PIN ST CORNER OF PEARL ST. NEW YORK.

REVIEW OF AUGUST.

The overshadowing event of the month was undoubtedly the agreement of the Japanese and Russian plenipotentiaries upon terms of peace at the Peace Conference at Portsmouth, N. H. And yet it cannot be said that this event had most influence upon affairs. For up to the very last moment the prospects of an agreement seemed very dubious, despite which fact the stock market displayed increasing strength and activity. Quite curiously, too, the actual announcement on Tuesday, August 29, that all differences between the contestants had been removed, while at first causing an upward spurt on the Stock Exchange, was on succeeding days followed by a reaction in the stock market, and finally by a severe break.

The chief influences underlying the strength in the stock market were the favorable promise in the agricultural world and the revival in the iron and steel trades, together with growing activity in other lines of trade and business. These, combined with the large additions to population [through immigration, constitute extremely satisfactory features in the situation. Peace between Japan and Russia was welcome (though to many the result would have been regarded more satisfactory if Japan had conceded less), but the potency of the event was chiefly in its sentimental effect, and when actual announcement of the settlement came, the favorable news was availed of by speculators to realize profits, besides which a Boston stock operator made a determined onslaught on the market.

Good crops and active trade are obviously considerations of the very highest importance. In the iron industry considerable curtailment of production occurred in June and July, and the appearance of buying orders in large numbers made it evident that the reaction in that industry was to be only temporary. The tone in the cotton goods trade also considerably improved, and this is one of the industries that had shown a lagging tendency when nearly every other line of business was enjoying great prosperity. The scarcity of available supplies of cotton goods has now become quite pronounced, and with buyers more and more insistent in their efforts to secure goods, great firmness in all jobbing lines developed. The price of print cloths advanced from $3\frac{3}{8}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ cents per yard.

The excellent grain prospects—indications pointing to one of the largest yields of corn and oats on record, with a wheat crop considerably larger than the short crop of last year—was reflected in receding prices for grain. September wheat in this market declined from 90⁵/₈ August 1 to 84¹/₈ Aug. 30, with the close August 31 85 cents. Corn and oats also declined.

One of the features of the month was the glowing accounts regarding the copper trade. The metal had shown great strength for a long time past, and now the price further advanced, touching 17 cents a pound. Amalgamated Copper and all the other copper stocks and also the shares of the smelting companies felt the beneficial influence. This lasted until the very close of the month, when a Boston stock operator published advertisements in the newspapers announcing that he had organized a $10,000,000 pool to depress prices on the Stock Exchange, and particularly the price of Amalgamated Copper, and declaring that a great break in the price of the metal was imminent. On the 31st he followed this up by a bear attack on the Stock Exchange, under which prices yielded all around.

With reference to the Russo-Japanese Peace Conference, all the indications seemed to point to the failure of the negotiations, and it was only through the personal efforts of President Roosevelt, in appealing to the Czar and the Mikado, that success was finally achieved. The Russian Commissioners agreed to recognize the preponderating interest of Japan in Corea, agreed that Russia should evacuate Manchuria and should transfer to Japan its leasehold in the Liaotung Peninsula, including Port Arthur and Dalny, and also agreed to transfer to Japan the railroad between Port Arthur and Kunshien, and furthermore agreed to grant to the Japanese certain fishing rights on the Siberian coast. The Russian Commissioners, however, refused four other conditions demanded by Japan, namely (1) that Russia should reimburse Japan for the cost of the war, (2) that the Russian naval strength in the Far East should be limited, (3) that the Russian warships interned at various neutral ports be turned over to Japan, and (4) that Russia cede the Sakhalin Island to Japan. On these four points the conferees of the two countries became deadlocked, and repeated adjournments were taken to prevent an open rupture. Finally, on instructions from the Mikado, the Japanese Commissioners gave way on all points except that the Sakhalin Island is to be divided between the two countries, Russia retaining the northern half and Japan getting the southern half.

The money market was firmer. Increased speculation on the Stock Exchange caused an advance in the rate for call loans, while there was a better demand for time loans induced by expectations that the outflow of money to the interior might reach considerable proportions, owing to the magnitude of the agricultural harvest. This demand for time loans, however, was mainly for short contracts which would carry the borrowers over into November.

The course of the foreign exchange market during the month was rather irregular, prices moving alternately up and down, with no well-defined tendency to the market. One feature was liberal drawings of new finance bills and renewals of those which were about maturing, the firmer money market here encouraging such operations. On occasions a good supply of security bills, representing purchases of American railroad properties for European account, was also noted.

On the other hand, whenever there was a recession in exchange rates a demand for bills appeared for the transfer to London of Japanese funds remaining here out of the proceeds of the Japanese loan negotiated last April. The balance of that loan, it will be remembered, when turned over by the syndicate, was temporarily placed in this market on call with banks and trust companies.

The course of the stock market has been outlined in a general way in what has been said above. It remains to add that activity and buoyancy with large advances in prices were the prevailing characteristics until the last two days of the month. At first the high-priced shares were most prominent in the rise, and here some phenomenal advances were recorded, but later the whole market participated. The anthracite coal shares were taken in hand and whirled up with great rapidity, Reading common moving up from 103¹/₂ August 2d to 125³/₄ August 24, Delaware & Hudson from 193 August 2d to 225 August 22d, Lackawanna from 424¹/₂ August 1st to 470 August 11th and Central of New Jersey from 202¹/₂ August 2d to 220 August 10th. Among other stocks New York Central sold up to 156¹/₂ from 146¹/₂, Great Northern to 326 from 287, Union Pacific to 138³/₈ from 129¹/₂, Northern Pacific to 216 from 204, etc., etc. In the break which occurred the last two days of the month, a part of these advances was lost. United States Steel stocks were strong throughout on the revival in the iron trade, and the common stock advanced from 34³/₄ on the 2d to 37⁷/₈ August 29th and closed August 31st at 36³/₈. Amalgamated Copper, which was made the special object of attack at the close of the month, after selling up from 83⁵/₈ August 5th to 88³/₄ August 24th, dropped the last day to 82³/₈, recovering later to 83¹/₂.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.
2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of August. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.
3. Bond prices marked (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the price flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.
4. Stock prices marked (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.
5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz: "M." for mortgage, "g." for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end." for endorsed, "cons." for consolidated, "conv." for convertible, "s.f." for sinking fund, "l.g." for land grant, "op." for optional.
7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
