times" says that the new Russian loan for 500,000,000 marks is to be brought out in Berlin January 12 at 95; it will bear $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest. The same cable adds that the particulars of a Russian loan which is to be issued in Paris will probably be known in a few days. The statement of the New York Associated Banks last week showed no important features. Loans and deposits were only moderately reduced, while there was a net gain in cash of \$200,100 and an increase in surplus revenue of \$700,600. The bank statement of this week should reflect increases in deposits and in loans, due to preparations for the January disbursements of dividends and interest; also the transfer hence to New Orleans of \$400,000, to Chicago of \$200,000 and the shipment to Paris of \$641,019 gold.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned on the Stock Exchange during the week at 5 per cent and at 21 per cent, averaging about 3 per cent. Banks and trust companies loaned at 21 per cent as the minimum. On Tuesday loans on the Exchange were at $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent and at 21 per cent, with the bulk of the business at 23 per cent. On Wednesday, while 3 per cent was recorded, transactions were few at that rate, and the majority were at 21 per cent, which was the lowest. On Thursday loans were at 3 per cent and at 21 per cent, On

VOL. LXXIX.

Friday transactions were at 5 per cent and at 3 per cent, with the majority at 31 per cent. Time contracts on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were quite freely offered by all lenders at important concessions, compared with last week, though without resulting in much business. The rate for sixty to ninety days was 3@31 per cent, but borrowers seemed so confident of a liberal supply of money in the call-loan branch of the market, after the turn of the year, that they were indisposed to make engagements even for three months; some transactions were, however, recorded for sixty days at 3 per cent. The rate for four to six the business months was $3\frac{1}{4}@3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and was chiefly at the lower rate. Greater activity in time money is looked for next month, for January is usually the period when commission-house borrowers make engagements which will carry them over beyond the half year. Commercial paper continues in moderate supply with a fair demand, and rates are $4@4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 4@41 per cent for prime and 41/205 per cent for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 3 per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £230,773 bullion during the week and held £29,927,272 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to imports of £1,001,000 (of which £983,000 from India and £18,000 from Australia), exports of £50,000 (wholly to South America), and to shipments of £720,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was dull and generally firm this week. The bulk of the requirements for the end-of-the-year remittances appear to have been met last week, and those which remained to be provided for were small. The semi-monthly settlement on the London Exchange made necessary transfers through cables, and these were the strongest of all classes of bankers' bills. Commercial drafts were offered in only moderate amounts. and those against cotton were chiefly deliveries on contracts. The reduction this week in the price of gold bars and of American Eagles in London to the normal figures of 77 shillings 91 pence per ounce for the former and to 76 shillings 41 pence for the latter seems to indicate that there is no longer any apprehension of derangement at that centre as the result of Continental requirements for gold incident to preparations for the negotiation of the new Russian loan. The banks of France and of Germany and bankers at Paris and at Berlin seem now to be relying upon New York for such supplies of gold as may be needed, and, through the inducements which are offered American bankers in the form of interest on consignments in transit, gold is attracted to those Continental centres. Commercial bars being obtainable in only moderate amounts, owing to the small supply in the Assay Office, gold coin would have to be shipped were the Continental demand to become urgent, and in that case greater inducements would be necessary in order to reimburse exporters of the coin for possible loss. It may be noted, however, that the tendency of our exchange market is more or less directly toward strength, chiefly because of the prevailing low rates for money, which encourage transfers of bankers' balances abroad, where they can be more profitably employed. Should easy monetary conditions continue, and, under the influof balances, rates ence of such transfers for exchange advance, gold coin might. it would seem, be profitably exported without any additional inducements for its shipment. Therefore bankers are said to be quite generally of the opinion that exports of gold coin hence to the Continent will soon become important in volume. There was a shipment on Thursday of $641,018 77 gold bars to Paris, and about $650,000 more was secured for export to Europe on Tuesday of next week; this consignment, however, exhausted the supply of bars in the Assay Office. Gold received at the Custom House for the week, $138,873.

Nominal quotations for sterling exchange are 4 853 for sixty days and 4 88 for sight. There was very little business on Saturday of last week and no alteration in rates compared with those on the previous day. Monday was the Christmas holiday. On Tuesday the tone was firm at an advance of 5 points for long, compared with Friday of last week, to 4 8470@48480, of 10 points for short to 4 8720@4 8730, and of 20 points for cables to 4 8785@4 8795. On Wednesday business was dull, and though short fell 5 points to 4 8720@4 8725, long and cables rose 5 points, the former to 4 8475@4 8485, and the latter to 4 8790@4 88. On Thursday the market was dull, with long 5 points higher at 4 8480@ 4 8485 and short and cables 5 points lower at 4 8715@ 4 8725 for the former and 4 8790@4 8795 for the latter. On Friday long was 5 points higher, while short was 5 points, and cables 15 points, lower.

THE SITUATION OF RUSSIA.

The events of the present week have in some respects provided a highly dramatic climax to recent developments in the Eastern war. It cannot be said that what has happened either in the theatre of war or in Russia's internal affairs was unexpected; yet the expected sometimes arrives in such sensational form as to compel revision of previous inferences. Such revision will possibly be forced upon many students of the war situation, and it is certain, in our judgment, that neither the internal nor the military occurrences in Russian affairs this week can fail to exert profound influence on the question of prolongation of the war.

The brilliant exploit by which the Japanese soldiers, charging into the breach made in the walls of an inner redoubt by an exploded mine, captured almost the last of the last redoubts protecting Port Arthur, decisively seals the fate of that fortress and leads to daily expectation of its fall. That' fall, indeed, has been already sufficiently foreshadowed by the withdrawal of Admiral Togo's fleet and the congratulatory messages of the Admiral and the Mikado on the naval campaign. The two events which should instantly follow capitulation of the fortress are the advance of the Japanese army now around Port Arthur toward the north, where it will serve as a very valuable reinforcement to Oyama, and the cruise of disengaged Japanese fleet in search of the the Russian Baltic squadron. Very naturally the purposes of the Admiral in this latter direction are kept scrupulously secret. It is likely that we shall not hear of his whereabouts until the blow is struck or the quarry has escaped. English experts have had much to say on the danger incurred by Japan in exposing to the chance, even of the destruction which might follow a victory, their sole remaining fleet. It may, however, be taken for granted that no one is more aware of this consideration than the cautious Japanese Admiral. Of what would happen in the event of an outright naval combat on equal terms, no critic seems to entertain any doubt. The Russian fleet, which has come through the Suez Canal, is not, without a junction with the division sent around the Cape, numerically equal to the Japanese armanent, and it certainly must be in inferior physical condition. As to the relative morale of the two naval belligerents, that has been too conclusively demonstrated by very recent incidents to require discussion.

Destruction of the Baltic fleet would undoubtedly have important bearing on the further progress of the war-more so, perhaps, than the reinforcement of the northern army; for the Japanese objective in the vicinity of Mukden had nearly been attained already. In default of such unexpected military successes as should involve destruction of Kuropatkin's army, all that the Japanese have to look for now is a further retreat of the Russian General, and with each such retreat the position of the Japanese, if they assumed the aggressive, would become more difficult. It would appear that if peace is to come at an early date, it must come through the realization by the Russians of the fact that Japan has already accomplished all that it set out to do, and is in possession of the disputed territory, which it is able, reinforcement or no reinforcement, hereafter to maintain.

What will be the effect on the progress of the war of the week's remarkable domestic incidents in Russia is an extreme' puzzling question. It will probably be admitted by all readers of the news that the manner in which the Czar's decree granting reforms to the Russian people has been received by them gives a startling picture of the real condition of affairs below the surface. In brief, it may be said that the Czar has promised reform on quite as liberal a scale as could reasonably be looked for. Responding to the petition of the Zemstvo Presidents, he promises consideration of the extension of the local administrations, purification and reorganization of the provincial judiciary, revision or repeal of the drastic criminal laws and re-arrangement of the statutes regarding religious toleration. The question of a constitutional assembly, whose powers necessarily would be so broad and vague as in some respects almost to supersede those of the Czar himself, is not touched upon at all-which is equivalent to its rejection. Consideration of the reforms to which attention is given by the decree is referred to the Council of the Ministry-no doubt a disappointing move to those who expected instant grant by ukase of all that had been asked, but certainly a prudent act, and one which has in its immediate favor the fact that M. Witte is the formal head of the Council to which the matter is referred.

In short, assuming that the action of the Czar is in all respects undertaken in good faith, it strikes the unprejudiced observer as a fair and equitable counter-proposition to the Zemstvo petitioners. Even as regards the constitutional assembly, it is to be observed that the Russian people's capacity for constitution-making at this date is extremely doubtful, and has been questioned by every clear-headed critic on the country's institutions. The reforms, notably that which would readjust the code of criminal procedure, are of the first importance, and the manner in which they are announced carries out the suggestion, always made by friends of Russia, that such reforms should come, not from the bottom but from the top of the political structure.

But what will strike most people with a sense of perplexity and misgiving is the manner in which the Czar's decree has been received by seemingly responsible spokesmen for the Russian people. The Czar himself in giving out his manifesto of last Monday took occasion to rebuke in the most decided way not only the disorderly outbreaks in some cities, but the action of the Zemstvos themselves in extending the scope of their petitions and asking for reforms beyond their immediate sphere of action. These public bodies, the Czar announces "must not not go beyond the limits provided for them and must not concern themselves in questions in the consideration of which they have no legal authority." And he further states that presidents of such meetings who allow matters of the sort even to be considered will be held personally responsible.

It may be that the situation calls for a warning of this sort; but unless it peremptorily does so, the action of the Czar must be pronounced ungracious and un-Its prompt result, at any rate, was the fortunate. calling together, in various districts of the Empire, of meetings which were attended and addressed by citizens of responsible position, and in which the Czar's position was a subject of outright protest. In response to the Czar's declaration that subjects beyond the scope of local administration must not be considered, one of these meetings, in the second largest city of the Empire, declared that "in view of the horrors of the war, which is devoid of sense, and in view also of the enormous sacrifice and ruin in which the country is being involved, we, representing the liberal professions and working classes, protest against the war into which the government dragged the nation without consideration for the opinions or interest of the Russian people." The newspapers, with extraordinary freedom, echo these declarations, which, unless they are far more isolated than the despatches would seem to indicate, show that a formidable situation has arisen.

We suppose that, if perfectly satisfactory assurance of good faith in consideration of the proposed reforms were to be shown by the Imperial Administration, these demonstrations would gradually quiet down. In large degree they are undoubtedly expresssion of a socialistic sentiment which would scarcely better matters were it to gain general control. But the question as to the temper of the Russian people still remains and, in particular, the serious protest cited above, from the Moscow meeting, as regards the war, may voice a profound and formidable sentiment in the minds of the people as a whole. In other words, if the conviction, in itself not at all unjust, that the war is an outcome of the closet conspiracies and futile ambitions of a court cabal, were to gain control of the people as a whole, it will not be so easy to restore the public mind to quiet even by granting much-desired reforms of local administration and judiciary procedure. This is the problem which confronts Russian autocracy, and its outcome will be watched with unusual interest and concern by the world at large. As to what effect this attitude will have on the Government's ability to draw from its subjects fresh reserves for Kuropatkin's army, that is a problem on which judgment cannot well be passed until something further happens.

THE NINETEENTH CENTURY SPIRIT IN AFFAIRS.

It is so common to denounce money getting and the money power and to assume an attitude of hostility to combinations and trusts as embodying power and control in its most objectionable form, and which, therefore, must be put under the ban through some drastic method or measures, that one receives with a sense of relief utterances not permeated with such pernicious notions. There have been two notable deliverances of this kind within the last few days by men of prominence. One was a speech on "Moneyphobia," by Mr. Jas. M. Beck, Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, delivered at the commencement exercises of a business college at Philadelphia and the other some remarks made by Chief-Justice James T. Mitchell of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, with reference to trusts, in speaking at the Pilgrims' dinner given by the New England Society in Philadelphia. The observations of both these men contain much food for reflection and the prominence of their authors lends added weight to the same.

Mr. Beck gave expression to some homely truths, which however are none the less effective on that account, especially as they were presented in a new way. He said he was privileged to spend the greater part of his conscious life in the much-abused Wall Street. To him it seemed a most impressive place because of the exhibition of human energy which it furnishes whose ultimate effects are felt throughout the entire world. No accusation, he thought, was more unwarranted than that this energy is solely actuated by avarice. Long after the American business man has acquired a competence he struggles on-generally dying in the harness-not for the pleasure of making money but for the joy of achievement. This love of work for work's sake, rather than for its compensation, is the characteristic of the modern American, and is, next to our natural resources, the chief reason for the country's wonderful development. "We are not a mere money-loving people. In no country is less value attached to money when earned. The citizen of no country is more prodigal in the expenditure of money than the American. Indeed, his reckless prodigality and not his avarice is his chief fault. He labors hard to earn money with no other thought than scattering it with an open hand when earned."

Mr. Beck gave illustrations to show that the gambling spirit is far less prevalent than it was in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Lotteries used to flourish in church and in State. To-day, as a mark of the higher morality of commercial life, lotteries are abolished in this country and in many others. A beneficial influence of the present commercial age has been the increased sense of moral responsibility. He thought there was no better demonstration of this than life insurance. At the beginning of the nineteenth century few life insurance companies of any kind existed. A man seemed content to leave wife and children to the hazard of chance without reckoning what would happen the morrow after his death. So greatly has the sense of moral responsibility for those dependent upon us deepened that to-day a vast and beneficent system of life insurance has been built up. If to this great trust fund there be added the uncounted millions of dollars which are deposited in banks and savings funds, we see displayed a husbandry of resources unknown in any age, demonstrating the fact of a deeper sense of moral responsibility.

Adverting to Lecky's statement in his "History of European Morals" that the virtue of veracity attains its highest development with commercial nations, Mr. Beck pointed out that the entire edifice of the commercial world depends to-day upon credit. Without it the marvelous expansion in human activity would have been impossible. The whole fabric of modern business is an extraordinary structure of mutual faith and fair dealing. There are, unquestionably, broken contracts, but their number is infinitesimal in comparison with the contracts which are carried out with scrupulous fidelity.

Chief Justice Mitchell's remarks concerning trusts and anti-trust legislation seem to have been a digression from his main theme, but have attracted such wide attention that they have become a subject of general discussion. In an interview with a reporter of the Philadelphia "North American," his views are set out more in detail than in the speech at the Pilgrims' dinner. While not attempting a defense of trusts, he laid stress upon their development in the last century of the country's existence, and pointed out how great has been the progress made by the country during this period as the result of the aggregations of capital directed through the medium of corporations. The development of these corporations-now called trusts-has, in his estimation, been entirely natural and logical. It has been the development of an age uniting not only individuals but corporations, and the spirit of combination which it represents is here to stay. Hence, the proper remedy is not to try to break down combinations and the aggregated forces which dominate them, but to regulate and control them.

Disclaiming any intention of criticising President Roosevelt, and emphasizing the fact that in politics he is a Republican, he yet ventured the opiniou that the President underestimates the trend of human nature and overestimates the power of statutes. He declared the time had gone by when we can tolerate the corner store as a means of supplying our requirements, or the crossroads blacksmith shop. "The people won't have that sort of thing any longer. They demand more perfect facilities for supplying their commercial requirements and for the transportation of themselves and their burdens. They are tending more and more toward aggregated effort. It is this tendency which has produced the aggregated forces with which we are all familiar and has brought about our enormous development and prosperity."

Justice Mitchell also took occasion to dissent from the proposition that there should be more Federal regulation of trusts. He expressed the view that the Federal power has already been stretched far beyond its proper boundaries in such matters. He cited the Inter-State Commerce Commission as an example. In the power it is wielding now, and which it has wielded in the past, it is going far beyond anything that the framers of the Constitution ever intended the Federal Government should do. Representative Morrell's bill for the Federal supervision of insurance, he cited as another instance. He said he deemed that proposition wholly impracticable and outside the province of the Federal Government. The proposal to take from the State the power to charter corporations that engage in inter-State business, and vest the power in the Federal Government, he utterly condemns.

THE CROPS OF 1904.

The final estimates of the harvests of 1904, as declared by the Department of Agriculture at Washington on Wednesday of this week, do not differ in any essential particular from the early indications of the yield supplied several weeks previously, but they serve to emphasize anew the fact that from an agricultural standpoint 1904 was an unusually satisfactory year. With the exception of wheat, the yield of all the principal crops was above the average. Even in the case of wheat the shortage is much smaller than at one time was feared would be the case. It is noteworthy, too, that early estimates of the damage sustained by that crop are shown by these latest figures to have been very much exaggerated, just as was insisted upon by competent judges at the time. It will be remembered that it was claimed the production of grain prices the last six years is set out in the following winter and spring wheat combined could not in any table.

event exceed 500 million bushels. The Agricultural Department, prone to underestimate rather than overestimate results, now makes the crop 552,399,517 bushels.

Of course, even at the figure given, the crop is a short The showing is particularly unfavorable as comone. pared with the three years immediately preceding, during which there has been a steady decline in production. Starting with 748 million bushels in 1901, which was the largest wheat crop in the country's history, the harvest in 1902 decreased to 670 million bushels, in 1903 fell to 637 million bushels, and now for 1904 has dropped. as stated, to 552 million bushels. Nevertheless, there have been several years within the last decade when the product was much smaller than that for 1904. In other words, while the yield is deficient, it is by no means as poor as others within recent periods.

Besides, as far as farming interests are concerned. there would appear to be ample compensation for the shortage in yield in the exceptionally high price for the grain. Wheat is not one of the products of the farm which is consumed on the farm itself, but rather a product which is sold in the market, and hence any addition to price counts as a real gain to the producer. All through 1904 -even before it became certain that the outturn would be so considerably reduced-the price of wheat ruled at high figures; and during the closing months of the year not only have these high-price records been maintained. but further advances have been established. This situation is accordingly reflected in the price averages reported by the Agricultural Bureau. The Bureau takes as the basis of its computations not market quotations at the Produce Exchange or Boards of Trade, but values on the farm. It is hence significant of the excellent results which are being realized by farmers themselves that the average of farm values for the whole country, taking States near and States remote, works out no less than 92.4 cents per bushel.

In many of the States farm values rule above a dollar a bushel. This is true of the whole of the Middle States and most of the Middle Western and Southern States. Texas raised 123 million bushels and its average farm price stands at $1 10. Ohio raised 171 million bushels and has an average of $1 10. Illinois produced 211 million bushels and its wheat commands on the farms $1 01. Even in Kansas, where the yield, though 22 million bushels less than in 1903, still reaches over 65 million bushels, farmers are getting 89 cents a bushel. In Minnesota, which has a crop of over 68 million bushels, the price is 87 cents. How much above the figures of other recent years present prices are will be apparent when we say that the general average for the whole country for 1904, at 92.4 cents, compares with only 69.5 cents in 1903, 63.0 cents in 1902, 62.4 cents in 1901, 61.9 cents in 1900 and 58.4 cents in 1899. The 1904 figure, it will be seen, is about one-half again as high as that of other years.

The advantage of a better price also extends to some of the other crops, though not to the same extent. For instance, the average for corn is 44.1 cents. against 42.5 in 1903, 40.3 in 1902, 35.7 in 1900 and 30.3 cents in 1899. We omit reference to the figure for 1901, because that was the year of the great crop failure. and the price for that year, therefore, has no utility for purposes of comparison. In addition to the better price for corn the aggregate yield of that crop is larger. The Bureau's final estimate places the corn crop for 1904 at 2,467 million bushels, comparing with 2,244 millions for 1903, 2,523 millions for 1902 and 1,522 millions for 1901, this last having been the year of great crop failure. The oats crop also runs considerably in excess of that of last year, being reported at 894 million bushels, against 784 million bushels. In 1902 the yield of this cereal was given as 987 million bushels. A general survey of the production of those leading cereals, corn, wheat, oats, barley and rye, is furnished in the following.

* These are the revised figures of the Agricultural Department, issued after the Census declared the results for 1899, showing much larger totals than those of the Department; before revision the Department's figures for 1901 were much lower. No changes made in previous years.

From the foregoing we see that the aggregate of the five crops for 1904 is 4,081 million bushels, as against 3,827 million bushels for 1903, 4,350 million bushels for 1902 and 3,157 million bushels for the year of crop disaster, 1901. This is the showing notwithstanding the shrinkage in the wheat yield, and obviously the results are decidedly satisfactory.

In addition to the abundance of the cereal yield, the country has been blessed with a cotton crop of unparalleled magnitude. In this case, however, price is only about one-half what it was twelve months before; middling uplands in New York December 30 1904, being quoted at 6.95 cents per pound against 13.50 cents Dec. 31 1903. In the subjoined statement the comparison for the leading crops is carried back over the last 25 years. The cotton figures are our own compilation; the wheat, corn and oats figures are those of the Agricultural Department, though for the Census years we also show the Census totals.

As much interest also attaches to the crop yield in the different States, we show below the production in that way for the last five years in the case of corn, wheat and oats. As the 1904 wheat crop suffered disaster in both the winter-wheat and the spring-wheat districts-an unusual conjunction—the wheat figures of yield reflect a pretty general falling off through the whole range of States. In the case of corn, it is noticeable that while the production for the country as a whole is 233 million bushels larger than it was in 1903, Kansas and Missouri record large shrinkages in yield, the crop of Kansas being only 134 million bushels against 171 millions in 1903 and 222 millions in 1902, and the crop of Missouri 151 millions against 202 millions and 264 millions respectively.

-Mr. Myles Tierney was this week chosen a director of the Corn Exchange Bank of this city. Mr. Tierney is President of the Hudson Trust Company, Hoboken, N. J., and a trustee of the New York Security & Trust Company, the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank of New York and also the Commercial Trust Company of New Jersey.

-John A. Hiltner, Vice-President, Cashier and Director of the National Shoe & Leather Bank of this city, died suddenly at his home, No. 125 West 121st Street, on Tuesday of this week, from rheumatic gout. Mr. Hiltner was in his fiftysixth year and had been identified with the National Shoe & Leather Bank in an official capacity for over ten years. His banking career commenced with the Fourth National Bank of this city in 1889, when he severed his connection with a large Wall Street sugar house to accept the position of Assistant Cashier of that bank. In 1895 he left the Fourth National to become Vice-President of the Shoe & Leather. The additional position of Cashier was given to him a few years ago. Mr. Hiltner at the time of his death was also Treasurer of the Pennsylvania Society, Director of the John Stephenson Company and of the Norwalk Lock Company, a member of the Hardware Club and a Vestryman of Holy Trinity Church.

Yesterday the National Shoe & Leather Bank sustained another loss in the death of its former President, John M. Crane. Mr. Crane had been associated with the National Shoe & Leather Bank for fifty years, he having begun as messenger boy on May 1 1853. During his long career he held every position in the bank, having been in turn Assistant Cashier, Cashier, Vice-President and then President. He resigned the presidency in July 1902 and was then made honorary Vice-President, so as to round out his half-century of service. Mr. Crane's death was very sudden, he having attended the directors' meeting on Wednesday. This bank during the past few months has lost by death four directors, namely Joseph S. Stout, Robert H. Swayze, John H. Hiltner and Mr. Crane.

-The Van Norden Trust Company, Fifth Avenue and 60th St., is distributing a new map of New York City (prepared especially for them by the Rand-McNally Co.) to its clients and friends out of town. This handy map, pocket-folder size, 30x16½ inches, shows the various elevated, trolley and subway lines and the ferries connecting the numerous railroads with the metropolis. The institution's home, facing the Plaza and Central Park, in the heart of the residential, hotel and club district, is clearly indicated on the map. Besides calling the visitor's attention to the company's accessibility, the leafiet accompanying the map contains much interesting information regarding New York. The institution's bond department, under Mr. Amos Higgins's direction, organized to supply investors with securities for the employment of their money, is a recent adjunct.

-At the annual meeting of stockholders of the International Banking Corporation on December 10, Sir H. Montagu Allan, J. S. Bache, Clarence Cary, J. M. Ceballos, George Crocker, M. Hartley Dodge, S. C. Danham, J. S. Fearon, Haley Fiske, W. R. Gillette, Edwin Gould, Isaac Guggenheim, E. H. Harriman, John R. Hegeman, Charles R. Henderson, W. G. Henshaw, Erskine Hewitt, John Hubbard, Thomas H. Hubbard, H. E. Huntington, John B. Jackson, John J. McCook, H. P. McIntosh, George H. Macy, Pierre Mali, Henry S. Manning, W. L. Moyer, A. W. Paige, H. Clay Pierce, William A. Read, Howard S. Rodgers, George H. Russel, William Salomon, R. A. C. Smith, Sir William Van Horne and General C. A. Whittier were elected directors. The directors on Wednesday of this week elected Thos. H. Hubbard, President, and re-elected J. S. Fearon, Vice-President, John Hubbard, Treasurer, and J. H. Rogers, Secretary.

-New Year's greetings are extended to the patrons and friends of the Irving National Bank of this city in a card of especially attractive design, issued by the officers and directors. Colored holly berries and leaves lend to the card the holiday spirit it is intended to convey.

-At the meeting last week of Group VII. of the New York State Bankers' Association, comprising banks of Brooklyn and Long Island, Mr. Charles T. Young (President of the National City Bank of Brooklyn) reported as Chairman of the executive committee that the efforts of the special committee appointed for the purpose of endeavoring to secure a reduction in the price of clearing for non-member banks had been unsuccessful. The charge was increased the beginning of the year from $500 to $1,000.

-The resignations last week of George Blumenthal of Lazard Freres and Samuel A. Maxwell from the directorate of the Trust Company of America, at 149 Broadway, have revived the rumor of a proposed consolidation of this institution with the North American Trust Company, 135 Broadway. We are informed on good authority that while prominent interests affiliated with the North American Trust Company have lately acquired substantial holdings in the Trust Company of America, there will be no changes either in the company's officials or its identity. At the Trust Company of America's coming annual meeting these new interests will be given representation on its board.

-The high-class advertising literature which is coming into use by financial institutions has before been referred to in this department. A little pamphlet received this week from the West End office of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of this city, and entitled "Money," belongs in this category. The pamphlet describes, not alone in words, but with illustrations, the various departments of the company's business, and calls attention to the facilities possessed by its West End branch at Seventy-third Street and Broadway for the transaction of a banking, trust and safe deposit business. The deposits of this branch since its opening two years ago this fall have reached a total of over two million dollars. Mr. Charles B. Collins is the manager of the West End office.

-Mr. Albert J. Wheeler, President of the Western Savings Bank of Buffalo, N. Y., has been appointed receiver of the German Bank of Buffalo, which suspended on the 5th inst. According to a statement given out last week, by Mr. George S Leonard, the examiner in charge of the bank until the receiver's appointment, the total deficit of the institution was $781,642. Total individual deposits amounted to $4,185,607, while deposits of savings banks (preferred claims) were $213,-000. The preferred claims against the bank were paid on Wednesday.

-It is reported that another dividend of 25 per cent (making a total of 75 per cent) has been declared to the creditors of the American Exchange National Bank of Syracuse, N. Y. The bank has been in receiver's hands since February last. Previous dividends of 25 per cent each were declared in June and December.

-An addition of $300,000 to the surplus of the Columbia National Bank of Buffalo, N. Y., will be made to day, the shareholders having agreed to pay in that amount, thus giving the bank total surplus and undivided profits of $775,000. With the present addition, $600,000 will have been added to the surplus by the stockholders within three years, a similar amount ($200,000) having been contributed by them on two previous occasions—in June 1902 and January 1903, respectively.

—The charter for a new Trenton, N. J., financial institutian, namely the Mercer Trust & Safe Deposit Company, was approved on the 20th inst. The company has been organized with a capital of \$100,000 and surplus of \$50,000. Mr. William G. Howell, Vice President of the Broad Street National Bank of Trenton, has been elected President of the new company. The other officers are: E. D. Cook and A M. Crook, Vice-Presidents, and Arthur Smith, Cashier. The opening is expected to occur in January at 203 South Broad Street. -Bankers in localities where the computing of interest on the basis of the actual number of days has been adopted will be glad to know of the issuance, by the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, of a Discount Calendar, prepared to facilitate the work. The calendar is in large clear type on white cardboard, size $1334\times81_2$ inches, and shows the date of maturity and the number of days elapsing on notes made on any day in January and February, and running for two, three, four or six months. In figuring the date of mat turity, allowance is made for Saturdays, Sundays and holi days.

-It is stated that the Textile National Bank of Philadelphia, referred to in these columns July 9, will open for basiness on February 1 at Kensington Avenue and Cumberland Street. The capital is to be $200,000 instead of $300,000, as originally announced. Mr. Henry Ruetschlin has been elected President, William S. Leib and V. O. Lawrence Vice. Presidents, and Charles F. Kolb Jr., Cashier.

-An attractive folder with decorations of holly leaves and berries, and bearing holiday greetings to the recipient, is issued by the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., of Pittsburgh. The folder is also utilized to show the prosperity which has attended the institution during the year just closing, as revealed by a comparison of the statements of January 22 1904 and November 10 1904. Deposits in this period have risen from 11,240,472 to 14,209,981; surplus and undivided profits from 2,422,997 to 2,581,407, and aggregate resources from 16,563,369 to 320,854,189. Additional earnings of 240,-000 were paid to the shareholders in the ten months under review. Mr. Wilson A. Shaw is President of the bank and Mr. M. F. Bickel the Cashier.

-The Wade Park Banking Company of Cleveland has been taken over by the Clevelan 1 Trust Company of Cleveland, the stockholders of the absorbed institution having assented to its sale on the 21st inst. The Wade Park Banking Company had a capital of $200,000, the book value of which, it is said, was $150 a share. The terms of the sale to the Cleveland Trust Co. have not been made public. Besides its Cleveland effice the bank had branches at Collinwood and Willoughby.

The Cleveland Trust, through the purchase of a majority of the stock, has also recently (on the 18th inst.) taken over the Collinwood Savings Bank Company of Collinwood, «Ohio, organized in 1901 with $50,000 capital.

It is again reported that the trust company has also acquired the Fairmount Savings Bank Company of Cleveland. Announcement to this effect was made somewhat over a year ago, but seems to have been prematuce. All of the Latter's $25,000 stock has now been secured by the trust company.

-Mr. Henry W. S. Wood has been elected President of the Equity Savings & Loan Company of Cleveland to fill the vacancy due to the death of Mr. N. S. Possons. Mr. Wood and Mr. Henry H. Hodell have been elected to the board of the institution.

-The annual dividend rate of the Brighton German Bank Company of Cincinnati has been increased from 4 to 6 per cent.

-State Auditor Walter D. Guilbert of Ohio has been elected President of the lately organized Capital Savings & Trust Company of Columbus, Ohso. The company has a capital of $400,000.

—The old State National Bank of Evansville, Ind., definitely began business on the 23d inst., as successor to the Old National Bank. The capital, now $250,000, is to be increased fater to $500,000, when the surplus will also be increased from $50,000 to $100,000.

-When the stockholders of the National City Bank of Grand Rapids, Mich., meet in annual session on January 10, it is likely that they will authoriz : an increase in the capital, now $500,000. If any addition is made, it will be $100,000, while $20,000 will be added to the surplus. The officers of this institution are Mr. James R. Wylie, President; Lester J. Rindge, Vice-President; Frank Welton, Cashier, and Edward .H. Hunt, Assistant Cashier.

-In the prospectus of the new Inter-State Bank & Trust Company of Peoria, Ill., it is stated that the business of the itution will be divided into three departments—banking, Cashier of the First National Bank of Racine; First Vice-trust and home builders. Of the $500,000 capital which the company is to have, the first $200,000 will be applied to the credit of the banking department, the second $200,000 to the credit of the trust department, while the third $100,000 will go to the credit of the home builders' department. A tenth of the net earnings of the institution, after the creation of the customary legal surplus, will be added yearly to the lastnamed department, the intention being to utilize such of this surplus as may be deemed advisable in the building of homes for people of limited means upon a basis of 3 per cent.

-With the developments of the past year in Chicago and the projects already determined for the ensuing year, Monroe and Clark streets are rapidly becoming as important financial centres as La Salle street. It now seems almost certain that the American Trust & Savings Bank will obtain possession of the property northeast corner of Clark and on the Monroe, alluded to in these columns a few weeks ago, upon which it will erect a magnificent banking building. This will adjoin the splendid new First National Bank building, now approaching completion, of which the First National itself occupies three full stories -constituting, it is believed, by far the largest banking quarters in the world-and its adjunct, the First Trust & Savings Bank, the greater portion of the ground floor.

On the southeast corner of Monroe and Clark streets, in the new Rector Building, the Hibernian Banking Association will take possession of spacious and elegant quarters early in 1905. Across the street is the Fort Dearborn National Bank. On opposite and diagonal corners of Monroe and Dearborn streets from the First National Bank are the Central Trust Company and the Commercial National Bank, respectively. On Monroe, between Clark and La Salle, are the Chicago National Bank, the Equitable Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank-all housed in the monumental building of the Chicago National. On corners of Monroe and La Salle streets are the National Bank of the Republic. the Bank of Montreal and the present quarters of the American Trust & Savings Bank; while on still another will be erected during 1905 the superb new building of the Northern Trust Company. The marble building of the Merchants' Loan & Trust Company, erected three years since on the corner of Clark and Adams streets, was the pioneer banking structure in this new division of the financial center of Chicago.

-The dividend rate of the American Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago has been increased from 6 to 8 per cent per annum, the directors having declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent for the last six months. Payments wil hereafter be 2 per cent quarterly.

-Mr. W. B. Wrenn was elected Secretary of the Chicago Stock Exchange at the regular monthly meeting of the Governing Committee on the 21st inst. Mr. Wrenn assumes his new office on January 1 and will serve until the annual meeting in June.

-Two indictments against Mr. I. N. Perry, formerly President of the National Bank of North America, Chicago, were returned by the grand jury before Julge Kersten on the 23rd inst. One of the indictments charges the ex-banker with arson, of which he had previously been acquitted by Justice Foster. Mr. Perry has been released under bond.

-It is reported that the Kenwood Bank of Chicago, alluded to in these columns on November 26, will be a State instead of a National institution, the name to be the Kenwood Trust & Savings Bank.

-Two new directors have been elected to the board of the Marine National Bank of Milwaukee to fill vacancies. They are Mr. Leander Choate, President of the Commercial National Bank of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mr. Wilford M. Patton, President of the Northwestern National Insurance Company.

-We are in receipt of a copy in book form of the proceedings of the tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Bankers' Association. The report covers the meeting held August 22-24 last at La Crosse, to which reference was made in our issue of August 27. The constitution and by-laws of the association are also contained in the book. The officers of the organization are: President, Mr. George N. Fratt, Cashier of the First National Bank of Racine; First VicePresident, F. J. Carr, Cashier of the Bank of Hudson at Hudson; Secretary, John Campbell, Assistant Cashier of the Marshall & Ilsley Bank, Milwaukee, and Treasurer, G. E. McDill, Cashier of the Citizen's National Bank of Stevens Point.

-The Northwestern Trust Company of St. Paul, Minn., was on the 17th inst, ordered to pay, as receiver, a dividend of 201½ per cent to the creditors, other than stockholders, of the St. Paul Trust Company. This makes a total of 63 per cent received by the creditors the present month, 421½ per cent having been paid less than four weeks ago. The St. Paul Trust Company went into voluntary liquidation early in 1902 on account of litigation over various estates for which it was administrator. The receiver, it is reported, was recently authorized to levy an assessment of 50 per cent on the stockholders. The total amount of claims filed by creditors was $144,814, not including two annuities at the rate of $72 50 for each quarter.

-The National Bank of Commerce of Minneapolis takes occasion, in a neatly designed booklet which it has lately issued, to acquaint the public with the facilities it has for handling business in every department of banking. Organized in 1884, the bank has just completed its twentieth year. In 1888, having outgrown its original quarters, a modern office building was erected for the bank at First Avenue South and Fourth Street-about half of the first floor of which it utilized. Owing to its expansion, especially during the past ten years, it has been found necessary to enlarge these quarters, and the entire first floor of the building, recently remodeled, is now devoted to the bank's needs. In its last report (November 10) the institution showed deposits of nearly six million dollars, namely $5,855,823. Compared with the previous statement (September 6) this is an increase of almost nine hundred thousand dollars, the amount then being but $4,978,061. The capital is $1,000,000, and surplus and profits $323,667. The present management has been in control since 1892. Mr. S. A. Harris is President; F. E. Kenaston, Vice-President; A. A. Crane, Cashier; W. S. Harris and G. E. Williamson, Assistant Cashiers.

-The Commonwealth Trust Company of St. Louis, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of $3 per share, announces the payment of a Christmas dividend of $12 per share, both payable December 31. The company has a capital of $2,000,000.

-It is reported that Hon. S. B. Cook., Secretary of the State of Missouri, who, with friends, lately secured a controlling interest in the Central Missouri Trust Company of Jefferson City, Mo., will become President of that institution upon the expiration of his term of office in January.

-The Seaboard Bank of Norfolk, Va., has been in. corporated with $100,000 capital. The bank is to locate in the new Dey Building, in Plume Street. Mr. Albert L. Powell of the Newport News National Bank of Newport News, Va., is one of those interested in the new institution.

-The Union Bank & Trust Company opened for business on the 1st inst. in Phoenix., Ariz., at 30 North Center Street. The institution has $100,000 capital and engages in a general banking business. The officers are; Mr. W. F. Nichols, President; J. M. Swetnam, Vice President; Jno. L. McDowell, Cashier; F. L. Blumer, Secretary; George H. N. Luhrs, Treasurer, and D. Nicholson, Auditor.

-The annual convention of the Colorado Bankers' Association was held at Pueolo on the 19th and 20th inst. In the absence of Mr. M. D. Thatcher (President of the First National Bank of Pueblo), his report as President of the Association was read by Mr. J. L. Brush, President of the Greeley National Bank of Greeley, Col. Mr. Brush, who last year held the office of Vice-President of the organization, has been elected President for the ensuing year. Mr. F. A. Raynolds (President of the Fremont County Bank of Canon City) is the new Vice President, while Mr. Gordon Jones (Vice-President of the United States National Bank of Den ver) has become Secretary and Treasurer. William J. Bryan was one of the speakers at the convention.

—A new two-story building at First Avenue and Wall Street has just been completed for the Washington Trust Company of Seattle, Wash. The foundations are sufficient to allow for additional stories, if required. The company began business in July 1903 and has a capital of $300,000.

-The Scandinavian-American Savings Bank of San Francisco, incorporated in October with $300,000 capital, of which $150,000 has been paid in, will open as a savings institution on January 2. Captain Charles Nelson is President and Lewis I. Cowgill Vice-President. Mr. Cowgill was formerly Cashier of the San Francisco National Bank.

-Owing to dissensions among the officials of the Central Bank of Oakland, Cal., Mr. Henry C. Morris, who with his father, Mr. Henry S. Morris, owns $65,000 of the bank's $300,000 stock, has been retired from the board. Mr. Morris Sr., it is stated, was dropped from the directorate at the annual meeting last March.

-At the annual meeting on the 14th inst. of the stockholders of the Bank of Ottawa, head office Ottawa, the past year was shown to have been a most prosperous one for the institution. The net profits for the twelve months ending November 30 1904, after deducting expenses of management, and making provision for interest due depositors, unearned interest on current discounts, and for all bad and doubtful debts, was $357,685. The deposits increased from $13,926,368 on November 30 1903 to $15,126,230 on the same date the present year. The bank now reports a paid-up capital of $2,500,000; the rest account is also $2,500,000, against but $2,389,179 a year ago, representing an addition of $110,821 in the twelve months. The 9 per cent dividend for the year called for an expenditure of $224,407. The profit and loss account now aggregates $73,332, contrasting with $66,344 in 1903. Within the year branches have been established at Morrisburg and Russel, Ontario, and Virden, Maritoba. Mr. George Burn is General Manager and Mr. D. M. Finnie Assistant General Manager.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Through the courtesy of the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, we have received this week the details of imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of November, and they are given below in conjunction with the figures for preceding months, thus completing the results for the eleven months of the calendar year 1904. The imports of gold were of comparatively small volume, reaching only $600,604, of which $479,553 was in coin. Of silver there came in $250,476, wholly bullion and silver in ore. During the eleven months there was received a total of $38,899,485 gold and $2,942,969 silver, which compares with $8,524,843 gold and $2,594,581 silver in 1903. The shipments of gold during November were small, reaching only $2,055, all coin, and the exports of silver were $432,686, of which $422,900 was bullion. For the eleven months the exports of gold reached $101,206, against $1,766,687 in 1903. The exhibit for November and for the eleven months is as follows:

EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Monetary Commercia English News

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, December 16, 1904.

The setback in New York has checked business on every Bourse and Stock Exchange in Europe, for the fall in prices has been much heavier than was generally anticipated and the decline, moreover, has lasted longer. Here in London the losses have not been anything like so heavy as they would have been had the slump come some weeks earlier, for operators here for some time past have been closing their accounts in the conviction that the upward movement had been carried too far and too fast. The losses, therefore, that will fall on London are not serious. Moreover, the impression is universal here that there will be an early recovery, because all the conditions in the United States are so favorable.

The influence of the setback in New York has been accentuated by the near approach of the end of the year, when usually there is a very large outflow of money to the interior, and when consequently money often becomes scarce and dear. Although the outflow will be considerable this year, it is not expected that rates will be high or that accommodation will be scarce. Still, there is decidedly less inclination to engage in new risks.

In Paris, likewise, a lull in operations has occurred. Paris does not deal so largely in American securities as London or Berlin. Yet it is much affected by what is going on in New York, not only on account of the importance of the American market, but also because of the influence of any serious decline in prices upon London and Berlin. Moreover, the Paris Bourse is affected by the debate on the income tax bill. A little while ago the Bourse was persuaded that the Combes Ministry would soon be overthrown, and then the income tax bill would be dropped, and that the influence of the Socialists would be decreased. Now it looks as if the Syveton affair had strengthened the Ministry, and the belief is growing up that the Cabinet will last very much longer than had been supposed. Therefore the Bourse is again apprehensive of Socialism.

Still, although little business comparatively has been done during the week in Paris, French operators have been steadily supporting the market for South African securities. There was an increase in November of over 10,500 ounces in the output compared with October, which itself showed a considerable increase. And as it is reasonably certain that the growth in the output will continue, Paris operators are buying here on a considerable scale. The best opinion in Paris is that early in the new year the buying will be considerably increased.

Nothing further is known concerning the Russian loan. That there is to be an advance by France of 82 millions is certain. But neither the date of issue nor the price at which it will be brought out is yet settled.

In Germany, where speculation has been rampant for some time past, the effect of the break in New York has been greater even than in London, and it is believed that German losses are much larger than British losses. On the other hand, the German operators have been wonderfully success. ful for some time past. Therefore, they can well afford to lose a considerable proportion of the profits they have recently made. Still, there is a feeling in Germany itself and a still stronger feeling in this country and France that the upward movement in Germany has been overdone. It is quite possible that the prices themselves are justified. But that the pace at which quotations have been put up has been too quick is the general impression, Consequently the French banks which had been investing large sums in Germany have been decreasing for a week or two the balances they were employing there. And British houses, likewise, are not so eager to take German bills as they were, although the rate in Germany is very much higher than there was. In France trade is still quiet, but there is such a superabundance of money that everybody is convinced that when business gets active in London there will be very large buying on French account.

Money has been in good demand during the week on account of the fortnightly settlement which ended on Thursday. The account was a large one and a good deal of money was employed in it. Probably rates will be well maintained for the remainder of the year. Usually about three millions sterling go out from London to the interior during the last two weeks of December. Moreover, there is expected to be a very strong demand for banking accommodation in Germany. Nearly always there is a vast increase in the note circulation of the Imperial Bank, and this year the best opinion is that the circulation will be so increased that it will probably exceed the amount which is free from taxa-tion by 15 or 20 millions sterling. Therefore it is expected that the Imperial Bank will take measures to get all the gold it can so as to strengthen itself for the occasion. It is not anticipated that the German banks will take gold out of the Bank of England. It is reasonably certain that they will buy all the metal that is offered in the open market. Under the circumstances, then, money is sure to be in great demand here as well as in Germany. On the other hand, about a million sterling of gold is on the way from India, and the shipments from South Africa and Australia are also large.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 80 lacs of its drafts and the applications exceeded 851 lacs at prices ranging from 1s, 4 1-16d, to 1s. 4 3-32 per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 4 1-16d, and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 4 3-32d, per rupee were allotted about 22 per cent of the amounts applied for amounts applied for.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of December 15, 1904:

Gold.—The German demand still continues to absorb all open market arrivals and at prices which are slightly better than those ruling a week ago. £8,000 has reached the Bank, in sovereigns, from Australia and $100,000 has been withdrawn, of which £50,000 is for Egypt and £50,000 for South America. A further £190,000 has been taken to-night for the latter destination. Arrivals: (Dape, £316,000; West Indies, £28,000; Australia, £12,000; Egypt, £5,000; total, £339,000. Bipments: Bombay, £52,000; Colombo, £500; Madras, £2,500; total, £'5,000 Biyer.—The market has been strong since the date of our last circuthan in London. The general impression all over Europe is that business will ease off during the next fortnight or three weeks, but that as soon as the money markets in London, Paris and Berlin become easy, about the middle of January, there will be a great revival of business. Trade, which is very active n Germany, is likely to continue so. Here in England it is certainly reviving, and there is a much more hopeful feeling £ 5,000 Silver.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, DEC. 30, 1904.-3 P. M. The Money Market and Financial Situation.-The se-curity markets are again active and the prevailing sentiment in financial circles at home and abroad is one of confidence and hopefulness. There was a steady advance in prices at the Stock Exchange until to-day, when accrued profits induced realizing sales of sufficient volume to cause a halt in the upward movement. These sales are, however, gener-ally limited to a few issues, and are in small blocks - facts which indicate that the movement may be of short duration. It is reported. moreover, that a feature of the buying this It is reported, moreover, that a feature of the buying this week is that it has been largely of an investment character— that stocks have been bought and taken out of the market. This is doubtless true, as it is not an unusual occurrence at this season, but more frequently noticeable at a little later date later date.

An important event of the week has been the latest esti-mates of the cotton crop based on the quantity of cotton already ginned, which makes it certain that the present crop is the largest ever raised in this country. The result has been a sharp break in the price of cotton to the lowest quotations in recent years and a practical demoralization of the market of the market, Other noteworthy events have been the relatively large number of favorable railway traffic reports, and a complete break of the drought which was so general throughout the country.

A broad view of the general situation as the year closes reveals little to disturb the confidence and hopefulness noted above.

above. The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 p. c. To-day's rates on call were 3@5 p. c. Prime commercial paper quoted at $4@4\frac{1}{2}$ p. c. for endorse-ments and $4@4\frac{1}{2}$ p. c. for best single names. The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £230,773 and the percent-age of reserve to liabilities was 37.71, against 41.36 last week, the discount rate remaining unchanged at 3 per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 7,625,000 francs in gold and 2,925,000 francs in silver.

State and Railroad Bonds .- Sales of State bonds at the Board included \$249,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 15, \$2,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at $97\frac{1}{4}$ and \$500 ditto small bonds at $95\frac{1}{2}$.

$500 ditto small bonds at 95½. The market for railway and industrial bonds has been strong and increasingly active. A large proportion of the transactions reported at the Exchange has been in low-priced bonds, but few high-grade issues having been offered. Among the few strong features are Union Pacific converti-ble 4s, which have advanced 3½ points in sympathy with the shares, and Mexican Central 1st incomes, which are over 2 points higher on limited sales. The former were also the most active on the list. United States Steel 5s, San An-tonio & Aransas Pass, Rock Island coll. trust 5s and Erie general 4s have also been notably strong.

United states Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board are limited to $5,000 4s, coup., 1925, at 180% to 131. The following are the daily closing quotations. for yearly range see third page following:

orning be Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been decidedly strong, almost buoyant in tone through-out the week until to-day, as noted above. The advance move-ment, which extended to all departments, was about as con-spicuous in high-grade issues as in the low-priced speculative stocks. There have been few exceptions to the general trend of the market nearly the ordine rative railway live showing of the market, nearly the entire active railway list showing a gain of from 2 to 4 points. Noteworthy strength in Canadian Pacific was accom-panied by rumors of impending developments in some of the subsidiary lines and the advance in New York Central the subsidiary lines and the advance in New York Central is said to have been based on the prospect of valuable rights. Pennsylvania was strong on an increase in the Pennsylvania Company's dividend rate, and Union Pacific on the theory that any decision in the Northern Securities case would prove favorable to Union Pacific interests. Industrial stocks have responded to the general movement. The general movement.

Industrial stocks have responded to the general movement. The copper issues have been conspicuously strong, Amalga-mated showing when at its highest a gain of 8³/₄ and Ana-conda 15¹/₂ points. All the iron and steel shares advanced under the lead of the United States Steel issues. Consoli-dated Gas recovered the loss of 7 points noted last week, but reacted somewhat to-day. For dorly volume of business see page 2787. The following sales have occurred this week of shares not represented in our detailed list on the pages which follow.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STBAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

for Chicago" below.

Circular to North and West Chicago Stockholders.-Under date of Dec. 22 H. B. Hollins & Co., New York, have sent to the stockholders of the North and West Chicago street rail-road companies copies of the letter from expert Alfred Skitt, which is aided below along with a simpler paring in brief. which is cited below along with a circular, saying in brief:

REORGANIZATION-NEW DIRECTORS.-We stand prepared, so soon as questions affecting the franchise situation are set at rest, to enter upon the reconstruction of the North and West properties under a plan of reorganization which we are satisfied will afford full protection against their dismemberment and a substantial return upon moneys already invested and to be invested. The holdings of ourselves and friends in the North and West companies are much larger than those of any one individual or any one interest. They are so large that we cannot afford to entrust their protection to any but the most experi-enced guardianship.

cannot afford to entrust their protection to any but the most exper-enced guardianship. Upon the proxies sent you we have added to the names of Mr. Skitt and Mr. Govin those of Mr. Wallace, Vice-President of the Central Trust Co., N. Y.; Mr. Coffia, the head of General Electric Co., and Mr. Sheldon, who is prominent in financial circles (V. 79, p. 2747). We ask you to join with us in giving to this committee full power and op-portunity for the election as directors of prominent persons of Chi-cago and New York who can work effectively in our joint interests, the security of which is, in our opinion, now seriously imperiled by ill-conceived advice and action.

EARNINGS - The complaint that dividends have been withheld from EARNINGS — The complaint that dividends have been withheld from you for the payment of obligations of the Union Traction Co. is at variance with facts (see report on page 2793). The operation of these properties for the year in question was not in our hands or in the hands of the Union Traction Co. It was and is in the hands of the court, and is not dependent in any degree upon the choice of directors of your companies. The gross receipts have been found barely suf-ficient to meet the operating expenses and fixed charges and to pro-vide such new equipment and construction as were absolutely neces-sary to meet current requirements. The lack of earning capacity of the property in its present condition has been our loss as well as yours. Receivers if CERTIFICATES — Equily erroneous is the account diver-

the property in its present condition has been our loss as well as yours. RECEIVERS' CERTIFICATES.—Equally erroneous is the account given in the Protective Committee's circular in regard to the pending application for receivers' certificates. It is not true that the earnings of these properties are insufficient to pay taxes and fixed charges and other cost of operation, and that an application for receivers' certifi-cates has been made because the Chicago Union Traction Co. has been unable to supply such deficiency. The earnings for the year ending Aug. 31, 1905, taking the year as a whole, were sufficient for these purposes. There is no reason to doubt that they will continue to be sufficient, though the margin available for other purposes is uncom-fortably narrow. But in the operation of these properties there is always a surplus of earnings of the summer time and a deficiency in the winter. Last summer the earnings which otherwise would have been accumulated to meet the winter's requirements, were used for new equipment and construction because of reasons which in the judgment of the court made such expenditure imperatively necessary. This new construction and equipment went to increase the value of your property. In accordance with the spirit and letter of the amended leases, the your property. In accordance with the spirit and letter of the amended leases, the receivers have asked that the cost of this new equipment and con-struction be represented by receivers' certificates (i. e., funded), in order that the sums withdrawn from surplus earnings during the summer may be made available to meet the deficiency of the winter. The court has also been asked to make other provision for necessities by which the receivers are about to be confronted, involving the ex-penditure of money for the preservation or improvement of the prop-erty not properly chargeable as operating expenses. We have not opposed the application of the receivers, because it is in exact ac-cordance with the intention of all parties at the time the amended leases were made.

RELATIONS WITH CONSOLIDATED TRACTION CO.—As to the transac-tions with Mr. Yorkes, every stockholder who reads the newspapers must know these transactions over four years ago were the subject of a settlement in which the whole burden of glaranteeing bonds of the Chicago Consolidated Traction Co. was assumed by the Chicago Union Traction Co., while your properties derived the benefit of all the traffic controlled by the Consolidated. The stock of the Consolidated has no value except as it represents the control over this traffic, which has always been used and is used to day for the benefit of your properties. The litigation promoted by the Protective Committees, even if suc-cessful, to the extent of establishing your title to all the stock of the Consolidated Traction Co., would give your companies no advantages additional to those of which they are already in possession. No OBLIGATION TO PAY FLOATING DEBTS.—The leases, both orig-RELATIONS WITH CONSOLIDATED TRACTION CO.-As to the transac-additional to those of which they are already in possession. No OBLIGATION TO PAY FLOATING DEBTS.—The leases, both orig-inal and amended, deal with the floating debt and the funded debt at the same time and in the same words, viz: "The Traction Co. hereby assumes and agrees to pay or renew all notes, bonds, mort-gages and other indebtedness of the Rairoad Co. now existing or which may be hereafter created in the renewal or extension thereof, or which may be hereafter created, etc." If these words mean that the Union Traction Co. was bound to extinguish your floating debts they must mean that it was bound to extinguish also your mortgage debts. We venture to say that it never entered the imagination of any one that any other obligation was intended than that of paying the interest on these debts and keeping them alive and protecting the property of your companies against their ultimate enforcement. The quick assets turned over by your companies to the Union Trac-tion Company went into the pockets of the stockholders of the North and West Chicago companies, or into the properties, either as dividends paid you in excess of the actual earning capacity of your properties, or as improvements and additions of which those proper-ties had the benefit. FORFEITURE OF LEASES UNWISE.—The suggested termination of the

FORFEITURE OF LEASES UNWISE. -The suggested termination of the amended leases by forfeiture has an alluring sound; but does it repre-sent any real advantage to your companies? The Union Traction Co. is an insolvent corporation, but its stockholders and creditors are to some extent recognized as men of weight and substance in the financial world. To put them in a position where they could not protect their investment, even in part, without incidentally securing to you a satisfactory income upon your stock, was a course which pre-viously commended itself to the judgment of substantially the entire body of stockholders. As stockholders of the North and West com-panies it appears to us still that it is an advantage which we cannot afford to reject. The protective committees allege that your respective companies will be enriched by $3,000,000 worth of stock, deposited with the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, if the leases can only be forfeited.

DEC. 51, 1904.] Iffer Children and the second state of the second

Reorganization as Viewed by Mr. Skitt.- Expert Alfred Skitt, for many years Vice-President and General Manager of the Manhattan (Elevated) Ry. of New York, writes to H. B. Hollins & Co., under date of Dec. 21, in substance:

H. B. Hollins & Co., under date of Dec. 21, in substance: Good RESULTS EXPECTED.—All investigations have made it abun-dantly clear to me that a reorganization and rehabilitation of these properties as a whole can be made under conditions which should satisfy the public requirements and produce a return upon the moneys already invested as well as upon the new investment. Preliminary to this there must, of course, be a solution, in or out of court, of the in-volved legal situation as to the franchise question, so that you and your associates having in charge the reorganization and rehabilitation of these properties will be safe in making the new and almost vast expenditure necessary to bring them up to a high state of efficiency.

or these properties will be safe in making the new and almost vast expenditure necessary to bring them up to a high state of (fildency. LARGE SUM NEEDED FOR REBUILDING.—This reconstruction should have taken place long ago. Disappointment to the stockholders will continue unless these properties are substantially reconstructed by discarding everything in the present railway system except the new equipment, which has been furnished under the administration of the court, and perhaps some of the track. The best results can be secured only if the properties be held together and improved as a whole. This, of course, involves not only a large new investment for reconstruc-tion, but the discharge of the floating debt and the receivers' certifi-cates, the properties of the several existing corporations to be bur-dened only with so much of the debt as is properly chargeable to them. Your reorganization plan should also provide between $11,500,000 and $17,500,000 (aside from any erpenditure on the Consolidated properties), to be spent on the North and West properties according as one or the other of the several rehabilitation plans we have dis cussed is adopted. With those amounts judicionaly invested there will be, in my judgment, a fair return upon the moneys to be invested and upon the moneys already invested; the fixed charges under the amended leases can be met, and something approximating the real values of these properties restored. EARNINGS DUBING RECEIVERSHIP NO CRITERION.—The result of values of these properties restored. EARNINGS DURING RECEIVERSHIP NO CRITERION.—The result of operations in the past, during the receivership, is no basis for any estimate of the future earnings of the properties. With the best man-agement possible, even under the administration of the court, the net earnings of these properties are steadily decreasing. The result could scarcely be otherwise. The operation of a street railroad partly by horses, partly by cable and partly by overhead traction, cannot work out successful results to the public or the private interests. The cable system is comparatively uneconomical, and even this is operated at a great disadvantage by reason of the fact that all repairs to it are in the nature of temporary expedients, because it is recogn zed that when the properties come to be reconstructed the cable plant must be discarded.

Consolidated TRACTION Co. MAY BE RETAINED ON PRESENT BASIS.—It is essential, too, that there should be preserved as part of the system to be rehabilitated, the "Consolidated" properties. Al-though, as you have explained to me, you have no interest in the Con-solidated properties, I am clearly of the view that the returns upon all the property when rehabilitated would be so large that the burden which would result from paying the present obligations under the arrangement whereby the Consolidated is part of the traction prop-erty to be reorganized would not be at all embarrassing.

erty to be reorganized would not be at all embarrassing. CONTROL OF CHICAGO CITY RX.—Your p'an of seeking to have the City Railway Co. made part of the combined properties must be re-garded as wise, even if this should involve the estimated outlay of netween 30 and 40 millions of dollars. I think that it would be feasible from an operating standpoint to operate these properties, with a few necessary restrictions, under the "one oity, one fare" idea. Such a result ought to go a long way to terminate the present differences with the city authorities.

ONE COEPORATION PREFERABLE.—If it be possible in the reorgan-ization, I think it would be most desirable to have one corporation operating all the property, not as lessee, but as owner. This would dispose of a great many complex questions.

Mr. Skitt ends by saying that if it be intended to do the work on comprehensive plans, he is willing to supervise the reconstruction and rebabilitation of these properties with a reconstruction and rebabilitation of these properties with a board of assistance and consultation very much as was done in the change from steam to electricity on the elevated railways in New York City.—V. 79, p. 2746, 2642. Cincinnati Dayton & Toledo Traction Co.—Proposed Lease.—The shareholders will vote Jan. 26 on leasing the property to the Northern Traction Co., recently incorporated at Columbus, O., with $500,000 capital stock; also on levying an assessment of $5 per share on the stock of the C. D. & T. The earnings of the past two years have been barely suffic-ient to pay operating expenses and interest on the bonded debt, making unavailable for necessary improvements the $1,500,000 each of treasury stock and bonds. The Northern Traction Co. will agree to pay the interest on the bonds, in-cluding those in the treasury, and also amounts available for small dividends on a sliding scale, with a contingent interest in gross earnings of over $1,200,000. The lessee in return for the $1,500,000 treasury bonds agrees to spend not less than the $1,500,000 freasing bonds agrees to spend not less than that amount upon the property within the next two years. If all of the stockholders do not pay the assessment either 6 per cent preferred stock or redeemable notes to the extent of $250,000 will be issued.-V. 79, p. 1266, 212.

City Railway, Wheeling, W. Va.—New Stock Authorized.— The shareholders at a meeting on Dec 15 voted to increase the capital stock from $400,000 to $1,000,000 and to extend the road to Bellaire via Benwood and to Martin's Ferry. The proposition to retire the $500,000 bond issue authorized last July and to make a new issue of $1,000,000 bonds it was de-oided not to act upon at the present time. Of the new stock only $150,000, it is stated, will be issued in the immediate future.—V. 79, p. 2587.

City Street Rallway of Memphis.—Franchise Granted by City Council.—The Legislative Council of the City of Mem-phis last spring voted to grant this company a franchise, but the terms were such that the company declined to accept it. The company recently announced its willingness to accept the franchise provided certain changes be made. The changes were adopted by the Council on Dec. 8 by a vote of 6 to 3.—See "Memphis Appeal" of Dec. 9 and 10.—V. 78. p. 1497.

Cleveland Electric Ry.-Decision.-See Forest City Ry. below.-V. 79, p. 2587, 2085.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh RR.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the $4.043,100 special guaranteed betterment stock. See V. 79, p. 2642, 2587.

Colorado & Southern Ry .- Voting Trust to End Early in 1905. — While no formal action has yet been taken, it is expected that the voting trust will be terminated early in the new year. — V. 79, p. 2147, 2085.

Delaware & Hudson Co.—Dividend Rate for 1905,—The managers have declared a dividend of 7 p. c. on the stock for the year 1905, payable in four quarterly instalments, the first payable March 15. This is the same rate as for the past four years.—V. 79, p. 2696, 786.

Eastern New York RR.-Reorganized Company.-See Ballston Terminal RR. above.

El Paso (Tex.) Union Passenger Depot.—Bonds.—The company has applied to the Texas Railroad Commission for authority to issue $340,000 bonds for the construction of the new Union Station at El Paso. Compare Union Depot Co., El Paso, Tex., in V. 78, p. 704.

Forest Citv St. Ry., Cleveland, Ohio.—Enjoined.—Judge Wing in the United States Circuit Court on Dec. 17 at the request of the Cleveland Electric Ry. granted a temporary injunction prohibiting this proposed 3-cent-fare line from en-tering upon Woodland Avenue, on the ground that the franchise of the old company thereon does not expire until Feb. 10, 1908.—V. 79, p. 2587.

Grand Trunk Pacific Ry.—Further Legislation Desired.— The company will apply to the Parliament of Canada at its next session for an Act to ratify the terms of the mortgages and securities of the company to be issued in aid of the con-struction of the Prairie Section and of the Lake Superior

Branch or Division. Guaranty Authorized.—The shareholders of the Grand Trunk Ry. Co. at their meeting last week voted:

Resolved, that the company, as part of the terms upon which it is to receive as fully paid the stock of the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. Co., guarantee the principal and interest of an issue not exceeding $7,-500,000 fifty-year 4 per cent gold bonds proposed to be created by the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. Co. as a first charge upon the Lake Superior branch line. Compare V. 79, p. 2537.-V. 79, p. 2642, 2587.

Bull, Chairman of the bondholders' committee under agreement of Aug. 11, 1904, gives notice to the depositors of Series A and B bonds by advertisement in several papers that an offer has been made for the purchase of the deposited bonds, which has been accepted by the com-mittee, and that a statement of said'[offer has been filed with the Central Trust Co. of New York. Dissenting holders may, until the close of business Jan. 18, 1905, withdraw the deposited bonds upon payment to the Central Trust Co. of the sum of $5 for each bond withdrawn. The aforesaid effer is the right to accept the plan of reor-ganization dated Nov. 12, 1904, as follows: The company will create a consolidated bond issue limited to ganization dated Nov. 12, 1904, as follows: The company will create a consolidated bond issue limited to $7,962,000, to be dated Oct. 1, 1904, to mature Oct. 1, 1934, with in-terest at 4 p. c. per annum, payable April 1 and Oct. 1, with option to company to redeem the whole outstanding issue on any interest day during the first ten years at par and interest. These bonds will be se-cured by mortgage to the Central Trust Oc. of New York upon the ex-isting railways, terminals and properties of the company and the lines hereafter constructed in respect to which bonds under said mortgage may be issued. The Canadian Northern Ry. Co. will guarantee the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds to the extent of $4,962,000.

The $7,962,000 new bonds will be issuable as follows:

- $4.662,000 300,000
- ... 3.000.000

"The company will pay and discharge the said terminal and postal bonds, the claims and liens upon its rolling stock and equipment, the claim and lien for balance of purchase money of its Louise Wharf property, forming part of its terminal property in the city of Quebec, and will pay, se-cure or otherwise adjust and arrange the general indebted-ness."-V. 79, p. 2697, 2642.

Illinois Tunnel Co., Chicago.—Directors.—The directors of the Illinois Tunnel Co., the operating company for the freight and telephone business of the Chicago Subway Co. (V. 79, p. 2587, 2454), will, it is announced, include with oth-ers the following:

payable to-day. See V. 77, p. 512. Alabama Consolidated Coal & Iron Co.—Reduction of Stock.—The company has filed a certificate reducing its com-mon stock from $3,500,000 to $2,500,000, and preferred stock from $2,500,000 to $1,250,000, by cancellation of the $1,250,000preferred and $1,000,000 common now in the treasury. leav-ing the total capital stock $3,750,(00), in shares of $100 each. This reduction was authorized by the shareholders on Nov. 23. Sale of Stock.—A large block of the capital stock (one ac-count saves a controlling interest), has been sold to a syndicate of New York and other capitalists. The sale, it is staved, in cludes all the common stock owned by the International Trust Co. of Baltimore, whose holdings on Nov. 30, 1904, embraced $001,800 common and $225,600 preferred. The identity of the purchasers is withheld. This fact has given rise to a report that they are acting in the interest of the consolidation of the Southern iron and steel properties, which has long been prijected. One of those participating in the transaction, however, asserts that it is an ordinary business proposition looking to a still larger development of the property, with F. G. Bush continuing as President.-V. 79, p. 2644, 105.

Chesapeake & Ohio Canal Co.—Sold.—The State of Maryland, in response to its request for proposals for³₂the purchase of its interest in this company's property, received two bids, one of $151,000 from the Baltimore & Ohio interests, and the other, for $155,000, from F. S. Landstreet, Vice-President of the Western Maryland RR. On Dec. 92 the Board of Public Works voted to accept Mr. Landstreet's offer, Governor Warfield and Comptroller Atkinson favoring the sale and Treasurer Vandiver, the other member dissenting.
The canal is being operated by trustees appointed by the court in the interest of the holders of the $1,699,500 bonds of 1844, which are a lien on the income but not on the corpus of the property. A large block of these bonds is owned by the B. & O. R. R. Co. As extended in April, 1901, the tenancy of the trustees will expire Jan. 1, 1906. Attorney General Bryan recently stated : "Whether or not the trustees of the bondholders of 1844 will be able to again convince the courts that it is proper and just to again postpone the sale of the canal after Jan. 1, 1906, and to permit the trustees of the bondholders of 1844 to retain still longer possession of the canal, for the purpose of satisfying the debts due by the canal company to these bondholders of 1844, it is impossible for any one to foretell" (see capitalization, etc., in V. 67, p. 1108).—V. 79, p. 1468, 682.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME FRIDAY NIGHT, December 30, 1904. The business week under review has been a short one, transactions not being resumed until Tuesday, Dec. 27, and many Excharges and prominent business houses suspended business from the close of business Friday evening, Dec. 30, until Tuesday morning, Jan. 3. Owing to the holiday character of the week, together with the fact that many merchants are now engaged in taking account of stock, only a comparatively small volume of new tusiness has been put tbrough. The feeling of confidence in the future outlook for business has continued general. Official figures published during the week show that the yields from the various crops of this country grown last season reached large figures, and added materially to the country's riches.

Lard on the spot has been quiet, and as there have been fair offerings prices have yielded slightly. The close was quiet at 7.10c. for prime Western and 6.50c. for prime City. Refined lard has had only a small sale and prices have been lowered to 7.15c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been dull and prices have shown a tendency to ssg, owing to the s'owness of the cash trade. The close was quiet ...

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been fairly active. The tendency of prices has continued downward, March delivery declining to 6.52c. and May to 6.66c. The feature of the week was the report of the Census Bureau showing the amount of cotton ginned to Dec. 13th large enough to indicate a total yield from the present crop of 12,750,000 bales. This was a larger total than the trade gen-erally expected, and resulted in renewed pressure to sell. Bear interests continued aggressive and discouraged speca-lative holders sold to liquidate their accounts. The decline in the market has carried prices to a point where many of the trade contend that they are below the cost of production. At any rate the advices received from the South report planters general'y refusing to sell their cotton, preferring to carry their holdings and await developments. To-day there was a steadier market. Bear interests in both the Liverpool and New York markets were reported buying to cover their con-tracts over the holidays, and a small "in sight" movement for the week had its in fluence in favor of values. The close was steady at a net gain for the day of 10@14 points. Cotton on the spot has declined, but the close was steady at a re-covery of 10 points from the low price. Middling uplands was quoted at 6.95c. The above statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned were collected through canvasees of the individual ginneries of the cotton States by local special agents of the Bureau of the Census, who found that 30,037 ginneries had been operated this season (against 29,971 in 1903) prior to Dec. 13, and that these nad ginned 12,109,823 running bales, or bales as pressed at the ginneries. Counting round as half bales, the number is 11,971,477. This report will be followed by two others, showing the quantity of cotton ginned from the growth of 1904 to January 16, and to the end of the season. Very respectfully, W. M. STEUART.

Very respectfully, W. M. STEUART, Chief Statistician for Manufactures.

Approved, S. N. D. NORTH, Director.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.-Advices from Fall River to-day are to the effect that at a meeting of the subor-dinate unions of the Textile Council this morning the men voted by a large majority to continue the strike.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &C.—The market for jute bagging has been very dull during the week under review, but prices are unchanged at  $6\frac{5}{8}2$ . for  $1\frac{3}{4}$  lbs. and  $6\frac{7}{8}2$ . for 2 lbs. stand-ard grades. Jute butts also very dull at  $1\frac{1}{2}$ @ $1\frac{1}{6}c$ . for paper ard grades. Jate butts also very dull at quality and 2@21/4 c. for bagging quality.

BREADSTUPPS.

FRIDAY, Dec. 3), 1904. A more active demand has been experienced for wheat flour, an upward tendency to values for the grain having a stimulating influence upon buyers, who have made fair purchases, and prices have been advanced 5@10c. per bbl. Kansas flours especially have been in increased demand, sales of goodeized lines being made at 5 40@5 50 for patents. Ryeflour has been firm but quiet. Buckwheat flour has had a limited Corn meal has been quiet and slightly sale at firm prices. easier.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been moderately active and there has been a fair advance in prices. Weather reports from the interior have had a builish influ-ence, they being considered unfavorable. Rains followed by a low temperature have been reported, and in some localities blizz rds have been experienced. The movement of the blizz irds have been experienced. The movement of the crop has fallen to very moderate figures and this too has had crop has fallen to very moderate figures and this too has had a bullish influence. The crop news from Argentina relative to the outlook for the new crop has been conflicting. On Thursday there was a weaker market during the fore part of the day, the final figures of the Agricultural Bureau showing a slightly larger crop grown the past season than expected. Subsequently, however, influenced by the improving statis-tical position, the world's visible supply of wheat showing a considerable decrease for the week, and good buying by Western elevator interests, prices advanced sharply. The spot market has been firmer but quiet. To-day prices for December delivery advanced on a "squeeze" of shorts, but other deliveries were easier under favorable weather reports. The spot market was firmer but quiet.

It has been found impracticable to make a definite estimate of the amount of wheat fit for milling, owing to the difficulty of drawing a hard and fast line between the millable and the non-millable. Reports, however, have been made on the average weight of wheat per bushel in the three principal spring-wheat States, and such average has been found to be 52 pounds in Minnesota, 51 pounds in North Dakota and 50 pounds in South Dubte. pounds in South Dakota. [Details of the various crops by States will be found in our

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE. New YORK, FRIDAY, P. M. December 30, 1904. Trading in the cotton goods market during the week has been of an entirely holiday character, and transactions have accordingly been very small. Jobbers have been occupied with their clearance sales prior to their annual stock taking, and have accordingly purchased only those goods that they have absolutely required, while converters have been afraid to operate in such a peculiar market as exists at present. The clearance sales generally have been a success, but the stocks in jobbers' hands have been so small that they have not enjoyed their usual importance. From all indications, second hands will commence the new year with extremely small supplies. Prices have held remarkably steady during the week, and practically no changes have occurred in quo tations, in spite of the astonishing figures of the cotton crop revealed by the ginners' report on Wednesday last. W th a crop practically assured 1,750,000 bales larger than ever before recorded, buyers have some reason to expect a mate-rial decline in the price of cotton goods; but so far this has before recorded, buyers have some reason to expect a mate-rial decline in the price of cotton goods; but so far this has in no way materialized, and there are no immediate indica-tions of its doing so. On the contrary, sellers are so con-vinced of the inherent strength of the situation on account of the small supplies and the sold-up condition of the mills that they have held their goods at the highest prices recently quoted. It would seem that these conditions are likely to prevail over the first of the year, and that accordingly busi-ness will remain extremely quiet. Woolen and worsted men's wear goods have been slightly advanced again during the week, and the volume of business has been satisfactory.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton gods from this port for the week ending  $D \in c$ . 26 were 3,285 packages, valued at \$204,785, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

NEW YORK TO DEC. 26.		1904.	1903.

Total	3,235	257,562	1,291	303,029

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $15,130,443 in 1904, against $14,982,989 in 1903. There has been practically no export business during the week, but it is reported on credible authority that several orders have been refused although the prices offered have been satisfactory, owing to the inability of agents to guaran-tee delivery before the summer months. These inquiries have been from Red Sea buyers, as for the moment China is out of the market. On heavy brown drills and sheetings sellers are growing increasingly independent as their stocks grow smaller and buyers are becoming more and more insistent in their demand for goods. The difficulty experienced in ob-taining delivery of goods is being brought home forcibly to the minds of buyers, and it is this fact that contributes more than experience of a college. Under the minds of buyers, and it is this fact that contributes more than anything else to the firmness of sellers. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that prices have held firm, although unchanged. Light-weight goods have been in smaller demand, but have still been firm at recent figures In bleached goods buyers are only operating in a hand-to-mouth manner, although the supply of low-grade goods is continually becoming scarcer. Coarse, colored goods have been particularly firm, and ticks and denims have enjoyed a commartively good demand. Conton finanels and cotton been particularly hrm, and ticks and denims have enjoyed a comparatively good demand. Canton flannels and cotton blankets have been slow with practically nothing doing, but prices remain unchanged. Kid-finished cambrics are in rather better request at unchanged prices. Staple and fancy prints are slow with only a poor demand, while staple and fine grades of ginghams are only in poor request, although unchanged in price. Print cloths are inactive with Eastern manufacturers for from eager sellers and mith Eastern manufacturers, far from eager sellers, and with regulars still quoted at 2%c.

WOOLEN GOODS. --As previously indicated, there have been WOOLEN GOODS.—As previously indicated, there have been still further advances in some of the heavy-weight lines of men's-wear fabrics which have already been opened, and the probabilities are that there will be still further ones before the season is closed. This fact seems to have im-pressed itself on the minds of buyers, for they have seized the opportunity of buying quickly and in very large volume in anticipation of just such advances as have been made dur-ing the week. So far, worsteds have been advanced rather ing the week. So far, worsteds have been advanced rather more in proportion than have woolens, but this has not caused buyers to forsake the former for the latter, as wor-steds at the present time have taken the popular fancy. The volume of buying up to the present time has caused some to think that there will be more than the usual number of can-cellations later on; but others see no cause for worrying on this score, in that the demand for woolen goods at the pres-ent time is quite equal to the supply, if not somewhat in excess, and what one buyer will not take another one will. Instances are occurring where manufacturers would even be glad if some of the orders already placed with them were canceled so that they could supply the needs of some of their other clients. Dress goods have been quiet during the week, but fall lines will soon be opened and an active season is anticipated.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS --There has been little doing in for-FOULIGN DRY GOODS — There has been little doing in for-eign woolen and worsted dress goods during the week, buyers still being principally concerned with the delivery of the goods already ordered. Linens have been firm and show some improvement. Silks also have been firm and fairly active. Ribbons quiet and steady. Burlaps steady and un-changed.

Chambersburg, Pa.-Sale of Electric Light Plant.- The following is taken from the Philadelphia "Public Ledger:"

CHAMBERSBURG, Dec. 6.—The Borough Council this evening accepted the bid of Charles Walter, representing the Chambersburg Light, Heat & Power Company, at $75,550, for the electric light plant which the borough has owned and operated at a loss for fifteen years. The company entered into a contract to light the streets of the town at $74.50 a year for each arc light, and also named prices for municipal and commercial lighting. An ordinance was adopted ratifying the sale.

Colorado.—Constitutional Amendments.—We have just been informed as to the official vote at the election Nov. 8, 1904, on the two Constitutional amendments. The vote on the first of these, that amending Sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of Ar-ticle VI., and relating to the judiciary, was 20,915 for and 12,880 against. The second, amending Section 3, Article X., by providing for the exemption from taxation of the personal property of the head of any family to the value of $300, car-ried by a vote of 42,696 to 10,444. Delaware.—Extra Session of State Legislature.—The State Legislature convened in extra session on Dec. 29 for the purpose of adjusting the judgment lien law. Superior, Wis.—Refunding Cperations.—Regarding the refunding operations of this city, which have been going on for some months, we have received the following from J. J. Surch, City Comptroller: Begarding the adjustment of the bonded debt of the city of Superior, Colorado .- Constitutional Amendments .- We have just

Surch, City Comptroller:
Regarding the adjustment of the bonded debt of the city of Superior, there has been taken up and paid $191,741 67, with accrued interest on same amounting to $30,521 39, for which the city has paid $124,-228 91. These bonds are not a general obligation of the city, but are payable from assessments levied against the property benefited. The city has collected on an average about 6.% of the assessments and paid the bonds at that rate.
Under Chapter 228 of the Laws of Wisconsin for the year 1903 general bonds have been refunded and time of payment extended for twenty years.
$272,000 and interest reduced from (% to $13%, $169,900 and interest reduced from i % and i % to 4%.
Negotiations are in progress for the refunding of more bonds, and it is almost certain that the entire bonded debt will shortly be refunded. See V. 79. p. 2107: also remarks and references in output.

See V. 79, p. 2107; also remarks and references in our STATE AND CITY Section for November, 1904, page 2348.
