REVIEW OF SEPTEMBER.

Several encouraging developments helped to improve the tone in financial circles during September and to bring about a recovery in values on the Stock Exchange. In the first place there was a settlement of the strike of the bituminous coal miners in Illinois and the Southwest (Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas), and as a consequence there was a resumption of work at these mines on Sept. 10 after many months' idleness. Then also the absence of frost, together with favorable weather for maturing the crops, afforded assurance of a satisfactory agricultural yield. Certain incidents connected with the hearings by the Inter-State Commerce Commission on the proposed advances in rates were also looked upon as of an assuring character, though on the other hand one of the Commissioners, at least by his remarks and questions, seemed to betray an unfriendly attitude towards the carriers and their desire to enforce higher freight schedules.

At the hearings in this city in the matter of the proposed advance in the territory north of the Ohio River between the Atlantic seaboard and Chicago and St. Louis (including the New England States), statistics were presented by the railroads showing that with freight revenues for 1909 reaching $742,323,785, the revenue in 1910, on the basis of the higher rates proposed, would be $769,355,230, giving, therefore, an additional revenue from the higher rates of $27,031,445, or less than 4%. The addition to expenses by reason of the advances in wages, it was shown on the other hand, would be $34,756,519. It was therefore felt that the railroads had made out a very strong case in favor of the higher schedules. In some respects the effects of the good impression thus created were nullified by the action of the Inter-State Commerce Commission in announcing further suspensions of proposed rate advances, and by a remark of one of the Commissioners made at the hearings in Chicago. Commissioner Lane was reported by the newspapers as having blurted out during the examination of one of the witnesses: "I regard it as a serious menace to the Western country if the rates constantly are to be increased. We must work out this problem on lines other than by the proposed method of raising the tariff."

This latter statement was made on Thursday, Sept. 22. The previous day, however, the announcement had come that in the U. S. Circuit Court at St. Paul the Special Master in Chancery, in the suits in-volution, the Minnesota commodity freight rates prescribed by the Minnesota Railroad & Warehouse Commission, had filed his findings, and held the rates to be both unconstitutional and confiscatory. This was only a referee's report, subject to approval or disapproval by the Court, and while indicating that our Federal tribunals are still zealous in guarding property against unconstitutional acts on the part of the States, did not touch upon the new danger confronting the country, which consists not so much of State aggression upon the rights of the railroads as it does of Federal aggression. Nevertheless it was considered highly important, and no other event of the month exercised such a genuinely stimulating influence.

Later there came still another encouraging development. At a meeting in this city Sept. 25 of about 3,000 members and delegates representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Locomotive Engineers, Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors—these being railroad employees' unions, having an estimated membership of about 350,000—resolutions were adopted approving of a reasonable increase in rates and asking the executive officials of the Brotherhoods to appear before the Inter-State Commerce Commission at the current rate hearings in support of the proposition. The resolutions also proposed that the Brotherhoods take concerted action in State and national politics and exert their efforts against those who may be unfairly antagonistic to the interests upon which these railroad employees are dependent for their livelihood.

A still further encouraging influence was the revival in the investment demand for bonds. Leading banking and bond houses reported large sales over the counter. There were also some goodly new bond negotiations, these being the first of this kind of any magnitude for some time. Thus it was officially announced on Sept. 26 that the Union Pacific RR. had placed with Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Baring Bros. & Co., Ltd., for issue in London by the latter and Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co., £1,500,000 sterling first lien and refunding mortgage 4% bonds. Cable advices subsequently reported that the bonds had been offered at 97 and interest and that the issue had been a complete success. It was also announced that the underwriting syndicate which last spring purchased about $11,000,000 of 4½% convertible bonds of the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. not subscribed for by the stockholders, had sold a part of its holdings and given an option on the remainder.

Political developments were not altogether of an encouraging nature, and yet were looked upon as likely to be productive of good in the end. In the Maine State election on Sept. 12 a political upheaval occurred and the dominant party was completely routed. For the first time in thirty years the Democrats made a clean sweep of the State, electing their candidate for Governor, Frederick M. Plaisted, by a plurality of 8,945 over the Republican candidate, Gov. Bert M. Fernald, who when he ran in 1908 had a plurality of 7,653, which even then was the smallest Republican plurality in many years. The last previous occasion when a Democratic Governor had been elected was in 1880, when Harris M. Plaisted, the father of the present successful Democratic candidate, carried the State. Not only did the Democrats gain the Governor's chair, but they elected two of the four Congressmen, together with 111 members of the Legislature, against 69 elected by the Republicans, thereby insuring a Democratic successor to United States Senator Eugene Hale. As indicating the magnitude of the change of political control, it should be noted that the 1909 Legislature of Maine consisted of only 59 Democrats, against 123 Republicans. Ordinarily, Democratic success in such a State as Maine would have been hailed as an unfavorable influence, but in this instance it was looked upon as a hopeful sign and as indicating the likelihood of a check upon the rampant radicalism of the Republicans.

In the contest in this State for control of the Republican organization and the Republican State Convention, ex-President Roosevelt proved entirely victorious, the so-called "Old Guard" sustaining defeat at every point. The Convention began its sessions at Saratoga, September 27, and Mr. Roosevelt was elected temporary Chairman by a vote of 567 to 445 over Vice-President Sherman, who had been proposed by the Republican State Committee. The next day Henry L. Stimson, formerly United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, and who had taken an active part in the successful Federal prosecution of the American Sugar Refining Co. for undervaluation of sugar imports, was nominated for Governor after Mr. Roosevelt himself had placed Mr. Stimson in nomination. Mr. Roosevelt also succeeded in having his primary plank incorporated in the platform of the Convention. On the other hand, the Democrats in their conventions in New York and New Jersey nominated very acceptable candidates, choosing as a candidate for Governor in New Jersey President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University, and in New York John A. Dix a successful business man with no radical leanings.

With the crops assured, there was a sharp downward turn in grain prices. At Chicago the December option for wheat declined from $1 04¼ Sept. 2 to 96c. Sept. 30; the December option for corn from 58c. to 48½c. (between the same dates) and the December option for oats from 36⅞c. to 32⅞c. In cotton, after the culmination of the August corner, there was, naturally, a big drop in prices. Middling uplands spot cotton in this market was quoted Sept. 1 at 15½c.; from this there was an uninterrupted decline to 13.75 cts. Sept. 14. The low figure of the month was reached Sept. 26, namely 13.60 cts. and the close Sept. 30 was 13.75 cts. Print cloths at Fall River ruled throughout the month at 3¾c.

There was a general rise in discounts at the European monetary centres. On Monday, Sept. 26, the Bank of Germany raised its rate from 4 to 5% and on Thursday, Sept. 29, the Bank of England put up its minimum from 3% to 4%, while the Bank of Belgium advanced from 3½ to 4½%. The Bank of England got some of the South African offerings of gold the early part of the month, but none the latter part, the meta going to the Continent or being taken for India and other points. The Bank also had to meet large calls for gold for Egypt, Turkey, &c.

There was a noteworthy reduction in both the money holdings and the surplus reserves of our clearing-house banks, but this had no influence upon the local money market until the last week of the month.

The foreign exchange market pursued an irregular course. In the early part of the month it moved quietly to a lower level under an inflow of cotton and grain bills. Then there was an upward reaction. Offerings of grain bills were liberal throughout the month, and it was suggested that the attitude of European bankers in insisting that cotton bills of lading must be guaranteed by the banks in this country, and the refusal of the latter to assent to any such proposition, must tend to stimulate early shipments of that staple. It thus happened that views as to the future of the market were very divergent, and there was talk simultaneously of the possibility of both gold imports and gold exports. The latter part of the month, however, a decided upward turn to exchange rates was given by the general rise in discounts at the European monetary centres, thus foreclosing the possibility of gold imports. At the very close the advance in money rates here served to bring about a downward reaction in exchange.

There was a pretty general improvement in prices on the Stock Exchange during September. In the early part of the month the tone was still more or less depressed, and the market opened weak on Tuesday, Sept. 6, after the labor holiday the day before. Later a sharp break in the price of American Hide & Leather pref. caused further unsettlement. This stock had been boosted up on Sept. 6 from 30 1/4 to 32 3/4 on intimations of a very good annual report, whereas the report proved decidedly unfavorable, causing a break to 19. The next week the transfer of the large block of Rock Island Co. preferred stock which Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had purchased from the Pearson-Farquhar syndicate to the Phelps-Dodge copper interests in control of the El Paso & South Western Ry. served to impart an improving tendency to prices. As it happened, the result of the Maine election was also looked upon with favor. Later unsatisfactory reports regarding the iron and steel trade led to a portion of the advance being lost. But the reaction proved only temporary. The demand for bonds kept growing, and with railroad employees siding with the roads in their demand for better rates and with the decision in the Minnesota rate cases adverse to the State authorities, quite a fillip was given to the market the latter part of the month, under which a moderate further improvement in prices occurred all around.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1910. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 2 1910" were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January 1910. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the new rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. This method of quoting bonds became effective January 2 1909.

For foot-notes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS OF BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method, and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

3. The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds, we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case. On the other hand, we prefix the letter "f" where there is a deviation from this rule; in such cases the interest forms part of the price. Unless, therefore, "f" appears against a quotation, the buyer will understand that the accrued interest is to be added on. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mark is employed.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are now "and interest" except where marked "f," and income and defaulted bonds.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.

Where Names are Printed in Italics Fuller Returns may be Found in the Advertising Columns
