REVIEW OF JULY.

There were a number of favorable developments during July and they had the effect of further improving the tone in financial and business circles. There was, of course, nothing encouraging in the action of the National Democratic Convention in nominating William J. Bryan for President on an extremely radical platform, but even this was interpreted as having a favorable aspect, inasmuch as it was thought to remove doubt as to the outcome of the Presidential contest, making the election of Mr. Taft, so it is believed, a certainty. This was early in the month. Towards the close of the month (on July 28) Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance was delivered and proved distinctly disappointing. Instead of taking a conservative attitude, Mr. Taft declared himself an adherent of all the Roosevelt doctrines and policies, and promulgated radical views throughout. The address, however, was couched in temperate language and was marked by a judicial tone, in sharp contrast with most of the utterances of Mr. Taft's prototype, from which the conclusion was drawn that Mr. Taft would, after all, make an acceptable President.

From various directions there came evidence of slightly greater activity in trade, encouraging the belief that, by degrees, the country was emerging from the extreme depression in trade. Returns of railroad earnings showed a diminished rate of loss, the tabulations for the current weeks of July recording a loss of only 12@13%, against 16@20% in June. The semi-monthly compilations of idle freight cars indicated that the surplus of cars was also being greatly reduced; for July 8 the number of idle cars was down to 303,042, against 349,567 June 10 and 413,338 on April 29. On the other hand, the return for July 22 again showed an increase in idle cars, though very small, the number running up from 303,042 to 308,171. The copper trade, too, appeared to be gradually getting into better shape, while decidedly increased activity was reported in the iron and steel trades. The quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation, issued towards the close of July, showed for June 30 a smaller aggregate of unfilled orders even than for March 31, the comparison being 3,313,876 tons, against 3,765,343 tons. Officials of the Steel Corporation, however, authorized the statement that during the first 24 days of July new orders had been coming in at a rate to engage 72% of the capacity of the plants of the Steel Corporation, against only 50 to 55% previously.

These were all encouraging events, but the event of greatest moment during July was the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago, setting aside the judgment of Judge Landis in August of last year imposing a fine of $29,240,000 on the Standard Oil Co. for having accepted, as alleged, concessions from published freight rates on shipments of oil over the Chicago & Alton RR. Judge Landis was reversed on practically every leading point, all the three Judges (Peter S. Grosscup, Francis E. Baker and William H. Seaman) concurring in the reversal.

As Judge Landis's action the previous year had played such a prominent part in bringing about the financial collapse in October and November, so the decision completely overruling him had an encouraging and a reassuring effect. The only thing to qualify the feeling of satisfaction felt over the event was the action of President Roosevelt with regard to the matter. Mr. Roosevelt issued one of his characteristic statements, in which the Attorney-General was directed to take immediate steps to have the case re-tried, adding that there was "absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offense," and saying "the President would regard it as a gross miscarriage of justice if, through any technicalities of any kind, the Standard Oil Co. escaped the punishment which would have unquestionably been meted out to any weaker defendant who had been guilty of such offense." Beyond weakening the stock market temporarily, President Roosevelt's criticism of the Appellate Court was without effect.

Another important happening of the month was the movement toward an advance in freight rates over the railroads, this being considered the only alternative to a reduction of wages in view of the tremendous losses in earnings which the roads were sustaining. In the Southwest an advance in rates, to become effective Aug. 10, was announced, and some increase in rates on sugar and on coffee from the Atlantic seaboard and New Orleans to Chicago, Duluth, St. Paul, &c., was made, but the movement went little beyond that. The East and West trunk lines, after a conference of the officials, determined to put off until Dec. 1 any contemplated increase, while in the Southeastern States, action looking towards higher rates was held in check by a court injunction. Shippers opposed the advance and finally appealed to President Roosevelt concerning the matter. This induced Mr. Roosevelt to issue an order much like that issued by him the previous February, when there was talk of reducing wages. The President plainly intimated that if the roads took such a step it would be at their peril, the Inter-State Commerce Commission availing of its powers of investigation for the purpose of keeping advances in check.

An event which had considerable influence in promoting a feeling of confidence in financial circles was the action of the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co., at the instance of Mr. Harriman, in deciding to declare the usual 3% semi-annual dividend on the common stock, notwithstanding that net earnings for the year ending June 30 had decreased $7,900,000, and notwithstanding that the 6% dividends for the year had not been earned by $1,300,000. It was decided to draw upon accumulated surplus for the deficiency.

The stock market showed great strength almost throughout the whole month. The factors on which the movement was based are indicated in the circumstances narrated above. The tone remained good even when reactions were in progress or when some special incident, like Mr. Roosevelt's criticism of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the Standard Oil case, served temporarily to weaken prices. Transactions, too, were on a considerable scale most of the month. Towards the close, however, the volume of business fell off and there were greater or smaller recessions in prices, induced in part by sales to realize profits. The Gould stocks were strong features the latter part of the month on arrangements for taking care of the Wheeling & Lake Erie notes maturing Aug. 1 and on rumors that, as part of these arrangements, the differences between the Harriman and the Gould interests had been or would be reconciled.

In the money market extreme ease prevailed, notwithstanding the issue of a call by the Secretary of the Treasury on July 2 to the national banks for surrender by the latter on or before July 15 of $45,000,000 of Government deposits (the amount was subsequently reduced to $33,279,270 by Secretary Cortelyou, because certain interior depositories protested against further recalls), and notwithstanding heavy withdrawals of cash from the banks by the trust companies to bring the reserves of the latter up to the requirements of the new law.

The foreign exchange market, though showing considerable irregularity, was on the whole firm most of the month. About the 22d of the month rates eased off, mainly as the result of drawings against credits which had been established at London and at Paris through the recent negotiation abroad of considerable blocks of Mexican National, Delaware & Hudson and other securities. On the other hand, rumor had it that exchange was being gradually accumulated to meet New York City revenue bonds negotiated abroad last year which will mature in November.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

OF BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked (a) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the price flat (that is, to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In response to the request of many subscribers, we have changed the order of arrangement of the Street and Electric Railway Securities contained in the following lists. The previous practice was to group them by cities. This was a satisfactory and logical arrangement so long as the railways remained distinctly local enterprises and confined to the limits of a single city. But with the introduction of electricity as motive power most of the local systems have by degrees been transformed into interurban roads, some of them covering wide stretches of territory and connecting numerous cities and towns. In such cases the reader might look under several places before finding the one under which the road was given. To obviate this difficulty, we have recast the entire list and arranged the roads all in alphabetical order according to the names. Where the title is that of a street (like Third Avenue RR.), the securities will still be found grouped together in most cases, it being possible to do this because the controlling company usually bears the name of the city where it is located. Thus the New York City lines will be found under the New York City Railway, the Philadelphia lines under the Philadelphia Rapid Transit, &c. Cross references will assist the reader in finding any particular security.

Prices marked thus (a) indicate that the purchaser has to pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. Prices not marked are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required.
