REVIEW OF MARCH.

During March matters assumed a decidedly gloomy aspect. A highly critical political situation developed in both Great Britain and France, but this was without any influence upon financial affairs in the United States, and indeed had little influence upon the financial markets abroad. The leading depressing events here, and which gave such an unfavorable turn to the outlook and engendered dismal views, all had to do with the unfortunate plight of the railroads. In that regard things went from bad to worse. Probably there has never been a time when there was such an unusual combination of adverse events and happenings relating to the railroads as came in such rapid succession during this month.

The first two days of March were marked—in the territory adjacent to New York, Philadelphia and surrounding districts and extending westward to Pittsburgh—by a snowstorm which in all its essential characteristics was second only to the memorable blizzard of March 1888. Coming on top of the other snowstorms experienced the previous three weeks, it proved an additional drawback, adding to the temporary burdens of the railroads, the effect being to interrupt traffic operations and to add still further to the steadily rising expenses of the carriers. At this time, too, the returns of earnings, gross and net, for the month of January for the larger railroad systems were coming to hand and were practically uniform in showing large losses in gross revenues, with little or no reduction in expenses—and this, too, notwithstanding that weather conditions in January 1914, the same as in January 1913, had been altogether propitious, it having been a mild winter month in both years.

Then followed a series of special adverse events, all tending further to unsettle confidence. First came the announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the National City Bank had formed a syndicate to underwrite $33,000,000 out of a total proposed issue of $40,000,000 of 5-year 5% secured gold notes of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. The emission of these notes would not in itself have afforded occasion for any feeling of disquiet, especially as it was announced that the new securities had been created "in order to provide funds to meet the company's maturing obligations, amounting to $28,925,000, and for other financial requirements." But unusual conditions were imposed upon the company for the future by the trust agreement securing the notes. It was provided that out of the net income earned after April 1 1914 the company must pay to the trustee, in equal quarterly installments, beginning with Aug. 1 1914, $2,000,000 for the year ending June 30 1915, $3,000,000 for the year 1915-16 and $4,000,000 for each of the three following years, such sums aggregating $17,000,000, to constitute a fund to be used solely for capital expenditures, including payments and discounts upon equipment trusts. It was provided, furthermore, that if any such quarterly payments should not be made, no dividend was thereafter to be paid upon the stock of the company until all overdue payments should have been met, and that no dividends should be declared on the stock unless the net income after April 1 1914 should be in excess of all matured installments of said fund and of the dividends paid for the fiscal year or years subsequent to said date. The view generally taken of this requirement was that the continuity of existing dividends was at least threatened, and this belief was reflected in a sharp decline in the market price of the shares.

Simultaneously there came very disturbing pronouncements regarding the affairs of the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry. Chairman T. M. Schumacher of that company in a letter dated at New York, March 5, and addressed to the committee of the holders of the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Co. collateral trust 4% bonds (secured by an equal amount of stock of the Railway Company), took a very unfavorable view of the future of the property. He pointed out that on Oct. 29 1913 the controlling interests in the El Paso & Southwestern Co. (or Phelps, Dodge & Co.) having previously acquired a large interest in The Rock Island Co., had entered upon the management of the Chic. R. I. & Pac. Ry. Co. and had placed him in charge of its operation. In the interval of four months since then the new management had made a careful investigation of the physical and financial conditions of the property. Mr. Schumacher estimated that in the neighborhood of $20,000,000 cash would be required by July 1 1914, and gave it as his opinion that about $25,000,000 would be needed for betterments and improvements during the ensuing five years. He estimated the total requirements for five years at nearly $50,000,000, namely $12,000,000 for present needs, $25,000,000 for betterments and $12,000,000 for maturing car trusts. The sale of treasury bonds, he indicated, might meet claims to July 1 1914, but would leave the company without means for further financing after that time. Even were it possible to issue additional bonds upon satisfactory terms, he gave it as his opinion that this would be inadvisable, since he thought the limit of safety for bond issues had already been reached until the stock investment in the property should be increased. It was, therefore, the judgment of the directors "that a stock reorganization is imperative and is the only method by which the desired end can be attained." To this there was added the further declaration that "unless some plan can be devised which has a good prospect of accomplishing these results, and which is fair to all classes of security holders, including the 4% bonds represented by your committee, the management that I represent will feel it inadvisable to continue in charge of the property." This letter was given wide publicity through broadside advertisements in the newspapers in this country and abroad and exerted a very depressing effect.

About the same time certain criticisms by the Inter-State Commerce Commission of the accounting practices of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul were given out in a sensational sort of way and for the time being—until it could be determined what basis there was for the caustic criticisms—tended still further to add to the prevailing disquietude. On receipt of the full text of the remarks in the case, which were by Commissioner Harlan, it appeared that, while there was some basis for the allegations of the Commission, the criticisms all related to matters several years old, and that as to most of them there was no disclosure of anything new. For instance, speaking with reference to the income and accounts of the Puget Sound line, the Commission made the statement that "the St. Paul company included in its income accounts for the year 1910 all the interest, rents and revenues assignable to the period prior to July 1 1909, the sum total amounting to over $4,600,000." All this was known at the time, and there was no concealment whatever about the matter. What was then done was not unusual. The company had large extra obligations to meet in connection with the Puget Sound line, and accordingly drew on certain sources of income which had previously been left untouched. Mr. Harlan in concluding his report took occasion to say that "the Commission now feels that the present accounting officers of the St. Paul company are fully advised of the Commission's requirements, and a more careful observance of our rules and regulations is promised in the future." Mr. Harlan also took occasion to assert that the Commission did "not mean to be understood by anything here said as intimating that the St. Paul company is not a valuable property and is not achieving the results reasonably anticipated from the extension of its line to the Pacific coast."

But new unfavorable developments kept coming along. The Inter-State Commerce Commission continued its hearings on the application of the Eastern railroads for a 5% advance in freight rates, and one feature of these hearings was the appearance before the Commission on March 9 of Clifford Thorne, Chairman of the Iowa State Railroad Commission, on behalf of the Railroad Commissions of eight Western States in opposition to the advance. These Commissions based their opposition on the ground that if the Commission should grant the increase to the Eastern roads, similar allowance would have to be made to Western roads. Mr. Thorne insinuated that the railroads had been padding their maintenance accounts, and in support of the claim cited some figures from the returns of the Pennsylvania Railroad. This brought a prompt rejoinder from President Rea of the Pennsylvania, who at the annual meeting of the company's stockholders declared that there was absolutely no basis for the charge as far as the Pennsylvania Railroad was concerned.

Louis Brandeis, acting as counsel to the Commission, also continued to present statements intended to show that the railroads could recoup their losses in some other way than by the proposed advance in rates. Evidence, however, continued to accumulate on every side demonstrating that the railroads were rapidly nearing a crisis, owing to losses in revenue and increases in expenses. Reductions or suspensions of dividends were announced in numerous cases, and the railroads were obliged to cut down their train service and to make large reductions in the forces of their employees. To complete the discomfiture of the railroads the Post Office Department issued announcements extending still further the operations of the parcels-post system.

In the stock market the feeling was one of depression, and the tendency of prices was towards a lower level, though the declines for the month were much smaller than might have been expected, in view of the many unfavorable developments. Special circumstances served, at times, to weaken special stocks, but the market acted as if stocks were strongly held and that a considerable short interest existed in the leading share properties, which easily became frightened. Ches. & Ohio declined sharply on the conditions imposed in connection with the new note issue. Mil. & St. Paul was adversely affected early in the month by the Inter-State Commerce Commission's criticism of its bookkeeping methods and Lehigh Val. suffered from the bringing on March 18 in the U. S. District Court in this city of a Government suit, claiming violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. The reduction in dividends by the Pittsburgh Cin. Chic. & St. L., one of the Western lines of the Pennsylvania System, weakened the shares of the latter. N. Y. N. H. & Hart. was helped by definite announcements that all points at issue with the Government with regard to carrying out the agreement for a disintegration of the system so as to prevent a suit under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, had been settled. Bethlehem Steel shares were strong on the company's good annual report and General Motors com. enjoyed a further upward movement early in the month. The price of Steel shares was remarkably well maintained, considering the unfavorable state of the iron and steel trade.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In quoting street and electric railway bonds, we employ the same method as in quoting the bonds of steam railroads. The great majority of issues being quoted "and interest," we use no designating mark whatever where that is the case. On the other hand, we prefix the letter "f" where there is a deviation from this rule; in such cases the interest forms part of the price Unless, therefore, "f" appears against a quotation, the buyer will understand that the accrued interest is to be added on. This, however, does not apply to income bonds and bonds in default, in which cases the price takes account of the interest and no designating mar. is employed

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities held to maturity will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

Main table containing columns for Bonds, Bid, Ask, To Net, and detailed listings for various municipalities including Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Tennessee, South Dakota, Rhode Island, and South Carolina.

/Flat price. b Basis. c Stamp at 2 1/2% until Dec. 1 1906. n Nominal.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
