Washington, August 10, 1922.

SIR: There is transmitted herewith a Directory of Local Child-Health Agencies in the United States, which was prepared at the request of the American Child Hygiene Association.

The directory was planned by Dr. Florence L. McKay, former Assistant Director of the Hygiene Division, and the material compiled by Alice E. Griffith.

Respectfully submitted.

GRACE ABBOTT,
Chief.

Hon. JAMES J. DAVIS,
Secretary of Labor.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

CHILDREN'S DIVISION

Washington, D. C., June 10, 1915.
Sir: This is transmitted herewith a Directory of Local Child Health Agencies in the United States which was prepared at the request of the American Child Hygiene Association. The directory was planned by Dr. Florence L. Stearns, formerly Assistant Director of the Hygiene Division and the maternal and child health section.

Very respectfully submitted,
W. H. C. Gillette

Grace Lambert

Hon. James I. Davis
Secretary of Labor

FOREWORD.

The purpose of this directory is to make available information concerning local child-health agencies. Lists of hospitals and dispensaries dealing with the sick, publications descriptive of national child-welfare organizations, and, for a few localities, directories of local organizations, including those dealing with child health, are now easily obtainable. It is hoped that the need for additional general information concerning local child-hygiene agencies may be met by this directory of local public and private agencies actively engaged in the promotion of child health through maternity care, infant care, and the care of the child of preschool age.

The agencies included in this directory serve States, counties, and urban areas of 10,000 or more inhabitants.¹ In order to avoid duplication of the material already published in local directories, the child-health agencies contained in these are simply listed with references to the published directories for further information.

The material was compiled by means of a questionnaire sent to all agencies whose names could be obtained from the following sources: State and municipal directors of child hygiene divisions; State, county, and city health officers; division directors of the American Red Cross; local Red Cross chapters; the Children's Bureau mailing list and its bulletin, "A Tabular Statement of Infant Welfare Work by Public and Private Agencies"; local directories and local private organizations.

The directory includes 861 agencies. An additional 311 agencies replied to the questionnaire but reported that they were not engaged in child-health activities and so have not been included. No replies were received from 154 agencies and 62 questionnaires were returned unclaimed.

The directory is arranged in the following manner:

- (1) Agencies arranged by State and city.
- (2) Alphabetical list, by States, of agencies serving State-wide areas, county-wide areas, urban areas, and both county and urban areas.

¹Information concerning national organizations may be obtained from The Digest of Programs of National Organizations Carrying on Some Phase of Child Welfare (containing detailed information concerning 250 affiliated societies) published by the American Child Hygiene Association, 532 Seventeenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Handbook of Social Resources of the United States, published by the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

The directory is arranged in the following manner—Continued.

(3) Classification of agencies according to types of activities, as follows ²—

- I. Maternity, infant, and preschool age care.
- II. Maternity and infant care.
- III. Maternity and preschool age care.
- IV. Infant and preschool age care.
- V. Maternity care.
- VI. Infant care.
- VII. Preschool age care.

No attempt has been made to consider standards of work.

²This classification includes only such agencies as gave information concerning their activities.
