REVIEW OF FEBRUARY.

There was a double aspect to the state of affairs during February—one favorable, the other unfavorable. The favorable aspect grew out of the developments abroad; the unfavorable turn had to do with domestic happenings. The improvement abroad was very notable and brought with it a marked change in the tone and temper at the foreign financial centres. There were several distinct features connected with this improvement in foreign matters. In the first place, considerable progress was made in composing the troubles in the Balkan regions, removing anxiety on that score. Russia proposed to Turkey and Bulgaria to remit so much of the indemnity payments which Turkey has been making to Russia under the Berlin Treaty of 1878 as would equal the difference between the claim for compensation from Bulgaria made by Turkey and the amount Bulgaria was willing to pay. On this sum, as also on the loan itself, Bulgaria was to be charged only a very low rate of interest.

About the same time King Edward of England with Queen Alexandra paid a visit to Kaiser William at Berlin, and from all accounts was most cordially received, while both the King and the Emperor in speeches pledged themselves to do everything possible to maintain peace. Simultaneously there came the announcement of an agreement between France and Germany for the settlement of the differences between these two countries with regard to Moroccan affairs, which had been occasioning so much friction for many months past. All this was accepted not alone as an augury of general peace, but of a probable betterment of the relations between Germany and Great Britain, which, as is known, have been more or less strained on occasions. The news of the Franco-German agreement was received with great satisfaction at every European centre and the effect altogether was to bring about a complete change of feeling on all the stock exchanges and bourses of Europe.

Evidence of the change was seen in all directions. As the new Russian loan had also been placed, France completely abated its inquiry for gold, allowing the Bank of England to absorb the greater part of the South African gold arrivals in London. Discounts at all the leading Continental centres declined and there was a definite turning of the foreign exchanges in favor of London. In some of the weeks the Bank of England obtained the whole of the Transvaal remittances of gold, for the first time in a long while. In this way it was able to build up its reserve very quickly. Between Jan. 14, when the Bank rate was raised to 3%, and Feb. 25, the bullion holdings of the Bank were increased from £31,656,183 to £37,877,662, an addition, it will be seen, of £6,221,479. The Bank of Germany reduced its rate of discount from 4 to 3½% and there was a marked appreciation in the market value of British consols. These latter got up to 84 13-16, the highest price since the previous October, and comparing with 83 1-16 on Jan. 29. The close Saturday, Feb. 27, was 84½. The latter part of the month some little anxiety was occasioned at times by rumors that war between Austria-Hungary and Servia was inevitable, but these rumors otherwise were without much influence.

In domestic affairs the unfavorable developments were the unsatisfactory state of the iron and steel markets and the hardly less unsatisfactory situation of the copper trade. It also became more and more apparent that the revival in general trade was not proceeding as rapidly as could be wished. The unsettled state of the iron and steel markets was brought prominently to public notice by an official announcement declaring a change in the policy of the United States Steel Corporation with reference to prices. After the close of business on Friday, Feb. 19, Chairman E. H. Gary of the Steel Corporation gave out a statement saying that the leading manufacturers of iron and steel had "determined to protect their customers and for the present at least to sell at such moderate prices as may be necessary with respect to different commodities in order to retain their fair share of the business." He pointed out that since the panic of October 1907, although no agreements had been made as to prices, leading manufacturers had been advising with one another, and partly as a result of these conferences stability of prices had existed until about Jan. 1 1909. As a result of the same policy, too, a gradual improvement in the iron and steel trade had occurred and an increase in sales made. Until within the 48 hours preceding, he said, it had seemed that no general reduction in prices would be necessary, but for one reason or another, including particularly the tariff agitation, many of the smaller concerns who had not been disposed to co-operate with the larger concerns during the preceding year had become demoralized, and unreasonable cutting of prices had ensued. At the same time there had been a decrease in new business and consumers were showing a disposition to hold off until they could feel sure that bottom prices had been reached. Under the circumstances, it was deemed best for all the manufacturers to sell at such modified prices as might be found necessary.

The effect of this announcement was to precipitate a tremendous break in the stock market and to cause a pretty general and a quite sharp decline in iron and steel prices except rails. The precise extent of the decline cannot be stated, since manufacturers, naturally, were not inclined to make their prices public. In steel bars there was an open reduction of $4 a ton at Pittsburgh—that is, from 1.40 cents per lb. to 1.20 cents. The leading pipe mills, it was stated, had issued new discounts on merchant pipe showing reductions ranging from $6 to $10 per ton. Steel billets got down apparently to about $22, against the previous $25.

As far as the stock market was concerned, the influence of these various happenings was accentuated by the adverse report submitted on Saturday, Feb. 20, by a sub-committee of the Senate Committee on Judiciary, which had been investigating the action of the United States Steel Corporation in taking over the shares of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. at the time of the panic in November 1907. This report was not made public, but was said to be strongly condemnatory of the transaction and to severely criticise President Roosevelt for having given implied sanction to the arrangement. The full committee did not accept this report, but after several meetings agreed on March 1 to report to the Senate disagreement on the matter. This was done so as to leave each member of the committee free to express his own opinions. On March 2 seven members of the Committee (a majority) signed a report unofficially condemning the President, four of them without reservation and three with accompanying personal explanations.

As far as the copper trade is concerned, supplies seemed to be far in excess of demand, and the price of the metal appears to have dropped to about 12½ cents a pound, though after the close of the month large purchases for foreign account were reported, and these were said to have been on a basis of 13 cents. The weakness in the steel and copper trades was also reflected in a decline in other branches of the metals trade, and especially in the case of lead.

In the money market there was some evidence of firmness at the beginning of the month, influenced by the gold shipments to Europe, by expectations that the bank statement for Feb. 6 would show a large loss in money holdings and surplus reserves (which expectation was verified) owing to the absorptions of cash by the trust companies to complete their reserve requirements, and by the issuance by the Secretary of the Treasury on Feb. 3 of another call on the banks for the surrender by Feb. 24 of 30 millions more of Government deposits. This came at a time when an installment of $10,000,000 remained to be met by Feb. 10 under the call in January for the surrender of 25 millions of the deposits. While all this, however, caused some slight stiffening in rates, the effect soon passed away. Government disbursements were running in excess of receipts and there were large shipments of currency to this centre from interior points. Hence, pronounced ease soon again became the prevailing condition.

The foreign exchange market, after opening strong, gradually grew easier and rates of exchange fell off. In the last week of the month there was a renewal of strength and exchange rates recovered. The principal influences in the early weakness were the lower discounts in Europe and the buying of securities for London account, induced by the relaxation of political tension regarding the Balkans and the Franco-German political compact concerning Morocco. The offerings of bills against the gold exports to Argentine also contributed to the weakness. The renewed strength manifested at the close was due to selling by London of American securities, caused by the break in our stock market. The gold shipments to Argentine continued throughout the whole month and with the rise in exchange rates would have made exports of the metal to London profitable and likewise to Paris as an arbitrage operation, but no inducements for such exports existed.

in the case involving the validity of the commodities clause of the Inter-State Commerce Law. The industrial stocks were weak on the very poor report for the calendar year made by the Pressed Steel Car Co. Even at this time, however, some particular shares showed exceptional strength, Atchison common on Feb. 17 touching 103 1/2, the highest point reached since 1907. The announcement on the 19th of the change in policy of the Steel Corporation was followed on the 20th and succeeding days by a tremendous slump in prices. Liquidation was on an enormous scale and there was a great slaughter of values in stocks of all grades and descriptions. At times utter demoralization existed, the unfavorable accounts regarding the iron and steel industry and the copper trade serving to intensify the depression. The Steel shares suffered further, as already stated, from the adverse report regarding the Tennessee Coal & Iron merger. Reading shares experienced a special setback for the reasons already mentioned. The last few days the tone improved considerably and material recoveries ensued from the extreme low points for the month.

On the Stock Exchange during the first fifteen days business was on a limited scale, with the fluctuations in the standard stocks very narrow, though sharp advances occurred in some low-priced shares while the copper properties were weak on the unfavorable position of the metal, and Consolidated Gas declined on the denial of the company's petition for a rehearing in the matter of the United States Supreme Court's decision regarding the 80-cent gas law. After the 15th the market displayed growing weakness, evidently on knowledge of the unsatisfactory situation of the iron and steel trades. Reading shares seemed to be especially pressed for sale, either on fears regarding the outcome of the demands of the operators for higher wages and other concessions or because of apprehension concerning the nature of the decision of the United States Supreme Court (which had been looked for)

CONDITION OF THE TRUST COMPANIES OF NEW YORK STATE.

We present below comparative statements showing the condition of the trust companies of New York State at the date of each call since August of 1907. We give separately the totals for the Greater New York and those for the whole State. We also add tables to indicate the changes in deposits for all the separate companies in the different boroughs of the city.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "i."

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

Table with columns: Bonds, Bid., Ask., To Net. The table is organized into sections for various states: ALABAMA, ARIZONA, ARKANSAS, CALIFORNIA, COLORADO, CONNECTICUT, DELAWARE, FLORIDA, GEORGIA, ILLINOIS, IDAHO, IOWA, KANSAS, KENTUCKY, LOUISIANA, MAINE, MARYLAND, MASSACHUSETTS, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, MISSISSIPPI, MISSOURI, MONTANA, NEBRASKA, NEVADA, NEW HAMPSHIRE, NEW JERSEY, NEW YORK, NORTH CAROLINA, NORTH DAKOTA, OHIO, OKLAHOMA, OREGON, PENNSYLVANIA, RHODE ISLAND, SOUTH CAROLINA, SOUTH DAKOTA, TENNESSEE, TEXAS, VERMONT, VIRGINIA, WASHINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA, WISCONSIN, WYOMING, CANADA, and FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.

f Flat price. b Basis. c On basis of $5 to the £. d On the basis of 4 marks to the dollar. n Nominal. s Sale price.
