THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

This has been a week of marvels, so far as New York Stock Exchange affairs are concerned. There have been other occasions when money has touched even higher rates, but never when the speculation in stocks has gone on almost without interruption, security prices continuing even on the upward move while 100% was being paid for call loans. The advance in money rates gave the public a sharp warning of its inevitable periodicity on Tuesday with the opening of business at the Exchange after the Christmas holiday. Call money was run up that day until it loaned at 40%, closing at 35% bid and 40 asked, though probably 20% would cover the average rate for the day. But the more surprising circumstance was that at the same time stocks were booming and only a trifle depressed by the extreme stringency as the business on the Exchange neared its last half hour. Of course every one had expected and the body of brokers had prepared for moderately higher rates. The exceptions are very few when the last days of the old year and the first weeks or more of the new are not attended by rising money. Besides, on this occasion the monetary conditions were assumed to be more ominous than the ordinary surroundings at the holiday season for a good many years, and gave rise to more serious forebodings.

The crisis Tuesday was not only attended by the customary calling in of loans in preparation for the 1st of January interest and dividend payments, but instead of an inflow of currency from the interior following the advance in rates, demands on this monetary center were a conspicuous feature from almost every direction. A general belief was that the supplies of loanable funds held by our associated banks had been lessened through the withdrawal of moneys by the trust companies to enable them to make a good showing in their report to the State Department called for the 1st of January. There were no evidences of such a movement, though it would not be surprising if preparations for that statement were in some measure a factor in the combination of influences leading to the extreme rates. However that may have been, there were obvious other special causes increasing the tension. Money, in face of the extremely active home demand, appeared to be on the wing. The South and West wanted it. The Sub-Treasury records showed that seven hundred thousand dollars had already been transferred to New Orleans, four hundred thousand on Tuesday and three hundred thousand on the previous Saturday; while the excess of Government revenue had taken from bank reserves and left in the Sub-Treasury another considerable item. Concurrently many amounts were shipped from this point to Chicago and other large Western centres, exchange running against New York throughout that entire section. This tendency in the currency movement was very likely in some degree added to by the failure of three small banks at Memphis. The close of these institutions would have been of no influence outside of the locality of their organization at an ordinary time, but following the Chicago affair, and coming at a moment when nearly all sections were drawing money from New York, the event touched a chord in harmony with the general sentiment and trend.

All these facts relate to the developments on the first day of this monetary spasm. It has been seen that, in the face of hostile money rates, the Stock Exchange market opened after the holiday with renewed energy and dash. Christmas broke the week, but did not in any degree lessen or stay the speculative eagerness or spirit. On the contrary, new happenings seemed to have paved the way Wednesday morning for a fresh spurt, so that prices of securities took a further upward turn, coupled with renewed activity. The more prominent and leading sensation was the movement in copper stocks, started apparently on the basis of an advance of 87½ cents a share in the quarterly dividend of the Anaconda Company (equal to $3 50 annually), accompanied by a repetition of the statement that a "20-foot vein of rich copper had been found in the Anaconda mine." Another incident was the announcement of the merger of the traction lines which step at first took possession of the fancy of the speculative class as meaning new security issues, which the Street usually interprets as synonymous with higher dividends; though later, when the basis of the merger was more fully disclosed, this effort to hang a hope on the transaction was no longer feasible, the merger being interpreted much less favorably. But aside from these and other stories put afloat, a feeling had been encouraged among the speculative leaders that the money stringency would last but a few days, and when that gulf was bridged there would come a period of abundance of money, giving opportunity for all the fruits of the speculation to be gathered in. Wednesday's money market for a time seemed to extinguish this hope among at least a large number of the weaker holders. There was no panic nor signs of a panic, but as renewals of call loans at the start could not be obtained by borrowers under 30 to 40%, and as the figures began to move up, reaching at length 95%, large blocks of stocks were thrown upon the market at very material declines. Thursday money moved up still higher to 125%, attended, however, not only by a reaction to better prices for stocks, but a reported corner in Anaconda—a comparatively easy undertaking, inas much as the Amalgamated Company holds more than half that stock. Shortly before the market closed there was a decline to 6% for call loans, due to a persistent rumor that Secretary Shaw had deposited in Western banks $20,000,000 of Government money. Yesterday the stock speculation was less excited and the money market lower—the extreme for money being 75 and 25%.

It is noteworthy that speculative operations in foreign exchange have, during the past two months, been more extensively conducted than has ever been observed heretofore. Such operations have been effected with the object of taking advantage of more or less tense local monetary conditions as they developed; sometimes, though, and especially recently, such conditions have apparently been artificially created for the purpose of exerting an influence upon exchange advantageously to the interests of those engaged in speculative operations therein. Among the parties who have been most active in speculation in exchange are reported to be managers of departments of banking establishments and other than foreign bankers—who conduct a strictly exchange business—these operators enjoying facilities, through connection with correspondents abroad, for that manipulation of the market which would be most effective for their purpose.

In conducting their operations, these bankers would, for example—when exchange rates were high, as the result of a special demand, which was likely soon to abate, or because of temporarily lower rates for money here than abroad—make speculative sales of sight exchange in the expectation of re-buying the same when, through their liberal offerings of such drafts, rates fell. If the operation seemed to be advantageous, re-buying of the exchange thus sold might be deferred until just previous to the presentation to the drawee of the sight bill; then cover therefor would be effected with cables. Operations of the character described are usually conducted for the sole advantage of the banker engaging therein.

When—as has been the case recently—money rates in New York have been relatively higher than abroad, and it has been desirable to transfer hither foreign capital for use in our market, sight exchange would be speculatively sold in the manner above noted when it was high, and cover would be obtained therefor, either through sight or cables, as was most desirable, when rates fell; the proceeds of the bills in that case would be loaned either on the market or to individual operators therein. In this way, it is asserted, very much of the money employed in the bull speculation in stocks has been obtained.

Sometimes these speculative operations have seemed likely to be deranged through unexpected monetary or exchange developments resulting from temporary unsettled conditions either here or abroad; in such cases there might be an overbought or an oversold market, involving the operators in loss. The latter condition seemed to exist last week, resulting in an urgent demand for cable transfers for the purpose of meeting sight drafts then in transit, which would be presented to the drawee immediately before the end of the year. These speculative operations have a deranging influence, according to their magnitude, making difficult calculations based upon supply or demand. But they have been generally profitable to the operators and participants therein, and therefore they will doubtless continue.

One of the promising developments of the week has been the conference between officials of the railroads from all over the country and the Inter-State Commerce Commission at Washington. At a recent meeting in Chicago the representatives of practically all the lines West of Chicago, from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, adopted the following resolution: "That a joint committee representative of lines in Western Trunk Line Committee, the Trans-Missouri Freight Bureau, Southwestern Tariff Committee, and the Trans-Continental Freight Rate Committee, be appointed and instructed to wait upon the Inter-State Commerce Commission; declare the desire and purpose of the respective members of said committee or bureaus to co-operate with the Commission in the enforcement of the law to the extent of pointing out ways and means, and giving the Commission any specific information that may come to our knowledge which will lead to effective inquiry in uncovering unlawful practices." The conference with the Commission at Washington this week was in pursuance of the policy here outlined. The purpose of the joint committee provided by the resolution in calling upon the Commission was to assure that body of the united and determined disposition of the lines represented to conform to the law in good faith and in every respect and to aid the Commission in its enforcement. Pledges to this effect were given by all those present, with the further promise to report every illegal transaction which may come to the knowledge of the officials or of which they may have well-grounded suspicion.

According to our way of thinking, this is proceeding in the right direction and much good should result from the effort. Hitherto the railroads have hardly been as zealous as they might have been, it seems to us, in taking action to eradicate the rebating evil, while the Inter-State Commerce Commission, on its part, appears to have been wholly indifferent—its attention being given chiefly to other matters. If, now, the two shall co-operate, a long step forward will have been taken to remove unlawful practices of this kind, which constitute about the only real ground of complaint against the railroads. The Commission has sent out an account of the conference and we notice it speaks rather guardedly of the results to be expected. Pains are taken to declare that the conference was not sought by the Commission; still the Commission regards its purpose as "legitimate and commendable." The Commission also states that the visit was not unwelcome and that there is no reason to doubt the sincerity of the movement or its practical value. That it will result in the complete discontinuance of wrongful practices is deemed too much to expect, for time alone, we are told, will test the degree of its usefulness; a marked improvement, however, in the observance of tariff rates, it is thought, may fairly be anticipated. The Commission closes its account of the conference with these words: "If the promised co-operation is actually and continuously afforded, the payment of rebates and the granting of secret advantages will, it is hoped, be reduced to a minimum." For ourselves we have no hesitation in saying that railroad officials, now that they have become aroused concerning the matter, will leave no efforts unspared to root out the evil. This done, what is called the "railroad problem" will have been in large measure solved—and that, too, without extra legislation.

Tabulations which have been made public this week reporting the amount of new railroad track laid during the calendar year now approaching its close bear out the expectations that railroad building would be found to have progressed on a more active scale than for some time past. According to the records kept by the "Railway Age" of Chicago, the new mileage of 1905 exceeds that of 1904 by over 700 miles, and this, too, notwithstanding the fact that the track laid during the first half of the year was 653 miles less than that recorded for the first six months of 1904—from which one gets an idea of how energetic work has been the past six months. The "Age" reports 4,979 miles of track laid in the United States during the calendar year, on 337 lines in 45 States and Territories. In addition, our contemporary states, several hundred miles have been graded and track is being laid on many lines as the year closes. It is pointed out that, while for a good many years past the Southwestern States have furnished a larger percentage of new mileage than any other group of States, the scene of active construction operations appears now to be shifting to the Northwest. With the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul headed for the Pacific Coast, with the new Gould line (the Western Pacific) already under construction, from Salt Lake City to San Francisco, and with the many new lines planned by the Harriman and Hill systems, the Western and Northwestern States are evidently destined to witness bustling activity the next few years. Attention is also directed to the fact that a considerable percentage of the track laid during 1905 has been in sections which already were well supplied with railways, a circumstance which is indicative of the era of unprecedented prosperity which the country has been, and still is, enjoying.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week, and unofficial, or open market, rates were, compared with last week, $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% lower at London, $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% higher at Paris, and 1% lower at Berlin and Frankfort. The news from St. Petersburg indicating that the Russian Government, through its vigorously repressive measures, had succeeded in crushing the revolutionary outbreak, at least at Moscow, inspired confidence at the Continental centres of an eventual restoration of order; consequently there was a sharp recovery on these bourses in Russian securities. One feature was a fall in exchange at Paris on London to the very low rate of 25 francs $7\frac{1}{2}$ centimes, which resulted in large shipments of gold from the British to the French capital; this fall in Paris exchange was, however, due to operations incident to the participation of French bankers in the Argentine loan. The Imperial Bank of Germany reported, in its weekly statement, a gain of nearly £1,500,000 cash, probably reflecting receipts of gold from Russia; this most likely accounted for the fall, as above noted, in open market discounts at Berlin and Frankfort.

The feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the very slight changes in all the items compared with the previous week. Loans increased $1,543,100, deposits were augmented by $1,139,900 and the cash reserve showed a net gain of $483,300. The surplus reserve was increased by $198,325, to $4,159,400. The bank statement of this week should reflect, among other items, the shipment of $1,200,000 to Mexico to pay for silver bought on London account, and the transfer of $800,000 through the Sub-Treasury to New Orleans. The suspension, on Wednesday, of the Merchants' Trust Company, the American Savings Bank & Trust Company and the Mechanics' Savings Bank of Memphis, caused the shipment hence of $1,250,000 currency. Bankers here who are familiar with the facts regard these suspensions as of comparatively little importance and unlikely to have a disturbing effect even upon centres in the Southwest.

There was increased tension in the call loan branch of the money market this week, which resulted in the recording of a rate of 125% on Thursday—the highest since December 22 1899, when the maximum was 186%. The monetary tension this week has grown out of the comparatively low bank reserves, the indications being that through the further withdrawals of currency the cash holdings of the banks might be so far reduced as to cause a deficiency, besides other influences referred to above. The high record was made in the morning of Thursday, soon after the day's renewals had been effected; in the afternoon there was a feverish fall to 6% after the hour at which deliveries are required to be made. This decline to 6% was due to persistent rumors that Mr. Shaw would intervene for the relief of the market. After the close of business it was said that a private telegram from Chicago to a New York banker confirmed the above rumors, stating that $10,000,000 public funds would be deposited in banks at Chicago, $5,000,000 at St. Louis and $5,000,000 at Louisville. It is reported that while the excessively high rates were ruling on Wednesday and Thursday, large sums of money were received from near-by cities, notably Philadelphia and Boston, for employment in our market. It is also stated that many individuals having large balances with their banks, or other depositaries, withdrew them in order directly to effect loans on the market.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned on the Stock Exchange during the week at 125% and at 6%, averaging about 40%; banks and trust companies generally loaned at the current market rates. On Tuesday loans were at 40% and at 12%, with the bulk of the business at 15%. On Wednesday transactions were at 95% and at 25%, with the majority at 40%. On Thursday loans were at 125% and at 6%, with the bulk of the business at 50%. On Friday transactions were at 75% and at 25%, with the majority at 40%. Time contracts on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were quoted at 6@6 $\frac{1}{2}$ %—the latter representing the legal rate, plus a commission—for sixty days, 6% for ninety days to four months, and 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ % for five to six months; little business was reported. Commercial paper rates were entirely nominal at 6% for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 6% for prime and 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @7% for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 4%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ @3 $\frac{7}{8}$ %. The open market rate at Paris is 3 $\frac{1}{8}$ @3 $\frac{1}{4}$ % and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ %. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £1,444,581 bullion during the week and held £28,530,251 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to imports of £6,000 (wholly from Australia), to exports of £250,000 (of which £50,000 to South America and £200,000 to the Continent), and to shipments of £1,201,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was dominated almost wholly this week by the domestic monetary situation. The urgent demand for cables to remit for the settlement of maturing obligations—including sight drafts which had been speculatively sold and that would be presented to the drawees this week—was the feature of the market on Saturday of last week. On Tuesday the development of local monetary tension caused a fall in rates for all classes of exchange, and, in the absence of demand for remittance, the London market being closed, and also because bankers generally preferred to employ their funds in call loans rather than buy bills, rates fell heavily and the market closed at about the lowest, even cables, which were in request early in the day, having little support. On Wednesday the market was unsettled and lower, influenced by monetary tension, and about the only demand was for cables for remittance for the end of the year requirements and for the adjustments incident to the London Stock Exchange semi-monthly settlement. On Thursday the early advance in call money rates to 125% seemed temporarily to have a paralyzing effect upon exchange and during the morning buying for cash, at important concessions, was the principal feature; in this way some unusually cheap exchange was secured, long as low as 4 81½ and sight at 4 85. Cables were, however, in good request. In the afternoon the relaxation in money rates stimulated activity and the tone was firm at the close. On Friday the feature was a fall in cables, the demand therefor having been satisfied.

Nominal quotations for sterling exchange are 4 83@ 4 83½ for sixty-day and 4 86½@4 87 for sight. On Saturday of last week the market was moderately active, with cables in demand at an advance, compared with the previous day, of 15 points, to 4 8775@4 8785; short was 5 points lower at 4 8630@4 8635 and long was unchanged. On Tuesday the market was weak at a decline of 30 points for long, to 4 8280@4 8290, of 50 points for short to 4 8580@4 8590 and of 85 points for cables to 4 8690@4 87. On Wednesday the tone was unsettled and lower with a fall of 80 points in long to 4 82@4 8225, of 55 points in short to 4 8525@4 8535 and of 20 points in cables to 4 8670@ 4 8680. On Thursday long declined 40 points to 4 8160@4 8180, short 5 points to 4 8525@4 8530, while cables were 45 points higher at 4 8715@4 8725. The market was irregular on Friday, with long 30 points higher and short 15 points and cables 65 points lower.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.
b The Austro-Hungarian Bank statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of in Gulden and Kreuzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 50 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

THE POLITICAL FUTURE OF RUSSIA.

The events of the past week have made it increasingly evident that the Russian Government still has the power to subdue mob violence exerted in the interest of anarchy. In their lack of any intelligent program or policy, and in their manifest readiness to resort to any extremes in order to annoy those who would not adopt the doctrine of anarchy offhand, the leaders of the latest Russian uprising have lost ground so rapidly that they may now be pronounced defeated. Full restoration of order is always slow after popular insurrection; but the facts that the insurgent leaders have notoriously failed in all their purposes and predictions of the week, and that even news dispatches which have heretofore tended to exaggerate the situation now describe the contest as guerilla warfare, speak for themselves.

The crucial point, no doubt, was reached when the loyalty of the army was put to a test. Despite some scattered demonstrations of mutiny, it was plain that the Russian soldiery as a whole remained faithful to its leaders. The probability is that the stolid temperament of the class from which the Russian army is recruited, its habit of passive obedience, and the instinct of discipline common to pretty much all organized armies, have prevailed over the attempts of revolutionary agents. Had there been in the field a strong and popular general, ambitious for the dictatorship, events might have taken a different course. But as matters moved, it soon became evident that a regiment which mutinied would be virtually isolated, would have no leader, and would simply, like all the previous naval and military insurgents, fall a victim to its own lack of union with the rest of the Russian army.

As the end of this stage of the Russian insurrection approaches, the question arises with new interest, What will be the outcome of the whole agitation? Events have moved with such rapidity during the past few months that the landmarks of the constitutional movement of last summer are now advanced to a point which no one then imagined they would reach. This is made evident by the new electoral law gazetted at St. Petersburg last Tuesday, which enlarges immensely the franchises to be conceded to the Russian people. There were several obvious disadvantages in the constitutional grant made by the Czar in his manifesto of last August. One of these objections, pointed out by Prince Kropotkin in his recent "Review of the Revolution in Russia," was the entire inequality of the suffrage. Under the system outlined, he asserts, the City of St. Petersburg, with its population of nearly 1,500,000 and its immense wealth, would have only about 7,000 qualified electors, and other large cities of 200,000 to 700,000 inhabitants would be allowed a body of electors comprising only a couple of thousand, or in some cases only a few hundred. As for the 90,000,000 peasants, Prince Kropotkin calculates that the purport of the proposed constitution would be to reduce their participation in the franchise to a few thousand men electing a handful of deputies. The Russian workingmen, he adds, including nearly 4,000,000 citizens, would be wholly excluded from a share in the political life of the country.

There have been numerous suggestions since of a modification of this unequal plan of suffrage, but this week's manifesto overcomes most of the criticisms above recited. As stated in the dispatches, workmen in the factories and mills are specially provided for as voters, while suffrage is extended to every owner of real estate paying taxes, persons conducting business enterprises, persons paying a lodge tax or occupying a separate lodging, and persons in the Government service, including railroad men. It is stated that all limit of rent which must be paid by a lodger in order to secure the voting right is to be removed. On the face of things, this would appear to establish a suffrage rather more extensive than that of the English citizen. The first impression on the reader's mind, indeed, is that the grant is so extensive as to raise on general principles some doubts of its practical wisdom. It is possible to go too far in concessions even to the demand for public liberty, when a nation in Russia's peculiar present position is concerned. But this part of the problem Russian statesmen are likely to judge according to the necessities of the hour. What is clear is that we shall have in Russia neither a slowly organized constitution like that of England, nor a compromising constitution of checks and balances, such as our own. Whether it will leave the electors peculiarly subject to the domination of the centralized administration, as is the case in France, or their Parliament a body torn with local feuds, like that of Austria, is a question which the future must determine.

As a problem in politics, the chief interest in the new voting system of the Russian people will no doubt converge on the question, how far absolute legislative rights, including control over the public purse, will be granted to the new Russian Parliament. So far as we can see, the proclamation of this week makes no reference to any such extension of its powers. Apparently it is still the purpose of the Government that the Douma, or National Parliament, was to remain merely advisory in its nature, with the power to obstruct but with very little constructive power. This is the serious question of the present movement. During the last few weeks the world has been watching demonstrations by the Russian labor unions and by the violent type of anarchists. It has still to reckon with the so-called "intellectualists," a body of no little force and power, which understands exactly how much and how little of real guaranty of popular self-government a parliament under conditions as proposed would be.

It seems to us to be at least reasonable to conclude that no backward steps from the present Imperial concessions to the people will be taken. The time for that was when anarchy first undertook to overthrow public order, and when the Reactionary Party demanded that the Czar commit his fortunes to their hands. Had he done so, dismissing Witte and restoring the old court party to its former power, the fight would have begun again between autocracy and the people. The Czar has chosen another path, and by his last concession has already given hostages to fortune. What concerns the friends of popular government in Russia now is to watch the Moderate Party and sustain it in its determination to keep, and from time to time enlarge, the privileges which it has extorted from the Czar. "To this end," as Webster said in his description of the progressive overthrow of despotism by constitutional freedom, "all that could be gained from the imprudence, snatched from the weakness or wrung from the necessities of crowned heads has been carefully gathered up, secured and hoarded, as the rich treasures, the very jewels of liberty." The Czar has learned what is now the alternative to straightforward recognition of the legitimate demands of the constitutional party among his subjects, and the new representatives will have learned their rights and power. The steadfast attitude of the popular delegations summoned by the Czar, in insisting, to the face of royalty, on the granting of the full measure of their legitimate demands, is the best promise that this coming problem will be rightly dealt with.

PAST EXPERIENCE OF FEDERAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR CORPORATIONS.

Passing consideration of the legality of any general law making the Federal Government the source and conservator of all corporations, note what may be learned from the character of the use hitherto made by the Government of such supervision and powers as are already within its trust. If one were sure of absolutely honest, impartial and able treatment from all future Federal governments, Federal control of insurance companies and other great corporations would be more widely endorsed, and would be advocated by many who prefer, as it is, to take the risks of honesty, efficiency and impartiality in State and local control. This statement is of course a truism, but the matter is much argued to-day as if the fair comparison were between the present local control with its failures and successes on the one hand and the utmost success hoped for by the promoters of untried schemes of Federal control on the other side. And such a truism may help to clarify the issue.

Something more can be accomplished by an exposition of the present results where the national Government is responsible, as shown in the corporation laws in force to-day in those parts of the United States which are wholly under the control of Congress. It would be fair, we think, to include in such an exposition the corporation laws of the Dakotas, which took their form in territorial times. But to be exact as well as fair, we include only such laws as have been within the control of Congress since the present Administration came into power. There are to-day five Territories—New Mexico, Arizona, Alaska, Oklahoma and Hawaii. In a different class belong the Philippines and Porto Rico, but none the less under Congress. Last, but not least, the District of Columbia is permanently under the entire control of Congress. What, then, has been the experience of the country with this kind of Federal control, and what does the past lead us reasonably to expect from Congress in the future, either in the way of a wise exercise of power by itself or in delegation to territorial authorities under wise safeguards?

Something may perhaps be said against interference by Congress in the affairs of the Territories proper, which must be temporary. These communities are soon to be States and, it might be urged, that regulation and restriction forced upon them by Congress now would not be politic. That, though is not a very high standard as a basis of Government action. Taken together, then, the situation seems to be one where much may be inferred from a statement of the conditions as they exist. The question of a corporation and franchise law for the Phillipine Islands is said to be pending before the Department of Commerce and Police of the Phillipine Commission. But that body is badly overworked and results in this direction are scarcely to be expected in the near future. Porto Rico has an excellent and business-like corporation law under which trusts might safely organize and with provisions upon the subjects of the payment of capital in cash and stock watering much more analogous to the New Jersey statutes than to standards currently set forth from high quarters as the desirable ones.

Alaska has no general incorporation law at all. In its place her Civil Code provides that any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any State or Territory may upon practically no terms at all become a domestic and Alaskan corporation. It must file its charter and a brief statement and consent to be sued within the territory. No other limitations exist. However bad the corporate purposes, however inexpedient the powers conferred upon directors or officers, however unjust the charter provisions to shareholders or creditors, this territorial code established by Congress has no concern and exercises no restraint. A high court has recently decided that a corporation, after filing such papers, may exercise the power of eminent domain in Alaska, and this, it would seem, irrespective of financial responsibility. An illustration of the lack of care exercised in the preparation of this part of the Code is the doubt which it leaves whether a corporation organized under the laws of the District of Columbia can do business in Alaska. The limitation to corporations organized under the laws of States, Territories and "the United States" makes this point turn upon the answer to the question whether the laws of the District are laws of the United States. Before the recent decision in the Benson case by the Supreme Court, this point was doubtful. While that decision does not wholly clear the matter up, the opinion there given indicates that Congress has probably so treated the laws of the District of Columbia as laws of the United States as to solve the doubt and at the same time fix the Congressional responsibility.

Oklahoma is nearer home and more notorious. In this most recent of our Territories it would seem that some foresight might well have been exercised from Washington. The illustrations furnished while Dakota was a Territory were and are too recent and glaring not to be in the mind of Congress. But there seems to be no thought of restraint. The Oklahoma corporation law is of the broadest type and almost any sort of a corporation can be ordered by telegraph ready made for fifty dollars or less. New Mexico is less well known. Her corporation laws are complicated, but the expense of incorporation is moderate in the extreme and the statutory protection of shareholders, creditors and the public is merely nominal.

One incident serves to show the local point of view. In 1899 the Territorial Legislature had the wisdom to require each corporation doing business within her borders to file an annual statement of its condition. In 1901 this provision was repealed, doubtless for the purpose of attracting business and increasing incorporation fees. As a producer of fees paid in return for easily acquired privileges, New Mexico is, however, unfortunate in her geographic location. No one who was seeking a charter and should travel west of Oklahoma to get it is reasonably to be expected to stop short of Arizona. In this latter paradise of limited liability even a lawyer is not necessary to aid in incorporation. At least one enterprising editor maintains the "Weekly —'s Bureau of Incorporation." We have in mind no "yellow" or casual sheet, but a weekly paper well known as somewhat of an authority on mining news and for independence of thought and action. Its price, complete, for its services, for incorporation, and for all fees, is sixty dollars, which it represents as merely the cash fees and the bill for advertising the articles of incorporation as required by law. So does the attorney become the adjunct of the advertising department. After incorporation ten dollars annually will cover all services and expenses, including a local agent. There are no local taxes except on local property and no local duties or responsibilities whatsoever. The situation of Hawaii and its previous history are such that its experience would not be instructive here.

The condition of the laws of the District of Columbia is authoritatively stated in President Roosevelt's special message of January 30 1905. He says: "I directed the Attorney-General to make a report to me upon the subject. From the report it appears that in the past two years there have been incorporated under the laws of the District, 2,211 companies with a total authorized capital of nearly four billions of dollars. Many of the companies thus incorporated represent no actual investment and may be used . . . to perpetrate fraud. . . . On one day of this week one person presented for filing articles of incorporation for 54 companies. . . . The authorized capital proposed for these companies was over two hundred million dollars. The Attorney-General closes his report with the statement that 'the law governing the function and control of corporations in the District of Columbia is not, as it should be, a model of its kind, but, on the other hand, is hopelessly vicious.'" And this sweeping condemnation is enlarged upon and emphasized in President Roosevelt's usual vigorous style. He recommends "immediate consideration of the subject," saying: "The case calls for the most radical remedy. The right of incorporation ought to be suspended at once until Congress can devise proper legislation for guarding its exercise. Moreover, measures ought to be taken to annul the charters which have already been issued," and he also recommends "the replacing of these incorporation laws by those which are governed by sounder principles" and under "a proper public supervision."

On this message Congress has as yet taken no substantial action. But signs are not lacking that the present Congress has, perhaps, taken to heart the lesson taught by such a condition. It would act more wisely to grasp the opportunity which this territorial field undoubtedly offers than to strain for a jurisdiction over everything and lose everything in the courts. For instance, it is proposed by Representatives Butler Ames of Massachusetts and Landis of Indiana that Congress should pass a uniform and complete life insurance code imposing Federal supervision upon all companies doing business in the District of Columbia or in any Federal territories. If such a statute is drafted along the lines proposed by Representative Ames and with the skilled assistance which the Massachusetts insurance authorities have furnished to him, and should pass and go into operation for a few years, it would provide a further illustration of Federal supervision without encountering the gravest constitutional difficulties which stand in the way of a general Federal insurance statute.

SAVINGS BANK INVESTMENTS IN CONNECTICUT.

The question of amending the savings bank investment law is being vigorously agitated in Connecticut. That State is in much the same position as was our own State before the amendment passed at the last session of our Legislature, completely changing the method previously in vogue of providing an acceptable body of securities in which savings institutions may invest their funds. Connecticut has long followed our own old plan of specifying the securities in the statute by name and of making additions to the list with each new session of the Legislature. Its experience, too, has been like our own—that is, not altogether satisfactory, though without tangible harm to the banks. The method is objectionable for the reasons many times mentioned in these columns, namely that only such bonds gain admission to the list as may have friends to urge their claims, while others perhaps equally meritorious may be excluded because no one is interested in pushing their claims. Sometimes it happens, also, that securities not yet sufficiently tried or lacking approved standing are brought within the permissible line. Connecticut has on the whole been less rigid in its choice and designations than has New York, while additions to the list have been just as frequent as they used to be in this State. For instance, at this year's session of the Connecticut Legislature the first mortgage bonds of the Southern Indiana Railway Co. were added to the list. This is one of the roads in which Mr. John R. Walsh of Chicago is interested, and it is the fact that the banks with which Mr. Walsh is connected had to ask assistance of the Chicago Clearing House last week that has given rise to the present agitation of the subject.

It does not appear likely that the Connecticut savings institutions will lose anything by reason of their investment in Southern Indiana bonds, assuming that they hold some of the same. But the question is broader than that. It is the method of selection which is being criticized. It is the fear that sooner or later distinct harm may result from this method; that some really undesirable securities may inadvertently be brought within the permissible line; and that incautious bank managers, in availing of the privilege to buy the same, may involve their institutions in serious loss, that is leading to a demand for reform.

The dissatisfaction referred to finds expression in a dispatch from New Haven printed in the "Boston Evening Transcript." This dispatch says that savings bank officials are decidedly of the opinion that the time has come for a radical change in the present system of legalizing securities for bank and trust company purchases. The feeling is gaining ground, it is stated, among bank men that the method Connecticut now employs to determine the bonds in which the savings institutions may invest should be completely altered.

The correspondent of the "Transcript" also quotes Elliott H. Morse, Treasurer of the Connecticut Savings Bank of New Haven, to the same effect. Mr. Morse points out that bank managers are naturally interested in seeing the investment field widened, since, if the proper securities are admitted, the opportunities are much greater for placing the money of the depositors where it can make the best returns. But these managers do not want to see the field widened simply for the benefit of certain owners of the bonds. Mr. Morse suggests that hereafter the securities to be made legal investments for the savings banks should be chosen by a committee of the bank managers of the State. These men, he well says, are experts in the business; they know what the banks ought to be allowed to buy, and know what securities are safe and what are not. They would not be apt to discriminate, as it would be for their advantage to have as wide a choice as possible open to them. The list that they would prepare would then go to the Legislature for endorsement, with some legal restriction that no other securities should be added by action of the Assembly. The whole trouble heretofore, he urges, has been that after the proper securities had been chosen by the bank committee, outside interests have gone to work and have added other bonds.

On the other hand, it is stated that some bank men suggest that the State should pass a general law standardizing the savings bank investments. If this were done there would be no biennial additions by the Legislature, but the field would be open without restriction to the banks to invest in. It appears that the motive in seeking to get a security in the savings bank list often is not so much a desire to have the savings institutions invest in the same, but that there is an advantage from a selling standpoint in having the bonds in the list; that is, it raises the bonds in public estimation to have it known that they are sanctioned by law as investments for savings banks. In brief, the moral support given by the State in designating such bonds is of great business value to those having the bonds to dispose of. To secure the seal of approval of the Connecticut Legislature has meant, in several cases, it is stated, that certain bonds have been put on the general market with the stamp of the State's approval. It is properly urged that the State should not go into the business of approving bonds.

We think the best plan for Connecticut to pursue will be to adopt a general law somewhat like that which is now in force in this State, fixing certain requirements and conditions and making legal all securities that conform to such standards and requirements. The Legislature should not be allowed to name the securities, and we hardly think it advisable to allow even a committee of bank managers to name them or recommend them and have such recommendation incorporated in the statutes. The latter would of course be a great improvement over the present arrangement. The fitness of the managers for the task must be admitted. Nor can there be any doubt that they would exercise prudence and good judgment in making the selections. Nevertheless, a far better method would be to let the bank managers determine upon the requirements—dividends, earnings, mileage, &c., &c.—and then have all bonds meeting such requirements fall automatically into the list. That would remove all possibility of a charge of discrimination and avoid questioning of motives, which even men of the highest standing can never entirely escape when the public is in a critical mood. Moreover, such a plan would contain within itself the provisions for a gradual extension of the list, obviating the need for enlarging it by special enactment. For instance, a certain bond might not be a legal investment to-day in accordance with the requirements set, since dividends had not been paid by the company issuing the bonds for the required length of time. But next year, with the payment of another year's dividend, the bond might come fully up to the standard and conform to the conditions. Sooner or later Connecticut will have to come to this point, just as has our own State.

PROPER METHODS OF ACCOUNTING.

With the growth of mercantile and financial enterprises in this country, and particularly the multiplication of enterprises in the corporate form, proper methods of audit and accounting become increasingly important. We are glad to see, therefore, that an American edition of Dicksee's *Auditing has been issued. Dicksee's Auditing has long been a standard work in Britain, and has also to some extent been in use in the United States, but in the English form it would hardly be suitable for general adoption in this country on account of the differences existing in accountancy nomenclature, laws and customs between Great Britain and the United States. It was therefore a happy thought that suggested to Mr. Robert H. Montgomery re-writing considerable portions of the book in order to adapt it for use in this country. Mr. Montgomery of course was well qualified for the task, but there is no affectation of superiority in his comments and discussions. Indeed, it is a chief merit of the book that both the English author and the American author write in a modest kind of way and do not assume that what they say is the last word on any of the controverted points. Accountants are very apt to be dogmatic in their views. That is a common failing of the profession. It should be added that the book in large measure avoids technical language, and that it is neither abstruse in its treatment of subjects nor pedantic in style.

The object and scope of an audit are stated to be threefold: (1) The detection of fraud; (2) the detection of technical errors; and (3) the detection of errors of principle. We think very few will be inclined to take exception to this generalization, and obviously it is applicable alike to audits of private concerns and of corporations. Of course in the case of the latter the process has to be carried a step further. The chief points arising in the course of an audit of a corporation that do not occur in the audit of a private firm are summarized as follows: (a) the audit of capital stock and bond accounts; (b) the audit of dividend and interest accounts; and (c) compliance with the various statutory requirements.

The book is a general one dealing with all branches of accounting—being intended to meet the need of all who may have occasion for an audit, whether retailers, contractors, banks, insurance companies, executors and trustees, publishers, etc.—and some of the matter is necessarily elementary. Our chief purpose in this article is to refer to one or two points covering subjects of general interest and which are receiving wide discussion at the present time, particularly in their relation to the affairs of corporations. Naturally Capital and Revenue are given much consideration. It is pointed out by the authors that the distinction between capital expenditure and revenue expenditure is one of primary importance as bearing upon the fundamental question of what profits have actually been made by an undertaking during any given period. It is suggested, however, that much unnecessary complication has been introduced in discussing the subject, and that when the wholly irrelevant matters are brushed aside, the fundamental question will be found simplicity itself.

In the abstract this is quite true, and yet there are certain phases of the matter that can not be thus summarily dismissed. In the opinion of the author the question to be answered is simply this: "Has the particular expenditure incurred in any individual case been incurred for the sake of improving the earning capacity of the undertaking?" If the answer to this question, we are told, is in the affirmative, then, and to that extent, the expenditure in question is capital expenditure. But if it has only had the effect of putting the earning capacity of the undertaking upon the same footing as that which had previously obtained (and which has since declined by the ordinary process of wear and tear, or the effluxion of time, in respect to which no provision has been made), it must be charged against revenue. The precise meaning of this latter qualification, it is added, is that the mere renewal of wasting assets, not otherwise provided for, cannot be called capital expenditure, but that any extension, or the acquiring of fresh assets, is in the nature of capital expenditure.

As a definition the foregoing may be accepted as absolutely correct from a technical standpoint, but in practice does it really cover the whole case? Consider it applied to American railroads. In Great Britain the definition would be unobjectionable even in its application to the railroads, for there the expense accounts are burdened only with the cost of running the road and provision for ordinary repairs and renewals; all outlays for additions and enlargement and improvement are rigidly charged to capital account. In this country, however, the situation is wholly different. Owing to the exigencies of competition and the steady diminution in the average rates received, and the demand of the public for increased accommodations and facilities, experience has demonstrated that the appropriation and setting aside of a certain amount out of income each year for improvements and additions is an absolute necessity. All our well-managed roads pursue this policy, and even if in any case a management should feel inclined to depart from the practice, it would be powerless to do so. For the fact that all the other roads were still adhering to the method of charging improvement work to expenses would make a like course obligatory upon it. If it did not provide the same facilities, and at the same minimum of cost, as the competing lines, it would have to go out of the business. Hence, it might happen that an audit conducted in accordance with the above definition would find the accounts entirely correct, and yet the railroad, through a failure to include improvements in the expense accounts, be inviting sure decay.

We urge this point simply because of its importance and to show that the subject is not wholly free from difficulties. Mr. Montgomery in his preface distinctly and specifically admits the necessity for recognizing the wide differences between our laws and customs and those in England, and notes that while the essential principles underlying all properly conducted audits are the same, yet it may be found hereafter that more radical modifications in Mr. Dicksee's text will be in order than those he has made in the present American edition of the book. The matter of improvement expenditures is, perhaps, one of the particulars in which accounting methods may have to be changed, or at least one of the things of which cognizance will have to be taken. It would, no doubt, be a good idea to have these improvement outlays segregated and stated as a separate item, so that their magnitude and extent can be readily determined. The practice of mingling them with the ordinary expenditures should be discountenanced because that makes it difficult, if not impossible, to compare results on one road with the results on another road, and to determine the relative economy with which they are being operated.

We quite agree with the author when, in defining "Net Profit," he registers "a protest against the method adopted by many companies of stating in their published accounts a so-called 'net profit' out of which it is proposed to set aside a certain sum for depreciation, etc." A true net profit, it is well said, can only be arrived at after charging up all expenses, including, of course, depreciation, interest on bonds, etc.

In treating of depreciation (as applied to manufacturing corporations) the author reminds the reader of the distinction between depreciation and fluctuation. Depreciation is a shrinkage in value which, in the ordinary course of events, may be expected to take place as being a necessary consequence of the possession and enjoyment of the asset; it consequently is a charge against revenue. Fluctuation on the other hand, arises from causes entirely outside the scope of the business and may affect the value of its assets either adversely or favorably. The operations of fluctuation cannot, however, it is argued, affect true trading profits either one way or the other; and therefore as a rule, it is argued, it is best to disregard it in the accounts.

If this last statement stood alone we should hardly be inclined to express accord with it—at least in the broad, unqualified way in which it appears. Take the case of a shrinkage in the value of the goods or materials on hand because of a decline in selling prices. That is a form of fluctuation in the value of the assets and it certainly ought to be taken into the accounts. The text of the paragraph shows, however, that it is not intended that such an assumed shrinkage should not be taken cognizance of; for it is reasoned that an unfavorable fluctuation in floating assets may be disregarded so long only as there is every reason to believe that it is of a temporary character; but if it seems likely that conditions will remain unfavorable until the time comes for realizing those assets, then the loss should be anticipated; or, to speak more accurately, it should be charged against the period in which it actually occurred, rather than against the period in which it was realized. With this we are in entire agreement.

LISTINGS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE IN 1905.

Our compilation of the listings on the New York Stock Exchange during the calendar year now ending, presents the following noteworthy results: (1) Much the largest total of bond issues for new capital of any year in the history of the Exchange, the bulk of the contributions coming from twelve leading railroad systems, chiefly on account of improvements and additions, supplemented by several government and municipal issues of large size; (2) with no railroad reorganizations, other than the re-capitalization of the Western Maryland, an amount of securities replacing and refunding others that has seldom been exceeded in a single twelve months, this being explained by the refunding of a few large loans, one railroad amalgamation (Atlantic Coast Line-Louisville & Nashville), and several great industrial consolidations and reorganizations; (3) an aggregate amount of bond issues for all purposes in excess of any previous year; (4) stock issues for new capital on a low level, but the total of all shares listed raised to a considerable aggregate by industrial consolidations, reorganizations, etc.

The usual ten-year comparison is as follows:

As here shown, the bond issues for new capital, etc., reached a total of 569 millions, contrasting with about 430 millions in 1904 and with amounts ranging from $7 millions to 245 millions during the year 1896 to 1903, inclusive. The total of all bond issues added to the list is 980 millions, as against 535 millions in 1904 and 923 millions in 1901, this last amount having previously been the highest record.

The railroad systems contributing the greater amount of the bond issues for new capital, etc., embrace the Pennsylvania, with about $72,500,000, including 53½ millions of its own convertible 3½s for construction, equipment, etc., and 19 millions of the same issue for the acquisition of additional stock in the Pennsylvania Company (indirectly supplying funds for capital requirements); also 15 millions Pennsylvania Company trust certificates, 9 millions P. C. C. St. L. guaranteed 4s and 4 millions Long Island Railroad guaranteed 4s. The issues of the class named also include 30 millions New York Central debenture 4s and 10 millions similar bonds issued by its subsidiary, the Lake Shore; also 32 millions Atchison convertible 4s; 29½ millions Iron Mountain (Missouri Pacific), two issues; 17 millions bonds of Union Pacific system, 8½ millions being Oregon Short Line 4s and the remainder the Lucin Cut-Off bonds of the Central Pacific. There are also included the two issues, aggregating 47 millions, of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Ry., which forms the Pittsburgh connection for the Wabash and other Gould lines. More or less closely allied with the last-named issues are the bonds of the Western Maryland. The Rock Island system, for improvements and additions, has listed about 10 millions of bonds, this amount including 5 millions of the Eastern Illinois 1 million of the St. Louis & San Francisco and about 4 millions of the C. R. I. & P. Ry.

Among the railroad bonds replacing old securities are the 27½ millions of Pennsylvania Railroad convertible 3½s, with the proceeds of which were retired a like amount of old 6% bonds, thereby effecting a reduction in interest charges largely offsetting the increase due to the company's other new bond issues during the year. The Oregon Short Line (Union Pacific), having retired its "4% and participating" bonds, issued 36½ millions of refunding 4s, and the Lehigh Valley retired its 8 millions "mortgage and collateral trust" 5s and a block of car trusts and issued 20 millions of a new issue of general consol. 4s. The New York Central, also, has disposed of 9 millions of 3½% bonds, with the proceeds of which it retired the last of its old funded debt. The acquisition of the control of the Louisville & Nashville by the Atlantic Coast Line has resulted in the issuing of 35 millions of collateral trust 4s, secured by deposit of the L. & N. stock taken up.

Chief among the issues of miscellaneous bonds representing new capital are the 60 millions of Japanese bonds, 35 millions of Cuban Republic 5s and 37½ millions of New York City bonds. The American (Bell) Telephone & Telegraph Company, for the purpose of further extending its system, has issued and listed 20 millions of 4 per cents. The great tobacco consolidation, in exchange for securities previously in the hands of the public, has issued 123 millions of bonds, partly 6s and partly 4s, while the new subsidiary of the reorganized Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, the Colorado Industrial, has issued, in accordance with the plan of reorganization, about 25 millions of guaranteed 5% bonds. It will be noticed that there have also been listed several street railway loans of considerable size.

The several issues of stocks, railroad, street railway and miscellaneous, are grouped together in the following tables.

The small number of railroad stock issues listed is apparent from a glance at the foregoing list, only four of the railway companies mentioned, namely the North West, Canadian Pacific, Big Four and Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh having offered stock option rights to their shareholders. The conversion of Union Pacific convertible bonds into common stock has made rapid progress, the amount of the bonds outstanding having, in consequence, been reduced to about 7½ millions and the outstanding shares increased by about 69 millions. Other notable issues of railway shares are 7 millions Atlantic Coast Line stock, distributed as a dividend to the shareholders; also 11 millions Mexican Central, 14½ millions Vandalia and 15½ millions Western Maryland.

The coming to New York of the stock of the Philadelphia, the St. Louis and the Havana trolley companies has swelled the listed stock issues by about 55 million dollars, the 30 millions of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, however, being only 40% paid. The Leather and Ice reorganizations, the Tobacco and Kodak consolidations and the Rubber amalgamation have together occasioned the issuance, in exchange for existing securities, of about 190 millions in the aggregate of new stock. Other notable listings of share capital are the two classes of stock of the Pittsburgh Coal Co., together aggregating 64 million dollars, most of which has been outstanding for a considerable period, and the (approximately) 13 millions of North American stock, with the proceeds of which the company acquired the control of the trolley companies of St. Louis and substantially completed its ownership of the share capital of the lighting companies of the same city.

The additions to the "unlisted" department have been quite important, as is shown in the following table, but, following our usual practice, these securities are not embraced in our resume above of the regular listings on the Exchange for a series of years past.

If favorable conditions continue, there promise to be in the coming months large additions to the securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange as a result of new railway construction, preparations for which are at present on a large scale.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 252 shares, of which 177 shares were sold at the Stock Exchange and 75 shares at auction. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 60 shares. Forty shares of stock of the Bowling Green Trust Co. were sold in several small lots at 220½ to 228¼; the last previous public sale was made in October at 215. x Sold at the Stock Exchange —The reports this week that a New York Stock Exchange membership had been transferred for $97,500 are stated to be incorrect. Several transactions were reported, however, the latest at $95,000, or $2,000 above the previous highest sale, which was made last week.

—Announcement is made this week that the old National Shoe & Leather Bank, 271 Broadway, will be converted into a State banking institution and its resources united with those of the Metropolitan Bank at 23d St. and 4th Avenue. Mr. William L. Moyer has resigned as President of the National Shoe & Leather Bank, and Mr. Henry Ollesheimer, its First Vice-President, will be elected to succeed Mr. Moyer at a directors' meeting next Tuesday. Mr. Ollesheimer is also the present executive of the Metropolitan Bank. The National Shoe & Leather Bank will hereafter be operated as a branch of the Metropolitan Bank at its present location. As both institutions are controlled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, it was considered advantageous to combine their resources. In the same way, the Maiden Lane National at 100 William St., now a branch, was absorbed by the Metropolitan Bank when the latter started business in May 1905. At the last State and national bank calls for Nov. 9th, the National Shoe & Leather Bank had $1,000,000 capital; $453,337 surplus and profits, and total deposits of $11,852,150; while the Metropolitan Bank reported $1,000,000 capital; $304,206 surplus and profits, with deposits amounting to $3,865,701. The united institution will be known as the Metropolitan Bank and have a capital and surplus of about $2,750,000. The National Shoe & Leather was incorporated in 1853 and is number 917 in the National Banking Association.

—At the annual stockholders' meeting on the 9th inst. the retiring board of directors of the International Banking Corporation of this city was re-elected. The directors met on Wednesday of this week and re-elected the officers, viz.: Thomas H. Hubbard, President; James S. Fearon, Vice-President and John B. Lee, General Manager.

—The Corn Exchange Bank of this city is preparing to open a branch in Flushing. This will bring the total number of the bank's branches up to nineteen.

—An extremely serviceable addition to the publications of George W. Young & Co. of this city anent trust companies has been issued in their "Digest of Laws Relating to Trust Companies of the United States." In the work, which has been prepared by Benjamin J. Downer of the New York Bar, the principal provisions of the banking laws only have been summarized, and no attempt, the introduction states, has been made to include general incorporation laws which may have been construed as applying to fiduciary institutions. Besides the requirements as to organization in the several States and Territories, data are furnished with regard to the laws concerning supervision, as well as the regulations as to branches, investments, impairment of capital, surplus fund, reserve, stockholders' liability, &c. Next spring, after the several legislatures adjourn, it is the purpose of the publishers to furnish a summary of all material amendments to the present laws. These amendments will probably be in the form of printed slips, ready to be pasted in at the proper place, whereby it will be possible to have the principal provisions of the trust company laws of the country brought down to date.

—The resignations of Richard A. McCurdy, former President of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and his son-in-law, Louis A. Thebaud, as directors of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of this city, were accepted this week.

—An amendment to the articles of incorporation of the New York National Exchange Bank of this city, providing for an increase in the number of directors from fifteen to nineteen, was approved by the stockholders on Thursday.

—J. M. Cavanagh was lately elected Cashier of the Monroe Bank of this city in place of Charles T. Champion. Mr. Cavanagh was formerly with the National Bank of Commerce.

—The stockholders of the People's Bank of Brooklyn on Jan. 9 will vote on a proposition to amend the articles of incorporation reducing the number of directors from twenty-five to twenty-two members.

—"The Modern Trust Company," by F. B. Kirkbride and J. E. Sterrett, C. P. A., the latest contribution to financial literature, is perhaps the first book to give a full and consistent description of the various lines of work in which a modern trust company engages. The aim of this volume is to describe the functions and organization of the trust company as it exists in the United States to-day. The duties of trust company officers and the relation of trust companies to the banking community and the public are discussed, and the most recent methods of organization and accounting for trust companies are given in detail. The authors appear to have made a careful study of the methods in use in the most important trust companies of this country. Besides having an intimate knowledge of his subject, Mr. Kirkbride has had a wide experience in trust company affairs as the former Treasurer for many years of the "Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities," at Philadelphia. Mr. Sterrett, by his professional labors as certified public accountant among trust companies, and his personal investigation and study of business organisms, was well equipped to collaborate with Mr. Kirkbride in the preparation of this work. "The Modern Trust Company" is published by the Macmillan Company.

—It is announced that Thomas W. Hynes has resigned as Auditor of Porto Rico, to become Treasurer of the Home Trust Co. of Brooklyn. Mr. Hynes will assume his new office on Jan. 1.

—The first of a series of small pamphlets to be issued by the Brooklyn Bank of Brooklyn Borough, dealing with "Interesting Bits of History," has been sent to us. Very properly, the initial number, by Clinton Fulton, gives some salient facts concerning the Borough in which the bank is located, accompanied by quaint illustrations pertinent to the early history of the Borough. From the contents of the booklet, which consists of less than a dozen pages, we learn that the bank was organized in 1832, while Brooklyn was yet a village, its incorporation as a city occurring two years later. The bank has a capital of $300,000 and surplus and undivided profits of $175,252. Henry E. Hutchinson is President, Oliver M. Denton Vice-President and Thomas M. Halsey, Cashier. Free copies of the pamphlet may be had upon application.

—At their meeting this month, the directors of the Marine National Bank of Buffalo increased the surplus fund from $1,800,000 to $2,000,000. Besides the regular quarterly dividend of 10%, an extra dividend of the same amount was declared, making, with the extra 10% paid in July, total dividends for the year of 60%. This rate, it is expected, will be maintained during 1906. The bank has put out a calendar made doubly serviceable through the fact that Saturdays, Sundays and holidays are shown in red figures, while green figures denote when New York State paper, due on such dates, is payable.

—Receiver Albert J. Wheeler, of the German Bank of Buffalo, has been authorized by Justice Kenefick to accept the offer of $640,000 for certain of the bank's assets made by the Assets Realization Co. As noted last week, the offer had previously been approved by Attorney-General Mayer.

—The Chautauqua County Trust Co. of Jamestown, N. Y., has issued a calendar bearing the portraits of the six Presidents which the institution has had in its existence of seventy-five years. The present incumbent is Charles M. Dow.

—The directors of the Connecticut Trust & Safe Deposit Co. of Hartford, Conn., have elected Arthur P. Day Secretary of the institution and Manager of its trust department. Mr. Day was formerly in charge of the company's Western loan department. In his new post he succeeds Henry S. Robinson, who resigned to take the Vice-Presidency of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

—A quarterly dividend of 2% on the $3,500,000 capital of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston, Mass., has been declared, payable Jan. 1. This rate, which it is said will be maintained permanently, represents an increase of 2% annually, quarterly dividends of 1½% having heretofore been paid. The bank has combined surplus and profits of more than $3,800,000.

—The Trenton Banking Company of Trenton, N. J., completed on the 3rd inst. the hundredth year of its existence. At the time the bank's charter was secured, on Dec. 3 1804, it is said that but one other bank existed in New Jersey—the Newark Banking & Insurance Company. The Trenton Banking Company still occupies its original location, the old building, however, having been superseded in 1838 by a new structure, which has since been improved and enlarged. In January 1811 the State Treasurer, by authority of the Legislature, subscribed for 800 shares of the bank's stock, and a portion of this is said to still stand in the name of the State in trust for the benefit of the public schools. The institution has a capital of $500,000 and surplus and profits of about $434,000. Its officers are John A. Campbell, President; Elmer Ewing Green, Vice-President and Robert W. Howell, Cashier.

The purchase price of the stock, it is said, is $117 per share.

—The suspension of the Merchants' Trust Company of Memphis, Tenn., on Wednesday also resulted in the closing of an institution allied with it, namely the American Savings Bank & Trust Company, capital $50,000. In regard to the closing of the Merchants, a statement was issued by its President, Felix T. Pope, in which it was said that the company had loaned too much money and was unable to realize on its loans fast enough to meet the demands. The Merchants held a controlling interest in the American, which had just been consolidated with the Mechanics Savings Bank & Trust Company. The American is said to be in excellent condition and its closing is understood to have been decided upon, owing to the possibility of a run in consequence of the suspension of the Merchants'. The latter began business in January last with a capital

Monetary and Commercial English News

(From our own Correspondent.)

London, Saturday December 16 1905.

In consequence of the redemption of the Exchequer bonds on Thursday of last week, the supplies of money in the outside market were so largely increased that rates, both of interest and discount, were lowered unduly. There followed an improvement in the stock markets and a general inclination to speculate somewhat rashly. The result was that the Paris and Berlin exchanges upon London fell rapidly to the gold point. In Paris there is much nervousness on account of the internal condition of Russia. And there is still greater apprehension because of the strained relations between France and Germany. The banks, therefore, feel it necessary to strengthen themselves against all contingencies. And they have, as a result, been reducing the balances they have so long been employing in London. They have been decreasing those balances quietly for several weeks past. But during the past week, they have reduced them on a large scale. They have as yet not taken gold from the Bank of England. They have simply refused to renew bills as they fell due; and they have contracted their loans upon the Stock Exchange. In this way, they have not only found funds sufficient to pay the 14 millions sterling raised in Paris by the Argentine Government to pay off half the Funding Loan, and to meet other obligations due from Paris to London, but they have been able to remit on a large scale to Paris.

Nothing new seems to have happened to account for the increased anxiety respecting Germany. Perhaps the explanation is that the time for holding the Algeiras Conference is rapidly drawing near and the people are asking anxiously—What will Germany do in case, as is generally expected, she finds herself unsupported? At all events, the suspicion and distrust of Germany are so great that the banks think it necessary to increase their reserves. Naturally, they are induced to do this also by the internal condition of Russia, although the holders of Russian bonds do not appear to be seriously apprehensive. This week there has not been much selling of Russian bonds. And, as far as can be ascertained, the French public is still quite satisfied that Russia will keep faith with her creditors whatever happens.

Not alone is it feared there will be large withdrawals for France. There are apprehensions, likewise, that there will be heavy withdrawals for Germany. German trade has been exceedingly active all through the year. It has been, perhaps, not quite so good for the last five or six weeks; but up to then it was wonderfully good. The activity of trade was, no doubt, largely due to Russian orders. And it is not surprising that there is some doubt now whether Russia will be in a position to pay for what she has ordered when it is delivered. Therefore, there is uncertainty as to whether trade will prove to be quite as profitable as hitherto has been supposed. Moreover, there has been a wild speculation. The banks for the past two or three months have been putting pressure on their customers to reduce their commitments. But they have not succeeded as well as might have been expected. Still, the speculative account has been very materially reduced, and prices have been cut down. Lastly, the imports of commodities of all kinds in anticipation of the new commercial treaties coming into force on March 1 have been on an enormous scale. These imports have been made by means of borrowed money. And thus practically all the available loanable capital is taken up for trade, speculation, and these anticipatory imports. Now the requirements at the end of the year are beginning to make themselves felt, and, as a natural consequence, the Imperial Bank is desirous of adding largely to its supplies of gold. Whether the bank will actually withdraw the metal from the Bank of England remains to be seen. But that it will buy in the open market in London is not doubted. This explains the fears that a good deal of gold will be taken both by France and by Germany. And, as there is always in the second half of December a large outflow of coin to the interior, there are apprehensions lest the reserve of the Bank of England may be unduly reduced. Consequently, the Bank on Thursday borrowed on a very extensive scale—so extensive that the rate of discount was raised in a few hours from about $3\frac{1}{8}\%$ to $3\frac{5}{8}\%$, and the rate of interest for short loans was nearly doubled. Naturally, this sudden rise in rates not only surprised, but somewhat alarmed, markets, which feared that matters were really worse than they are; and consequently there has been a general decline in quotations.

It is extremely difficult to form any definite opinion as to whether money will continue scarce and dear for any length of time. So far as Germany is concerned, the requirements at the end of the year will be satisfied in a couple of weeks. Moreover, it is reasonable to conclude that the banks, which are still putting pressure on their customers to reduce their accounts, will succeed, and that a great many speculators will be squeezed out. But the immense stock of commodities which is being carried to be offered for sale after the new treaties come into force cannot be reduced for two and a half months at the very earliest. Therefore, many good judges think that money will continue both scarce and dear in Germany until the early part of March. Regarding France, all depends, or a very great deal, at all events, depends, upon the attitude of Germany. If Germany remains menacing, French fears will continue and the banks will be compelled to hold very large reserves. If Germany, on the other hand, becomes conciliatory, France will recover courage, and money will again become easy, unless, of course, something alarming happens in Russia which may upset all calculations and cause serious apprehensions in France. Here at home, during the last quarter of the financial year, which is the first quarter of the calendar year, the collection of the revenue is on an exceptionally large scale. By far the greater part of the income tax, for instance, is collected during those three months. Consequently, an exceptional amount of money is transferred from the open markets to the Bank of England, and, therefore, from about the middle or towards the end of January until the middle of March money is nearly always comparatively scarce and dear, for the Bank of England has control of the open market. As at this time it already has control, it is reasonable to expect that it will retain control during the whole of the next three months and be able to make rates what it pleases.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 80 laes of drafts and the applications exceeded 787 laes at prices ranging from 1s. 4 1-32d. to 1s. 4 1-8d. per rupee. Of the 80 laes issued, the Council made a special allotment of 15 laes of transfers at 1s. 4 1-8d. per rupee. For the remaining 65 laes, applicants for bills at 1s. 4 1-32d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 4 3-32d. per rupee were allotted about 12% of the amounts applied for. The amount to be offered for tender next week will be raised to 100 laes.

Statement of New York City Clearing House Banks.

The following statement shows the condition of the New York City Clearing House banks for the week ending December 23. It should be distinctly understood that as to all items except capital and surplus the figures are the averages of the daily results, not the totals at the end of the week. In other words, in reporting loans and deposits and holdings of specie and legal tenders, the practice is to take the aggregate of the amounts for the several days of the week and divide this aggregate by the number of days.

We omit two ciphers (00) in all cases.

Wall Street, Friday Night, Dec. 29 1905.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The conspicuous feature of the week in Wall Street has been the unusually high rates prevailing for call loans. These rates reached a maximum of 125% on Thursday, a figure which has been exceeded but twice in more than twenty-five years. The occasions referred to were in December 1899, when 186% was reached, and in October 1896, when loans were negotiated at 127%.

A peculiar feature of the present situation, and one, we believe, without precedent, is the fact that security prices have been little affected by money market conditions. The high rates did not, as usual, cause a general liquidating movement, and a considerable list of active stocks closes higher than last week. These facts lead to the conclusion that the supply of floating stocks is limited, that they are generally held by parties who are not disturbed by a temporary squeeze in call loan rates and who have confidence in present industrial conditions and prospects.

The Bank of England's weekly statement shows the effect of the usual end-of-the-year requirements of other London banks by a reduced percentage of reserve, but the financial situation abroad is generally less acute, owing to a recovery in Russian securities wherever dealt in.

Affairs in Russia are regarded as less serious, owing to the partial failure of the strikes at several important points. So far as our own country is concerned, the outlook for the new year is a hopeful one.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 6 to 125%. To-day's rates on call were 20@75%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 6% for endorsements and 6% for best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £1,444,581 and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 33.81 against 36.24 last week.

The discount rate remains unchanged at 4%. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 10,550,000 francs in gold and a decrease of 11,575,000 francs in silver.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $10,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 22.

The flurry in the money market has but slightly affected the market for railway and industrial bonds. The volume of business in this department has been about equal to that of recent weeks, has been better distributed than is usually the case, and prices have fluctuated within a narrow range.

Union Pacific convertible 4s are exceptional in an advance of over 2 points. Standard Rope & Twine 6s and the Colorado Industrial issues have been strong features, while Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Distilling Securities 5s have shown a tendency to weakness.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board are limited to $20,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 102¾ to 103¼, and $5,000 4s, coup., 1907, at 103¾. The following are the daily closing quotations; for year's range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been irregular throughout the week as a result of an extremely erratic money market, as noted above. The fluctuations in railway shares have, however, rarely exceeded 5 points and the daily transactions were but little larger than the recent average until to-day, when they were very near the largest and at an advance of from 1 to 3 points.

The exceptional features in this department have been Metropolitan Securities, which lost 8 points of its recent advance, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and St. Paul, which have covered a range of from 5 to 8 points, and close substantially at the highest.

Anaconda Mining has been the sensational feature of the week. It stood at 192 at the close last week, fluctuated widely from day to day, and advanced to 292½ to-day, near which it closes. Amalgamated Copper has advanced nearly 12 points, Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. over 9 points, and Corn Products common and preferred moved up 5¾ and 7½ points respectively, but reacted subsequently. United States Steel common is over 4 points higher than at the close last week. On the other hand, Tennessee Coal & Iron steadily declined to 125, a loss of 11½ points, a part of which it has recovered.

For daily volume of business see page 1839.

Outside Market.—Irregularity marked the trading in the outside market, though a firm tone has been maintained throughout the week. An important incident was the appearance of the prospective new securities of the Metropolitan-Interborough consolidation. The common shares sold down from 65 to 58½, closing to-day at 61; the preferred moved up from 100 to 102, dropping back to 99½ at the close to-day. Over $1,000,000 of the bonds were traded in between 95 and 98¼. Interborough Rapid Transit rose 5 points to 239, but later slid down to 228. It closes to-day at 236½. Guggenheim Exploration, after an advance of 2½ points to 292½, made a sensational gain to-day to 310. American Can securities were active and strong, the preferred opening at 68½, advancing to 71¾, but ending the week at 70½. The common sold between 9 and 10½. May-kay Companies common from 58½ got as high as 60, but weakened to 57¾, rising to-day to 60 again. The preferred advanced from 72½ to 74, dropping to 70½ at the close of the day. Standard Oil rose 10 points to 701, but closes at 696. American Chic common has gained 7½ points to 172. The copper stocks were strong in sympathy with the rise of these shares on the Board. United Copper common from 62½ rose to 75, but fell back to 62½, recovering to 66¾. The preferred fluctuated between 85 and 88¼. Boston Consolidated Copper advanced from 25¾ to 34¼ and Utah Consolidated from 36 to 38¼.

Investment and Railroad Intelligence.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month we bring together all the roads reporting as is done to-day.

Tonopah Railroad.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending June 30 1905.)

President John W. Brock says:

In Oct. 1904 your officers were informed that the Southern Pacific Co. was to broad-gauge its line to the point of junction with the road of your company. The delays in the movement of traffic caused by the necessity of transferring the freight inbound from the broad-gauge cars to the narrow-gauge cars, and vice versa, was so great that at times the accumulation of the broad-gauge cars grew to hundreds, necessitating the equivalent capacity of narrow-gauge cars of three times the amount to hold the transferred freight. This condition caused great inconvenience. Your board therefore considered it important that the Tonopah R.R. be broad-gauged. The preparation of the roadbed and ties for the change was practically completed during the fiscal year, but the actual movement of the rail and change of gauge did not occur until after the close of the fiscal year. Consequent upon the change of gauge, your company has on hand a quantity of narrow-gauge equipment in excellent condition which it is hoped will realize a considerable sum in reduction of the cost of the broad-gauge equipment which has been supplied.

The Goldfield Railroad (V. 81, p. 728) has been under construction during the latter part of the fiscal year as a broad-gauge railroad, and was opened for traffic after the close of the fiscal year.

Realty Associates, Brooklyn, N. Y.

(Report for Fiscal Year Ending Oct. 31 1905.)

The directors, under date of Nov. 27, say:

The company has been active during the past year and has both bought largely and sold largely in an active market. With the additional $1,000,000 made available by the increase of capital during the year, the company has departed to some extent from its former policy of buying improved properties on the basis of their earning value, and has bought considerable unimproved land in promising localities. These investments bid fair to be profitable. The company has bought during the year properties costing $3,086,896, comprising 206 dwellings, 71 flat buildings, 72 store and flat buildings, 8 stores, 31 unimproved plots; and has made sales of other properties amounting to $2,085,775, namely: 63 dwellings, 34 flat buildings, 53 store and flat buildings, 1 store and 5 unimproved plots. The holdings now consist of 538 dwellings, 95 flat properties, 154 store and flat properties, 39 stores, 6 stables, 25 unimproved plots—a total of 857 properties. The company has invested during the year $446,525 in mortgages, and the total mortgage investments are now $593,245, exclusive of purchase-money mortgages. The year's business has been profitable, the total net income after settlement with the profit-sharers being equal to 15% of the capital. The four-story dwelling No. 176 Remsen St. was bought, remodeled for office purposes, and on Oct. 1 the company moved into permanent quarters.

The statement of income account and the balance sheet follow:

Dividends Increased.—An additional $1,000,000 of capital was paid in in instalments from Jan. 15 to April 15 1905. On April 15 1905 the regular 2½% semi-annual dividend was paid on the old capital of $3,000,000, and interest at the same rate was paid on the instalments of the new capital, and the entire $4,000,000 of capital began April 15 on a uniform 5% dividend basis. In October 1905 it was decided to increase the dividend rate to a 6% basis, or 3% semi-annually. The regular semi-annual dividend of 3% was therefore declared payable Oct. 15 1905, and in order that the dividends of the year then ending should amount to 6% for the year, an extra dividend of ½ of 1% was declared at the same time. The old capital, therefore, received 6% for the year and the new capital 3½% for the half-year. It is the intention that the entire capital should now be considered on a 6% basis. (Official statement furnished to "Chronicle" under date of Dec. 12.)

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Alaska Central Ry.—New Mortgage.—This company's new mortgage, recently filed to the Western Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, as trustee, authorizes the issue of not exceeding $30,000,000 of first mortgage 5% gold bonds dated April 1 1905 and due April 1 1935 (tax free), to provide for the construction and equipment of the company's proposed line from the town of Seward, on Resurrection Bay, Alaska, to a point on the Yukon River, with all branches and extensions thereof now owned or hereafter acquired. Of the authorized issue, $1,850,000 is to be executed forthwith and the proceeds used to assist in paying the cost of constructing the first 50 miles of the road, also the permanent office building and terminal site in Seward. The remaining bonds are issuable as follows:

(1) $35,000 per mile for each mile of completed main track; (2) 75% of actual cost in place of all terminals, freight yards, side tracks, switches, shops, round houses, office buildings, wharves or coal bunkers acquired or purchased; (3) 75% of actual cost of all tunnels, rockwork, trestles, abutments, piers and bridges where the same in any one mile exceed $25,000; (4) $30,000 per mile for each mile of completed second main track.—V. 81 p. 1790, 1370.

Albany & Susquehanna RR.—Dividends—Stockholders' Committee.—A committee consisting of George P. Butler, Adrian H. Joline and John Harsen Rhoades has sent a circular to the shareholders asserting that the saving of $280,000 yearly to be effected through the retirement of $10,000,000 bonds by the new bond issue which is convertible into D. & H. stock should go to increase the dividends on the Susquehanna's $3,500,000 of capital stock.

The circular and agreement may be had from Charles F. Coaney, No. 35 Wall St., Secretary of the committee. The United States Trust Co., 45 Wall St., is the depository.—V. 80, p. 1362.

Allegheny Valley Ry.—Exchange of Stock.—The Pennsylvania RR. Co., having elected to acquire the preferred shares deposited with the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, last-named corporation will, on and after Apr. 2 1906, deliver $1\frac{1}{8}$ shares of Pennsylvania RR. stock for 2 shares of Allegheny Valley preferred, upon surrender of the receipts for deposits.—V. 81, p. 1663, 1549.

American Railways, Philadelphia.—Purchase.—E. W. Clark & Co. of Philadelphia announce by circular the sale to this company of a controlling interest in the stock of the Scranton Railway Co. (total outstanding issues, $2,000,000 and $1,500,000 5% cumulative preferred), and the offer to the minority holders of the same terms as those received for the majority shares, viz.:

Common stock, at par, $50 per share, payable $25 cash on Jan. 5 1906 and $25 cash on or before Dec. 15 1906. The American Railways Co. will give its notes, bearing 5% interest per annum from Dec. 15 1905 for the deferred payment, secured by the common stock purchased. We will hold these notes and said stock as collateral, and will issue our negotiable certificates of participation in the loan to the holders of common stock entitled thereto, reserving the right, however, to sell the notes at a price sufficient to pay the certificates of participation at par and accrued interest.

Preferred stock, at par, $50 per share, payable in 5% registered gold trust certificates issued by the New York Trust Co. of New York, under agreement with the American Railways Co., and secured by deposit with said trust company of preferred stock of the Scranton Railway Co. equal in par value to the certificates issued. These certificates will be dated Sept. 1 1905, the date of the last preferred dividend, and will mature on Sept. 1 1935, with the right of purchase at any semi-annual payment date after March 1 1907, at the option of the American Railways Co., at 102½%, together with semi-annual payments due thereon.—V. 81, p. 1043.

Aurora Elgin & Chicago (Electric) Ry.—Consolidation.—The "Cleveland Leader" of Dec. 23 quotes President L. J. Wolfe as stating that he has recommended the consolidation of the Elgin Aurora & Southern Traction Co. on the following terms:

The consolidated company shall bear the name of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago RR. Co., and shall have outstanding an issue of $3,100,000 of preferred stock, bearing for the first three years from the date of consolidation fixed quarterly cumulative dividends at the rate of 5% per annum, and thereafter of 6% per annum, and $3,100,000 of common stock; of the $3,100,000 of preferred stock, $1,800,000 to be issued pro rata to the holders of the $1,500,000 of the preferred stock of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago Railway Co., and the remaining $1,300,000 preferred stock shall be issued pro rata to the holders of the $2,000,000 of stock of the Elgin Aurora & Southern Traction Co.; that $3,000,000 of common stock of the consolidated company be issued pro rata to the holders of the $3,000,000 common stock of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago Railway Co., and the remaining $100,000 common stock be exchanged for all of the stock of the projected line to the cemetery.

This means that the holder of 100 shares of the present preferred stock of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago Railway Co. will receive 120 shares of new preferred stock, bearing 5% dividends from the date of consolidation and 6% dividends after three years. The holder of 100 shares of Elgin Aurora & Southern Traction Co. stock will receive 65 shares of the new preferred stock. The holder of 100 shares of the common stock of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago Railway Co. will receive 100 shares of the new common stock.

Immediate and continuous payment of the dividends on the new preferred stock will be assured by the fact that the present earnings of the properties will provide for the dividends (and leave a surplus of $55,000 per annum, equivalent to about 1¼% on the $3,100,000 of common stock). These figures do not take into consideration the normal growth of the properties, the benefits and economies resulting from the consolidation, nor the benefits sure to accrue to the property from developments now under way.

The floating debt of the Aurora Elgin & Chicago Railway Co. and the Elgin Aurora & Southern Traction Co. will be provided for by obligations of the consolidated company.—V. 81, p. 1790, 1099.

Austin (Tex.) Electric Ry.—See Austin Traction Co. below.—V. 79, p. 1704.

Austin (Tex.) Traction Co.—New Corporation.—This company was incorporated under the laws of Maine on Dec. 4 with $500,000 capital stock, presumably to control the Austin Electric Ry. Officers at time of incorporation were: President, H. M. Heath, Augusta; Treasurer and Clerk, C. L. Andrews, Augusta.—V. 79, p. 1704.

Boston & Lowell RR.—Refunding Bonds.—The shareholders will vote at the annual meeting on Jan. 3 on a proposition to issue not exceeding $500,000 of 20-year bonds, dated Nov. 1 1906, to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 4% per annum, payable semi-annually, and to give the directors authority to issue and sell the same, the proceeds to be used in paying the bonds, amounting to $500,000, due Nov. 1 1906.—V. 81, p. 725.

Boston & Maine RR.—Merger of Sub-Companies.—On Dec. 20 the stockholders of the Newburyport RR. and the Danvers RR. voted to sell the roads to the Boston & Maine, to which they have been leased since their construction. Cleveland Electric Ry.—Decisions.—The Supreme Court of Ohio on Nov. 28 decided in favor of the Forest City Ry. the suit brought by A. J. Day, a property owner, to restrain the construction by that company of its proposed line on Denison Ave., on the ground that it had not obtained the consent of property owners representing a majority of the foot frontage on the avenue. Construction, however, is prevented by an injunction granted by the Common Pleas Court in an action brought by William M. Reynolds, as a tax-payer, who alleges the ordinance was not legally advertised. If a decision favorable to the three-cent-fare company is handed down in the latter case, an appeal will likewise be taken to the Supreme Court.

Judge Tayler, in the United States Circuit Court on Dec. 4 filed the formal decree enjoining the Forest City Street Ry. from taking possession of the Central Avenue route under the ordinance passed Jan. 11 last, on the ground that the ordinance is invalid because it authorizes the taking of property without due process of law, notwithstanding that, as previously held by him, the franchise of the Cleveland Electric Ry. expired on March 22 last.—V. 81, p. 725.

Colorado Southern New Orleans & Pacific RR.—New Stock.—The shareholders on Dec. 30 voted to increase the capital stock from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000. Compare V. 81, p. 1664, 1436.

Indiana Harbor RR.—New Line.—This company's new line, extending from Indiana Harbor on Lake Michigan southerly to Sullivan, Ind., 107 miles, having been constructed by New York Central interests in order to reach the coal fields in Indiana and Illinois, is expected to be in operation on or about Jan. 1. The new line will afford a direct connection between Lake Michigan and the Cairo Division of the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis. The company was incorporated in March 1903 with $250,000 of authorized capital stock in $100 shares. No bonds. A Chicago paper says:

The grades are 12½ feet to the mile, making it a practically level line, thus greatly facilitating operation. It will tap the coal fields of Indiana and Illinois and it passes through two of the best agricultural counties in Indiana—Benton and Warren. It is of the highest quality of permanent construction. All culverts and bridges are of concrete. It is believed that it will handle a big business, and that naturally will give a strong impetus to affairs at Indiana Harbor. The company's equipment includes ten locomotives now in use, while twenty consolidated engines are under construction at Dunkirk, 1,000 box cars and 3,000 coal cars. The passenger equipment embraces two trains of six cars each.

The officers are: President, William H. Newman; D. W. Pardee, Secretary, and Charles F. Cox, Treasurer, both with headquarters at the Grand Central Station, New York. Compare Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry. in V. 80, p. 1911.

Wayne & Wabash Valley systems at Wabash), to the Indiana Union Traction Co., that company guaranteeing the principal and interest of the $500,000 5% gold bonds. These bonds are dated 1903 and due Oct. 1933, but subject to call at 105 and interest on six weeks' notice; interest payable April and October; denominations $100, $500 and $1,000; trustee Trenton Trust & S. Interborough Rapid Transit Co.—Plan of Merger.—Formal announcement was made on Tuesday that an agreement has been reached by Thomas F. Ryan and August Belmont for the organization of a holding company to merge the interests of the Interborough and Metropolitan companies, and that a plan providing for the exchange of stock is now in preparation and will shortly be made public. The new holding company will have a share capitalization of at least $135,000,000 (of which $52,000,000 will be 5% cumulative preferred), in case all the shareholders of the constituent properties accept the terms offered.

The official statement regarding the amalgamation is as follows:

Mr. Belmont and Mr. Ryan, after consultation with their respective associates, have approved a plan for the union of the Interborough and Metropolitan interests, which will be formally submitted to the stockholders of the corporations involved as soon as the lawyers have completed the necessary papers. The plan contemplates the organization of a new company which shall issue its securities in acquiring the shares of the Interborough, Metropolitan Street Railway and Metropolitan Securities companies upon the following terms:

For every share of Interborough stock, new collateral trust 4½% bonds, secured by the deposit of Interborough stock.....	$200
New common stock.....	90
For every share of Metropolitan Street Railway stock, new 5% cumulative preferred stock.....	100
New common stock.....	50
For every share of Metropolitan Securities stock (with $75 per share paid), new common stock.....	85

It is confidently believed that the proposed arrangement will not only be beneficial to the stockholders of the corporations involved, but that it will be advantageous to the city and to the public. It is admitted in this connection that the transportation facilities in this city are already superior in rapidity, comfort, character of equipment and low cost of travel for long distance to those of any other city in the world. Yet they should be further greatly improved by reason of the greater opportunity now offered to co-operate harmoniously with the city in providing for important extensions and additions to the facilities of travel within the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx.

The aforesaid terms of exchange will require the issue of new securities as follows in exchange for the share capital of the old companies:

For Existing Stock—	Amount.	Col. Tr. 4½% Pref. St'k.	Com. St'k.	Will Be Issued—
Interboro. Rap. Tran.	$35,000,000	$70,000,000		$31,500,000
Met. Street Railway	52,000,000			26,000,000
Met. Securities Co.
(75% paid in; present amt. paid 50%)	30,000,000			25,500,000
Total	$117,000,000	$70,000,000	$52,000,000	$83,000,000

The shareholders of the Metropolitan Street Ry. who do not accept the terms offered, it is said, will have to look to the Metropolitan Securities Co. for the maintenance of their 7% dividend.

An underwriting syndicate, it is understood, will be prepared to take from the shareholders of the present companies at $60 a share such of the new common stock to which they are severally entitled as they may care to sell. The syndicate, it is commonly reported, will include, besides August Belmont & Co., J. P. Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., though representatives of these firms decline to confirm the statement.—V. 81, p. 1791, 1610.

The scheme in its entirety, if carried out, will embrace a line from Kansas City to Fort Worth, with branches running from Henryetta to Oklahoma City; from Guertie, I. The line is already located from Wagoner north to Pittsburg, Kan., 123 miles, and construction on this as far as Afton, I. T., a distance of 60 miles, will be commenced about Jan. 1 1906. The distance by the line as located south from Dustin to Denison, Tex., is 127 miles. The road is owned by, and is being built under the general supervision of, the William Kenefick Company of Kansas City, and it is understood that Mr. Kenefick has associated with him in the project representatives of strong financial interests.

The Missouri Oklahoma & Gulf Railway Co. was organized on Oct. 21 1904 (with $10,000,000 of authorized capital stock), taking over the Muskogee Union and beginning the construction work, which resulted in the completion and in placing in operation on Nov. 15 1905 of 75 miles of road from Wagoner to Dustin.

During the last two years over $2,000,000 has been expended on the property, making additions to the power station, installation of the new municipal lighting system and various other improvements, and it is proposed to expend a large amount in the future in still further improving the plant, increasing the equipment with 75 new cars and other additions. The capital stock authorized and issued is $700,000. The road is to be complete, from Ligonier to Somerset, 30 miles, within a few months. Jd Henry Cochran is President.—V. 81, p. 559.

Port Angeles Eastern RR.—Successor.—See Port Angeles & Olympia Ry. below.—V. 69, p. 82.

Port Angeles & Olympia Ry.—Incorporated.—This company filed articles of incorporation in the State of Washington on Nov. 16. Authorized capital stock $4,000,000. Incorporators, Jacob Furth and Lester Turner and W. D. Hofius of Seattle, A. A. Arthur of New York and M. J. Carrigan of Port Angeles. The company proposes to build a standard-gauge railroad from Port Angeles to Olympia, having undertaken practically the same enterprise on which the former Port Angeles Eastern RR. was engaged. (See V. 69, p. 82.) The promoters of the new company are also interested in the Port Angeles & Peninsular Ry., which is projected to run from Olympia to a connection with the Northern Pacific at the Quillavute River on the West Coast.

L. M. Rise, engineer in charge of the construction, is quoted as saying:

If the work progresses with the speed which we expect, we shall have work for 10,000 laborers next summer along the line of our road. Even up to the present time we have found a great dearth of labor, owing to the vast amount of railroad construction work in the Northwest. Our capital is subscribed and upon the decision as to the route we shall begin active construction. The road will tap the rich timber region of the State, and will aid notably in opening undeveloped property along Hood's Canal. The road will be 210 miles in length between Olympia and Port Angeles, and at the latter point will connect with the Port Angeles & Peninsular road, a "feeder" road 80 miles long.

Railroad Construction.—Yearly Statement.—See editorial remarks on a previous page.—V. 81, p. 32.

The contract of sale provides that the purchaser shall take at the same price all of the said common stock that may be offered, provided, however, that in order to bind the purchaser to take any such additional shares of common stock, the vendors must give to the purchaser on or before Jan. 15 1906 notice in writing of the number of such additional shares of the common stock which they propose to sell under the terms of this contract. The common stock is liable to 30% assessment, and in the contract of sale it is set forth that the purchaser does hereby undertake and agree to protect and save harmless from and against all such assessment and liability, the vendors and any and all holders of said common stock who may sell the same under and by virtue of the terms of this contract.—V. 81, p. 1724.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Further Facts Regarding Sale of Non-Assenting Stock.—A Baltimore paper states that the stock held by the Ruhstrat committee, which, as stated last week, has been purchased by Middendorf, Williams & Co. of Baltimore and John L. Williams & Sons of Richmond, consists of $1,520,000 preferred and $5,080,000 common, the price being, as already stated, $55 per share for the preferred and $35 per share for the common, in all $2,614,000, to be paid on or before Feb. 1. Mr. Middendorf is quoted as saying that this stock is acquired by the two firms wholly for investment purposes, and that there is no intention of depositing the same under the reorganization plan of the Ryan-Blair committee in accordance with which the new holding company (the Seaboard Company) was organized. Aside from the 66,000 shares held by the Ruhstrat committee, there is said to have been about 34,000 shares which refused to assent to the plan, most of which has been purchased by the Williams and Middendorf firms.

Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $5,760,000 Seaboard Air Line Ry. Atlanta-Birmingham first mortgage 4% 30-year gold bonds.

These bonds have been issued at $30,000 per mile upon 192 miles of railway lines acquired or constructed by the Atlanta & Birmingham Air Line Ry., extending from Birmingham, Ala., to Howell's Junction, near Atlanta, Ga., 163.27 miles; also from Coal City to Pell City, in St. Clair County, Ala., 8.65 miles; Tredgar to Jacksonville, in Calhoun County, Ala., 3.29 miles; and Rockmart, in Polk County, Ga., to Cartersville, in Bartow County, Ga., 22.84 miles. The unissued $4,240,000 of the total authorized issue of $10,000,000 bonds can be issued only from time to time, at not exceeding $30,000 per mile for each 5 miles of railway in addition to the said 192 miles that shall be constructed or otherwise acquired, and upon which the mortgage shall become a first lien.

All the capital stock of the A. & B. Air Line Ry., amounting to $1,525,000, is owned by the Seaboard Air Line Ry. (except seven qualifying shares of directors), subject to said $5,760,000 first mortgage 4% bonds, $2,000,000 Atlanta & Birmingham Air Line Ry. second mortgage 5s, maturing Jan. 1 1924, and $3,415,979 floating debt of the Atlanta & Birmingham Air Line Ry., as appears in the deferred assets of the Seaboard Air Line Ry., shown in its balance sheet of Oct. 31 1905.

Spokane & Inland (Electric) Ry.—Prospectus.—This road is under construction from Spokane, Wash., to Moscow, Idaho, of which 34 miles, to Waverly, is expected to be in operation in May 1906. A branch is also proposed to Palouse. Total length of line 146 miles. A pamphlet says:

A standard-gauge Interurban electric railroad, now in progress of construction; company incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington on Jan. 10 1905. Capital stock, $3,500,000, in shares of $100 each. Directors: Jay P. Graves (President), President of Spokane Traction Co., Vice-President of Coeur d'Alene & Spokane Ry. Co.; F. A. Blackwell (Vice-President), F. Lewis Clark, John Twohy and Alfred Coolidge, all of Spokane. The bonds (5 per cents) have been purchased by E. H. Rollins & Sons of Boston and by the Peabody, Houghteling Co. of Chicago.

The company will build from Spokane to Palouse and Colfax in the form of a "Y," the stem extending from Spokane to a point in Spring Valley to be known as Spring Valley Junction, the east arm reaching Palouse by way of Oakesdale and Garfield, and the west arm reaching Colfax by way of Rosalia and Thornton. The distances from Spokane will be as follows: Freeman, 17.5 miles; Mount Hope, 23.5 miles; Waverly, 32 miles; Spring Valley Junction, 39 miles; Oakesdale, 53 miles; Garfield, 65.5 miles; Palouse, 76 miles; Rosalia, 44 miles; Thornton, 53.5 miles; Colfax, 76 miles. Total mileage, including spurs and sidings, 125. It is the purpose to extend the lines ultimately to Pullman, Wash., and to Moscow, Idaho; also to a point on the Snake River below the head of all-the-year navigation.

The Spokane Terminal Co. (V. 81, p. 1045) was incorporated in the spring of 1905 to acquire terminals for the joint use of the Spokane & Inland Ry., the Coeur d'Alene & Spokane Ry. and other roads. At Palouse the Spokane & Inland Ry. will own and use terminals jointly with the new Washington Idaho & Montana Ry.

Two bridges are under construction in Spokane, where the lines cross the Spokane River; one will be 500 and the other 700 feet in length. The bridge across Rock Creek will be 133 feet in height and 1,040 feet long. There will also be a trestle about 800 feet long across Rattler Run, and a number of smaller bridges and trestles. All of the bridge work is being constructed to stand the strain of any modern railway train. Maximum grade on entire line, including terminal tracks, is 2%; maximum curvature, 14 degrees, and there are but two curves that exceed 12 degrees. Rails, best 70-pound standard steel. Standard steam railway ties will be exclusively used. Idaho cedar poles, not less than 40 feet in length and not less than 8 inches in diameter at the top, will be placed on each side of the track at intervals not exceeding 100 feet. The entire electrical equipment has been contracted for with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. The freight trains will be drawn by electric locomotives guaranteed to haul 15 60,000-pound-capacity cars, when fully loaded, up a 2% grade at a speed of not less than 8 miles an hour. The company owns a power site 9 miles below Spokane, on the Spokane River, where 9,000 horsepower can be developed at a cost that will not exceed $80 per horsepower. But, owing to the impossibility of developing its own power by the time it will be needed for operation of the road, the company has contracted with the Washington Water Power Co. for a 24-hour service at the rate of $20 per horsepower per annum, the contract to run for a term of ten years. The company will use the Westinghouse single-phase alternating current system.

Estimates collected by experts of the bonding companies place the probable gross earnings for the first year at $8,000 per mile.

The company offered small blocks of its stock at par. Press reports in September last stated that bonds had been sold on account of the lines to Colfax and Palouse and that the purchasers had agreed to take in all $4,500,000 bonds in case the road was further extended as proposed. The road is reported to have been completed from Spokane south to Freeman, 18 miles, and to be in progress from Freeman to Waverly, 16 miles.—V. 81, p. 1045.

American Bank Note Co.—Plan of Re-capitalization.—Under date of Dec. 12 1905, a committee consisting of Edmund C. Converse, Chairman; Wm. Nelson Cromwell, Francis L. Hine, Theodore H. Freeland, Warren L. Green, with Benjamin Strong Jr., Secretary, 7 Wall St., New York City, has issued a plan for the re-capitalization of the company, by which a new corporation will be organized under the laws of the State of New York or New Jersey with the name of "United Bank Note Corporation," or such other name as may be determined. The American Bank Note Co. is a New York incorporation owning or interested in real estate, engraving and printing plants, and established businesses of kindred character, in the United States, Canada, England, Italy, South America, and elsewhere, of great value, and exceeding its obligations by several millions of dollars. For these and other reasons, it is designed to acquire at least a majority of the capital stock, and, whenever the same may be lawfully done, to acquire the properties and business of the company and also to provide a working capital and investment fund for the new corporation; but it is not a part of the plan to acquire any property or securities of the American Bank Note Co. without the approval of its stockholders at a duly called meeting or in other lawful manner. The American Bank Note Co. has a capital stock divided into 72,000 shares, but of no fixed par value. Its nominal capital stock is $100,000.

It is proposed that the new corporation shall authorize the issue of the following generally described securities:

- Six per cent cumulative preferred stock, in shares of $50 each, having preference over the common stock as to dividends and upon liquidation; and protected by the provision that no lien shall voluntarily be created and no other issue of stock shall be made, without the affirmative vote of the holders of 80% in amount of each class of stock then outstanding—$5,000,000
 - Holders of existing capital stock of the American Bank Note Co. becoming parties to the plan shall receive one share of the preferred stock and one share of the common stock of the new corporation for each one share of stock deposited. Any portion not taken under this offer may be disposed of at not less than par for the acquisition of the stock or property of the American Bank Note Co. and for no other purpose—$3,600,000
 - For sale under offer to depositors, on basis of $75 cash for one share of preferred accompanied by one share of common, to provide working capital and investment fund—400,000
[Making present issue of new preferred stock $4,000,000.]
 - To be held in trust for the future acquisition of properties, extension of business, etc.—500,000
 - Authorized, but reserved for future issue at not less than its par value—500,000
- Common stock in shares of $50 each, entitled to all dividends declared after payment of such preferential cumulative dividends upon the preferred stock; and likewise protected as to such voluntary liens and further stock issue by provisions similar to those relating to the preferred stock—$5,000,000
 - To holders of existing capital stock of American Bank Note Co. See "(a)" under preferred stock above—$3,600,000
 - For sale to depositors. See "(b)" under preferred stock above—400,000
[Making total present issue of common stock $4,000,000.]
 - To be held in trust for future sale, use or other disposition, in the acquisition of properties, extension of business, etc.—500,000
 - Authorized, but reserved for future issue by the new corporation at not less than its par value—500,000

For corporate purposes, and to enable it to establish a new plant of large capacity and of great efficiency, and to acquire or establish kindred enterprises at home and abroad, it is desirable to provide $600,000 for use as a working capital and for an investment fund for the new corporation. To obtain this sum, $400,000 each of the new preferred and common stock will be offered to depositors under the plan, for subscription and purchase, pro rata to their respective holdings so deposited, at the sum of $75 in cash for one share of such preferred stock and one share of such common stock, and at such time and for such period of subscription and purchase as may be deemed advisable by the committee. A circular says:

The American Bank Note Co., as you are aware, is the pioneer bank note engraving corporation in the United States. It is believed that its premier position in this field is recognized the world over; but the tremendous developments of the last quarter of a century, especially in corporate and governmental requirements, have almost transformed the business, while the ordinary commercial trade has created new demands of infinite variety as to style, grades, quantities and cost. It is deemed desirable, therefore, to establish a new, modern, up-to-date plant and foundry, affording more variety of work and greater dispatch in execution of orders. It is also desirable to secure the benefits and economies of concentration in work and management, and to enter into other kindred and inviting fields of activity. It needs no argument to show that the present capitalization bears no reasonable relation to present values and conditions, and it seems clear that the interests of stockholders will be better served by transforming their present nominal share ownership into a form bearing a more accurate relation to the enterprise and affording greater facility in its use for sale, for collateral, or for other customary transaction, and listable upon the Exchanges.

For these, and other reasons, it has, for some time, been considered by stockholders that there should be a readjustment of share ownership and capitalization relations and a new working capital and investment fund, furnished through a new corporation.

Holders of shares of the capital stock of the American Bank Note Co. are invited to deposit their respective holdings, duly endorsed in blank, with the depository, the Bankers' Trust Co., No. 7 Wall St., New York City, on or before Jan. 17 1906, in exchange for transferable certificates of deposit.

All dividends paid by the American Bank Note Co. upon any stock deposited will be distributed to the holders of certificates of deposit entitled thereto, without deduction, as and when received by the committee.—V. 81, p. 1794.

American Brake Shoe & Foundry Co.—Not a New Mortgage.—The $1,000,000 mortgage recently recorded is not a new mortgage, but the one made in 1902, which has been re-filed to comply with the laws of Tennessee.—V. 79, p. 2458, 2087.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Output.—The output of instruments (each telephone being two "instruments," viz., one receiver and one transmitter) for the month and eleven months ending Nov. 30 was:

	Month— To Nov. 30—	1905.	1904.	11 Months— 1905.	1904.
Gross output (number)		183,470	103,922	1,677,800	1,094,291

Anaconda Copper Mining Co.—Dividend Increased.—This company, a majority of whose $30,000,000 capital stock is owned by the Amalgamated Copper Co., has declared a dividend of 87½ cents a share (par $25), payable Jan. 18 to holders of record Jan. 6. The report that this is a quarterly distribution, making the annual rate 14%, while possibly true, is not officially confirmed. The annual dividend record follows:

Calendar year	1899.	1899.	1900.	1901.	1902.	1903.	1904.	1905.
Tot. dividend (per cent)	10	13	16	13	4	4	4	8

$77,500 for the first five years, $116,250 annually for the second five years, $155,000 annually for the third five years, $193,750 annually for the fourth five years, and $232,500 annually for the fifth five years.

Physical data:

The gas distributed is a by-product of the Empire Coke Co. (V. 79, p. 215), Geneva, N. Y., and is purchased from the latter upon favorable terms, the Gas Company's own manufacturing facilities being held in reserve. Earnings are derived entirely from private consumers, independent of a city contract. Gas is sold at $1.25 per thousand cubic feet. Sales of gas are now running at the rate of 90,000,000 cubic feet per year and President Palmer estimates that net earnings during the first year after consolidation will reach $60,000, or double the interest on all the bonds of both issues now outstanding.

The remaining first mortgage bonds may be issued only for extensions and improvements, at 75% of cost, and when the net earnings for the preceding twelve months shall have been at least twice the interest on all outstanding bonds and on the additional issue.—See V. 74, p. 97. V. 81, p. 1377.

A circular says in part:

A recent report of competent engineers estimates that the work of repairing the power-house and canal can be accomplished at a cost not exceeding $425,000. Under the arrangement which the committee now recommends, the bondholders are asked (1) to grant an extension for the payment of six coupons; and (2) to consent to an issue of $500,000 receivers' certificates; the proceeds of these certificates to be used exclusively for repairing the property. In exchange for this, the junior security holders, and the other parties to the contract, grant to the Michigan Lake Superior Power Co. the joint use of the compensating works; they cancel the mechanics' liens; defend the litigation respecting water rights, and secure a satisfactory revision of the power contract, and arrange for the appointment of a co-receiver to represent the interests of the first mortgage bondholders.

It is expected that the repairs will be completed during the coming summer, and that their completion will make it possible to develop at once sufficient power to pay the interest on the bonds (the Union Carbide Co. being ready to take additional power when developed).

The bondholders are asked to sign the contract at their earliest convenience, after which they will be notified to present their bonds to the Trust Company of North America of Philadelphia or the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, for the purpose of having them stamped in accordance with the agreement.—V. 81, p. 1178.

After paying debenture interest there is a balance of £51,000, which is absorbed by the interest and sinking fund on the preference income certificates and a dividend of 8% on the preference shares. The preference income certificates outstanding are now reduced to £46,460, and the directors decided, in view of the satisfactory prospects for the current year, to pay off the entire balance on Dec. 1. For this purpose there is already available at the credit of the sinking fund £10,964, and the balance of £35,495 will be taken from the general reserve.

Chairman Richard H. Glyn at the meeting in London on Dec. 1 said:

There was a short crop of wheat in the Northwest, and the wheat was of inferior quality—in fact, it has been the most difficult milling year that we have experienced since we began business. As is our usual custom, a large sum (£31,747) out of earnings has been used in keeping our property up to its usual excellent condition. The prospects for this year are certainly brighter. The crop is abundant and of good quality; our mills are working up to their full capacity to keep up with the unprecedented demand for flour. We have sold more flour in the last three months than we have ever sold in the same period during the whole time the company has existed.

We have spent a very large amount of money in this way since 1889—certainly not less than £500,000, and all out of earnings. And not only have we thus kept up our mills to the highest state of efficiency, but we have enormously increased their capacity. Our daily capacity fifteen years ago was 14,300 barrels a day; to-day it is 36,000.

The payment of the income certificates leaves outstanding: First mortgage 6% debentures, £832,000; 8% cumulative preferred shares (all dividends paid to date), £427,840, and ordinary shares £427,840, par of shares £10.—V. 81, p. 1439.

Pure Oil Co.—First Dividend on Common.—This company has declared a dividend of 2% on $3,500,000 common stock. On the preferred ($1,250,000) dividends aggregating 6% annually have been paid for ten years past. Authorized share capital: Common, $8,000,000, par $5; cumulative preferred, $2,000,000; par $100.—V. 72, p. 876.

Co., and possibly also the Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Co., the La Belle Iron Works (V. 81, p. 1495), etc. The resignation of John A. Topping from the presidency of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co., effective Jan. 1, is believed to foreshadow his taking the head of the new organization. See V. 81, p. 1796, 1562.

Capital stock authorized and issued, $150,000; par of shares, $100. Above-mentioned bonds are dated Nov. 1 1905 and mature Nov. 1 1925, but are subject to call at 105 and interest in and after 1910. Interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at office of trustee. Sinking fund, 3 cents per ton. President, J. M. Browning, St. Louis, Mo.; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles A. Wall, East St. Louis.

South Dakota Water Co., Sioux Falls, S. D.—Receiver.—Judge Carland in the United States Circuit Court at Sioux Falls on Nov. 27, on application of the American Water Works & Guaranty Co., appointed President J. H. The Judge appointing the receiver set aside the bankruptcy proceedings in which the company admitted its bankruptcy. There are no bonds outstanding.

Sperry Flour Co., California.—Stock Offered.—The California State Bank of Sacramento recently offered for sale a block of this company's capital stock at $100 per share. A San Francisco paper says:

Standard Rope & Twine Co.—Plan Successful.—More than 90% of the outstanding bonds has been deposited under the plan of reorganization (V. 81, p. 1726), and its success is therefore assured. The deposits include all except about $260,000 out of a total of $2,740,000 first mortgage bonds and more than $6,000,000 out of a total of $6,800,000 income bonds. While the time for making deposits has expired, it is understood that for a few days further deposits will be received.—V. 81, p. 1796, 1726.

Stanislaus (Cal.) Electric Power Co.—New Enterprise Underwritten.—Tucker, Anthony & Co., F. L. Eldridge of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. and C. C. Cuyler, of Cuyler, Morgan & Co., are managers of a syndicate which has underwritten $5,250,000 40-year 5% bonds and $2,750,000 preferred stock of this California enterprise. The securities were issued to secure a loan. The prospectus says in part:

The present plans contemplate a development of over 25,000 electrica horse-power, and in addition thereto water equivalent to 16,000 electrica horse-power will be diverted at the power-house site so as to be available during a great part of each year for hydraulic mining on the company's property or for sale to independent mines. It appears that within a radius of 50 miles of the power-house site, over 20,000 horse-power, developed by steam, is now used by mines which, by purchasing electric current at $60 per horse-power per year, can effect large economies. A comprehensive canvass indicates that a large portion of any power that may remain can be sold in the manufacturing and agricultural districts lying between the power-house and San Francisco. The following properties will be owned: (1) The right to use 300 cubic feet of water per second from the Middle Fork of the Stanislaus River at or near Sand Bar Flat, Tuolumne County, Cal.; (2) two storage reservoir sites, containing about 1,120 acres; also 160 additional acres of land in the Government forest reservation; (3) 1,300 acres of timber land; (4) power-house site of 40 acres; (5) a controlling reservoir site of 80 acres; (6) the San Domingo Gold Mining property of about 1,240 acres, &c.

Capitalization authorized: Forty-year first mortgage 5% gold bonds, $10,000,000; 6% preferred stock, $3,000,000; common stock, $10,000,000. To be issued at the outset for the acquisition and development of the property, not more than $6,000,000 bonds, $3,000,000 preferred stock and $8,250,000 common stock, leaving for future use $4,000,000 bonds and $1,750,000 common stock. The bonds will be a direct lien upon all the property of the Stanislaus Electric Power Co., and will be redeemable as an entirety at the option of the company at 110 on and after Jan. 1 1913. The stock, both preferred and common, will be that of the Stanislaus Water Power Co. (a holding corporation organized or to be organized under the laws of New York or of such other State as counsel may advise), which will be the sole owner of all the stock of the Stanislaus Electric Power Co. except such shares, if any, as may be needed to qualify directors. The preferred stock will be redeemable as an entirety at the option of the company from and after Jan. 1 1913 at $130 per share, and dividends thereon will be cumulative from and after Jan. 1 1910. [Subscriptions were asked on a basis of $10,000 of bonds and $5,000 preferred stock for $8,500.]

[The Stanislaus Electric Power Co., the operating company, was incorporated in Connecticut on Dec. 20, with $10,000,000 of authorized capital stock, and the Stanislaus Water Power Co., the holding company, in Maine on Dec. 23, with $13,000,000 of capital stock, classified as above stated.]

Estimated earnings based upon a development for which it is estimated that sufficient provision will be made by means of $5,500,000 of bonds and $2,750,000 of preferred stock: Earnings from electric power after paying operating expenses and taxes, $480,000; interest on $5,500,000 bonds, $275,000; net income from mine operation, $216,000; surplus for dividends, &c., $421,000.

Actual construction has already commenced and the work, we are informed, will be pushed to completion as fast as possible. The plans as adopted call for a power plant at Subletts Crossing, about 6 miles from Murphys, Calaveras County, and the establishment of storage reservoirs at the headwaters of the Stanislaus River; a diverting dam; a flume and ditch system 15½ miles long, with a capacity of 300 cubic feet of water per second; a large equalizing reservoir above the power-house site; a system of pipe lines, which will deliver the water to the power-house under a head of 1,500 feet; a power-station, with a capacity of 20,000 K. W.; and a transmission system which will provide for the distribution of power to a market within a radius of 150 miles of the power-house. The engineering and construction work is to be in charge of Sanderson & Porter, Engineers, of New York City.

The proposition is backed by strong interests in Boston, Chicago, New York and San Francisco. Beach Thompson, of San Francisco (whose Stanislaus properties and rights have been acquired) will be associated with the enterprise, and H. P. Veeder and James K. Moffitt, of San Francisco, and Harvey P. Goodman, of Napa, Cal., are also interested. The Knickerbocker Trust Co., of New York, is the trustee for the bond issue.

John B. Stetson Co.—Extra Dividend.—The directors on Dec. 22 declared a semi-annual dividend of 4% on the preferred stock for the half-year ending Nov. 30 1905, a dividend of 10% on the common stock, and an extra dividend of 5% on the common stock, payable Jan. 15 1906.—V. 76, p. 269.

Stockton (Cal.) Water Co.—Bonds Called.—First mortgage bonds Nos. 1 to 36, inclusive, have been called for redemption and will be paid at 105 and interest at the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustee, on April 1 1906. See California Gas & Electric Corporation on p. 85 of "Street Railway" section for October.

Swift & Co.—Options on Oregon Plants.—The "Oregonian" of Portland, Ore., states that this company has "secured options on the Union Meat Company's property in Portland and at Troutdale, at an approximate valuation of $1,000,000, and will, if the present plans materialize, build one of the largest and most complete meat-packing and curing plants in Portland to be found west of Omaha and Kansas City.—V. 81, p. 1796, 1677.

Tamarack Mining Co.—Dividend Increased.—The directors yesterday declared a semi-annual dividend of $3, as against $2 six months ago.—V. 81, p. 210, 36.

Tonopah Mining Co. of Nevada.—Second Dividend.—The directors on Dec. 18 declared a second quarterly dividend of 25% (25 cents per share), payable Jan. 22 to stock of record Jan. 12.—V. 80, p. 1975.

Union Gas Co., Spokane, Wash.—Further Facts.—The circular of N. W. Halsey & Co. offering at par and interest $400,000 first and collateral trust mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each, dated July 1 1905, due July 1 1935 without option of prior payment, says in substance:

Interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1 at office of N. W. Halsey & Co., New York, without deduction for tax. United States Mortgage & Trust Co., New York, and George M. Cumming, trustees. Capitalization: Capital stock outstanding, $600,000. Mortgage debt: First and collateral trust 5s, issued and outstanding, $400,000; reserved for extensions and improvements, under carefully drawn restrictions, $600,000; total mortgage bonds authorized, $1,000,000.

Earnings and expenses of the Spokane Falls Gas Light Co. (over 99% of whose stock is owned by the Union Gas Co. and pledged under this mortgage) for year ending Sept. 30 1905: Gross earnings, $138,693; operating expenses and taxes, $96,648; net earnings (over 99% of which accrue to the Union Gas Co. and are available for its bond interest), $42,045; one year's interest on entire outstanding bond issue of the Union Gas Co., $20,000. (As said below the new plant of the Union Gas Co., which is twice the size of the plant of the Spokane Gas Light Co., was not placed in operation, adding to the earnings, until October 1905.—Ed.)

The Union Gas Co. and the Spokane Falls Gas Light Co. are conducting the entire gas business of Spokane, Wash. The Union Gas Co. was incorporated on Oct. 5 1904 and owns, in fee, a thoroughly modern gas generating plant with a capacity of 400,000 cubic feet daily, or twice the present consumption of the entire city. This plant was put in operation in October 1905, and is newly constructed throughout. In addition the company has installed 6½ miles of mains and will rapidly increase this distributing system to territory hitherto unserved; also owns over 99% of the capital stock of the Spokane Falls Gas Light Co., which has a daily producing capacity of about 200,000 cubic feet, and owns 42 miles of mains. The two companies have an annual manufacturing capacity of 219,000,000 cubic feet of gas and distribute their product through 48½ miles of mains. The Spokane Falls Gas Light Co. has no bonded debt, and, under the terms of the mortgage, the pledged stock cannot be voted to authorize any mortgage except to the Union Gas Co., nor to increase the amount of its stock outstanding.

Additional bonds under this mortgage may be issued only upon our written approval, filed with the trustee, and as follows: (1) Upon completion of new plant of The Union Gas Co., $150,000; (2) When the company's net earnings for one year have equaled twice the interest on outstanding bonds and on the additional issue, $115,000; (3) For 80% of cost of extensions, improvements, etc., and when the company's net earnings for one year have equaled twice the interest on outstanding bonds and on the additional issue, $335,000. The sinking fund from July 1911 to July 1916 inclusive shall be equal to 1% of all outstanding bonds, and each year from July 1917 to maturity 2%, to be invested, with accumulated interest, in the bonds at not exceeding 110 and interest, or, failing this, in approved bonds yielding at least 3½% per annum. The sinking fund payments will, at maturity, by the terms of the mortgage, extinguish more than 60% of the outstanding bonds.

The municipal franchise of the Union Gas Co. extends to 1954 and that of the Spokane Falls Gas Light Co. extends to 1945, both free from burdensome restrictions. They provide for fair compensation to the city, such payments in the case of the Spokane Falls Gas Light Co. having been deducted from earnings in foregoing statement. Gas is sold at $1.50 per 1,000 feet, a low rate for this section of the United States (where coal sells at $4.50 per ton) and is 50 cents per 1,000 feet below the maximum price specified in the ordinances.—V. 81, p. 1612.

Union Light, Heat & Power Co., Fargo, N. D.—Change in Control.—The stock owned by Messrs. William and St. Clair Mainland having changed hands, the following officers are announced: President, Paul Doty, St. Paul; Vice-President, J. W. Smith, Fargo; Secretary, O. G. Barnes; Treasurer, J. W. Smith.—V. 80, p. 1239.

Union Light & Water Co., Reno, Nev.—Successor Company.—This corporation was organized on Sept. 6 1905 with $2,000,000 of authorized capital stock, in shares of $1 each, by the Fleishhacker interests of San Francisco, to merge or control, as the case may be, the Reno (Nov.) Power, Light & Water Co. (see V. 81, p. 618), the Washoe County Power & Development Co., the Hunter Creek Water Co. and the Sparks Water Co. Incorporators: Richard Kirman, John Humphreys, Jos. Martin, M. Fleishhacker, F. H. Buck, R. E. Wallace and H. A. Cooke. So far as known, the new company has issued no bonds. We have not succeeded in obtaining an official statement regarding the merger, but Julius Christensen & Co. of Philadelphia, who placed the bonds of the Reno Power, Light & Water Co., favored us with the following under date of Sept. 19:

The entire issue of $750,000 bonds of Reno Power, Light & Water Co. will remain outstanding, but the stock of said company will be exchanged for that of the Union Light & Water Co. A controlling interest of the Washoe Power & Development Co. has been deposited with the Mercantile Trust Co. as additional security for the Reno Power, Light & Water Co. bonds. As to the Hunter Creek Water Co. and the Sparks Water Co., we are not informed.

United Box Board & Paper Co.—Mortgage Filed.—The new general mortgage to secure $2,750,000 of 6% bonds, authorized under the plan to retire existing indebtedness, is being filed for record, the trustee being the Trust Co. of America, New York City.—V. 81, p. 1798, 1678.

United Copper Co.—Increased Dividend.—The directors on Tuesday, having set aside out of the net earnings for the year 1905 the entire amount necessary for the payment of the regular dividend on the preferred stock during the year 1906 (6% amounting to $300,000), declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1¼% on the common stock and an extra dividend of ½%, payable Jan. 3 1906, to stockholders of record Jan. 8. The company paid the first dividend on its $45,000,000 common stock on July 31 1905, being ½% and ½% extra. The present declaration increases the regular common stock dividend to 5% per annum and continues the extra dividend at the rate of 2% per annum.—V. 81, p. 564, 216.

United Metals Selling Co.—Dividend Increased.—This company, controlled by the Lewisohn and Amalgamated interests, is reported to have paid on Wednesday a dividend of 20% on its $5,000,000 capital stock, contrasting with an annual rate in recent years of 10%. See V. 76, p. 334; V. 78, p. 1553.

United States Independent Telephone Co.—New Stock.—This New Jersey corporation filed an amended certificate increasing its capital to $50,000,000. See V. 81, p. 1798, 1497.

United States Reduction & Refining Co.—To Buy in Bonds.—The New York Trust Co., trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to Jan. 15 for the sale to it of first mortgage 6% sinking fund gold bonds of 1901 sufficient to use $253,460 of the sum, about $900,000 received, or receivable, from the sale of the holdings of the United States Company in the Utah Copper Co. There are $3,000,000 of these bonds outstanding subject to call at 110.—V. 81, p. 1497, 851.

United States Steel Corporation.—Profit-Sharing Plan.—President Gary on Dec. 15 announced that the employees of the corporation and subsidiary companies will be given the opportunity to subscribe for the preferred stock of the corporation for 1906 at par.—V. 81, p. 1678, 1373.

Wanango Oil Co.—Listed in Pittsburgh.—The Pittsburgh Stock Exchange has listed the $600,000 capital stock, all of one class; par of shares $50. The company operates in Venango, Crawford and Forest counties, Pa., its 181 wells, it is said, having a total production of 300 barrels per day and yielding net earnings of $140,000 per annum. The stock pays quarterly dividends of 1%. The only liabilities shown by the balance sheet of Sept. 30 are bills payable, $61,376, and accounts payable, $1,529. Incorporated in Pennsylvania in March 1905 as a consolidation of the Norwood Oil & Gas and Mohawk Oil companies. An officer says the company is "doing a very prosperous business." President, J. M. Critchlow; Secretary and Treasurer, John R. Read Miner.

Westinghouse Machine Co.—New Securities.—The shareholders on Dec. 23 voted to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 and to make a new bond issue for $10,000,000, of which $1,500,000 will presumably be reserved to retire the present funded debt. The large demand for the company's Parson turbine, its automatic stoker and its gas engines, it is said, renders necessary additions to the plant, which already employs about 4,000 men.—V. 81, p. 1318.

BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE IN CONNECTION WITH THE LISTING OF FIRST REFUNDING MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT BONDS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., December 11 1905.

Referring to its original application of February 15 1904, and to its supplementary applications of August 22 1904, January 27 1905 and April 4 1905, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company hereby makes application for the listing of $3,042,000 additional Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's First Refunding Gold Mortgage Bonds, numbered consecutively from 17,001 to 20,042, both inclusive, of the par value of $1,000 each. These bonds are secured by a Mortgage or Deed of Trust to the Central Trust Company of New York, bearing date July 1 1902; maturing July 1 2002, and for the amount of $150,000,000. The bonds issued bear interest at the rate of Four per Cent per annum, payable on January 1 and July 1 in each year. Principal and interest are payable in gold coin at the office of the Company or its financial agency in the City of New York, which, for the payment of interest, is at present the Central Trust Company of New York. The bonds are in both coupon and registered forms. Coupon Bonds are exchangeable for Registered Bonds and Registered Bonds for Coupon Bonds. Coupon Bonds may be registered in the name of the owner, such registration being noted on the bond. The Registrar for both Coupon and Registered Bonds is the Central Trust Company of New York. Registered Bonds shall be of the denomination of $1,000 or $5,000 each. The bonds are redeemable at the option of the Company from time to time before July 1 2000, after due notice shall have been given, by payment of the principal and interest accrued to the date of redemption specified in such notice, together with a premium of Ten per Cent of such principal, and after July 1 2000 by payment of principal and accrued interest. The amount redeemed from time to time shall be determined by the Company, and the bonds so redeemed shall be drawn by lot by the Trustee from the numbers of the then outstanding bonds, both Registered and Coupon, and shall not be reissued. The bonds covered by this and the previous applications and all bonds subsequently issued, unless otherwise stated on the bond, are convertible on or before July 1 1914, into the same par value of the Capital Stock of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, and bonds so converted shall be canceled. The necessary corporate action has been taken by the Stockholders and the Directors to increase the Capital Stock of the Company from time to time sufficiently to provide for delivery of shares of stock in exchange for bonds as they may be presented for conversion.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Dec. 29 1905.

Holiday dullness has been reported from most lines of trade, merchants generally now being engaged in closing up their accounts for the calendar year. The monetary situation has received considerable attention, and the advance in the rate of interest for call money to an exceptionally high figure has been a factor in speculative circles. Reviewing the past year, it is evident that unusual business prosperity has been experienced in many lines and the outlook is for continued activity; in fact, from some trades come reports of fairly free contracting for supplies covering requirements for the first months of the new year.

Lard on the spot has dragged, holiday dullness being experienced, and during the latter part of the week prices declined. The close was steadier at 7.75c. for prime Western and 7.50c. for prime City. Refined lard has continued to meet with a slow sale and prices have been easier, closing at 7.90c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been moderately active, but under sales to realize profits prices have weakened. The close was firmer on shorts covering.

The demand for pork has been light and prices have been barely maintained, closing at $14 25@14 50 for mess; $14 75@17 for short clear and $15 50@16 00 for family. Business in cut meats has been quiet and prices have yielded slightly, closing at 8@8½c. for pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs. average, and 9¼@9¾c. for pickled hams. Beef has been quiet and unchanged at $9 25@9 75 for flank, $10 50@11 for packet, $11 50@13 for family and $18 00@18 50 for extra India mess. Tallow has advanced, closing steady at 4½c. Stearines have been quiet and unchanged at 8@8¼c. for lard stearine and 7¾c. for oleo stearine. Cottonseed oil has been quiet but steady, closing at 30@30¼c. for prime yellow. Butter has been in fair demand and higher for the better grades, closing at 18@26c. for creamery. Cheese has advanced slightly and closed firm at 11¼@14c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have been firmer, closing at 30c. for best Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have been quiet, holiday dullness being experienced the past week. The tone of the market has held steady. The close was steady at 8 1-16c. for Rio No. 7 and 8¾c. for Santos No. 4. West India growths have had a moderate sale at steady prices, closing at 9½c. for good Cucuta and 11c. for good average Bogota. Speculation in the market for contracts has been more active and prices have advanced slightly on reports of Brazil legislating to advance the value of coffee. The close was firmer on buying by bull interests.

A moderate volume of business has been transacted in Kentucky tobacco and at firm prices. Owing to the holiday season a quiet state of things has been reported in seed leaf tobacco but offerings have been light and prices have held firm. Sumatra tobacco has been firm but quiet. Havana tobacco has had a moderate sale at full values.

The market for Straits tin has been quiet and under weaker advices from foreign markets, where bull interests have been selling, prices have declined, closing at 35.25@35.50c. Ingot copper has been quiet and offered at lower prices for forward deliveries, closing at 18¾@18¾c. for spot supplies, Lake and electrolytic. Lead has been quiet and easier, closing at 5.85@5.95c. Hops have been quiet but steady.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been fairly active, but at lower prices. Early in the week Wall Street speculative interests were reported sellers to liquidate their holdings. The tightness of the market, it was stated, induced selling. A failure of a Memphis bank occurred and the movement of the crop, despite reports that the South was holding cotton, was on a liberal scale. The demand for actual cotton was reported as light, the advices received from the South quite generally showing quiet markets. Thursday there was a stronger tone, prices making a moderate recovery on buying which, it was understood, was for a prominent interest to cover short sales. To-day the market was easier. The opening was slightly easier; Liverpool advices were disappointing and a private estimate which has considerable influence upon the market was increased from 10,250,000 bales to 10,500,000 bales in consequence of the better yield in the Atlantic States. Notices were tendered for the delivery of about 25,000 to 30,000 bales of cotton on January contracts, and this started selling to liquidate speculative holdings, under which prices yielded slightly during the day. The close was steady at a net loss for the day of 11@13 points. Cotton on the spot has been quiet and easier, closing at 11.90c. for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 18 1903 and reaffirmed Nov. 15 1905 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

—Mr. David C. Hopkins, of the firm of Messrs. Henry Hentz & Co., died of pneumonia on Thursday morning at his home in Brooklyn after a short illness. He entered the employ of Messrs. Henry Hentz & Co. thirty-five years ago, when 22 years of age, and was admitted to membership in the firm in 1880, joining the New York Cotton Exchange the same year. Mr. Hopkins was for many years one of the most active and successful brokers on the floor of the Exchange, but for some time past poor health had forced him to relegate much of the trading in the ring to others. In fact at the time of his death he was concluding arrangements to retire from active business at the beginning of the new year. The funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m. at St. Bartholomew's Church, Pacific St., near Bedford Ave., Brooklyn.

EAST INDIA COTTON CROP.—Under date of Lahore, Nov. 16th, the Director of Land Records and Agriculture of the Punjab issued the following special report on the failure of the cotton crop in that district:

Reports from districts show that the cotton crop is practically a total failure in the Central Punjab, including the Lahore, Gurjanwala, Ferozepore, Montgomery, Amritsar, Jhang and Multan districts and the Chenab and Jhelum Colonies. The area sown in this tract represents about 2-5ths of the cotton area of the Province. The present disaster is ascribed to (a) greenfly in July and August, to severe drought in August, and finally to the ravages of boll-worm in September and October. There is no barani crop in the Delhi Division in consequence of the unsatisfactory character of the monsoon. The same cause has seriously affected the outturn on irrigated land, which will be less than 8 annas. Boll-worm is responsible for much less harm than in the Central Punjab. Cotton is not of much importance outside these tracts. It is said to be below the average, but no special damage has been done by insect pests. Two-thirds of a normal crop is expected in Dera Ghazi Khan. No damage is reported from Jullundur or Gurdaspur.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has been very dull during the week under review, with prices unchanged at 6½c. for 1½ lbs. and 67½c. for 2 lbs. standard grades. Jute butts very dull at 1½c. for paper quality and 2½c. for bagging quality.

BRITISH GROWN COTTON—WEST INDIES, ETC.—The progress of the work undertaken by the British Cotton Growers' Association is referred to in the "Colonial Reports Annual" as follows:

In Barbadoes it is estimated that some 300,000 pounds of cotton will this year be shipped from the 1,617 acres which are under cultivation. The data of rainfall from ten stations, each having an average of 90 inches under cotton cultivation, show that during 1904 the average net return per acre was £10 8s. 4d. In St. Vincent the cotton prospects are encouraging, though disease occasioned loss in some localities, and the total yield in comparison with acreage in cultivation was in consequence disappointing. The cotton-ginning factory was opened on January 4, and up to March 31 222,262 pounds of seed cotton had been ginned, giving 171 bales containing 61,011 pounds of lint. In quality the cotton left little to be desired, and an all-round price of 1s. 5d. per pound was realized. St. Vincent produced the highest priced cotton in the Empire, and as a result there has been a great demand for the St. Vincent seed. Large quantities of it have been disposed of at a satisfactory price, after undergoing careful selection and disinfection at the hands of the agricultural officers.

As to Grenada, it may be safely prophesied that with the present demand in England for British-grown cotton and with the changed conditions affecting the tenure of land in Carriacou, brought about by the Land Settlement scheme of the Government, the industry has an important future before it. A feature of the year is the opening up by one of the largest land owners of the island of some valuable estates there for the cultivation of Sea Island cotton, an example which the peasant settlers will not be slow in following.

On the West African gold coast the outlook is promising in the Eastern Province, where it is estimated that the area cultivated has increased from 200 to 2,000 acres during the last two years. The soil and climate are adapted for the successful growth of cotton, and the difficulties of transport, which is an all-important factor in this country, are facilitated to a certain extent by the vicinity of the Volta River. Experimental cotton farms have been established at Anum and Labolabo to serve as object-lessons and seed-distributing centres for planters.

The association has arranged to send out a complete ginning plant to Labolabo, which will be ready for ginning the crop now growing.

JAPANESE COTTON MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY.
—In the Dec. 12 issue of "Daily Consular and Trade Reports" published by the Bureau of Manufactures of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, there is an interesting contribution from Consul Sharp, of Kobe, Japan, from which we extract the following:

Cotton yarns.—The spinning industry is well developed in this consular district, and cotton yarns form the principal article of export. In 1903 the daily average of working spindles was 897,119, and the output of yarn amounted to 233,789,301 pounds. Besides supplying the domestic demand, yarns to the value of $12,474,074 were exported from Kobe and Osaka in 1904, mostly to China and other Asiatic countries. No. 16 is the grade mostly exported, but Nos. 12, 14, 20, 22 and 32 are also shipped in considerable quantities.

Cotton textiles.—This industry is not yet so important as the spinning, but it is growing rapidly, and great varieties of goods are turned out. It is stated that there were 7,517 power looms and 212,211 hand looms in operation in 1903 in this district. Ten large mills in this neighborhood, operating an average of 4,640 looms in 1903, produced 76,702,213 yards of goods. In the first half of 1905 these same mills had 5,711 looms working and produced 52,345,742 yards. Among the textiles manufactured are gray shirtings, sheetings, drills, cotton, sail duck, cotton flannel, T cloths, muslins, towels and blankets. The domestic consumption of all these goods is large, and the exports at Kobe and Osaka amounted in value to $3,937,059 in 1904. The exportation of towels alone amounted to $681,255. These goods are sent mostly to Asiatic countries. There is also a considerable manufacture of knitted goods.

Clothing.—In connection with the cotton textile industry it is worthy of note that a large quantity of clothing and underwear is made here, exports of the latter at Kobe and Osaka amounting in value to $669,106 in 1904. The importation from abroad of shirts, collars, &c., has become insignificant, owing to the development of domestic manufactures.

Carpets.—Cotton, wool and hemp carpets to the value of $245,581 were exported from Kobe in 1904. A very creditable carpet is made here and is largely used.

The "Japan Chronicle" of Kobe, in its issue of October 31, said:

The weaving looms in operation in the various spinning mills of Japan at the end of September numbered 6,923, showing an increase of 1,212, as compared with the end of the half-year ending March last. The Osaka and Mie spinning mills are working on the largest scale, the Osaka mill having 1,605 looms in operation and the Mie mills 2,099 looms. The output of cotton during September amounted to 9,688,050 yards, showing an increase of 963,760 yards over the monthly average for the first half of this year, or of 3,772,495 yards over the output for September 1904. The consumption of raw cotton in September for weaving purposes amounted to 3,318,191 pounds, an increase of 493,077 pounds over the monthly consumption during the first half of this year, and of 1,308,517 pounds over that for September last year.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, Dec. 29 1905.

Business the past week in the local market for wheat flour has been at a standstill, holiday dulness being experienced. Jobbers quite generally are now engaged in taking an inventory of stocks on hand and therefore have withdrawn as buyers until after the turn of the year. Mills, owing to the present dulness of business, are curtailing production, but as there has been no especial pressure to sell, prices have been quoted unchanged and steady. Rye flour has been quiet and prices have been barely maintained. Buckwheat flour has sold slowly. Corn meal has been quiet and easy.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been quiet.

Only slight changes have occurred in prices, but these have been towards a lower basis. A factor that has received some attention has been the continued full movement of the crop in the Northwest, the receipts at the spring-wheat markets being on a liberal scale. The world's export movement, although showing a considerable falling off from the previous week, nevertheless was in excess of expectations. Reports that the flour mills in the Northwest, owing to the holiday dullness of the flour market, are working on half-time had some influence against wheat values. Crop news from Argentine has continued favorable and it is understood that the export movement of the new crop of Argentine wheat will begin on a liberal scale during the coming month. Crop news from India has shown some improvement, good rains being reported in some sections, but in others the drought still continues. Business in the spot market has been quiet and prices have weakened slightly. To-day there was a firmer market, reflecting firmer foreign advices and on buying by leading interests. The spot market was quiet but steady.

Indian corn futures have been quiet. Prices in the New York market have yielded slightly, but the Western market has been firmer, particularly for December delivery. The receipts of corn at Chicago are running fairly large, inspection is reported as good, and the drying-houses are being kept actively at work turning out contract grades. However, there has been buying for the account of nervous shorts to cover contracts, and this demand advanced prices slightly. Weather conditions in the corn belt have continued to be reported favorable for marketing and handling the crop. The spot market has been quiet and slightly easier; business with exporters has been slow. To-day the tone was unsettled, closing easier. The spot market was quiet.

Oats for future delivery at the Western markets have been quiet, but there has been a steady tone, prices for December delivery showing a moderate advance on buying by a few belated shorts to cover contracts. Business in the spot market has been quiet, there being a temporary lull in the demand over the holiday season. To-day the market was firmer on shorts covering.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday, Dec. 29 1905.

With stock-taking operations in full swing and the vast number of buyers out of town for the holidays, business in the cotton goods market has naturally been of very small volume during the week. In spite of this, however, it is apparent that many buyers are still actively in need of goods and the demand for spots has been maintained. Premiums are still readily obtainable for early deliveries and there has been some buying for future delivery. There is a disposition for the moment to act very conservatively with regard to remote deliveries, but on all sides confidence in the future is in evidence. The statistical position of the market is still very strong and while cotton is lower than it was a week ago, yet the raw material situation is very uncertain and there is no knowing when another sharp advance may occur. It is impossible to predict when buying will re-commence on a large scale, but business is expected to improve considerably after the turn of the year. There is little activity in the export division and Chinese buyers are not expected to take much interest in this market until some time in February. This is causing little apprehension, however, as most mills are sold up on export goods until March, and many of them a good deal further ahead. It is noticeable, nevertheless, that certain exporters are asking that shipments may be postponed, which is in striking contrast to a few months ago, when there were many complaints of deliveries being behind-hand. Holiday dulness has also been apparent in the woolen goods division but the situation is satisfactory.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Dec. 25 were 1,565 packages, valued at $115,720, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

Other Countries	96	16,540	155	20,760
Total	1,565	295,167	3,235	255,983

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $16,683,187 in 1905, against $15,027,253 in 1904.

Fair sales of standard drills have been reported to India at 7½c., representing a slight advance, but the home demand for heavy brown drills and sheetings has been small. Four-yard and lighter-weight sheetings have been in better request, and fair sales have been reported for future delivery with more pending. The demand, however, is principally for spot goods and premiums are frequently paid for quick shipment. Bleached goods have only been taken for immediate needs but inquiries for medium counts have been of fair volume, and these are in a very strong position, owing to the scarcity of gray goods. The expected advance in finer counts has not yet materialized, but stocks on hand are very small and bleacheries are well sold ahead. Coarse, colored cottons continue very strong, owing to the curtailment of production and the scarcity of immediate supplies. Cotton linings are expected to advance shortly but the present demand is not heavy. Sellers are still conservative in naming prices on napped goods. Prints have been quiet but there is further talk of shortening discounts. Fine dress ginghams are again firmer and a fair business has taken place in staple lines. Print cloths have been very quiet during the week, particularly wide goods, but prices are firmly held and stocks are very small.

WOOLEN GOODS.—There has been little doing in the men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted market during the week, as the majority of out-of-town buyers returned to their homes before the holidays, and resident buyers have been far from active. This season is very different from last in that the buying of low-grade goods is not nearly so far advanced. At this time last year it was nearly over, but this season there is still a lot to be done. The reason for this probably lies in the fact that buyers now understand conditions better, and, while realizing the upward tendency of the market, are not so fearful of extravagant advances as they were last year. Another reason is that clothiers are complaining of the quality of low-grade goods, and this is affecting the current business. As has been stated all along, the prices quoted on low-grade goods do not reflect the advance in the price of the raw material, but have only been possible by manipulation in manufacture. This has been done with the idea that buyers would not pay much higher prices for low-grade goods than they have been accustomed to. It appears now, however, that those goods which were not manipulated, but which were advanced in price commensurately, have fared better than the poorer quality ones, which, possibly, may be a result of the great prosperity of the country at the present time. It is claimed that this season is finally to see an improvement in woolens and that velour cassimeres particularly are likely to prove very popular. Staple overcoatings are beginning to move more freely and an active period is now looked forward to. Dress-goods conditions remain unchanged. Business during the past season has been very heavy and new lines have not yet been shown to any appreciable extent.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted goods have been quiet and unchanged. Silks show signs of improvement but are still slow. Ribbons are quiet. Linens are advancing, owing to the price of the raw material. Burlaps are firm with Calcuttas very scarce.

STATE AND CITY DEPARTMENT.

News Items.

Austin, Tex.—Bond Agreement.—An agreement has been reached between the city of Austin and the holders of old water and light bonds who refused to exchange their holdings for new adjustment bonds. The following despatch from Austin, which appeared in the Dallas "News," explains the terms of the agreement:

Austin, Tex., Dec. 19.—The city of Austin and some of the holders of part of its water and light bonds have reached an agreement whereby the bonds are to be taken up and interest overdue paid. The agreement comes as the result of the suits of Cahill et al. against the city and decided adverse to the city. Cahill et al. owned $317,000 of city bonds, bearing 5%, which the city attempted to refund at 3%. Suits for several years' interest and injunction were successfully prosecuted against the city, resulting in judgments for interest, etc., aggregating $106,600. This is to be paid in full and court costs, and the city is to buy the bonds at 95c. on the dollar by July 1 1906; otherwise the present status is to be resumed without prejudice to either side.

The city has about $89,000 on hand, tied up by the injunction, to which $10,000 was added from another fund, and $20,000 is to be borrowed from a local bank to pay the judgment and all court costs. The $20,000 is to draw 8% interest, yet the city's deposit in the same bank brings 4½%.

In addition to straightening out the foregoing tangle, and to improve the city's financial condition, the Council appropriated $40,079 to pay semi-annual interest, accrued interest and sinking fund on the outstanding water and light bonds, amounting to about $1,300,000, and bearing 3% interest under the refunding issue. The holders of the $317,000 of city bonds refused to go into the refunding agreement, but all others did. Their refusal was sustained by the courts.

The City Council also smoothed out the financial difficulty relative to the borrowed City Hall fund, by authorizing the purchase of $42,000 City Hall bonds. The sum of $1,590 was appropriated with which to redeem outstanding bonds.

See "State and City" section for November 1905, p. 181.

No. 3, amending Section 1, Article VI, which will empower the Legislature to increase the number of Justices in each Judicial District until in every district, except the First and Second, there shall be a Justice for each 60,000 inhabitants. For, 297,893; against, 133,999.

No. 6, amending Section 4, Article VII, to extend the term of State certificates of indebtedness from twenty years, the limit placed by the present Constitution, to fifty years. For, 293,532; against, 127,364.

Washington.—Attorney-General holds Municipal Bonds Non-Taxable.—In the "Chronicle" of Dec. 16, page 1746, under caption of "Seattle," we published an opinion of the Corporation Counsel of Seattle holding that bonds of the city of Seattle were not tax-exempt. The State Attorney-General, however, does not agree with the Corporation Counsel. He rules that, in the absence of explicit language clearly expressing the desire of the Legislature to tax such bonds, its intention to do so should not be implied. This ruling of the Attorney-General was reported in the Seattle "Post-Intelligencer" as follows:

Olympia, Dec. 16.—Bonds cannot be taxed, says Attorney-General Atkinson, in a letter sent to-day to J. P. Agnew, Auditor of King County, in reply to a letter of inquiry regarding taxation of county funds.

Mr. Agnew was advised that it is a well-established general principle in America and England and other countries that public property and the general instrumentalities and agencies of government, whether Federal or of the various States or political sub-divisions of the States or municipalities, are not subject to taxation. This immunity is often confirmed by some express constitutional or statutory exemption, but it is not necessarily dependent thereon, says the Attorney-General.

"In most, if not in all of the States," says the Attorney-General, "State, county and municipal bonds or warrants have been held not to be embraced in the usual list of things taxable by the statute of the State wherein such agencies were issued. It is considered that taxes should not be imposed on the instrumentalities of the government which would deprive them of the power to serve and to do credit to the government, or would hinder the efficient exercise of their intended powers.

"In the absence of explicit language clearly expressing the desire of the Legislature to tax bonds of the State, its intention to do so will not be implied, since the practice has been otherwise under former and existing laws.

"It is to be presumed that if the Legislatures of this State, through its sixteen years of history, had thought proper to tax this sort of paper, it would have passed some special law; and as it has not done so, in the face of the weight of authorities, it is to be supposed that our Legislatures have always acted on the theory that the bonds and warrants and like agencies of government were exempt.

"To tax bonds would have an indirect tendency to impose burdens upon and to hamper our resources of the State and to discredit its assets and agencies in the administration of public functions, by depreciating the value of its securities. From the long usage of our public officials, under the law as I view it, I am not inclined to take a stand which would discredit or impair the marketable value of State or municipal bonds, and I am of the opinion that they are not legally taxable in this State."

The proposed issue of $80,000 armory bonds in King County called up the question of taxation.

A prominent bank official in Seattle, in writing to us recently on this subject, states that it is quite probable that at the next Legislature a bill will be introduced exempting municipal securities from taxation. "At the same time," he adds that, even though the bonds should be taxable, "little or no attempt has been made to tax them, and holders of bonds of this State (Washington) need have little fear of their income being in any way diminished by the imposition of a tax under the present administration."
