REVIEW OF OCTOBER.

Doubtless the most momentous event of the month, both in its immediate effect and its future consequences and possibilities, was the social and political upheaval in Russia. Labor troubles broke out all over the Czar's dominion and they had a political object in view. Strikes seem to have occurred in all branches of trade and lines of business, paralyzing for the time being all the ordinary activities of the people. The whole population, apparently, participated in the movement. The transportation lines throughout the Empire were almost completely tied up, but especially those in Southern Russia and in the vicinity of St. Petersburg and Moscow. One effect of this situation was to bring about a rise in grain prices in our markets on the theory that the shipments of grain for export from Russia must necessarily be greatly reduced, if not entirely stopped. Another consequence was the postponement of the negotiations for the new Russian loan, the preparations for which had been such an influence in the money markets of the world for many weeks past.

The outcome of the Russian labor troubles and the political agitation connected therewith was that the Czar Nicholas II. on October 30 signed a decree granting a Constitution and giving the Russian people authority to take part in the government of the Empire. Under the decree the previously-created State Douma is endowed with real legislative powers and it is provided that no laws shall be enforceable without the approval of the same. Guaranties are also extended of freedom of conscience, speech, union and association, and the inviolability of the person.

The monetary tension, which was such a feature of financial affairs the previous month, showed some relaxation in the United States, but was not relieved to any extent at the European centres. Early in the month the Bank of Germany advanced its discount rate from 4 to 5%, and through the remainder of the month there were constant fears lest a further advance to 6% might be found necessary and also that the Bank of England might be obliged to raise its minimum from 4 to 5%. This course was averted in both instances, but while there was no change in the Bank rates, open market rates at all the European centres steadily advanced. At London the quotation October 31 for open market discounts of bank bills was 4@4½%; at Paris it was 2½@3%, and at Berlin and Frankfort 4¼%. In this last case the quotation at one time was 4¾@4½%. The bullion holdings of the Bank of England were further reduced very heavily, in part as the result of exports to Egypt and other countries and in part owing to shipments to the interior of Great Britain.

The New York money market, as already stated, relaxed to some extent. Early in the month the call loan rate on several successive days touched 8%, but later the tendency was towards lower figures. On the 16th the payment of the balance due, amounting to about $20,000,000, on the final instalment for the Japanese bonds negotiated the previous July, and the prompt loaning out of the money, occasioned a fall in the call loan rate to 3%. After the 20th the range was from 3 to 4½%, though at the very close there was again an advance to 4@5½%. Surplus reserves of the Clearing House banks October 7 were down to $4,286,175, but rapidly recovered in the next two weeks, and October 28 were $12,430,925.

In our cotton market there were again wide fluctuations. For middling uplands in this market the quotations Oct. 1 and Oct. 31 were the same, 10.75 cts; in the period intervening, however, the price was at 9.85 cents October 17. The early decline was due to the fact that the monthly report of the Government Agricultural Bureau at Washington was better than had been expected and the subsequent recovery was due to the holding back of cotton by planters, to advices of frost in some sections of the South, and finally to the report issued October 25 by the Census Bureau showing only 4,940,728 bales of cotton ginned to October 18 1905, against 6,417,894 bales in the corresponding period of the previous season.

The price of print cloths at Fall River was advanced from 3½ to 3⅝ cents per yard, and there were important developments regarding the labor situation at the mills in Fall River. On October 17 the Secretary of the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association announced to the mill operatives that an advance in wages of 5% beginning Monday October 23 had been decided upon. Also that a system of profit-sharing had been devised which would give the operatives a further advance, dependent upon the margin of profit that the manufacturers might make. Mr. M. C. D. Borden, however, posted notices at the Iron Works Mills announcing that the wages of operatives at those mills would be restored to the scale in force prior to January 23 1905, equivalent to an increase slightly in excess of 14%. The operatives at the other mills thereupon expressed dissatisfaction with the proposition made to them and the possibility of a strike was presented. On October 30 a new proposition understood to give an advance of somewhat less than 9% was offered, and this the unions were to consider November 1.

The course of our foreign exchange market was completely reversed. Early in the month engagements of gold for import were still being made. The latter part of the month there was discussion of the possibility of gold exports—such had been the advance in rates in the interval. This rise in sterling was caused to a great extent by the demand for exchange occasioned by the maturity of large amounts of finance bills for which no provision for cover had been made. These finance bills were issued originally with the expectation that it would be possible to cover them at maturity at lower rates of exchange as the result of a free export movement of cotton and other staples. Cotton exports, however, were on a much smaller scale than in 1904. The relaxation in the monetary tension at this centre and the maintenance of firm rates for discounts abroad contributed to the strong tone of exchange. The supply of commodity bills was relatively small while such bankers' drafts as came upon the market in the regular course of business were in limited volume. The last two days of the month sterling again declined, and the market closed weak, owing to the fact that the postponement of negotiations for the Russian loan induced liberal offerings of new finance bills.

An incident of the month which excited wide interest in financial and railroad circles was an interview with Mr. E. H. Harriman in which Mr. Harriman is quoted as having made the following statement: "I think that we are about to run into an era of competitive railroad building, as we have gone through an era of competitive buying."

The course of the stock market was decidedly irregular, some stocks showing a decline for the month and others an advance. The volume of business was not very large, though on the whole the market showed a broadening tendency with the development of easier monetary conditions here. The state of things in Russia naturally suggested caution, and the remark attributed to Mr. E. H. Harriman and quoted just above with reference to the possibility of an era of competitive railroad building also had a quieting influence. Metropolitan Street Railway and Metropolitan Securities were weak features and American Hide & Leather shares declined sharply on the suspension of dividends on the preferred stock. On the other hand, many of the high-priced stocks made further advances, to the highest figures of the year, and the car equipment properties likewise displayed a rising tendency. The orders for new equipment by the railroads were on an enormous scale and the iron and steel trades continued active in the extreme.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1905. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 3, 1905," were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1905. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

For foot notes to tables see last page of Bonds and last page of Stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF— BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of October. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked ($) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the price flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz: "M." for mortgage, "g." for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end." for endorsed, "cons." for consolidated, "conv." for convertible, "s.f." for sinking fund, "l.g." for land grant, "op." for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
