FRONT, PINE AND DEPEYSTER STS., NEW YORK

REVIEW OF APRIL.

Developments during April were rather mixed, with favorable happenings not lacking, but with special prominence given to events and influences of an unfavorable character. It became apparent quite early in the month that crop prospects were going to command an unusual share of attention. Political matters, however, also played a large part in affairs. In addition, certain decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court and the action of that tribunal on certain other and all-absorbing cases which are before the Court for final adjudication were likewise factors of considerable moment. Indeed, the announcement on Monday, April 11, that both the Government suit against the American Tobacco Co. and that against the Standard Oil Co., which involve construction of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law of 1890, had been restored to the docket for re-hearing and re-argument had a decided influence in reviving hope and stimulating confidence.

On the first Monday in the month (April 4) the U. S. Supreme Court handed down three decisions which were looked upon as highly encouraging, inasmuch as they showed that our Court of last resort was still adhering firmly to Constitutional mandates. Three State laws were declared unconstitutional because they violated Constitutional requirements. One grew out of a Nebraska statute requiring railroads to build switches or spurs to grain elevators along their tracks. The Missouri Pacific had refused to comply with this law, it declining to run a spur alongside of or near an elevator operated at Manley, Neb., by the Manley Co-operative Grain Co. In upholding the course of the railroad and reversing the judgment of the State courts against the company, Justice Holmes pointed out that "railroads, like other owners of property, have rights that are protected by the Constitution," and declared that property could not be taken without compensation, which was what the Nebraska law undertook to do in requiring the railroad to build switches to the elevators. In another case involving the distribution of cars under the rules of the American Railway Association, penalties imposed by order of the Arkansas Railroad Commission on the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co. for failure to furnish 51 cars demanded by shippers were declared void. A judgment rendered by the Kansas Supreme Court against the International Text Book Co. was likewise reversed. This concern conducts a correspondence school at Scranton, Pa., and the State had refused to allow it to conduct its business in Kansas without first filing a statement of its condition. The U. S. Supreme Court in an opinion by Justice Harlan held that such requirement would put a burden upon inter-State commerce; accordingly, that section of the Kansas law was declared invalid.

Coming after these three decisions, the action of the Court the following Monday (April 11) in assigning the Standard Oil and the Tobacco cases for re-hearing proved doubly stimulating. Naturally, speculation was rife as to the Court's reasons for ordering the cases re-argued, some contending it showed that the Court was closely divided; but what attracted chief attention was that the final adjudication of these cases, involving knotty questions of Constitutional law, was now to be deferred for a long time, giving opportunity for further deliberation and possibly also being helpful in enabling the Court to find a way to construe the anti-trust law so as to bring it in accord with modern-day requirements in the industrial world.

The action of the Supreme Court in re-opening the trust cases came at a time when the public mind was in great need of some stimulating influence to counteract the effects of Government and legislative activity. The Administration Railroad Rate bill, involving many radical and revolutionary propositions, had on April 1 been favorably reported (with certain alterations and amendments) by the House Committee on Inter-State and Foreign Commerce, just as it had the previous month been favorably reported (also with certain alterations and amendments) in the upper branch of Congress by the Senate Committee on Inter-State Commerce. Moreover, President Taft and Attorney-General Wickersham had both made speeches Saturday, April 9, and indulged in rather vigorous talk aimed at those Republicans who were suspected of being out of accord with the Administration policies.

Mr. Wickersham also pointed out that besides the proceeding which the Department of Justice had pending to break up a supposed combination in the anthracite coal trade, "the Department has now under preparation a proceeding against a similar combination affecting bituminous coal."

The Government was likewise active in other directions. On April 19 an inquiry was begun in this city before the Federal Grand Jury into an alleged pool agreement in cotton. The Government's action was against Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown of New Orleans, and had reference to cornering operations which these operators, together with James A. Patten and others, were supposed to be contemplating in the May and July options in that staple. It also transpired that the Department of Justice had under investigation the Chicago Board of Trade, with the view to ascertaining whether that body in its dealings was being guilty of violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. Furthermore, at Elgin, Ill., the Federal Government instituted a legal inquiry into the alleged fixing of the price of butter; while at Chicago, according to the news dispatches, it was undertaking an investigation of the egg trade. It deserves to be noted that as an outgrowth of the inquiry into the alleged pool for raising the price of cotton, a resolution was passed by the U. S. Senate on April 29 calling upon the Attorney-General to carry the investigation a step further and determine who it was that had sold cotton short.

There were other important political developments. In Milwaukee Emil Seidel, the Socialist candidate, for Mayor, was elected by a plurality of 6,911 votes, notwithstanding that he was opposed by strong candidates in both Republican and Democratic parties. The so-called Social Democrats also elected the six Aldermen at large and carried fourteen wards out of twenty-three, giving them a large majority in the Council. In the 32d Congressional District of this State George W. Aldridge, the Republican candidate, was defeated by a plurality of 5,842 by James S. Havens, the Democratic candidate. The election was to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James B. Perkins, Republican, who in 1908 had a plurality of 10,167. Mr. Aldridge was known as the Republican boss of Rochester and was opposed by many Republicans on that ground and also by reason of certain disclosures at the recent insurance investigation conducted by Mr. Hotchkiss, the State Superintendent of Insurance. Mr. Havens, on his part, made a fight on the tariff issue and the high cost of living, and the tremendous reversal of party majority in that Congressional district, following the equally noteworthy upheaval the previous month in the 14th Massachusetts District, was looked upon by many as indicating dissatisfaction with the tariff policy of the dominant party and as foreshadowing the election of a Democratic Congress next November.

In the matter of the crops, the Department of Agriculture in its report issued Friday, April 8, made the condition of winter wheat April 1 only 80.8, against 95.8 the previous December, and comparing with 82.2 April 1 1909 and 91.3 April 1 1908. The outlook, however, appeared to improve until the storms and frosts and severe cold weather extending over wide areas of the West and South, which came April 23 to April 25, and produced a sort of crop scare. Fruit undoubtedly suffered severely in some of the States from the frosts and low temperatures, owing to the fact that March was a warm month, and blossoming had come much earlier than usual. There was probably also considerable killing of young cotton plants in two or three of the States east of the Mississippi River. It is not clear, however, that much, if any, damage was done to winter wheat. At all events, the course of wheat prices was downward. At Chicago the July option declined from \$1.08 $\frac{5}{8}$ April 1 to 99 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. April 20 with a recovery to \$1.03 $\frac{5}{8}$ April 30. In cotton, of course, there is ample time for replanting. In the case of that staple, operators were more concerned as to the intentions of those supposed to be manipulating prices of the May and July options than as to the conditions affecting the new crop. It was known that the short interest in the May option was large, and those obliged to tender cotton on that option rushed cotton here in large amounts from the South, from Europe and elsewhere, making it evident that those engaged in maintaining prices would have to take large amounts of actual cotton. On Friday, April 29, notices of intention to deliver over 200,000 bales was given, and on Monday, May 2, 173,900 bales were actually delivered.

Gold exports reached enormous dimensions during the month, $30,000,000 going to London and $3,000,000 to Brazil. This outflow followed in part as a result of the unfavorable state of our foreign trade and in part as a result of the needs of the Bank of England for the metal. The weekly statement of the Bank for April 7 showed the proportion of reserve to liabilities down to only 39.55%, while at the same time there seemed to be particular need for the Bank to fortify its position, on account the tremendous speculation in rubber and oil and the fact that Government finances in the United Kingdom had been completely disarranged, owing to the holding up of the British Budget for over a year, with the result that income taxes and also some others remained largely unpaid. The Bank accordingly offered a premium of 2d. per ounce for American double-eagles, giving 76s. 6d. for them. The Bank was also able to obtain gold from other sources. Accordingly, by April 21 the ratio of reserve had been increased to over 50% and April 28 stood at 50.69%. With the help of the Nationalists the Budget was finally passed in the House of Commons and also received the approval of the House of Lords. Taxes, hence, will now be unusually heavy for a time, but the Bank is well prepared for any strain.

The foreign exchange market may be said to have been strong throughout the month, though of course the selling of bills against gold exports at times caused recessions in rates. Towards the very close of the month, after the extraordinary shipments from this side, the Bank of England lowered its price for American eagles one penny per ounce. This reduction was immediately followed by a rise of almost $\frac{1}{4}$ cent in exchange, but later the advance to 7% in call money here led to a decline again.

The stock market was dull but strong at the very beginning of the month. On April 7 it began to soften and on April 8 it was decidedly weak, the inciting causes being the unfavorable report of the Agricultural Department regarding winter wheat and the poor statement regarding copper made public by the Copper Producers' Association. The speeches Saturday, April 9, of President Taft and Attorney-General Wickersham had a decidedly depressing effect, and accordingly, Monday, April 11, the market experienced further sharp declines. At the noon hour there came the news from the Supreme Court that the trust cases were to be re-argued. This produced a complete change in the course of the market and in tone also. Prices in the afternoon rose several points and further gains were established on subsequent days. The defeat of George W. Aldridge, however, at the Congressional election in this State April 19 again produced weakness, and the last week of the month the crop scare, the large gold exports and the rise in money rates caused a sharp and general break in prices (notwithstanding the increase in the Steel dividend), under which a large number of important share properties touched the lowest figures of the year.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1910. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 2 1910" were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January 1910. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the new rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. This method of quoting bonds became effective January 2 1909.

For foot-notes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method, and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

3. The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds, we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case. On the other hand, we prefix the letter "P" where there is a deviation from this rule; in such cases the interest forms part of the price. Unless, therefore, "P" appears against a quotation, the buyer will understand that the accrued interest is to be added on. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "I." and income and defaulted bonds.

MISCELLANEOUS SECURITIES.

Quotations marked "I" indicate that accrued interest is included in the price. Prices not marked are "and interest" that is, purchaser has to pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "I" and income and defaulted bonds.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.

Where Names are Printed in Italics Fuller Returns may be Found in the Advertising Columns
