General Aeromation, Inc.—Suspension Made Per-

General Aeromation, Inc.—Suspension Made Permanent—

In a decision announced Sept. 20, the SEC made permanent its prior order temporarily suspending a Regulation A exemption from Securities Act registration with respect to a proposed public offering of stock of General Aeromation, Inc., of Cincinnati. The Commission held (1) that the company's offering circular contained false and misleading statements of material facts, particularly with respect to the market for the company's product, the cost of property transferred to the company, the dilution and speculative factors of the offering, transactions with an officer, and the interest of the underwriter of the offering; and (2) that the company failed to comply with certain terms and conditions of the Regulation.

The company filed a Regulation A notification in March, 1960 proposing the public offering of 84,450 common shares at $3 per share. The order temporarily suspending the exemption was issued on May 6, 1960, following which a hearing was held on the question whether the suspension order should be vacated or made permanent. The company was organized in 1958 by Henry J. Wiebe, its president and principal stockholder, primarily to develop and market a device, invented by Weibe, for moving heavy airplanes on the ground (and called the "Romatt"). The Commission held that the offering circular made material misrepresentations with respect to unqualified statements regarding the "desperate" need of the Air Force and commercial airlines for ground handling equipment; the lack of adequate and satisfactory ground moving equipment; the superiority of a Romatt vehicle over competing vehicles or methods and the large potential markets for the company's vehicles. The Commission ruled that the offering circular presented an optimistic picture of the issuer's prospects, though qualified by general concessions that no market had yet been established and that success was not "assured," but without disclosing significant adverse information, thus creating "a picture in the

Greater Miami Industrial Park, Inc.—Offering Sus'd

Greater Miami Industrial Park, Inc.—Offering Sus'd On Sept. 17, 1962 the SEC issued orders temporarily suspending Regulation A exemptions from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to public offerings of stock by Greater Miami Industrial Park, of 310 S. E. Second Ave., and Precision Metal Products, of 278 N.W. 27th Street, both of Miami, Fla.

Regulation A provides a conditional exemption from registration with respect to public offerings of securities not exceeding $300,000 in amount. The two named companies, in notifications filed on Mar. 3, 1961 and Oct. 5, 1961, respectively, proposed the public offering of common stock as follows: Miami Industrial, 115,000 common shares at $2.60 per share; and Precision Metal, 100,000 common shares at $2.60 per share; and Precision Metal offering. Both orders provide an opportunity for hearing, upon request, on the question whether the suspensions should be vacated or made permanent.

With respect to the offering by Miami Industrial, the Commission asserts in its suspension order that it has reasonable cause to believe (1) that the company's offering circular is materially misleading in that it fails to disclose the true purposes for which the proceeds from the offering were to be used, and (2) that in using the proceeds for purposes other than those specified in the offering circular, the company "engaged in transactions, practices and a course of business which would and did operate as a fraud and deceit upon the purchasers of such securities" in violation of Section 17 (the anti-fraud provision) of the Act. With respect to the Precision Metal offering, the Commission's order asserts that certain terms and conditions of Regulation A were not compiled with; that the company's offering circular was false and misleading in respect of certain material facts (in that the proceeds of the stock sale were not used for the purposes set out in the offering circular; and that Armstrong & Co., in distributing the stock, engaged in activities "which would and did

Nebraska Consolidated Mills Co.—Debentures Reg'd

The company, of 500 Kiewit Plaza, Omaha, filed a registration statement with the SEC on Sept. 17 covering $3,000,000 of 634% subordinated sinking fund debentures (Series A) due 1977, to be offered for public sale in $1,000 units and at 100% of principal amount. In addition to certain indebtedness, the

Corporate and Municipal Financing Ahead By SIDNEY BROWN

A light calendar of senior corporate capital debt issues and a moderately easy municipal one marks this week's announced public offering intentions. The former involves approximately $15.8 million and the latter acds up to $150 million in 22 tax-exempts of $1 million or larger in size. This should indicate keen money market competition for the Treasury's $3 billion 170-day tax anticipation bills this coming Wednesday.

The forward backleg of corporate long term debt issues with tentative sales dates set was sizably increased in dollar value, but not in number of issues, due to the recently announced financing plans of A.T. & T. and Pacific Gas & Electric. In a month or two, the municipal backleg can be expected to advance significantly once dates are firmed for such issues as those listed in the footnote in the Total Backleg Table below. in the Total Backlog Table below.

TREASURY'S NERVOUSNESS CONTRASTED WITH A T & T's APLOMB

It is ironic, even allowing for differences in the market's size and the complicated variables that go with it, how gingerly the Treasury has acted in making its surprise announcement to take the almost unprecedented step of floating a $250 million long term issue by taking bids from competitive bidding groups. The irony stems from the almost casual aplomb of the A.T. & T. in making known its intention to seek bids for the same amount shortly after the Treasury announcement made the headlines.

nouncement made the headlines.

The A.T. & T.'s announcement was made last Wednesday, Sept. 18, and included the bid date of Oct. 23. Last Feb. 14, with equal ease it floated $300 million and seven times since September, 1954, it offered for the highest bid $250 million each time without a qualm. The Treasury's announcement made known that there will be a public information meeting at the New York Fedgal Reserve. Bank on Oct. 17, 30, week before the A.T. & T. debentures are scheduled to take off. This most likely means that the U. S. financing will occur sometime between mid-November and mid-December. True, an underwriting syndicate winning the government bids faces an insuperably more difficult task in gauging what the outstanding issues in this gigantic market will be doing while it keeps the lid on the pot than in the case of the corporate market. The Treasury, also, stands to lose a great deal of prestige if this new approach to financing the debt fails — hence, its nervousness. Perhaps it might be better if the Treasury stepped aside and allowed the experienced people in A.T. & T. to take over any get the bidding under way. Both financing announcements caused hardly a ripple in the bond market.

LAST WEEK'S WITHDRAWALS AND POSTPONEMENTS

Ten issues were withdrawn last week paced by WORK WEAR CORP. 130,000 shares managed by Hornblower & Weeks: and 152,000 shares of TAYLOR PUBLISHING CO. via Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., and Dallas Rupe & Co. The largest postponed issue was FLORIDA BANCGROWTH INC.'s 200,000 shares of common via Dempsey-Tegeler & Co.

MEMBER BANK RESERVE CREDIT GUNNED HIGHER THAN PRIOR WEEK

The Federal Reserve must be convinced we are in a badly depressed mood and require an adrenalin shot far beyond the seasonal needs for this time. Last week's average of daily free excess member bank reserves figures for the week ending Sept. 19, came to $489 million. Two weeks ago it was a high $436 million. The actual amount for Wednesday, Sept. 19, was $550 million — up $28 million over Sept. 12. The float on Sept. 12, was $1,477 million and the average for that week was $1,400 million. The comparable figures for last week were, respectively, $2,112 million and $2,136 million the highest since the end of last Christmas-New Year's week.

Duplicating last week's feat of prestidigitation, the Federal Reserve to the Duplicating last week's feat of prestidigitation, the Federal Reserve to the non-discerning seemingly tightened credit by selling a wopping $599 million of governments from its portfolio — confined largely to maturities of less than a year. For the actual day, Sept. 19, it sold $528 million in bills and an additional $71 million of less than 15-day repurchases maturities — a total disgorgement of $599 million. How then, did it liberalize credit? Simply by using more than ever before the weapon of the float. The actual Wednesday to Wednesday change was a $635 million increase, and the week-to-week average change was $736 million — exceeding the higher bill-yield sale of governments. Moreover, last week, the average amount of money in circulation declined $122 million which added to bank credit unlike the $201 million average gain of two weeks ago. The week's average gold stock loss was $26 million compared to the prior week but the actual Wednesday figure stayed at $16,068 million of Sept. 12. No wonder that on Sept. 19, Federal funcs stayed at an easy 234% around the clock, and its low and close was the same the next day.

In the "thirties," open market operations displaced rediscounting as the principal monetary steering mechanism. A study of the float since Eisenhower's liberalization indicates that it is beginning to take some of the limelight away from the well known open market technique.

In addition, the report of the geologist (Russell Chadwick) is not written in clear and concise form. The alleged misrepresentations in the offering circular relate to the company's property; the representation that this is an operational venture without proper disclosure of its exploratory work and operations and that major mining companies had examined and rejected the company's property; the representation that this is an operational venture without proper disclosure of its exploratory nature; the failure to disclose t

Valiant for 1953 will have a new warranty for five years or 56,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the major power train components including engine, transmission, propellor shaft and universal joint and rear axle. This makes Valiant first in the compact car class to offer such extended owner protection.

To bring about the many significant engineering advances in the 1963 Valiant, the car was subjected to one of the most comprehensive testing programs in the history of the automobile industry. During its development, the Valiant was put through more than a half million miles of engineering road testing to establish its high Gegree of durability and reliability.

In the first report of the firm as an independent, public-owned corporation, Mr. Miller noted the past year, ended March 31, 1962, was one of "extraordinary achievement" with the award of a major government contract in information retrieval accompanied by growth of the company into one of the largest organizations of its kind here and abroad.

Gross sales for the 12-month period totaled $1,238,292 compared to a total of $825,635 for the previous period—an increase of approximately 50%, Mr. Miller said. He attributed a large share of this increase to new and expanded contracts with various government agencies.

Earnings for the year—$1,787—represent a decrease from the previous period figure of $7,489, due largely, the chief executive noted, to costs incurred in corporate reorganization, new contract "start ups," moving to new facilities and charges resulting from increased research and development on commercial products. Mr. Miller said the modest profit enabled Doc Inc. to continue a 10-year unbroken record of profitable operations—"a particularly notable achievement for a science-oriented venture."

Documentation, founded in 1951 in Washington, D. C., became a subsidiary of Benson-Lehner Corp., Santa Monica, Calif., in 1959, but was spun off last October. The company is a pioneer in information retrieval (IR), a new industry for greatly increased speed and accuracy of information handling.—V. 190, p. 1733.

This international manufacturer and designer of industrial and municipal process control systems has reported new highs in consolidated shipments and earnings for the first twelve weeks of its fiscal year which began May 1.

Snipments of the company and consolidated subsidiaries in the United States and Canada rose 10% from $4,366,341 to $4,982.501. Net profit after taxes increased 25% from $8119,774 to $149,527. #### Leland Publishing Ltd.—Sales 33% Higher-

"Despite the current austerity program and generally unsettled business conditions in Canada, Leland Publishing enjoyed the best year in its history," Harrison Verner, president, declared. Presenting the company's first annual report since it achieved public status, Mr. Verner announced combined sales for Leland and its wholly-owned subsidiaries of $7,273,175 for the year ended June 30, 1962. This represents an increase of almost 33% over the previous year's sales of $5,496,364. Net profits increased to $336,099 from $238,113.

Simultaneously, the president revealed that the company has produced a book entitled "New Paths in Publishing" which describes the firm's complex operations for the benefit of shareholders and potential clients.

The book tells how the development of a unique merchandising idea led the company to its present size and status within the industry. Basis of the idea was the introduction of hard-cover, self-educational books into supermarket outlets—a strategy dictated fointly by the scarcity of book stores in Canada, and the need to develop mass markets for quality books at new low prices.

A successful diversification of the company's activities during the past year was the immensely popular TV "Domino" show, which has increased food store traffic enormously in the areas covered by the program.

Plans are afoot to introduce the program, and Leland's range of publications, into foreign countries, including the United States. In this connection, Mr. Verner pointed out, the recent amendment to the copyright laws which allows books printed in Canada to enter the United States without danger of losing copyright will prove of inestimable benefit to Canadian publishers willing to venture into international markets.

"The printing and publishing trade in Canada," Mr. Verner disclosed, "recorded in 1961 an unbelievable combined sales volume of $823 million, yet the industry's export business amounted to less than 1% of this total."

Evidence that Leland is no stay-at-home is provided by its sales in the United States during the year. These represented 23% of total volume, a percentage which is confidently expected to increase to one-third. "We recognize Canada's need for increased sales in outside markets," says Mr. Verner, "and we are exerting every effort to help in this national task."

"Never before in the business equipment industry has one company introduced such a broad range of new and revolutionary products at one time," said Fred R. Besides the magnetic Monro-Card Processor, the newly introduced equipment includes the model Mach 1.07 Printing Calculator, a photo-electric punched tape reader and a 2,048-word computer memory drum, all products of Monroe Calculating Machine Co.; the Dataregister, a product of Monroe /Sweda Cash Register, and new punched tag devices of the A. Kimball Co.

The new equipment was shown to more than 400 sales leaders and company officials, gathered at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, West Va., for a 50th anniversary convention of Monroe, a division of the Business Machines Group.

Franklin B. Lincoln, Jr., Monroe president, described the Monro-Card as "an advanced addition to the family of computer information carriers, equivalent to punched cards, punched tape and magnetic tape." The magnetic record card is the size and shape of an ordinary tabulating card, with a magnetic oxide coating. It offers 10 to 15 times the capacity of an 80-column punched card, according to Mr. Lincoln. "An entire employee payroll record, inventory record or customer billing record can be stored on a single Monro-Card," he/said.

The Mach 1.07, Monroe's first calculating machine with printing ability, "multiplies faster than any other printing calculator in the world," said Mr. Lincoln. The machine is a fully automatic calculator, with a 10-key adding machine keyboard. It can add, subtract, multiply and divide, and print both problem amounts and answers on a tape. The 15-digit capacity of the Mach 1.07 is the greatest of any printing calculator, according to Mr. Lincoln.

M & D Store Fixtures, Inc.—Net Up 53%; Sales 15% A 53% gain in earnings on a 15% rise in sales was recorded in tiscal 1962 by the company. Robert J. Liechti, President, announced to shareholders in the annual report.

Net sales in the 12 months ended June 30, 1962, rose to $5,194,-310, as compared with $4,498,753 in the previous year.

Net income after taxes climbed to $237,813 in fiscal 1962, as against $155,810 in fiscal 1961. Earnings per share equalled 91 cents and 60 cents in the respective years, calculated in each instance on the 260,000 shares outstanding on June 30, 1962.

Mr. Liechti attributed the sharp earnings gain to continuing efficiency programs in both production and marketing activities, combined with the sales increase. The latter, he said, resulted from the successful introduction of new products, the penetration of additional markets and the extension of the company's sales position in more established fields. "Basic to the healthy gain registered in sales volume last year is the continuing strong trend to self-service in large retailing outlets," Mr. Liechti stated in the annual report.

He added, "Granted a continuation of present economic conditions in which retailers generally are enjoying good business, we are enthusiastic about our prospects for the current fiscal year."

One of M & D's current projects is production of store fixtures for five new Montgomery Ward stores. This order, received just prior to the close of the past fiscal year, involves the major portion of fixtures to be placed in these stores.—V. 190, p. 1297.

Techni Electronics, Inc.—Sales Up 150%—
A 150% rise in annual sales has been reported by Techni Electronics, of Orange, N. J., menufacturer of household appliances and health and exercise equipment. Sales for the year ended March 31, 1962 totaled $1,035,495 as against $417,552 for the previous year. Sidney Levine, President, attributed the sharp increase in sales to his company's entry into the electrical appliances field. Techni reported earnings of $23,000, or 11 cents per share, up from $21,911, or 10 cents per share for the previous year. This increase in profits was achieved despite nonrecurring expenses incurred during the past year in developing the new product line.

At the company's annual meeting, Levine told stockholders that based on the current rate of sales, he expects that total volume of sales will almost triple this year. According to Levine, sales for the year ending March 31, 1963, unhampered by the heavy operating expenses of last year, will be reflected in sharply increased earnings. Profits of 70-80 cents per share are being projected.—V. 193, p. 148.

The publishers of Golf, Ski, Family Handyman and other special up their educational and textbook publishing activities through a new Educational Division. Mr. Abramson announced that Murray

Earnings for the company, for fiscal 1962 ended June 30, increased to $337,484, equal to 89 cents a share on the average 368, 600 common shares outstanding during the year, it was announced by Norman Wlatt, President. This compares with 1961 net income of $307,997, or 86 cents a share based on the same number of shares as in the recent year.

Total sales for the Los Angeles-based women's apparel manuacturer amounted to $4,363,706 in fiscal 1962, versus $4,471,342 ne previous year.

Reflecting 1962's increased earnings, as well as a public financing completed earlier this year. Norman Wiatt's financial position is now the strongest in the company's history, its President said. Current ratio—current assets compared with current liabilities—stood at four to one at the recent year-end, against two-and-a-half to one a year earlier, while working capital rose to over $1.3 million, up from $750,000 at June 30, 1961.

Commenting on operations over the past year, Mr. Wiatt noted that introduction of a new product line last Spring, bringing to four the total number of lines marketed by the company nationally each year, has produced significant gains in total sales and earnings. While these increases were not reflected until after the close of fiscal 1962, the new line has produced a sharp increase in income for the current year, he said.

In line with a vigorous program to expand its markets, as well

In income for the current year, he said.

In line with a vigorous program to expand its markets, as well as the Norman Wiatt product line, the Los Angeles apparel manufacturer has begun licensed production of its dresses in Australia, its President reported. This, he said, is the first step in a possible large-scale marketing program overseas, which will be accompanied by accelerated efforts in the United States.—V. 194, p. 2490.
