REVIEW OF OCTOBER.

Sharp advances in their rates of discount by a number of the leading European banks were the feature which attracted the most attention during October. The rise appeared the more noteworthy inasmuch as it did not come at a time of general trade activity in Europe, nor of large and general speculation, such as usually marks the development of monetary tension on the European bourses. Trade revival seems to be making considerable headway in Germany, and in that country also more or less of the speculative spirit is in evidence. Outside of Germany, however, the conditions, apparently, are about normal. In these circumstances the only explanation for the rise in European discount rates was in the effort of the leading banks to protect their gold reserves. In the case of the Bank of England certainly some step was necessary to prevent the drain from reaching excessive proportions, in view of the heavy losses of bullion previously sustained and the large further demands for gold which it was known the Bank would have to meet. In some quarters a disposition existed to assume that the successive advances by the Bank were aimed at American borrowing abroad, and were designed to check speculation on the New York Stock Exchange, which, it was asserted, was being carried on through such borrowing; but careful inquiry among banking houses in this city failed to show that there was any warrant for suggestions of that kind. The consensus of opinion on the part of those well informed as to such matters was that American borrowing abroad was not on an excessive or abnormal scale.

The Bank of England raised its minimum on three successive Thursdays, thereby just doubling the rate in the space of two weeks. On the 7th the rate was moved up from 2½ to 3%; the following Monday (the 11th) the Bank of Germany, which in September had raised its rate from 3½ to 4%, moved up to 5%; on the 14th the Bank of England advanced from 3 to 4%, and the following Thursday, the 21st, it made another advance of 1%, bringing the minimum up to 5%. Such a high rate on the part of the English Bank is very unusual except in periods of stress and storm, and it naturally had a more or less disturbing effect, not only at the European monetary centres, but also at New York. Ordinarily a 5% minimum would have to be accepted as a danger signal and a warning to the whole financial and commercial world to trim sails and go slow. In the present instance it appears to have been simply a notice that the Bank was determined to protect its gold reserve at all hazards.

As showing the need of action of some kind for that purpose, it should be noted that the bullion holdings of the Bank suffered contraction in each successive week beginning with Sept. 16 up to and including Oct. 28; that in the week ending Sept. 30 the loss reached £2,174,057 and in the week ending Oct. 7 £2,321,718, and that the aggregate shrinkage for the six weeks to Oct. 28 has reached no less than £7,938,495, or, roughly, $39,000,000. The shrinkage followed from the very heavy demands upon the Bank from various countries, but particularly Egypt (from which the call was very heavy), South America and Constantinople. The Bank also resorted to borrowing in the open market, so as to bring about an advance in private discounts, and thus to make its rate effective.

While the Bank continued to lose gold even after its minimum had been advanced to 5%, the situation was nevertheless considered to have improved very considerably by the close of the month. Previously other countries had obtained the South African offerings of gold in the London bullion market, thus preventing the Bank of England from replenishing its supplies; but on both the 18th and the 25th the Bank succeeded in getting these offerings itself. Furthermore, the high rate served to divert a portion of the demand for gold to other centres. In particular was this true in the case of the Brazilian demand for the metal to meet payments for purchases of coffee and rubber, both of which, for special reasons, were unusually heavy. The last two weeks of the month a number of shipments of gold from this point to Brazil were reported.

Some suggestions were made that the home political situation in Great Britain had something to do with the action of the Bank, it being known that the Budget was viewed with considerable uneasiness by the financial world in London. As far as this may have been an influence feeling was also in a measure modified by the end of the month. The Budget debate in the House of Commons was completed early in October after some modifications in the measure had been made and the bill was then placed on the calendar of the House of Lords. The oft-repeated rumor that the Lords would reject the measure, thus bringing on a constitutional crisis, was repeated, and there was active discussion of what consequences such action would involve. On the 27th, however, Prime Minister Asquith announced in the House of Commons that the House would take a recess from Nov. 5 to Nov. 23, precluding the possibility of a general election before the new year. On the 28th a bye-election was held in the Bermondsey division of Southwark, a parliamentary borough of London, and this resulted in the return of the Union candidate by a large plurality in a three-cornered fight. Three years before there had been a liberal landslide in that borough. This Unionist victory was looked upon as a severe blow to the supporters of the Budget.

The speculation in this market in cotton was carried still further, bringing prices up to the highest figures reached since the time of the Sully corner in Feb. 1904. With larger or smaller fluctuations the rise continued throughout the month, and on Saturday, Oct. 30, the middling upland grade in New York sold at 15.05 cts. per lb., as against 13.30 cts. on Sept. 30. In futures, likewise, there was a noteworthy rise, even the May option selling above 15 cts. It was understood that James A. Patten, of wheat fame, was taking a prominent part in the movement. The rise was based on reports showing less cotton ginned than had been supposed would be the case, on a very unfavorable condition report issued by the Department of Agriculture on Monday, Oct. 4 (the average condition for the whole cotton belt being placed at only 58.5, a deterioration of 5.2 points during the month), on allegations of killing frosts in various sections of the South, and on reiteration of statements that the 1909 crop would fall far short of that raised in 1908. The high price of cotton led to very extensive movements for curtailment of production on the part of cotton mills, both in this country (in New England as well as in the South) and abroad. In the general excitement this was almost entirely lost sight of. The price of print cloths at Fall River ruled at 3¼ cts. per yard the first half of the month, but on the 16th there was an advance to 4 cts.

Trade activity in the United States was uninfluenced by the higher money rates and continued to make headway. In the iron and steel industry particularly the demand was almost unexampled and the statement of iron production covering September showed that the make of iron was on a larger scale than ever previously attained, even surpassing the record figures made in Oct. 1907. The prosperity of the iron and steel industry was reflected in the quarterly report issued by the United States Steel Corporation on Oct. 26. This showed net earnings for the September quarter of $38,246,907, as against only $29,340,491 for the June quarter and $22,921,268 for the March quarter. The quarterly dividend on Steel common was raised to 1% after having in the previous quarter been raised from ½ of 1% to ¾ of 1%. Accordingly, the stock is now on a 4% dividend basis. The company also made a contribution out of earnings for additions and improvements in amount of $10,000,000, being the first appropriation of that kind out of earnings since the panic quarter in 1907. Even after this large contribution out of the quarter's earnings and allowing for the increased dividend on the common stock, a surplus remained for the quarter in amount of $2,155,113.

There were dividend increases also by other corporations. The Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe RR. restored its common stock to a 6% basis by raising the semi-annual declaration from 2½ to 3%; the Norfolk & Western raised its semi-annual payment on common stock from 2% to 2½%, thus restoring these shares to a 5% basis; the Pacific Coast Co. raised the quarterly dividend on both the common and the second preferred shares from 1% to 1¼% and the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co., in addition to the regular semi-annual dividend of 4%, announced an extra dividend of 1%.

In our local money market the rates for call loans touched 6% early in the month, but with the improvement in the situation of the Clearing-House banks, the highest rate the latter part of the month was 4%.

Strength was the distinctive feature of the foreign exchange market. The repeated advances in discount rates by the leading European banks, together with the rise in open market discounts, made such a situation inevitable. Our local money market was easier the latter part of the month, thus removing any inducement for the transfer of capital from Europe to this side. In the first few days of October there was a drop in exchange to the lowest figures reached for some time, and this suggested the possibility of imports of gold, though rates did not get anywhere near the import point. With the rise in European discounts a complete change occurred and the latter part of the month the possibility was presented of gold exports. No engagements for Europe actually occurred. Several shipments were made, however, to Brazil and considerable gold also went to Canada. Under the influence of dearer money in Europe there was more or less selling of American securities for foreign account, and this played its part in the rise in exchange. Provision also had to be made for some finance bills which matured and under the monetary conditions prevailing could not be renewed. Another influence was the fact that a short interest in exchange existed. The latter part of the month exchange fluctuated almost from hour to hour and professional opinion as to the future of exchange has hardly ever been more at variance.

The stock market during October displayed considerable irregularity with the tendency of prices towards a lower level most of the month but with a sharp recovery towards the close. At the beginning there was a break on dearer money and some uneasiness occasioned by the speeches of President Taft. The copper shares were weak on the unfavorable statistical situation of the metal. As the month progressed, the rise in money rates abroad, with the advance of the Bank of England minimum to 5%, and the resulting liquidation of American securities on foreign account, exercised quite a potent influence in driving prices down. Even the Steel shares, which have always been such strong features, yielded to extensive selling pressure. Nevertheless, at times of greatest weakness, some stocks invariably proved exceptions to the rule. The latter part of the month, when it became clear that there was nothing seriously disturbing in foreign monetary affairs, slow but steady recovery ensued, and in the case of the great majority of share properties an extensive upward reaction from the low figures occurred by the close of the month. In Amalgamated Copper there was a rise on rumors of arrangements with competing interests for curtailing production.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.
2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method, and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "p" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.
3. The letter "p" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.
4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.
5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.
7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds, we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case. On the other hand, we prefix the letter "f" where there is a deviation from this rule; in such cases the interest forms part of the price. Unless, therefore, "f" appears against a quotation, the buyer will understand that the accrued interest is to be added on. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f," and income and defaulted bonds.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
