REVIEW OF AUGUST.

Outside of the political field there were no serious untoward developments during August. There were further indications of trade reaction, but underlying conditions may be said to have improved by reason of a decided change for the better in the crop situation. Barring continued drought in certain parts of Texas, the weather nearly everywhere was satisfactory during the month, ameliorating the effects of the unfavorable weather conditions—extreme heat and drought in one part of the country and excessive rains in another—experienced during July, and giving assurance of good average harvests, upon which the prosperity of the whole country so largely depends.

At the close of August, with growing vegetation so near maturity, it seemed pretty well established that, though the hay crop was short and the yield of spring wheat reduced, the agricultural outturn in other directions would be generally satisfactory. And all through the month, as the weather from day to day remained propitious, this was a favoring influence in the mercantile and financial markets. Reflecting the prevailing status, the tendency of grain prices the latter part of August was downward. Receipts of wheat, moreover, were on a large scale, notwithstanding the reduced yield of the spring product. The hot, dry weather during July, while causing a great shrinkage in production, at the same time served to hasten maturity, making the crop earlier than usual. Then, also, bankers were not inclined to make liberal advances on grain or to encourage speculative operations of the Patten type for higher prices. The December option for wheat at Chicago touched \$1.07 on Aug. 6 and again (after an intervening decline) Aug. 13; but from this there was a decline to \$1.02 $\frac{1}{4}$ Aug. 22, with the close Aug. 31 \$1.03 $\frac{3}{4}$. December corn at Chicago sold down from 62 $\frac{3}{4}$ cents Aug. 12 to 57 $\frac{1}{8}$ cents Aug. 31, with the close 57 $\frac{5}{8}$ cents. December oats at Chicago declined from 39 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents Aug. 12 to 35 $\frac{3}{4}$ cents Aug. 31, with the close 36 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents.

In cotton there was a sensational advance in August contracts on speculative operations and a squeeze of the shorts. The short interest was evidently very considerable. Those obliged to make deliveries rushed cotton here in large quantities, and tenders of actual cotton on the New York Cotton Exchange reached no less than 113,100 bales during the month; but this still left many short contracts to be covered in the market, and the clique operating for higher prices was not inclined to give quarter. Spot cotton in this market, opening Aug. 1 at 15.20c., reached 16.90c. Aug. 27, after numerous ups and downs, but exciting developments did not come until Monday, Aug. 29, when August contracts were rushed up to 20c. and spot cotton sold at 19.75c., the latter the highest figure reached since 1873. At the 20c. level W. P. Brown of New Orleans, one of the leaders in the rise, offered 100,000 bales, indicating that that was the limit fixed by the bull clique, and preventing any further jump. The spot price again touched 19.75c. on Tuesday, Aug. 30. The August option ran out Aug. 31 at 11 a. m., and after that the spot price dropped to 17.50c. The new-crop months at no time shared in the speculative rise. Print cloths at Fall River ruled at 3¾c. throughout the month.

One of the favorable events of the month, and one which had a considerable sentimental influence, was the retrieval by the State of New York of the loss of prestige which it had sustained the previous month by the partial failure of its bond sale at that time. At the sale in July the State succeeded in disposing of only $8,757,000 out of an offering of $11,000,000 of 50-year 4% canal bonds, and accordingly the Comptroller was obliged to step in and take the remaining $2,243,000 as an investment for State sinking funds. On Aug. 16 a re-offering of this remnant of $2,243,000 bonds was made, and this time there were 68 separate bids for an aggregate of $25,000,000. The price, too, was better, the award having been on a basis of 101.77, as against 100.70479 realized at the time of the $11,000,000 offering.

Political developments during the month were not altogether of an assuring character. At the Kansas primaries six so-called insurgent Republicans were nominated for Congress and only two regular Republicans gained nominations, notwithstanding the stumping of the State by Speaker Cannon. In the Republican State Convention at Des Moines, Iowa, the temporary Chairman, Senator A. B. Cummins, omitted all mention of the name of President Taft and the platform adopted expressed dissatisfaction with the Payne Tariff Bill of 1909 and endorsed the action of Senators Cummins and Dolliver and the insurgent members of the House of Representatives in their opposition to the same. The two Senators named were commended for "their work upon the Tariff Bill, the Railroad Bill and the Postal Savings Bank Bill," and Senator Cummins made a most demagogic appeal to his party associates, saying among other things: "Wealth is fighting hard for an undue share of the profits of labor. Great wealth, combined wealth, corporate wealth is pressing small wealth and individual wealth to the wall with weapons that modern industrialism should no more tolerate than modern warfare tolerates poisoned bullets."

In Kansas, also, the radical element proved to be in the ascendency. At the State party council at Topeka, Kansas, on August 30, the insurgent faction was in complete control and adopted its own platform. This platform commended representatives Murdock and Madison and Senator Bristow for their work in Congress, declared that "we do not recognize the revision of the tariff of 1909 as a satisfactory fulfillment of the tariff pledge of the Republican platform," and concluded by sending "greeting to Theodore Roosevelt, the new world's champion of the rights of man in the world-old contest between rising humanity and the encroachments of special privilege. And as Republicans we stand ready to enlist under his banner in the fight for human rights."

But what occasioned chief anxiety was that Mr. Roosevelt began to take an active part in political affairs and to thrust himself again into prominence. At a meeting of the New York State Republican Committee on August 16, a proposition to let Mr. Roosevelt act as temporary Chairman at the coming State Convention to nominate a candidate for Governor was voted down and Vice-President James S. Sherman was selected instead. This seemed to indicate that a quietus was being put upon the ex-President and his attempt to propagate his radical policies anew. There were also intimations then that President Taft had been agreeable to the selection of Mr. Sherman.

But the feeling of satisfaction was short lived. The next week a letter from Mr. Taft appeared, saying that he had had no knowledge that Mr. Sherman's name was even under consideration—that he had actually sent a telegram to Mr. Sherman urging that Mr. Roosevelt should be consulted before action was taken in the selection of a Chairman. The effect was to bring Mr. Roosevelt again to the top and he was not slow to take advantage of the fact. Shortly thereafter he entered upon a previously announced trip to the West, making many stops on the way, beginning at Utica, the home of Vice-President Sherman. Everywhere he was apparently received with great enthusiasm and he spoke in his characteristic manner, renewing his assaults on corporations and proclaiming afresh his other policies. In a speech in Cleveland, Aug. 25, he is quoted as having said: "I will make the corporations come to time and I will make the mob come to time whenever I have the power."

In a speech at Denver Aug. 29, before the Colorado Legislature, he criticized the U. S. Supreme Court and spoke of judges "who are perfectly honest but fossilized of mind." He argued that the nation and the State should each exercise its legitimate powers to the fullest degree and "not leave a neutral ground in which neither State nor nation can exercise authority, and which would become a place of refuge for men who wish to act criminally, and especially for the very rich men who wish to act against the interest of the community as a whole." He referred in illustration to the Knight Sugar Trust case. "In that," he said, "the Supreme Court of the United States, under cover of what a man, whose interest is chiefly in sane, constructive stewardship can only call a highly technical subtlety, handed down a decision which rendered it exceedingly difficult for the nation effectively to control the use of masses of corporate capital in inter-State business." A second case he referred to was the so-called New York bakeshop case. In this last, he asserted, the U. S. Supreme Court had declared a New York statute unconstitutional "because, forsooth, men must not be deprived of their 'liberty' to work under unhygienic conditions." What the Court actually did declare was that a State statute saying that "no employee shall be required or permitted to work" in a bakeshop more than 60 hours in a week "prohibited and interfered with the freedom of master and employee to contract with each other in relation to their employment," and hence violated the Federal Constitution. At Pueblo, Col., Aug. 30, adverting to the prospective admission of New Mexico and Arizona as States, he argued against rigid State constitutions. In a speech at Osawatomie, Kan., Aug. 31, he declared that wealth must be regulated, and asserted that the Federal Government must extend its power over every class of corporations.

The attempted assassination on August 9 of Mayor William J. Gaynor on the deck of the North German Lloyd Steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse as she lay at her pier at Hoboken, and on which the Mayor was to take a vacation trip abroad, excited universal horror and regret but was without influence upon affairs. Fortunately the attempt on the Mayor's life failed, and after staying at St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, for nearly three weeks, he was sufficiently recovered to be moved to his country home on August 28.

In the money market day to day accommodation was far in excess of requirements, but supplies on time were restricted, though rates were lowered somewhat the latter part of the month.

Foreign exchange rates sharply advanced, though the first two days of the month the market was weak and lower. Engagements of gold for import into the United States were still being made at the beginning of the month, and both on August 1 and August 8 New York houses got the greater part of the South African offerings of gold in the London market. With the advance in rates, however, further importations became out of the question. The market was very narrow, so that moderate purchases or sales quickly sent it up or down. The principal influences in the rise were the upward movement of discounts in the open market at London.

The stock market was dull throughout the month and towards the close dealings came almost to a standstill. The course of prices was very irregular, both as between different stocks and different days of the month, but, speaking generally, the upward reaction which came at the close of July was continued through a good part of August. The latter part of the month, under the intense dullness prevailing, a sagging tendency developed, and a portion of the previous recovery was lost. Operations, though, were confined mostly to the Board Room traders.

CONDITION OF THE TRUST COMPANIES OF NEW YORK STATE.

We present below comparative statements showing the condition of the trust companies of New York State at the date of the last call and of various previous calls since August 1907. We give separately the totals for the Greater New York and those for the whole State. We also add tables to indicate the changes in deposits for all the separate companies in the different boroughs of the city.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS OF BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.
2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method, and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.
3. The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.
4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.
5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.
7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds, we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case. On the other hand, we prefix the letter "f" where there is a deviation from this rule; in such cases the interest forms part of the price. Unless, therefore, "f" appears against a quotation, the buyer will understand that the accrued interest is account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

MISCELLANEOUS SECURITIES.

Quotations marked "f" indicate that accrued interest is included in the price. Prices not marked are "and interest" that is, purchaser has to pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

Table with columns: Bonds, Bid., Ask., To Net., and multiple columns for various bond categories including ALABAMA, ARIZONA, ARKANSAS, CALIFORNIA, COLORADO, CONNECTICUT, DELAWARE, FLORIDA, FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS, GEORGIA, IDAHO, ILLINOIS, INDIANA, IOWA, KANSAS, KENTUCKY, LOUISIANA, MAINE, MARYLAND, MASSACHUSETTS, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, MISSISSIPPI, MISSOURI, MONTANA, NEBRASKA, NEVADA, NEW HAMPSHIRE, NEW JERSEY, NEW YORK, NORTH CAROLINA, NORTH DAKOTA, OHIO, OKLAHOMA, OREGON, PENNSYLVANIA, RHODE ISLAND, SOUTH CAROLINA, SOUTH DAKOTA, TENNESSEE, TEXAS, VERMONT, VIRGINIA, WASHINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA, WISCONSIN, WYOMING, and various international bonds like Berlin, Cologne, Copenhagen, etc.

f Flat price. b Basis. c On basis of $5 to the £. d On the basis of 4 marks to the dollar. l In London. n Nominal. s Sale price.

Table with columns: Bonds, Bid, Ask, To Net, Bonds, Bid, Ask, To Net, Bonds, Bid, Ask, To Net. Contains detailed listings of municipal bonds for various cities and states including Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, and Mexico.

Flat price. b Basis. n Nominal. o Under a law approved March 9 1903, and which went into effect April 23 1903, bonds issued after that date by State or municipal corporations are tax-exempt, and these sell on a better basis.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.

Where Names are Printed in Italics Fuller Returns may be Found in the Advertising Columns
