REVIEW OF JANUARY.

It cannot be claimed that in the opening month of the new year there was any very striking change, either in the industrial situation at home or in the foreign outlook. In both directions whatever slight changes did occur were for the better and tended to confirm confidence in a continuance of a prosperous state of trade. In domestic affairs there was evidence going to show that the gradual slowing down of business, observable during the last seven or eight months of 1923 (though with the volume of trade remaining large and sufficient to insure full employment to labor in most lines) and the hesitancy to engage in new ventures on a large scale, or to make extensive commitments for the future, was in process of being arrested. There was certainly much greater freedom in the placing of orders in the steel trade and this was peculiarly significant, because it was in the steel trade that the slackening of activity during 1923 (from the extreme promise of the early spring) had been most pronounced.

In the foreign situation the further break during the month in foreign exchange rates on both London and Paris proved disturbing and caused no little uneasiness—the pound sterling dropping to the lowest figure reached in over two years and the French franc establishing a new low record in French history, it getting down to 4.26½ Jan. 14, as shown in our review of the exchange market at the end of this article, as against its value of 19.3c. when at full parity—but even here there was a decided change for the better the last half of the month, when a considerable proportion of the loss was recovered. A Labor Ministry came into power in Great Britain during the month and it was apprehensions of the consequences that might follow, one of the tenets of the British Labor Party being a tax levy on capital to the extent necessary to pay off the British debt, that in the main accounted for the big further drop in the rate of sterling bills on London. As one result of the anxiety existing on that point, there was more or less transfer of capital from the British Isles to this country as a matter of precaution. The French franc seemed to be independently weak by reason of disquietude concerning French internal finances, but its downward plunge was also accelerated by the drop in sterling exchange and a feeling that the new Labor Ministry in Great Britain would make its influence felt no less decisively in foreign affairs than in British home affairs, and that this influence could hardly be expected to be exerted in favor of continued French occupation of the Ruhr district of Germany. A surprise came, however, with the actual accession to control of the British Labor Ministry. James Ramsay Macdonald expressed himself in a very conciliatory manner towards France and indicated a desire to see the cause of friction between the British and French removed, while with reference to British home affairs he spoke so temperately and cautiously as largely to quiet fears of a radical upheaval. It also began to be realized that the Labor Party in Parliament being, after all, only a minority party, would meet the united opposition of both the Liberals and the Conservatives in any violent or revolutionary measures it might propose, and hence would in any event be impotent for great evil. A sense of greater security being now felt and the French Government having announced a change in French financial policy under which the cost of further outlays for reconstruction work in the devastated regions of France would be paid by the levy of additional taxes, instead of being made a charge against German reparations payments and hence impossible of realization except after the lapse of years, if at all, the value of both the pound sterling and the French franc rapidly recovered. Furthermore, the two committees of experts appointed to inquire into German financial conditions both got to work with American participation, and their deliberations gave promise, at least at this early stage, of good results. The address of General Charles G. Dawes, the American Chairman of Committee No. 1, made at the start of the business sessions at Paris on Jan. 14, in particular created a most favorable impression.

As to the greater activity in the steel trade, it remains for the future to determine whether this is to be of enduring nature. The "Iron Trade Review" of Cleveland on Jan. 17, asserted that expanding bookings by the mills, particularly of structural steel, had turned iron and steel production upward after a gradual decline extending over eight months. It added that talk of a possible coal strike on April 1 in the bituminous coal regions, with the expiration on that day of the old wage scale, was beginning to receive attention from buyers and sellers, and was having some influence upon future policies. In its issue of Jan. 24 the "Iron Age" said that the volume of new orders going to the steel mills was continuing to increase and some further additions to active capacity had been made. Two or three weeks before, it stated, business had been developing at a rate indicating that the mills would be actively employed up to April 1. Now leaders in the industry were finding signs pointing to large scale operations running well into the second quarter. Testimony was uniform to an increase in steel bar tonnage—an indication that demand was coming from a wide range of manufacturing uses, since the bar is the commonest form of finished rolled steel. At Chicago the week's sales of bars had been the largest since the previous May. In addition to automobile makers, concrete bar dealers, jobbers and farm equipment companies were noted as the chief buyers. Farm implement demand was stated to be on a scale not equaled in many months. Previously mills had been making quite prompt deliveries, but in bars the period was now six weeks with some producers. At the end of the month, on Jan. 31, the "Iron Age" in its weekly review noted some further increase in output of both pig iron and steel by the larger steel companies and at the same time stated that pig iron, which for weeks had been a laggard in the Pittsburgh district, had advanced at that point from 50c. to $1 a ton under better demand. The Steel Corporation, with its Chicago subsidiary operating at 93% and the Carnegie Steel Co. at 91% of ingot capacity, was now as a whole close to a 90% basis. Independent steel companies around Pittsburgh and at Youngstown were engaged at from 75% to 90% of capacity.

Some important qualifying considerations, however, were added, which may have an important bearing upon the future. The "Age" said that it was apparent that final consumption had not grown since the year opened in proportion to the increase in mill schedules. A factor of which little account had been taken was a certain accumulation of pig iron, ingots, slabs and sheet bars, particularly at Central Western plants of the Steel Corporation. These stocks would serve as a protection against a coal strike and at the same time, regardless of the fuel situation, insure sheet, tin plate, wire and other finishing mills a supply of raw materials against a larger demand for them expected in the spring. The "Age" also commented on the remarkably favorable statement of net earnings submitted after the close of business on Jan. 29 by the United States Steel Corporation for the December quarter of 1923, saying that the showing of close to $50,000,000 net earnings ($49,958,980) for that quarter, or more than for any like period since the second quarter of 1918, reflected the higher price level reached late in 1923 and also the success of the technical staffs in counteracting the higher costs of the eight-hour day. The "Age" made the composite price of finished steel Jan. 29 1924 2.789c. per pound, against 2.775c. Dec. 31 1923 and 2.489c. Jan. 30 1923, but as compared with a ten-year pre-war average of only 1.689c. The composite price of pig iron Jan. 29 1924 was $22 69 per gross ton, against $21 88 Dec. 31 1923 and $26 79 Jan. 30 1923, but comparing with a ten-year pre-war average of only $15 72.

Among the non-ferrous metals, tin and lead advanced, but the market for copper was quiet, with the price heavy. In the case of lead the upward course was uninterrupted, the quotation here in New York rising from 8.15c. Jan. 2 to 8.65c. Jan. 31.

The price of tin here in New York, after dropping from 47.12½c. Jan. 2 and 47.25c. Jan. 3 to 46.90c. Jan. 4, advanced with great rapidity until on Jan. 23 the quotation stood at 51.00c., but Jan. 31 saw the quotation down again to 49½c. Lake copper at New York declined from 13¼c. Jan. 2 to 12¾c. Jan. 14, recovered to 13c. Jan. 21, but was down to 12¾c. again Jan. 31. Electrolytic copper dropped from 12¾c. Jan. 2 to 12½c. Jan. 16 and was 12¾c. Jan. 31.

Among the noteworthy events of the month was the further great rise in the price of petroleum and its products. Crude oil continued to advance and in some cases reached higher figures even than the prices prevailing before the great break in the summer of 1923. Pennsylvania crude, for instance, was by six successive steps raised from $3 25 per bbl. to $4 50, while the highest price in 1923 before the break was $4 25. Gasoline prices also were moved up all around.

The textile trades continued an exception to the satisfactory condition of trade generally. The high price of the raw material forced curtailment of production and the situation remained the same as before, namely that consumers simply refused to accept selling prices showing advances commensurate with the rise in manufacturing costs. The price of cotton declined over 3½ cents per pound during the first half of the month, but recovered some of the loss the latter half. The spot price of cotton here at New York at the close of the old year (Dec. 31 1923) was 36.70c. The price Jan. 2 was 35.40c.; Jan. 3 35.65c.; Jan. 4 and 5, 35.25c.; Jan. 7, 35.40c., and Jan. 8, 35.70c.; thereafter, however, there was a rapid decline until on Jan. 21 the price was down to 32.90c.; then came a recovery to 34.00c. Jan. 23, with a decline again to 33.45c. Jan. 25; various subsequent fluctuations left the quotation Jan. 31 at 34.10c. As indicating the course of goods prices, the quotations for print cloths at Fall River moved uninterruptedly downward, being reduced Jan. 8 from 8½ to 8¾c.; Jan. 10 to 8¼c.; Jan. 18 to 8½c.; Jan. 21 to 8c., and Jan. 28 to 7¾c. The Census Bureau issued two ginning returns during the month dealing with the remnant of last season's crop; both showed that ginnings were running somewhat larger than the very small figures of the previous year and they tended to confirm the final estimate of the size of the crop made by the Department of Agriculture at Washington Dec. 12, namely 10,081,000 bales. The Census Bureau Ginning Return, issued on Jan. 9, related to the amounts ginned up to Jan. 1 and showed that the amount ginned in the interval between Dec. 13 1923 and Jan. 1 1924 had been 252,961 bales, as against 108,478 bales for the corresponding period of 1922; 91,700 bales in 1921 and 678,385 bales in 1920. The second Census return was issued on Jan. 23 and reported the amount ginned up to Jan. 16. This brought the total up to 9,946,462 bales, and showed that in the interval between Jan. 1 1924 and Jan. 16 1924 the ginning had been 135,424 bales, against 50,931 bales in the corresponding period of 1923, 30,096 bales in 1922 and 460,094 bales for 1921. Neither return seemed to have much influence on the current price of the staple, and the decline followed largely because of selling by tired bulls. Exports of cotton continued to run well above those for the previous year, but it was felt that the consumption in this country must decline both because consumers refused to buy goods except at concessions in prices and because the small supply of available cotton made such action a necessity of the situation. Mills producing specialties or fancy grades of goods found an excellent demand in a great many instances for their products, but those producing simply standard grades found goods accumulating on their hands. The Census Report issued Jan. 15 showed that 502,452 bales of lint cotton and linters had been consumed in December 1923, against 578,485 bales in December 1922 and 579,700 bales in November 1923, showing a decrease from the previous year of 13.2%.

The tendency during January was towards continued curtailment of consumption, though estimates as to its extent were difficult, owing to the fact already mentioned, that some mills found a full demand for their product while others could not dispose of their output, even where proceeding on a restricted scale. Advices at the very beginning of the year said that at New Bedford, Mass., the mills making fine cotton goods would go on shorter hours, while further curtailment was the idea of the Rhode Island cotton mills, that is where they were willing to venture a forecast. Later it was reported that eight of the ten Rhode Island mills of the B. B. & R. Knight Co. had gone on a three-day-a-week schedule indefinitely and that the other two plants would follow Jan. 21. Several other Rhode Island mills made similar announcements of curtailment, some going on a basis of three days a week and others four days a week. In Massachusetts, the Pacific print works at Lawrence began a four-day-week schedule on Jan. 7, and the Ipswich at Ipswich, it was stated, was operating at 50%, while the Fall River print cloth mills were running at 50 to 75% and later quite generally at only 50%, and the New Bedford yarn mills also at about 50 to 75%. In New Hampshire some of the departments of the Nashua mills at Nashua closed indefinitely on Jan. 10, while the Cochecho department of the Pacific mills at Dover was also reported closed. In Maine a number of plants, including the York mills at Saco, the Bates and Androscoggin at Lewiston and the Edwards mills at Augusta, were reported as running from three days a week to full time. At Manchester, N. H., every mill owned by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. was stated to be in operation, the company having recently received some very good orders for lines of fancy gingham, but it cut the price of gingham on Jan. 17 to 12½¢.—a drop of 1.9¢. Twelve months before the price was 15½¢. At Willimantic, Conn., all textile plants with one exception were reported as operating on short working hours. Later in the month at Lowell, Mass., the Merrimac Manufacturing Co. was announced as having curtailed from full time to four days a week, no reason being assigned, and the curtailment being announced as indefinite. Lack of orders was believed to be the cause. In the South, curtailment was noted only in isolated cases and some few mills were reported as working day and night.

In food prices quotations for sugar, after tending downward the early part of the month, moved upward again the latter part. Cuban raw sugar, which at the end of December had sold at 5¼¢, was down to 4½¢ by Jan. 8; on Jan. 30 it was up to 5¼¢, with the quotation Jan. 31 5½¢. Refined sugar at wholesale at the opening of the month was quoted at 8.80 to 9.00¢. By the 9th two leading refineries had their prices down to 8.25¢, though the others were quoting 8.60¢. At the close of the month the range ran from 8.50¢ to 8.75¢. Coffee prices were higher, owing to the rise in Brazilian exchange, and No. 7 Rio was quoted at 11½¢@11½¢ Jan. 31, against 10¾¢@107⁄8¢ Dec. 31. Milk prices were reduced 1¢ a quart at retail, effective Jan. 8. This made the price for Grade A milk in quart bottles in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn 17¢, and the price for Grade B 14¢. Grain prices all moved higher. The May option for wheat in Chicago, after opening at $1 08 Jan. 2 and getting down to $1 07¼ Jan. 3, sold up to $1 11½ Jan. 31, and the July option, after opening at $1 06⅝ and selling Jan. 4 at $1 05¾, was up to $1 10 Jan. 31. Corn was in small supply, notwithstanding the large crop, owing to the great demand for feeding purposes, and the May option for corn at Chicago advanced from 73⅝¢ Jan. 2 to 807⁄8¢ Jan. 24 and closed at 80¢ Jan. 31, while the July option rose from 75¢ Jan. 2 to 81⅞¢ Jan. 24 and closed Jan. 31 at 80¼¢. Oats also very substantially advanced, the price for the May option at Chicago Jan. 31 being 49⅝¢, against 45⅞¢ Jan. 3, and the July option moving up from 43¢ Jan. 3 to 477⁄8¢ Jan. 23 and closing Jan. 31 at 46¾¢.

With reference to the month's dividend announcements, that of the United States Steel Corp. in not only repeating the extra dividend of the previous quarter, which created such a sensation at the time, because then wholly unexpected, but making it ½ of 1% instead of only ¼ of 1%, naturally attracted the most attention. With the addition of the regular 1¼%, this made the total declaration for the quarter 1¾%, and the action was given additional significance, as already noted, by reason of the submission at the same time of a remarkably favorable statement of earnings for the December quarter. Many other companies also declared extras, among which may be mentioned the Nash Motors Co., which paid an extra of $1 50 per share on com.; the Northwestern Yeast Co., 3% extra on its stock; Eagle Lock Co., 1½%; Salt Creek Producers Assn., 2½%; Great Lakes Dredge & Dock Co., 2%; Madison Rys., 1% extra on pref.; Franklin Co., $4 per share extra; Pierce, Butler & Pierce Mfg. Corp., 1% extra on com.; Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., 15¢ a share extra, and the United Profit Sharing Corp., which declared an extra of 25% on com., payable in pref. A number of other companies made direct increases in their div. rates during the month. Standard Sanitary Mfg. Co. raised the div. on com. from $1 25 to $2 50 per share. Spring Valley Water Co. paid 1½%, as against 1¼% previously paid; 4% was declared by the Mercantile Stores Corp., as compared with 3% paid previously. Postum Cereal Co., Inc., raised its quar. div. on com. from 75¢ to $1 per share. The quar. div. on Great Western Sugar Co. com. was increased from $1 to $2 per share. West Penn Co. raised its quar. div. on com. from 50¢ to $1 per share. Central Arizona Light & Power Co. declared 3% on com., as compared with 2% previously paid. The quar. div. on Montreal Light, Heat & Power Consolidated was raised from 1½% to 1¾%. American District Telegraph Co. (of N. J.) increased its quar. div. from 1½% to 2½%. The quar. div. on United States Playing Card Co. was raised from 5% to 7½%. The General Cigar Co. increased the quar. div. on com. from 1½% to 2%. Electric Auto-Lite Co. increased its quar. com. div. from $1 to $1 50 per share. The quar. div. on Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Co. was raised from 4% to 4½%.

Belding-Corticelli, Ltd., declared an initial div. of 2% on com. An initial div. of 4% was announced by the Louisville Henderson & St. Louis Ry. on its 5% non-cum. pref. Savannah Sugar Refining Corp. declared an initial div. of $1 50 per share on com. Continental Can Co. declared a stock div. of 5% on com. in addition to the regular quar. cash div. of $1 per share. Lee & Cady, Detroit, declared a stock div. of 80%. Crompton & Knowles Loom Works announced a 60% stock div. (40% payable in pref. and 20% in com.). Montgomery, Ward & Co. resumed divs. on Class "A" stock. Holly Sugar Co. resumed on pref. Divs. were resumed on Orpheum Circuit, Inc., com. stock. On the other hand, V. Vivaudou, Inc., declared a quar. div. of 50¢ per share on com., payable in 7% cum. conv. pref. stock; divs. had previously been paid in cash. Moon Motors paid its usual quar. div. on com., but failed to pay an extra.

A number of New England mill companies cut their div. rates, while still others passed the current dividend. Androscoggin Mills reduced its semi-ann. div. from 5% to 3%. Lyman (Cotton) Mills cut its semi-ann. div. from 6% to 5%. The quar. div. on Barnard Mfg. Co. was decreased from 2% to 1½%. Wampanoag Mills cut its quar. div. from 2% to 1½%. The quar. div. on Stevens Mfg. Co. was reduced from 1½% to 1%. The usual quar. div. on Granite Mills was omitted. The Ipswich Mills deferred the quar. div. on its 7% cum. pref. stock. The American Linen Co. omitted its quar. div. The Hamilton Mfg. Co. deferred action on its quar. div. The quar. div. on Sharp Mfg. Co. 6% cum. pref. was deferred. The Saco-Lowell Shops (manufacturing textile machinery) failed to pay the customary quar. div. on com. The Buckeye Pipe Line Co. cut its div. from 3% to 2%. F. M. Lupton, Inc., deferred the quar. div. of 50c. per share on its Class A cum. & partic. stock. No action was taken on the div. due on the 8% cum. preference stock of the Mount Royal Hotel Co., Ltd.

The stock market duplicated its record of the preceding month and made further progress towards higher levels. The volume of business was large and the tone at times buoyant. Million-share days became very common—indeed were the rule. Excluding Saturdays and holidays, there were 22 full business days, and on 14 of these days the transactions ran well above a million shares, and for the remaining days ran pretty close to that figure. The railroad shares showed pronounced strength throughout the month, by which, however, we do not mean they made the biggest advances, but rather that they moved up gradually and persistently in a rather methodical way, with no violent fluctuations such as the market has become accustomed to in the case of the industrial stocks, even where the general tendency is strongly in one direction or the other. The low priced railroad stocks were particularly prominent in the rise, though the higher grade issues, like Atchison common, did not fail to participate in the upward movement. Southern Railway common, among the low-priced shares, was a prime favorite and the stock sold up to 46 $\frac{7}{8}$ Jan. 31, the highest price on record, as against a closing price Dec. 31 of 38 $\frac{7}{8}$. Many other railroad stocks did nearly as well, Erie common closing Jan. 31 at 27, against 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ Dec. 31; Ches. & Ohio com. at 74, against 71 $\frac{3}{4}$; Colo. & Southern com. 27, against 20; Wabash pref. A 38 $\frac{3}{4}$, against 35 $\frac{1}{8}$; Union Pacific at 130 $\frac{3}{8}$, against 128 $\frac{1}{2}$; St. Louis Southwestern com. 37, against 34; Pere Marquette at 43 $\frac{1}{2}$, against 41 $\frac{1}{2}$; Pennsylvania RR. at 45 $\frac{1}{4}$, against 42 $\frac{1}{2}$; Great North. pref. at 58 $\frac{1}{4}$, against 54 $\frac{5}{8}$; Atchison at 101 $\frac{1}{4}$, against 97, and Pittsburgh & West Virginia at 43, against 38 $\frac{1}{2}$. A rise in the railroad list was all the more noteworthy, inasmuch as returns of railroad earnings which throughout most of the months of 1923 had been strikingly good were now in many cases showing losses in their statements for the month of December—the latest to hand.

In the industrial list the steel shares and the oil stocks were the two groups most conspicuously prominent. The strength of the oil shares followed, of course, directly as a result of the marking up of prices for petroleum and its products and the reason for the favor commanded by the steel shares appeared when the statement of the United States Steel Corporation for the December quarter of 1923 was given out, after the close of business on Jan. 29, and it appeared that the net earnings had been close to \$50,000,000, or the largest for any quarter since early in 1918, when the war was still in progress and the Steel Corporation was making huge profits from the business growing out of it. Moreover, the board of directors of the company, not only repeated their action of the previous quarter in declaring an extra dividend, but made the extra $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%, against only $\frac{1}{4}$ % at the October declaration, making, with the regular dividend of 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ %, altogether 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ % for the quarter. This action had an electrifying effect on the whole market, just as did the wholly unexpected announcement of the previous October. Steel common opened the next morning, Jan. 30, at 105 $\frac{3}{4}$ to 106 and moved up quickly to 107, as against 103 $\frac{1}{4}$ at the close of the previous day, and the whole share list responded with further sharp upward spurts. It should be noted that Steel common closed at 107 Jan. 31, as against 99 $\frac{5}{8}$ Dec. 31. Many other groups, however, manifested a steadily rising tendency, apart from the steel shares and the oil stocks. The sugar stocks were in this category and also some of the motor stocks. It is the special stocks, however, that hold the record for the biggest advances of the month and chiefly the high grade issues. We might mention as among these General Electric, which closed Jan. 31 at 215, against 196 $\frac{1}{2}$ Dec. 31; Corn Products, which closed at 181 $\frac{3}{4}$, against 157; E. I. du Pont de Nemours, which closed at 139 $\frac{3}{4}$, against 131 $\frac{3}{8}$; United Fruit, which closed at 194 $\frac{1}{4}$, against 181 $\frac{1}{4}$; National Lead, which closed at 147 $\frac{1}{2}$, against 142; American Car & Foundry, which closed at 171, against 163; American Can com., which got up to 121 Jan. 31 and closed at 120 $\frac{3}{4}$, against 104 $\frac{1}{4}$ Dec. 31. Not only was the stock market strong, but the bond market also showed great strength, and many of the better class issues in January and the latter part of December recovered the whole of their losses of the year 1923. French Government securities were an exception to the general rule, as also some other foreign Government issues, which sharply declined when sterling exchange tumbled with such great rapidity. The worst day was Jan. 14, on which day the whole stock market was adversely affected by the demoralization of the exchange market. These foreign Government issues, however, subsequently recovered their losses with the improvement in the foreign exchange market. United States Third Liberty 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ sold up to par at the close of the month.

The money market showed a decided tendency towards ease and this was reflected in lower rates for time loans. Call loan rates on two or three occasions advanced because of some heavy shifting of funds, but even here the minimum quotation for the month at 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ % on Jan. 11 was the lowest figure recorded since the previous September, when the minimum was 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ % on Sept. 19 and 20. There was considerable activity in share speculation on the New York Stock Exchange, but that apparently did not occasion any great increase in borrowing at the banks, and it was estimated that the total of brokers' loans on Jan. 29 stood at approximately \$1,400,000,000, as against \$1,850,000,000 twelve months before, and comparing with \$1,335,000,000 at the end of 1923 and \$1,325,000,000 in October 1923, the latter the lowest level since April 1922. That there was considerable shifting of funds on occasions during the month, owing to heavy payments of one kind or another, is evident from the fact that the New York City Clearing House banks and trust companies in two of their weekly returns showed a deficiency below the required legal reserves, and in these circumstances it is not surprising that call money on the Stock Exchange should at times have temporarily risen. On Jan. 5 the New York Clearing House institutions showed surplus reserves of \$17,389,150 following a deficiency of \$8,996,340 on Dec. 29 1923, but on Jan. 12 there was again a deficiency below the required reserves, this time of \$4,402,290. By Jan. 19 the deficit had been extinguished and the returns showed, instead, a surplus of \$18,297,240. The very next week, however (Jan. 26), this was once more changed into a deficit of \$16,524,660, only to be followed again on Feb. 2 by excess reserves of \$3,210,980. The loan item of the banks, however, reflecting the requirements of the borrowing community, showed an almost continuous contraction, being reported \$4,681,863,000 Dec. 29; \$4,608,426,000 Jan. 5; \$4,579,571,000 Jan. 12; \$4,579,423,000 Jan. 19; \$4,556,724,000 Jan. 26 and \$4,633,000,000 Feb. 2. Moreover, not only was there this diminution in borrowing on the part of the customers of the banks, but, as further reflecting the growing ease, deposits with the banks considerably increased, taking the month as a whole, so that the amount of demand deposits Feb. 2 was \$3,919,044,000, against \$3,828,961,000 Jan. 5 and \$3,819,631,000 Dec. 29 1923, though on the other hand, the time deposits registered a sharp reduction the last week of the month, bringing them down to \$432,967,000 Feb. 2, against \$466,674,000 Jan. 5 and \$463,156,000 Dec. 29. The easier condition of the banks themselves was shown by the fact that the total of their "bills payable, rediscounts, acceptances and other liabilities" Feb. 2 was only \$441,684,000, against \$465,969,000 Jan. 5 and \$535,639,000 Dec. 29. In keeping with the decrease in this latter item the weekly return of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York also revealed a big decrease in the amount of accommodation obtained by the member banks from the central institution, the total of the Reserve bank's holdings of discounted bills Jan. 30 1924 being only \$105,246,000, against \$125,695,000 Jan. 23; \$113,450,655 Jan. 16; \$127,560,190 Jan. 9; \$219,593,572 Jan. 2 and \$204,956,404 Dec. 26. The volume of purchased bills held by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York also fell off, though the course of this is governed largely by the investment needs of the institution. The Reserve Bank reported \$50,603,000 of purchased bills on hand Jan. 30, against \$39,655,000 Jan. 22, \$49,943,447 Jan. 16, \$59,862,129 Jan. 9, \$89,991,311 Jan. 2 and \$90,052,013 Dec. 26.

The foregoing gives a summary of the influences operative in the money market during the month and indicates why the tendency was towards ease. The rise on occasions in call loan rates on the Stock Exchange has already been explained. The range for call loans during the month was $3\frac{3}{4}$ @ $5\frac{3}{4}$. The high figure was recorded Jan. 2, when there was a dislocation of money movements by reason of the heavy 1st of January interest and dividend disbursements, and no loans were made on that day on the Stock Exchange at less than 5% per annum. The next day a high of $5\frac{1}{4}$ was again recorded, but thereafter the trend was steadily towards lower levels until Jan. 11, when the minimum quotation of $3\frac{3}{4}$ % for the month was recorded. On Jan. 15 there was an advance again to 5%, to be quickly followed by a return to 4%, with a rise once more to 5% on Jan. 28 and the same rate was again reached on Jan. 31. On renewals, which always constitute the bulk of the transactions, the rate was 5% per annum Jan. 2 and $5\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 3; $4\frac{3}{4}$ % from Jan. 4 to Jan. 9, inclusive; $4\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 10; $4\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 11, 4 Jan. 14, $4\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 15; $4\frac{3}{4}$ % Jan. 16; $4\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 17; 4 Jan. 18 to Jan. 28, incl.; $4\frac{1}{4}$ % Jan. 29 and Jan. 30 and $4\frac{1}{2}$ % Jan. 31. For time money quotations at the beginning of the year were $4\frac{3}{4}$ @ 5% per annum for loans running for 60 days and 5% for all maturities from 90 days to six months. At the close the rates were $4\frac{1}{2}$ % for 60 days and $4\frac{1}{2}$ @ $4\frac{3}{4}$ % for all periods from 90 days to six months. There was very little demand for money on time and the market was a dull, narrow affair. Rates for commercial paper remained unchanged throughout the month at $4\frac{3}{4}$ @ 5% for 60 and 90 days endorsed bills receivable and six months single names of choice character, with names less well known requiring 5%. High grade names the latter part of the month were in good demand, particularly from the country banks, but trading in the aggregate was light. There were no changes during January in any of the rates of the Federal Reserve banks.

The foreign exchange market again showed some sharp fluctuations, particularly in the case of sterling bills on London and French francs. Sensational weakness developed in exchange on London at the very beginning of the month and although after a few days there was an upward reaction, this was followed by renewed weakness, which was not checked until the latter part of the month. The weakness was accentuated by the collapse in French francs, but apparently was induced mainly by apprehensions regarding the prospective advent of a Labor Ministry to control of the British Government and to misgivings and fears of what would then happen. The exchange market here was simply a reflex of the exchange market on the other side. Sight bills on London Jan. 2 ranged between $4\frac{27}{4}$ and $4\frac{29}{2}$, a decline of over 4c. from the rates on Dec. 31, which covered a range of $4\frac{31}{8}$ @ $4\frac{32}{4}$ and a much bigger decline from the rates prevailing earlier in December; on Jan. 3 the quotation touched $4\frac{25}{8}$, but this was followed by a recovery to $4\frac{31}{2}$ Jan. 7. Thereafter, however, there were renewed declines and on Jan. 21 the rate on sight bills got down to $4\frac{20}{8}$. The break was connected mainly with uneasiness over the possible consequences of the political upheaval in Great Britain. It had been hoped that improvement in sterling values would follow the convening of the British Parliament on Jan. 8, but this proved not to be the case and it quickly became apparent that the exact political status would not be known until the delivery of King George's address before Parliament on Jan. 15, which address was being formulated for the King by the Stanley Baldwin Government. The Baldwin Ministry went down to defeat on Tuesday, Jan. 22, and was succeeded by a Cabinet selected by the Labor Party with J. Ramsay Macdonald as Premier, First Lord of the Treasury and Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and it is a notable circumstance that the day before (Jan. 21) sight bills on London got down to $4\frac{20}{8}$, the lowest point reached in two years, but that within a few days thereafter sharp recovery in exchange on London occurred and that by Jan. 31 the rate for sight bills was back to $4\frac{27}{4}$ @ $4\frac{31}{4}$, a level somewhat better than that reached on the opening business day of the month. The recovery resulted from the fact that apprehensions regarding the possible consequences of the accession of a Labor Ministry to control were in considerable measure relieved by the conduct and attitude of the new Premier. In the first place, the Cabinet itself did not consist of ultra-radicals, as had been feared, but embraced some staid members of former Ministries and in the second place Mr. Macdonald expressed himself in much more moderate and tempered language than any one had expected. At the same time improvement in the French franc occurred, while indications were that the two committees of experts appointed to investigate financial conditions in Germany, with Americans at their head, might really achieve some good results. During the time that the pound sterling was particularly weak there was unquestionably some transfer of British capital to this country because of a feeling that greater safety and security for it would exist in the United States, and this played its part in the decline in rates.

In exchange on the Continental centres the feature was the further collapse of the French franc. The decline in the franc reached sensational proportions. In the great drop in December the French franc on a couple of days got fractionally below the level of 5 cents per franc for the first time in French history. In January the rate now descended with great rapidity towards the 4-cent level, though the downward movement was arrested at well above that figure. Solicitude regarding French internal finances seems to have had much to do with the further break, and, in addition, the decline in sterling rates and fear that with the accession of a Labor Ministry British opposition to the French Ruhr occupation would become even more pronounced than before served to accelerate the downward plunge. In the effort to check the decline the Bank of France on Jan. 10 raised its discount rate from 5 to 5½% (being the first change in the French Bank rate since Mar. 11 1922, at which time the rate was reduced from 5½ to 5%) and on Jan. 17 raised the rate still further, this time to 6%. At the same time the French Government undertook to halt speculation in exchange rates. Energetic steps were also taken to reform French finances, M. Poincaré announcing that the cost of further work in the restoration of the French devastated regions would be paid for by the levy of additional taxes instead of continuing to rely on the barren hope of getting the money through German reparations payments, which had been the previous practice. In the end all this proved effective, especially as the two expert committees engaged in inquiring into Germany's financial conditions got started in their work under very favorable auspices. In the meantime, however, the franc as represented by checks on Paris had tumbled to 4.26½ on Jan. 14, or actually below the level of the Italian lire. Improvement then set in and this anomalous situation in the matter of the relation of French and Italian currency, for which all agreed there was no justification, was quickly corrected. The latter part of the month there was steady improvement in French exchange and on Jan. 31 the rate on checks was back to 4.70½. The Italian lire, on the other hand, maintained a relatively stable level, the extremes for the month having been 4.26¼ Jan. 3 and 4.48 Jan. 14, with the range Jan. 31 4.33½@4.36. The German mark, at the microscopically minute figure at which it is quoted, remained virtually unchanged throughout the month, and even improved the barest trifle, advancing from .00000000022 Jan. 2 to .00000000024 Jan. 31. The Bank of Germany in its statement for the first week of January showed a reduction in the total of its note circulation of over five quintillion marks, or 5,516,352,000,000,000, and over 12 quintillions in the second week, or 12,268,305,000,000,000, leaving the amount outstanding, however, still high in the quintillions, or 478,724,747,761,871,000,000 marks.

Exchange rates on the centres of the former neutral countries likewise tended downward as a rule the first part of the month, with some recovery the latter part. Thus the Dutch guilder on sight bills from 37.80 Jan. 2 got down to 36.85 Jan. 14, but was 37.43 Jan. 31. Sight bills on Switzerland declined from 17.44 Jan. 4 to 17.21½ Jan. 24 and were 17.27½ @17.36 Jan. 31. The Spanish peseta showed only relatively minor fluctuations and was quoted at 12.71@12.76 Jan. 31, against 12.75@12.79 Jan. 2. Exchange on the Scandinavian centres was quite generally weak and the Danish rate suffered a further sharp break. From 17.56 Jan. 2 the Danish crown on checks fell to 15.86 Jan. 28 and was 16.16 @16.25 Jan. 31. The Swedish crown for checks fell from 26.41 Jan. 5 to 25.81 Jan. 24 and was 26.18@26.25 Jan. 31. The Norwegian crown from 14.50 Jan. 4 declined to 13.45 Jan. 26, and was 13.52@13.60 Jan. 31. The Greek drachma again plunged downward and was 1.75½@1.85 Jan. 31, against 2.02½@2.03½ Jan. 2.

There were some changes in official discount rates apart from those made by the Bank of France. The National Bank of Denmark on Jan. 17 raised its rate from 6% to 7% and the Bank of the Netherlands on Jan. 24 moved up its discount rate from 4½ to 5%. The Imperial Bank of India at Bombay on Jan. 3 moved up its rate another 1%, this time to 8%, after having advanced from 6 to 7% the previous Dec. 20, and from 6% to 7% the previous Nov. 29. The rate at Calcutta was also advanced to 8%. South American rates moved somewhat irregularly, those on Argentina and on Brazil rising sharply, while exchange on a number of other South American points showed larger or smaller declines. The Brazil milreis on checks was 11.30 Jan. 31, against 9.85 Jan. 2 and the Argentine peso 32½ Jan. 31, against 31⅞ Jan. 2. The Chilean peso, on the other hand, was 10.60 Jan. 31, against 10.90 Jan. 2, and rates on Venezuela, on Ecuador and Bolivia were all lower. The rate on Uruguay early in the month advanced with great rapidity, getting up to 85 on Jan. 15 from 78 Jan. 3, but it was back to 79 Jan. 31. The Peruvian libra was also a trifle higher. Rates on the Far East generally moved towards lower levels, the Japanese yen being perhaps most conspicuous in this respect, though in this case there was sharp recovery the latter part of the month, doubtless on the prospect of the negotiation of a large Japanese loan in this country. The yen on Yokohama declined from 47c. Jan. 2 to 43.15 Jan. 16, but Jan. 31 was back to 45½@45 3-5. The dollar on Hong Kong was quoted at 50¼@50½ Jan. 31, against 50⅞@51⅞ Jan. 2; the tael on Shanghai at 71@71¼, against 71½@72; and the rupee on Bombay at 30.60@30.75, against 31¼@31½.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1923 to date. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. This method of quoting bonds became effective January 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

31

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

1. In the following thirty-three pages of tables quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.
2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1927 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.
3. The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.
4. Stock prices marked with (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.
5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.
6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.
7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

INDUSTRIAL AND MISCELLANEOUS SECURITIES

In the rearrangement of our quotation lists we classify under the designation "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroad (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

UNITED STATES AND MUNICIPAL BONDS

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f). The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities is held to maturity will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
